LONG'S MACHINE TRIUMPHS OVER LOUISIANA FOES

Liberals Wing of Colorado's Democrat Party Defeated In Primaries

ASHURST, GREENWAY WIN

Schwellenbach Gets Bourbon Lead in Washington As G.O.P. Picks Odlin

By United Press
Rovers for the liberal wing of the Democratic party, Colorado and triumphed over Sen. Huey P. Long's machine in Louisiana topped the political bill today as primary election returns were counted in eight states.

Miss Josephine Roche, pro-union mine owner and zoologist of national prominence, was defeated in Colorado by Gov. Edwin C. Johnson who was renominated to that office.

Sen. Edward P. Costigan, D., Colo., one-time Bull Moose progressive, backed Miss Roche, who campaigned on a platform of "economic security for all." She defeated Johnson had refused to cooperate with the New Deal.

Johnson Defeats Blaine
Olin D. Johnson, youthful lawyer who started his career in the textile mills and was known as a union leader, won the Democratic nomination for governor in South Carolina over Col. Blaine, former governor and U.S. senator. Nomination is equivalent to election.

Sen. Henry F. Ashurst, Democrat, who has represented Arizona in the senate ever since the state came into the union, won renomination over four opponents. Rep. Isabella Greenway, close friend of the Roosevelt family, was renominated.

In Washington Lewis Schwellenbach, State attorney, and New Deal advocate, appeared to have won the tight six-cornered contest for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator.

Reno Odlin, Olympia, banker, was the choice of the Republican voters for the post. U.S. Senator C. C. Dill did not seek re-election.

Overturns Early Lead
Schwellenbach in late returns overcame the early lead. Seattle and Tacoma districts had given John C. Stevenson, self-styled (Continued on Page 2, Column 5)

As Death Ship Survivors Were Given First Aid

Ironically, it was a firehouse that became the haven of survivors of the Morro Castle conflagration who reached Spring Lake, N. J. The community turned its firehouse into a temporary hospital, where rescued passengers and crew from the burning liner were given first aid. Townspeople can be seen as they ministered to injured and exhausted persons lying on stretchers. In other cases New Jersey women opened their homes to provide shelter and warmth for the exhausted persons delivered on the beach by the surf and life boats.

SUICIDE EFFORT FAILS FOR COLORFUL AVIATOR

Levine Revived After Seeking Death By Gas

By JAMES C. AUSTIN

NEW YORK, Sept. 12 (UPI)— Charles A. Levine, whose undraped individuality carried him from rags to riches and front-page publicity in the sensational flying hysteria of 1932, was down at last in the kitchen of a friend's home today and turned on five gas jets.

Not long before dawn, when the friend found him, the man who once hired Clarence Chamberlain to fly him from New York to Europe lay face downward across the table. He was unconscious.

At his elbow were three notes, written in ink. One said "forgiveness of his friend, A. J. Walter."

Drained Fatigue

Like many of Levine's more spectacular enterprises, the drama of the scene in the Walter's kitchen failed at the last moment. Walter called police. An ambulance physician and two policemen brought oxygen tanks and an inhalator and revived him.

Levine's case, in recent years, has been downcast from the high which he attained in the late twenties by building a fortune of several million while dealing in war-time junk and then turning to more hazardous and publicity-inviting ventures in the field of aviation and romance on an international scale.

Hectic Career

Accalim by huge crowds, thrill in the air (he once stole his own plane) and made a weird, death-defying flight from Paris to London before he became a pilot, great wealth, an association with Mabel Boll, famous beauty, court intrigues, even arrest on forgery charges, were all high points in the life of Levine.

But recently, when he had al-

VICTORY BOOSTS HUEY'S STATURE

Long Assumes Added National Significance as Result Of Triumph

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 12 (UPI)— Sen. Huey P. Long became a figure of greatly increased national significance today as a result of his spectacular victory over the local political machine in yesterday's primary.

The fight was not over. The old regulars in control of the New Orleans for several decades, were believed planning litigation on the grounds that Long's election commissioners counted the vote.

Long brought in the state militia, seized the office where voters are registered, scratched some 25,000 allegedly illegal registered voters. His two congressmen won renomination and his candidates for the supreme court and the public service commission also won.

By strengthening his position at home the "Widow" is now free to embark on any ambitious endeavor which he may choose to attempt nationally. Long already has the nucleus of a national movement in his "share-the-wealth" plan.

