FORD SEES RISE, SETS OWN QUOTA AT MILLION CARS

Motor Magnate Predicts Year
Of "Improved Business" Conditions

BOOSTS FACTORY OUTPUT
Program Lists Only Domestic Production; Other Firms Optimistic

DETROIT, Nov. 1 (UPI)—Henry Ford sees a year of "improved business" ahead and today set the 1934 production of his company at least 1,000,000 cars.

This would be the highest production since 1930, when the world production totaled 1,486,000 cars.

"Our experience during the last six months and what we see in the future tell us a year of improved business is ahead," Ford said.

World production for 1934 was set early this year at 600,000. Already the company has turned out 700,000 cars with prospects of a substantial turnout during November and December.

Domestic Only

The 1935 quota of one million cars does not include those for use abroad. This production, which will be over and above the "one million or better" estimated by Ford, may depend on political developments in Europe. It was not officially estimated, for that reason.

Ford managers gathered here from all parts of the country today to learn that Ford is planning the first one-million-car year since 1930. The company turned out 702,058 cars in 1931. The following year, 1932, production reached a depression low of $32,180. Last year it was 501,488. These figures include both foreign and domestic sales.

Other car manufacturers estimate their domestic use alone is expected to exceed the total for the last two years of cars produced in Ford plants all over the world.

Wild Throng Raids World Fair Ground

Crowds Take Charge,
Toss Police in Lagoons

CHICAGO, Nov. 1 (UPI)—Rioting Hallowe'en merrymakers wrecked large areas of the $35,000,000 World Fair in its closing hours early today, tearing buildings apart, trampling elaborate gardens, throwing hundreds of bonbons and chairs into lagoons and tossing police in them.

The crowd, 300,000 strong at midnight, took complete possession of 88 acres of strips and concessions, drank everything in sight except Lake Michigan and scattered everything movable as souvenirs.

Men, women and children fainted along the Street of Villages, where bartenders abandoned their posts to add guards to keeping the crowd outside their gates. Police were called to quell dozens of fist fights and two ambulances of the expedition—a emergency hospital attended their way continually throughout the packed ground.

400 Guards at A. M.

Hired fair officials said they would be unable to determine complete attendance figures until late today. Plans to close the gates at midnight were abandoned after a screaming mob had battered through 200 police reserves and demolished a section of fence. Buses, taxicabs, street cars and private automobiles still were pouring thousands into the grounds at 3 a. m.

The year's sixteen-billion-dollar payout the Twelfth street turnstile yesterday afternoon bringing attendance for 1934 to 39,000,000. Attendance for 1933 was 38,000,000. Attendance for the day was estimated unofficially at 400,000.

INSULL RESERVE SNAPS ON STAND

Stern Composure Falters as Former Magnate Weeps in Telling of Edison

CHICAGO, Nov. 1 (UPI)—Samuel Insull, whose storminess once made him feared in the industrial world, wept on the witness stand in federal court today as he told how he was brought to the United States, an English immigrant boy, by the late Thomas Edison.

Tears rolled down his cheeks, and his high-pitched voice broke as he described how he had been abandoned by the great inventor whom he "worshipped like a god." Edison brought Insull to the United States and started him on the road to wealth and power.

His story of his friendship with Thomas Edison was in prefatory to his claim that he never deliberately swindled thousands of investors in the Corporation Securities company. The government has charged him and 10 others with $143,000,000 mail fraud.

Insull's explanation of the other defendants, including his son, created a flutter of excitement in the packed courtroom.

"If I feel some embarrassment sitting here, I feel it infinitely more for these younger men who have no responsibility whatever in this situation," he said.

Edison Testifies

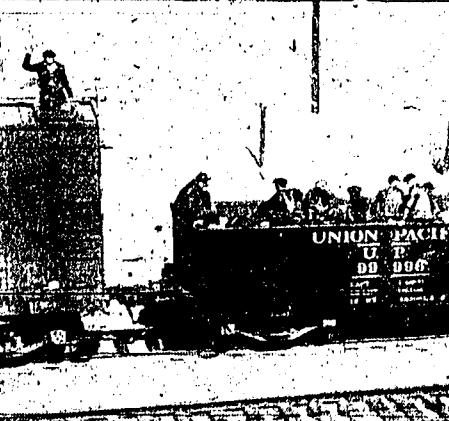

Governor Ross repeated his claim to his savings of two million dollars in his safes, taxes and said he had saved the people of the state "over a million more by making the power companies and big business interests assume their share of the burden for the first time in history."

