Four Million Back on Job, Business Profits Boosted, Richberg Tells Roosevelt

Schall Renews F. D. R. Attack

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—

Sen. Thomas D. Schall, R-Minn., demonstrated today that he considered his attack on President Roosevelt for fostering a "closed incident" today by issuing a new and even more fiery charge.

He addressed another letter to the White House, 11 was in response to a blunt letter from the President in which Mr. Roosevelt had considered the matter a "closed incident," because Schall replied with a "disparaging" charge letter when the President asked him for evidence to back up a charge that the administration planned to set up a national premium service.

Schall declared the administration had by various devices sought to place a curb on the press and that it controlled "the business office of the press by government intervention of $1,000,000,000 in the preferred shares of over 6,000 banks without the credit support of which the publication of a great daily newspaper, or even a magazine and book publishing enterprise having national circulation, would be a business impossibility."

NEW DEAL GAINING IN FIGHT, SURVEY SHOWS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—

Donald R. Richberg today presented President Roosevelt with a chart of employment and business gains under the New Deal showing that the first 16 months had put 4,120,000 persons back to work and boosted business profits.

The campaign year summary of NRA and PWA benefits showed the unemployment but the was far from won but reported that:

1. NRA shorter-hour codes provided 2,200,000 jobs.

2. New jobs from March, 1933, to the creation of NRA aggregated 1,800,000.

3. PWA projects are providing employment for 625,000 persons but these were not definitely allocated to nor excluded from the foregoing 4,120,000.

Payrolls Gain 4. Manufacturing payrolls increased from $96,000,000 in June, 1933, to $132,000,000 in June, 1934.

6. Composite profits rose from a deficit figure of 6.9 in the first quarter of 1933 to a profit figure of 33.2 in the second quarter of 1934.

7. Approximately 95 per cent of all industrial workers are covered by NRA codes providing higher wages and shorter working hours.

8. Ninety-nine out of every 100 counties has at least one PWA project.

9. Living costs have gone up slightly faster than the industrial worker's pay.

10. Industry was employing 40,180,000 persons in June of this year.

Business Industry The report dealt with industrial unemployment relief through private enterprise (NRA), and public works. It was prepared by Richberg as secretary of the executive council.

Richberg in the report was announcement that PWA Administrator Harold L. Ickes has recommended legislation to continue PWA at least until 1937. That is two years beyond the date set by Mr. Roosevelt for the country to begin living within its income.

Ickes has $35,000,000 left of his $3,300,000,000 appropriation.

First of Series Today's report is the first of seven for presentation to Mr. Roosevelt by mid-September as the congressional campaign enters its final stage. The reports, providing New Deal candidates with ammunition, will present agricultural relief; relief of financial pressure; advance in public services; administration services; and promotion of foreign trade.

The employment statistics of various agencies are not correlated and the aggregate of new jobs listed is well above 5,300,000.

Labor Income Up Labor income, the national income was reported up from $8.9 in June, 1933, to $25.9 in June, 1934. Richberg said June living costs were up 10 per cent.

4,000,000 JOBS UNDER NEW DEAL

Business Profits Show Gain Through NRA, Richberg Tells Roosevelt

Business profits increased 0.8 per cent while the weekly wage increased only 0.5 per cent.

"Therefore," he concluded, "the average manufacturing worker's purchasing power remained practically unchanged, although by shortening hours he shared his work with new employees, without an individual loss in real wages."

The work week in all industry had been reduced to 37 hours a week to an average of 37 hours. Average wages increased 26 per cent to 55.3 cents per hour. Richberg claimed the wage increase was mainly due to the codes.

The American Federation of Labor membership was estimated to have increased by 2,000,000. The number of trade associations of employers more than doubled.

Richberg's report was based on material from various federal agencies.

NRA Dominant Factor

"The exact contribution of NRA to this industrial recovery," he said, "cannot be estimated statistically. But the coincidence of business improvement with the NRA codification and the obvious direct effects . . . demonstrate the dominant influence of NRA in this industrial advance."