Peaceful Election

Despite the presence of the militia and the bitterness of the pre-election campaign, it was the most peaceful election in New Orleans in many years.

Long won the city vote by a margin of several thousand over two others, a striking repeat of the mid-term elections last year, when his candidates trounced by more than 16,000.

The last election here in which Long's commissioners counted the ballot resulted in an investigation that showed only one correct count out of several thousand boxes.

Hale Faces Demand For Vote Recount

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 12 (UPI)— With his margin of victory shaved to a scant 1,200, out of a total of more than quarter-million votes cast in Monday's state election, U. S. Sen. Fredric Hale, Republican, today faced a demand to be demanded by his Democratic opponent, F. Harold Durbin.

While there actually was no change in the popular vote, Hale's margin of defeat was so small that he was recalled by his constituents to a hearing before the board of county commissioners conduct and two of three commissioners were asked to resign.

TIGERS FIGHT AGAINST CRACKUP IN FINAL 15-GAME STRETCH

BOSTON DEFEATS SCHOOLBOY ROWE

Yankees Gain Half Game By Splitting Double Bill; Giants Advance

By THERON WRIGHT

NEW YORK, Sept. 12 (UPI)—Climbing to a four-game lead over the Yankees as they head into the final 15-game stretch, the pace-setting Detroit Tigers are fighting against a crackup in their drive toward the finish of the 1934 flag race.

Luck, which held sway over "Mickey" Cochrane's Bengal Cats, seems to have deserted them, and oddly enough, at the same time it left "Schoolboy" Rowe, Arkansas rookie who equaled the American league mark of sixteen straight wins this year.

Detroit Slipping

Since the day the Arizonians scholar was driven off the field at Shibe park, Detroit has been moving backward.

The first real sign of a crackup were against Philadelphia, when the Athletes won two straight, Sept. 7. Two days later Rowe turned in a shaky 8-4 win, over the Red Sox, but yesterday he was beaten after the Tigers had fought back to a tie from a two-run deficit. New York failed to win its second game against St. Louis, which was all that saved Detroit from having its lead cut to three and a half games.

Rowe relieved Crowder in the eighth with Boston leading, but the Tigers gave him an even split with two in the ninth. Boston won in the eleventh, 4-3.

Yanke Deafe

The Yankees gained a half game by splitting with St. Louis. They won the first game, 7-4, staying off the Browns, only to lose the lead when Lefty Gomez relieved Johnny Groce. The Browns drove Johnny Allen off the hill in the second game, winning 7-3.

The Athletes avenged the series with Cleveland, 6-4. Roger Crimmins' home in the seventh decided the issue. Hal Tracy of the Indians got his 33rd home, setting an all-time mark for Cleveland.

Jimmy Dylks bunted the Chicago White Sox home against Washington, singling in the seventh with the sacks packed, to win 5-2.

The New York Giants, meaning white, picked up half a game on St. Louis and lead by four and a half. Bill Terry, Giant house-painter Joe Moore, and Hughie Gratz home in the eighth to give Parrotree a 3-1 win.

Cardinals Low

St. Louis succumbed to the slants of Sylvester Johnson, a former Cardinal employee, in a 5-0 shutout in the first game, but they took the Phils in the nightcap, 6-4. "Dizzy" Dean resuming the game in the sixth.

Brooklyn knocked off the Cincinnati Reds, 6-2, scoring four in the first in doubles by Chapman and Jordan and singles by Johnson and Strickland.

Hill Lee of the Chicago Cubs pitched a six-hit game against Boston, shutting out the Braves, 2-0. The win kept the Cubs seven behind the Giants.

BEAVER-SLUGGER HITS IN 38 TILTS

Bongiovanni Lands With Top Batsman of Loop Through Consecutive Streak

By United Press
Nino Bongiovanni, Portland outfielder, took a 38-game hitting streak into battle today.

"Quietly but steadily, 'Bongio' had been slapping the horseshoe for one or more safe hits in the last 38 games. His spurt boosted him into the first ten of the Pacific coast league hitters with a mark of 340 for games played up to yesterday. He still is far away from Joe Di Maggio's record of hitting safely in 56 consecutive games. The streak will be over before Bongio plays in sufficient games to threaten Joe's record.

Two Batted Out

Only two games were played in the circuit yesterday, with Portland-Hollywood rained out and Los Angeles-Oakland postponing their contest until Friday when it will form part of a doubleheader.

