80,000 FANS SEE TIGERS WALLOP YANKS FOR DOUBLE VICTORY

DETROITERS WIN SERIES OPENERS

Ferocious Bengals Trim Mrazo McCarthy's Men to Boost League Margin

BY THEON WRIGHT NEW YORK, Aug. 15 (Special)—Mr. Gordon (Clyde Healy) Cochrane's ferocious Bengal Cubs are still at large in the Bronx today, a menace to life and limb, while Head Man J. Vincent (Bing) Tomlin (Alvin) McCarthy of the New York Yankees is wondering who poured water in his gunpowder.

Head Man McCarthy and his variety Yankee bunch went out yesterday to hang out with Mickey's big Tigers from Detroit. But something went wrong. Just as the head man and his gallant boys were drawing heads on their visors, the artillery blundered. Mr. McCarthy and his men were lucky to escape with their lives.

Two games of that previous five-game series were snuffed off by Detroit, leaving the Yankees all and a half games out of first place. The scores were 3-6 and 7-3. And were repeated before a crowd of more than 80,000 persons—the largest baseball throng this year—who had come to see the head man and his hands pin back the Tigers' whiskers.

In the second game they saw the mighty Lou Gehrig blast a screaming homer into the right-field stands to tie the score—only to watch three snappy Tigers strike back with four runs in the last two innings to win in a walk-away.

Three more games remain in the current series, but men with a sweep of the remaining games, which is not very likely—the most the Yanks can hope for is to pull out three and a half games behind. At this stage of the season, that is not very much to hope for.

In the other sections of the American league, Cleveland's Indians, twelve games behind the leading Tigers, shelled out the Washington Senators in the first round, scoring four runs on five hits; to win 5-1 behind Mel Harder's four-hit pitching.

Philadelphia and Chicago were rained out. St. Louis gained a full game on the Giants and Cubs in the National league as "Dazzy" Vance held the Phillies scoreless for six heats and won, 5-1.

Carl Hubbell led a heartbreaker for the Giants as Pittsburgh beat them, 3-2. Only one hit was obtained off Carl's delivery in the first seven innings.

Fanny Frey shut out the Brooklyn Dodgers as Cincinnati won, 5-0. The Red Legs got eleven hits off Ray Benge.

Boston battered four Chicago bowlers—Guy Bush, Ray Mohr, Red Flippo and Ed Root—for 23 hits and won, 15-2.

FLETCHER EDGES M'ELWAIN, 11-9

Ollivs Taked Undisputed Lead By Upsetting Shoe Outfit In Times Loop

Evening Times League Second Round

Table with 4 columns: Name, W, L, Pct. Fletcher 11, 9, .556; M'Elwain 10, 10, .500.

Fletcher Oil had climbed into leadership in the Idaho Evening Times soft ball league today after knocking out McElwain's last night, 11 to 9, to hand the "Miss" their initial loss of the second round.

The Ollivs now led undisturbed, with four teams deadlocked behind them for second position.

Fletcher hung up victory last night by way of an eight-run outburst in the seventh inning. They were blanked thereafter except in the fifth, when a pair of hits and a brace of McElwain errors allowed three more to cross the plate.

The Ollivs, after leaving men stranded on the paths in several frames, started out on what looked like a hopeless chase in the sixth and seventh innings, when Fletcher misplays to score four times, and then repeated the deed in a hectic final canto to score five runs and place the tying tally on him before the spurs ended.

Feminine Aces in U. S. Title Tourney Mark Time Today; Nuthall Upset

By STUART CAMERON United Press Sports Editor FOREST HILLS, L. I., Aug. 15 (AP)—Unless there are further surprises, the national women's tennis championship will proceed peacefully through today's matches to the quarter finals.

"Scarcely a ripple is in view in the eight singles matches staged. Season-weathered players actually will mark time until the big battles begin tomorrow.

Betty Nuthall defeated Betty Nuthall, beefy British girl who held the title in 1930, was eliminated by the Baroness Maud Levy of Minden, Nev., yesterday in a most surprising reversal.

