Washington Sees Chance of Election Lessened by Roosevelt

MERRIAM IS PREFERABLE

Administration Gives Obvious Hint of Distlike Against Candidacy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (UP)—Politicians believed today that Upton Sinclair's strength would dwindle under President Roosevelt's silent treatment of the former Socialist's California gubernatorial campaign.

Mr. Roosevelt has side-stepped several opportunities to boost Sinclair's plan to end poverty in California. The first occasion was when Sinclair's headquarters in Hyde Park immediately after the August primary which put him at the head of the California state ticket.

But evidence that the administration dislikes the Sinclair candidacy may well have been given when the election of F. E. Merriam, the Republican candidate, is too obvious to be ignored here. Politicians are predicting Sinclair will be defeated.

Guests were received by Mrs. Perrine, the hostess, and Mrs. E. K. Martin, Mrs. Ione Distill, and Miss Wanda Martin, mother and sisters of the bride. Miss Nedra Richins presented three piano solos, and Misses Georgea Burs, accompanied by their mother, Mrs. G. W. Burs, appeared in a group of tap dances. Later, dressed as Chinese laundriesmen, they brought in a huge laundry basket, decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums, filled with gifts. Room and table decorations completed the yellow and white scheme. Mrs. D. A. Wood and Mrs. A. C. Timm assisted Mrs. Perrine in serving. Others present included: Mrs. S. D. Perrine, Mrs. C. M. McMillan, Mrs. Ralph Taylor, Mrs. Charles Heppner, Mrs. Howard Smith, Mrs. Patrick Daly, and the Mesdames Alice Perrine, Helen Perrine, Vivian Wilson, Phyllis Gordon, Helen Taylor, Helen Vonberg, Helen Newman and Betty Vavrilica.

CARNIVAL SPIRIT PREVAILS AT M. I. A. BALL

Noise makers, grotesque Halloween balls and orange and black decorations emphasized the carnival spirit at the dance sponsored by the Mutual Improvement association in the Ward recreation hall last evening. Three hundred attended. Glen Baker's Night Hawks furnished music, playing against a background cleverly arranged as an autumn scene. A canopy of black and orange crepe paper covered the ceiling. Lights were encased in paper of the same shades, and a skeleton hanging in the center enhanced the spooky effect. Program numbers were presented by Mrs. Leo Johnson, Miss Lois Anderson, Miss Nedra Richins, Norman Bates, Miss Agnes Davis and Miss Marguerite Reese, and Clifford Tolmarch. Murtough Reed edited, dance decorations emphasized the carnival spirit at the dance sponsored by the Mutual Improvement association in the Ward recreation hall last evening.

URGES AID FOR DOMESTIC HELP

Leader of Women's Bureau Says Servants Should Get 'Break'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Domestic servants are entitled to the same legislative protection that work-ers in other vocations have been accorded, according to Marie Correll, Women's Bureau, Department of Labor.
"These women, numbering 1,400,000 or more, are not covered by maximum-hour laws in any state, and in only one state do they come under provisions of a minimum wage law, she said. Only two states accord them accident insurance.
No Standardization
Questionnaires filled out by 217 placement directors reveal that only 15 of those agencies require employers of adult domestics to meet certain standards for such agencies have such standards for workers of 21 or under.
"The wage for the adult domestic servants in these scattering standards ranges from $13 a month, board and room furnished in most cases. Hourly rates usually vary from 35 to 50 cents.
"Applicants for placements in-adequately difficult to obtain standards during a depression. Inexperienced girls and women turn to housework for a livelihood and accept any conditions for a job.
Overcrowded Labor
This overcrowding of the labor market results in a drop in employ-ment standards, lower pay and acceptance of bad living conditions, Miss Correll said.
Minimum standards for domestic servants proposed by the Women's Bureau include a maximum work week of 54 hours for workers living within the home; 48-hour week for those living elsewhere; one day of two half days of pay week for overtime; one week vacation with pay after one year of service; private room; accident insurance provided by the employer and an employment contract covering the working agreement.

