NEW DEAL GOES BEFORE VOTERS FOR POLL TEST

Gets Baptism of Fire Today in Primary Balloting by Three States

ROOSEVELT CHIEF ISSUE

Twenty-Six Places in Honor At Stake by Scattered Election Battles

By United Press

The New Deal, receiving its baptism of fire in primaries for the fall elections, went to the test before voters of three states today.

In Missouri, West Virginia and Kansas citizens made their primary selections today. Although local issues predominated in most cases, the fate of candidates vying on platforms of support of Roosevelt policies attracted wide interest.

Complicated Missouri Democratic senatorial nomination was being decided. Senator Bennett Clark is supporting Rep. Jacob L. Milligan, a friend of World War days. The powerful Kansas City organization of boss Tom Pendergast has put forward Harry S. Truman, a Jackson county judge.

The St. Louis Democratic organization has its own candidate in Rep. John J. Cochran. Lieutenant Cleveland of Columbia is a fourth entry.

HOSPITAL SHOWS FINANCIAL GAINS

Improved Condition Revealed in Jepperson Report to Commissioners

An improved financial condition at the county general hospital during the first six months of this year, is revealed in a report submitted by H. C. Jepperson, superintendent, to the board of county commissioners, showing cash collections for the period of $30,020.

This sum is within $5,000 of the total which it had been estimated would be received during the 12-month period. In addition to the cash collections, hospitalization for county indigents for the six months amounted to $8,290.

General expenses of the institution for the period amounted to $34,282, and the total expense for the 12-month period, including plant upkeep and new equipment, $44,414. Of the cash collected $25,551 applied to 1934 accounts, the report states, and $5,063 was received on old accounts.

Jepperson Praised Praise for the management of the institution by Mr. Jepperson was forthcoming today by members of the board.

It was predicted that the present which has been set will be maintained for the second half-year period, because an advisory board recently was appointed by the commissioners. The board was organized a few weeks ago, meets twice monthly with the superintendent.

A new generator has been installed at the hospital in the X-ray room, and in addition a new liniment satisfactory plates with one exposure, Jepperson said.

This Club's Meeting Gave Chicago the Shivers

It was a rattling good event, the first annual breakfast of the Post-Mortem Club, pictured here in a Chicago hotel, with the toastmaster keeping up a chatter of merriment for the guests, directors of inpropriety from all over the nation. Probably the first speechless toastmaster ever to sit at a breakfast table, T. M. McAdoo, late of Florida, founder of the club, scored a tremendous hit with the members as he grimaced out at them, cigarette dangling from his jaws. All members of the club signed a scroll bequeathing their skeletons to the organization, as had McAdoo, the founder.

ROOSEVELT VIEWS DROUTH RAVAGE IN DAKOTA SECTOR

AKRON, O., Aug. 7 (AP)—City fathers changed their minds today and decided that the Dillinger theatrical troupe might appear at the Summit county fair, after all.

Yesterday the city cabinet ruled that the troupe, which exhibited the "Hesperian" father, members of his family and cast of the more lurid moments of his crime career, could not put on their vaudeville skill here because morale of youth would be impaired.

Today, the cabinet not only decided to let the troupe appear, but offered to furnish it with a police escort.

CHICAGO SCHOOL WAGES ASSURED

Unpaid Teachers Will Receive Back Pay as Result of RFO Loan

CHICAGO, Aug. 7 (AP)—Chicago school teachers are going to be paid.

Within two weeks the 14,000 men and women who have worked through the depression with lower incomes than unskilled laborers are going to receive more than $25,000,000. For the first time in four years their pay checks will be up to date.

The huge payday, an almost miraculous windfall to teachers who even had considered writing off the entire sum as dead loss, was assured when Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, approved a loan of $22,500,000 to the city school board.

First mortgage bonds on school board real estate not being used for educational purposes was posted as collateral.

Checks at Once Each of the city's teachers will receive immediately a check for two weeks' pay, the first since May 21. As soon as checks can be prepared they will receive the entire balance, from $300 to $1,500 for each teacher.

The returned loan will cover salary arrears from last Nov. 1 to May 30. With $3,600,000 on hand, plus funds from sale of tax delinquency warrants, the school board will pay the balance.

