NEW YORK HUNT EXTENDS TO SEA

Bizarro $427,950 Hold-up And Escape in Speedboats Sloggers City

With pursuit the money hunt was taken into the automobiles, which were of the gang and sped away only to circle back to the waterfront.
Today all of the modern police devices seemed to have failed. The plotter of the crime had anticipated the police. The only ally in execution of the crime—the dropping of a submarine gun by one bandit—failed to interrupt the escape.
The call to follow the automobile went out swiftly, but a few minutes delay gained when the bandit ripped out the ice plant telephone gave them enough stay to make immediate pursuit.
Police tried to close all ferries, bridges, railroad terminals and main-highways had been anticipated by the bandit leader. He actually created his men back to Grayson beach, shifted them to boats and sped away.
Suspicion was strong today that former rip rippers staged the holdup.
Along the busy eastern sea coast a grey patrol craft cruised in search of a dozen fugitives. Over the water front and far out at sea, airplanes zig-zagged over every suspicious craft about. Detection deferred into the temporary spots around New York's bustling harbor.

INSULT TO INDUSTRY

NEW YORK, Aug. 22 (AP)—Two gunmen added insult to injury today, escaping with $600 from a label tea company branch, more than a mile from the Times plant where the $427,950 robbery took place yesterday.

Mason's escape was all the more spectacular because of the fact that he is handicapped by a wooden leg. His leg was amputated because of wounds inflicted when he, Giberson and other members of the gang were rounded up at Elmhurst, Ky.

WOODEN LEG MURDER SUSPECT INCLUDED AMONG INDIANS ESCAPE GROUP

PORT HALL, Idaho, Aug. 22 (AP)—Bainock and Shoshone Indians today contributed hard-earned nickels and dimes to a fund to finance a court fight to determine whether they, as American citizens, can vote.
In a recent school election they were denied the right of franchise. The balloting consolidated the school children attend with another. They claim school officials transport white children to the new school but force them to attend the old one.
Superintendent E. A. Gross of the reservation, stating the matter did not come under federal jurisdiction, advised them to take up a collection, hire an attorney, and let the district court settle the matter.
Indians were given citizenship by a congressional act passed presidential order in 1924. But the de facto constitution denies them citizenship although the state's attorney general ruled the president's order had precedence over the state constitution.

ROWE NEARS PITCHING RECORD WITH 15TH WIN FOR DETROIT

TIGER ACE GETS BOSTON VICTORY

Noods One Triumph to Equal League Mark; St. Louis Defeats Yankees

By United Press
 NEW YORK, Aug. 22 (AP)—Detroit's national crackup, in which the Tigers were to fold up like the one-man army and lay the low card for the Yankees to march to the American league championship, has again been put off for a few days, due to a series of incidents in Boston.

Chief was the appearance of "Schoolboy" Rowe, the soon-to-be 15th game in a row yesterday while the Yankees were suffering a lapse in the presence of the St. Louis Browns. New York now in five and a half games behind the non-crack-upping Detroiters.

Crying Need
 The crying need of a Detroit crackup, as far as an immediate rival was concerned, can be seen from a glance at the record of the last three weeks of play. When the Yankees came here late in 1937, they were fairly observed that the moment had come. Detroit was going to flop, and the heat of the Tiger adversity in Cleveland, Boston and New York would be the permanent burden among them.

Detroit promptly took Cleveland, Boston and New York the way a trained team takes a herring. They made the Indians four straight, slugged down the Yankees three out of five, and yesterday they would up on the Red Sox, three out of four. A bit of finger fumbling will reveal that they have won ten out of thirteen games.

7-0—handful against their toughest opposition. It begins to look as if the Yankees and the others will have to wait until next season.

Near Record
 The "Schoolboy" needs only one more win to tie the American league mark of 18 games in a row, held by Joe Wood, "Lefty" Grove and Walter Johnson. The old-time pitcher, who won 17 games for the Yankees and Hank Greenberg, who cracked honora. Detroit won, 8-4.

