Amazing Rail Party Travels Joyfully to See Game

EN ROUTE TO NASHVILLE with Senator Long and 5,000 others, Oct. 27 (AP)—Senator Huey P. Long awoke from a few hours of deep sleep early today and shouted for a picnic player. Students of Louisiana State university, members of his band, and his cadet corps, awoke likewise to assist the Kingfish in a renewal of merry-making.

Six Special Trains. Senator Long was in one Pullman of a 14-car train. A quarter mile ahead was another special train, and scattered out over two miles of right-of-way behind were four more special trains. They carried L. S. U.'s football team, the Kingfish, the Kingfish's police outrigger and private guards and some 5,000 students and Baton Rouge townsmen. All were on route for a big afternoon at Nashville, where the team was to play Vanderbilt university and Senator Long was to make a speech and perhaps announce his 1936 candidacy for the presidency.

Never had the southland seen an expedition like it. The coaches were painted red, white, blue, orange, and green, and signs on their sides screamed such notices: "Hurrah for Huey!" "Hurrah for L. S. U." "Win that Game!" "Chorus of 'Who's all right?'—The Kingfish's all right!" "Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah! Kingfish! Yowwawwaw!" signs in waving waves from all the coaches as the six special trains chugged up through Mississippi and into Tennessee.

Highway Crowded. The highway along the right-of-way was crowded with Louisiana automobiles bearing citizens wanting to see the state's most celebrated statesman assume himself "Hurrah for Huey!" "Hurrah for L. S. U." "Win that Game!" "Chorus of 'Who's all right?'—The Kingfish's all right!" "Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah! Kingfish! Yowwawwaw!" signs in waving waves from all the coaches as the six special trains chugged up through Mississippi and into Tennessee.

The rail caravan through Mississippi was in the nature of a procession, and the train was a large crowd of people on the station (Continued on Page 2, Column 1)

Negro, Confessed Attacker of White Girl, Slain by Mob of 5,000

MARIANNA, Fla., Oct. 27 (AP)—The body of Claude Neal, 23, Negro, confessed attacker and slayer of a white girl, swung from a tree on the courthouse lawn here today, victim of an enraged mob.

A crowd of 100 men, women and children silently gathered at the body, made except for a sack remaining from the waist to knees.

The Negro had been shot at least 50 times, burned with red hot irons and dragged through the streets behind an automobile wheel, says Sheriff W. C. Chambliss, speaking from his home two blocks from the courthouse square, located by law enforcement.

A description of the scene and the body was furnished by Allison White, employe of an automobile concern near the square. White saw the body and the crowd on his way to work.

Dragged in Dist. White said the Negro, who told officers he beat Lola Cannolly, 30, to death after brutally attacking her on her father's farm near Greenwood, Fla., last week, was brought to town shortly after midnight.

The body trailed through the dust at the end of a rope behind an automobile. White said, and some 5,000 people, from a train. A mob of at least 5,000 people, from the lynching party.

Neal was taken early yesterday from the county jail at Dawson, Ala., by a mob of armed men traveling in Florida licensed cars. Spokesmen announced their intention of turning him over to the slain girl's father, George Cannolly, for his personal vengeance.

SINCLAIR BREAKS WITH CREEL FOR AID TO MERRIAM

Accused Defeated Democrat Nominée of Bad Faith in Campaign

SPLIT WEAKENS CHANCES

Rivals of "Epic" Chief Term Rift as Death Blow to Election Hopes

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 27 (AP)—Upton Sinclair today a ceased George Creel of bad faith and laid him a curt goodbye; Sinclair's association accused Creel of selling out to Wall Street; Sinclair's enemies hailed Creel's repudiation of Sinclair's gubernatorial candidacy, and the Democrats faced a definite, ending any possibility of a Sinclair victory.

Creel, war-time propaganda chief, and later to Sinclair in the Democratic gubernatorial primary, repudiated his agreement to work for Sinclair's election on the ground that Sinclair had failed to abide by an agreement to modify his famous "Epic" diet.