Mayor of Ogden Gets His Laugh

OGDEN, Utah, Oct. 25.—Mayor Harry Hamman of Ogden rapidly is assuming his place among the ranks of individualistic mayors.
He sponsors wild, wild shows, accepts no bribes, and has paid the city's bonded indebtedness. He brought Max Baer to his city and exhibited him at so much a look. More profit for the city. And he is always willing to oblige.
Not long ago he announced motorists could park as long as they desired in the shopping district. He promised no traffic tickets would be issued, even though the same remained in one place day after day.
Merchants complained they had no shoppers were crowded out by employees and non-shoppers, who packed their cars all day long.
A Chamber of Commerce committee delivered the protest to "The Mayor." He said he would oblige them.
Next day there appeared show cards, captioned thusly:
"One hour parking. Two dollars, please. Retail merchants. Ogden Chamber of Commerce."
Mayor Hamman is not to be outdone. He was the limit. Fifty over-parkers were arrested the first day. Now car owners are beating the Chamber of Commerce, the mayor is chuckling.

Headmaster of Famous Kent School Sees 'Swap' as National Benefit

KENT, Conn., Oct. 25.—Exchange of students between United States and Britain would strengthen a bond of more intimate understanding and prove of incalculable value in the coming generation, according to Father H. H. Hill, founder and headmaster of Kent School.
"Father Hill is a foremost authority on international relations between youths of the two countries and with the first American schoolmaster to send a crew abroad to compete in the famous Henley Regatta on the Thames.
"From what I gather," he said, "the great hope for the future lies in a growing friendship between the two nations. We all fight, say of each other more or less and find it hard to agree on economic policies. When men sit around a conference table they start off with an attitude of antagonism and aloofness.
"One of my great hopes is to foster a friendship and an understanding between the boys and girls of Britain and our own country. There is no way of estimating how much value this might prove to have in the future when the boys of today become the statesmen of tomorrow."
By the next school year, he said, there will have been more than 100 British boys in this country for a full school year.
More than a thousand false fire alarms are sounded in New York City annually, according to a recent report from the fire commission.

TRAIN SETS NEW CONTINENT MARK

Bullet-Shaped Flyer Crosses Entire Nation in Less Than 57 Hours

Cheyenne, Wyo., when it was clocked at 120 miles an hour for two miles. One former mark of 115 miles an hour was set by a Philadelphia & Reading train in a sprint near Egg Harbor in 1904.

In England, the famous Cheltenham flier two years ago set a top speed of 92 miles an hour on a run from Swindon to London, covered at an average of 81.6 miles an hour.

Aboard the speed train when it arrived here were F. W. Churchill, chairman of the executive committee of the railroad; Carl R. Gray, president of the road; W. M. Joyce, executive vice president, and E. W. Robinson, traffic vice president, in addition to Harriman.

Among those greeting the train were F. W. Churchill, president of the New York Central, and R. E. Dougherty, vice president.

The train carried United States mail, the cars, strung together like huge hot dogs, were named E. H. Harriman, Abraham Lincoln, Oregon Trail and Coach Buffet.

The engineer apparently was delighted by the rate of the speed and could not hear questions shouted at him.

Chairman Harriman, chairman of the board of the Union Pacific system, expressed complete satisfaction with the performance of the train.

"I am very well satisfied," he said. "The train ran smoothly; there was no jerking on the curves and it had a splendid pickup."

Harriman said the train's economical performance was explained by the fact that it consumed but one gallon of crude oil for each 1.4 miles of travel. The oil used cost but four cents a gallon. He said there were minor details, such as slight vibration at high speed, which will have to be eliminated.

"We have a very satisfactory design," he said. "The train ran smoothly; there was no jerking on the curves and it had a splendid pickup."

News reel cameras faced him, and he started to tell about his experiences taking the train at 120 miles an hour on the long stretches of the western zone.

Suddenly he grew pale and fell to the station floor. Physicians were called and he was put in a wheel chair.

Observers had noticed that Robinson was deafened by the roar of his engines, and that he was unable to hear the first questions addressed to him as he climbed out of the car.

It was the long 57-hour grind, practically without sleep, that caused the severe strain. The excitement, the turbulence, the reception accorded him, caused him to break.