Ray Pepper's three singles and double helped the Brown pile up a winning lead, and they stayed off a blistering Yankee rally in the ninth to win, 8-6, in spite of Lou Gehrig's thirty-eighth and thirty-ninth home runs, poked in the first and ninth innings.

Cleveland took advantage of six passes in the ninth inning, delivered by Boston, Cincinnati and Cain, to run up nine runs and take the game from the Philadelphia Athletics, 12-1.

Club Lead
 Chicago's Cubs took a chance to top a game off the Giants' lead, dropping a 6-1 decision to the Phillies, while New York contributed three errors to help Cincinnati win, 4-3.

St. Louis continued to press the leaders, moving up to within three points of the second place Cubs by taking the last of the series with Boston, 8-2. The Cardinals pitched the game, allowing seven hits.

Brooklyn made it three out of four in Pittsburgh, driving off two Pirate pitchers—Larry French and Hal Smith—in they won, 9-5.

LEADS HUSTLING TIGER CREW

The siege gun of the Detroit Tigers' pitching staff is Edwin "Schoolboy" Rowe, above, who, in addition to taking his regular turn on the mound, fills in at relief roles and pinch hits a home run every now and then. Rowe is the Tigers' leading pitcher.

Speer's Wins in Donkey Clash as Throngs Roar

"Donkey soft ball" made its hilarious bow here last night before a throng of several thousand persons at Lincoln field. It was the first of a benefit series for the Junior Chamber of Commerce's Major City Club.

The crowd howled as stubborn donkeys tossed their athletic heads over heads, and shuffled on the soft ball, attempted more or less successfully to guide their diminutive steeds around the regulation bases.

Speer's Win, 9-6
 When the smoke of battle cleared away, Speer's held a 2-0 victory over Fletcher Oil by dint of (a) guiding (b) shuffling (c) pushing (d) pulling and (e) pulling more donkeys around the diamond.

The first three innings kept the game in an open, both teams worked considerably harder than the donkeys in having the teams to play bases, to go in the general direction of batted balls and to stand still at the right times. Most of the standing still came in the wrong times when players swayed, wobbled, doled legs, and fanned, and fanned up in place.

Classic News Day
 Johnny Ford did a classic move: dive out in right field to start matters. Martin Craft, 100-odd pounds, and looking bigger than his donkey, was next starting after a fly ball and promptly performing several loops to the ground. Burr Denning and Jerry Smith found that when a donkey's head goes to the ground, so does the rider. Immediately, Husky John Nye, uttering vigorous remarks, argued long and vigorously in defense of his donkey, and the players so far have certainly sacrificed their personal aggrandizement for the good of the whole team.

College Football Aces Hard At Work for Tilt With Chicago Bears

By United Press
 WASHINGTON, Ill., Aug. 22 (AP)—Three famous football players—disposition, jealousy and over-confidence—failed to get herby on the All-American squad here at the Chicago arena, professional champion, at Soldier Field Aug. 31.

They have the spirit of a bunch of sophomores, commented Coach Noble Kizer, Purdue, on the unexpected occurrence of the collocation.

"It looks like they mean business," said Coach Jimmy Crowley, Fordham, and after the first scrimmage, in which All-American smashed All-American with no respect for size, reputation or fraternal allegiances.

Mid-Western Form
 "They were hitting like players in mid-western form in their first scrimmage," said Coach Dick Hanley, Northwestern.

All-star teams have been named because of the tremendous athletic ability of a few of the players. All-American players who wanted to run things their way. High-handed tactics won't get by with Kizer. The squad of 35 has plenty of good men for every position, and five star, more or less, would be named. Any player who seriously doesn't want to play hard football can turn in his suit now, he said. Kizer has announced that the All-American who they their names headlined from coast to coast last fall, have jumped right into the spirit of the game," said Kizer. "For one and all for one, that's the only way we have a chance against the Bears, and the players so far have certainly sacrificed their personal aggrandizement for the good of the whole team."

