18 NATIONS JOIN LEAGUE'S BAN ON LATIN MUNITIONS

World Powers Forbid Export Of Armaments for Gran Chaco War

ITALY LAST TO ACCEPT

Significant Peace Move Puts Embargo on Paraguay And Bolivia

By WALLACE CARROLL (Copyright, 1934, United Press)

Eighteen nations joined today in the first world-wide effort to end war by denying its implements to belligerents.

Italy, last of the eighteen principal arms exporting nations, notified the League of Nations it had forbidden exports of munitions to Bolivia and Paraguay and that its embargo already was effective.

Arms Banned

The two South American nations, fighting for more than two years for possession of the rich Gran Chaco territory, were cut off from American munitions and airplane factories, the great Crozat works of France, the Skoda world of Czechoslovakia, and Dofors company of Sweden—all of the big plants whose products make war possible.

In addition, the neighbors of the belligerent countries have agreed not to permit transport of munitions through their territories, and neither Paraguay nor Bolivia can reach the sea without passing through territorial waters of other nations.

League Triumphs

The embargo was perhaps the greatest triumph for the League in 15 years of storm and discouragement.

Export and re-export of arms, implements of war, aircraft, aircraft engines, spare parts and ammunition destined for Italy or directly to Bolivia or Paraguay are included in the embargo.

Another Country Adds Manufacture of arms in any considerable quantity, and if the embargo proved effective—the two must result in a stalemate that will permit effective resumption of diplomatic peace efforts, which have been made all the time for two years.

Back, But Silent

BOOST IN PRICES OF COMMODITIES CHEERS GROWERS

Rising Sojourner Hero Producing Optimism; Hogs, Wheat And Beans Gain

GREAT NORTHERNS $2.75

Sensational Advance in Swine Levels Reflects Uptrend On Coast

Rising commodity prices featured in the local market today in large advanced from $4.50 to $6.80 a hundredweight. Heavy hams, butterfat went to 24 cents a pound, and there was a strengthening in the bean and wheat trade, with the grain commanding 74 cents a bushel and No. 1 Great Northern beans, $2.75 a hundred.

Wreath of optimism came to growers when they contemplated the butterfat situation agriculturally, and looked forward to still better prices as the nation advanced.

Rebels Coast Rise

The agricultural news of hope here came on the reflection of the grain prices, which yesterday shot up $1 to $1.25 a hundred.

Local market quotations call for $6 for heavy butchers and $5 for light butchers, an advance from $3.50. Packing house are up from $2.50 to $3.50.

Despite the increased bean price, growers are not selling it in bulk. The new crop is reported to be of fair quality, but some yields will prevail here. One grower, who lost your job a 48-bushel crop, estimates that his acreage will produce a 32-bushel average this season. Others whose averages were in the 30's in former years estimate yields as low as 20 bushels this year.

Farmer Beans

"The same kind of seed and the same amount of water on the same kind of land, in producing fewer beans, that's all," said one big grower. "The only explanation offered is the dry season, which followed a mild winter."

This county will produce 44 per cent less wheat than last year, it is estimated by H. G. Lauterbach, chairman of the wheat production control association. The AAA reduction crop campaign and drought on the Salmon river tract, are estimated to be the factors contributing to the reduction. An AAA inspector will arrive here Saturday to check the reduction figures preliminary to payment of a substantial cash benefit to those who are members of the production control association, Lauterbach said.

Advances Full Year

Wheat planners have pushed up their calculations a year because the drought will restrict production to 1,200,000 bushels, instead of 1,400,000 bushels, as estimated four years ago, whereas they anticipated a crop of between 740,000 and 780,000,000 bushels.

"The drought has done in one year what it would have taken us two to do," George E. Purcell, chief of the AAA wheat section, said.

He explained his program called for a carryover of approximately 125,000,000 to 140,000,000 bushels by July 1, 1936. Now a surplus of about that amount is expected July 1, 1935.

Plans for Emergencies

Purcell's present problem is to no arrange the 1934 wheat program so that it will take care of shortage if more dry weather prevents recurrence of unforeseen surpluses if good weather prevails.

In the case of corn, the AAA plans to cut acreage about 150,000 acres under the average, 1932-33. Assuming a normal yield of 30 bushels per acre, 900,000 bushels would have been kept from market, storage, or farm use. The total crop, therefore, would have approximated 2,818,000,000 bushels.

