Brooklyn's Jinx-Bull Holds on Phillies Captain 7-4

NEW YORK, June 13 (UP)—The floundering Brooklyn Dodgers were down in seventh place in the National League standing again today after dropping a 7 to 4 decision to the talented Phillies, enabling the latter to advance to take over sixth place.

Owen Carroll, who hasn't finished a game for the Dodgers since May 18, was the victim of a Philadelphia attack that netted six runs before the fourth frame was completed.

With Manager Don Bush back on Cincinnati's bench after a 2-month absence, the Phillies of Chicago, 6 to 5, George Grandman's triple with the bases loaded and two out featured the Reds deciding four run rally in the seventh. Bob Smith had a home run to tie the game, but Malone and Bush yielded 13.

They won the only National League game played.

Only one game was scheduled in the American League today. Chicago dropped a 10 to 4 game against the Athletics in their third inning. Bruce Campbell went 2 for 4 with a homer in the eighth, driving in a runner ahead of him.

HOLLYWOOD LEAD UP TO OAKLAND

Acorns Have Chance to Lower Stars from First Place on Coast

OAKLAND, June 13 (UP)—The Oakland A's, original leaders of this year's Coast league race, cleared the path of the Hollywood stars today, seeking to widen their lead in first place.

Barring an unexpected slump, the stars should improve their status at the expense of Oakland, holding alone in sixth place.

Sacramento's position was less promising. The Senators, crowing Hollywood's heels, are meeting Altonians with unexpected fervor from leadership last week.

Portland hoped to recoup its fortunes today as it attacked the A's against the Angels at Los Angeles.

For the second time in two weeks, the cellar position was at stake with San Francisco and Seattle adding the scene of hostility to the Santa Rosa field. San Francisco was holding the lowly spot by a two-game margin.

No games were played yesterday as the teams were traveling.

CAPTAINS FIGHT FOR OCEAN GOLD

Treasure Worth $5,000,000 Is at Stake in Colorful Sea Fight

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—A vivid new chapter in the history of maritime treasure hunts is being written by the crews of two ocean-battered salvage ships in the choppy Atlantic waters off Cape Cod.

Part of the stirring story, told here from the reports of official reporters in Norfolk courts, where grizzled leaders of the salvage crews will fight a bitter contest for the glittering $5,000,000 treasure.

Captain J. L. Bowdoin and his crew on the Salvo, and Captain Dan Ewarta and his crew on the Dan, are in a race to find the first water salivators they believe to contain the treasure.

Captain J. L. Bowdoin and his crew on the Salvo, and Captain Dan Ewarta and his crew on the Dan, are in a race to find the first water salivators they believe to contain the treasure.

Sea Drama
All the drama of an old sea yarn surrounds the recent conflict between the two salvagers.

It developed that Captain Dan Ewarta had picked up the treasure over the place in the sea where they judged the sunken treasure reported to be.

One night passed. Nothing happened. But on the second day the treasure was found.

Captain Dan Ewarta and his crew on the Dan, are in a race to find the first water salivators they believe to contain the treasure.

Swindlers Thrive With Postal Frauds Although Uncle Sam Keeps Watchful Eye On Mail Rackets

NEW-YORK—Banditry by mail is almost as old as the postal service itself. Yet the something-for-nothing boys continue to prosper with the same old schemes ranging from the simple sale of worthless merchandise to the sophisticated use of "check" and "cash" notes.

All this despite vigilance and relentless prosecution by postal authorities. Medical nostrums and quick returns are the favorite devices.

The Dr. Estate racket alone swindled a relatively small number of Americans of at least $1,300,000.

The deportation from England of Oscar Monarch, a Hartford, Conn. farmer who claimed to be a descendant of Sir Francis Drake, and a heir to that ancient monarch's phantom $5,000,000 estate, actually has brought scores of letters of bitter protest to high U. S. government officials from mail victims who have been contributing their offerings to Hartzell for the past ten years.

Big Returns
The swindler had sent appeal far and wide through the middle class, making financial aid for legal fight collect the nation and promising investors $1000 for every dollar investment.

Similar schemes have popped up now and then in California, where mail agents have been known to collect funds to be given out of the gold rush of the Federal vaults.

