MEDIATORS CALL PARLEY TO HALT BUTTE WALKOUT

Nation's Oldest Strike Moves Nearer End at Original Meeting Today

COMPROMISE IS SOUGHT Copper Company Gives Crafts Unions Settlement With Pay Increase

BUTTE, Mont., Aug. 16 (UP)—With a crucial conference slated this afternoon, Butte's three-month-old copper mining strike seemed speeding toward settlement today.

The nation's oldest major labor dispute, now in its 100th day, may be settled on the basis of mediation scheduled today.

If an agreement is reached, between 4,000 and 5,000 copper miners, engineers, smeltermen, and mining craftsmen would return to work in the Anaconda Copper Mining company's great mines and plants at Butte, Anaconda and Great Falls.

U. S. Men Lead Federal mediators P. W. Chappell and R. C. Jackson called today's conference to reopen negotiations between the company and the mine, mill and smelter workers' union, and the engineers' union, for the first time in more than 30 days.

The mediators hope to obtain for the miners the same terms which the company offered "early unions in a compromise, already accepted by Great Falls crafts, and to be voted upon by crafts at Anaconda and Butte.

Representatives of the union from the three cities, and of the engineers' union at Butte, will attend the parley with company officials and the mediators.

Wage Boost Seen It is understood that the offer which the company will be asked to make to the three largest unions would provide for wages increased on a sliding scale based on copper prices; an eight-hour day; and a 15-cent cost-of-living allowance.

INCUMBENTS HOLD PRECINCT HONORS

Most of Committeemen Win Re-election in Primary Balloting

Compilation of the vote for precinct committeemen throughout the county revealed today that for the most part those who are already holding those offices were re-elected.

In Twin Falls precincts a stiff race was carried off, in addition for nomination as committeemen on the Democratic ticket, but when two were to be nominated, both aspirants, L. F. Morse and F. W. Murphy were winners.

There was only one contest for Republican committeemen in the county, this being at Murtaugh, where Walter V. Day and T. T. Rutledge were aspirants.

On the Democratic ticket, there were 15 contests. Of these, unofficial reports show that the vote was as follows:

Twin Falls No. 1—Marvin Carlson, 87; Frank Kiefer, 185.

Twin Falls No. 2—W. R. Parker (winner), 148; George Baxter, 13; Ed-ward Lohrman, 24.

CANADIAN HUNT FOR ABDUCTORS SHIFTS TO U. S.

Search for Wealthy Brewer's Kidnapers Includes Gang Haunts of Detroit

$100,000 RANSOM ASKED

Mystery Man Remains Contact With Victim's Brother At Toronto

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 16 (UP)—Search for the kidnapers of John S. Labatt, wealthy brewer, has shifted to the United States today in accordance with new indications of a contact or impending contact with the abductors.

The wealthy "man of mystery," who visited Hugh Labatt, brother of the victim at the Toronto hotel where $100,000 ransom in ready, returned this afternoon, possibly with further information.

Police extended their search to Detroit, where upon their search from two Ontario officers the underworld, possibly with further information.

Two letters were received by Hugh Labatt, both mailed in Toronto. The fragment of a fingerprint was found on the automobile from which Labatt was abducted.

The wealthy brewer is held by a gang, believed to be United States racketeers, for $100,000 ransom.

A break in the kidnaping appeared near, although there was little definite information from the full strength of both police forces combined with private investigators for release of John S. Labatt.

The wealthy brewer is held by a gang, believed to be United States racketeers, for $100,000 ransom.

Official canvass of the election returns in this county was underway today at the office of the board of county commissioners.

Returns were missing from one Huhl and two Twin Falls precincts, but these were to be received this afternoon to permit progress on the count, which involves merely the checking of the poll books of the election boards, to determine the accuracy of the figures as transferred from the tally sheets to the total column.

Expect No Changes It was not expected that there would be any material changes in the figures as tabulated and compiled by the Evening Times and published in complete form yesterday.

In only one office, that of prosecuting attorney, was the "bulletin election" between Huhl and W. Taylor, Huhl, 184 votes on the face of unofficial returns.

The law requires that the county board make the official canvass within six days after the primary election and certify the abstract of county votes to the auditor, giving the names of those nominated for the general election in November.

Three Held as Husband Sells Wife for $700

HOHOKEN, N. J., Aug. 15 (UP)—Three men were arrested today in connection with the sale of a woman for $700. The woman, who allegedly struck a deal, and the wife who allegedly was sold.

The triangle embraces Richard Root, 48, professional stamp collector; Paul Herman, 41, Union City engineer, and Mrs. Hildegard Root, 30. They were arrested on charges of conspiracy to violate the morals code.

Police Chief Edward McPeely said he had the bill of sale an drawn up by a notary public.

McPeely said the three, when questioned, confessed the sale. He refused to tell how he discovered the strange document.

But said that Root, after allegedly lowering his price from $500 to $700, later suspected he had been deceived.

Herman, the chief related, made a down payment of $200 and on Aug. 9 all three went to a notary public and drew up the agreement.

Then, he said, paid the balance of $500 and claimed his purchase.

CHICAGO GUARDS BUSES IN STRIKE

Police Protest Vehicles From Parading Pickets; General Tieup Feared

CHICAGO, Aug. 16 (UP)—More than 200,000 Chicagoan sole buses of the Chicago Motor Coach company under the tense surveillance of armed police, and parading strike pickets today, following a walkout of union drivers.

Service appeared to be normal as 700 heavy green buses, many of them double-deckers, rumbled through the Loop and along boulevards.

Continuous tension—carrying the threat of a transportation tieup affecting nearly 4,000,000 persons—prevailed after reports that operators of trolleys and the elevated lines might join in the strike.

