Portland Dock Unionist Slain in New Rioting

Companion Wounded as Rival Party Attacks Columbia Association Hall

Portland, Ore., Aug. 29 (AP)—One man was killed and another wounded in a riot here today, growing out of the recent longshoremen's strike.

Both James Conner, who was killed, and R. A. Griffin, who was wounded, were members of the Columbia River Longshoremen's association, which was organized by registered longshoremen in sympathy with the I. L. A. during the strike.

The shots were fired by a rioting party of about 30 men who attacked the Columbia association hall in an empty garage building.

Police Lined Up

Previous to the attack police were drawn away from the vicinity by a fire riot call telephoned to police headquarters sending all available officers to the Leuchterbach terminal.

While the police were answering that call the rioters attacked the Columbia hall where about 25 members of the association were meeting.

Warned a few minutes in advance, the beleaguered men barricaded the doors to the garage, just before the attack occurred. Several members of the rioting party were killed through the windows by the attackers who arrived in automobiles and five shots were fired by the rioters.

The rioting party, which was led by a man named Griffin, went through a window and Griffin was wounded on the forehead.

By the time police arrived at the scene, which was the Leuchterbach terminal, and also from headquarters, the attackers had all fled.

NOT COMMUNIST, FILM HEADS SAY

Movie Leaders Deny Presence of Reds as Police Map Probe of Stars

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 29 (AP)—There aren't enough Reds in Hollywood to fill up a pink tea party, film leaders insisted today after Police Chief James E. Davis announced he would make a personal checkup of asserted Communist sympathizers among motion picture players.

The investigation, launched following revelations in Sacramento of a Red spy ring, was asserted Communist on which the names of James Cagney, Lupe Velez, and other film stars, reportedly appeared in reality is a continuation of earlier quips released by the FBI.

Chief William Flynne, head of the bureau, alleged a fortnight ago that a congressional investigation into certain movie stars was lending financial aid to Communists and other subversive groups.

Cagney will deny any such charges, according to District Attorney Neil McLaughlin of Sacramento, who is reportedly writing to Flynne's superior, a federal writer, "The Motion Picture Guild is a contributor to relief causes, prominent to sue the Sacramento official who labeled Cagney's war-like activities as condoning war crimes by severe film bombs. Absolute Rule Gets Endorsement in Plebiscite

By Frederick O. Oechler

BERLIN, Aug. 28 (AP)—Adolf Hitler, today had been confirmed as an absolute dictator by the vote of his countrymen—a vote that repudiated a national rebuke to undulant Nazism.

It was a rebuke in that Hitler failed signally to surpass in the national referendum he called for yesterday the amazing 98 per cent of voters pledged in November that approved his withdrawal from the League of Nations in yesterday's poll the opposition vote doubled.

Falls on Total

Nazi orators had made it clear Hitler would be disaffiliated unless he passed the November total. He failed by some 2,000,000 odd votes.

Comparative figures of the November plebiscite and that of yesterday on the basis of "provisional final" figures follow:

Sunday Nov. Total votes 45,474,935 45,146,277

For Hitler 43,629,719 43,466,820

For Hitler 95.38 96.29

Against 1,845,216 1,679,457

Invalid 1,000,000 750,282

The invalid vote was regarded as to be included in large measure in the November total because many who did not dare to vote for Hitler would not vote for him.

Newspapers were asked to minimize the invalid total.

Gets 88.1 Per Cent

Hitler got 88.1 per cent of the votes cast. He got 93.5 of the vote in November. The greatest opposition came from Catholics and industrial districts.

The increase in the opposition total small as it was in comparison with the November total. It was the first setback in the 18 months since Hitler and his party's continuous bid for totality.

But there still was no organized opposition, and Hitler ruled unopposed in the most powerful district in modern Germany, the Prussian master of his country's immediate political fate, with the power of war and peace and life and death.

Opposition Factors

Opposition increased because of the bloody suppression of the Storm Troop revolt, the Evangelical church, the Lutheran and the black economy situation.

It was an indication of the sort of the crisis through which Hitler has passed since the June 30 revolt. The total opposition vote was more impressive because it was a courageous man who voted "no" in face of the Nazi leaders' statements in their appeal for support that he who voted against Hitler "placed himself outside the nation."

Hitler's position remained unimpaired.

U. S. INTERVENES IN BUS WALKOUT

Federal Mediator Dispatched to Chicago After Fresh Violence Flares

CHICAGO, Aug. 29 (AP)—Federal mediators were dispatched to the strike of union bus drivers of the Chicago Motor Coach company brought a representative of the federal department of labor to the scene of the five-day-old bus walkout.

