

HITLER DEFENDS DRASTIC COURSE IN NAZI REVOLT

Informs Germany and World Bloody Suppression Will

ENTIRE NATION LISTENS
Chancellor Upholds Ruthless
Actions in Statement
To Reichstag

BERLIN, July 13 (UPI)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler defended before the German people and world tonight his ruthless extermination of rebellious elements in his Nazi revolt. With the entire nation listening in to his address, broadcast by every station in Germany, the chancellor told a special session of the reichstag, gathered in the Kroll opera house, that recent bloody events constituted a warning. In a dramatic speech broadcast throughout the world, the Nazi chancellor met one of the greatest tests of his spectacular career in an effort to win the support of opinion and to end the confusion and fears within the Reich. All of the fire and eloquence which carried him from obscurity to dictatorship of Germany was called upon to strengthen his position.

The chancellor began as follows: "When Herr Goering called you in today it was to give, in this short form to the nation, an account of events which may live in the history of our people as a remembrance—such is just as well as it is."

"Out of a number of material reasons, mainly due to personal fault, human imperfection and human defects, the young German Reich has had to pass through a crisis which only too easily could have entailed the most devastating consequences of a long period.

"It is the purpose of my speech to explain their cause and the

COUNCIL OFFERS DRAIN SOLUTION

Adopts Proposal by Johnston Urging Removal to New Location

Solution of the controversy between the city and the Twin Falls highway district, regarding maintenance of a drain line leading from the municipal filtration plant south of here to Rock creek, was seen today in the adoption by the city council of a resolution by Mayor Donald W. Johnston to transfer the line to a new route.

Under terms of a motion offered at an adjourned session of the council last evening, the line would extend east from the plant and down the so-called Hamptons man lane—so he to connect with the Sagittarius drainage tunnel leading into the canyon. The ditch would be constructed with 100% labor, and would be a two-year progressive project according to the proposal which contemplates that the good pipe in the present line be taken up and removed to the new route.

It is left as an open ditch for a time, it is believed, but eventually would all be enclosed.

FINANCIER SLAIN, WITNESS CLAIMS

NEW YORK, July 13 (UPI)—James C. McNease, bank cashier, testified before court today that he believed Roy J. French, member of the Riverside bank of Penn, New York, had been "taken for a ride" because he knew too much about the million dollar trust fund ring.

Fuehs testified at the trial of James C. McNease and William Graham, alleged by the government to have financed the kidnapping in a series of spectacular incidents. French is now missing.

Justice, under cross examination, told the court the kidnappers had been to the office of the New York department.

"He had told me he would rather be dead than get killed up in this thing," the witness said, "but on the night he disappeared, he seemed to be for the first time I ever saw him."

French has recently completed a tour of 11 countries in the interests of the organization and is optimistic over extension of trade throughout the continent.

Board Initiates Effort to Ease Labor Frictions

WASHINGTON, July 13 (UPI)—President Roosevelt's national industrial relations board today opened a nationwide drive to eliminate friction between capital and labor, which has brought strike, lockout and riots in widespread sections.

Eight industrial concerns were cited to show cause why they should not be prosecuted or less than three months for a alleged violation of collective bargaining provisions of the national recovery act.

Names withheld

Names of the concerns were withheld prior to designation of dates for hearings, scheduled for the week of July 23.

The companies will have an opportunity to refute the charges, but if they fail, it would be turned over to the compliance division of NRA, or to the department of justice.

The new board, headed by Lloyd Garrison, has been given power to hold investigations to order labor elections to hear cases of discharge of employees, and to act as voluntary arbitrator in labor disputes.

Its decisions cannot be reviewed by the executive branch of the government.

The chamber of commerce has issued a protest to the review of the woman at the left as she attempted to burst her from the truck in the picture. More than 80 were injured and more than a score arrested in the clash that followed. The farmers demand higher wages and rehiring of 125 workers who were laid off.

Germany Protests Johnson Criticism

Bing Croons As Wife Has Twins

HOLLYWOOD, July 13 (UPI)—Bing Crosby broke into song today when nursing, battling wife, twin babies, in a hospital corridor shouted:

"Twin!"

