Nation Is Definitely Advancing, Congress Advised in Address

President Satisfied With Strides Back to 'Normalcy and Hopeful of Future; Raps Foreign Status

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP) - The nation definitely is in the process of recovery, President Roosevelt pointed out in a message to the house...

Without regard to party, the overwhelming majority of our people seek a greater opportunity for humanity to prosper and find happiness.

His message was general in terms and was regarded by the President himself as an appeal for real social and economic reform rather than recovery in terms of other values.

Satisfaction with the immediate future is evident here, for the country's future marred Mr. Roosevelt's message.

5 FARMERS DIE IN MILL BLAST

Twelve Others Injured When Boiler Explodes During "Grinding Day"

WEST LIBERTY, Ky., Jan. 3 (AP) - Explosion of a grain mill boiler at an isolated spot on Mill Creek, Ky., today killed five farmers and injured 12 others...

It was "grinding day" at the mill, and farmers who had brought their produce were huddled close to the boiler when it burst, plunging metal fragments into their bodies.

The United States cannot take part in political arrangements in Europe, but we will stand ready to cooperate at any time in practical measures to increase the production of arms and lowering of trade barriers.

Adoption of the 21st amendment to the constitution will mean the elimination of those new forms of crime which come from illegal traffic in liquor.

I shall continue to regard it my duty to use whatever means may be necessary to supplement state, local and private agencies for the relief of suffering caused by unemployment.

I cannot, unfortunately, present you with a picture of complete optimism regarding world affairs. There is, however, a ray of light on the horizon.

Roosevelt Message to Congress Sees Recovery Gaining In Nation

 hortunities of the present would concern in the integrated plan of reform. He would favor and encourage organizations among consumers so that they may insist upon fair dealing in the prices of goods.

Raps Abuses
 "But the unnecessary expansion of industrial plants, the waste of natural resources, the exploitation of consumers of natural products, the accumulation of excess surpluses, child labor, and the ruthless exploitation of labor, the encouragement of competition with other people's money, these were condemned in the message. He stressed that "We must make sure that we reorganize our life, there be no fall in which such success can grow again.

"The President expressed his abhorrence of those notorious examples in high station and of the club of the plutocracy, family, and privilege, and planning. There could be no misapprehension of whom he meant when he spoke of these tax dodgers."

"I am speaking," he said, "of those individuals who have used the spirit and purpose of our laws, of those high officials of banks and corporations who have grown rich at the expense of the people, of those who have used the power of the law to bring about a monopoly and a trust, of those who have used the power of the law to bring about a monopoly and a trust."

"Without regard to party, the people need a greater opportunity for humanity to prosper and find happiness. They need to know that human welfare has not increased and does not increase through the mere accumulation of money, but that it does proceed through integrity, unselfishness, responsibility and service."

"In the past few months as a result of our nation, we have seen the surrender of certain liberties to do as they please in the name of reconstruction, but we have asked this in exchange for the protection which the state gives against exploitation by their fellow men."

Many Young People At Hollister Fete

HOLLISTER, Jan. 3.—The watch party given Sunday night in the basement of the Presbyterian church by the Hollister society was attended by 100 persons, most of whom were young people from the city of Hollister, Springfield, Hagerman, Berg and Hollister.

"The credit of the government has been fortified by the reduction in the cost of its operations through the economy act. With the two-fold purpose of stabilizing the financial structure and of arriving eventually at a medium of exchange which will have over the years less variable purchasing and debt paying power for our people than the paper money which the authority granted me to purchase American produced gold in the world market. Careful investigation and constant attention to the financial structure of our sister nations find themselves handicapped by internal and other conditions that they feel unable at this time to enter into permanent and world wide objectives."

BANKING

"The overwhelming majority of the banks, both national and state, which responded to the survey conducted and have been brought within the protection of federal law, which were not permitted to reopen, nearly 600 million dollars in deposits has been returned to the depositors through the assistance of the government. This aid has made great strides towards the objective of the national industrial recovery act. Not only have several millions of our unemployed been restored to work, but the economy has itself with a greater understanding that reasonable profits can be obtained can be assured to"

Roosevelt's Message Asks Consolidation Of Recovery Gains

Urges Both Houses To Help Perfect Advances

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The text of President Roosevelt's message to Congress, delivered in the White House, reads in part:

To the Congress:

I come before you at the opening of the regular session of the 73rd Congress, not to make requests for special or detailed legislation, but to discuss in general terms the program of action which I have adopted in order that without partisanship you aid in my carrying out a program of recovery and national well-being, and, equally important, to build on the ruins of the old a new structure designed to avert the problems of modern civilization.