Hugh Briell arrived from Washington and announced that he would attempt to bring union and company officials together for a conference seeking to end the strike.

Shortly before Briell's arrival, police arrested 16 men described as strikers.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29 (AP)—Police parties along 220 miles of routes of the Chicago Motor Coach company were strengthened today as strikers' "jobbed" buses grow in number.

A member of an affiliated union of bus drivers, Fred Sammarco, was shot by police today on charges that he had attempted to force a representative of the Chicago Motor Coach company to sign a petition for a strike.

Vote Falls Short of Hopes

Reichsbanner Adolf Hitler's impassioned plea to the German people brought plebiscite approval for his unprecedented dictatorship, but the vote was construed today as a rebuke to Nazism since it failed to reach the total set in a similar ballot on the League of Nations withdrawal last November. Two million additional electors dared Hitler's disapproval by voting against him.

Huey 'Madman' Aiming at U. S. Revolt, Foe Claims

FORT RENAMED FOR HUEY LONG

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Aug. 28 (AP)—The Paraguayan and Bolivians had such a swell of hate for Huey Long, captured by capturing it, the Paraguayan named it Fort Huey Long.

The ministry of war, in recognition of Senator Long's recent defense of Paraguay and attack on Bolivia, made the following statement:

"Because of the spontaneous and unanimous appeal of the combatants at Fort Comandante, captured by our forces on Aug. 18, the fort has been named for Senator Long."

"This Paraguayan army renders homage to the defender of justice, who raised his voice in protest against this 'crime' in the senate of his country."

See Mindless Coup

The mayor said he talked to Long a year ago at the senator's hotel in Washington. The long, thin, he said, was in bed but sat up excitedly to discuss with Walmesley his belief that he could—at the right moment—step out as a leader of the people and seize control of congress in a bloodless coup.

The mayor said that Long planned to tour the entire country, making speeches and promulgating his gospel of "every man a landlord."

"Blood will flow in Louisiana in the coming election," the mayor declared, "and this will be but the first of a series of ghastly tragedies resulting from Long's desire for power."

Violence Revolt

The kingfisher's statement was made, according to the mayor, at the time of the farmers holiday, when the unemployed and hunger marches had just finished a demonstration in front of the capitol.

"You saw those crowds," Walmesley quoted Long. "Well they want leader, a man strong enough to inspire them to revolt for a new government, that will share the wealth."

While the mayor was uttering his charges against Louisiana's new "kingfisher" Long, remained in Baton Rouge discussing with his governor, O. K. Allen, the membership of a committee empowered to conduct an investigation into the city government of New Orleans.

Quick Probe

The senator said that the investigation would "begin so quick they won't have to ask about it."

A few days ago, Long, through his governor, will assume supreme command of the state, as a result of the passage of 27 new laws by his subservient legislature.

LABOR BATTLES NEARING CLIMAX ON WIDE FRONT

Textile Parley Overthrowing Threats of Violence in Minor Battles

ALUMINUM MEN GATHER

Minneapolis Truck Unions Ask General 48-Hour Tripp Of Metropolis

By United Press

The battle between the forces of capital and labor, as exemplified by numerous strikes, appeared to be approaching a climax on a half dozen fronts today.

Overthrowing minor violence and renewed threats of general strikes was a promised conference in Washington which probably will decide whether there will be a strike of 400,000 textile workers.

Officials of the United Textile Workers, on record as favoring a work-out by Sept. 1, planned to confer with William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

May Limit Strike

From Pawtucket, R. I., came reports that the textile industry threatened "general strike" might be confined to the cotton division, with the silk, rayon and worsted operatives continuing and worked in order to prevent financial backing.

Attention of the leaders of both capital and labor was fixed on Pittsburgh for what was regarded as one of the most far-reaching decisions in the history of the national industrial recovery act.

Fred Kughly, government conciliator in charge of the aluminum industry, today held a joint conference of employers and employees at 3 p. m. today, in Pittsburgh.

'7-A' Challenge

The NIRA's new steel-hour bond faced a challenge of definitely interpreting the famous "section 7-A" of the recovery act, approval of almost every major labor leader in recent months. The section grants workers the right of "collective bargaining."

At Minneapolis, where several months of sporadic violence in a truck union strike had taken six lives, a 48-hour general strike was threatened.

The militant truck drivers' union proposed the general strike an arrangement by which each employer would elect a representative of the employee election to collective bargaining representatives.