Both boys, the twins were born shortly after noon, in the former Dixie Lee in Cedar of Lebanon hospital.

The babies, without being weighed, were placed in an incubator. Their medical care will be weeks ahead of schedule.

The mother was reported

"doing nicely."

The couple, and his wife handed a recently published article by Owen D. White, magazine writer, entitled "Spare That Baby."

The writer has combined all the scandals of several decades into a short, well-written article, which, if true, would constitute a serious indictment on the reclamation policy," Pope said.

White's article declared that a great evil in the reclamation policy is the attendant speculation.

"The speculators, determined to capture land as innocent, credulous souls who, calmly, toss their savings into the laps of the real estate barons in return for a worthless plot of sand and sage brush," Pope said.

There is pictured a stampede of enthusiastic widows trampling over competing orphans in the rush to the land offices of the city offices.

"Congress has effectively stopped speculation on irrigation projects," Pope declared, calling attention to laws enacted in 1924 and 1928 favoring the secretary of the interior to appropriate lands under irrigation projects, fix their prices, enforce observance by refusal or cancellation of their rights and supervision of crops.

'FRISCO BESIEGED AS STRIKE GAINS

Fuel, Fuel Shortage Develops Throughout Entire Area; Violence Flares

Twenty-five hundred chauffeurs and taxicab drivers joined the strike at 5 a.m. today. Transportation facilities thus were further crippled.

Conductors and motormen of the city's municipal railway voted last night to be guided by recommendation of the central labor council in joining the general walkout and making available services of the Market Street railway, which operated street and trolley cars serving a majority of the city population, voted to be guided by the strategy committee recommendation.

If the street car men walk out, the city will be struck its final, devastating blow, because of the acute shortage of gasoline.

The calm that settled over the waterfront since "that Thursday" final rioting which caused Gov. Frank Merriam to call out the national guard was broken last night.

Killer Wounded

Strikers picked off Jerry Duffey, San Pedro sailor, in the attack on who stood on the deck of an inbound McCormick liner ship. He may live.

Strikers boldly attempted to kidnap three men, George McDonald, Los Angeles business man; his son, George Jr., employed on the S. S. Iowa, and Orin Morrel, older on the S. S. San Bernardino, entered a taxi cab at pier 45. They instructed the driver to take them to the ferry building.

McDonald held the driver separated men in other cars. The pursuing machine closed in near the underpinnings in front of the building.

McDonald leaped out of the car. He pointed a pistol at the national guardsman for aid. The guardman shot in the air. Other strikers rushed up with fixed bayonets and the men fled.

Utilities Shut Down

Many messages have been received by hotels and businesses warning that light, heat, power or telephone service would be interrupted. Thus far such utilities have not been affected.

Telephone officials believe service would continue uninterrupted. There were no strikes, however, among men employed by power companies and their officials were watching the situation closely.

Merchants associations held numerous meetings. They made no announcements, but it was known that a proposal to meet the general strike, if it becomes complete, with the cancellation of a business holiday, to continue as long as does the strike, had been discussed. Such a plan would end body policy of non-resistance.

It was estimated that 20,000 men were on strike in San Francisco today, out of about 45,000 members of unions affiliated with the San Francisco Central Labor council. Teamsters and longshoremen continued to be the largest striking groups. Chauffeurs were the next largest.

The Standard Oil company of California announced its 100 stations in the Bay and San Mateo peninsula areas were out of gasoline and that by afternoon all its stations far away as Tracy, Calif., about 75 miles from San Francisco, would be out of gas.

Other companies reported they were approaching the same situation. inability to move gasoline tankers threatened to cause immediate shutdown of the great Associated Shell and other plants in the Martinez section, throwing about 8,000 men out of work.

LIST OF STRIKERS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13 (UPI) — Thirty-two thousand union men were on strike on the Pacific coast today. Twenty-five hundred were to walk out today. 5,000 were achieved, and go out in the bay district, Long Beach, and elsewhere.

Waited a vote.