ROSS MAY LOSE, WARNS LEONARD

Asserts Jimmy McFarlin May Kick Barney If Champ Gets Cocky

By United Press
 NEW YORK, Aug. 22 (AP)—The Madison Square Garden popcorn cultivation society, to have a name to that daily gathering of managers, fighters, promoters, boxing writers and other non-essentials in Jimmy McFarlin's office, was entertained at tea-time yesterday by Barney Leonard, a fellow who used to be a bit of a trouble maker.

"Barney Leonard, entertainment consultant of a moviegoer by Mister Leonard on Mister Leonard's corner is to the west of playing Barney Ross to kick Jimmy McFarlin in their return meeting early next month."

Here's Reason
 "I picked Barney to take Jimmy their first time out, see, but boys, I'm gonna take plenty of time before calling this next one. And I bet you guys never guess why I bet, I'll tell you 'cause Barney outplayed him the first time."

"Yes sir, because Barney kicked him, that's a funny reason, isn't it? Well, it ain't funny at all. It's the truth. You know I used to fight a little myself, and I know how shipping a guy, especially a kid, it gets me cocky as hell."

"Now I ain't saying, Barney is going to get that way, and I hope he doesn't see 'cause I'd like to see him win, but he's liable to. And if he does, well, he's liable to wind up clobbering a herring. That McFarlin is nobody to get funny with. I fought him, see, and I know."

"Yeah," somebody broke in, "and Jimmy is poison on second shots. Lots of guys whipped him the first time only to get their heads knocked off the second."

"That's right," continued Mister Leonard, "was Mister Leonard, then going to pick McFarlin."

"Now I ain't saying that I ain't picked anybody yet. I picked against Ross is risky business. Remember he fought the most perfect fight against McFarlin in their first meeting. I ever saw of anybody else ever since. If he fights like that in September he'll win again. But I was a kid once, and like Barney I was a champion when I was a kid. And I know how hellbilly cocky you get. It's a good way to be, but once in a while it gets your head knocked off."

By United Press
 Seattle's ball-playing Indians, who went on the warpath in the Walter (Dutch) Rother took command of the tribe, held undisputed possession of first place today in the Pacific coast league.

The Indians held on to their lead over Los Angeles, who faltered in the neck-to-neck drive toward the pennant and lost the opening game of the new series to the Oakland yesterday. Seattle was due, traveling toward Hollywood for a doubleheader.

Only Five Hits
 Woe Willie Ludwig, Oakland's highest winner in 1933, shut out the Angels, giving them only five hits and stretching the Oaks' winning streak to seven straight. The loss was the first since the Oakland club's invasion of California by defeating the Mission Reds, 3-1. Hal Turpin pitched outright ball, letting the Reds down with seven hits, while his own collected 12.

Sam Gibson pitched the San Francisco Seals to a 4-1 win over Sacramento. The Seals staged two-run rallies in the fourth and seventh innings to back up Gibson's four-hit pitching.

McCLUSKEY HEALTH CAMP

One of the highly worthwhile projects which has been carried on in this county is the McCluskey health camp which has just completed its summer season.

Fifty-nine children of varying ages from this section shared in the benefits of the project which is maintained by the Idaho State Anti-Tuberculosis association, with most of the revenue derived from the sale of Christmas seals. In addition, many clubs, business firms and individuals lent needed assistance, and parents of several of the children paid fees to defray the cost of maintenance.

Notable gain in the health and weight of the participating youngsters was recorded, and the systematic care provided doubtlessly has started a large proportion of the youths back to the road to health and happiness.

The project is one of the few such in the state. It has demonstrated its usefulness and has brought distinct credit to its sponsors and all those who in any measure contributed to its success.

Wonder if we could get some of that grass which Mr. Hoover said would grow in American streets to use as an old-fashioned bookmark in Mr. Hoover's new book?

BACK WOODS

Evidence that there are many other counties in the state besides Twin Falls needing a revamping of election law compliance is seen in the fact that with the primaries a week old, there is no way of telling definitely just who is to be the Republican nominee for Congress.