Bus Stopped

The strike of union drivers of the Chicago Motor Bus company, punctuated by stinging, burning and the shooting of a strike by police, entered its sixth day with arrival of a representative of the federal labor board to attempt mediation.

The last of national guardsmen maintaining order in the "hood" industrial village of Kohler, Wis., following bloody rioting, was withdrawn today.

CAPONE ENROUTE TO ISLAND FORT

Former Public Enemy Listed Among Prisoners Going to Alcatraz

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—Unless signs fail, Al Capone is on his way today to spend five or six years in the new American "Devil's Island," Alcatraz fortress in San Francisco bay.

The first public enemy of his time was reported without official denial to be travelling unofficially from the "island" prison, which the government believes is as nearly escape-proof as natural conditions and human ingenuity can make it.

Capone was said to be a passenger of a passenger train transporting about 40 prisoners from Alcatraz and Lewisburg, Pa., prisons to Alcatraz. The transfer was being effected with utmost secrecy.

The gang leader was convicted in 1930 and sentenced to an 11-year term. With time off for good conduct he has between five and six years more to serve.

PASTOR'S KIDNAP STORY REFUTED

Hotel Employees Tell Federal Agent That Askew Spent Night at Hostelry

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 29 (AP)—Two Nashville hotel employees today refuted the "kidnap" story of Rev. R. H. Askew, Almer Stemple, Methodist disciple at Goldsboro, N. C.

Askew entered Nashville police headquarters Saturday morning and related a tale of being kidnaped at Raleigh, N. C., last Tuesday. He said three captors carried him about the south in an automobile. The preacher vaguely described his alleged abductors.

J. L. Kirkland, night clerk, and K. P. Edwards, night manager, of the Jamar Hotel, told the police that Askew spent Friday night at the hotel where they are employed.

The Four Square Gospel minister was questioned for three days at Nashville police headquarters. He was released Sunday to his home in Goldsboro, N. C.

Speaker Rainey, House's Leader, Taken by Death

ADMINISTRATION FACES PROBLEM IN CONGRESS

By Edward W. Lewis

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—The death of Speaker of the House Henry T. Rainey thrust a major political problem before the Roosevelt administration today, involving safeguarding of important New Deal legislation in the next congress.

Secret instructions from the White House may ultimately be necessary to avoid a "big fight" for the important speakership of the 74th congress and to assure party harmony in the house.

Rainey's death, mourned by official Washington, took from the administration a faithful congressional servant. A "home work" in his earlier years in congress, Rainey became an administration stalwart in iron handed demeanor which belied his gentle nature, he knew to it that the entire "New Deal" layout in the 73rd congress was shot through the house with unready speed.

Hinted as Successors

Among those prominently mentioned today as Rainey's successor were House Majority Leader Joseph W. Byrnes, D. Tenn.; Rep. John Burdick, D., Minn.; and Rep. William Bankhead, D., Ala.

Others who must be reckoned with in the fight which will be staged at a closed party caucus shortly before congress convenes are Chairman Sam Rayburn, D., Tex., of the house interstate and foreign commerce committee; and Rep. John J. O'Connor, D., N. Y.

The "north and south" wings of the party will figure in the fight. Practically all important committee chairmanships are held by southerners. Texans predominate.

Important Session

The new income program, revision of the NRA act and a host of other major legislative proposals would be jeopardized if the White House was without a capable lieutenant in the speaker's chair. Little actual groundwork for speakership campaigns of candidates can be laid, however, until after the November elections.

McDuffie and Bankhead are considered among the most capable debaters in the house. Bankhead is chairman of the powerful rules committee. Byrnes, as majority leader under Rainey, was subject to some criticism for his handling of the soldiers bonus issue and the veterans-economy bill, but has a powerful nucleus of supporters.

Played Vital Role

Rainey as speaker of the historic 73rd congress played an important role in New Deal legislation. With a preponderant Democratic majority, he put through gag rules which insured right of way for administration legislation. He was conspicuously outstepped by Republican charges of railroad. It was admitted many measures went through committee and the house with but cursory consideration. "Rubber stamping" Republicans called it.

ROOSEVELT PAYS RAINY TRIBUTES

Speaker Was Humanitarian, Friend of Common Man, Says President

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—News of the death of Speaker of the House Henry T. Rainey came to President Roosevelt on the yacht Sequoyia, down the Potomac where he cruised until this morning.

In a message issued early today, the President said:

"It must always be an occasion of national regret when a public servant who has given the greater part of his life to unselfish service passes away. This is especially true in the loss of Speaker Rainey at a time when the experience of many years has culminated in his unflinching leadership of the nation's house of representatives."

