U. S. MOVES TO PRESS NATIONAL HOUSING EFFORT

Government Speeds Campaign Expected to Re-employ 5,000,000 Men

REPAIR LOANS OFFERED

Drive Intended to Stimulate Laggard Construction Industry

BY DUANE WILSON
WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (UPI)—The government, with a $1,200,000,000 stake in America's homes, set out virtually to double its investment today in a billion-dollar "fix it" drive.

Today any home owner in the land could walk into his neighborhood bank and ask for $500 to repair the leaking roof. Because of the billion dollar campaign, he stood a good chance of getting the money.

Loans Guaranteed

If the owner is a reasonably good credit risk, the bank will loan the money at 5 per cent or less. Back of the home owner stands the government guaranteeing the loan up to 20 per cent. And if the bank after making the loan needs cash it may discount the home owner's note with the government at face value at the same interest rate.

Housing Administrator James A. Maffett hopes that home owners will call on the banks for a billion dollars or more. The goal of the campaign is re-employment of 5,000,000 men and new life for the construction industry, giant laggard of the recovery drive.

Widespread Need

Need for the modernization and repairs is thoroughly known. Government surveys have shown a startling backlog of homes in bad condition. Every sort of repair is needed. The staff of the national emergency council has been enlisted to speed up the drive. Regional directors and field workers will acquaint home owners and banks of the details of the plan.

The housing campaign starts with the announcement after the House passage of the Home Owners Loan Corporation, which was originated

Company Makes No Move to Reopen Six Factories Closed by Strike

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (UPI)—Efforts of 8,000 strikers to force 24-hour-a-day concessions from the Mellon dominated Aluminum Company of America approached stalemate today.

The company gave no indication even desired to re-open the six plants closed when the workers went on strike Friday midnight. A payroll of more than $200,000 a week was eliminated from the nation's potential purchasing power when the workers took their jobs.

ESCAPED KILLER SEIZED ON "TIP"

Joe Palmer, Fleeing Death Cell Desperado, Taken After Phone Call

PADUCAH, Ky., Aug. 13 (UPI)—A telephone call from a detective story fan led to identification of Joe Palmer, who escaped from the death cell of the Texas state penitentiary. Palmer was seized by Chief of Police Bryan's detectives.

The chief was told to look on a certain page of a detective story magazine. There was a likeness of Palmer, giving his history.

Palmer was found asleep under a tree by detectives. He had no clothes in his pockets. At first he was believed to be Alvin Karpis, wanted in Minnesota on kidnapping charges.

Prints Matched

Palmer's finger prints had been bruised by rubbing on concrete and identification was difficult. Finger prints were sent back from the Kentucky state penitentiary at Eddyville. Positive identification followed.

Palmer later boasted "I've killed six men and been sentenced to burn." That's why I'm not, but you'll always get out with a smile.

Palmer was arrested near a railroad track in the southern part of the state. Detectives Dally and Sheehan grabbed a disassembled automatic pistol in easy reach of the sleepy giant hand.

"The Lord has had me around those two cops," Palmer muttered. "If I hadn't been dead tired, for sleep, you'd have to bury them."

Fires May Produce Forest Fire

MISSOURI, Aug. 13 (UPI)—As an omnibus smoke bill spread over a hundred miles of northwestern state, forestry officials today contemplated a fire ban in northern forests.

Two big fires were burning through red timber land in the Galaxy and Clearwater National forests of northwestern Idaho.

More than 2,000 men were being used in fire control efforts. One fire, in the Kootenai Idaho National Forest, had increased and was still burning.

NEW GOLD STRIKE

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 13 (UPI)—Indian prospectors have made a sensational gold find in the northern part of the province, the government indicated today.

Present Dollar Values Are "Dishonest," Oklahoma Senator Ohlman

CHICAGO, Aug. 13 (UPI)—The campaign for further orderly currency expansion was brought before farm organizations at the World's Fair today in an aggressive speech by Sen. Elmer Thomas, D., Okla.