News of the solution to a problem that several times caused teachers to riot in the city streets brought immediate celebration in thousands of homes.

FEAR OF QUAKE BRINGS MOVING OF GOLD STORE

The huge Denver mint storage vaults have been prepared to receive the largest gold shipment in the government's history. The government, while officials threw a cloud of secrecy around the moving of the metal.

TRUCK EMBARGO HALTS LUXURIES IN MINNEAPOLIS

COURT BATTLE LOOMING

Governor Summoned Into U.S. Fight to Revoke Ban on Martial Law

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 7 (AP)

Minneapolis had a million residents fought today in ingenuitous ways to outwit a dictatorial military embargo on "luxuries."

The confiding powers that brought the embargo into effect—6,000 striking truck drivers, 166 truck owners and Gov. Floyd B. Olson—divided themselves at the same time for a final fight in federal courts.

Fewer than 4,000 of the city's normal quota of 15,000 trucks were operating today, 30 hours after Gov. Olson cracked down on recalcitrant employers of the striking drivers by revoking 9,000 permits for truck operation.

Necessities Move Milk, ice and bread were delivered freely and there was no danger of a shortage of essential foods. National guard officers and state police, however, on a definition of luxuries.

Among things that the guardsmen decided were not essential to life were pianos, radios, electric stoves, vacuum cleaners, beauty parlors, drug stores, hair salons, and many other luxuries.

M'ADOO DIVORCE PUT UNDER FIRE

Newspaper Claims Judge Who Granted Swift Divorce Is Attorney's Relative

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 7 (AP)—The Illustrated Daily News said in a copyrighted story today that Superior Judge Allen B. Campbell, who granted the famous $2 million divorce of Mrs. Frank G. Collier, was brother-in-law of Frank G. Collier, partner in McAdoo's law firm.

The quick divorce became the target of heated criticism by Judge Campbell's brother-in-law, who condemned proceedings as a false indication of the rich and influential receive undue consideration.

Admits Relationship Judge Campbell, whose questioning by the newspaper, admitted he was related to Frank G. Collier, member of the legal firm of McAdoo and Nebbett.

"Yes, I'm his brother-in-law," the judge said. "But leave me out of this—I don't want to be involved in any more. There was nothing illegal in the way Mrs. McAdoo obtained her divorce. In fact, I don't recognize the name of McAdoo when the newspaper called."

Starts Sea Trip In 10-Foot Boat

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Aug. 7 (AP)—Adolf Hitler's lasting was alone on the Atlantic ocean today in a 10-foot boat, headed for San Sebastian, Spain.

The 53-year-old Florida painter, who has made 23 Atlantic crossings in his six years experience as a merchant marine seaman, waved to friends and father as he cut loose from a tug 15 miles out from Daytona Beach late Monday.

Hitler was to have more contact with his Florida friends before the lonely voyage, but a two-month cruise set in an airplane was to make a 400-mile jaunt out over the ocean today to drop newspapers and field messages.

Hitler, in the launching of the boat was Charles D. Taylor, flagler commander, who said that Hitler was more than an excited traveler to make the trip successfully.

DEATH COMES TO WILLIAM S. VARE

Last of Old-Time Political Chieftains Succumbs at Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 7 (AP)—William S. Vare, who for nearly a generation held political control of Philadelphia, died today at his Atlantic City home.

He was one of the last of the old-time political "bosses" who, 30 years ago, controlled various key cities of the nation. He was 60 years old.

His death, which occurred at 11:30 a. m., brought to an end the Republican dynasty that dated back more than 40 years to the vigorous days of Matt Quay, Dole, Penrose and Jim McNeel.

Actually, the "organization" which Vare inherited had its origin in the days of Thaddeus Stevens, irreconcilable foe of Abraham Lincoln.

Vare was one of three brothers, George and Ed Vare, older than he, who threw him into politics in 1895, when he became a city councilman and shortly thereafter its president.

His greatest triumph and defeat came when he resigned from congress to run for mayor in a bitter campaign, he defeated George Whitford Pomeroy and Gilford Pinchot, and his cousin had William H. Wilson, his Democratic opponent.