Corn Reduced

But the drought attacked corn in its crucial stage and the indicated harvest is only 1,807,000,000 bushels, which is not only below the estimate since 1934 but would be 10 percent below 1933.

Under the revised schedule the President will leave Washington Saturday night for the summer White House at Hyde Park.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (UPI)—President Roosevelt will interrupt his busy domestic program to attend a recovery rally here today to go west to the funeral of Speaker of the House Henry T. Rainey.

The President's special train will leave at 5 p.m. and take him together with a number of other high government officials and friends of the late speaker to Carrollton, Ill.

ATLANTA ORDERS SWEAT BOX QUIZ

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 21 (UPI)—A special committee of city council was appointed today to investigate charges that a "sweat box" was being used to punish women prisoners at the city dairy farm.

The charges were made by Mrs. Margaret Brooks, who in two days attempted to commit suicide in the fifth federal prison district, in California, till awaiting trial on a charge of vagrancy.

Authorities denied the charges that prisoners were mistreated.

Hang Loots Armored Brooklyn Money Truck in Largest Daylight Theft

$600,000 at the time, but the bandits released approximately $20,000 in their haste.

Leader Gives Signal

As the guards reappeared, the bandit leader gave a signal. The men near the push cart sprang into action, whipped back the cloth over the cart and exposed a machine gun. The blunt, glistening nose swung around toward the guards.

Two other men standing nearby leaped upon the guards and disarmed them. Another pair of bandits pointed pistols at the drivers of the truck.

Directed by curt commands backed up by the machine gun and pistols, the guards were hustled into their own truck.

Run To Cars

The bandits forced them to hand over the case in the truck—except for the sum which they overlooked—and then ran from the truck to their own automobiles.

They dropped their machine guns as they fled from the truck. Most of the money was in small canvas bags.

Allen quickly swung the truck around in pursuit of the raiders. The bandit machine gun was fired repeatedly at the fleeing outlaw cars.

The bandit cars eluded them, but by that time the police search was underway.

Search Garage

Patrolmen were told to examine garages on their beats in belief the bandits had a nearby hideaway.

The truck had been delivering and collecting payrolls. Part of the money it carried represented cash collected from branch banks and business houses in Brooklyn, it was believed to be taken to Manhattan for deposit.

INDIAN ASKS AID FOR ALLOTMENT

Aged Cherokee Seeks Help in Securing Benefits from Government

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — Henry Horton, born in a wigwam in the Oklahoma Indian Territory, years after Texas joined the Union, was asked last night if he wanted his allotment for an Indian allotment or an acre.

As Indian as the head on an old-fashioned penny, Horton, half Cherokee, told this story:

"My grandfather was Jeff Moss, a full-blooded Cherokee. My grandmother also was a Cherokee."

Born in 1848

"Their daughter, Minnie, married my father, a white trader named John Courtney, Houston, and I was born May 17, 1848.

"My mother died when I was a baby, and my father joined another trader named J. W. Flagler. We went to about where Paris, Tex., is now. When I was five years old my father died."

From that time on, Horton said, he drifted here and there, working in a store, for $2 per week and board, in a planing mill, as a piano repair man on a railroad, and in a sawmill.

Halls Are Closed

A friend wrote to the department of interior division of Indian claims. An answer received said the "citizenship rolls of the Cherokee tribe are closed."

"Horton's name does not appear on the final rolls of the Cherokee nation," the form letter from John Collier, commissioner, said, "and one of the persons who controlled him was his tribal benefit."

"It looks as though I am cut off from my rights because I cannot read or write," Horton said. "I only want a little to take care of me in my last days."

The Indian Social Service provided him food.

COLLEGE MOTHER GIVEN RESIDENCE

Beloved Keeper of Boarding House Honored by Ohio Northern U.

ADA, Okla. (UPI) — Mrs. Catherine Hill, 84, a beloved survivor of the early days of Ohio Northern University here, has been provided a home by the institution whose students she mothered for so many years.

When declining health caused her to lose title to her boarding house, the state university purchased the 2-story wooden house for her. As Mrs. Hill was then invalid, officials volunteered to provide her with a home when the landmark was torn down.

Her new home, like the old, has no indoor connections; it was for many years the home of the Rev. John Wesley Hill, veteran Methodist circuit rider, whose son, Dr. John Wesley Hill, Jr., now is chancellor of Lincoln Memorial University, Harrogate, Tenn.