Thomas, declaring that nationalization of silver was not enough, demanded an increase in the price of gold so that the American dollar would have a smaller purchasing power.

Warns Creditors

He warned creditor classes that they would lose their bond and mortgage claims wiped out unless the world's monetary system which he said would make their claims collectable.

The speech, delivered at farm organizations' day at the opening of farm week at the fair, was the culmin of Thomas' efforts to convince financial leaders that a changed monetary policy with a cautious inflationary trend is necessary.

It urged that there be no attempt to discourage business and industry from making profits.

Upholds Profits

"Profits are the foundation of both our form of government and the capitalist system," he said. "Every long and severe depression has threatened the capitalist system."

The company gave no indication even desired to re-open the six plants closed when the workers went on strike Friday midnight. A payroll of more than $200,000 a week was eliminated from the nation's potential purchasing power when the workers took their jobs.

RESCUING CREW RELIEVES BYRD

Finds Chief Suffering From Stove Fumer After Lonely Stay in Cabin

LITTLE AMERICA, Antioch, Aug. 11 (UPI)—(Delayed)—(Via Mackay Radio to United Press)—Unshaven, hair uncut, physically weak, Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd was relieved today from his four and one-half months of self-imposed isolation in a hut 123 miles out on the Ross Ice barrier, the training party of three men headed by Dr. George O. Pequett, reached Byrd after a dangerous journey through the Antarctic winter darkness.

The company apparently believed it would "starve" the workers into dropping their demands for a closed shop, however when fed for hours and return to work. Officials said the union demands were opposed to the "spirit and letter of the NRA."

The Aluminum Council of America, the striking union, is said to have enough in its treasury to finance a six month strike. As the strike was officially approved by the American Federation of Labor it presumably would provide additional war funds.

Idaho and Washington Men Drown After Squall Hits Payette

The body of Spratlerbach was found "flat" in about 80 feet of water. Officers said the two men had apparently gone down to retrieve while attempting to swim to safety.

Spratlerbach's body will be taken to Everett, Wash., for autopsy.

THUNDERSTORM HALTS HEAT WAVE THROUGH NATION

New Rainfall Offers Relief To Parched Areas Sends Mercury Down

CHICAGO, Aug. 13 (UPI)—One of the most severe heat waves of the hottest year in weather history ended last night when thunderstorms over the states dropped temperatures from record high. Wednesday's record heat had been broken by the arrival of the cold front which had robed the country of its reserve food supply might be in sight.

Even where rain did not fall, clouds generally shielded the earth from the sun which for more than a month had pushed temperatures to record high. Wednesday's record heat had been broken by the arrival of the cold front which had robed the country of its reserve food supply might be in sight.

Government weather forecasters, cautiously qualifying their words but nevertheless optimistic, predicted more showers and "abnormal" temperatures today and tomorrow over much of the parched middle west.

Wide Rains

Rain fell today and last night in New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Tennessee, Ohio, lower Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky, southern Illinois, northern Missouri, southern Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, eastern Colorado and some islands.

Crop conditions reporting to Chicago Board of Trade from the western grain states and the southeastern cotton regions almost unanimous said that light rains could do nothing to redress the losses of ruined corn, oats, and cotton yields.

Farmers were calling now only for the fall rains to condition their fields for planting of winter grains.

STATE CONVENTION HERE PLANS Selection of Complete Idaho Ticket

In addition to the biennial primary election here tomorrow there will also be a political convention, the Socialists in Idaho having named Twin Falls as the meeting place for a session at which it is expected a complete state ticket will be named.

The law provides that candidates may be nominated either by ballot or a convention of 200 or more persons.

The convention will be held at the J. O. F. hall and will be opened at 1 p.m. Hoy Burl, Chicago, national organizer for the Socialist party and prominent speaker of the middle west, will be among the principal speakers.

Henry Dwarshus, Burley, will be called upon to speak on the importance of the Socialist party.