Conflicting Claims There were conflicting claims as to the number of bus operators on strike, claiming a four-month-old battle over the motor coach company's Blue Eagle and the disavowal of 24 union employees.

Bonjamin Weintraub, vice-president of the company, said only 30 or 35 operators had walked off the job.

Will 'Sell' Recovery Drive to U. S. Bankers

By RICHARD L. GRIDLEY WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (UP)—A new drive to sell the Roosevelt program to its severest critics—the nation's bankers—was seen today in appointment of Eugene H. Black as official "liaison officer" between banks and government.

Black resigned yesterday as chairman of the federal reserve board. He immediately was named to the newly-created post by President Roosevelt. The shift brought reports of further liberalization of administration in a key policy.

Black will share his time between the liaison job and his position as governor of the Atlanta Federal reserve bank, which he left May 10, 1933, to assume temporary duty in the direction of the whole reserve system.

Interprets New Deal He had repeatedly asked to be allowed to return to Atlanta. As liaison man, Black will have the task of interpreting the New Deal to the bankers, who have become increasingly critical as the recovery program and other financial institutions; by acquiescing them with the successive steps taken by the administration which have resulted in the present prosperous condition of the institutions and which make possible their cooperation with the administration in its program of complete business rehabilitation.

On the bank of the Black resignation there were indications of the early retirement of E. G. Bennett, Utah conservative member of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation.

Another important banking post which may be vacated is that of Adolph C. Miller, 20-year member of the reserve board, whose term expired on Aug. 9.

Food Supply Ample, Federal Heads Say In War on 'Scares'

ADMINISTRATION OPENS DRIVE AGAINST COMMODITY HOARDING

Drastic Punitive Action Promised as Club Against Activities of Profiteers And Market Speculators

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (UP)—The administration campaigned today against food hoarding by assuring the public that the nation's food supply is well stocked despite the drought and that the big problem is finding something for cattle to eat.

These assurances emanated from the department of agriculture report and a statement by Secretary Henry A. Wallace that "food for human beings" is available in abundance.

The move to prevent food scares, followed President Roosevelt's warning of punishing profiteers and speculators capitalizing on the results of the disaster.

The department of agriculture report on available food stocks showed no shortage at all for two-thirds of food products and a prospective shortage for the remaining items of not more than 5 to 10 per cent.

"What shortages do exist," the department said, "can be compensated for by shifts in the diet to use more of the foods which are available in abundance."

It added these shifts could be accomplished without any increased burden on consumers as to cost "or any material decrease in the nutritional value of the national diet."

The report's conclusions were based on estimates of probable production and stocks on hand of grain and dairy products, vegetables, fruits, meats and other commodities available for domestic food consumption.

These estimates compared to statistics on average domestic consumption for the 10-year period, 1924-33.

There is more than enough grain, products, milk and cream, citrus fruits and vegetables (except potatoes) compared to statistics on average domestic consumption for the 10-year period, 1924-33.

SOLO MINORITY CONDEMNS LONG

Rural Legislators Term Huey 'Political Madman' for Punitive Effort

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 16 (UP)—A fighting but hopelessly outnumbered line of rural legislators in the Louisiana assembly today issued a statement branding Huey P. Long a "political madman" and his punitive campaign against the city of New Orleans "obnoxious."

The statement, issued during a momentary lull in the apical session of the legislature called by Long to discipline New Orleans, urged the "plain people" of the state to make themselves heard if they would save their constitutional rights.

Long has complete domination over the legislature. He has given it a 30-point program that would give him what the minority charged would be powers comparable to those exercised by Mussolini, Stalin and Hitler.

Condemn Legislation "Not once the days of the carpetbaggers has any member of the legislature dared to introduce legislation of such a damnable character," the statement read.

In his hands no man's freedom would be safe, his property and even his life would be in the hands of a political madman who has set out to imitate in Louisiana what the great dictators of Europe are doing.

Surplus Adequate The vast surplus stocks of food products built up over years of plenty—they believe—will keep the nation on a fairly even keel, despite the blackest drought ever charted for the continent.

Grain speculation to the detriment of the farmer and the public and profiteering in foods will not be tolerated, the president asserted.

The federal grain futures administration, directed by J. M. Wright, it was revealed, is watching grain trading closely. "First evidence of manipulation will bring punitive action."

Council Given Authority for Walkout, Plans Special Vote Tonight

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (UP)—The United Textile Workers' of America, representing 300,000 mill workers, agreed today to call a nationwide strike "before Sept. 1."

A resolution adopted unanimously at the 31st national convention directed the executive council of the union to order the walkout for higher wages and better working conditions with only 12 hours notice to mill owners.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (UP)—Authorized to call a national strike of 300,000 mill workers in the textile industry was passed today in the hands of the executive council.

A vote on the strike call will be taken at a special meeting tonight, officials said.

Francis J. Gorman, first vice-president, told the 31st national convention that the strike would be early next month, when the industry is going through its budget season. He criticized the N. I. A. for failing to support the workers' demands for higher wages and better working conditions, particularly in the south.

BEEBE GLIMPSES SEA MONSTER ON DESCENT TO OCEAN DEPTHS

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Aug. 16 (UP)—A 20-foot sea monster, gliding past the bathysphere, guided by Dr. William C. Beebe, provided science today with new information regarding life in the black depths of the Atlantic Ocean.

Beebe and his assistant, Otis Barton, saw the monster the largest living thing ever seen deep in the sea, when they descended in Beebe's steel diving bell 5,000 feet—more than half the time for the descent.