Miss Nuthall won the ranking ladder, heading the foreign and raised No. 2 in general standings, while the baroness was not seeded, although she is No. 7 in American ratings.

Standout Match The standout among today's matches is that between Katherine Winthrop of Boston and Kay Stanger of Berkeley. They are lead the domestic and foreign fields in pulchritude, if not in prowess, and the battle is expected to attract much attention.

Helen Jacobs of Berkeley, Calif., defending champion, was expected to have little trouble against Mrs. Mary Gertrud Harris of Kansas City, a former "first ten" player.

A third match which should draw attention is slated between the Baroness Levy and Beulah Miller, tiny Los Angeles slugger.

Fenwick Obstacle Carolyn Babcock, one of the formidable obstacles to Miss Jacobs' title aspirations, plays Mrs. Penelope Anderson McBride of Short Hills, N. J. Miss Babcock, a Californian, is seeded third in the playoffs.

GOSHEN AWAITING HARNESS CLASSIC

Sleepy New York Town Goes Wide Awake for Famed Hambletonian

By HENRY MOLEMORE GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 15 (AP)—Well, well, well, well, well! Look who we are again: Goshen. They are going to have the buggywhip sweepstakes again.

The Hambletonian, which is scheduled for running late this afternoon, is considered to be the ultra-ultra in the harness racing, but the sight of Goshen, a little old town with barely more than a main street, is upmost in the mind of most people who are here.

Eight horses are expected to go today in the richest of harness races, with a total purse of $30,000 to the winner. The favorite will probably be C. W. Phellis' Emily Stokes, a bay filly by Spencer out of Minneapolis, whose sire won the 1928 Hambletonian, worth more than $15,000.

Driven by Stokes' Fred Egan, who drove Brown Herry into a $20,000 stumblie a few yards from the finish last year, has trained Emily Stokes, but the filly will probably be driven by Harry Stokes today.

The other entries are Muncie-ton, Ella Howard-Princess Egan, Fred Jim, Reynolds, Harba C. Hanover, Virginia Calumet Eric and Pastime. Princess Peg, a bay filly owned by the Lyle brothers of Plainfield, N. J., has also been trained by Egan.

The railbirds are shy about Muncie-ton, one of the year's best campaigners, who was expected to be one of the big favorites.

Doc Parrish trained this horse, owned by J. B. Stiffner of Lexington, Ky. Parrish will drive him, and some of his other birds think Muncie-ton has very good chance to win high-reined home.

AFTER EFFECTS

The test of a good sport, politically, is the person who, defeated yesterday, comes up smiling today, ready to support the successful nominees of his party.

Since not everyone who runs for office can be nominated, the choice of the voters must be accepted without recourse. It is true that many times the best man is defeated for office, election results not being invariably just, though representing the honest and sincere views of the electorate.

It is difficult to judge at this stage whether the persons nominated are the lucky ones or the unlucky ones. Those defeated can take solace in the fact that they will not have to go to the effort and expense of running in the general election and face the prospects of defeat. Those who won at the polls yesterday have grave responsibilities ahead of them, for the success of candidates involves more than a personal victory, or personal glory, for back of practically every aspirant are large numbers of friends, well-wishers, workers, and a constituency which looks forward to seeing the individual serve in public office.

These elections, primary and otherwise, are among the most interesting of our public events. This year, especially, there is an uncommon interest in the results, which is a tribute to the intelligence of the people.

More than anything else, perhaps, the present administration in Washington is responsible for this situation, for never has the government seemed so close to the common man, so sensitive to his needs, and so alert to serving the masses.

Candidates for nomination, even though they have been defeated have performed a public service, and have had the privilege of running for office, a right vouchsafed every American citizen. That is why they should be proud of the contribution made to the continuation of good government in this country.

San spots will increase static during the next ten years, says a radio engineer. But that will make little difference with most of the programs on the air.

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING

Those revelations before the congressional investigating committee at Los Angeles have a horrendous sound. First we hear of a "silver shirt" outfit which tries to buy government weapons, drills regularly, and meditates the seizure of power; then we are told of an active Communist group which is subsidized by film stars, of all people, and which used the San Francisco general strike as a mere rehearsal of the dire things it plans to inflict on the national a little later.