"This money is in the pockets of the taxpayers and never has been touched. Perhaps the differences in the two parties that the Republicans are inclined toward the money the Democrats save for you."

Quoting from the State Chamber News, Governor Ross said "this

Jobless Flock to California

Here's what foes of Upton Sinclair point to in their frantic efforts to head off the reformed Socialist's election as governor of California. This is a common sight along any railroad line entering the state as throngs of unemployed arrive. These men, at home on coast and freight cars, were on a train near Barstow.

ROSS ANNOUNCES HIGHWAY PLANS

Ascents Democrats Will Push
Farm-to-Market Roads
In Idaho

ASHTON, Nov. 1 (Special)—Plans for construction of hundreds of miles of farm-to-market highway in Idaho during the next two years were revealed here today by Governor C. Ben Ross in a noon address to 300 voters in this little village.

Governor Ross said these roads would be added to the many hundreds of miles of farm-to-market roads which have been constructed in every county during the past three years. He said "the Democratic administration has long recognized the value of this type of road and we plan to continue our program in the future."

Talks at Idaho Falls

The governor spoke last night at a large rally at Idaho Falls, Idaho, addressed followed one by Franklin G. D. Roosevelt, Secretary of state who praised the accomplishments of the New Deal.

"The issues of the campaign are very simple, for 1934," Governor Ross declared. "If the people want a government of the people to continue with the thought of the poor foremost in mind they will vote Democratic. If they want to return to the extravagant and gaudy spending of the Republican machine which gave Idaho the poorest, poorest government, they will vote for the machine candidates."

Today's program also included the last lecture and exhibition for school children and the final show of the Home Modernization picture this afternoon. This last afternoon's program drew a particularly large crowd, which is expected to be more than duplicated this evening.

Colorful Display

Last night's style show continued the interestingly colorful display of fashions from the most rough-and-ready to sports designs to the most dignified of evening wear, which began this evening. Miss Doe Hammel, Miss June Prater, Miss Kay Thompson, Miss Frances Thompson, Miss Frances Wilson, Miss Betty Vavrin, Miss Vivian Wilson, Mrs. Ruth Gorrell, Mrs. Catherine Shackett, Miss Phyllis Gordon, Mrs. Wilma Nye, Mrs. Martha Lowery, Miss Dorothy Doss, and Miss Azalia Kimer were the models for C. C. Anderson company, the Logan Garment Sport shop and the Cinderella shop.

Bob H. Warner announced the models.

TRIO INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Three Men Taken to Hospital
After Crash; Youth, 19,
Still Unconscious

Three men were in the hospital today for treatment sustained in two auto accidents last night.

Cecil A. Broadway, Twin Falls, received head injuries in an accident near Ketchum early this morning. He was a passenger in a car driven by W. L. Jones, 22, second-year auto, who reported that his machine was struck by one driven by Mrs. Stanley Soule, Twin Falls. Damages to the machines are estimated at $150.

Jos. Edwards, 19, was unconscious today, following an accident near the Randal Floral establishment, north of here, when he ran his car into a service pole to avoid striking a truck. Injured also was his passenger, who was thrown head first out of the hospital today.

The truck was operated by Mr. Dickerson and N. A. Whitney, Canyon county, according to the sheriff's office. Edwards is suffering from a possible skull fracture.

In a third collision, which took place at 4 p. m. yesterday, cars operated by Harry Slatkin and by Tom Doty collided at the intersection of the traffic lane and Eighth street south, resulting in damages of $200 to the machine.

The new city ordinance regulating parking hours in the business district was put into effect today.

The statute provides that cars may be parked no longer than two hours.

Union officials said 200 buildings were affected, some of them more than 20 stories high.

ministration's desire to lift the burden of taxation off the shoulders of the common people," he said, "the 1933 legislature reduced the amount of exactly $461,421 to date. Allow me to state this fact in another way. The actual saving to farmers of Idaho on farm taxes during this period was $15,764 per month. ELECT FAITHFUL DEMOCRATIC OFFICIALS
 Sweeping endorsement for the administrations of the present Democratic county officials is forecast at the election, Tuesday. In addition, there are new candidates on the ticket of that party deserving of the same consideration as those seeking reelection.