The unions on strike were:

International Longshoremen's Association (12,000) on Pacific Coast; railroad union (6,000), ship seafarers (3,000), mariners, mates and pilots (1,000), marine engineers (1,000), marine firemen, oilers, water tenders and wipers (2,200), marine cooks (1,000), bakers (1,000), welders (400); San Francisco teamsters (2,000); Alameda County teamsters (1,200); San Francisco butchers and slaughtermen (2,200); Oakland butchers (400); San Francisco chauffeurs and taxicab drivers (2,000).

Those planning to strike tomorrow included retail butchers, laundry drivers, laundry workers, retail drivers, truckers.

Speech Submarines?

Ledner conferred with Secretary of State Cordell Hull who expressed regret that Johnson's speech, though not "immediately an official," led him to believe that what agitated after the conference.

The visit threw high state department officials into a tangle from which, an hour later, came a statement of explanation of the incident.

The statement said:

"The German charge d'affaires called at the department of state this morning and protested to the attorney general against the remarks reported to have been made by General Hugh S. Johnson in speech on July 12, 1933, relative to recent events in Germany."

Spoke As Individual

"The secretary of state called the attention of Dr. Ledner to the published statement of General Johnson which appeared in this morning's press to the effect that he was speaking as an individual and not for the state department or for the Nazi government. Mr. Hull confirmed the accuracy of this explanation and said it was to be interpreted that the position in the government occupied by the speaker made it possible for remarks made, if possible, to remain confidential.

If the incident is checked and that up to Germany, it will be one of the quietest settlements of such a diplomatic incident on record.

DETROIT TAKES LEAD AS YOUTHFUL GIANT SQUELCHES YANKS

SCHOOLBOY ROWE TRIMS NEW YORK

Husky Ozark Youth Silences Gothamites With Dandy Ball Throwing

BY THERON WRIGHT
NEW YORK, July 13 (UPI)—A tall, husky shouldered lad from the Ozark hills, 22-year-old Lynnwood "Schoolboy" Rowe, who never saw ball players in uniform until two years ago, stood the New York Yankees on end yesterday afternoon. When he finished with them they were in second place and Detroit was leading the American league.

Terrific Speed
Pounding six feet four with a head that looks small on wide shoulders, the Schoolboy allured the Ruppert lot with an ease and dandy an exhibition of ball throwing as they have seen in many weeks. He had nothing but a stretch ball with terrific speed and a slight wobble that might be a curve, but it struck out 11 Yankees and sent them back to their hutch mumbbling to themselves.

Rowe's support was flawless. He gave only six hits, walked four—and won, 4-2.

Chicago's last place White Sox came on the next-to-last Phillipsburg, 10-4, and the Boston Red Medals, former Mackmen, bunting home Apples with the winnies in the last of the ninth. Hubbell Threws Blue.

Another masterpiece in pitching was turned in by Carl Hubbell, of the New York Giants, who beat Pittsburgh in the nightcap, 11-1, after the Pirates had won the opener, 3-1. Hubbell gave up but six hits, fanned eight and did not walk a man.

The Chicago Cubs played a half game off New York's lead, winning over the Braves, 7-4. The Giants split with Pittsburgh. Babe Herman was the big stick in the Cub assault with a homer and single.

Dodgers Split

Brooklyn split with Cincinnati, Emil Leonard giving the opener after Van Lingle Mungo had blown five runs in the first, and clinching the ninth to win, 9-7. Cincinnati won the nightcap, 13-5.

St. Louis lost more than a game in Philadelphia. Paul Dean, one of the two winning pitchers on the Cardinal staff, was held up with a sprained ankle—which will keep him out for three weeks. Jimmy Mooney relieved him, but Dizzy Dean, the other Cardinal, had to come on in the round, in the ninth, getting credit for an 8-7 win. The Cards lost the second game, 8-3.

GAINER DEFEATS LOU BROUILLARD

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 13 (UPI)—Al Gainer, 17½ pounds, New Haven colored batter, outpointed Lou Brouillard, 170, of Worcester, in the 10th inning, in a feature event here just now.

Gainer dashed a punishing right to score the points that defeated Brouillard, former titleholder in both the welter and middleweight divisions.