Humanitarian Patriot

It had the privilege of knowing him first more than a score of years ago when I was a young child. His patriotism thought first of all of what he conceived to be the truth being and the interests of the common man.

"Through all the years he kept the spirit of youth and he will be missed profoundly by old and young alike."

SOPHIE KERR'S SUPERB LOVE STORY
"STAY OUT OF MY LIFE!"

By Sophie Kerr

CHAPTER XIII

NANCY was sitting very straight on the sofa, her eyes wary, her expression defiant. Before her, in Miss Foster's most comfortable chair, was Jane.

"Oh, hello, Jane," said Amy. "I don't know how you got here. When did you come back?"

"Last night, quite unexpectedly," said Jane sweetly. "How are you, dear? How well you look!"

"The time made Amy understand that her stress was old and out of fashion, her hair even more so, and her hair straighter, and she could scarcely keep from smiling.

"Nancy could keep still no longer. "Mother, Miss Terry's hair is like me to come and stay as long as you want."

"What an invitation to come right out of the blue!" said Amy. "And I was waiting for you!"

Nancy quickly. "That I was sorry, but I couldn't possibly do it. I mean, there's no man here and..."

Jane broke in with a composure so perfect that no one might have named her. "I wish you'd let her come. Amy, you must think it odd, my speaking to her about it without talking to her about it. But well, my old friend's daughter and all that and I could give her a very good time."

"I haven't been up to see Mrs. Ross yet," said Amy. "You can run on ahead, if you want, and get things ready."

"All right," said Nancy. "I'll do that. Goodbye, Miss Terry. I do appreciate your asking me. I shall speak with Jane and wait to see you, if you don't mind."

"Why did you do it, Jane?" asked Amy. "Do you really want her?"

JANE lit a cigarette. "Oh, I don't know. It was a hunch, an impulse. I'm lonely—lonely. You know how I am. I've been out of the market at the right time, and I've watched my property and my investments. I've probably lost as little as anybody in America during this depression, hardly enough to notice it. And when Nancy came in here today, an ally, a friend, a fully worthy ally, after all she is my child, Amy, I thought...

...suddenly that I'd like to give her a chance."

"Oh, I see. A chance for what exactly?"

"A chance to get out of this old little city and right into the middle of things. A chance for luxury, travel, love, clothes, meeting people whose names are in the papers all the time, theaters, music, all that sort of thing."

"I'm sure you'd like to give her a chance. Well, I had a hard time trying so hard to be youthful, and you know, Mother, when you think about a woman, how young she looks! It's a sort of sign that her soul is young. And when you think of Nancy, she's got a young heart, a young personality. I wouldn't have given it if she had offered me a diamond ring and a ruby chain! Mother, I don't like her. I don't like her one bit!"

"Oh, Nancy?" cried Amy in indignation. "You're a rash girl, but she could have done no more terrible judgment of Jane than those words uttered in that way by Jane's own child. She has lots of good qualities. She has, really."

"You can write me a list of 'em sometime," said Nancy, still wrathful. "I won't be so sure, but I'll be sure. The worst thing she did she hoped I wouldn't be content to settle down like you and live in this old college life? Oh, was I sure? Mother, look here—are you sorry you married Father? In it so awful to be a faculty lady at a small college, to have your income cut off, to have your life so uninteresting? Did you ever feel that way?"

"There's a special reason for your asking that, isn't there? A special reason, with initials R. C.?"

Goodness color flooded Nancy's face. "All the more why you should give me the real lowdown, isn't there?" she demanded.

Amy did not blush in her guess. Nancy should tell her in her own time, in her own way. Instead she answered, honestly. "Nancy, I've loved every minute that I've been married to Howard, and—oh, just take a good look at me, silly! Do I look cramped and thwarted? We've never had much money and we've never had much work, but we've never had quarrels and pettiness and commonness or misunderstanding, or the slightest shadow of unfaithfulness—a d thing like the things I couldn't bear. No, my way you look at it, I'm a contented, happy woman."

And at the same moment Jane was making a dash for the doorway in Miss Ross's parlor, thinking, "I've certainly had a narrow escape from a wild impulse! I must have been used to want to be like the girl, bright, up, up, up, and not so obedient! She'd never been married, and she'd never been contented. I'm sure she'd always have been the contented sort of girl. I have so much, my home, my friends, my work—my way you look at it, I'm a most happy, contented, fortunate woman!"

"Poor old Amy!"

ELECTIONS

Some things were learned at the recent primary which should serve to improve their conduct in the future.