Spread Misgivings. Creel's withdrawal spread misgivings among Sinclair's followers. Sinclair, a novelist and former Socialist who antedated the country by winning the Democratic nomination, issued a statement addressed to Creel and ending with the terse comment, "goodbye."

"You have done all in your power to elect a reactionary Republican," he said. Almost all political observers and partisans were sure Creel's election had weakened Sinclair's chances of winning considerably.

Even Sheridan Downey, candidate for lieutenant governor on Sinclair's ticket, was uncertain. He said he had "no idea" what the result would be.

Raymond L. Haight, gubernatorial candidate on the Progressive ticket, opposing Sinclair and Gov. Frank P. Merriam, conservative incumbent, took it as a harbinger of his own success.

"It now becomes very apparent—more so than ever, that the Progressive movement is the only hope to save the voters of California from the reactionaries," he said.

Clear Track For Output, Frank Urges

Noted Educator Hits Production Curb

By WILFORD R. SMITH (Copyright, 1934, United Press.) MADISON, Wis., Oct. 27 (AP)—"Through the throttle wide open on a main production and clear the track for a one-way, no-return trip to a richer and more stable America, President Frank of the University of Wisconsin commended today.

He foresees an economy of plenty rather than of scarcity, an economic policy that will build an adequate but assured outlet for our productive capacity.

Restriction "Folly." "The theme is extremely simple," Dr. Frank said. "Physical science, industrial technology and power production have given us a new tool with which we can lower the cost and lift the standard of living for the masses if we do not commit the folly of chilling this new tool with a policy of restriction."

To scrap these new mechanisms by legislative severity, and turn the problem over to the politicians is suicidal.

Defies Parliament. Dr. Frank declared that any political parliament pronounced his recently published pronouncements against the present administration which run counter to his opinion.

States Industrial Leadership. "States industrial leadership works out an effective economic of consumption, political leaders will offer a leveling legislation, stifling enterprise in an effort to give the country security which they crave even more than liberty, he fears.

Must Revive Outlook. "If we are not to face the default and a drastically reduced production, we shall be obliged to determine wage less and less in terms of what we can contrive to buy the time of world economy, the suppression of the press and by religious persecution."

And this in the jury's (Mr. Farley's) words.

"It will be clear to every one that Franklin D. Roosevelt and his great program for lifting the American people to a higher plane of living is immediately acquiesced of any such monstrous charge."

ELECTION BETS PICK ROSS AND CLARK TO WIN

Wendell Phillips and W. Worth Clark, Democrats, to win. On one board odds of 7 to 5 favored the election of Ross over Frank L. Stephan, Twin Falls, another picked, but offer was $40 to $28 for the governor's reelection, and a third was $50 to $30 on Ross' election. It is declared that no less than $1,000 has been bet here on the basis indicated by today's postings. Odds of 2 to 1 on the election of Clark is the only listing on that candidate.

Another bet which is offered and has been taken more than once is $50 to $40 that Stephan will carry Twin Falls county.

Bandits Captured In Bank Robbery

WENDELL, N. C., Oct. 27 (AP)—Five bandits were captured by police here today in the robbery of the Bank of Wendell. The attempted burglary occurred when the institution had just established an all-time record for deposits of $50,000, with at least $50,000 of it in cash.

Noticing a lone automobile outside the bank building, motor running with a driver at the wheel, Wendell police called the driver to the curb.

Unarmed, the bandits were no flight and were probably when they were seen by the police.

LAWYER SCORES CHART USAGE IN COURT

CHICAGO, Oct. 27 (AP)—Attorneys for Samuel Insull and his 10 associates on trial in federal court on mail fraud charges today attacked the testimony of the government's star witness, Assistant Attorney General Harold Huling.