Wilson, who underwent surgery at the time this was in 1926, refused to permit Vare to take his seat, charging he had bought his election through excess expenditures. The decision was upheld by the supreme court.

From that defeat, Vare lost much political ground, and his machine began to crumble.

The fight blew came when his own candidate were disastrously whipped in the last municipal election.

CHANGES ADVISED AT BEAN PARLEY

Growers Present Suggestions At Hearing on Proposed Marketing Plan

Suggested improvements in the proposed federal bean marketing agreement were being made today at a hearing under way at Legion Memorial hall before representatives of the agricultural adjustment administration. The hearing opened yesterday, and today threatened to continue into a night session.

Extensive suggestions for incorporation in the agreement were made today by spokesmen who favored some such plan, and by representatives of those who had declared themselves in opposition to any marketing agreement. Testimony submitted today to government representatives, headed by James A. Kennedy, chairman, centered on control of annual crop supplies.

James A. Kennedy, chairman, centered on control of annual crop supplies. He said that the government should not eliminate that would hang like a weight over the heads of producers.

GERMANY LAUDS VON HINDENBURG IN LAST TRIBUTE

Hitler Vows to Carry on National Rebuilding Task

BY WALTER R. VILGIE (Copyright, 1934, United Press)

STANNENBERG, East Prussia, Aug. 7 (AP)—President Paul von Hindenburg was returned today to rest forever in the soil he made historic by his victory of Tannenberg over the great Russian "steam roller" in 1914.

Over his body Adolf Hitler, who became supreme ruler of the nation when Hindenburg died, had the grandeur of the nation's rebirth.

It was a funeral oration, devoted to eulogy of the dead soldier-statesman. But in it was the thought that Hitler, the war-time corporal and the Nazi Fuehrer, would continue without pause the late president's work of rebuilding a nation.

Volens Martial Pride Pride in Germany's arms was in the speech, expressed by unblinking Hitler's name with his martial victory.

Hindenburg, Hitler said, was called too late to the supreme command. But even then, he continued, he won victory after victory, inspiring the German army to attack instead of defend.

Then back as President after years of retirement. "It is one of the most wonderful instances of Providence that under the presidency of this greatest of soldiers and servants of the ideal of our nation, preparation could be made and the portals finally opened for the reconstruction of the nation."

Aided National Rebirth "As president of the Reich and first guardian of the German revolution, and thus of the rebirth of the nation."

In the ringing voice of the Fuehrer who has the power to magnify Germany, Hitler concluded: "Dear war lord, enter now into Valhalla."

A few minutes later for the first time since Hindenburg's death the Nazi flag flew over the site of the first time since 1888 that it had been accorded to anyone in Prussia.

Millions View Body Hindenburg's body remained lying in state today while millions of German soldiers and officers, in that great memorial that marks his victory.

The body will lie in the field marshals' tower of the great memorial, the tomb of Germany's martial valor.

Hindenburg's funeral was marked by the boom of 101 guns, which is the traditional death salute to a Prussian King. It was the first time since 1888 that it had been accorded to anyone in Prussia.

Brilliant Spectacle The funeral was the most brilliant military spectacle in Germany since the war, recalling vividly the fatherland's pre-war military splendor.

Fifteen feet away, conspicuous by contrast with the splendor surrounding him, sat Hitler, Hindenburg's successor. His hands were folded in his lap and he sat slightly hunched forward with his head bent, a most unheroic figure.

WORKING PUPILS GET HIGH MARKS

Students Working Part Time Disprove Old Belief on Grades

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow (Special)—The common belief that the student who must work to make ends meet will get no good grades as those with no financial problems is disproved by scholastic records of nearly 200 F. R. I. A. students at the University of Idaho the second semester of last year. These students were assisted by the federal emergency relief administration as part of a national campaign to assist deserving college students who were on the verge of being home because of lack of funds.

The scholastic average of the students employed on the F. R. I. A. projects the second semester was 74.3, practically equal to the university average of 74.3. The perfect average at the university is 80.0.