Richberg cited three industries as clearly revealing code benefits. They were:

1. Bituminous coal: by argumentation from 10 cents a ton to $1 without material advance in coal prices, the largest (east Texas) coal production of 1934 being brought under control. The oil boom was tempered by the strictness of the code may depend on pending litigation.
2. Automobile industry: increased security of employment; expansion of purchasing power; tremendously increased production and sales.
3. Oil industry: crude oil prices increased from 10 cents a barrel to $1 without material advance in gasoline prices, the largest (east Texas) coal production of 1934 being brought under control. The oil boom was tempered by the strictness of the code may depend on pending litigation.

PENDLETON EYES FAMED ROUND-UP

Dragon City Hoping to Offer Largest Western Event In Its History

PENDLETON, Ore., (AP)—Pendleton hopes to hold its largest Round-Up Sept. 15, 16 and 17, 1934, celebrating its 25th "silver jubilee" year.

The Round-Up came into being in 1910, born of the enthusiasm of a group of young ranchers and cowboys, and gained immediate popularity in 20 years by bringing visitors from all parts of the world to see its accurate portrayals of the life of the old west.

Colorful events of the Round-Up include the rodeo and the "round-up" of the saddle and lariats are settled in its big arena. The Round-Up still is more distinguished for its colorful pageantry and historical presentations.

Of recent years it has become apparent that the backbone of the Round-Up association has been men, now growing old, who started the show in 1910. This year a new generation of "green hands" Round-Up "Top Hands," has been formed, pledging members to perpetuate the Round-Up through the next quarter of a century. Boys of 10 years are eligible to enter as "green hands."

Through proficiency in horsemanship, roping and general knowledge of the old west, they advance to become "wranglers" and are assigned the maintenance of the Round-Up board. At 15 a select few become "top hands" and are able to do any of the difficult tasks which arise in connection with the staging of the big annual event.

Parade Sept. 14

The Westward 100 parade of historic buckboards, pack trains, covered wagons and characters of the early west will be held Sept. 14. "Happy Canyon," the night pageant enacted by 300 full-blooded Indians, will be staged each night.

MOTHER KILLS 2 CHILDREN, SELF

"Kindest Thing," Says Seattle Woman in Note Left At Missoula

MISSOULA, Mont., Aug. 27 (AP)—Police here today sought the mother who had slain her two children and committed suicide.

The Jefferson body of Mrs. Knowles, an eight-year-old son and a 10-year-old daughter were found yesterday in the gas-choked kitchen of a Missoula apartment.

Police said they found a note reading: "This is the kindest thing I could possibly do for these children of mine. You couldn't understand."

Note to Husband

It was signed Mrs. A. L. Knowles and was addressed to E. W. Knowles at 1310 Airport way, Seattle.

Knowles manages a Seattle ice machine company. Missoula officials were unable to contact him yesterday, but were informed that he married Mrs. Knowles about a year ago.

Investigators said Mrs. Knowles and her two youngsters stopped at Missoula, en route from Seattle to Kansas City, and rented an apartment.

The mother put the slippy boy and girl to bed on a mattress directly in front of a kitchen stove, sealed all air vents in the room, turned on the gas, and lay down to die, according to police.

EXPLORING TREK ABANDONS RADIO

Wentley Sportsman and Party Dump Equipment as Means of Saving Weight

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., (AP)—Exploring great difficulties in the 100-day trek through uncharted mountain regions, the $100,000 Hedux "thrill expedition" has been forced to abandon its radio equipment, and for a month or so will be out of communication with the outside world.

At the end of the northern telegraph line, Charles E. Hedux, multi-millionaire French sportsman who heads the Hedux expedition, has decided to abandon its radio equipment, and for a month or so will be out of communication with the outside world.

Reports from Hudson Hope and the territory northwest of that point indicate that heavy rains will plunge impassable conditions in the path of the expedition.

The advance guard of men cutting a road through dense undergrowth and timber has run into difficulties in the wild upper Finlay country, west of Redfern lake. Hudson Hope residents predict the expedition "will never make it."

Hedux heads a party of 30 men and three women, traveling via tractor and on foot from Edmonton to the Pacific's shore in British Columbia.

SHOOTS SISTER HELD BY POLICE

Lawrence Oles Finds Blooper "Snoozing" Peacefully in Establishment

"When Lawrence Oles, best store proprietor, opened his establishment today this morning he was surprised that he had an uninvited guest snoozing on a seat on the floor of the place."