"Such a structure includes not only the institutions of industry and agriculture, and of finance, but also the effect which all of these have on our individual citizens and on the whole people of a nation."

Recovery Gaining
 "Now that we are definitely in the process of recovery, I have been rightly drawn to those persons to whom this recovery means a change of life. We are to meet and the number of these people is small—and those for whom recovery means a change of life are those for whom this recovery means a change of life. We are to meet and the number of these people is small—and those for whom recovery means a change of life are those for whom this recovery means a change of life."

A Way Forward
 "Without regard to party, the people need a greater opportunity for humanity to prosper and find happiness. They need to know that human welfare has not increased and does not increase through the mere accumulation of money, but that it does proceed through integrity, unselfishness, responsibility and service."

"I do not attempt to set forth in detail the various phases of the crisis which we experienced last March, nor the many measures which you and I undertook during the special session that I might initiate recovery and reform. AGRICULTURE
 "You recognized last spring that the most serious danger to the food supply of this nation was the increasing number of those who stood in the way of joining their farms to the life of the nation. In both of these cases is proceeding with great speed. The financial limits set by the Congress."

"In this field, through carefully planned food control, public relations and public policies, in the Tennessee valley and in other great watersheds, and in securing the elimination of waste, the removal of poor lands from agriculture and the creation of a better balanced and more efficient agricultural production. ## UNDAUNTED SPIRIT

Southern California appears to be getting more than its just share of catastrophe. Were the earthquakes, fires and floods not so tragic in their consequences, there would be irony in the fact that to many the Los Angeles region has been accepted as a paradise.

But Southern Idaho joins with the rest of the country in deploring the mutilation which has come to the areas on the coast, including California, Oregon and Washington, not excluding our own northern Idaho.

—Worst of all, of course, is the loss of life, inevitable in such disasters.

This section, comparatively free from the freakish pranks of nature, has confidence in the ability of all the affected districts to rehabilitate themselves, and expresses the hope that the damage will not be excessive, or that the spirit of the people will be in any wise daunted.

SUBSISTENCE FARMING WINS WIDE FAVOR

When the administration set aside $25,000,000 to experiment on subsistence farms, it started something the finish of which is a matter for the seventh son of a seventh son.

None of the New Deal's experiments is more interesting than this one; few of them have more completely unpredictable consequences. The fact that the experiment is beginning to prove enormously popular indicates that we may bump into these consequences a lot sooner than we expect.

The idea is to set up colonies of small homes, each surrounded by a garden sufficient to provide its owner with most of his foodstuffs. Occupants of such homes would hold jobs in industry; some would work in coal mines, some in factories, and so on.

The jobs would give them their income and the gardens would give them their food; if an industrial slump cut their jobs out from under them, they at least could keep on eating regularly until things picked up again.

That's the program. Now it develops that the government is being overwhelmed with a regular flood of demands for subsistence farms. The director of the project already has received applications which, if granted, would run the cost of the experiment up to $4,000,000,000. Letters are coming in at the rate of 1000 a day.

Here is pathetically eloquent testimony of the forgotten man's fear of insecurity, and also of his dislike of ordinary urban life. Furthermore, it is a pretty fair indication that there will be plenty of sentiment in Congress in favor of extending the scope of the whole project.

These applicants are voters; you can depend on it that their congressmen are hearing from them.

We are likely, then, to hear more rather than less of the subsistence farm idea in the future. And it is high time for us to figure out just where such a program would lead us if it were expanded greatly.

Would it—as some critics say—establish an American peasantry? Would it depress industrial wages and cut agriculture's markets? Would it solidify the population in such way as to diminish the fluidity of labor to a disastrous extent?

It might do all those things; it might do none of them. It is up to us to find out.

The best way to find out is to try it—and see—and that seems to be just what is going to be done—on a larger scale than anyone had expected.

BIRTHDAY GIFT

More than 5000 American cities and towns are planning to hold "birthday balls" on January 30 in honor of President Roosevelt's anniversary. Proceeds from these affairs will be used to create a permanent endowment for the Warm Springs (Ga.) Foundation for treatment of victims of infantile paralysis.

Here is a cause that deserves widespread public support. Mr. Roosevelt himself is a living testimonial to the tremendous value of the treatment offered at Warm Springs.