And yet, it is hard to escape the feeling that a lot of good people are getting more disturbed by these disclosures than they really need be.

This pseudo-Nazi group seems, clearly, to be the kind of movement which can be left to the good sense of the average citizen. And the Reds? Well, according to testimony before the committee, they number about 2000 in Los Angeles—something under one-half of one per cent of the population.

And if you remember prohibition days, you'll recall that there's no kick at all in a solution that weak.

Speaking of giving America back to the Indians, maybe we could give Louisiana back to the French, if they'd agree to take Huey Long with it.

FASCIST IDEA OF PEACE

The mind of a devotee of dictatorship must work in an odd way.

Sir Oswald Mostley, the Englishman who admires Mussolini so passionately that he wants to set up a black-shirt regime in England, found himself moved the other day to praise Fascism as a force making for peace. Discussing the recent turmoil in Germany and Austria, he asserted:

"Fascism is the only thing which prevented Europe from being plunged into a war like the one of 20 years ago."

This, to be sure, is supposed of looking at it. Most of us, however, had supposed that it was just the other way around—that the danger of war in the last fortnight has been largely due to the high-handed and brutal things which the philosophy of Fascism makes men do.

It will take better evidence than anything the trans-Atlantic cables have carried in the last month to persuade us that Fascism is a potent force for peace.

Dr. J. A. Anderson, of Mt. Wilson Observatory, says there's no such thing as completely empty space. Where you think it's so, there must be a nut rattling about in it.

SOPHIE KERR'S SUPERB LOVE STORY "STAY OUT OF MY LIFE!"

By Sophie Kerr

MEANS HERE TODAY
JANE TERRY, wealthy New York divorcee, left her home in New York City, New York, and flew to Twin Falls, Idaho, to see her son, Howard, who is a member of the local police force. She is accompanied by her daughter, Jane, who is a student at the local high school. The story is a love story between Howard and a girl named Jane, who is the daughter of a wealthy man. Howard is a young man who is in love with Jane, but she is engaged to another man. Howard is determined to win her back, and he does so by convincing her that he is the one who truly loves her.

CHAPTER XXXVIII
Howard looked at Jane, standing far above her, tall and sharp like a long lightning bolt. Involuntarily she stepped back, but his eyes were on her. Then Amy's voice, sharp and keen like a sword's edge, pierced the air. "If I could tell you, Jane Terry," said this voice, "I believe I would. To tell a lie that, when he is sick and can't defend himself, to say you love him, I've always thought proud you did love him, but you don't. If you loved him, if you loved him one least bit, you wouldn't try to make him out a show, and—unfaithful—and—how do you mean to do that?"

"The Colonel and Professor Lowe looked up behind her. 'What's this?' asked the Colonel. 'What's the matter?' good morning, Miss Terry." And Professor Lowe said, "Why, how do you do, Jane?" But Jane had picked up the bag and vanished from the room. "Why—how odd!" said Professor Lowe, mildly. "She didn't even speak."

"She's a very odd person, this Miss Terry," said the Colonel. "Sit down, Mrs. Jackson. We must see one of the nurses." "What's there any way?" asked Amy, paying no attention to the Colonel's suggestion, "that we can get Howard out of here? Is he too sick to be moved? He mustn't any here. He mustn't!"

The Colonel was struck with dismay. "What's your wife's name?" he asked. "This morning her name is Jane Terry," said the Colonel. "What's the matter?" good morning, Miss Terry." And Professor Lowe said, "Why, how do you do, Jane?" But Jane had picked up the bag and vanished from the room. "Why—how odd!" said Professor Lowe, mildly. "She didn't even speak."

"What's there any way?" asked Amy, paying no attention to the Colonel's suggestion, "that we can get Howard out of here? Is he too sick to be moved? He mustn't any here. He mustn't!"

the bedroom, holding fast to Howard, that he might not give up, slip away from her forever. "Maybe I was all wrong about the husband and Terry," thought the doctor, but he had one more question. "But Terry said that she was a relation of yours—or was it of your husband?"

