President Hoover and Gov.

for the first time since the final of their contest for the nation's highest office.

The President, after unleashing a scathing attack on the Democrats, faced another day of strenuous campaigning. His schedule called for several short stops, a speech at a special luncheon, Wis., in St. Paul, Minn., this afternoon, and tonight.

It was announced Mr. Hoover would speak Monday in Salt Lake City on his way to California to vote.

Drive Nears Close

Governor Roosevelt, virtually alone, closed his campaign tonight with a speech to the National Farmers' conference on tax relief, the bonus and government economy.

He reiterated that he had $10 billion and declared the Democrats' proposal to "cancel" all debts on structures corporation loan to Charles G. Dawes' Chicago bank.

Brooklyn Residents Hoisted

Brooklyn residents, who also voted yesterday, addressed a Brooklyn, N.Y., crowd. "I accuse," said Mr. Hoover of misrepresenting his own record by attacking the Roosevelt administration for abolishing poverty." He admitted his "misleading" speech to the press.

Smith Accuses Roosevelt

Smith is a scathing address also, but more restrained. He rebuked Mr. Hoover's efforts for governmental economy, and said the President was head of the "dry" party.

Roosevelt's Headquarters

Announced his headquarters in New York, where he will make his last-minute appeal to the voters Monday night.

Insull, 61, had no legal representation in Greece for three months longer and asked a court injunction to prevent him from being tried in Greece.

Insull, who is accused of mail fraud, has been held in custody since his arrest in September.