If each and every election board had followed the law which says "no adjournment or intermission whatever shall take place until the polls shall be closed, and the votes counted, AND THE RESULT PUBLICLY ANNOUNCED," there would not now be this uncertainty.

Not in Twin Falls county, but in numerous counties throughout the state it is said that election officials locked the tally books with the ballots and went home, leaving it to the county and state canvassing boards to determine the several winners.

Imagine your anxiety if you were a candidate, having to wait two or three weeks after election to know whether you were nominated.

Apparently, Heber Q. Hale, Boise, has been the winner for the Republican nomination for Congress, but he does not know, and cannot start his campaign until he does know. He may find when the canvassing boards are through that he was defeated.

It makes no particular difference who the candidates involved happen to be. It might have been most or all of the state and congressional candidates, except for the alertness of most of the election board members, who obeyed the regulations, announced the result and transmitted the information to sources where the vote properly could be tabulated.

While the state legislature is spending its time on other legislation this winter, it might well give thought to speeding up the election machinery so that Idaho will not have to be branded as "back-woods" in this regard.

WINTER RELIEF

WASHINGTON—The FERA announced in a white paper the other day that 40,000 women would be put to work immediately on 250,000 acres of government cotton to make raw government mattresses for the needy.

It has been working the same trick from time to time, making comforters, bed linen, clothing, shoes, canned fruits, vegetables, etc.

The announced fact is that it is now employing about a million people in this partially self-supporting work relief scheme. That means approximately one-tenth of the federated relief already is being handled in this way.

But, what is more important, the matter now is, in that these experiments have been so successful, they probably will be made the basis for the coming winter relief program.

PLAN

There are two phases to the FERA. One is known to have worked out satisfactorily for training and possibly quodding their activity in this respect.

It could not become a complete substitute for the CWA dole system, used last winter and abandoned (officially but not actually) last spring, but it would cut down monstrously the amount of money to be doled out this coming winter.

There is no dispute about the practical value of the thing. The FERA has been successful in putting plus raw materials and labor to work and finished products. It is practical to have them work at producing these raw materials for themselves.

BEACH CLUB GIRL

CHAPTER I A

JOHNIE drove her home again. She found her mother, a thin, intellectual woman, early gray hair pulled back from her brow, sitting at the table.

"Daddy! Linda come!"

"That innocent creature!" Mrs. Baeburn frowned intently, putting a chair to the table.

"She called to say she had the headache. But there's a wedding on at the colored church this afternoon. I saw it when I was driven over to the farm for eggs. . . . That's where she is."

Doota dawdled into the kitchen, touching things idly, carrying in a plate of bread, dressing, she had never been taught to do anything around the house. There had been a succession of maids, fat, lean, energetic, busy, all through her childhood and young girlhood. She knew how to make sandwiches for her tea parties, how to make lemonade. Beyond that she spent little time in the kitchen.

"Daddy late tonight?"

"I don't know. He said he'd call when he got to the station."

The Baeburns had an ancient sedan which served as station wagon.

"Well, I suppose he'll be forgiven. It must be hot in town," commented the girl, absently, choosing a celery tidbit from the relish tray and munching it.

"Daddy! You'll ruin your dinner."

The telephone rang and Doota did to answer it. It might be Hardy. . . . It might be anything. At 18 the telephone in a middle class, connecting one with multiple worlds, infinite possibilities. Her voice sounded only faintly disappointed.

"Oh, Daddy? Yes, coming right down to get you."

Mr. Baeburn was on the platform as she toiled the big, shabby car into place. He climbed in, his old panama in his hand, and patted his daughter's cheek languidly.

"Terrible day?"

"Terrible!" Doota agreed brightly. "Want to get in a swim before dinner?"

"I don't think so. Too tired," He sighed, deeply.

Doota was conscious of a momentary and instantly quelled feeling of impotence. Daddy was always tired. It held her an effort and go down to the beach, have a swim, feel her better. Thus 18 observed it.

OPERATIONS

In one state, there is supposed to be an experimental government clothing manufacturing project under way, although you cannot tell just what about it. She has been heard to say that it will be tried again, but that work will have to be adapted to other manufacturers.