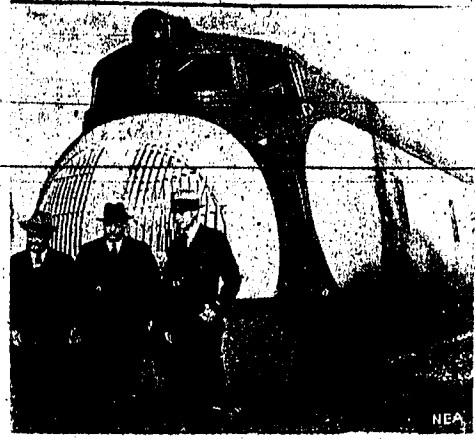

Robinson's running mate, O. J. Mitchell, said he believed the heat in the station was responsible.

"The car itself is always cool," he declared.

Robinson is assistant motor car supervisor for the entire Union Pacific system. He is a tall, rangy man, about 45 years old.

His car was revived, and taken to an office in the terminal.

SETS TRANSCONTINENTAL RECORD

Union Pacific's new streamlined bullet train smashed the transcontinental rail record by flashing from Los Angeles to New York in five minutes less than 57 hours. En route it set a new straightaway speed mark for fully-equipped trains, skimming over western prairie stretches at 120 miles per hour.

VIOLIN 'EX-GREAT' DIES IN POVERTY

Russel Rhinoldo, Once Famous Musician, Succumb in 'Charity Ward'

OAKLAND, N. M., Oct. 25 (AP)—Russel Rhinoldo, Italian violinist who studied under Paulic Brunet in Paris and built a fortune on the concert stage in the pre-war era, died yesterday in the charity ward of a California hospital with only his sister at his bedside.

Rhinoldo's was the story of a great artist broken by the war who spent his savings in an effort to restore his memory, lost during service with Italian troops, and then found himself out of step with the post-war world.

When the World War broke out, Rhinoldo had become a wealthy man and was acclaimed an outstanding violinist. He had appeared throughout the United States and in Europe.

He had retained his Italian citizenship, and he emigrated with the king's army. He became a lieutenant, served with distinction during the early years of the conflict.

Amnesia visited Rhinoldo but when the amnesia came, Rhinoldo was seeking a cure. Finally a surgeon removed a tumor from his brain with an electric needle in a delicate operation and his memory was restored.

He found then that he had been forgotten; his artistic unremembered. Comeback attempts failed, and he went, at 40, to live with his sister, Mrs. Edie M. Armstrong of Los Angeles.

Three weeks ago he started chat. He became ill at the transient camp in Gallup and was taken to the charity ward of the hospital. There his sister found him, a dying man who had no wish to live.

Junior Senator Terms New Deal Program Necessary To Halt Socialism

POCATELLO, Oct. 25 (AP)—New Deal legislation which Senator William E. Borah, R., Idaho, has criticized is necessary and has been recommended by the Harcourt administration, Senator James P. Pope, D., Idaho, declared here last night.

Idaho's junior senator answered the attack on the new charges of un-Americanism, bureaucracy, loss of liberty and regimentation during a Democratic rally.

"I am not a socialist," he said. "I am not a Communist. I am not a member of any of these organizations. I am a Republican. I am a conservative. I am a man of the people. I am a man of the West. I am a man of the United States. I am a man of the world."

SHOWY GANGLAND FUNERALS VANISH

Pomp, Splendor Disappear as Outlaw of Today Goes to Grave in Pine Box

Editor's Note: The following article, written by a veteran crime reporter, pictures the vanishing pomp that once embellished the funeral of a gangland chieftain. The writer, who chronicled the lives and deaths of many of them, tells of the decline of the "Roman holidays" as the gang funerals were once known.

By ROBERT T. LOUGHRAN
CHICAGO, Oct. 25 (AP) — The extravagant funerals which gangland gave its fallen leaders in the heyday of organized crime have vanished and the outlaw of today goes to his grave in a pine box.

The case of Charles "Proddy Boy" Floyd, latest of the notorious outlaws to die a violent death, is typical of the new era. Floyd's body, after a long journey from Cleveland, Ohio to his hometown for burial, was carried to the hands of federal agents without enough money in his pockets to pay for a funeral.