An endowment which would make that treatment available to sufferers all over the country would be a blessing to the entire nation. Let's hope that the drive goes over the top in 100 per cent style.

Some scientist tells us that half a peanut will provide enough energy for a half hour's thinking. Some of the thoughts we've heard expressed must have come from even less than half a peanut.

The new Cuban government refuses to pay interest due on three loans floated in the United States. That little country must think it's as great and important as France.

Midwestern judge ruled no crime was committed when a motorist swore at a traffic cop. At that rate, when a cop swears at a motorist it must be a good deed.

The KNOWN UNKNOWNS

By Laura Loo BROOKMAN

It was a warm, sunny day in the city of Twin Falls, Idaho, when a man named Jim Elbert stood in the doorway of his home, looking out over the landscape. He was a middle-aged man with a friendly smile, and he was dressed in a simple, practical outfit. He was waiting for someone, and he knew it. He had a feeling that he was expecting a visitor, and he was not sure who it was. He was a man who had spent most of his life in the city, and he was used to the bustle and the noise of it. He was a man who had seen many things, and he was a man who had learned a lot. He was a man who was not afraid of the unknown.

Jim Elbert was a man of many talents. He was a skilled carpenter, and he had spent many years of his life in the construction industry. He had a keen eye for detail, and he was known for his workmanship. He had a reputation for being a hard worker, and he was always willing to take on a new challenge. He was a man who was not afraid of hard work, and he was a man who was not afraid of the unknown.

One day, while he was working on a job, he noticed a strange man in a dark suit and a top hat standing in the shadows. The man was looking at him with a serious expression, and Jim felt a chill run down his spine. He was a man who was used to being watched, but he was not used to being stalked. He was a man who was not afraid of the unknown, but he was not sure who this man was.

The man in the dark suit and top hat was a man of many talents. He was a skilled investigator, and he had spent many years of his life in the intelligence industry. He had a keen eye for detail, and he was known for his workmanship. He had a reputation for being a hard worker, and he was always willing to take on a new challenge. He was a man who was not afraid of hard work, and he was a man who was not afraid of the unknown.

HISTORY OF Twin Falls City & County

After six months of ceaseless activity, the River Cruise Ship closed its labors with the opening of the new year.

Since the Belgian drive for clothing in September, donations had almost entirely ceased and it was officially voted to discontinue the work.

Charles E. Hunt, for six years a resident of Twin Falls county and for the last year a partner of V. H. Decker in the jewelry business in the Baugh building, has bought out the interest of Mr. Decker in the jewelry business hereunder under his own name.

Mr. Hunt has been a jeweler for 30 years. Mr. Decker, better known as the "old time" jeweler, because he finds the continuous work inside too confining on his health, has decided to rest and change. His plans have not yet been announced.

Another transfer of Twin Falls dirt took place early in the week when Scott W. Hazen sold 20 acres of his ranch 3122 1/2 acres. The purchaser is E. F. Plung of Lake Park, Iowa, father of William Plung, mayor of this city and brother-in-law of Mr. Hazen. The dirt is located a mile from the city limits.

The owners of several valuable dogs are on the warpath looking for the miscreant who poisoned their pets last Sunday morning. A black apron, belonging to E. Booth of the Booth Mercantile company, is large Newfoundland dog, owned by H. O. Miller, a puppy belonging to C. E. Lowe, a black dog of the property of G. R. R. and a large pointer, owned by the late E. Booth, are the only other dogs known to have been around the place.

Minnows are the most valuable fish in the world. They are easy to raise and they grow fast. They are also very hardy and they can live in a variety of places. They are also very useful and they can be used in many ways. They are also very beautiful and they can be used as a decoration. They are also very cheap and they can be used as a gift.

Side glances are a necessary part of life. They are a way of looking at the world without looking at it. They are a way of seeing the things that are around us without seeing them. They are a way of feeling the things that are around us without feeling them. They are a way of thinking the things that are around us without thinking them.

You may not know that... Work after next will be Thrift Week commemorating Benjamin Franklin, whose birth anniversary is Jan. 17.

NRA Board Here Gets Agreement... Announcement was made today by the local NRA board, through Secretary W. H. Smith, secretary of the local committee, that they had brought to the attention of the members and past life members of the NRA, the following:

Employers who shall have already signed the NRA re-employment agreement before Jan. 1, 1934, may accept this offer of re-employment agreement for a period of four months from Jan. 1, or to April 30.