One is that there is no earthly reason why the polls should not open earlier than at noon. The 8 p. m. closing hour is convenient for many persons, but at the general election the hour is set for 7 p. m. The hours should be made uniform.

Another thing, there should be brief and clear instructions issued to all judges and clerks of election. In the primary, for instance, some counting boards did not start counting ballots until the polls closed, which delayed the returns into the next day. The law makes specific provision for the commencement of the counting of ballots so soon as five ballots have been cast. There is no legitimate reason why this practice should not be followed, especially in the larger precincts where at least six judges and clerks are provided.

Queer things influence election results, as for example the defeat of W. H. Simons, state mining inspector, whose administration has been successful, it is conceded by almost everyone. He had as an opponent one Arthur Campbell of Mullan, a comparative unknown. But it happens that Stewart Campbell, the Republican candidate for the same office, was well-known. Democratic voters turned down Simons, who had failed to make a campaign, secure in the belief that it was unnecessary. They must have thought they were voting for Republican candidate Campbell!

A little investigation will prove that the state and congressional candidates who were successful, relied more upon personal campaigning and newspaper advertising, than upon the more expensive, but less satisfactory—radio—method of soliciting votes. Clark, Ross, Stephan, Dworshak and Hale got their publicity over in the newspapers.

This newspaper appreciates the extreme courtesy exhibited by members of election boards, and other individuals in expediting transmission of the returns. At election time, the candidates and the public alike, are restless to get news. To provide this service requires a large amount of preparation to insure swiftness and accuracy.

In some states this information is gathered by election officials, which is as it should be. There is no reason why this important duty should devolve entirely upon the press. Some day, it is hoped this too will be changed to the end that election shall be simplified, and modernized.

These are among the things learned from the recent primary election.

A national conference will be held to stabilize liquor prices. Maybe they can find something that will stabilize the drinker after the ninth or tenth dram.

HOW TO GET A JOB

There are a great many reasons why people seek public office. The poorest of all reasons, probably, is simply that the candidate needs a job—any job at all—and hopes to get one on the public payroll, all other expedients having failed.

That is why elections held in a time of depression are peculiar affairs. In the current primaries, according to a United Press tabulation, more than 300,000 American citizens ran for public office. In Indiana, for instance, more than 36,000 people declared their eagerness to get on the public payroll. In Montana one citizen of every ten was a candidate for something or other.

It will hardly be surprising if the fall elections present the country with some public servants who have no qualifications whatever for their jobs. A public office-holder, even in a democracy, must have some recommendation aside from the fact that he needs work.

Familiar headline revived: Bryan trailing in election returns.

Commendable are the efforts of the Twin Falls County Pomona Grange, the Future Farmers of America chapters and the Four-H clubs, in keeping alive the idea of an annual county fair, despite the fact that the regular exposition has been temporarily abandoned. This miniature fair will be held Thursday and Friday of this week, and is worthy of the cooperation of every institution in the county. Admission will be free, there will be a small charge for admittance to the grand stand, and there will be prominent paid the youthful exhibitors in numerous departments. Aside from the intrinsic worth of the Twin Falls County 4-H and F. F. A. fair, it is performing an invaluable service in preserving the continuity of a regular scale next year.

DANGER

WASHINGTON—Some formerly gay and cocksure New Dealers are not getting their customary eight hours of rest tonight, worrying about the death-day policy.

The people outside may not know it, but that problem of the most serious political difficulties now encountered by the New Deal. It might very easily prove to be a disastrous omen on which the whole Roosevelt theory of farm relief could run aground.

This does not mean that there is any real danger of famine, rationing, price gouging, or disastrously depleted farm purchasing power. These things can and will be simply cured for. The danger lies in the means of taking care of them.

POPULARITY

Right now, every insider believes President Roosevelt will have to keep trying to run away with the show.

As soon as he does, he must reverse the economic and political theory on which the AAA has been running, or at least throw it out of gear. It was popular in the first place, but it may not be popular in the future. It is a decided price-up. It will be decidedly unpopular to stop the natural price rise and tell the farmers who have crops that they can't get any more than a certain fixed price.

This made difficulty is further emphasized by the fact that many farmers are now spending their savings buying up what they would have made if they had planted all their acreage this year.

In view of this, it is possible that the administration can't attempt an average curtailment program next year. If the government tried to sign farm contracts up for it today, you can't imagine how far it would get.

SOUNDING OUT

Der Fuhrer's henchmen have been sounding us out secretly about getting government credits. Apparently, the Germans believe they can arrange to get our surplus wheat, corn, and soybeans, and we will furnish the muscle, while all we get is the words.