Marshall, Szabo Grapple to Draw

CAMDEN, N. J., July 13 (UPI)—Byron Marshall, 16½ Junta, Colo., and Sandor Szabo, Hungary, drew in 90 minutes; Frank Brunowicz, Poland, threw Gene Latouze, France; Joe Dovito, Italy, pinned Bill Konar, Cleveland; Emil Dusok, Omaha, and Stan Erolka, Philadelphia, drew.

Britons Raise Loud Cry Against No-Foul Clause

By HENRY McLEMORE
(Copyright, 1934, United Press)

LONDON, July 13 (UPI)—The Haig-Carreras fight for the British Empire title definitely ended the chances of the no-foul clause being read into the British boxing laws.

Before this eleven-red epic was brought to the Mayfair theater for Londoners to see, the supporters of the Jim Fiter bill, which would have made it impossible to end a fight with an out-of-bounds too shot, were pushing substantial headway. In fact, it seemed only a matter of months until the most familiar bit of British boxing—a gladiatorial writhing on the floor yanking the static official of "he done me wrong"—was finished.

Still Fighting
Another writer, after pointing out the horrors of failing to dislodge a man for hitting low, suggests that perhaps the fight was a truce—just that the shyster ones had rubbed their noses in the winner's face. "It's a pity," writes Gridley in the Sunday Reference, "that more attention is given to this fight than to the more puzzling one before it." Yet, they still are acrobatic, the California of every crime from dynamiting fish to parking by a fireplug.

"If that is a typical example of how the no-foul clause operates," writes one critic, "then we have to wonder if the film in an actual replica of the decision? It would seem so if the film in an actual replica of the fight?"

Mises, Inc. Paid

It is agreed now that Gridley missed the real point in the flowery introduction. To me the most intriguing question is whether Joe Humphreys wanted Fiter to win, but where Joe learned about Adonis Not in the Madison Square Garden Library, certainly, for its shelves are limited entirely to everlast records and works on bout-busting by two-timers, Dempsey and Tunney.

And Joe didn't get it from Jim Johnson, to whom I'm told he gave some sort of threat about his future to the decision?

Will it be upon the spur of the moment and hoped it'd fit.

In the semi-finals he scored a technical knockout over Ed Wilson in the fourth round.

He knocked out Tom Ginn, Vancouver, B. C., to rule the west coast boxers for 1934.

Bill Persson, Butte, Mont., lost the 175-pound championship to Harry Baumgarten, Sacramento, Calif., in a draw.

Reports that Wendell had dropped out are contradicted, but he did declare, "Change of managers has caused the situation for a time," and the squad now intends to carry on for the remainder of the season.

Wendell's team has been consistently gaining in strength, and expects to be a formidable competitor for next year's title.

PRIMARY PROSPECTS

Indications are that there will be plenty of rivalry in this county for the various offices for which nominations are to be made by the voters at the primary election August 14.

Assurance was given early that there would be an interesting contest for the congressional nomination in both parties. The same thing holds true in the race for governor.

In the county, especially in the Democratic ranks, there will be more than one aspirant for several of the offices, notably that of sheriff, and interest in committeemen elections has taken on renewed activity in the closing days of the filing period.

Just who all will file for what between now and the closing hour tomorrow remains to be seen. With the Democratic ticket all filled, there being candidates for every office for which nominations are to be made, the Republicans promise to present a complete ticket also.

This is what will make the primary campaign interesting, and should result in a large vote at the polls next month.

TO BE EXPECTED

Long ago, when the French Revolution had brought forth its reign of terror, and revolutionary leaders themselves began going to the scaffold, someone remarked that revolution always devours its own children.

A survey of the recent bloody events in Germany simply confirms this dictum.

Seizing power by violence—almost invariably breeds still more violence. Disagreements among men who govern a country are inevitable, under any kind of regime—and where these disagreements cannot be decided at the polls, in a peaceful manner, they eventually must get settled in a violent manner—with the firing squad or the guillotine for the losers.

The German Fascist revolution is simply following the formula.