Comparatively, Beebe in his dive, which scratched the surface of the sea, the greatest depth found in the Atlantic is 27,978 feet, off Puerto Rico, and the greatest depth found in any sea is 35,400 feet, off Mindanao island in the Philippines.

It took two hours and 40 minutes for the dive, made eight miles off tiny Nonasuch island, northeast of the main island of Bermuda. The descent was made in five minutes at the lowest level.

There was pressure of half a ton a square inch on the bathysphere and of 10 tons on the surface of its two quartz windows.

At the 5,000-foot level but 47 feet remained of the 2,075-foot cable on which the bathysphere was lowered, and it was deemed unsafe to pay that out.

DOWNPOUR GIVES MIDWEST CHEER

Farmers Splash Happily Over Sudden Flood as Rains End Drouth

CHICAGO, Aug. 16 (AP)—Clouds that have poured millions of dollars into the burned midwest in 48 hours dripped steadily on today in a death-breaking down-pour.

Farmers splashed happily through sudden floods, even though the crops already are ruined. City folk who have sweated for weeks in plus-100 degree temperatures smiled from under their umbrellas.

Thunderous downpours yesterday and last night were the heaviest at many points in almost a year. Heavy Downpour St. Joseph, Mo., was inundated by a 3.2 inch downpour, the first rain since July 6 that was heavy enough to measure. Chicago streets were flooded by 1.85 inches, 1.6 inches in less than an hour. Duquesne, Pa., received 1.20 inches and Great Whynia, Ind., 1.32 inches.

The clouds extended as far east as Washington, D. C., where 1.04 inches fell, and west into Colorado and Idaho. Most important consequence of the rain was a renewed hope some corn may be saved and that barren pastures will revive.

TURKS RESTRICT FOREIGN CAPITAL

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—Foreign capital will be welcome in Turkey for the development of public utilities, such as electricity plants and irrigation systems, provided it complies with the laws of our country. All Bey, minister of public works, has announced.

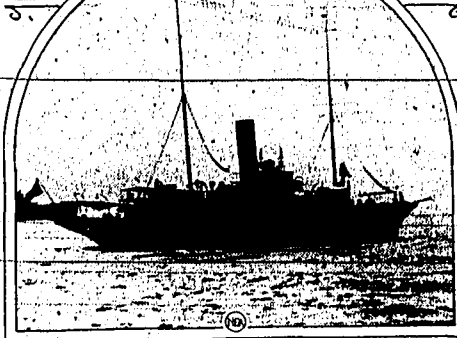

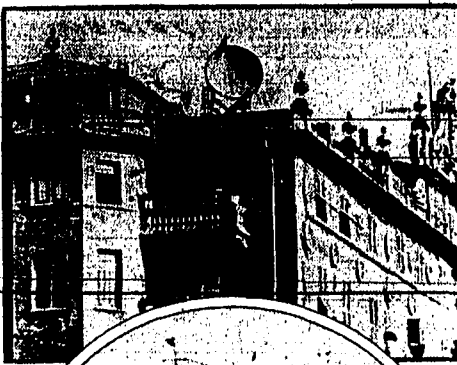

All Bey, one of the Ghazis' closest friends, has had a very varied career. A colonel in the war, he was taken prisoner by the British army and interned on Malta, where he employed his leisure to learn the English language. Upon his return he rejoined Mustafa Kemal and has served him in many capacities.

Operation Brings Turkey's Gobble

MT. HOLLY, N. J. (AP)—Claude Brinkner's turkey lost his "gobble," but got it back again through a "name-day" operation. The turkey swallowed a clump of weeds. They stopped half way down his throat, started to grow and gradually began strangling the bird.

So Brinkner hoisted the turkey on an improvised operating table, slit its throat with a kitchen knife, applied a few stitches, iodine and ointment.

GUIDES GHOST SHIP FROM LAND

There was no slipper at the wheel when the trim yacht Electra plowed her way accurately through the waters (as shown below) off Santa Margherita, Liguria, Italy. The navigator, Guglielmo Marconi, was on land, making his trim craft obey his every whim by radio-radio waves flashed from his hotel, on the roof of which may be seen the circular sending apparatus. This feat he held Marconi's most notable achievement since he invented the wireless telegraph.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP)—Mrs. James Roosevelt, 80-year-old mother of the President, returned on the Ile de France today happy to be home again despite a triumphal visit to England and France, but somewhat concerned over whether "Franklin" will like the tweed suit she brought him. "I do hope he will like it," she said anxiously. "The cloth is lovely. Of course it's rather heavy for Washington."

Approves King, Queen She was asked about her visit with King George and Queen Mary of England. "We chatted most pleasantly about different things," she said. "Both the king and the queen were most interested in Franklin and the king said he had met him during the war when he was assistant secretary of the navy. Both of them are charming people and it was lovely having tea with them."

A photographer said he had accompanied the President to Honolulu. How did Franklin and John (her grandson) enjoy the voyage? she asked. The photographer said they had a good time. "You know," smiled Mrs. Roosevelt, "the boys were not anxious to have their father President. They consider it a definite handicap. But we tell them it is something they have to live up to."

DOCUMENT TELLS HARDSHIPS OF CORPORAL IN CIVIL WAR DAYS

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—A short history of the struggle of a corporal, who saw service on the border between Missouri and Kansas during the Civil war, was uncovered here recently.

H. N. Compton, Company A, 13th Missouri Volunteer Cavalry, wrote his hardships of the 1865 campaign on the back of his commision. The brief was addressed to his children. It read: "Without Food "When you see the burned places in this commision, it will tell you that I, H. N. Compton, was 200 miles out upon the plains without food and tobacco, and about 60 miles from the nearest town. The snow was 12 inches deep. We found one little dead cottonwood and the fire that we built was too small to warm the bodies of the 200, or more soldiers.