Several small clothing factories have been set up, and the work of making comforters and bed linen out of cotton surplus is proceeding rapidly by direct action.

The government's heavy purchases of cattle and hogs will certainly put it into the next business in a big way shortly. The work which is being done will be handled under contracts with the private packers.

Clyde Pangborn, Trans-Pacific Pilot, Teams With Col. Roscoe Turner

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22 (AP)—Clyde Pangborn, long distance pilot, and Col. Roscoe Turner, noted speed pilot, were teamed today to "place America first" in the London to Melbourne air race next October.

Pangborn announced the partnership. He said they will race as co-pilots of a twin motor Boeing transport plane.

The distance specialist of the combination three years ago piloted a plane from Japan to Seattle, a 4877-mile hop, the first crossing unaided of the Pacific. The feat won him the 1931 Harmon trophy.

Turner is more noted for his speed than for his record in cross-country flights.

Approximately 520,000,000 people are used in England every week.

WINTER RELIEF

WASHINGTON—The FERA announced in a white paper the other day that 40,000 women would be put to work immediately on 250,000 acres of government cotton to make raw government mattresses for the needy.

It has been working the same trick from time to time, making comforters, bed linen, clothing, shoes, canned fruits, vegetables, etc.

The announced fact is that it is now employing about a million people in this partially self-supporting work relief scheme. That means approximately one-tenth of the federated relief already is being handled in this way.

But, what is more important, the matter now is, in that these experiments have been so successful, they probably will be made the basis for the coming winter relief program.

PLAN

There are two phases to the FERA. One is known to have worked out satisfactorily for training and possibly quodding their activity in this respect.

It could not become a complete substitute for the CWA dole system, used last winter and abandoned (officially but not actually) last spring, but it would cut down monstrously the amount of money to be doled out this coming winter.

There is no dispute about the practical value of the thing. The FERA has been successful in putting plus raw materials and labor to work and finished products. It is practical to have them work at producing these raw materials for themselves.

OPERATIONS

In one state, there is supposed to be an experimental government clothing manufacturing project under way, although you cannot tell just what about it. She has been heard to say that it will be tried again, but that work will have to be adapted to other manufacturers.

Several small clothing factories have been set up, and the work of making comforters and bed linen out of cotton surplus is proceeding rapidly by direct action.

The government's heavy purchases of cattle and hogs will certainly put it into the next business in a big way shortly. The work which is being done will be handled under contracts with the private packers.

The main point about it all is that the federal government is driving the government more or less reluctantly into expansion of these endeavors, and the expansion has only begun.

ECONOMY

The trade move to effect further economies in governmental operations this fall are proceeding as fast as government can get the word of publicity about them.

The mounting administration, which only got started a few weeks ago, has already resolved upon to "cut out" and "eliminate" to be done.

This is the beginning of the strenuous effort President Roosevelt is making to get the most budget out of the least possible money for Congress in January.

STRIKE

The strike, called for September 1st by the same one General Johnson thought he settled a few months ago, has been postponed down from September 1st to September 15th. The union leaders were told that the government would let the workers strike for a while. Now orders have picked up, so the unions have chosen this time for a showdown. They may have the 300,000 union

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

THE WEASEL'S FUR DOES NOT TURN WHITE IN WINTER. THE CHANGE IS MADE BY THE MOLTING PROCESS.

THE NEST OF THE RIDER DUCK, LINED WITH DOWN FROM THE DUCK'S BREAST, KEEPS THE EGGS AS MUCH AS 28 DEGREES WARMER THAN THE SURROUNDING AIR.

THE MOON'S POSITION

IN THE HEAVENS HAS NO RELATION TO THE WEATHER. THE MOON'S POSITIONS ARE UNIFORM, AND CAN BE COMPUTED FOR CENTURIES AHEAD.

The moon follows a set course, just as does the sun, and there is no such thing as a "cold moon," as it is popularly called when far to the north. When the sun is far to the south, the moon travels a northern course. When summer comes, the moon swings off to the north.