Voting will be carried on in the usual places in all precincts. In Twin Falls, the places are as follows: No. 1, Lind's garage; No. 2, courthouse; No. 3, Jonchi's garage; No. 4, Firestone garage; stores; No. 5, Blackie school; No. 6, Lincoln school; No. 7, Washington school.

Governor Fireworks

There are three candidates for each of the party nominations for governor, with the Democratic race providing most of the fireworks.

Poulter, after a brief examination, reported that though Byrd was weak there were no signs of incisive action which develops in him.

The battle between Martin and Ross, seeking a third term, and former attorney general Frank Martin, life-long Democrat and former U.S. senator, was fought in October when a top of $5.80 was paid. The top price recorded last year was in October when a top of $5.65 was paid.

The law provides that candidates may be nominated either by ballot or a convention of 200 or more persons.

Wheat, vegetables and fruits are expected to bring a good deal more. Destruction of these crops has been widespread. This can be expected to show up in rising prices of canned goods.

BRIGHT FACTOR.

The only bright side of the picture was that those farmers who do have crops will make a good profit. Despite everything, grain farmers are expected to earn $300,000,000 more this year than last.

The AAA is planning for next year's crop with care. Wallace is warning for fear the production may swing too far back with the result that the surplus condition of the past few years will again be threatened.

The farm credit administration announced that $2,000 feed and storage loans—totalling $4,400,000 had been extended to farmers and stockmen in emergency drought areas. Demand for loans is now at the peak. Disbursements are running about $1,000,000 a week. Preliminary drought areas now include 1,087 counties, including all of the Dakotas, Kansas, Oklahoma, Utah and Nevada.

URGES MORE INFLATION.

Thomas prepared his speech prior to President Roosevelt's action of last week in nationalizing the radio, oil and steel industries.

"We cannot retain our present deflationary dollar without precipitating social overturn or nationwide inflation," he said.

"Only retention of the currency price and property values can save the nation—government and our taxpayers from tremendous losses in the Federal Land bank and the Home Loan corporation.

ADVOCATE CREDITOR ALI-

"What will happen to the creditor, mortgage holder and girlfriend, we do not know," the chairman said, "but support measures that will restore the values which alone can make their claim collectable?"

"Every charge by the creditor interests that we were seeing unlimited inflation is an unfounded libel."

"I am appealing for a return to the Coolidge-valued dollar of 1926, not the cheaper dollar of 1920."

"I am much interested in the creditor as in the debtor class. Therefore, the debtor has been in great need of a friend at court. Now it is the seventh hour for the creditor class. They need all the support that can be brought to bear to maintain the validity of contracts and collectability of legitimate debt claims."

"Equity as well as self-interest demands that the creditor class shall help restore the dollar to honest value."

DETROIT TIGERS HEAD FOR CRUCIAL SERIES AGAINST YANKS

VICTORY STREAK INCREASES LEAD

Cochrane's Bengals Seize Four And Half Game Edge; Cubs Take Two Wins

BY THEODOR WILHELM

NEW YORK. Aug. 13 (UPI)—Mr. Mickey Cochrane of Detroit will ride his big pennant-hunting Bengal cats eight into Yankee stadium tomorrow to find out whether Col. Jake Ruppert's rishmen can take it.

Unless the Yankees sharpshooters can snipe off the Tigers at least three out of four times, the American League bunting will, in all probability, be draped off a yardarm at Navin field.

WIDE MARGIN

Members at Canyon Crest, host club for the Evening Times tournament, will be met 100 per cent, according to Paul Olson, general manager.

The Yanks are now four and a half games behind. The Tigers, riding the tall of a twelve-game streak, are setting a pace that no team—not even the surprising Detroiters—can keep for long. But with less than three weeks remaining, the Yankees will not only have to catch off Detroit but build one for themselves if they expect to be within hailing distance in September.

The Detroit streak has been hard to match, but the Yanks, far from meeting the challenge, have a jumped below championship stride, dropping five games and winning seven since the end of July, when they came roaring home at the top of the league. Their only chance at present appears to be in checking the Tiger raids in the four game series this week.