AN ALIBI EXPLODED

Blaming a foreign foe for internal troubles is an old and frequently effective dodge for a harassed ruler. It is hardly surprising that Herr Hitler's explaining to his countrymen that French participation in a great anti-Nazi plot was really the underlying cause for the recent bloody flare-up in Germany.

But this kind of stunt can be pretty dangerous. The French government is not taking kindly to the explanation. The relationship between the two nations, already painfully strained, has grown even tenser as a result. Suspicion and dislike have been accentuated on both sides.

That Hitler has strengthened his position—for the moment, at least—by the prompt way in which he stamped out revolt seems undeniable. But his story of a "French plot" may be storing up a lot of future trouble for him.

THE OLD ORDER CHANGETH

The Fourth of July cannon cracker may still be a nuisance, but it is not now the menace to public safety that it used to be.

The recent Independence Day celebration took a good many lives—but only one or two of the deaths were due to fireworks.

For the contrast, look at the records of the American Medical Association, which show that in the 1903 celebration, fireworks, and gunpowder accidents took no fewer than 466 lives.

Little by little, the American people seem to be getting sense. Painful experience has taught them that the indiscriminate use of fireworks is exceedingly dangerous. Is it too much to hope that in another generation we may learn how to make a corresponding gain for safety in holiday auto traffic and other experiences?

WALL STREET BEATEN

Wall Street fought tooth and nail against federal regulation of the stock markets. The fight was a long one and a bitter one, but Wall Street finally lost it. The stock market bill was passed and the truth-in-securities bill remained essentially unweakened.

So Wall Street tried a new tack. It would see that its "friends" were named to the commission which would enforce the new regulation. The teeth which Congress so laboriously put into the measure would be painlessly extracted.

But once more Wall Street has taken a beating. With a strong, independent man running things, the country can rest assured that no teeth are going to be pulled.

Although this is Friday the thirteenth it may not deter a large number of candidates from filing for office. They're not worrying about the thirteenth. What concerns them is August fourteenth!

SOPHIE KERR'S SUPERB LOVE STORY

DAY OUT OF MY LIFE

By Sophie Kerr

"I'll wait for you at five o'clock and we'll drive down to Henri's and have dinner."

Jane's new secretary was a peach for looks but a lemon for disposition and there was no use trying to get next to her or say anything over-on-here. Also that she wasn't even ordinarily friendly. This was not quite fair.

Jane had taken to heart Miss Jardine's precepts and tried hard to be considerate and polite and all that. But it was too difficult to deceive her fellow workers. They made up his mind that he'd care nothing about them.

Allen Calvert, who looked after the Kandell special development projects, and who was large, loud and happy with a laugh and a ballying joking way which got him out of many a bad spot with the Board of Estimate and Bureau of Inspection, even Alton was cautious when he approached Anna.

Only Roger Thorpe, whom she had had been told was friendly with Kandell, tried to keep a little warmer climate going between them, because in the realm of of-fession it would be to his advantage to have Kandell's secretary in his office.

There was a pretty definite though congenial rivalry between Himself and Calvert, which Kandell used calculatingly, keeping both men uncertain as to which he favored, and therefore always extra active to please him.

Roger Thorpe was contemplating

Jane's fate if she would give him news of Kandell's moves and changes available through other channels, but Jane had not hesitated to respond to Thorpe's small attentions, and he was persuaded to go to work on her.

He was rewarded by being the one to come in to Kandell in the morning.

When election time came around the Thorpe crowd contributed three million marks to the Hitler campaign. That is about all the money Hitler had then.

Thorpe wisely realized his de-fated business adversary constituted the only menace to his situation.

Instead of crushing them, he let them stick a finger in his pie.

The thorpean plums they drew was Herr von Papen as vice chancellor.

von Papen himself was prospentorous.

Those who should know something about it say Mr. Thyssen has been buying up realty in the eastern empire stretching from Lep-land to Bulgaria and Helgoland to the Rhine, which would include the iron ore of Lorraine, the coal of Helgoland and Holstein, the steel of western and central Europe.

If that is really his dream, he must be eating too many tomatoes for dinner.