Some of the F. R. I. A. workers achieved scholastic marks in which any student might be proud even if he had all of his time to ponder books. One boy, who worked over 200 hours during the semester, had an average of 83.00. Several working more than 150 hours, had averages of 80.00 or better. Averages of slightly below 80.00 were common in the list of those working 150 hours or more during the semester.

Tobacco is sold in open auctions. We buy the right kinds—mild and ripe—for Chesterfield—and pay the price.

.. but even that's not all there is to it

AFTER you receive the tobacco from the farmers you have to dry it just right and then store it away for ageing for over two years. Then you take the different types of home-grown and-Turkish tobaccos and weld them together in such a way as to make a balanced blend.

The Chesterfield process of blending and cross-blending tobaccos is different from others, and we believe it helps to make a milder and better tasting cigarette.

Down where they grow tobacco—in most places—Chesterfield is the largest selling cigarette.

NEW YORK LOOKS TO PENNANT WIN

Torry's Crew Needs Only 25 Victories in Last 50 League Games

BY THEON WRIGHT

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP)—By reckoning rapidly upon the fingers, one may arrive at a series of simple mathematical conclusions which are highly provable. Highly discerning fans of the Cubs and St. Louis.

For instance, accepting last year's figures as a standard, it is possible to estimate very quickly the number of games the Giants must win to collect a pennant. Assuming a .500 average, the team must win 25 of its 50 remaining games to tie the Cubs and Cardinals. Getting to the point, the Giants, having won 41 games already, need only 25 more to achieve the results they got last season.

It is only necessary to add that the Giants have 47 games more to play to discover what melancholy news this is for the Cubs and Cards. Twenty-five out of 50 is only .500 baseball, and unless the Giants plunge into a most disastrous slump, they are not likely to get down to .500 baseball.

There will be hopeful souls among the Cubs and Cards who will prefer to wait out the verdict. But at the present outlook, neither the Cubs nor Cards have the pitching or batting strength to spot Memphis. The Cardinals' playmates of three-guns, lead-six and a ball for the Cards—and expect to catch them on the closing stretch.

Lostest Team?

The Giants have been called the luckiest club in baseball. If so, they are riding their luck. With 50 games to go, they have 24 abroad and 26 at home.

The next six games will be at home with the Dodgers and Braves. On August 14, the championship will start their last western swing, and will make the final stand at home.

Detroit will resume its western stand against the St. Louis Browns today, and also will complete a series with Cleveland before heading eastward to try conclusions with the Yankees on August 14.

New York goes to Washington, Cleveland plays the White Sox at Chicago and Boston's Red Sox at St. Louis. The Athletics have the Pittsburgh Pirates, the Cards open at Cincinnati with two games and the Phillies go to Boston.

NEUSEL MANAGER BANS 12 ROUNDS

Says Walter Signed for Only Ten Against Schmeling At Hamburg

PARIS, Aug. 7 (AP)—Unexpected complications involving a difference in the number of rounds each fighter has contracted to fight, may interfere with the heavyweight battle between Walter Neusel and Max Schmeling, German heavyweight, at Hamburg, Aug. 26.

Walter Neusel, the promoter, signed Schmeling for twelve rounds and Neusel for ten. Paul Danneil, Neusel's manager, insists his fighter will fight no more than ten.

"We signed to fight ten," Danneil said. "At the end of the tenth round Neusel will leave the ring. If Schmeling wants to go two more rounds, he can box the eleventh and twelfth."

Mrs. Moody Hopes To Swing Racquet Within Six Weeks

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7 (AP)—Helen Williams Moody, once the foremost woman tennis player in the world, hopes to be swinging a racquet again within "six weeks," though it may be two months, she revealed today.

Feeling fine after special treatments in New York, Mrs. Moody was back home after attending the Wimbledon championships in England in the unusual role of a spectator and writer.

Back injury kept her out of the play, the same back injury which has prevented her handling a racquet for the last 10 months.

Queen Helen the "First" is hopeful she can return to the game soon and can go to Wimbledon as a competitor next year.

Moody said she practically has recovered from the back injury and plans to exercise—particularly swim and walk—until the doctors tell her she can resume tennis practice.

Rivalries Point to Big Gridiron Year in West

By Henry Super

With football today looked forward to the greatest football season in years.