TIGERS NIP INDIANS

Yesterday, with Cochrane hitting two two-doublers, Detroit swept its series with Cleveland, again coming from behind to win, 6-5. Marvin Owen was most of the work, with a single and a homer. In addition he scored the winning run and started a triple play in the seventh which pulled Luie Hamlin out of a hole.

Big Game

Emshaw gave the Chicago White Sox their only game of the St. Louis series, winning the nightcap 3-2 after the Browns had won the opener, 4-2. Earmshaw hit a double to help his cause.

Philadelphia and Washington were washed out by rain in the eighth inning of the first game or a double header, with the score tied, 1-1. Club Root Beans

Chicago's Cub got long-awaited revenge of the Dons brothers of St. Louis, winning both ends of a twin bill and running Paul and Dizzy off the field. Babe Herman, with two homers, led the assault in brother Paul's in the opener in the Cub's chased the younger Dean in the "Twin" with a three-run sputter. The Cubs won, 7-2. They took the nightcap, 6-4, at the expense of Jerome, boosting him off theumpire in the eighth.

Pittsburgh

won a Jossie affair with Cincinnati, 6-0, aided by three Reddy gossees. Paul Waner biffed three singles and a triple in five trips, stole a base and scored twice.

Evening Times South Idaho
Handicap Tournament,
Sept. 2-3

RUPERT COMING

The Rupert country club secretary indicates that at least 50 per cent of his club's members will uphold the honor of Rupert, Idaho, in the search for prizes at the upcoming Times Southern Idaho handicap tournament Sept. 2 and 3.

And incidentally, the brand of golf being displayed at Rupert this year is getting closer every day . . . so the boys expect to grab off some of the awards on that long prize list.

CREST EN MASSE

Members at Canyon Crest, host club for the Evening Times tournament, will be met 100 per cent, according to Paul Olson, general manager.

The Yanks are now four and a half games behind. The Tigers, riding the tall of a twelve-game streak, are setting a pace that no team—not even the surprising Detroiters—can keep for long. But with less than three weeks remaining, the Yankees will not only have to catch off Detroit but build one for themselves if they expect to be within hailing distance in September.

MELEMORE'S RULE

Some question has been raised as to the rules on balls out of the fairway.

Explains Dick Olson, who will have charge of the Evening Times tournament: "Loose impediments may be moved and anything else that is not living, such as fairway markers, loose grass and dead weeds that have been cut."

"Golfers are considered living—they cannot be touched. Large pieces of loose dirt may not be moved."

"Be very careful of this rule.

In medal play such as this, disqualification is the penalty for breaking this rule."

AUTHORITY PRIZES

Just to let you know . . . among the prizes will be:

Three True-Whip woods made by MacGregor; five True-Whip irons; one solid oak leather golf bag; the Idaho River trout trophy cup; a number of attractive medium golf awards and much more.

The awards will be well worth winning—so send in your entry now.

And don't forget—you can specify whether or not you want to play off or part of your 54 tournament holes during the mid-week preceding Sept. 2 and 3. That's for your added convenience.

VOTE INTELLIGENTLY.

The various candidates have made a vigorous campaign for nomination in the primary election tomorrow. It now behoves the voters of each party to show the same kind of interest by going to the polls and carefully selecting their candidates for the November election.

There was a time when it was urged upon the electorate just to vote. But more important than that is for everyone to vote intelligently. Each political party should strive to put in the field the best candidates possible, for during the next two years this county, state and nation will need officials of the highest ability to administer affairs.

Voters in the Democratic primary have a particular duty to perform, for with the likelihood of that party continuing as the major party, it is to be expected that Democratic nominees will be elected in November. If this be true, then the Democratic primary will be choosing county, state and congressional officials for the years 1935 and 1936.

These are some of the reasons why it is just as important to vote in the primary as in the general election. Convenient hours have been set, the polls remaining open until 8 p.m., although they do not open until noon. Very few persons should resort to the excuse of being too busy to get to the polls sometime between 12 and 8 p.m. Even if it necessary to sacrifice something, voters should not be "too busy" to help choose their officials for two and in some instances four-year periods.