When the old house had reached the end of its life, the state of mining and the earth has

DROUGHT RAVAGES PUSH AAA PLANS

Surpass New Deal's Reduction Program on All Crops by Billion Bushels

in 424,000,000 bushels less than the AAA goal.

For cotton, the story is much the same, although the differences are not as striking. The Bankhead act tax-free limit is 10,400,351 bales. Judging by Aug. 1 conditions in the important belt west of the Mississippi, the drought restricted crop will total only 9,100,000 bales.

The shortstop with one exception since 1931. The AAA voluntary reduction campaign deals with acres instead of bales. Cotton acreage under cultivation approaches 27,371,000 which yield, on an average of 174 pounds each, would produce about 9,500,000 bushels.

Hogs Ease

A 31 per cent reduction in hog numbers is forecast. On this basis America's pig population will total about 15,000,000 pigs less than the average 1932-33. The AAA corn-hog program, officials said, may be held to be responsible for 13,000,000 of this reduction, but year is chiefly attributable to the drought.

The shortage and high price of feed may cause hog raisers to sell many of their hogs before the fall and winter breeding period, indicating a still greater reduction in pig numbers because there will be less little pigs for the spring of next year.

The foregoing calculations include all existing AAA programs except tobacco, which has not been materially affected by the drought. Indicated tobacco production is 1,043,000,000 pounds or just about what the AAA wanted it to be.

MICHIGAN FINDS LIQUOR PROFITS

System of Dispensary Stores Offers Lower Rates Than Other States

LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — Michigan corporation to effect a "controlled third" for its residents, but at that it dispenses 1,200 brands of liquor cheaper than in any of the 11 states with similar acts.

It is the declaration of Frank Pfeifer, chairman of the Liquor Control Commission who rules one of the state's greatest enterprises from a central office and warehouse here. Literally effervescent "intoxication."

Six Month Trial

Pfeifer's statement comes after six months of "exploration" in a state monopoly of liquor. The first bottle of the Michigan corporation to be sold at $3,000,000 began Dec. 15, 1933, and June 1, 1934. The profit in all the more significant in view of the fact the commission actually did not set up its full array of state liquor stores until May.

Nevada Hay Crop Sliced by Drought

RENO, Nev. (UPI) — Drought conditions will result in production of only half the usual hay crop in Nevada, government officials advised.

Total tonnage for 1934 is estimated at 275,000. Last year ranchers and farmers harvested 400,000 tons. Alfalfa hay will run 102,000 tons compared to 204,000 tons in 1933.

"NEW DEAL" MAKES INDIAN SUPERINTENDENT

The New Deal really means that to Crow Indians, with one of their own tribe made superintendent of their reservation at Crow Agency, Mont. The ceremony pictured above shows Robert Yellowtail, left, taking the oath of office administered by U. S. Commissioner Charles Corliss of Hardin, Mont. This was the first appointment of an Indian to such position in that section of the west and one of the very few in the country. Several thousand Indians and white men attended the ceremony at the reservation capital.

The other mills were expected to follow suit, thus throwing 22,000 operatives out of work. Two Idaho Island mills already have closed.

Another non-union labor dispute between the government and the steel industry over the status of unions, may be taken to court in federal move toward compelling all industry to accept the principle of bargaining collectively. There were numerous reports that several large steel companies would need to abandon their Blue Eagle code so that they might escape the famous "action 7-A" of the recovery act, pertaining to labor relations.

30 Face Charges

In Portland, Ore., 30 men were named in murder complaints growing out of the longshoremen's strike. They were accused of killing a college student in a waterfront brawl.

BRITON MEN TRY FEMININE TOUCH

Their Summer Sport Clothes Include Ankle Socks and Tam-o'-Shanters

LONDON, Eng. (UPI) — Men are going all feminine in their clothes, a recent trade exhibition showed.

Such articles as ankle socks, knitted tam-o'-shanters, yester 11 o'clock green and blue silk sports shirts would never have been accepted for summer sports wear a few years ago.

The same tendency can be seen through the modern man's wardrobe. He no longer wears heavy woolen undergarments, but silk articles that closely suggest "feminine" dress.

Nat Owings, director of concessions, advised her to leave because "that's not the sort of exhibition we want on the grounds."

Black and White

One of the most interesting features of the show was the well checked black and white silk shirt with collar attached, which the manufacturers are certain will be the accepted 1934 evening wear for men with a dinner jacket.

Another article was a new stretchable fabric shirt which contained no rubber, but will stretch and give to movement like elastic. It is claimed that a man would be able to sit in a chair and have his shirt stretch to accommodate him.