Dillinger had $8.42. John Dillinger, whose bloody career culminated in a Chicago gangster of prohibition times, had $8.42 in his pocket when federal agents shot him down in a north side alley.

The father, a quiet farmer of Mooreville, Ind., had no funds to provide a decent burial and finally consented to go on the sly to raise enough money for the undertaker's bill.

Dillinger's funeral, although it attracted gaping crowds, was stripped of ostentation and extravagance. There was no casket, a few waxy wreaths and a brief prayer.

Contrasted with these plain, poverty-stricken burials were the funerals of Chicago's gangland a decade ago.

$50,000 Farewell
Rivalling all others was that of Dion O'Bannion, who was shot down by gangster enemies in his floral shop in November, 1924. It was a $50,000 farewell, financed by the plentiful funds of the underworld.

There was a $10,000 bronze casket and heaping loads of flowers. The funeral place alone cost $750. Traffic was tied up for blocks, and in the march of mourners were politicians, city officials, racketeers and hoodlum killers.

The funeral of Frank Capone, brother of Alphonse "Scarface" Al Capone, in the early days of the prohibition era was the first spectacular funeral in Chicago. It was a $50,000 affair, financed by the plentiful funds of the underworld.

There were many of these "Roman holidays" — the funerals of Earl "Boss" Ladd, Tony Lombardi, Jack Zito and Big Tim Murphy.

But the public wearied of such "carnivals of mourning" and the gangs, finding themselves hard pressed by the agencies of the law, abandoned the showy affairs.

LENINGRAD WILL GET FLOOD WALL

Menace of Storm Overflows Will Be Eliminated by Giant Project

LENINGRAD (AP) — This city, which has suffered from periodic floods ever since it was built by Peter the Great, will have a century-long flood wall to protect it from the sea.

But now the Soviets propose to do what Peter neglected and to curb the water with concrete walls. The project will cost $100,000,000 and will be completed in 1937.

When this huge project is finished, the people of Leningrad will no longer be in danger from the sea. A railroad and a highway will bypass the dam.

HILLSIDE WHERE FLOYD AND AIDE BATTLED OFFICERS

The beginning of the end came for "Proddy Boy" Floyd, No. 1 desperado, on this bleak hillside in Cleveland, Ohio, when he and his companion, Adam Mitchell, discovered lying on a blanket in the underbrush the two federal officers, Capt. Fritz and two special policemen. Mitchell was captured and Floyd, wounded, escaped. Hotly pursued by hundreds of possemen and by federal agents, the Oklahoma outlaw eluded capture for two days, until he was shot down near Charleston, O., by department of justice men.

INDIAN'S WIDOW WINS SKIRMISH

Mrs. Barnett Taken First Victory in Fight for Slave in Wealth

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25 (AP) — Mrs. Anna Laura Lowe Barnett, widow of Jackson Barnett, once the world's richest Indian, yesterday won the first move in her latest attempt to share in Barnett's large estate when the district court of appeals denied a petition for summary judgment filed by her.

Mrs. Barnett also is contesting a federal court order issued shortly before Barnett's death which held that her marriage to him in 1920 was invalid and denied her a share in his estate.

Dudley filed the petition. Mrs. Barnett sought to force distribution of Barnett's wealth under the California banking laws. She claimed Barnett was a government ward and that the state courts therefore had no jurisdiction over him; Mrs. Barnett claimed he was an American citizen with full legal rights.

This Brakeman Was Worried Over Hobo

GENEVA, O. (AP) — This time a hobo got a break from a railroad brakeman recently, who was amused and impressed by the words and actions of a "Nickel Plate" hobo. The brakeman and a young flight of the box cars.

The hobo was seriously crippled, leaned heavily on crutches near a train that stopped to shift cars. The brakeman, who was about ready to pull out, the brakeman grasped the man by the arm, lifted him, almost bodily, onto one of the cars, to the amusement of onlookers.

French Scientists Work Out Equipment for Underwater Fish Shooting

PARIS (AP) — Equipment which will enable a person to walk along the bottom of the ocean and shoot fish has just been invented by a French scientist.