The new federal stamp on pealing, all of which made the foot large and protuberant. "I'm going to practice for you," he said. "I'll wait for you at five o'clock and we'll drive down to Henri's and have dinner. Now don't look doubtful. It's all set tight. You and I must get acquainted." Then Thorpe himself had a moment of doubt.

"I'm a little afraid for the town right after five. I'll call for you at your hotel at half-past seven." "Where?"

SHE kept him waiting a little that evening, for she had stopped on her way home to buy a new hat and that took a long time. The excitement of going out with the good-looking, agreeable

Thorpe turned her dark mind into one so elated and joyful that Thorpe shaved when he saw her. "And pretty darned clever of me to pick her out," he thought complacently, "even if she doesn't help me a bit with the house."

She found him waiting a little at the door of the hotel, and she had to go back to the window and call him again. "And pretty darned clever of me to pick her out," he thought complacently, "even if she doesn't help me a bit with the house."

"I've never had a better

time in my life," he said.

"I've never had a better

time in my life," he said.

Mong, led devotional. Mrs. Vandenbark entertained with a group of crayon drawings, and Mrs. Henry White and Mrs. Horner Yarbrough sang several duets.

NEED ANOTHER DRESSY Complete diagrammed Marian Martin saw chart included. Pattern 8057

Need another dress? Why don't you, if you could find one that was very little trouble to make, come next to nothing, and you are smart as smart, wouldn't it be nice to have one of the day. Well, well, where is that old calendar? Here's the dress! Look carefully at the sketch isn't it? We suggest a cotton print for economy's sake, but if you are silk minded, it is all right with us, and with the pattern. The design sort of suggests a bolero, but it is much easier to make.

Pattern 8057 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 40, and 42. Size 18 requires 3 yards 36 inch fabric.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coin for pattern, postage prepaid, for MARIAN MARTIN PATTERN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, the STYL NUMBER and SIZE of each pattern.

A beautiful complete collection of Summer Clothes is shown in the NEW SUMMER EDITION of the MARIAN MARTIN PATTERN BOOK. This book will help you plan a stunning vacation wardrobe. Clever beach ensembles, charming costumes for the garden, sky suggestion, for the summer, and beach attire, and a suit for formal wear among the specific designs found in the book. PRICE OF BOOK, FIFTEEN CENTS, BOOK AND PATERN TOGETHER, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Send your order to: Marian Martin Pattern Department, Twin Falls, Idaho.

SOCIETY FORMED IN MOVIE FIGHT

Group Planning Intelligent Opposition to Demand For Purging

WASHINGTON, July 13 (UPI) — A black cat which haunts the hangars of Kelly Field, Texas, found Friday the 13th a lucky day because Maj. Gen. Benjamin D. Clegg, chief of the army corps dropped more improvements on the base.

Reports from the Automat Temperance Union, who planned a national protest against the movie picture, indicated that a threat to become "detached."

Explaining he had founded the organization to give the laymen a voice in the present "decency crusade," L. Robert Bruder, attorney, said that many were danger that a religious condition "similar to liquor prohibition and its attendant evils" might result from the movement within the Catholic, Protestant and Jewish groups. Referring to

"We hope," he said, "to continue nationwide referendum in order to get the official opinion of the average moviegoer. After all, your average citizen needs enough time to know what constitutes his standards of good taste."

"We agree with the church groups that reforms in picture are necessary, up to a certain point."

He suggested solving the juvenile problem by having special times for children either at regular times in the regular motion picture or at special times in a picture designated for them."

A somewhat similar idea was expressed by Prof. Fannie W. Dunn of Columbia university, who has been making an extensive investigation of the reactions of pictures on children.

IDAHO'S OTHER SENATOR

James P. Pope seems to be making a noise in Washington loud enough to prevent his being known simply as "Idaho's other senator."

When Senator Borah started out recently to lambast both the Republicans and the Democrats, the latter found a strong tribune in Senator Pope.

When Owen P. White, magazine writer, "took a fall" out of the federal reclamation policy of the federal government as it has been in effect for the past generation or two, it was Senator Pope who came to the defense of the projects, particularly those in Idaho.

Pope spoke over a national radio hook-up Thursday night, and effectively answered the arguments of White, just as he had answered the oratory of Borah.