Huling, a blunt spoken expert accountant who spent two years digging into the ruins of the Insull family debacle, charged that the block of Corporation Securities company was "watered" and that the company never showed a penny of profit which would warrant large dividends.

Floyd E. Thompson, former Illinois supreme court justice and attorney for the grey-haired Insull, sought to have Huling's charge of "the rise and fall of Insull" thrown out of court.

"These defendants can't draw pictures to bewilder the jury," Thompson said. "They must stand by the facts."

"These charts were made from your own records, the records of Corporation Securities," retorted Special Prosecutor Leslie Butler. "You know it, and that's what hurts."

Earlier today, the government had tossed its trump card into the Insull mail fraud trial when a special assistant to the attorney general testified that Samuel Insull and his associates flourished because they used too much water in their industrial baptisms.

Terped Fraud. Huling, who created the two years' investigation, testified that the Corporation Securities Co. was a fraud from its inception in the fall of 1929.

In started life, he said, by "watering" assets to nearly $20,000,000 and during the two and a half years of its existence never earned a penny to justify dividend payments.

Insull and his 10 co-defendants are charged with engineering a $143,000,000 mail swindle by the sale of Corporation Securities stock to investors under the lure of huge profits.

"How much income would the company have needed to justify the cash dividend on preferred stock Dec. 31, 1929?" Prosecutor Leslie Butler asked Huling.

"About $2,100,000," answered the witness, holder of a master's degree in economics and accounting.

"What was the income of the company from its organization to Dec. 31, 1929?"

"$350,880." The government accountant's testimony was at once branded as false by the defense and legal attacks were directed again at the government's theory of brokerage bookkeeping.

Judge James H. Wilkerson said he would rule on the legal question.

The testimony of Huling, last of the key witnesses for the government, followed charges that the Insull trust had lost $1,000,000 on a trial with him divided $50,000 in "profits" only a short time before Corporation Securities was plunged into bankruptcy.

WILL ROGERS says:

BONORA, Cal.—That was a great record for all railroading. You know it's astonishing, but the record that he broke had held for 30 years.

With all our country speed and where the folks that manage railroads were. It wasn't the I. T. workers fault. There was never a more efficient worker than they have been. But this will just wake 'em up, and it will mean a lot to the whole country to see the I. T. doing well.

The bankers finally made up with Mr. Roosevelt when they give up hope of him making up with them. They thanked him for coming over and doing an act for 'em at their banquet.

Yours, Will Rogers

ARMY-YALE CLASSIC IN EAST TOPS FOOTBALL MENU

70,000 WILL SEE NEW HAVEN FRAY

Bang-Up List of Regional Grid Clinches Occupies Day's Program

By JACK OGDY NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (AP)—Topped by the Army-Yale classic, an even dozen momentous regional battles headline today's bang-up mid-season program of 250 football games. Each of the 12 encounters will have a direct bearing on the nation's five big races for national championships.

More than 70,000 fans, largest crowd of the season thus far, were expected at New Haven for the traditional meeting between the Yale and Harvard teams.

In the other outstanding national brawl, the unbeaten Holy Cross Crusaders were assigned to repel the invasion of Colgate's wily Red Raiders at Worcester, Mass. If the Crusaders win, this one it will be a long step toward a Rose Bowl ticket.

Dixie will see the hottest and probably the most significant fighting of the day. Five contenders for the southern championship are taking the field: Alabama, Duke, Tulane, Vanderbilt and Louisiana State.

Two unbeaten Big Ten contenders and an undefeated aspirant for Big Six honors are action in the Midwest. In the Big Ten, unbeaten Minnesota marches against Iowa, and undefeated Illinois attacks against Michigan.

On the Pacific coast, two big conference games stand out. Unbeaten Stanford faces smugling Southern California, and undefeated Washington tackles California.

In the Midwest, unbeaten Temple attacks Marquette. A Big Ten game brings together Ohio State and Northwestern. Methodist invades Fordham for an inter-sectional brawl, and likewise Purdue marches on Carnegie Tech.