Certain foreign trade enthusiasts who are not very close to the top here have given the Germans an official encouragement in response to their official requests. Hitler also is known to be negotiating in Berlin, and it is supposed to have met with more encouragement there than here.

The publicity men for our foreign trade enthusiasts will find it hard to make Germany as popular in this country now.

JEROME

Wilbur Miller, 22, Jerome, was slightly injured Saturday afternoon when the car he was driving crashed into a barney pit near the highway. The accident occurred after Miller had failed to sound his horn when passing a truck. The car was badly damaged.

J. E. Warner, Twin Falls, escaped without injury Saturday morning when the automobile he was driving crashed into the barney pit on the highway south of town. Warner attempted to jump over the wrong side of a truck which was heavily loaded with wheat.

Henry Fletcher, Twin Falls, and Ruth Sturgeon, Jerome, secured a license to drive from the county clerk Thursday.

Average annual net gain in world population is more than 30,000,000 persons.

BILL COLLECTING GROWING EASIER

Department Store Customers Paying Up More Rapidly, U. S. Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Customers are paying their department store bills more rapidly this year than they did last year, the Commerce department reports.

However, collections on department store charge accounts are still under 60 per cent of total amount of bills outstanding, while only 17 per cent of installment plan accounts are being paid on time.

Collections Better

The Commerce department, in a recent survey, found that charge account collections have increased approximately six per cent during the past year, and installment plan collections approximately two per cent.

The department's figures show that the percentage of bills being paid "on time" is gradually increasing. In May, the latest month covered in the survey, 48.6 per cent of department store charge accounts were paid. The highest percentage in several years.

The percentage of installment plan bills paid in May was slightly under the three year high of March 1933.

HISTORY Of Twin Falls City & County

As Gleaned from Files of The Times

15 Years Ago

Dr. D. L. Alexander, former prominent local physician, returned yesterday to Twin Falls from his post in the medical corps. Before arriving here he visited relatives in Michigan.

The regular weekly band concert this week will be under the direction of J. G. Thorpe, who was formerly leader of the 140th P. A. band. The program will devote to the regular program in that all the numbers rendered will be of a light snappy nature—some hits and selections from musical comedies, omitting the more classical and heavier numbers.

New Roads Built On Battle Field

PETERSBURG, Va. (AP)—Two projects now under construction in Petersburg National Military park are expected to enable tourists further to penetrate the historic battlefield.

The Petersburg-Hopewell-City Point Railway Company, whose high grade line runs under the entrance to the Fort Steadman area of the Park, has begun to lower the grade so visitors may enter more conveniently. The project is scheduled for completion within 50 or 60 days.

The other project is a hard-surface roadway between Fort Davis and Fort Watworth.

ARKANSAS BONDS REGAINING VALUE

State Rebuilds Credit After Last Year's Default on Payments

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas is regaining its face in the bond markets of the nation.

A year ago the state's credit had all but vanished because of defaulted payments. Bond improvement district bonds were bought at 25 to 35 cents on the dollar, but with few exceptions, they are now selling at 40 cents or more.

Cancer victims have blood more alkaline than normal, and the increased alkalinity seems to be related to the speed with which the disease ends fatally.

Green Olive Group Placed Under NRA

WASHINGTON (AP)—The code for green olive importation which is effective, according to NRA, will give the industry a 40-hour work week and minimum wage of $16 for office workers. Other male employees will receive a minimum of 40 cents an hour, females 30 cents.

Five industry members, to be elected by the Association of Importers of Green Olives, will be the code authority. Each firm is allowed one vote for each thousand tons of green olives imported during 1933.

Guarantees against spoilage are prohibited by bulk orders and limited to six months for those packed in bottles and jars.

SAYS MARS HAS NO INHABITANTS

Scientist Certain Life Cannot Exist on Planet Despite Popular Belief

NEW YORK (AP)—Life on Mars does not exist, according to Dr. Walter S. Adams, director of Mount Wilson Observatory, and he states, more precisely and more than we realize.

Directly opposed to popular supposition, Mars, under Dr. Adams, is a dying world. Its meager supply of water and oxygen, both requisites of life, exposed daily to violent variations, on the atmosphere, render negligible any idea that life is to be found upon it.

SHOSHONE

Dr. F. E. Barrett last week completed the erection of a summer home at Ketchum. Mrs. Harrett and two children are located there for the remainder of the summer.

W. H. Murphy and son, Dick, left last week for San Jose, Calif., for a short vacation. Mrs. Murphy and children, Marjorie and Jack, who have spent the past two months in San Jose, will return home with them.