The man turned out to be Harry Carter, 30, Los Angeles, who had gained entrance through a rear entrance sometime during the night. When Oles discovered him, Carter was snoozing peacefully, so the proprietor asked two men in the grill crew to guard the rear entrance, while a phone call was placed to the police.

It developed that Carter was sought by patrolmen last night. They saw a man running in the alley at the rear of the store, but were unable to locate him, after cruising the block in a car, and searching with flash-light.

The theory is that Carter in his fright climbed through the window of the rear entrance, and by officers to have been suffering from the effects of drugs, and talked incoherently. He is being held.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

FOR YEARS, PORPOISES WERE A FAVORITE FISH DAY FOOD IN EUROPE... THEN SCIENCE DISCOVERED THAT THEY WERE NOT FISH AT ALL, BUT MAMMALS.

IT IS ESTIMATED THAT THERE ARE MORE THAN TWO TRILLION TONS OF ACCESSIBLE COAL LEFT IN THE PRINCIPAL COAL FIELDS OF THE U.S.A.

MOUNT OLYMPUS, IN GREECE, WAS BELIEVED BY THE ANCIENT GREEKS TO HAVE BEEN THE HOME OF THE GREEK GODS.

Present generations need have little fear of seeing the coal fields depleted. It is estimated that about 350,000 square miles of the U. S. is underlain with workable coal. The greatest production of coal in a single year in the U. S. was in 1918, when 678,000,000 tons were produced.

NATION WATCHES CALIFORNIA VOTE

Hectic Primary Battle Faces California Democratic Voters

Democrats Have Opportunity To Give Weight to Party. Re-alignment Move

Radiol Platform

Sinclair directed a bounding campaign. Goals published today to hear his speech. His platform calls for:

1. Creation of agricultural colleges, industrial colleges and a new type of university.
2. Report of state income tax and substitution of state income and inheritance taxation.
3. Old age, disability and widows' pensions.
4. He said that program will abolish poverty by putting the problem to work in the colonies to support themselves.

White House Sited

George Creel, war time director of public information, and J. Edgar Hoover, original California Democrat for president, are opponents of Sinclair. The White House has kept hands off, although an opportunity to check Sinclair would be welcome. But endorsement of Creel would offend Wardell and help for Wardell would antagonize the McAdoo state machine. Sinclair, in conceding a large slice of votes.

Except for the Socialist threat, California Democrats are largely state registration for the first time in preponderantly Democratic—a holdover of the anti-Hoover sentiment of 1932. SACRAMENTO, Cal. (Special).—One of the most complex political fights in California history will have its initial round Aug. 28, when the electorate nominates candidates for governor, the United States Senate and 120 state positions.

It is a sure sign that W. J. Johnson assumed a Republican and strong support from the Democrats, interest in the primary has centered upon the gubernatorial contest at which 13 candidates are participating.

Johnson has changed almost overnight. Democratic registration in this Republican stronghold has increased until it nearly equals the Republican vote. Eight parties have qualified for the election. More candidates than ever before have entered the field. Democratic outnumber 10 primaries in nearly every county.

Split Party

Republicans found themselves in an unusual position in California. They almost had the governorship clinched, but they have been able to organize in support of one or two strong candidates. But the party was split over the nomination of the William G. McAdoo-Johnson-Wardell ticket. Nine candidates qualified for the nomination. Two later withdrew.

Out of that lot, Upson Sinclair, Democratic for the second time, looked as the strongest. His following, in view of the divided field, was believed large enough to win him the nomination unless a change develops before the primary.

Blessed by Party

Efforts were made by Senator McAdoo and his followers to throw support behind George Creel, former divisional N.E.A. supervisor and wartime propagandist for President Wilson. Politicians saw in Creel the only hope of defeating Sinclair. Party gave Creel a personal blessing. Senator McAdoo called upon all loyal Democrats to support him.

Meanwhile, Wardell, veteran race and party needs feared he and Creel, together with four other candidates, would split the vote so much that Sinclair would win the nomination.

The Republican fight, though intense, lacked some of the confusion and aspects of the Democratic race.