"A GAIN Amy replied mechanically: "Yes. They're distant cousins—connections, at least." Her voice changed to intense and anxious pleading. "When will you know—about Howard? Are you sure about his condition? Could we have more doctors, a consultation? Would it help?"

"By this time they were back with the Colonel and Professor Lowe, who heard what Amy had said. Professor Lowe came forward. "You must forgive my daughter's bluntness. She is in great distress."

"I'll give you the names of the best men in the city and arrange a consultation with any of them you choose, immediately. I appreciate Mrs. Jackson's feeling."

"If we could only get him away from here," cried Amy, "and stay here—and I must. I won't leave him!" "My dear child," said her father, "Jane wouldn't want you to go. If I wonder—where is Jane?"

"Suppose," said Professor Lowe, "I'll see Jane. I'll arrange things. I'll arrange everything. We'll get out at that consultation, doctor. Choose your own specialists. You know your field."

The doctor went to the telephone. Professor Lowe disappeared toward the kitchen, investigating and away from the servants and the rest of the strange big room alone. She was in that state of weariness and exhaustion where rest is impossible and the nerves whip the mind into a ferment of activity for which there is no pause. She thought of everything, all the things that she had been thinking of since she had been told that she must stay here.

U. S. FLIERS OUT OF LONDON RACE

Exorbitant Expense Produces Withdrawal of Part of Yankee Airman

NEW YORK, Aug. 15 (AP)—Prospects that American fliers will be on the starting line of the 12,000 mile London-Melbourne air race Oct. 29 dwindled today as entry after entry was reported to have been upped for completion.

Withdrawal of most of the eight American entrants was chiefly due to high expense, which in this spectacular event was reported to be almost prohibitive for American pilots.

Ulysses S. Grant, one of the foremost woman pilots of America, told the United Press she had no intention of being in London for the taking.

The National Aeronautical Association said that it had not been advised of any withdrawals, but aviation circles believed few if any Americans would compete.

HISTORY Of Twin Falls City & County

As Gleaned From Files of the Times

15 Years Ago
For a real wheat story, this one from the Richard Haggis farm, 21 miles east and a mile south of Twin Falls, takes at least one of the prizes. Not all of them are Haggis' wheat, 70 bushels to the acre on a new-acre piece of ground that raised clover last year.

The grain crop averaged 11 bushels to the acre, falling to less than half the yield when the soil was fertilized by the clover, but nevertheless, setting a high mark when it is figured that 40 bushels to the acre is a good average yield.

R. W. Jones, Long Bench, Calif., one of the pioneers of Twin Falls, arrived here today expecting to find a new crop of wheat, but after a long stay here, he is now looking after business interests.

27 Years Ago
A runaway mink occurred Thursday evening when the black team belonging to the Northdale Investment company went down Shoshone avenue and turned into Main street, where it had a head-on collision with a dray team belonging to C. Carlson, which was standing in front of Hurdor's bakery.

The band has received a welcome addition for their ranks in G. D. Tyler, who will play the trumpet. Mr. and Mrs. Tyler moved to the city recently and Mr. Tyler has entered the employ of the famous Shosho.

PLAN TO IMMUNIZE DOGS
WHEELING, W. Va., (AP)—A plan for immunizing all dogs in West Virginia against rabies as a public health measure, was outlined by Dr. A. E. McChes, state health commissioner, at closing sessions of the state public health council. Dr. McChes opened the way for sterilization of the mentally unfit in state institutions by approving a state law, passed in 1926, but never used.

PAUL MALLON'S NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

ENCOURAGEMENT
WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (Special)—Leon Henderson received a letter of appreciation from his ex-colleagues in business when he said recently that market fall improvement was a good "gamble."

Mr. Henderson was suspected of something when passing graveyards. Also, the "wreck" of chuckles over the uncertainty implied in the use of that word "gamble."