Down in Dixie, two southeastern conference pairings bring together Kentucky-Auburn, and Mississippi-Southern. Southern conference encounters pair North Carolina-Virginia, and Virginia-Ole Miss.

On the Pacific coast, Washington State opposes Oregon State in a game that will be a key to the conference. Santa Clara faces Fresno State, and U. C. L. A. engages the California Aggies.

In the Rocky mountains, two conference leaders, Utah and Colorado Aggies, meet in Denver. Oregon is an outsider. Two other conference games pair Denver-Wyoming, and Montana State-Grocery Teachers.

HAZLETON, Oct. 27 (Special)—An interrupted pass and two recovered fumbles saw Hazleton to a 20-0 victory here yesterday over Gaslight in an inter-conference game.

Seeress Raps Off List of Grid Winners—Maybe

By HENRY MOSEBROE NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (AP)—A most regrettable thing happened today.

The old-time prophet was sitting on his seat picking today's football winners when in barged Madam Henrietta Dumbar, the seeress of Sixth avenue.

"What is that man doing?" she demanded. "I told her he was picking football winners for me."

"Madam Dumbar," said "Why, that phony prognosticator, that nutty neocromancer, that fruit cake forecaster, couldn't pick cotton. He couldn't forecast what happened yesterday. You needn't try to tell me who he is. I had him in my place as a phrenologist for a while, and he didn't have sense enough to take the children's heads. Let's see what he's picked."

Madam Dumbar brushed the professor aside with an sweep and looked at the sheet in his typewriter.

"Tut, tut!" "Oh, I told you," she shouted. "Look at this. He picked Georgia to beat Alabama and Southern California to beat Stanford. Georgia couldn't beat a drum this year even with four starters, and Southern California—why they'd be on the wrong end of the hotting against Michigan. I suppose, professor, that you picked Cornwallwall in Yorc-town?"

Whereupon Madam Dumbar withdrew at the typewriter, and after a few now in the time for all road men, she snapped off the following selection:

- Yale vs. Army—Army.
- Colgate vs. Holy Cross—Holy Cross.
- Washington vs. California—California.

BULL DROPS 7-0 GAME TO BRUINS

Twin Falls Scores in Second Period and Holds Final Passing Barrage

Staving off a desperate last-quarter flurry of passes, Twin Falls high school Bruin blocked the unbeaten march of Bull's Indians by capturing a 7-0 victory at Lincoln field yesterday.

The Bruin swept for the only touchdown of the game in the second quarter after Bull had put up a stone-wall defense to take possession of the ball on his own 25-yard line. Four more passes by Crockett, but Twin Falls recovered on Bull's 25-yard line. Boden slipped around the right side of the line on an end-around play to 15 yards. ## SHOSHONE BEATS HAGERMAN, 27-0

Victors Show Powerful Attack in Squelching Threat of Class B Foes

SHOSHONE, Oct. 27 (Special)—Shoshone's back into winning stride here yesterday to defeat Hagerman by a 27-0 score.

Spurred on by memory of last week's game, in which they were defeated by the Athletics, Shoshone showed too much power for Hagerman's courageous outfit. The locals scored one touchdown in each period and effectively throttled Hagerman's scoring hopes.

Chess scored the first Shoshone touchdown on a 20-yard gain, after having recovered a Hagerman fumble in the preceding play. Fumble scored in the second quarter on a forward pass. Chess crossed the line again in the third on a 30-yard center around the end. Shoshone went over for the final touchdown after a determined advance by Shoshone.

HARRIS MAY GET SENATOR'S HELM

Hot Blood League Pondering Steve's Chances at Old Washington Post

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (AP)—Although it is early in the season, baseball's hot blood league is operating full blast today, stimulated on a bit by Joe Cronin's sudden shift from Washington to the Red Sox and by a Babe Ruth running contest.

Every die-in-the-wood hot story or drop in the wool hot story, which has got and got right down to business. Material to speculate on.