The Democratic administration in this county went into office on a platform of efficiency and economy and has fulfilled its pledges, as is to be seen by the decreasing expenses, which last year were just about half those of the last Republican administration.

These savings are reflected in tax levies and in total costs to the tax payers, the 1932 levy for county purposes being 91 cents for each $100 of valuation; in 1933 it was 85.5 cents; while for this year it is 67 cents.

The reduction of current expenses shows a steady drop from a high of $221,802 under the last Republican administration in 1930, to $199,643 in 1931, $148,917 in 1932 and $124,066 in 1933 under Commissioners George R. Hart, James L. Barnes and Robert Ray.

Guided by the Democratic board of county commissioners all the offices have contributed to these decreases, without impairing efficiency, as is well-known. Some of the offices, notably that of the county auditor, clerk and recorder, operated by Frank J. Smith, who is seeking reelection, set a new low for expenses last year and received in fees enough to pay the entire expense of the office.

Comparing the expenses of the office for the years 1930 and 1933, it is revealed that Smith cut costs from $14,422 to $9,887; E. F. Prater, sheriff, cut his from $17,836 to $11,663; and Mrs. Cora E. Stevens, county treasurer, operated the office last year for $8,446 in contrast to $12,831 under her predecessor, J. D. Barnhart operated the office of county assessor last year for $9,656, in contrast to the 1930 expense of $12,436. Maude F. Kleinkopf, county superintendent of public instruction, reduced expenses from $5,356 to $3,504.

The prosecuting attorney's office shows an expense reduction of from $5,910 to $4,920 under O. W. Witham, who is not seeking reelection. Edward Babcock, formerly an assistant prosecutor is the candidate on the Democratic ticket to succeed Witham. In the probate court Judge Guy L. Kinney has reduced expenses from $7,347 to $5,668; expenses of the office of surveyor, under W. A. Minnick, are reduced from $200 to $155; that of coroner, from $461 in 1931 to $329 in 1933, under Dr. F. A. Dwight; and the other expenses of the county, including janitor, county agent, noxious weed bureau, indigents and pensions, from $145,239 in 1930 to $69,832 in 1933 by the commissioners.

In addition, the county hospital, under the present county board and hospital management, has been put on a basis nearer self-supporting than ever before, and the general financial condition of the county is declared by certified auditors to be as good as any in the state.

For all these reasons it is only logical to presume that the voters of this county, in overwhelming numbers, will return to office their efficient public servants.

These Democratic officials have proved their ability, they are experienced, they have been tried and they are worthy, each of them.

When voting for the New Deal in the election of D. Worth Clark for congress, insuring a continuation of the economic administration of the State of Idaho in returning to office Governor C. Ben Ross and the remainder of the Democratic state ticket, the people of this county will be serving their own interests and those of their neighbors to the greatest possible extent by giving unanimous support to the Democratic county and legislative candidates at the election Tuesday.

CIVILIZATION RESTORED

Social historians of the future will probably remember the present moment as the era in which the United States finally discovered how to cope with large-scale crime.

After the wild years following 1920, in which lawlessness seemed to be utterly beyond control, and underworld leaders were not so much defiant of the law as contemptuous of it, society has found a way to reassess itself.

Ganpon, Dillinger, Karpis, Sankey, Barrow, and now Floyd—one after another, the bad men are cut down. The old rule that the outlaw's path can lead only to prison cell or an early grave is being enforced again in the United States as in other countries.

The bullets which ended the career of Floyd merely emphasize the fact that the United States is rearing to pull itself a civilized country.

It is win on a football game and not in the streets we suppose, a delayed buck.

The Clew of the Forgotten Murder

REGRET HEAR TODAY

When DAN BLOOKER, publisher of the Blade, learns that CHARLES MORDEN, police reporter for the Blade, has been killed he deplores KIDNEY GRIFF, famous pathologist, to solve the mystery.

Morden had been investigating the affairs of CHARLIE H. CATHY, accused of mail piracy, and thought it wise to see the doctor because the newspaper reported Cathay had been arrested.

Cathay had been arrested, and recommended by girl called

ALICE LORTON, who has recently been engaged to

ESTHER ORDWAY.

GRIFF learns that CATHY HAD BEEN TRYING TO LOCATE MARY BLANCHE MALDON.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVI

KIDNEY GRIFF took the cigarette from his lips. "Mrs. Blanche Morden," he repeated thoughtfully. "Her son, Charlie, is dead." Blunker shivered. "Bloody hell!"