Pope, during his brief period of service in the nation's capital has exhibited meritorious zeal. Also, he has been recognized by the administration, as witness his appointment as chairman of the senate committee investigating munitions manufacturing.

The junior senator has demonstrated his fitness for the position he occupies, and by his aggressive attitude is bringing credit upon his party and his state.

ON TO BETTER DAYS

Temporary headquarters for the executives who have the new housing program under their wings has been opened in Washington, and Administrator James A. Moffett has begun to assemble a staff for a high-speed campaign.

No one who hopes to see recovery accelerated can fail to wish Mr. Moffett and his co-workers the best of luck in their plan to get at least a half-billion dollars' worth of housing construction and modernization projects under way by fall.

The great construction industry is one of the key pieces in the national economy. For several years it has been languishing badly; and until it recovers, national recovery as a whole cannot make decent speed.

The more success attends this housing program, the better off all of us will be.

TREES TO COMBAT DROUGHT

One of the bright ideas brought forward in Washington is the suggestion for a great "shelter belt" of trees to minimize drought in western farm lands and to prevent dust storms.

This scheme, now under consideration, is a fine example of the sort of things that human beings can do to improve the climate conditions under which they live.

As tentatively outlined, it would call for the planting of a great belt of trees—a belt 100 miles wide, and reaching from the Canadian border to the Texas Panhandle, stretching 1300 miles through the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas, and Oklahoma.

This belt would not be solidly wooded. First there would be a strip of trees, then a broader strip of farmland; then another strip of trees, another strip of farmland, and so on, throughout the 100 miles of its width.

According to Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Tree Association, "such a program will go far toward preventing wind erosion of the soil, such as occurred during the recent drought, and would add vastly to the fertility of farm lands in the enormous section east of the Rocky Mountains to the Mississippi river."

Certain it is that there has been a wasting of soil resources in almost as spendthrift a manner as timber resources were once wasted. Vast areas of good farm land in the west will eventually become useless, through drought and erosion, unless something is done.

Establishment of a shelter belt like this one would be a great step forward in conservation of an irreplaceable natural resource.

To be sure, it would cost money. Mr. Pack estimates the cost of this project at $75,000,000. The job would take from 10 to 12 years to finish, and would call for services of thousands of workers.

But money spent in such program would be money very well spent. The country cannot afford to let the nation's granary turn into a semi-arid wasteland. China affords a striking example of the way in which good land can become worthless when protective measures are not taken. No one wants to see the United States go the same way.

John D. Rockefeller's rule for old age is, "Don't worry." But, he should add, if you have to worry, worry the other fellow.

The more a motorist drinks, says a Milwaukee doctor, the worse is the accident he gets into—and the less he feels it.

MUNITIONS PROBE

WELL UNDERWAY

You May Not Know That—

There are four methods of distribution employed by the Evening Times in its circulation department:

(1) The majority of the paper are distributed by carrier.

(2) Others are mailed and distributed through the postoffice.

(3) Street sellers and newsdealers receive their quotas for sale street by customer.

(4) And a few subscribers by the tenth edition, happen to live on the outer end of the city.
Such is the case here. Irene de Pont, one of the big shots of the Du Pont munitions interests, recently made the statement that the senatorial probe into munition manufacturing was "a plot."
She feels that Ryndale is helping U. S. senators to end our warlike vulnerability to attack.

The failure to mention that the Senate will cut down its profits is also to note that the Du Pont does not propose to hand over U. S. armaments to anyone else to prevent American armament manufacturers from peddling their products among our enemies.

Cooperatives

MALDEN, Wyo., July 14, 1934.—The "political bandit" which resulted in abolishing the federal farm board removed "the greatest force that has ever been created for upholding cooperative marketing in America," Charles G. Tongue told the American Institute of Cooperation.

Tongue, former member of the board and Hoover campaign manager in California in 1932, is president of both the California Fruit Growers Exchange and the California Walnut Growers Exchange.

Uptrend, Commissioner Points Out

BONNIE, July 14 (PDT)—Idaho's climb out of the depression has been almost magic. It is revealed by Tax Commissioner Ben Deendorf, in summing up income tax receipts of the last half of 1933, 1932, and the first half of 1933.