Joe Cronin has become player-manager of the Boston Red Sox. What will happen to the Red Sox who was replaced at the helm?

Harris in Senators? Many believe Harry may return to his old post as pilot of the Senators. Harris, owner of the Senators, and Washington fans were always fond of the dapper, dandy-tooled chap who directed the Senators to a world championship in 1924 and another American league pennant in 1925.

If Griffith doesn't take Harris, who will he get? And what will Griffith do with Shortstop Lyn Lary and the probable $150,000 he obtained from wealthy young Tom Sawyer of the Red Sox in exchange for Cronin? It is expected that Griffith will use Lary next year as a trade for a pitcher.

No Pileo Tag While the Cronin deal squeaked talk of Babe Ruth transferring from the New York Yankees to the home of the Red Sox, it left the door open temporarily at least for him to become pilot at Washington. Particularly since Cal Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, announced he will release the Babe, without any price tag on him, to any club that wants him as manager. Ruppert made this announcement to help Ruth land a pilot's job. Other club owners had feared to approach the Babe because they figured Ruppert would demand a fortune before parting with him. Griffith indicated he was not hot after Ruth, anyway.

Daily Drains While Ruth is journeying to Japan with an all-star team, who reports already have been published and denied as to his destination next season. One has him replacing ancient Connie Mack as manager of the Athletics, and another had him replacing Bill McKechnie of the Boston Braves. Daily stories and details on the Ruth situation can be expected from now on.

Tom Bruce Watson Johnson over at Cleveland. Reports from the Ohio metropolis during the season indicated Indian fans were not "pumped" by the "Big Train." Johnson has a new center, but those documents don't seem to mean much in baseball any more. Club Shakeup

Charlie Grub has been made vice-president of the Chicago Cubs. In addition to his managerial capacity, a violent shakeup is expected in that club. It seems that during the 1933 season, Charley was put over at several players whom he accused of "laying down."

And what about the expected player shakeup in the New York Yankees? It is expected that when the St. Louis Cardinals try to sign up the "Dizzy Daffy" Dean Broderick, remembering the wages paid the "candle" in 1933?

Coach of Irish Is Strict with Young Brother

Nike Sees Much of Sideline Because 'Football Isn't Family Matter'

By EVERETT HOLLES SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 27 (AP)—Young Mike Layden, who has become almost an overnight success with Notre Dame's "New York" football team, probably will spend a few more weeks on the bench than the rest of the season all because his brother is the coach.

Elmer Layden, one of the Four Horsemen under Knute R. Rockne and now the mentor of his fourth brother, hasn't any intention of giving the kid brother a swell head, even if he does look pretty good.

Starred Against Purdue Brother Mike, who christened him Francis, got his first big chance against Purdue a couple of weeks ago. He had a lot to do with the rally that knocked down the boiler-makers. But blocking and punting; drew praise from sports writers, and his passing opened the route for one of the three Irish touchdowns.

But to big brother Elmer he's just another player, one of the 37 youngsters who played against Purdue.

He refused to discuss Mike's talents with reporters. He won't even pose with him for photographs. "Football isn't my family matter at all," he said.

So for the rest of the season "the kid brother" will be held on the bench, getting into the fight only when the going is tough and his pants are being pulled.

Mike has only a slight resemblance to his brother. Both are dark, but Mike is larger and has longer legs. He continued with Elmer's team, sharp class.

He starred in football at Duquesne, high school, but in Elmer Layden's fallback of the Four Horsemen. For two years the Cornhuskers had done the trick, but on that afternoon Layden made one touchdown and accounted for 10 of Notre Dame's first downs.

Sat Rustle Broken Sitting on the bench beside the bald-headed Rockne was an 11-year-old kid, Mike Layden.

So Mike sits on the bench at the start of each game, waiting for a command from brother Elmer.

"Layden, get in there at halfback and throw a few passes."