In the past, of course, it will begin something like this: "Yale and Harvard fans today began to contemplate the probable winner in the traditional clash in November between the heavy rivalry." Or, if it's in the middle west, "Notre Dame started today on the long road back under the auspices of their new coach, etc."

Other Athletics

There is still the world series, another crack at Barney Proulx's world title, which used to be Jimmy's title, and another of Long Island sound look forward to the 1934-35 season. In November, the 33-year-old quest of the American cup.

However, this is strictly a football story. And what makes the football story is the fact that a fellow named in from the north (Los Angeles) and started off with preliminaries: "Any guy that thinks the Trojans are going to be a weak link for this year had better in his mind, and if he'll just put the dough on the line, I can get even money." etc.

Highly Fantastic

Of course, this was a highly fantastic situation to anyone who has had his football education in the east, where they raise only weak teams (Chicago, for instance) and the fact that a westerner would raise the point that Southern California's Trojans were even thought of as a weak inter, made it all moving the stage in parliament.

So we inquired: "What's the deal?"

And it seems that St. Mary's (Calif.) and Santa Clara are just getting around to speaking terms with Santa Clara on account of the bitter dispute over who was to get the ball after the game at 7:30 in the evening. St. Mary's (Calif.) has cancelled the game with Santa Clara due to a ruckus after last year's game.

So one gets the idea it will be a great season in the west this year.

ELECTION RUMORS

This is an appropriate week for starting election rumors. "I hear that so and so—" is a good way to preface gossip concerning those seeking nomination to office. It makes little difference whether or not the statements can be verified, especially if the person against whom they are directed happens to be either an opponent, or is on the opposition ticket. And besides, it will be difficult to refute the stories before the primary voting next Tuesday!

This county in the past has been comparatively free from this sort of thing, but it always exists to some degree, for there are some people who have nothing else to do but tear down reputations which have taken lifetimes to build up.

Now that the record in this regard has been free of any serious breach in this campaign, let everyone strive to keep it on a high plane, and turn deaf ears to the busy-body who has little of good to say about anyone or anything.

NEW LAW, SAME PROBLEM

The federal government is getting set to make a new drive against bootleggers and rum-runners.

That statement seems to put the clock back several years. It smacks of the old days when we took it for granted that the 18th amendment was here to stay. But it comes from Washington in the summer of 1934, more than a half year after the amendment was buried.

Details of this new drive have a strangely familiar sound. The alcohol tax unit of the internal revenue bureau is to be expanded. Coast guard forces all along the Atlantic coast are to be strengthened to strike at a new "rum row."

The new liquor bottle and label regulations will be enforced with all possible strictness. Lowering of the liquor tariff and tax rates is discussed, so that the price of legal whisky may be cut to meet illegal competition.

The American people had two chances to make mistakes in connections with the liquor traffic—and they took both of them.

First of all, they more or less took it for granted that by making the traffic illegal they would solve the whole, age-old liquor problem.

They tried that and it didn't work. After less than a decade and a half of prohibition they found that they had simply hopped out of the frying pan in to the fire. Prohibition brought certain benefits, but it brought such flagrant abuses that the amendment was finally ousted from the constitution by an overwhelming vote.

And then came the second mistake.

Just as had originally been assumed that outlawing the traffic would automatically solve the problem, so now a child-like faith led to the belief that legalizing the traffic would do it. In the first instance it was thought that all we had to do was pass a law; in the second, we thought that all we had to do was repeal one.

But the liquor problem, like death and taxes, seems to be inescapable. It was a knotty one under prohibition, and it is almost equally knotty under repeal. And it is just about as far from solution now as it ever was.

We have had altogether too much emotionalism on both sides of the fence. As a result, we have had nothing remotely resembling a cool, scientific study of the problem which might show us the best line of attack.

Unless we get something of that kind, we are apt to find that we returned to the drawbacks of an open liquor traffic without abolishing those of prohibition.

FIGURES STILL HIGH

The unemployment index is probably as good a barometer of the state of the nation's health as there is. Various figures on unemployment are available, and most of them are different; but they generally agree that while we have taken a substantial bite out of our list of jobless men, we still have a long way to go.