"We had to take turns. When I got near the fire to thaw out I almost hugged the fire. That tells the story of these burned places. They were in the inside pocket of my overcoat. We had to march this 200 miles on foot and with our horses were too weak and too cold to ride them. This was in February, 1865. "Suffered From Cold "We did not have a square government issued since leaving Missouri. We did not pull our coats off once in the 200 miles. Old veteran soldiers cried with cold and hunger. We were making for Fort Leavenworth, about 70 miles east of Fort Riley, Kan. Some of our horses and mules froze to death and we ate them. Almost all of those noble soldiers have answered the last roll call. Peace be to their souls. "Signed) H. N. Compton writes this and tells that my children may see what I have suffered while defending the honor of this great and good government of the United States."

HOBBY FAIR SET HERE SEPT. 21

Exhibits, Special Program on List for Novel Event at High School

Sept. 21 and 22 will be hobby days in Twin Falls, according to Amy Frederick, hobby fair board chairman, who has just completed arrangements for the high school gymnasium for the exhibit on those days.

The exhibit will open Thursday afternoon, and Thursday evening, the hobby fair will be presented in the auditorium. Some of the numbers, all of which are to represent hobbies, will be selections by Charles Shirley's choir of 70 members. Exhibits will be shown during which will show and explain his map of the Old Oregon Trail, and a talk by Graceville Haight on history as traced by rings in trees.

Laundri Heads Display

Lawrence Landin will be fair display manager. A number of the older boys' groups will assist him in arranging the exhibits.

Drama dispatches received here bring information that a similar fair in Salt Lake City, in June, was successful in acquainting Salt Lake citizens with the wide diversity of hobbies that are pursued by many individuals and in showing the desirability of such pastimes. During the show the possibility also developed that a museum may be established there by placing a number of interesting collections in the old mill at Liberty park.

Chopped Nuts Will Give Necessary Nutriment to Your Summer Salads

(By Neta Service)

Chopped nuts are the perfect ingredients for summer salads. They add the right amount of nourishment to a dish that otherwise might be considered too light. They are easy to eat, and they are so handy before the next meal. The homemaker who has to consider the healthy appetites of a husband and growing sons will do well to plan nutmeat that centers around salad which are "filling" as well as cool and appetizing.

Chopped nuts go well with nearly everything, but particularly do they lend themselves in a delightful way to cream dressing. Here is one recipe for a nice cream dressing that uses chopped nuts:

Hot's How

Shred one-half pound of Brazil nuts. Cut one small pineapple into fine strips, one each papaya and one diced pineapple. Then put in a dash of curry powder (no more than can be put on the tip of the blade of a small knife), the juice of one lemon, a pinch of salt and one-quarter pint of whipping cream. Mix the ingredients together in an ice-cream bowl and, when ready to serve, line a platter with bits of crisp lettuce and put the salad in the center. Sprinkle with pieces of pineapple, two sliced, half-sliced papaya and Brazil nuts cut lengthwise.

HAPPY FAMILY

IONIA, Mich., Aug. 16 (AP)—A cat owned by Steve Surley today was mothering two bunnies along with her own brood of kittens.

Surley said the cat came home recently with a rabbit which it had dragged back from a nearby woods to the yard of his home.

Several days later the cat made two more trips to the woods and each time came back gingerly carrying a live bunny.

The cat placed the pair with her own kittens. Surley intervened only to feed the miniature bunnies from eye dropper. He reported the cat, her kittens and the bunnies all getting along well together as one happy family.

RAILROADS TOLD TO ASSIST FUND

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—The railroad retirement board today ordered class 1 railroads to pay into the treasury of the United States before Aug. 25 a contribution to the retirement fund equal to 1-10 of one per cent of the July payroll, approximately $325,000.

The order was one of the first issued by the retirement board, which yesterday won a court order against the railroads, who had sought to stay enforcement of the railway retirement act. A district supreme court justice refused a temporary injunction against the board.

The amount asked of railroads, a formal order said, will be credited to the carriers and deducted from the first quarter's contribution to the railroad retirement fund.

The order was signed by Murray W. Lattimer, chairman of the board.

Lake Takes Teeth From Woman and Brings Them Back

PAINSVILLE, O., (CP)—A Grand River, Ohio, woman went swimming here in Lake Erie, lake teeth and all, but the police, who had then returned nine days later by the benevolent lake.

They hunted the lake bottom, eventually for eight days, the woman went toothless.

On the ninth day, the teeth came home, literally. A big wave hit the beach at Fairport, a mile from where the woman went down, left the "set" on the sand.

Japanese manufacturers are permitted by the United States government to ship 125,000 gross of pencils into this country annually.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—More than $8,000,000 in new silver has been pushed into circulation since the administration nationalized the country's silver stocks last week and began hoarding money against the metal.

AFRICAN TRIBES RAP UNION PLAN
Three Native Regions Oppose Suggestion of Merger With Province

LONDON—(AP)—Whole tribes of African natives are working themselves into a fever-pitch of resentment against the Union of South Africa.

The Union wants to absorb the Free State territory of Basutoland, Bechuanaland and Boshuthaland, which, though within the borders of the Union still are administered by the British Colonial Office.

The natives, led by their chiefs, are objecting to the plan. The position of the Negroes in the Union is akin to slavery, they assert. The white residents are divided in their opinions as to the transfer.