Working in his laboratory, Colonel Le Prieur has constructed a 12-pound diving apparatus which consists of a light helmet, with two big, portholes, and a cylinder of compressed air. The cylinder is worn around the waist and is connected with the helmet by a rubber tube that fits along the spinal column.

Steel Arrows — To eliminate the problem of keeping gunpowder dry, the Colonel has perfected a compressed-air cylinder which shoots arrows with the rapidity of a small machine gun. They are so thin that they slip through the water like elongated bullets.

It is reported that once a fisherman later gets accustomed to submerging his fish soon becomes as good as on terra firma. The lightness of the equipment does not interfere with the movement of the diver, who can thus quickly bring his carbine into position to take aim at a passing fish.

WEST VIRGINIANS TEST NEW DEAL

Election in November Offers Sharply-Defined Battle Between Parties

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — West Virginians offers in its November election a sharply defined test of the New Deal.

Democrats nominated for the United States senate Bush D. Holt, 29-year-old West Virginia, out and out liberal, indefatigable worker, divorced from his wife, had his job, tried suicide, and been sent to prison.

Republicans re-nominated Senator Henry D. Hatfield, veteran of World War I, a surgeon of exceptional skill, who, as the state's senator, voted with the Senate in 1924 in opposing the measure of President Roosevelt.

Holt has made one to three speeches daily for weeks. Hatfield has conducted the Roosevelt campaign, bringing up his youthful opponent's charges that he is a reactionary and obstructionist. He interrupted his campaign, at one point to return to the home of a farmer, who had been shot in a quarrel.

Corn Cob Pipe Is Clue to Thieves

SHAMOKIN, Pa. (AP) — A penny corn cob pipe was the only clue left by robbers at the wheeling of Frank Dowling near here, but it proved to be a "strong" one.

Three youths were arrested on the thieves when police remembered that one of them possessed such a pipe. They were charged with stealing 65 bushels of wheat.

BRITAIN ACTS TO CURB LOTTERIES

Government Presents Draft Bill to Regulate Mass Betting Habit

LONDON (AP) — While a strong voice in Great Britain and the United States to permit legalized lotteries, Great Britain is preparing more liberal laws against this form of gambling.

In face of bitter opposition from various sources, the government has presented a Betting and Lotteries Bill which is intended to banish to the remotest of gray-bound realms in this country, as well as prohibiting indulgence in any such speculation in the Irish acceptable.

Six Months' Probe — Following a six-months investigation by a cabinet committee, the government announced last summer that under the proposed bill a ban of silence would be placed on the Irish government, making it illegal to publish information as to the draw, or lists of prize winners.

The bill would make it an offense for any person to bring foreign lottery tickets into Great Britain and prohibit any person from advertising, sending, counterfeiting, or money from the sale of tickets, to foreign points.

All illegal now — Under existing law all lotteries are illegal, and this general prohibition was maintained in the bill with new provisions added to make enforcement more efficient. Totalization of some under the bill's provisions will apply to all lotteries in which exercise of a certain amount of skill is not required.

Directed primarily at the big lotteries and competitions which are held in the public millions each year, the bill penalizes the position of private lotteries and small public lotteries such as raffles and bazaars.

Hazard lotteries are to be legal subject to safeguards which will prevent large schemes being permitted under cover of the exemption. The same will apply to small private lotteries promoted by clubs or societies, or among persons working or residing on the same premises.

AVIATORS DELAY ISLAND TAKEOFF

NASIELAI BEACH, Fiji Islands, Oct. 26 (Friday) 4:30 - Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, backed twice in efforts to leave the Fiji Islands for Honolulu, on his trans-Pacific flight, indicated today that he probably will wait until Oct. 29 when the beach here will be exposed by low tides during the morning hours.

In previous attempts to get the heavily-laden monoplane, "The Lady Southern Cross" into the air for the 2,750-mile flight, Commander Kingsford-Smith had to wait for afternoon low tides to clear the sandy beach. On such attempt, heavy winds arose to prevent his maneuvering the Lockheed Altair plane into position to rise.