Seattle strengthened its hold on second place by defeating the Mission Reds, 7-3, in an uphill battle. The Missions scored all their runs in the second inning. Seattle kept pecking at the lead, and finally closed it out by scoring four in the seventh.

Sacramento fell on three San Francisco pitchers for 18 hits and a 14-2 victory. Salvo was the winning hurler.

THE BIG PUSH STARTS

HARD LUCK HITS CUBS, SENATORS

Chicago Regulars Play Intact Only Five Times During Entire Season

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

CHICAGO, Sept. 12 (UPI)—Notes from a big league press box:

The Cubans and Senators were the two hard-luck clubs of the year.

The Cubs had their first string lineup intact only five times during the season.

Mac Joe Cronin's fractured arm tapped off a lot of injured Washington players almost as never in the Cubs.

Pinky Whitney, Braves third baseman and former teammate of Chuck Klein, has the Cub's injured outfielder plenty angry for calling him "the world's highest priced fungo hitter."

Klein had a bad case of action for about two months and every time he tried to play his batting average dropped more.

He may not even hit .300 if he gets in many more games.

Several members of the Philly may,

Manager Gehrig makes it minute by not playing Klein in right field, which is easier for him to play.

Fal in Howe

Lon Warneke, Cub's pitcher who has beaten the Giants six times this year and lost only once to the Giants, says "Schoolboy"

Rowe will beat the Giants if he drives in good enough to mix with the fast ball and keep them from timing the latter.

Warneke, the Giants came when Ray Barnes, relief pitcher, hit a Homer with the bases loaded to beat him, 6-3.

American League

American League pitcher

picked to make the trip to Japan are threatening not to go unless they get a cut of the profits.

Babe Ruth will be given a share of the receipts, so the other players want something more than their expenses.

Heine Manush, Senators, who may win the American league battling crown, may he had rather hit in Canada than take the Fair Eastern trip unless he gets something out of it.

Ton Axtons

Ham Greenberg, New York boy who plays first base for the Tigers has been having trouble hitting in Yankee uniforms because he hasn't been able to card his handicap—before finding who should be paid—before finding who should be paid.

Good Strategy

"Well," suggested to Allison that he had been careful not to fall into Parker's trap.

That was all I needed to do.

Not once in the match did Allison give him an angled shot

when it wasn't absolutely necessary. Ninety-nine of every hundred balls he hit were right down the middle. And he wouldn't hurry."

Did Mr. Bentley think brads would win for Allison against Perry? After all, they had played five times and the Texan had never won, and only once was able to carry the brads home.

"Very. I do. Even though I'll have to admit that Perry is the greatest player in the world today. If I tried in a little bit off in one department,

I sincerely believe that Allison—the amateur tactician on the courts today—will ex-plot it to such a degree that a victory for him is entirely within reason."

I suggested a little bit.

"No, no bats. I never bat on boys. I've connected. I suffer enough during a match as it is.

I wouldn't like to add the troupe of money."

Chief Weapon

"Granted," said Mr. Bentley.

"All the things you mention were a great help. But they were not the chief weapon.

They earned the points, yes,

but it was the hand that guided them and made their deadly execution possible. Let me explain. Against Parker on Monday, Wood was a magnicant player. He couldn't miss.

Why? Because he is always out of sync. Not the ope-nate, but the closed, tight-wristed pitch.

Seattle's

Medica Toppled

Aquatic Record

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 12 (UPI)—The long-standing record of Johnny Weissmuller for the 250-yard free style passed into the possession of Jack Meekins, crack Seattle swimmer, last night when he splashed the distance in 2:38.6. Weissmuller's record was 2:37.

Another record went by the Swedes when Medica, feminine team, won the 400-yard medley relay in 4:10.8. The record was 4:11.6.

MANY SCIENTISTS BELIEVE FIRMLY THAT A TRIP TO THE MOON BY ROCKET IS A NOT FAR-DISTANT ACCOMPLISHMENT OF MAN.

GREAT SALT LAKE, UTAH, CONTAINS 5,000,000,000 TONS OF TABLE SALT!

Great Salt Lake is the result of the rattling of the earth's crust. In recent years, geologically speaking, the district now known as Utah sank several thousand feet, and the basin now occupied by the lake came into being. The lake, although covering 2000 square miles, has an average depth of only 15 feet.

FAMILY OF GIRL*DENIES ROMANCE

Desire for Career Produred Disappearance, Asserts Spokesman

IDAHOTIMES, Sept. 12, 1934

Desire for a career and not romance caused Virginia Maying Gates, 23, daughter of Thomas H. Gates, president of the University of Pennsylvania, to disappear, a spokesman for the family said today.