It is the duty of men and women, young and old, to vote and to vote intelligently tomorrow.

Shape of most fall hats, says a Paris style note, will be epical. And most likely conical.

TRAGIC

Tragic testimony regarding the drouth situation in the middlewest is seen in the government's compiled statistics on corn, wheat and oil crop losses.

In Iowa, for instance, where the average corn production for the years 1927 to 1931 inclusive was 413,751,000 bushels, the prediction for July 1 was 324,000,000 bushels, and for August 1, only 261,000,000 bushels. South Dakota's production shrunk from an average for the same years of 95,748,000 bushels, to 18,870,000 bushels, and Kansas' from 137,700,000 to 15,788,000. Many other states show a similar reduction, one of the heaviest losses being suffered in Nebraska where the yield has averaged 230,000,000 bushels, and now has prospects of producing 51,318,000 bushels.

And it must not be forgotten that in many of those states, corn is the principal crop. Certainly the situation takes on many of the attributes of a national calamity.

Gandhi has started another fast. How popular that man would be with a thrifty boarding house keeper!

SANITY SAVES YOUTHS

Federal relief agencies seem to have made genuine progress in the direction of cleaning up one of the depression's worst legacies—the presence on the highways of hundreds of thousands of homeless young tramps.

Last year, according to estimates, fully half a million youngsters were on the bum—discouraged and sullen boys and girls, always hungry and hopeless, a prolific breeding ground for vice, disease, and crime.

Today there are 200 camps and 350 city shelters in operation to reclaim these young people. Fully $20,000,000 has been spent on this job. More than 200,000 roving transients are being cared for, given work, and helped back toward hope and self-respect.

The youthful tramp is still a problem, of course. But a sane solution of the problem is a good deal nearer than it was a year ago.

PROMISING FIGURES

Although the customary "summer slump" in employment seems to be visiting us this year, the employment picture as a whole is slowly but surely improving.

Witness the fact that in May and June more men left the Civilian Conservation Corps to accept private employment than during any previous two months since the corps was organized.

It is learned that 10,028 CCC men found jobs in private industry during May, and 10,286 followed suit in June.

All this, to be sure, is only a small drop in a big bucket. But the figures are valuable as straws in the wind. Slowly but surely, things are opening up for young men. May the present trend continue!

SOPHIE KERR'S SUPERB LOVE STORY "STAY OUT OF MY LIFE!"

By Sophie Kerr

BEGINS HERE TODAY
JANE MERRILL comes to New York determined to show her family that she can make a success of her life. She has had a hard time, though, with Mrs. Lowe, the nurse and Mrs. Pearce were all drinking, hot coffee and eating hot toast and chattering with unbridled gaiety. There was nothing for Jane to do, but sit down and have coffee and toast, too, but she would not have been temporarily dismasted but, Amy takes the baby, named NANCY entire. When she goes to the World War Hospital, she finds the camp corps and goes to a training camp to Texas. Her mother saw NANCY. Amy confides to MARY JACKSON that she is expecting a child. Howard comes home to a secret holiday and then returns to camp. Mary sees him again in the hospital and Howard's mother meets her for the first time.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXXVI
MARY JACKSON'S love was born believing. "But, Amy," she objected, "Howard never cared for me."

"I know that," Amy agreed. "And maybe I'm wrong about that. I don't seem to understand her very well now. She has changed a bit, but which always interesting."

"She's a wildcat," said Mary, "at a safe distance. But it's never a household pet."

Amy smiled and went off to write letter to Howard. She did not and after Mary's message. Indeed she forced it, before she took her pen in her hand. They were conducting an argument at the time about baptism. Howard, holding the child should be baptised if Howard were present. Otherwise not until Howard could be here. There was also a discussion between them as to whether Amy should have the doctor come in every day, just for a moment or reserving it a special occasion. Howard brought this necessary. Amy considered it unnecessary.