"One Night of Love," the new feature Columbia film starring Grace Moore, screen and opera star, will be seen for the first time locally at Joe-K's Roxy next Sunday. The story is based on an original by Charles Budden and Dorothy Spargo and features several aerial scenes, including the large cast as Tullio Carminati, Lyle Ballou, Mann Barrie and Jeanie Ralph.

WENDELL, Oct. 25 (Special) — Alvin Reading, Rich, has bought the Wendell Irrigation plant and means and will take over the management Friday of this week. Abbott, the retiring publisher, bought the business in 1924 and has conducted it continuously since that time. Mr. Abbott has not announced his future plans. FRANCE SEEKING TO PUSH CIGARS

Government-Owned Monopoly Attempting to Promote Greater Usage

PARIS, Oct. 24—A campaign to increase cigar smoking in France as a means of improving the unemployment situation has been started here by government authorities.

Shipments of Idaho potatoes this season are 27 per cent ahead of last season's shipments. Last season 30,000 cars of potatoes were shipped from Idaho. This season's crop is expected to be 38,257 cars.

At the same time, however, the tobacco authorities are not neglecting their efforts to keep up the sale of cigars until the public becomes cigar-minded. They have found that one of the best ways to keep people smoking is to launch new brands of cigars from time to time. These excite curiosity and start consumers to puffing again for a while to discover what it is all about.

The labor of a million men is lost annually through insects in this country alone.

POTATO DIGGING SPEEDS IN IDAHO

Federal Man Says Work Now Ended at Idaho Falls, Half Done Here

BY J. P. KELLER

U. S. Market News Service

U. S. MARKET NEWS SERVICE

Harvesting of potatoes was practically finished in the Idaho Falls district on Tuesday, Oct. 23 and most stock had been placed in cellars or other storage places.

The Twin Falls-Harley district has well over half of the potatoes dug and in cellars. October should see all of the stock there out of the ground. Rainy, unsettled weather the past few days has hampered digging in parts of the lower valley.

Shipments heavier

Shipments from the Upper Valley have been averaging a little heavier than the lower valley this season, with shipments north of the state totaling 3,248 cars, and shipments south of the state to 2,482 cars through Oct. 23. Other sections of Idaho account for 2,557 cars through the same date, bringing the total for the state to 8,287 cars.

On Oct. 23, Idaho had shipped more cars to market than any other late potato state, the closest rival being Maine with 6,728 cars.

Shipments of Idaho potatoes this season are 27 per cent ahead of last season's shipments. Last season 30,000 cars of potatoes were shipped from Idaho. This season's crop is expected to be 38,257 cars.

FRANCE BUILDING CONVOY VESSELS

Fast, Heavily Armored Craft Being Constructed Under Treaty Loop-hole

PARIS, Oct. 24—Taking advantage of the absence of a limit on small convoy escorts in the London Naval Treaty, the French navy has placed five more under construction at the Nantes shipyard.

These vessels, which displace about 600 tons, are a new type of destroyer specially designed for convoys and are fast and heavily armed for their size. Substitution of electric soldering for rivets in certain parts of the ship has allowed extra weight to be devoted to defense equipment.

Capable of 34 knots, these ships have a cruising speed of 18. Their armament includes two 100-millimeter guns, four 400-millimeter torpedo launchers and five anti-aircraft machine guns.

Besides the convoys the French Navy has received the Volta, a new type of torpedo chaser, whose sister ship, the Mogador, is under construction at Lorient.

U. S. Will Inaugurate New Colony in Arkansas by November 1

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—First families will move onto the government's million-dollar model farm colony in the rich alluvial country of northeastern Arkansas by Nov. 1.

Long Observation Cash workers of the PERA will not application for colony farms from families they have had under observation for months. Dwyer explained. There will be no must application for occupation of the new modern homes built on clearings in the cut-over timberland.

Careful Selection Two or three families will be taken from each of 42 counties in the lowlands of Arkansas. The counties were selected because the physical conditions are most nearly to those of Mississippi county delta land, where the colony is located.

Applications will include such information as the number of years the applicant has been on a farm, where he has been specifically the most five years, the name of his landlord, and the man's reputation as to honesty, industry, sobriety and disposition. If the man has been a tenant, his former landlord will be contacted as a further precaution in selecting proper families for the colony.