Modern American Girls Most Beautiful World Has Ever Known, Artist Asserts

By MARY MARGARET MOBLEIDE (NEA Service)

NEW YORK—The modern American woman is the most beautiful the world has known. No time nor clime has ever produced anything to equal or even to rival her, according to Howard Rowwick, famous artist who has painted thousands of her in every walk of life.

The most beautiful persons in five different spheres of feminine activity—according to Howard Rowwick—are Ann Harding (upper left), whom he regards primarily as a "stage type"; Margaret Sullavan (upper center) of the famous Carolyn Edmundson (upper right) of the professional world; Eleanor Holm (lower left) of the sports realm; and Mrs. Allen Ryan, Jr. (lower right), society leader.

The women who he believes could uphold America's claim to supreme pre-eminence against all claimants are: Ann Harding, stage star; Margaret Sullavan, of screen fame; Mrs. Allen Ryan, Jr., society woman; Eleanor Holm, sports woman; and Carolyn Edmundson, professional and business woman.

Siamese Twins Wed? First Two In U. S. Raised Large Families

WHITE PLAINS, N. C. (AP)—In a double grave near here lie the bodies of the original Siamese twins, Eng and Chang Bunker, who spent most of their lives here and raised large families.

Incidents of their lives were recalled recently as a New York marriage license clerk denied Violet Hilton, one of the Hilton sisters, who are joined together in the Siamese fashion, a license to wed.

The Siamese twins lived here almost a century ago. They came from Siam when they were about 18. For several years they traveled with circuses, but after making enough money they settled down here.

On Jan. 12, 1872, Chang became ill with bronchitis at his home. When it came time to go to Eng's home, Eng tried to persuade Chang to remain at Chang's home, but the latter insisted on carrying out their marital arrangements.

Chang became worse at Eng's home. At daylight, Eng awakened and could not wake Chang. He was dead. Eng then buried him, "Then I am going also." He soon felt a feeling of utterance and gradually he grew weaker. In about two hours he was dead. If a doctor had been present, it is believed the "blessed" connecting them could have been severed and Eng's life saved.

The death of Eng was attributed to "fright."

The first children were born within three or four days of each other. The twins at first occupied jointly a large plantation. There was harmony in the home until the wives began to quarrel.

Finally the families separated.

NEBRASKA SEES POSSIBLE BOLTS

Defeated Bryan May Battle As Independent; G. O. P. Split Likely

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 16 (AP)—The possibility of bolts from both the regular Democratic and Republican majorities in the national election was discussed today.

Rep. Edward R. Burke, regular in they come on New Deal politics, charged Gov. Charles W. Bryan for the Democratic nomination, while Robert Simmons, who sees great evil in the Roosevelt plan, won the Republican nomination with ease.

Bryan May Bolt

Rumors that Bryan might try to place an independent ticket in the field ended even after Senator William Thompson of Grand Island announced he intended to support the Democratic ticket.

Named by Bryan to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator R. H. Howell, Thompson had been viewed as Bryan's likely candidate for the senate in event he tried to recapture his following with an independent campaign.

The threat of a Republican bolt cost the former governor, however, with Senator George W. Norris leading the fight against Simmons. Before the primary there were rumors Norris would campaign against Simmons if he got the nomination.

Norris is an advocate of the liberal policies of President Roosevelt and looks upon Simmons as too closely aligned with the utilities.

OHIO DEMOCRATS AIM AT HARMONY

Party Leaders Prepare for United Front Against Republicans

COLUMBIUS, O., Aug. 16 (AP)—With Ohio's primary vote history, Democrats today prepared to seek unanimous support in their 48-8 senatorial nominees, Via Donahay, and their gubernatorial nominee, Martin L. Davey, after unusually sharp contacts for these posts within the party.

U. S. Senator Robert J. Bulkley already had sounded the note for harmony in congratulating Donahay, and Davey had solicited the aid of Charles Sawyer and William Fletcher, his defeated opponents.

Will Oppose Peas

Donahay will seek to defeat Senator Simon D. Peas, an old guard Republican, who stumped the state for William McKinley in the sound money campaign of 1890, in the general election.

Clarence Brown of Manchester, Republican nominee for governor, was elected lieutenant governor back in 1918, and was one of the official greeters at Marion during Warren G. Harding's "front porch" campaign in 1920.

His Democratic opponent, Davey, was the nominee for governor to succeed Donahay in 1928, but went down to defeat in the Hoover landslide.

COURT UPHOLDS BOOK 'ULYSSES'

Majority Opinion Says Joyce Volume Is Not Obscene Literature

NEW YORK (AP)—The federal court of appeals, in a majority opinion, ruled that James Joyce's "Ulysses" is not obscene and is admissible into this country under the tariff laws.

Judge Augustus N. Hand and Judge Learned Hand concurred in the majority opinion, written by the former, but Presiding Judge Martin T. Manton dissented.

In a partly opinion said "Ulysses" was the "sincere expression of Joyce's attempt to portray the 'stream of consciousness' of his characters in a realistic manner." It said the book might offend some persons, but as a whole it aroused pity rather than lust in its readers.

Communists, Socialists Initiate Campaign to Cut-Down Move For Big Majority

BERLIN, Aug. 16 (AP)—Communists and Socialists, working under cover of imminent risk of their lives, today sought to reduce the landslide vote by which Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler needs approval of his admission of the office of president and chancellor...

All over Berlin there appeared, painted on walls and sidewalks, or tamped into householders' mail boxes in the form of printed matter, appeals to the public to vote against Hitler in Sunday's national referendum at which the public will be asked to say "Yes" to his assumption of a dictatorship untrivaled in modern civilization.

Operate in Secret Though ruthlessly suppressed, the Communist and Socialist parties, it is known, have been operating in secret, maintaining "cells" all over the country which are in contact with refugees in the frontier towns.

