Webfoot-Husky Game Claims Spotlight in Far West Tomorrow

SAN FRANCISCO, (UP)—The 1932 Pacific Coast conference football season settles down to "serious business" tomorrow with an interesting array of classic matchups likely to draw record crowds.

Of the two conference games the annual battle of Oregon and Washington in Portland holds the spotlight. It finds two promising teams struggling to bring the mythical conference title to the northwest. There are rumors in Seattle that the Huskies must win tomorrow if Jimmy Phelan, now coaching his third year at the Seattle school, is to have his contract renewed.

Thanksgiving day. For two weeks, genial Jimmy has been pointing the Huskies toward a victory over the Webfoots. On the strength of their convincing victory over the powerful State Clara Broncos last week, Oregon is favored to repeat the 13 to 0 triumph they handed the Huskies last year. Oregon victory would definitely establish the Webfoots as conference champs in championship contenders.

Staters Face Trojans Oregon State, convincingly defeated last week by Stanford, faces an arduous mission tomorrow in a clash with the Trojan warriors of the University of California at Los Angeles. The Trojan team, led by Coach J. V. Jones, is expected to be the strongest Stanford team in several seasons.

The Indians' candidate for all-American honors, Speedy Kirby Cudde, will feature the offense of the Warner machine. If he can break through the powerful State Clara line tomorrow, critics believe Stanford will be well on the road to a victory over the Webfoots.

Stanford Plays Bruins Stanford's Bruins, veteran Broncos captain, Golden Bears, were also to have made it a secret that they are pulling to be the strongest Stanford team in several seasons.

Washington State has a "breath-taking" game tomorrow. The bright pre-season prospects at California have suffered severe setbacks.

ALBION HERE FOR TILT WITH BRUINS

Battle Scheduled to Begin at 3-30 Friday on Lincoln Friday

Each of V. Jones' Bruin graduates will meet the strong Albion Normal school eleven which will have a tilt scheduled to begin at 3-30.

Practically every player in the Bruins against an Albion eleven composed of 12K or 12K and a light proportioned Kimberly squad—has served to expose the weak spots in the Twin Falls line-up, and the game against the Trojans will determine to what extent Jones has been able to strengthen his team.

Brains with their last home-field opponent will November 25, according to the present schedule. All members of the Bruin team are in good condition for the game, Jones said, as Old Man Taylor, that coach, means his last year coached the Twin Falls motor elite in the season of some of its best players, has so far this season kept on a variation.

EXPECT McLARNIN TO BEAT LEONARD IN NEW YORK RING

Growth of Over 60,000 People Will Likely Witness Bout Tonight

NEW YORK, (UP)—Nearly 60,000 fight fans are expected to swarm into Madison Square Garden tonight to witness the first of the heavy-weight bouts of the resuscitated career of a gladiator past against the youth and stamina of Jimmy McLarnin, a modern ring hero.

The bout should determine definitely whether Leonard, who wrestled the light-weight title from the expert Freddy Weir in 1917, will be able to clear his vestal folds in 12 months comeback.

McLarnin, who has won 149 bouts, will meet Leonard in a 12-round fight at 12 o'clock.

CALL of the

BY R. G. MONTGOMERY
I have been the doctor's Sverig's mother. And if you don't mind, I think all this is a bit of a joke...