Recent figures from the National Industrial Conference Board, for example, show that the total number of unemployed workers in June of this year was 7,984,000. This is a decline of 5,265,000, or just less than 40 per cent, from the peak of March 1933—but it is also an increase of 89,000, or a little more than 1 per cent, from the figures for May, 1934.

We are certainly a great deal better off than we were when the depression was at its worst. On the other hand, the summer slump seems to be on, and at the moment unemployment is increasing instead of decreasing. The figures contain both encouragement and discouragement.

The weatherman reports that the drought has been broken, but we won't believe it until after all election speeches are over.

you. It would spoil everything if you went out—and I wouldn't like to send Nancy away either. Especially to Miss Rosa's, while Jane's there—" she went on quickly—"Jane doesn't care much for children, and she probably the wrong way the only time she ever saw Nancy. Very foolish of me, I suppose, but she—well—"

"Oh, no, it doesn't, of course. Not really. But if anyone had told you Howard was a girl like that, would you have been pleased?"

"I'd have been as mad as a hatter."

"There you are! And even if it wasn't any question of exposing Nancy to Jane's comments, I wouldn't have you go any further for Christmas for the world!"

"There was such earnestness and sincerity in her voice that Mary Jackson smiled with gratification. It was very easy to love you any day. But, truly, it is almost matter so stably in to spend the time with Howard as it does you. Ever since he's been grown up, he's been a good deal more than just to know that he's well and happy somewhere, even when you are with him. It has been a lot of emotional wear and tear on both of us."

American Legion, F. D. R. Will Honor Mayos For Half Century of Healing

(By NFA) In all the places which President Roosevelt will visit on his tour of inspection from Seattle back to Washington he will be the guest of honor except in this little southern Minnesota town of 14,000 inhabitants. Here, in what is popularly called "The Clinic City," the president will be merely an outstanding participant, on his arrival on August 14, in honor of an honor-son-of-the-greatest surgeon in the world—Dr. William James and Charles Horace Mayo, known to thousands in America and elsewhere simply as the "Famous Mayo Brothers."

The occasion will be the presentation of a citation to these two men by the American Legion.

This citation practically will sum up nearly 14,000 hospital and medical programs in which the Mayo brothers have taken leading parts.

Humble Start It was back in 1887 that the brothers, and their recently famous father, Dr. William Warren Mayo, undertook to erect a newly built small hospital which had six wards and 600 patients. At that time this small St. Mary's hospital had the great Mayo Clinic program.

Today, the institution known as the Mayo Clinic comprises a modern, 500,000 13-story structure, a smaller building which was the original clinic, and some half a dozen other hospitals, "hotels" with hospital facilities, sanitariums and laboratories—all situated on some 600 acres of land, and comprising the entire enterprise representing an investment of about $10,000,000.

Some 60,000 patients enter this institution annually, among them some of the most famous personalities of the world.

Famed for Charity Rich and poor alike are treated regardless of their fame or fortune, under an established rule of the two Mayos to charge for their services according to a person's capacity to pay, not to charge more than 10 per cent of his annual income no matter how long the stay or how troublesome the case, and—here is an example of the noted Mayo altruism—to not make all money above $1,000 a year for them get to outside charity.

For the Mayos are just as noted for their charity as they are for their keen surgical ability. Their father, who came to Minnesota in 1855 and set up practice as a simple country doctor, soon became famous for his charitable work.

Group of "Doctors" that today, with "Doctor Will" at the age of 73, and "Doctor Charles" at the age of 60, the Mayo Clinic no longer is their own. It is owned jointly by the group of nine doctors, including the Mayo brothers, forming the Mayo Properties association, each member having an equal vote in its operation.

It is operated in connection with the University of Minnesota, as a graduate school of medicine, under direction of the Mayo Foundation for Medical Education and Research.

SEATTLE (AP) In 1897 a ton of gold was taken out of Alaska valued at $180,000 and the world was started looking for gold.

In 1934 more gold will be taken out of the rich territory than ever before at a value of $340,000 a ton.

News of millions, hundreds of prospectors along the old Yukon Trail and old, old, mine yielded big returns at the new price of $35 an ounce, was brought to Seattle by persons returning from Alaska.