Residents of Berlin working districts emerged from their homes in the morning to find dainties in red paper on walls and sidewalks: "The Red Front still lives. Don't vote for Hitler."

Nazis defaced and erased the signs but they reappeared. Mail boxes are stuffed with dummy referendum ballots, with a "no" checked in the space allotted for disapproval of the president's candidacy.

Propaganda flows From Prague, Czechoslovakia, and frontier towns, refugees Communists and Socialists are sending into the country by secret courier a steady flow of anti-Nazi leaflets and pamphlets.

The Nazis feel that to convince the world Hitler really is wanted as leader, the vote next Sunday must surpass the 40,000,000 add by which the country had previously approved his decision to withdraw from the League of Nations and the disarmament conference.

Now there is a purely internal question, and the underground "Red front" has resumed its activity.

EXPERT ADVISES NO TARIFF CUTS

Economist Says Trade Wall And Immigration Form Vital Needs

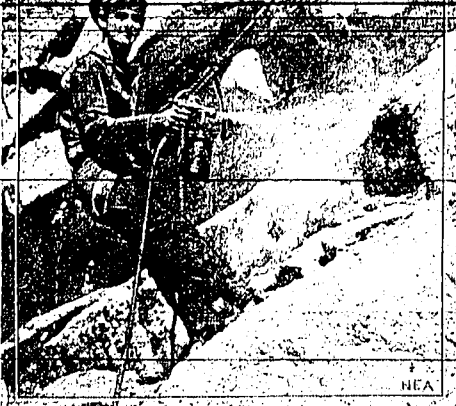

JOHNSTOWN, N. J., Aug. 16 (AP)—Restrictions in the protective tariff of the United States would delay our own business recovery and react unfavorably on the rest of the world, K. W. Brooke, former president of the Brookings economic service told the economic conference of engineers at the Stevens Institute of Technology camp.

He saw the tariff and immigration laws as the two main factors in keeping our wage levels and prices from falling, and said they should not be tampered with except to strengthen safeguards which are determined by changing conditions.

James D. Mooney, vice president of General Motors corporation in charge of overseas operations told the conference that excessive tariffs and economic isolation are responsible for many of the world's difficulties.

NEW RULES CURB STOCK 'INSIDERS'

Federal Regulations Strike at Mine of Information by Company Officers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—New government regulations strike sharply at insiders who deal in securities of their own corporation without regard for the effect of such transactions on ordinary stockholders.

Study of the rules laid down by the Securities and Exchange Commission today showed that operation of insiders and all large dealing must be reported to the government agency.

Monthly reports must be filed with the commission and the stock exchange of any change in the stock holdings of an officer or director in a company or any change in the holdings of any person if they amount to as much as 10 per cent of the outstanding issue.

These reports will be required after Nov. 1 and are presumably aimed at facts revealed by the recent volatile stock market investment which brought to light non-national dealings of such character among some Wall Street "insiders."

Other protective rules are contemplated by the commission on the basis of extensive data to be obtained from the results of a questionnaire submitted to stock exchanges.

No Guaranty Chairman Joseph P. Kennedy of the commission and exchange commission announced today that operation of the government's security control program and setting up of "safeguards" for investors is no guaranty against losses to investors.

It also became known today that few securities now listed on the exchange would be dropped from trading when the law becomes effective Oct. 1 in spite of the fact that all listed securities are required to be registered with the commission by that time.

SOPHIE KERR'S SUPERB LOVE STORY "STAY OUT OF MY LIFE!" By Sophie Kerr

THE CAMPAIGN OPENS

Two good tickets have been placed in the field in this county and in the state of Idaho, as the result of the free-for-all Tuesday.

With this the home county of one of the contenders for the governorship, it is to be expected that this will be the center of considerable political activity between now and Nov. 6, the date of the general election.

This county lost the privilege of supplying the congressional nominee for either of the parties, but saw the Republican choice fall upon Henry C. Dworshak, from a neighboring county, and the Democratic honor go to another young man, D. Worth Clark, who can command the following of the voters of this county, as well as those throughout the congressional district.

The Democratic voters gave endorsement to the administration of its present county and legislative officials, by either re-nominating them without contest, or by again choosing them over the opposition of formidable candidates.

The result of the primary is a quickening of the political pulse, and the immediate realignment of opposing factions into cemented parties for the furtherance of party organization and success.

May it be that any wounds caused in the late unpleasantness will be quickly healed, and that individual effort will give way to unity of purpose to the end that the people will have increased appreciation for party responsibility and will reward these efforts with support during the general election campaign which has now opened.

U. S. AID-PLAN BETTER THAN FAMINE

If this summer hasn't given you enough things to worry about, you can always work up a fever over the wholesale way in which Uncle Sam has been adding his nephews and nieces to the federal payroll lately.

Some sort of all-time high was reached this month when it was disclosed that more than 7,000,000 adult Americans are getting federal checks regularly.

This includes practically everybody—regular government employees, members of the army and navy, people getting pensions and veterans' compensation funds, those hired for public works projects and recipients of direct relief.

It breaks down about like this, according to a recent United Press tabulation:

Some 3,600,000 people are getting emergency relief in the shape of food, money, and so on. Road work and other emergency jobs account for 970,000 more. Some 600,000 are employed on other public works projects.

There are 918,000 people drawing pensions of one kind or another. There are 911,000 federal employees, 280,000 in the C C C camps and just less than 260,000 in army, navy and marine corps.

Add them all together and you get a lot of people—so many that it is no wonder some people are getting pretty worried about it all.

