SCHALDACH TURNS DOWN PRO OFFER

By RUPPERT. However, says

"He Has Not Yet Considered Any Contracts."

NEW YORK (UPI)—Reports, that Ruth Ruth's robust

salary will receive a drastic cutting

than usual this season.

"One baseball writer learned from reliable sources that her salary would be reduced,"

he said. "But she has reduced $25,000." But the veteran "slugger" would receive a salary of $15,000, he said.

Consensus among the experts

is that the Babe Ruth contract will be reduced to $10,000. Let us hope it's not less. The players' salary is $10,000. The players are bringing considerable pressure on the players' committee to keep the salary barrier in their own club.

On point-blank that he had decided to cut $25,000 off

the Babe Ruth's salary. "In fact, I haven't even considered any contract," he said.

This date proved that it amounted "like a lot of bunk."

GOING TOO FAR.

A number of visitors in Twin Falls Tuesday were subjected to the incivility of having the license plates jerked off their automobiles by officers of the law.

Their offenses consisted of operating machines which bore 1932 plates other than those of Idaho. Here it was January 2, and Idaho 1933 license plates were placed on sale that day at 9 a.m. The best way to force the rank outsiders to get new plates, it was determined somewhere, was to remove the old plates, and attach a notice to the offending machine reading: "Offense, operating a motor vehicle with an expired license."

At least a dozen cars were thus treated here Tuesday. Washington, Wyoming, Iowa and Ohio cars were denuded of the plates which the owners had purchased. They were taken, officers explain, on the theory that January 1 was the expiration date for 1932 licenses in those respective states, therefore, the machines were being operated in violation of the reciprocity agreements Idaho has with such commonwealths.

The regulation which insists that the practice of bootlegging license plates should be discouraged is not to be criticized; for it has long been known that Idaho suffers from the practice of persons going to Washington, for instance, and getting a year's license for $8. A.A.A. officials estimate there are a thousand cars in Idaho illegally carrying Washington and California licenses.

But certainly it is not to be presumed that every operator of a car with an out-of-state license is a malicious offender. Furthermore there is a right way to go about collecting these fees and a wrong way. Manifestly the wrong way is to inaugurate a campaign of removing license plates from the alleged offending cars, without warning, to do it during the very first few hours that new license plates can be procured, and to center the attack on what might well be assumed to be guests within the state. There is no need to make a wholesale campaign, for officers explain they were out to get a certain few whose names were known and whose offenses were assertedly deliberate.

Idaho has been working desperately through all agencies, to get new residents to stimulate tourist travel, to encourage homeseekers and visitors. A bad impression of the state is at once created by such instances as came to light here Tuesday, regardless of the law, regulation, or from whom emanated the order to forthwith detach from machines, plates which only the day previous were legal, and which after all, are perhaps the property of the machine owners.

This newspaper regrets exceedingly that it was not advised in advance of the proposed policy, so its readers and the public generally could be apprised of the contemplated action. But not a word was given that visitors to the city would be subjected to such incivility; that they would find themselves branded as offenders, when it was presumed they were innocent of any wrong-doing, and that they would be ordered to the assessor's office to procure license plates three months in advance of the period when local residents are compelled to procure plates for their machines.

No official notice has yet been given that 1933 license plates are even available, or are on sale in Idaho. Only through the generosity of the press in trying to keep readers advised of all the information they crave, have announcements been carried in this and other newspapers that license plates were on sale commencing Tuesday morning.

With all the need for curbing the illegal practice of buying licenses in another state to operate a machine in another, there still remains no adequate defense for the unwarranted action in stripping machines of their plates in public places on the first day of the license "season," without some advance warning having sounded, for after all, what is desired by the state is the sale of plates, and the operation of cars giving potential revenue in gas tax and auto business, instead of embarrassed auto owners forced to drive their machines into storage because of the question-and-seizure of their plates by officers of the law, whose acts are more strict than sane.

Here is a matter which might well receive the immediate attention of the state department of law enforcement, the Idaho State Automobile Association, the chambers of commerce and other organizations, whose interests should be identical in the matter of dealing with out-of-state car operators. All will sustain the authorities in seeking to curb an abuse, but it is impossible to defend the methods cited here. More harm than good is bound to accrue to the state, the county and the city.

And one out of every six American families will be crushed by divorce statistics indicate. The other five will just talk about it.

The average American family, says a Chicago professor, consists of 3.4 persons. We suppose that's not there behind the decimal point.

Guest Speaker Tells Club of Technocracy

The Twentieth Century Club met for a luncheon Tuesday afternoon in the newly decorated banquet room of the Park Hotel. Dr. Joseph C. Chamberlain, in charge of the Twin Falls station of the United States Bureau of Entomology, spoke comprehensively on "Collectivism and Individualism." His talk included pertinent comments on recent legislation.

Wedding Performed First Day of Year

Mrs. Emilie Rehike, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emilie Rehike, Twin Falls, and Fred L. Liss, son of Mr. John Liss, Shreveport, Ore., were married at the First Presbyterian Church on New Year's Day, 1933. The 65 members and guests were entertained by the Rev. W. E. Streck, pastor of the church. The bride's parents, Rev. Twin Falls, Rev. Mr. J. A. Ziegel, pastor of the Immanuel Lutheran Church, and Mrs. B. G. B. H. Alexander, president of the business session and Mrs. E. M. Sweney, presided over the afternoon.

The bride wore a gown of lace, crepe and all-over lace. The bridegroom was dressed in a tuxedo and a gold bow tie. A wedding cake was served to 24 guests following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Liss will direct the community singing. An announcement of the sealing of the marriage was made by the Rev. Mr. Chamberlain, the Children's Hospital in Boise was present.

BORAH REVEALS FINANCE VIEWS

Church Groups Give Farewells

CASTLEFORD, (Special) — "The ladies' Aid society of the Methodist Church here, Mrs. Margaret Clement and family, who left Tuesday to make their home in Ohio, held a farewell party for them. Friends were present and a jolly time was enjoyed.

The currency team arose during the discussion of the Bankhead bill, and the speaker defined it. Borah interrupted the discussion to explain the meaning of the bill.

The community regards the man as a statesman of the highest order. He has been instrumental in the development of the state, and his influence is still felt in the state legislature.