IDAHO DEMOCRAT CHIEF SEES WIN

Don't Assure Voters Will Give Roosevelt and Ross 'Go Ahead' Sign

BOISE (Special) — Idaho voters are about to give President Roosevelt and Governor C. Bon Ross a new mandate to "go ahead," Robert Coulter, Democratic state chairman, announced in Boise from Democratic headquarters.

Returning from a statewide tour in most every county, Coulter said "the Democratic state and national administrations will score a landslide victory in 1934 which may exceed the popular vote of 1932."

"If Idaho citizens favor the New Deal and President Roosevelt they will vote Democratic straight."

G. O. P. Means "Chaos" — "If voters of Idaho want the old order of chaos, despite the bankruptcy of a nation returned, they will vote for the Republican administration."

"Thoughtful voters can readily recall the days of Hoover, Mellon, Grundy, Mills, Daves and those so-called rugged individualists who had no difficulty wrecking the nation while they controlled it for 12 weary years."

"Thoughtful voters remember the Republican machine in Idaho and how it dominated politics in this state for the same length of time with the same sympathy it had for the national Republican wrecking crew. It is significant that the same leaders of that state Republican machine now are making desperate effort to regain control of the people of Idaho to suit their own ends."

Asks Ross Vote — "Democratic administration supporters will vote for President Roosevelt's program by electing Governor Ross and the entire state ticket, Congressman Compton I. White and D. Worth Clark will help President Roosevelt in congressional election of the entire state and county tickets is necessary. The people of Idaho must insure Roosevelt that his recovery program has their cooperation and sympathy."

Michigan Lover Loses His Fiancee In World's First Radio "Triangle"

By radio spanning the sea, Erwin Wendler introduced his little black-haired, blue-eyed girl to his friend across the Atlantic, a friend neither he nor his sweetheart ever had when—and now he nurses an ache in his heart, because he has lost the girl to that friend.

Years ago, when radio became more simplified, Wendler became interested in this new field of opportunity. He studied radio and fitted up a room on the second floor of his home here as an amateur radio station.

Nightly he listened to other amateur stations. Upon occasion he broadcast himself to the other amateurs. So Wendler became friendly with operators in many foreign countries.

So wrapped up was he in radio that he had very little time for women, but he did manage to devote some of his spare hours to courting a little blue-eyed neighborhood girl and he went with her for about five years.

They weren't exactly engaged, Wendler says, but he admits they had an understanding.

The Trouble Starts — Then, a few years ago, Wendler joined a radio club, the International Short Wave club of East Liverpool, O., which club published a little monthly booklet sent to its members all over the world.

It told of the doings of the radio amateurs and gave suggestions on radio operation.

In the September, 1932, issue of the booklet, Wendler noticed the name of another radio amateur, Cyril Wright, of Leicester, England, who, according to the article, wanted to correspond with radio amateurs in other countries. Wendler promptly wrote to him.

Wendler in Michigan and Wright in England soon became fast friends, although they had never seen each other.

After a time, Wright suggested that they send each other the name of some young lady acquaintance with whom they might also correspond just for the novelty of the thing.

The Fatal Move — Wendler entered into the spirit of the thing, but he didn't know of any young lady to whom he might refer his friend in England. He knew only one girl, with whom he had been keeping company for five years.

So, he asked her, just as a lark, what she would do if he asked her name to Wright in England. She thought it would be a lot of fun, and she consented.

So Wendler sent the name—Miss Eleanor Fox, 21, 21, Grimsby Street, Mt. Clemens, Mich. U. S. A.—to Wright. Soon Wendler received from Wright the name of Miss Rose Wilkinson, Leicester, England.

Things went on nicely. The four corresponded frequently, and then the bombshell burst.

Bad News Comes — Miss Rose Wilkinson told Wendler one day that she couldn't see him any more.

"I am engaged to Cyril in England," she said.

Wendler took the matter lightly at first, but Miss Fox insisted she was telling the truth. Wendler wrote in haste, and in no uncertain terms to Wright. Soon an answer came.

Leaves No Doubt — "Whereas letters from Wright to Wendler were cordial, the answer to Wendler's letter in which he asked for confirmation of the report was cold. It started, 'Dear Sir,' instead of 'Dear Erwin.'"