But the important thing in this situation is not the number of people who are on the government payroll so much as it is the question, What would happen to them if they were off of it?

It isn't pleasant to picture the plight of the 3,600,000 on direct relief, if all government funds should be cut off suddenly. The government is caring for them only because no other agency can do so. It may be a bad thing to have the government supporting that many people; it would be a good deal worse to have them all starving.

You can say much the same thing of the people who are at work on public works jobs, of those who are getting emergency employment relief, and of the lads in the C C C. The growth of the federal payroll may be a dismaying phenomenon, but it has meant the difference between hope and disaster to them.

It is, after all, pretty silly to complain about the way in which Uncle Sam is supporting his citizens, unless you can also show some other way in which those whom he is supporting could be cared for.

Treat your horse as you would a lady, a Pennsylvania riding academy advises its patrons. But it won't accept a cigaret.

Five is less than six; six is four, three, two, for even one. North Side (Jerome) News.

AMy thought, "Howard is here—only two rooms away, and I can't even see him! What will I do if he dies?" She knew that all of them—the colonel, the doctor—were sure Howard was going to die. That was why the doctor said the consultation must be immediate.

The doctor entered. "I've got Dr. Zimmerman and Dr. Strunk. You couldn't get any more help here, could you?" "I've got to go out for a while, but I'll be back before they get here." He stopped before Amy. "Your husband is no worse, Mrs. Jackson. He is holding his own. And that in itself is slightly—very slightly—encouraging. Think only of my catch, Howard."

Professor Low came in at the moment and the doctor repeated what he had told Amy, and took leave. The professor was disturbed and uneasy. "Amy," he said, sitting down beside her. "This is certainly a very peculiar situation. Just as we came in, apparently, Jane went out, by the back door, of all things—saying nothing whatever to the servants, leaving no orders. There's a cook and a waitress, decent women, but both highly suspicious of the extra night and the doctor's presence. They were on the point of leaving, but I've explained matters as far as I could, and I think they'll stay. I brought them extra wages. In fact, I gave them each $20 and told them I would pay all the extra charges for the nurse's meals, you know. But I don't see how we can stay here, you and I, I mean, and make any further trouble for them. I'll go out and get rooms at the nearest hotel, and we will not there, and I'll be back in half an hour."

He believed he'd better go to Jane's office and see her. She would be there, I suppose. He understood why she rushed out just as we came. It's all very peculiar. I wish your mother had come with us. I must write your mother, and Mrs. Jackson."

He patted Amy's hand. "I don't want to seem unfeeling, my child. I know what distress of mind you are in," he went on, "but if you could a little adjust the present matter here, talk with me privately, you would be doing the only thing you can do now for Howard. And it will be through the far eastern difficulties during his Hawaiian visit in causing his associates to comment again on his political ability. One pillar he avoided was that which he had been well known to the Chinese official leader. This pillar left Shanghai for Honolulu, announcing publicly that he was going to see Mr. Roosevelt. The sensitive "Fido" press played him up big, suspecting it spelled danger for Japan. When the Chinese arrived at Honolulu, he again announced he would see Mr. Roosevelt, and again he was reported to go directly to the president's party, was forewarned against the dangerous diplomatic possibilities of such a meeting, and the Chinese secretary was distinctly polite and friendly given the circumstances. He never even got near Mr. Roosevelt.

It is not safe to relate that many of Mr. Roosevelt's henchmen were worried about the personal danger involved in his Hawaiian visit. They feared some kind of explosion, because a human bomb and explosion himself all around the place. Actually there was not a single hostile episode during the visit, in view of the safety of the chief executive.

Indeed, some members of the presidential party observed (probably with some exaggeration) that there were as many or more Japanese waving American flags in the wall than there were Americans.

The way of government are laid. Consider the situation of an exceptionally able young engineer, with 25 years' experience in his line. He wanted a job with the engineering commission. He had good service record and was well recommended. He was, in fact, entitled to priority. His political pull was exceptional. He had the recommendation of a cabinet officer, and several of the most influential Democratic leaders. He could not have had more pull if Miss Democracy herself had placed him.

Yet, for two weeks he tramped the corridors of the mighty, unable to get even any satisfaction, and he is still tramping. I only guess what chance an ordinary fellow has to get a government job when a man like that cannot get on.

It also shows confusion and inefficiency in the patronage set-up.

A high legal authority in the government recently received an offer of a part-time job teaching law in a part-time law school. He cannot say whether it was intended as a compliment to his legal acumen.

One congressman, who helped to put through that bill—permitting congressmen to borrow from government agencies, now wants to rent a government farm agency, a large office building, which he owns. He believes in helping himself.

Mr. Roosevelt was somewhat disconcerted that he heard the Misses Roosevelt in the "honeymoon" office. He thought at first they meant "loan office."

Mr. Morgenthau has lunch with Mr. Roosevelt every Monday.

One of the last government officials to greet Mr. Roosevelt on his return was Postmaster General E. A. Tamm, who has spent no time in Washington when the President arrived here. Who "ones" knew that Mr. Roosevelt did not want to see him in the north-west or in Wisconsin because of the political interplay which would naturally have been drawn from his presence.

SAVANTS PONDER INDIANS' MOUNDS Nebraska Archaeologists Try Unearthing Ancestry of Pawnee Tribes

McCOOK, Neb., (AP)—Efforts are being made by Nebraska archaeologists to determine whether the ancient tribes that left the crude lodges to crumble and be covered along the Medicine Red Willow and Republican rivers are ancestral to the Pawnees, who were here when the white men came.

A. T. Hill, of Lincoln, is making good progress in his search through the fragmentary bits of pottery, left by the Indians, which are of the same type as those preceded by the Pawnees, and were driven away by them.