All substitutions and exemptions approved, and all exceptions granted for particular employees, before Jan. 1, 1934, will apply to the re-employment agreement as entered into by the NRA on Dec. 20, 1933.

Members who are not yet registered with the NRA should do so before Jan. 1, 1934. The local board will be glad to assist them in this.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

THE INDIAN RHINOCEROS IS THE MOST VALUABLE ANIMAL ON THE MODERN ZOO. IT IS WORTH ABOUT $500,000.

AN IVER DOES NOT END WHEN IT REACHES THE SEA. IT CONTINUES FAR OUT BEYOND BEFORE LOSING ITSELF.

MINNOWS ARE NOT ALL SMALL FISH. THE SCUMFISH, WHICH IS A MINNOW, GROWS TO A LENGTH OF FOUR FEET.

THE swift current of a river carries the fresh water out into the swift waters of the sea before the two finally get mixed and blended into one solution. In many cases the river valley continues as an under-valley, which hold the river in its course.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

Silver Policy Was Inexpensive Hand Out. Designed to Keep Spend Resulting for Seven Western States. Senator Pittman Given Credit for Act.

By PAUL MALLON (Copyright, 1933, by Paul Mallon)

WASHINGTON. The silver policy the senator proposed in his bill to the western congressmen was quite an inexpensive gift. The president was still playing Santa Claus in any spectacular way. He was only doing for the silver miners what he had done for the farmers. He was merely giving their congressmen a little something to put them out on the money issue during the coming session. He made no effort to offend anyone as to the value of the gift. That was done by the silver policy. The president is the chief for their own political purposes.

Actually it was not as much as they wanted, but quite as much as they could expect to get.

HOOPY William Jennings Bryan would have turned over in his grave if he could have seen the bottom of exaggeration as to what the policy would do.

He was wrong from the beginning. He advocated, despite all you have heard to the contrary. Bryan wanted silver accepted as a reserve for currency on a fixed basis of 160 to 1. That is, he wanted to issue silver dollars at a ratio of sixteen ounces of silver to one of gold.

What the president is doing does not go into that subject at all. He is merely giving a little more money in circulation at a 50 per cent increase in price and is getting out half of that silver in dollars.

VALUES The results will be splendid for our silver producing states, and will be a big help to the other 41 states as concerned. But even the results to be expected by silver will be exaggerated beyond reason. The census of 1928 showed 67 million ounces of silver in the country, employing 2,838 persons. These figures represent only the census of those states in the silver industry. Three fourths are probably listed under copper, lead

Babe Ruth Opens Training for Last Major League Season

MAY BE YANKEE MANAGER IN '35

Celebrates 40th Birthday on Feb. 7; Salary Slab Is Looming

HE'S COMPETITIVE APLENTY

NEW YORK, Jan. 7 (AP). Babe Ruth started training today for the biggest fight of his glamorous career, an attempt to wrest from Eddie Rickey the New York Yankee job. The 36-year-old slugger will be the first to begin his training in 1934.

The 40th birthday home run king's first trainer was public well known Artie McGovern's gymnasium for the benefit of writers. McGovern's gymnasium will be used for the first time in his career for weight lifting.

Ruth now is heavier than ever before. His barrel chest depends upon spindly legs for locomotion. Forty years is old age in a maximum of 110 centimeters in the 1934 game schedule. If he works during the season, he will be in his prime.

The Yankees need Ruth more than ever because of his playing ability but because he is baseball's greatest individual asset. He is the first to be placed in the 1934 game schedule. The Yankees can be hailed as the greatest team in the world.

Foreign travel is Luigi Berardi, Italian distance runner, who will be in the United States for the opening of the indoor track season this month. For some time U. S. track followers have been waiting for the Italian runner to make his mark of a mile in 10 seconds that is broken if stiffer competition could be had for such runners as Glenn Cunningham of Kansas, Bill Donohoe of Princeton and Venzer himself.

Jack Curley, eminent horse racing impresario, rates Donohoe as the best runner he has ever seen in a match which will keep him working until the end of the year. Curley says that Donohoe is the greatest runner he has ever seen in a match which will keep him working until the end of the year.

CAMPAIGN CHECK STARTED WOODIN

Retiring Treasury Head Gave Aid When Needed, and Received Reward

By LYLE C. WILSON (Copyright, 1934, United Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (U.P.)—Large in the political background of William H. Woodin, who spent private life again after 10 troubled months as secretary of treasury, is $10,000 check dated 1930 and payable to James A. Farley, new postmaster general.