The annual school trustee election will be held at the high school building in Shoshone, Sept. 4, at which time two trustees will be elected to serve the regular three-year term. Trustees whose terms expire are Emmett Kelly, present chairman of the board, and a member of the board for the past five years, and Lambert Ruppberg, who has served on the board for two years. Hold-over members of the board are Mrs. Helen Jackson, Mrs. Hazel Tucker, Dr. F. H. Barrett, W. H. Murphy, and W. H. Shoshone's new golf course, known as the "Dill Golf Course," which is located on the Dill ranch, adjoining town, will be completed and ready for use within the next few days. All golf fans will be permitted to play free of charge for the first week.

Service Station at Tourist Park Ruined

RUPERT, Aug. 20 (Special).—The service station of the sanibert tourist park at the west entrance of Rupert was completely destroyed by fire Saturday afternoon. An explosion in the tank of a car which had just been filled started the blaze. No one was injured but the property loss was complete, no insurance being carried on the building or equipment. Another fire occurred last week when an outbuilding at the Jigg Snyder home was set on fire by boys at play. No serious damage was done.

The art of weaving asbestos was known to the ancients. It was rediscovered in 1720 in the Urat mountain region.

Sweeley Garden Offers Variety And Fragrance

"Will there be a prize for the most fragrant flower?" That was the question today in regard to the association Guild flower show, which is to be held Sept. 8 in Twin Falls. The flower committee, apparently, has decided, but if there is, so far in Mrs. Everett Sweeley's garden will be among the leading candidates. Located on the side of the yard, a cluster of enchanting, narrow-leaved flowers, which are called Nicotiana or Tobacco flowers, exude such alluring fragrance that birds and brilliant butterflies hover about, adding brightness to the backyard garden.

Color Contrast

Perhaps the pinks and reds, contrasting so vividly with the white of the Sweeley garden, flash the invitation to come in and see for butterflies as well as people, but the endless variety of blossoms, many not commonly seen in western gardens, is hard for anyone to go away.

The committee hopes that Mrs. Sweeley will exhibit some of her unique blossoms at the flower show. The show, part of the Junior Chamber's August City Jubilee, offers an opportunity to every amateur grower in Jerome and Twin Falls counties to compete. Mrs. Stanley Larkin at phone 1282 is receiving entries.

Dinner Celebrates Reopening of Mine

BELLEVUE, Ida. (UP).—Rich mineral deposits are always heralded with gladness, but seldom with a new shaft. That is what happened here when the Minnie Moore and Queen of the Hills mines started again disgorging gold. The owner had 50 guinea sit down to an elaborate party to observe the opening of a new shaft.

In the glamorous '80s, the two mines produced more than $10,000,000. Dormant since the turn of the century, the recent activity in gold and a new cheap process of extraction, has put new life into the drifts and tunnels.

Trees Make Paper

WRENSBORO, Pa. (UP).—Red maples, quaking aspens and gum trees of Pennsylvania forests, long considered useless for lumber or firewood, have found a place in industry. Tests by two paper mills reveal pulp from the trees makes a good grade of glass paper.

Ten years ago the barmald outnumbered the barman by more than 6,000. Today they are in a majority of only 20 in the whole country.

A warning against ostentation issued by the ministry of education directed attention to the rapid spread of foreign dress among the teachers.

A style survey showed that the women were copying Hollywood and Paris.

The ministry urged more plain dress.

Making a good impression upon the new teacher and one's new classmates are two of the important things about starting the school term right. Any little girl will tell you that! Seems to us that one could scarcely do better for a little appearance than this smart little frock. It's a jumper dress but when you make yoke and sleeves of a contrasting fabric it has much of the charm of that type of frock. Nice in plain and plaid gingham, in checks of two colors or two shades of one color, or in jersey with all top. The bow might be ribbon if you like.

Pattern 9030 may be ordered only in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 12 requires 1 1/2 yards 36 inch fabric and 1 yard contrasting.

ANTI-T. B. HEAD LAUDS M'CLUSKY

Thanks Groups Helping Males Health Camp Season Successful

"The most interesting part of the whole year's work for me in the health camp season," says Mrs. Catherine H. Athey, executive director of the Anti-Tuberculosis association, and general supervisor of camps, who visited McClusky health camp, Huhl, during the two closing days Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Athey left Twin Falls this morning.

Fifty-nine children from Cassia, Carvon, Lincoln, Gooding and Twin Falls counties received the benefits of camp training and camp care this summer. Committee members and parents supervised vacation of the camp yesterday afternoon.