Capital has been thrown into the new hunt for gold and expensive machinery is taking the place of the pick-and-shovel. Little has been written about it because mine operators and prospectors don't want "the world to move in on them."

COUNCIL GRANTS JUBILEE RIGHTS

Formally Approves Concession Area on Main Avenue for September Fete

Right of the Magic City Jubilee celebration committee to make use of Main avenue for concession purposes during the event Sept. 2-8 formally was approved by Twin Falls city council last evening, and entered upon the minutes. The resolution had been made a week previous, and was tentatively granted, but City Clerk W. H. Edgington noted that the council would include the concession privilege, as well as a right to use of the streets.

Routine business occupied the council in a variety of matters at the brief session. Bonds of several employees were approved, the annual city audit completed by J. K. C. Edmunds was adopted, and an agreement was entered into with C. N. Arrington, who had granted the city an easement to permit use of his land over which to construct the new flush line leading from the irrigation plant.

Reports Offered Reports of city departments received during the past month there had been nine fire alarms, 17 complaints and 300 inspections. There were 25 plumbing inspections, with four condemnations, 33 electrical inspections, with four condemnations also, for which fines of $81.30 were levied, and 1300 tickets were issued. Licenses collected $75.71 in fees and fines; the city scales yielded $23.90; and fines in the police department totalled $67.

There were 47 arrests during the month, of which nine were for drunkenness, 253 warnings were issued, 281 complaints were registered, and one month warrant was issued. Eighteen dogs were killed, four cars were stolen and an equal number recovered, and eight bicycles repaired stolen, six had been restored to their owners.

RUPERT

Lightening struck the sub station near the irrigation office, during a slight thunder storm here Thursday evening, and severed a heavy wire, which caused the burning out of a transformer. The town was in darkness nearly an hour. Workers were summoned from Purley, as local electricians do not work on government property. Several poles were struck and one caught fire from the lightning.

Welfare workers have begun the sinking of the wells the city has asked for to aid the irrigation system. Big work will be sunk at various places. In the city, the pumps will be operated by electricity and the water pumped into the irrigation ditches. The wells will be about 30 feet deep. It is expected that by the end of next week they will be all in operation.

Mr. R. D. Anderson entertained at a five table of bridge Wednesday evening, honoring Miss Helen Hunter. Miss Hunter will leave soon for her home in Moscow. Miss Georgetown Miller has been appointed to take over the home-making work of the high school which Miss Hunter formerly taught. After the play a humdrum shower was given Miss Hunter. High society was made by Mrs. William Anderson. Miss Dora Williams received the consolation prize. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening by the hostess assisted by her daughters, Dorothy and Hazel Dean.

BEAN UNIT HERE NAMED AS BUYER

South Idaho Growers' Group Selected by National Organization

Designation of the Southern Idaho Bean Growers' association as the bean division of the National National Grain organization, is announced by officers of the local group, and by Paul V. Kelly, vice-president, and S. A. Logan, 101 Lake City, of the national organization.

At a meeting held over the weekend, the arrangements to have the local group act as buying agent were reached. S. A. Logan will continue as manager of the local association, and Kelly will be received at the national headquarters on both the north and north sides. It is stated:

Most Seed Growers While here Kelly and Logan met also with the officers of the Southern Idaho Seed Growers' association, of which George L. Johnson, Piler, is president. This association is affiliated with the National Seed Growers' association and will continue the same seed-buying season, being in the market for small seeds, officers state.

Kelly and Logan left here today, after attending sessions of the hearing of a proposed marketing agreement for the Great Northern bean industry.

Donard Grower Kelly said there was a shortage of land in the Colorado and New Mexico districts, which was increasing the demand for seed, and that present prospects indicated an average yield in Michigan, although this could not definitely be stated now. Prices would be dependent upon the yields in Michigan and Idaho, he added.

Regarding alfalfa and clover seed, he indicated there was no overproduction, and that prices prospects were good, that because harvest in the west were a month early and in the middle west and east a month late, there was little upon which to base definite predictions.