"He was one of those four fellows," Farley is likely to reply to persons inquiring about Woodin, "I was in the State House, and E. M. House of Frank C. Walker."

"They gave $10,000," Farley once told the United Press. "There was Straus, Col. House and Will Woodin. Walker was the other one."

Straus became ambassador to France, who took the check after Senator Glass, Dem., Va., refused it. House desired no political recognition. Matter of Walker. But President Roosevelt prevailed upon him last July to become secretary of the executive council or super-cabinet, organized then. More recently Walker was named head of the post office emergency council whose organization co-ordinating various relief and emergency activities will reach into every community.

War Chest
The four $10,000 checks of 1930 completed the Roosevelt-for-president war chest when more experienced campaigners were referring to Farley as an amateur politician. Those large contributions enabled Farley to organize, travel and talk.

He turned up in Chicago in 1932 with a phalanx of delegators, first confining and then defeating the enemy. The capital does not wonder that Woodin held on so long, nor that Mr. Roosevelt was reluctant to appoint him despite a running clamor for his political head. Woodin finally forced the issue and Henry Morgenthau, Jr., was named to the job.

DECEMBER FINES HERE ARE $416

Fines assessed in Twin Falls for the month ending December totaled $416, according to report of Chief S. B. Elrod filed with the city clerk.

During the month there were 42 arrests, eight of which were for drunkenness. Complete arrests totaled 217, four cars were stolen and six recovered, and five stolen bicycles were found.

Dr. L. T. Reski, city meat and milk inspector reported that 786 animals were slaughtered during the month, one of which was condemned. Fire Chief Jack Holt listed five fire alarms, five complaints and 200 investigations of property. City weighmaster accounted for collections totalling $38 for the month.

Plans Concert
Donald Chayomah, former New York bassist, will give a concert performance in his studio in the Gem building across from the Oregon theater on Jan. 6.

His program, which will range from the most technically difficult to the most simply understandable numbers, will include oratorios and operatic numbers as well as ballads and spirituals.

STATE C. OF C. MEETS JAN. 22

BOISE (Special)—Meeting for the eighth annual time, the officers and directors of the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce will gather in Pocatello Monday, Jan. 22, for a two-day business session, it is announced by L. F. Parsons, chamber secretary.

The program will be devoted to a discussion of the "new deal" and its significance in Idaho, the secretary said.

"The new deal," he said, "has brought marked changes in social and fiscal activities and in the structure of local and state government. It is essential that we take stock of these changes if, as officers of civic organizations, we are to be able to meet the challenges of the future."

Representatives of the various new governmental agencies will be present at the meeting to explain the functioning of their respective departments. The secretary said.

The officers and members of all Idaho chambers of commerce are invited to attend.

Speaker Sees War Status in Europe

"Actual war conditions exist in Europe today, although they are not marked by armed hostilities," stated Charles A. North in an address on the war threat in Europe at the Rotary club meeting here last night.

"For this condition he lays the most blame upon England and the United States, since they were responsible, he says, for the division of territory that has resulted in the economic struggle and racial hatreds which have followed the World war."

IDAHO'S SOLONS PROMOTE SILVER

Senators Borah and Pope Will Continue Efforts for Monetization

BOISE, Jan. 3 (Special)—While pleased with the action taken by President Roosevelt on Dec. 21 regarding the buying of silver, Idaho's senators, Borah and Pope, plan to continue their efforts for the monetization of the white metal as an integral part of our monetary system, according to recent communications received by the state chamber of commerce.

Some silver advocates are inclined to delay the president's order might delay further action on the silver question.

In regard to Senator Borah's views: "As I view it, if (the president's order) should not interfere at all with our effort to monetize silver."

Wants Monetization
"For myself, I shall hold to the course of understanding to establish silver as a basic, money metal. Nothing less."

Senator Pope stated in his letter that he believes the president's action to be "a very important step towards the program of monetization and that it will stimulate the industry and create a moderate expansion of currency. The senator made clear his disposition to favor recognition of the white metal."

With the idea in view of obtaining a definite plan for silver in our monetary system, the silver committee created at the recent Western Governors' conference is going ahead with its activity under the direction of Chairman George W. Malone of Nevada, who is now in Washington, L. F. Parsons, secretary of the state chamber, and W. H. Simons, state mine inspector are the Idaho delegates on this committee.