The letter read in part: "I wish to state that Eleanor and I are engaged. I am going to marry her next August and bring her back to this country with me."

The words "are" and "am" in Wright's letter were written in red, capital letters and underscored.

Miss Fox here confirmed the engagement, but would not say just when Wright is coming to the United States. "Next year, some time," she said.

Nightly, Wendler listens to the broadcasts of other amateurs, but when he happens to pick up a station in England he twirls the dial to South Africa.

But Rose Wilkinson of Leicester, to whom he was writing—"Yes," he says, they still write.

Will there—ah—perhaps be another across-the-sea romance? "I haven't considered it," he replies. "It is a matter that, for him, the affair is ended."

SUMMER FOREST FIRE LOSS HIGH

Timbered Areas of Northwest Suffered Heaviest Damage of Recent Years

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP) — Fire blazes through the Northwest this summer to exact one of the heaviest tolls in years.

Uncle Sam's foresters rubbed slinks from their eyes here and surveyed the 1934 fire damage in their own.

They found that fire ravaged 30 times as many acres of virgin and other timber lands this year as in 1933.

Region One Hit — Region One, which includes Montana, Northern Idaho, Eastern Washington and South Dakota, 237,748 acres of forest were blackened this summer. No official record of the monetary loss has been made, but conservative estimates place it at between $300,000 and $1,000,000.

Last year, fire losses were confined to 100,000 acres in this area. There was a total of 1,251 fires—110 of which burned more than 10 acres.

Nearly Equalled 1910 — Regional Forester Major Ewan W. Kelley characterized the 1934 season as one of the worst fire outbreaks on record, ranking near the 1910 holocaust, which sent an ominous smoke pall from the hills of Northern Idaho to the shores of the Great Lakes.

He attributed dry weather and man's carelessness as chief causes for the increase, although lightning was listed as the greatest single fire cause—setting 820 blazes, Kelley said. Losses would have been "tremendously greater if it weren't for the efforts of CCC boys."

40 TOWNS SEND GOODING PUPILS

Six States Dominate College Enrollment; Religious Tastes Varied

GOODING, Oct. 25 (Special) — Two surveys of interest have been completed at Gooding college. A study of the 1934 student body at Gooding college reveals that about 40 towns in Idaho, Montana, North Dakota, Washington, Oregon, and Utah are represented in the enrollment on the campus. A religious preference study shows that the Baptist, Episcopal, Catholic, Christian, Methodist, Latter Day Saints, Presbyterian and Lutheran churches are included in the religious groups. Approximately 85 per cent of the student group is partially self-supporting. Scholarship and loan opportunities are helping many. Approximately 50 per cent are Idaho born.

A survey of the leading college faculty shows that the graduate schools of University of Washington, University of Southern California, University of Minnesota and University of Missouri are represented. Two faculty members, Miss Mary Miller, dean of women and professor of mathematics, and M. E. Morgan, coach and professor of education, have their Ph.D. degrees. President C. W. Tenney was honored with an L. L. D. degree by International Union college, Helena, in 1927. All other members of the liberal arts faculty have master's degrees.

TEXAS PLANNING BIRTHDAY PARTY

State Begins Preparations for 100th Anniversary Fete During 1936

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas has begun planning in earnest for her 100th birthday. Besides a $15,000,000 centennial exposition in 1936, state agencies are preparing to honor visitors the year before. Davey Crockett, Sam Houston and men of like ilk made history.

An act of the legislature has authorized the State Parks Board to designate and mark spots of historical interest. These will include the sites of events in the Texas revolution, in battles with the Indians and traces of the early settlement of the state.

To guide visitors to the places, the State Highway Department will erect markers along the highways directing motorists how to get to the various places of interest.

The trails over which cattle were driven before the railroad era are being traced as part of the centennial plans. Most famous is the Chisholm trail.

The exposition will be held at Dallas. Other observances at suitable dates are to be held at San Antonio, site of the Alamo; at Houston, near which the battle of San Jacinto was fought; at Galveston, the "Pearl of Texas," and at numerous other places.