At The Theaters BELOVED STAR

Four-Star Picture Is Next at Roy

Four-star picture which is coming to Joe-K's Ropy theater tomorrow as this week's feature picture is set in a crowded section of England, Hungary. Dealing with ideas with the trial and ambitions of characters who are far from being wealthy, it provides Director Frank Borzage with the typical heart-breaking material in which his reputation has been built.

The story is built around the realistic rivalry between two youthful organizations for the possession of an empty city lot. As the rivalry grows into physical conflict, the lot assumes to them the importance of a nation. Their selfishness and labors to seize or defend it become patriotism of a high order.

Gooding

The Gooding public schools will open for the 1934-35 school year on Sept. 10, according to Superintendent Thomas.

The Gooding Board committee this week donated $10 to the Gooding fund to be used to buy new made for the roads, Aug. 30, 31 and Sept. 1. Director W. S. Berry, came plans on buying 20 new machines.

WORTH CLARK

(An unsolicited front page editorial in the Boise Capital News, Aug. 2, 1934)

By THE EDITOR

IN a little less than two weeks the people of the second congressional district of Idaho will be electing a new congressman. For emphasis, let us repeat the phrase, "electing a new congressman."

Unless all signs fail the Democratic nomination will be the equivalent to election, in spite of the fact that this is a by-election, or what used to be known as "an off year."

D. WORTH CLARK

The signs mentioned above include the most recent indication provided by the Literary Digest poll which shows through all of Idaho a 2.6 per cent gain in pro-Roosevelt sentiment since the Rooseveltian and Democratic landslide in 1932.

It is entirely inconceivable that the voters of the second district would send back to Washington to take the place of the late Congressman Tom Coffin a man of opposing political faith, pledged to the obstruction and destruction of the Roosevelt plan.

It is wholly unthinkable that the voters of the second district, which includes Boise, would, after ordering a drastic change in national policies and methods—as they did two years ago—put on the brakes and shove that progressive change into reverse gear now when it is only getting nicely started.

ALL logical reasoning on the subject points to the same conclusion—that the Democratic nominee for congress in the second district will be the new congressman.

It becomes then, a most important duty of the voters of the second district, to select carefully and wisely that Democratic nominee.

The Capital News, declaring again its non-partisanship, believes sincerely that D. Worth Clark is not only the best qualified candidate in the broad field of candidates for that nomination, but also believes that he is ideally qualified to render the service that Idaho will expect and demand of its new congressman.

WORTH CLARK is a native-born Idahoan. He will be exactly 33 years of age when the next congress convenes. But he has a wise head on those comparatively young shoulders.

He is brisk, vigorous, keen-minded, aggressive, alert, exceptionally capable and possessed of a personality that is rare indeed.

He has practiced law for nine years—seven years as partner of the late Joseph H. Peterson in Postville, and two years as a member of the attorney general's staff in Boise. His original Idaho home was Idaho Falls.

Worth Clark knows by close association the problems of the farm areas which his district comprises. He is trained keenly to grapple with those problems and present them in that crowded and active forum that is his goal.

He has demonstrated his abilities as a militant pleader and representative of the people before the supreme court of the state of Idaho and the various other courts of his district.

His pleasant address is the natural complement to the verbal dynamite he can set off when the occasion demands.

WORTH CLARK would be very distinctly felt in the lower house of the national congress. He is NOT the candidate of any special group or clique.

He is just naturally a people's representative. His interests are as broad as his abilities. Neither is he, in the narrow sense, the candidate of this newspaper. No pledge has been taken nor pledge asked. There are no strings of any variety on this candidate. He has paid his own campaign expenses entirely so that there never could be misunderstanding on that score. He has refused offers of financial aid to his campaign.

Geographically, as in other ways, Worth Clark is ideally fitted for the post he seeks. The city of Boise right now has BOTH the United States senators as citizens. It is eminently fair and fitting that the congressman for the district which includes Boise should come from the other end of the district.

His own brief declaration made at the time he announced his candidacy, approaches the classic. He said: "My platform is simple. I shall support Roosevelt in his recovery program, but I shall always vote as the interests of Idaho demand." And that, ladies and gentlemen of the second district, is plenty good enough for us! Worth Clark means what he says.