They wrote these things more for the need of sharing each other's secret thoughts and feelings and of making their future together seem safe and safe than from any idea of the value of their effects. It was still part of waiting, waiting for the child, for the wait-out, for the coming back to their normal existence.

In this suspense, in this anticipation in Amy there was the quality of eternity of immortality. She and Howard were part of the world's continuity, as had been her parents before them, as would be their children after them.

HE would not stir from the room. Now and then they talked a little and as her strength returned she began to ask questions. "How long can you stay?"

"A whole week, love."

"Oh, wonderful! How did you manage it?"

"I said I had to have it. He didn't."

She was looking at his uniform. "Howard—what's that? The insignia's changed. You're not—you are—a captain?"

"Darling, that's me, the Captain Jackson! Is that pretty swell?"

"But they haven't ordered you overseas?"

"No—they don't care who wins this war!"

"But there's something—have they ordered you to Long Island?"

It was no lie, though, though she would gladly have done it. "Yes, darling, I'm going to go on from here. I've got no place to go back to."

She clutched him, tried to get up but then sat down. "Howard, do you think—?"

"I don't know, I can't tell. It's a secret," she said. "I telegraphed to Washington. I told them I'd stay there until after the child was born, if it should ever happen. I've got no place to go back to."

At this time arrived Mary sent a telegram to Howard. "I'm sorry, but we'll have to release you to the hospital. You're not fit to travel."

Howard was released. "I'm sorry, but we'll have to release you to the hospital. You're not fit to travel."

"I'm going to keep him in the morning," said Amy. "No matter what you say."

County Committee Candidates

Broadside as Stemmer Denies Charges

Reverberations of last weekend's political developments here which saw Gov. Chapman, Twin Falls lawyer, and aspirant for the U. S. Senate nomination two years ago, denounce Gov. C. Ben Ross and his administration—including the authorship of two statements over the weekend—in answer to the charges.

One was a denial, on the part of J. H. Stemmer, state highway bureau director, that highway work on the Mountain Home road had been overpaid. He said that Dan J. Cavanagh received a contract calling for, among other things, 6,000 cubic yards of sand rock. As only 2,000 yards were moved, Stemmer said the contractor was remunerated from $60,000 to $62,000.

"Adopt Censure." Executive committee members of the Democratic county central committee adopted a resolution directed at Chapman and the context of his Thursday night speech.

The resolution, made public by Chapman, Director of the American Legion, in a broadsheet addressed to the United States on the staff of the Austrian-American Conservatory of Music there. Those interested in attending the music class are asked to communicate with Mrs. Duvall.

MUSIC TEACHER TO CONDUCT CLASS

Mrs. Florence Lamont, Illinois director of the Lamont Senior or Music, Denver, Colo., will conduct a master music class here Wednesday at the studios of Mrs. O. P. Duvall, announces Mrs. Duvall. She will be a house guest of Mrs. Dahl Nelson, mother of Mrs. Nellie Nelson, who is a former student of Mrs. Lamont and who accompanied Chapman to Austria recently. At that time, Mrs. Lamont was representing the United States on the staff of the Austrian-American Conservatory of Music there.

Those interested in attending the music class are asked to communicate with Mrs. Duvall.

CHAPMAN SCORES COMMITTEE STEP

Says Censure Passed Without Full Board Oked; Bucks
Ross' Charges

Answering a resolution made public by the executive committee of the Democratic county central committee, Orr Chapman today issued a statement in which he said: "The people of Idaho will not be misled in the attempts by this very small coterie into the belief that I am a candidate for the governorship, or any other offices, and my attempt to distract Democrats of this state from their mounted support of Frank Martin's candidacy, the splendid platform he stands upon."

The executive committee of the committee, as appears from its letterhead, is composed of seven members—Asher B. Wilson, Lee Leitcher, R. E. Morehouse, Harold L. Yeaman, E. A. Landen, L. J. Malone, C. M. Wiseman.