The gymnasium is to be opened Aug. 21, to be followed four days later by a nudist colony 20 miles out of the city. Its location was kept secret.

Eastern Representative: THE F. CLARK & CO., INC., 205-217 E. 4th St., New York. Western Representative: WILLIAMS & COMPANY, 220 Montgomery St., San Francisco.HENRY T. RAINY

Sudden death of Henry T. Rainey, Speaker of the national House of Representatives, comes as a shock to the nation which he served.

The unexpectedness of his death is a reminder of the sudden loss of that other leader of congress, Nicholas Longworth, who served from 1925 to 1931. Indeed, the incumbency of this position has changed frequently since, for John Vance Garner, who served from 1931 to 1933, was elevated to the vice presidency, to be succeeded by Mr. Rainey.

Now that the latter has been taken, a new name is to be added to the roll of those who have served us as presiding officer, among these being Henry Clay, James K. Polk, Schuyler Colfax, James G. Blaine, Thomas B. Reed, Joseph G. Cannon, and Champ Clark, to mention a few.

Rainey, who came from the 20th Illinois district, had served in Congress for 31 years, and had been one of the important and picturesque figures of that body. His death comes as a loss to Congress, to the Democratic party and to the nation as a whole.

ORTHODOX ECONOMICS

It would be a lot easier to figure out how successful our present recovery efforts are likely to be if we only had some way of telling just how exact a science orthodox economics really is.

According to the old school economists, recovery from a depression must follow certain natural laws. There must be a deflation long enough and severe enough to readjust all the relationships of prices, wages, and debts, which were put out of line by the previous inflationary trend.

Until that readjustment is complete, we are told, there is no possibility of recovery.

Now the reason why people are refusing to wait for these natural processes to do their work is that a terrific price in human values must be paid.

A fair expression of the orthodox viewpoint is contained in a bulletin recently issued by a New York business advice firm.

This bulletin asserts that recovery cannot come until wages have been deflated to a point at which industrial operation is profitable under a deflated price scheme. Such deflation, it says, is being retarded by present government relief policies.

"As long as the government continues to provide the unemployed, either through jobs on public enterprises or through direct relief, with sufficient funds to deprive them of the incentive to secure private work at any price," says this bulletin, "the supply of labor will not be large enough to exert on private wage scales the pressure needed to force a quick adjustment. A return to sound business prosperity will be postponed until the government voluntarily modifies its relief policy to a point where it will not interfere with the proper deflation of wage rates."

That does not make pleasant reading.

During the last couple of years we saw examples of what happens when labor has "the incentive to secure private work at any price." We saw men employed at $5 and $6 a week. We saw women glad to get jobs as household servants for no pay at all but their board.

We saw college-trained engineers and skilled mechanics mowing lawns for 25 cents an hour. We saw, in brief, enough sights to make the heart sick, and we saw enough of them to last us a long, long time.

If that is all the hope that orthodox economics holds out—that such things must be endured indefinitely, without any attempt to alleviate them—it is hardly surprising that ordinary folk are beginning to feel that they want something a little less orthodox and a little more humane.

Everything I am I owe to honest advertising, says Sally Rand. There's one case where the bare truth certainly paid.

REAL BENEFIT TO NEEDY

The great scope of work done by government relief agencies is shown by recent statistics revealing that more than 600,000,000 pounds of foodstuffs have been distributed to the needy by Uncle Sam.

A family subsisting on federal relief gets such things as beef, pork and veal roasts, beans, bread and butter, oranges, apples, and cheese.

In addition, thousands of tons of coal have been distributed, and huge quantities of surplus cotton have been woven into blankets for the unemployed. Millions of bushels of wheat, corn, oats, and barley have been given to farmers in the drouth areas for starving livestock.

Distributing all these things has been very costly, but it must also have prevented an appalling amount of human misery.

Marian Martin Pattern

USES TWO FABRICS Complete Diagrammed Marian Martin Sew Chart Included

PATTERN 9091

Here is an ideal pattern for the combination of two of the smartest of fabric—satin and metal cloth. It is a typically Parisian style, and shows the use of buttons straight down the back; its raglan sleeves buttoned in closely to the wrist and its scarf knotted under the chin. Satin or crepe in black or any dark shade such as the new Sootie green, lorcee brown or olaret would be outstandingly attractive, combined with a scarf of gold or silver cloth or lighter satin. The buttons may be covered with fabric, or may be of metal.