Gain Weight.
Most of the children were much improved in appearance and had increased in weight from eight to 15 1/2 pounds, according to camp officials.

"While our work has many moral vital phases—a joy of accomplishment, which I am certain volunteer workers in our local committee feel to an even greater extent, than I do," said Mrs. Athey. "A detailed report will be made by the camp committee very soon, but I should like to express my appreciation to all the agencies which have contributed to the success of the camp.

Generous Aid
"The past two years have been difficult to finance, but our determination to give the children a boost toward good health has been rewarded by the generous aid given by citizens of Twin Falls and Kootenai counties, where the camps are located. Without the donations of food and extra money and the labor assigned by the IERA we could not have served such a large group of children. We are especially grateful to Joe Kosher, who has raised over $100 through 'pat nights' to aid with the cost of material for the new dining unit."

BANKS' DEPOSITS SHOW INCREASE

Federal Reserve and General Institutions Reveal Big Boost Since '33

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—$7,500,000,000 gain in deposits in the country's member Federal Reserve banks since the March, 1933, banking crisis was reported today by the Federal Reserve board in its monthly bulletin.

The seasonal rise in deposits, one of the most rapid in history, reflected the government's huge spending program, admission of new banks to the reserve system and rapid reopening of closed institutions.

An even greater increase in deposits of all of the country's 15,500 operating institutions was indicated as the only banks included in the reserve board figures were those of 6,370 member banks and they comprise little more than half of the nation's banking resources.

Assets Rise
Comptroller of the Currency J. P. T. O'Connor reported today that assets of the 5,422 licensed national banks June 30, had risen to $23,401,562,000, an increase of $600,410,000 since March 31 when only 5,293 national banks were licensed. Since June 30, 1933, deposits had jumped $3,041,101,000. Loans and discounts continued to drop, totaling $7,507,740,000 compared with $7,500,270,000 in March and $8,116,072,000 last year. Holdings of government securities rose aggregating $5,045,741,000 an increase of $238,303,000 since March and $1,014,105,000 the previous June.

Depression Misses Razor Blade Sale

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—In formulating the case for the safety razor and razor blade manufacturers, which became effective July 31, NRA discovered this industry was one of the few which enjoyed an increase in unit sales during the past four years. # If it must be war, let's make it a good one

For several weeks the newspapers have been full of tire sales at 22 1/2% off.

To meet this situation, we have been granted a special concession and have just purchased, at a price, a number of fresh, New General Tires.

We bought on such a basis that we are now prepared to offer Top-Quality tires in a timely, big sale that gives them all a run for their money! Passing on direct to consumers, the full benefit of our special purchase, at preferred wholesale prices.

Starting today—as long as stocks last—

PREFERRED WHOLESALE PRICES!

This entire lot of 4-ply and 6-ply Dual Grips, and regular Dual Balloon Blowout-Proof

GENERAL TIRES

Now it's our turn! Regardless of the latest news that tire costs and retail "floor prices" may go higher any minute—here we are with this nice lot of tires that we bought at a war time figure—and we are out to do business today!

It's a wide open invitation for crowds of car owners — Preferred Wholesale Prices to all!

Passing on our volume purchase prices direct to consumers, we are prepared for the greatest wave of popular buying that any tire store has witnessed—a sweeping sale unlike anything seen before in a retail place. We are aiming at the biggest sales total we have ever experienced.

The sale starts off with plenty of tires of every size and type, to fit every car—but please remember sale is limited to stocks now on hand and therefore subject to unavoidable cases of stock shortage in some sizes as sale continues from day to day.

Buy at the start of sale and avoid last minute scramble for sizes. If your time is limited or crowds cause delay, we will mount tires later at your convenience. Service night and day during sale — evenings till 9 p. m., Sundays till noon.

Price Situation at a Glance
Timely Conditions Warrant Immediate Action by Tire-Buyers

Crude rubber has advanced from 3c to 10c per pound.

Manufacturer's replacement costs have risen above present prices.

Manufacturers for several weeks have been petitioning to raise the minimum retail price of tires.

Common sense predicts that tire prices must certainly go higher — possibly even before the ink is dry on this announcement.

Our sincere advice to customers is, "stock up" — whether you need one tire or a set, or will need them later in the year. Get Generals extra quality, extra safety, now — and save the difference.

* * *

Silent Grip and Silent Safety Generals not included in sale because of absolute shortage in these types and our higher costs — but today's price on these lines means a big, important saving for those who equip now or place orders pending shipments now in transit.