SAYS AIRPLANES BEGAN IN 1842

Expert Says Wrights Deserve Credit, But Were Not Originators WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Albert R. Zahn, Chief of Congressional Library's Aeronautics Division, believes the airplane actually was invented 80 years before Orville and Wilbur Wright made their famous flight at Kitty Hawk, N. C.

Dr. Zahn was writing chief engineers for design airplane manufacturers. In his present post, he is the custodian of what is acknowledged to be the world's greatest collection of aeronautical literature.

He said that as far as he knew, the Wrights "did a lot of inventing that was original" with them but was not done by them. He believed the Wrights should receive the credit for their pioneering, but doesn't think they should be called the "Fathers of Aviation."

Dr. Zahn said the history of aviation began in Britain, in the first decade of the last century, when Sir George Cayley made a full-scale glider that carried a man and was propelled by gravity.

Another man who may be credited with scientific development of aviation, Dr. Zahn said, is Major C. E. H. MacCulloch-Kennedy, who was active in developing the British committee investigation of navy airplane purchases. He had testified that American warplanes were considerably below European standards.

Major MacCulloch-Kennedy designed an airplane which would carry a machine gun and its operator and was built by the British. It was the first airplane capable of carrying an equal load of machine gun and pilot from the nose of the ship to its tail.

JUNIORS EXTEND FRESHMEN JOLLY WELCOME

More than 800 attended the hilarious carnival which Twin Falls high school juniors gave their official welcome to this year's freshmen at the high school gymnasium last evening. Bogus money, distributed at the door, admitted guests to the "great white wash" one of the most interesting features of which was the "make-up" booth. All types of games of chance were at play and the money also provided for refreshments. A shower of balloons released from the ceiling just before the close made a fitting climax to an evening packed with merriment.

One of the most exciting features of the evening was the boxing match between Ralph Funke and Dick Miller. Benny Beckstead, who refereed, gave the decision to Funke. Carnival decorations were in lavender and white and red and white colors of the two classes. A central committee composed of M. C. Ballenger, Granville Haight and Dorothy Goodhill, assisted by the class president, Ambrose Evans, directed general arrangements for the event. Miss Martha Farrar, class sponsor, also assisted. Fifteen committees, comprising almost 70 junior class members, worked on individual assignments.

MUSICAL WAVES WILL BE SHOWN

Novel Demonstration Listed as One of Attractions at House of Magic

"Sweetness and light," but a different kind than that proclaimed by Matthew Arnold in his famous essay, will be displayed by Dr. H. T. Plumb of the General Electric company, when he demonstrates his "electric picture" at the House of Magic, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The principle of the device which will be demonstrated will present, not altogether new, but this will be one of the few occasions on which such musical waves have been made available to a large audience.

Use of the Improved General Electric cathode ray oscillograph tube makes it possible for spectators to see the "electric picture" of any sound made before a microphone, whether it be singing, playing, whistling, or speaking. These different sounds, changed into electric impulses by the microphone, will cause a constant vibrating of the flickering stream of light across the end of the tube, painting a picture in light waves of the sound.

When a photograph record is played into the microphone, the variations in frequency caused by the playing of the different instruments causes a veritable fireworks display of light waves. On the other hand, whistling, being almost a pure note with standing waves, presents an almost constant wave design.

When the tube are two pairs of plates, two running vertically and two horizontally. The signal, or applied known voltage, passes between the two vertical plates, and the flinging wave between the horizontal terminals.

The difference in frequency causes a mutation of the shape of the wave, and the onlooker has the experience of "seeing" the sound as it travels across the bottom of the tube in fantastic shapes.

Officials of the Big Four and the L. & N., contending that Eastman exceeded his authority, were prepared to sue unless over the Big Four route including Sunday as a means of launching a test of the coordinator's rights. After the injunction had been obtained, however, the New York Central lines, of which the Big Four is a subsidiary, announced that for the present it would abide by the order.