Pattern 9091 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and size 16 requires 3½ yards—20 inch fabric and 2 yards lining. Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins or stamp (coins preferred) for MARY MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, the STYLE NUMBER, and SIZE of each pattern.

A beautiful complete collection of Summer Clothes is shown in the NEW SUMMER EDITION of the MARY MARIAN MARTIN FASHION BOOK. This book will help you plan a summer vacation wardrobe. Clever, bright ensembles charming costumes for the gardener, pool party, beach, etc. The number of patterns in this book is 100.

Send 50¢ for catalog and 25¢ postage. Address: Bob McCauley, Jim Sinclair, Rees Williams, Don Ryan, Jim and Millard Dawson, Verne Stevens, Vernie Middleton, John Werts, Wilbur McGray, Gene Simonson, and Bruce Glangen.

BANK AID URGED FOR INDUSTRIES

RFC Chairman Requests Help Under Federal Guaranty For Loans

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (UPI) — Chairman Jones H. Jones of the RFC revealed here that he had called upon the nation's banks to speed the administration's $100,000,000 direct loans to industry program.

Jones said he had circumscribed his bank to make loans to business enterprises possible with the RFC guaranteeing the notes.

"Under this plan, we could guarantee up to 100 per cent on those loans," Jones said. "That puts the questions of loaning and negotiating directly in the hands of the banks where they belong, and borrowers will not have to come here if they obtain loans."

Banks Stronger

He said that the banks apparently are stronger now than last winter and are in a better position to aid commercial and industrial financial needs.

Some statements were made following reports that the direct loans to industry program, authorized by the last congress, was lagging with only 12 per cent of the allotted money approved for loans.

CHICAGO STREET CARS GO MODERN

Tests Will Determine Choice Of Streamlined, Swift Trolley Types

CHICAGO (UPI) — Examples of the Windy City's street cars of the future—streamlined, aluminum creations, decorated in silver, royal blue and green—nimbly skinned along the streets here today.

The cars were used as experiments, from which street car company officials hope to decide definitely on what type of vehicle will be put into use.

Ligher Weight

One car of steel construction and weighs 38,500 pounds. The other weighs 29,000 pounds. The average car now in service weighs about 44,000 pounds.

Both cars seat 55 passengers in comfortable leather seats.

Induced lighting, quick acceleration and deceleration, large wind-down air brakes, and a modern ventilation system are some of the features of the new trolleys.

"Our objective," said Guy A. Richardson, president of the Chicago Surface Lines, "are speed, silent operation, and passenger comfort."

CHILD ATTACKED BY RARE MALADY

Muscular Atrophy Is Causing Stiffness in 22-Month Eastern Girl

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Children's Hospital physicians here believe the strange muscular atrophy which has attacked 22-month-old Sally Lou Housey is one of the rarest child diseases.

Diagnosed as Myotonia Gravis,

the affliction has kept little Sally in her grip for several months.

There is no known cause or treatment for the condition.

Natural Otherwise

Aside from her muscular affliction, the little girl is quite normal.

Her bones and teeth are well developed.

The disease usually develops later in childhood and is characterized by extreme stiffness and clumsiness. It's believed to have its origin in faulty functioning of an endocrine gland, preventing proper muscle metabolism.

Extreme youth of the patient has made the case of special interest, with possibility that the condition may be outgrown if the victim survives a few years.

Island Christened For Cyrus Curtis

CARIBBEAN, Aug. 21 (UPI) — The late Cyrus H. Curtis, publisher and philanthropist, has an island named for him in his native Maine.

The government changed the name of Negro Island to Curtis Island. His daughter, Mrs. Mary Curtis Bok, has placed a bronze tablet on the lighthouse there.

Boxing Coach

PITTSBURG (UPI) — Jack Sherrick, former 185-pound inter-collegiate boxing champion at University of Pittsburgh, has taken over the coaching duties of his tutor, Joe Ornati, Clarion, Pa., who resigned to give full attention to his business.

Sherrick, graduate of the School of Business Administration, entered Pitt in 1930, the same year that boxing was added to the varsity schedule. He took part in the first Varsity bout in 1932 and won the inter-collegiate 185-pound title that year. In 1934 he captained the boxing team.