Deendorf said the mind of all concerned at ease. In the first place President Roosevelt had proposed the tax cut should not set the minds of all concerned at ease. TRUNK FOUND

OAKIE FINDS OUT ABOUT BASTILLE

Film Comedian Incarcerated For Five Hours on Drunk Driving Charge

(Copyright, 1934, United Press)

HOLLYWOOD, July 14 (UPI)—Jack Oakie, film comedian, now knows what it is to be behind the bars, locked out "charged with driving drunk" down the entertainment road from Hollywood, while intoxicated. Oakie was incarcerated in the San Bernardino jail for five hours.

Officers then took the actor before a municipal judge who announced Oakie $100 and sent him on his way. Oakie came on to Hollywood and sought after "negotiations."

Lupe Velez may go ahead with her divorce suit against Johnny "Turpin" Weissmuller, and then again she may not. There was talk that she would give him six months to prove himself, but the defendant couple should forget their troubles once more. The married life has been a series of bickering and tying furniture, Lupe declared.

Substantiation of the report was seen in the fact that Lupe and her Johnny attended a party together after the "final bust-up" and spent the evening holding hands and smiling at one another.

Charging breach of promise, Vilma Almaya, Hungarian actress, and Arnold Winter, playboy and actress, were for $250,000 damages. The actress and her husband met Vilma in Budapest in 1924, that at one time she had lived with him for seven months after he had agreed to marry her. She and he had given up a salary of $35,000 a year in the church theater in Austria, only to be forsaken by her mentor after two trips to the United States.

NOGALES, Sonora, Mex., July 14 (UPI)—Threats of an impending revolt over expulsion of Catholic priests several weeks ago hung ominously over Nogales today as more than 500 federal troops were concentrated in search of a nominating committee.

The troops were moved in from Hermosillo, capital of the state, after circulation of a proclamation inducing the people to join in overthrowing the crushing heel of the government in the northern part of the republic.

A truckload of 30-30's and machine guns, and 25,000 rounds of ammunition were sought by the troops. The cache was said to have been snatched over the border last week.

General Cruz, former chief of police of Mexico City, and one of the leaders of the 1927 uprising, is behind-the-scenes—move, it was learned from authoritative sources. He has been in exile in the United States.

MEET IN U. S.

NOGALES, Ariz., July 14 (UPI)—Revolutionary forces threatening an uprising against the international border have held three secret meetings here in the past week, semi-official sources reported today.

Similar meetings have been held in Hisehe and Douglas to obtain recruits for the uprising, it was learned.

At the same time it was said that department of justice agents have been in the region for several days investigating rumors of an insurrection—rumors.

The agents, while maintaining a watch in four of bandit强盗的据点，the American side of the border, also were investigating reports that the uprising was being financed by American capital, it was said.

Three Assassins Invade Home Of Vienna Leader as Part Of Reprisal Drive

VIENNA, July 14 (UPI)—Cornelius Zimmer, 31, a Nazi leader, was shot dead at 8:30 a.m. today by three unknown men who forced a way into his apartment with revolver, apparently determined to take direct action to end Nazi terror.

The doorman at the apartment house where he lived with three young men went up to the flat. He heard a volley of shots. By the time he reached the apartment the three men had escaped.

He is survived by his parents, a three-year-old brother, Howard, his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hughes and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hughes, and an aunt and uncle.

The White mortuary is arranging funeral services.

Of Vienna Leader as Part Of Reprisal Drive

VIENNA, July 14 (UPI)—Cornelius Zimmer, 31, a Nazi leader, was shot dead at 8:30 a.m. today by three unknown men who forced a way into his apartment with revolver, apparently determined to take direct action to end Nazi terror.

A few hours before, Mr. Bruno Gruber, a neophyte, died from injuries received in a Nazi bombing.

Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss continued his work of reorganizing his cabinet by appointing Ulrich von Reichenau, secretary of agriculture and forestry.

Zimmer believed the first Nazi attacked in reprisal for terrorism that had been world-wide—the government and endangering citizens for months.