As a check of the confidential estimates being made by the best business authorities indicates Mr. Henderson knew what he was talking about. The sources of these estimates cannot be disclosed, but they are not graveyards whistles for the New Deal.

They have confidential data showing the news of the government's spending plans. Solely on these figures, they judge that the full year (September and October) will be more than seasonal, possibly 7 per cent more.

TREASURY GIVES SILVER DETAILS

Lists Instructions Advising U. S. Holders on How to Deliver Metal

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (AP)—The treasury department today issued instructions for delivering metal...

under the nationalization of the banked last week.

The instructions:

"If the silver is in your possession, send it to the New York assay office at Old Slip and South Street, which is near the foot of Wall Street on the Hudson river."

"If the silver is in a bank or approved warehouse and you have the warehouse receipt, endorse the receipt to superintendent U. S. assay office at New York."

"If you have the receipt, you may either exchange the receipt for a warehouse receipt to the assay office."

"If the warehouse receipt is in the hands of your broker or bank, arrange for the broker or bank to deliver the receipt to the assay office enclosed in an envelope."

"If you deliver the silver itself, an advance payment up to 95 per cent will ordinarily be made at once and the balance will be paid after the exact value has been determined. If the warehouse receipt is turned over to the assay office, the advance payment up to 95 per cent will ordinarily be made within 24 hours."

"U. S. Pays Delivery

"The government will pay all proper delivery charges, and will pay storage from the time the assay office accepts delivery of warehouse receipts."

"Somewhat similar regulations will be issued within a few days for other assay offices. It was explained that the treasury expected most of the nationalized silver to be turned over to the New York assay office."

DRESSLER WILL GIVEN PROBATE

Friends Tell of Film Star's Signing Last Autograph For Them

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 15 (AP)—The will of the late Marie Dressler was admitted to probate yesterday in the presence of friends who gathered here at a house two months before she died.

Earl G. Johnstone, of Santa Barbara, told Superior Judge Charles E. Crall that the actress signed the document in the presence of himself and wife.

"Mrs. Johnstone and I asked Miss Dressler to autograph some photographs for us," he related. "She looked over her glasses and said, 'I won't be signing any more of these,' and then she signed ours. They were actually the last ones she ever autographed."

The will, naming an executor Alton H. Walker, at whose home Miss Dressler died, bequeathed $50,000 to her Negro servants, Mamie and Jerry Fox. Numerous other bequests were made to friends. Value of the estate is estimated at $300,000.

A sister, Mrs. Bonita Ganthony, 79, of Richmond, Surrey, England, will receive the residue after the deduction of specific bequests.

OAKLEY, Aug. 15 (Special)—Audin Stevenson, Moses S. Martin and Emerson Sears were struck and burned, and Lloyd Martin and Clarence Padfield were slightly burned when lightning struck a three-story machine shop which they had taken shelter at the Stevenson ranch, Bush. Mr. Stevenson was unconscious for half an hour and was in a more or less dazed condition the remainder of the evening. The barn was not considered serious enough to require medical attention. The storm was brief but terrific, Mill and Spring creeks overflowed their banks and water flowed along the roads.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes announced the government today...

Secretary of War George H. Dern announced plans whereby the Columbia river near Portland, Ore., will be increased in length and depth.

The new plan as recommended by the chief of army engineers will increase the length of the lock from 300 feet to 500 feet and increase the depth over the locks from 15 feet to 27 feet so that the lock may be usable when and if a 30-foot channel is provided in the Columbia river below the dam.

The increased cost is $1,200,000, but, according to the division engineer, represents an eventual saving of at least $2,000,000 if the work is done now rather than later.

Boy Scout Divers Find Lost Purse

HALEM, Ore. (AP)—Boy Scouts swimming in the waters of North Mill Creek discovered a woman's handbag.

Dividing a youth rescued the purse. Searching for the owner's address, he found a diamond ring valued at $100 tucked away. Whoever had stolen the purse from a woman's automobile had overlooked the ring, although they did discover $100 in cash. The purse was returned with the ring as a "dilly good turn" which all Scouts attempt to achieve.