At The Theaters

Audiences Applaud Orpheum Program

An absurdly crack-brained and delicious comedy, that even in its wildest moments seemed surprisingly real, "She Loves Me Not," starring Bing Crosby and Miriam Hopkins, is bringing laughter and applause at the Orpheum theater. This story of what might have happened at Princeton had he never discovered the secret of the famous Philadelphia night club, played by a high society dame who flees to escape being held in a material witness. How she gets into a Princeton dormitory and the trouble that follows is what makes "She Loves Me Not," the hilarious comedy that it is. Also welcomed by the fans is the new tuner, one of which, "Love in Bloom," is expected to be one of the big sellers. Shirley Temple, the little star of "Curly Top," appears on this program in an interesting cartoon entitled "The Orpheum's Benefit."

Of unusual interest to southern Idaho are the special Paramount news reel shots taken during the big rabbit drive at Shoshone, when 100,000 jackrabbits were killed in the campaign to eliminate the pests. The special reel was added in an extra attraction.

Coming to the Orpheum Thursday is "Baby Take a Bow," with Shirley Temple, "biggest little star in the toddler." James Dunn and Shirley Trevor are co-features with Shirley.

Dramatic Offering At Roxy Tomorrow

Suppose you were foreman of a jury. Through your influence would you bring in the electric chair for murderer? Then your daughter commits the identical crime. Will you condemn her also? Or will you try to evade the law to save her life?

O. P. Heggie, the distinguished character actor, is confronted with these questions in "Midnight," Universal's exciting drama which comes to Joe-K's Roxy tomorrow evening the eighth "pay day" program.

The message of greeting was taken to the Arctic reglom by Patrick Ashley Cooper, Governor of the Hudson Bay company, who is now making a 10,000-mile tour of the company's trading posts with the King.

Two Translations

The first draft of the message was made in the Eskimo idiom to enable it to be translated directly into the native dialect. Two translations will be published. One will be in a kind of syllabic short-hand, and the other in Roman characters in the Labrador dialect.

In the message the King said:

"The Queen and I send our loyal Inuit subjects a message of greeting from our home in the great encampment of London. In every part of the Kingdom it is ever my desire to see our encampments the happiness of our subjects deeply affects the personal happiness of the Queen and myself. In the same way as parents are proud of their children, the Queen and I take special pride in our faithful and hardy Inuit."

Watch Intrigued Girl

MINOT, N. D. (UPI) — Most intriguing to formerly blind four-year-old Eleanor Roberg was her watch when Minot physicans removed the cataracts that had obscured her vision since birth. However, she was overjoyed to see the parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Roberg of Orlia, N. D., who gave her the wrist watch two years ago.

Spring Aids Town

LIBERTY, Mo. (UPI) — An old spring, around which this Missouri town was founded in 1820, was pressed into service again during the great drought. Cleaned of rubbish and refuse, the spring, more than 100 years old, is supplying sparkling water to farmers for their livestock.

ESKIMOS GIVEN ROYAL MESSAGE

King George Sends Greetings To Subjects by Means

OF TALKIE

LONDON (UPI) — King George has just said "Howdy, brother" for the first time to Eskimo in his Eskimo subjects around Hudson's Bay. His farthest northern liege are getting visibly acquainted now with their "Big Chief" back in London through a movie showing scenes from his life.

The message of greeting was taken to the Arctic reglom by Patrick Ashley Cooper, Governor of the Hudson Bay company, who is now making a 10,000-mile tour of the company's trading posts with the King.

KANSAS SCHOOLS FACING MERGERS

Smaller Educational Units Will Be Center of Battle on Consolidations

TOPEKA, Kans. (UPI) — The little red schoolhouses will play an important role in Kansas life, but whether it should not be discarded for the consolidated system of rural school in question the state legislature may have to decide.

A survey of rural schools and school districts, made for the legislature by Camdon Strain, research director of the Kansas Chamber of Commerce, as a CWA project, revealed interesting facts. Strain's report recommended consolidation of at least one-third, if not all, of the 2,100 "weak" schools.

Low Salaries

The rapidly increasing number of rural school teachers have fallen to new lows. Hundreds received but $40 or $50 a month, and two districts paid but $20. Several paid $25 or $30 for their teachers.

There were 99,810 pupils enrolled in one-room schools, with the average age 14 to a school. Average cost per year a pupil was $71.55. More than 900 school districts last year levied no tax for education, the average number still 202 school districts did not open their schools last year, all but three in preparation for pupils to attend schools in other districts.

Enrollment in 33 per cent of the schools was 10 or less. Six schools had put one pupil each and 20 had but two each. Five or less were enrolled in 44 schools.