The family emphatically denied that she left her home here to forget a love affair.

Reporting details that Miss Gates was kidnapped, the spokesman said: "No threatening note or ransom letters have been received. We feel she just got bored with regular life and decided to go off on her own for a lark."

In reply to numerous requests for news of his daughter, Galo留下 this statement:

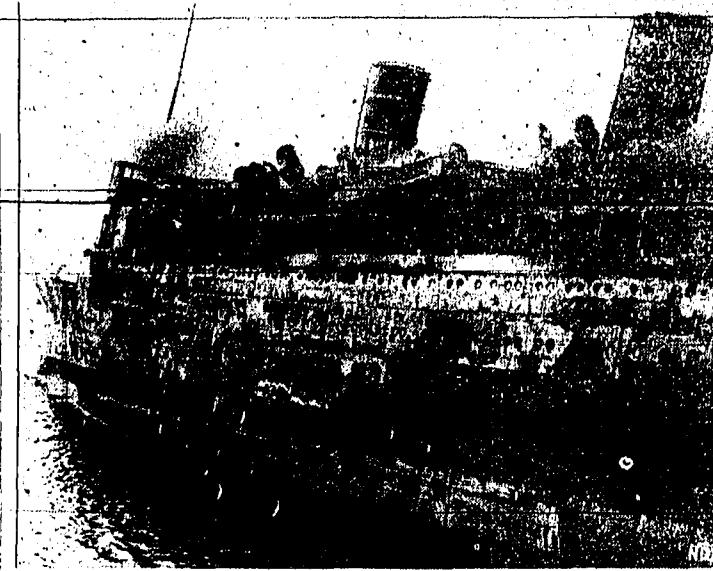

"My daughter has been seen at the ranch of Mr. and Mrs. John Dow, Coon, Wyo., the statement read. "She left there on Aug. 10 without notifying anyone of her intention to do so. When she was not heard from for several days we requested the United States department of justice to locate her. If possible,

"We ascertained through them that she had been in Rock Springs, Wyo., on Aug. 20, and that she was on her way home. We have heard nothing of her since that date."

$14,000 Spent for Repair of Cisterns

JEROME, Sept. 12 (Special) — More than $14,000 has been spent in Jerome county to date for labor and materials for cisterns under the emergency drought relief plan, a report of the office of the Jerome county agent showed today. An additional aid of $8,500 is expected soon to complete the work. Material enough to plaster 100 cisterns, if now on hand, are available for more than 400 cisterns. Over 120 have been completed to date.

"Of the $14,000, about $8,000 has been spent for local labor, and $6,000 for materials. A maximum of $50 is allowed for each cistern."

DISASTER'S FLAMING HAND BRANDS LINER'S HULL

It requires only a vivid imagination to reconstruct from this closeup of the Morro Castle's hull the tawdryness of the disaster that overtook it. Its metal plates are laid bare by flames that roared out of stateroom portholes and voraciously consumed the glistening paint that identified it as one of the best-maintained ships on the seas. The intensity of the flames that trapped passengers in their staterooms can be judged from the twisted and charred bulk of life-boats left hanging in their davits because the unbearable furnace heat made launching impossible.

BOARD APPROVES

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 12

C.P.—They may have been bold, bad-humored, but one, apparently, also won an oiled-out ham-hand with a grocery list.

Anyway, when the two men to put the store's cash in a sack,

Powell replied, "I'm not the one that steals in a bag of sweet pickles, too," added the robber.

With the pickles and $150 the pair then walked out.

Troopers Disperse Mob After Attack on Workers at Textile Mill

TRENTON, N.J., Sept. 12 (UPI)

Ten persons were injured when pickets clashed with textile workers at the damask teen and home mill here today. Twenty-six strikers responded to a riot call and quelled the disturbance.

More than 1,000 pickets surrounded automobiles bringing workers to the mill before daylight. Two of the machines were overturned and the occupants beaten and stoned.

Frank Marini of Philadelphia was the most severely injured. He was taken to the Montgomery county hospital. Others were given first-aid treatment for cuts and bruises.

Order was restored after the state police arrived. During the last 24 hours 17 persons have been arrested. A number were taken into custody after disorders at the mill yesterday and others were arrested after they allegedly went to the homes of workers, broke windows and stoned the dwellings.