Another amazingly recurrent fraud revealed by the files of Horace J. Donnelly, solicitor of the Post Office Department, is the "Spanish prisoner" gag.

The scheme was worked from Spain for nearly 20 years, but the post office prisoner now seems to be in vogue in Mexico. He is an ex-convict, a banker, who has been sentenced for bankruptcy while trying to do his country's duty.

This trunk already is safe in the U. S. Customs but the trustee can't get it until he gets out of jail.

Grass Growing on Sheep's Wool Coat
BAINBRIDGE, Vt. (AP)—A live sheep with grass growing on its back is standing at Fred Flint's farm in Bainbridge, Vt.

Recently Flint noted something unusual about the strange wool and closer inspection revealed that his sheeps of grass were growing from it.

It seems that the sheep got grass seed into her wool somehow, and was sown in the rain. The seed took root and thrived until now, most of what grass blankets the animal's back.

BERRIES BROUGHT BY ANDERSON, Mo. (AP)—The first crate of early strawberries grown here brought $10 on the local market. The berries were brought over by members of the Chamber Commerce for a big shortage.

"Small robbery" without monks or guns brings millions in loss for the postal swindlers. For 10 years, quibble Americans sent their savings to Oscar Merrill Hartzell (upper left) to help him win a phantom $5,000,000 estate. Working an unusual fight on fraudulent schemes led to separating his from your money is the National Better Business Bureau, of which Edward L. Green (upper right) is general manager.

DESPAIR HAUNTS MODERN DITTIES

Tin Pan Alley Seems to Bicker to Labyrinthine Themes, Recitor Says

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Modern songs are filled with a philosophy of despair and futility, in the opinion of Dr. Joseph Fort Newton, co-director of the Protestant Episcopal Church of St. James.

"I've in a social slump," he said, "and there has been a dimming down of the sense of the worth of life."

The question mark frequently demanded by youth today is a reason for life: a desire to know what it's all about."

Dr. Newton spends much time lecturing to college students. "Recently I heard Rudy Wallace say that four out of nine of the popular songs talk of weariness, loneliness and futility," he said. "I find in songs such expressions as 'we're dancing in the dark' till the time ends—and it soon ends, and that we're waiting in the wonder of why we're here, and that time hurries by and we are here and gone."

Dr. Newton expressed a wish that the lyrics of the nation might read "that great law Bible, Shalosh-apere."

Dogs Pay for Farm, Stock It for Owner

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—Hancock County, Mich., has a dog law that requires owners to pay for their dogs. The law is enforced by the American Kennel Club at the time of her entry.

Only recently she gave birth to seven puppies colored like herself.

The dog, in whose pedigree the famous Staghound appears three times, was one of nine now white police dogs registered at the American Kennel Club at the time of her entry.

Texan Adds Canned Rose to Assortment
FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—City Forester Raymond Morton has added canned roses to the fruit, canned music, and canned electricity.

A severe freeze last winter killed most bushes in city parks here. Sprinklers were turned on to supply of "canned" roses, treated to a nursery, protected the tin pots and set them out. The cans will rust away, allowing the rose roots to expand in the new soil.

DOCTOR CLAIMS YOUTHFUL MARK

Missouri Physician Says He Is Youngest Civil War Veteran Alive

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—Youngest Civil War veteran alive is Dr. Robert Tyler, 70, of Joplin, Mo.

The physician, strong and vigorous in spite of his age, enlisted in the Federal navy in 1863, at 10. He was a cabin boy—the term was powder shooter back in those days—and saw active service on the firing line before the war ended.

Tyler's memory of the bombardment of Fort Sumter still is vivid.

Tyler is certain of his claim of being the youngest Civil War veteran now living. He has checked records with the War Department. He was 70 on March 12.

Tyler recently was elected commander of the 62nd annual encampment of the Missouri Grand Army of the Republic.

NEVADA PONDERS NEW GAS DEATH

Revo Attorney Suggests Use Of Carbon Monoxide In Executions

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Execution by carbon monoxide gas was suggested today by Anthony M. Turano, Reno attorney, in a letter to Nevada's "political execution" by the state.