Four Not Present

"Four of these members informed me that they were not present at any meeting of the executive committee Saturday, and three of them did not have any knowledge of, and some of those concerned in the resolution purported to have been adopted by that committee."

"This leaves Wilson, Leitcher and Morehouse as the only members of the committee who could have been present. Mr. Wilson is an appointee of Governor Ross; likewise, Mr. Leitcher is an appointee of Governor Ross, and Mr. Morehouse is employed by the F.E.R.A."

"The Democratic county chairman, Dan Cavanagh, present, is an ex-officio member of this committee, having appointed it. He is also the one man who had the greatest influence. He is closely identified politically with Wilson. He has been awarded numerous road and bridge contracts from the present state administration, and is a member of the legislature under appointment of Governor Ross. These are the people who make decisions on behalf of Governor Ross of the charge contained in my speech, and who have attempted to read me out of the Democratic party for having mentioned this matter. It is significant that Governor Ross has not made any decision."

Ready to Appear

"This purported resolution criticizes me for not having filed charges. I have publicly charged irregularities in the highway department in the highway department, which Governor Ross has failed to investigate, and I stand ready to appear before any investigating tribunal or prosecuting attorney of Ada County, upon their request, with the proof I have respecting the charge that payment was made by the state with respect to some 1,300 yards of rock work not actually performed."

"I notice that the gentleman who purport to speak for the Democratic party of this county state that I was repudiated by the Democrats of Idaho two years ago by reason of my defeat for the Democratic senatorial nomination. In this connection it will be remembered that I carried Twin Falls county by a tremendous majority, notwithstanding the open and active opposition of the county chairman and Mr. Wilson. I have been a Democrat too long and have engaged in battle with too many political bosses, Democrat and Republican, to be at all alarmed by their efforts or proclamations."

Reichert Estate
Hearing Aug. 22

The application of Fred Reichert, filer, for appointment as administrator of the estate of his mother, Mrs. Rosa Reichert, will be heard by Probate Judge Guy L. Kinney Aug. 22, Rayborn and Rayborn are representing Reichert.

Mrs. Reichert died July 6. Her estate includes an 80-acre Twin Falls farm and town property which are valued at $11,500. Charles J. Reichert and Edward Reichert, both of filer; G. W. Reichert, Tucson, Ariz., and Roy C. Reichert, San Francisco, all sons, and two daughters, Mrs. Ethel Thorneau and Mrs. Clara Kohnopp, both of filer, are also heirs.

Seek Peaches

Anyone who has experiences he will share. Twin Falls workers to have for planting or anyone who has peaches he will have canned on a share basis in the N.R.A. canning kitchen is requested to call 449-W before Thursday, announces Mrs. M. J. Malone, who is in charge of the kitchen. Kitchen workers hope to secure enough peaches to can both Friday and Saturday, she says.

The Ultimate Question

In all this election business there is one thing which is likely to escape the attention of the voter, namely, just what the public will have on its hands after the votes are counted. So many "candidates" are soliciting for support, so many groups are trying to exert influence on their own members, and to bring personal, family or other pressure to bear on the voter, that the main issue is likely to be lost in the turmoil. After all is said and done, the real basis for the selection of candidates is personal ability to fill the job and deliver the goods.

The position of Prosecuting Attorney in this country cannot be run on propaganda or by proxy. The prosecutor is not a self, and not friends, relatives, nor do we find the best lawyers in the country and convince justice beyond a reasonable doubt before convictions of criminals can be had. Jurors acting under their solemn oath are inclined to show scant regard for friends, family or personal feelings—an attitude which all too frequently leaves an unfeeling prosecutor helpless and pathetic in the midst of stern realities. Upon such situations has been built up an ascendancy of crime which challenges the power of our government.

The prosecutor is the legal adviser of all county officers, who are called upon to administer the affairs of a $23,000,000 corporation, involving an expenditure of $200,000,000 annually.

After the campaign is over, after skilfully aroused political prejudice has subsided and real work and responsibility have to be met, what will then be the situation? This is the real question which you, Mr. Voter, should answer before casting your ballot.