With Hill are Dr. Walter R. Wedell, University of California; George F. Lamb, Prof. Everett C. Wever, an archaeologist, all of Lincoln. They are working on a site originally by John Howe of Stockville, Neb.

All the archaeologists hope that studies of the Stockville ruins and of others in the Republican territory will give up the secret of the identity of the people who once inhabited the lodges.

HISTORY Of Twin Falls City & County As Gleaned from Files of The Times

15 Years Ago Twin Falls Post No. 7, American Legion, was reorganized on a permanent basis under its charter Thursday evening, Arthur Alworth, acting president, was elected post commander; Theodore Howson, member of the 14th field officers, was made vice post commander, and Paul Fisher was elected adjutant-finance officer. Those three will form the executive committee of the post, the finance officer being the chief executive with a salary of $15 per month. Tom Travin was appointed post historian and a membership committee, consisting of Harry Beall, Ted Howson and Wendell Allen, was appointed by Alworth to make arrangements for a big post dance next Friday evening.

REANS Editor Evening Times Dear Sir: In your paper of Aug. 11 is a communication by Mr. E. E. Rayburn regarding the proposed bean marketing agreement. In the first place, Mr. Editor, I desire to state that your comments and data on the marketing agreement in your columns of Aug. 4 and 8, were, in my opinion, absolutely correct. Mr. Rayburn's stand on this subject is of the rugged individualism type.

Mr. Rayburn says, "The bean catastrophe should raise the price of beans to 50 cents this winter, which by the way, I expect to see, what about next year's crop? A 50 price for beans for this crop will, judging from past experience, mean at least a 20 per cent increase in bean planting next spring. Anyway I expect to do so," and I guess Mr. Rayburn will see that the bean crop is fairly constant, a 20 per cent increase, barring accidents, means a big surplus next fall and the price of beans will be fixed by the demand. Consequently, if two sacks of beans are offered for sale when only one is required, what alternative do we growers have in disposing of our beans? In my opinion only two, try to undersell the other fellow or keep our beans.

This is the state of affairs which the proposed bean marketing agreement is intended to correct by taking the surplus crop off the market, at the producers' expense in a bumper crop and letting supply and demand regulate the price of beans. One who has been in the growers' selling price is set by a board of five men elected, not by the government, but by the growers of each variety of beans, and I think these growers' representatives will set the price just high enough so the price will not slow up the demand. This agreement is in working order the government leaves the operation of it to the growers and dealers, and simply becomes an umpire, to see that each gets a fair deal and according to agreement. Under this agreement when the growers realize that more beans are produced than the market can consume, such growers can reduce his output, knowing that all the other growers must do the same, if they expect to sell all their crop at a fair price. This year's drought furnishes a good illustration of what regulation of crops will do, as to prices obtained by producers.

OLD SHEETS AID CHICAGO 'CABBY'

Clean White Appearance Helps Ambitious Taxi Man Get More Business

CHICAGO (AP)—A cabby has found a new use for old sheets. The idea, he said, has proved a real business stimulator.

Anthony Boretta figured something should be done about all the dirt and smoke that drifted into his cabs when the sheets were open and the wind blew along and abetting the process.

He gathered up every old sheet he could find, washed them and cut them so that they would cover the seats in his cabs. The seat-covers he carried by his taxi. When a "fare" approached, Boretta jerked out the covers and placed them over the seat.

"I don't want to have people look in my taxi," Boretta said, and for they are going to ruin their clothes. It is just enough for me to wash out all this sheeting at night and have the pieces fresh and clean for use the next day. I notice business has picked up since I began doing this. The fare can see from a distance that there is an absolutely clean seat in my taxi."

Swiss Lead World In Use of Milk NEW YORK (AP)—Statistics from the U. S. department of agriculture show that Switzerland leads all other countries of the world in the annual consumption of milk, with 280 quarts per person.

Second place for this distinction is shared by United States and Germany, each of which boasts of 220 quarts per person. Canada ranks next with 200 quarts per person. The figures on other large milk-drinking nations, also computed annually and per person, are as follows: Great Britain, 120 quarts; France, 100 quarts; and Chile, 30 quarts.

ORIENTAL DIPLOMACY WASHINGTON The origin of this recurrent Russo-Japanese war stories has long been a diplomatic secret. You may remember that the Russians were very certain in the early part of the year that they would be attacked in April. They even massed troops in readiness. It can now be disclosed that their information came from the Japanese themselves. The Japanese ambassador to Tokyo last winter was unable to get any satisfactory information concerning Japan's attitude toward "Fido" officials, so he decided to go directly to the Japanese, leader of the Japanese military and the political boss of Japan. He asked Araki directly if he thought war was imminent. He was answered "Araki said that war was inevitable and that it would start in April.

BACKGROUND Information from other sources confirmed this view as the Russian took Araki at his word. The story in being cited by eminent Japanese authorities as proof that the politicians do not always lead their way in Tokyo. Those who have had experience with Oriental diplomacy may draw their own conclusions as to Araki's motives.

The incident, however, encourages our best diplomatic authorities to believe that the current Russo-Japanese difficulties over the Manchurian railway are not a danger of immediate war, but just a little Oriental bickering over prices. Most competent authorities here now believe an eventual Russo-Japanese war is inevitable, but they would be surprised if it comes soon.

Meanwhile, our diplomats are secretly half glad the far eastern situation is bubbling forth. They will not admit it openly, but they have noted that the Russians come running to us every time the Japanese threaten. Thus if any now have a very beneficial offer on a pressing debt problem which we now have pending with Russia.