Nevada's lethal gas execution chamber, the only one in the world, has been in operation since 1921. Six persons have been executed by the most primitive and atrocious gas.

"Prior to passage of the gas execution law, prisoners were executed by firing squads. The purpose was to provide a painless death."

After consulting doctors and witnesses of an execution, Turano has concluded that a gas execution can be a humane advantage over a well-performed hanging, or electrocution, in that it certifies a certain amount of pain and mental torture precedes the ordeal.

"The gas is established originally as the 1919 Wiley Fennell Amendment, which was passed in 1921. Six persons have been executed by the most primitive and atrocious gas."

"At the time chosen, the prisoner could be given an opiate, and the gas administered while he slept in his cell."

Explorers Like Jam And Jelly in North

NEW YORK (AP)—Up in the Arctic where men are explorers, they eat bread and jelly and love it, says Major George E. B. Loring, who engaged in the romantic expedition, Flin, an explorer, accompanied the late President Theodore Roosevelt on his expedition in South America.

Because jams and jellies are heat and energy foods, the Major includes them among the ration of explorers, particularly when the expedition is going north. It allows extra men three ounces of jelly or jam daily. Inevitably, he says, they devour their full allotment at breakfast, spreading it on bread and proving that men are only men, boys from all. Absence of liquor, Flin admits, perks up the appetite for foods.

Noted Girls School Will Be Modernized

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—The 100th graduating class of Stephens College, famous Baptist girls school here, will discuss a new gown and wear the costume of the 1833 graduates in the centennial commencement exercises this year.

"A Century of Progress in the Education of Women" will be the theme of Commencement Week, May 20 to 25. Major initiative, Stephens graduates, leaders in the field of education and famous women from various fields of activity will take part. Degrees will be awarded to 159 girls.

The school was established originally as the Lucy Wiley Fennell Amendment, which was passed in 1921. Six persons have been executed by the most primitive and atrocious gas.

Flax Crop of 1862 Still Stored Away

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—A crop of flax harvested 73 years ago and still in the original bales is stored in a barn at 183 Frank and Walter Dratton, near here. The flax was harvested in 1862. The farm has been in the Dratton family for 95 years, and the reason was given why the crop had not been used.

Is Going to Break a Policy Of Ten Years' Standing

There Will Be No Semi-Annual Clearance Sale This Summer

The announcement is made now because our Summer Sales have usually started about this time. They have been attended by people of the South-Central Idaho section from points as distant as 100 miles from Twin Falls, and our customers have learned to plan their Summer purchases in advance and to take advantage of these sales.

Never in the history of the Idaho Department Store have stocks been so clean. This removes one necessity for such a sale. Then too, rapidly advancing prices practically prohibit the type of old-time, honest, store-wide reduction sales that we have always given our customers. And this is the only type of sale that in our opinion really deserves the name "Sale."

And So There Will Be No Semi-Annual Red Tag Clearance Sale This Summer But—

From time to time throughout the Summer you will be offered outstanding buying opportunities on seasonable goods that must be closed out before Fall. Such offerings will be determined entirely by the condition of our stocks on those items as the Summer season progresses.

When such offerings are presented you will know exactly what they are. You will be told whether they are reductions on our regular stocks or special purchases made by our buyers while in the East. You will be told the former selling price of the item in our store, and the reduction. You will know the number of such items being offered and why they are offered.

EVERYTHING WILL BE DONE THAT CAN BE DONE WHICH WILL ENABLE US TO CONTINUE HOLDING THAT WONDERFUL CONFIDENCE AND BELIEF WHICH OUR CUSTOMERS SEEM TO HAVE IN THE IDAHO DEPARTMENT STORE.

Don't Buy Anything You Don't Need Don't Speculate On Merchandise

We believe in the soundness of these two admonitions. If you are following them in your buying then we want to say to you that needed items purchased now seem excellent investments for the future. Prices of every thing from the products of the farms to those of the factories have already made astonishing percentage gains over their low points early this year. It is only a question of time until retail prices follow suit. You are glad that all prices are going up and so are we. But remember—it is not yet too late to make wonderful savings on your purchases at the