"You don't know who she is, do you? What she looks like, how old she is, or anything else about her?"

"Not exactly," said Blunker. "All we can get is the name. Charlie is looking for a woman of that name. That's all I know."

"And Charlie is working for Mrs. Frank Cathay," Griff remitted him. "Anything else?"

"That's about all I can get," said Griff. "The medical examination of Morden's body shows that he was killed about noon on Thursday. Perhaps a few minutes after noon. It's impossible to tell. He hadn't had any lunch. He'd been doing quite a bit of running around. He hadn't kept account of what he'd accomplished—I told him not to—but there was a notebook in his pocket in which he'd kept his expense account and he had spent quite a bit for cab money."

Griff closed his eyes once more.

"Do you remember the items?" he asked.

"No, I don't," Blunker said. "There were two or three small ones and then a bill of $3.50 all at once. I think he'd taken a long trip somewhere in a cab."

Griff frowned for a moment.

"Anything else?" he asked.

"No."

Griff got to his feet, started across the floor, the long legs taking swift, nervous strides, the wooden bathtub slipping against his skin. Once or twice he reached out in front of him with the extended fingers of his hands as though trying to feel his way through the room, giving the impression of attacking the atmosphere with the tips of his fingers.

Blunker watched him anxiously.

A BRUDDY Griff turned and, when he spoke, his voice was as rapidly explosive as that of Blunker himself in his mad driving moments.

"This thing is delicate," he said. "I've got to be handled with the utmost care."

"Elmer," he said, "you're going to work with me on this thing or

"I'll be out of here."

Griff snatched his shoulders impatiently.

"Elmer," he said, "you're going to work with me on this thing or

GIANTS EMBARK ON EXTENSIVE PURCHASE PROGRAM

SECURE BARTELL IN PHILLY TRADE

Blondy Ryan, Johnny Verez
Glover With Cash; Minor
League Bought

BY JACK CUDY

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (UPI)—The New York Giants, of all people, actually have set out to "buy" another championship team. And none other than Paramount's William Terry is directing the expenditures which may run well over a quarter-million dollars.

The Gants, who are in dead earnest about this purchasing business, was reported yesterday in a double-barreled announcement that Shortstop Dick Bartell had been obtained from the Phillies in a $100,000 player and cash deal, and that—in addition—four now minor league stars had been bought.

Surprise Fans

Thus, the Gants already have spent about $115,000 in cash preparing for the 1935 National League pennant race. The purchases were first made by the Gants' followers who realized that the regime of Memphis Bill Terry has poor notorious for penny pinching.

Terry is the man who guided his club to the 1933 pennant after reaching an all-time low for metropolitan player purchases spending only $15,000 for both Blondy Ryan and George Davis. And before losing the pennant this season, he spent less than that for raw faces. Such economy, combined with a successful campaign enabled the Gants to make a net profit of $90,000 for 1933, and more than $200,000 for 1934.

No Alternative

Because of the bitter disappointment suffered by New York fans when the Gants slumped and lost out in the recent pennant stretch, Terry, Tierney and Stonham decided there was nothing else to do but reach down in the old and new amateur ranks.

Bringing Bartell to New York certainly was a step in the right direction. The Gants gave President Gerry Nugent of the Phillips an estimated $50,000 cash payment and four players valued at $50,000.

The four Giants who will go to the Phillips are Blondy Ryan and Johnny Verez, infielders; George Watkins, outfielder, and John Pizzello, a rookie right-handed pitcher. The last two—Watkins and Pizzello—are from the Toledo, Ohio, and Nashville last season.

Minor League Stars

The four minor league stars purchased are Billy Moyers of the Columbus club, considered one of the best shortstops in the American Association; Norman Mastors, southpaw pitcher from Crookston, Minn., of the Northern League; and two men from Nashville of the Southern Association. Frank Gaber, a promising right-handed pitcher, and Albert Cuccinello, second baseman and brother of Brooklyn's Tony Cuccinello.

Secretary Tierney emphasized that President Stonham had given Manager Terry a free hand in rebuilding the Gants and that he could spend up to $200,000 in doing so. He said Stonham expected another championship team in 1935. Terry will replace Veteran Travis Jackson, fell down on the job last season, but because "Stonewall" is needed at third where he is a tower of strength, it is expected that the now minor league infielders, Moyers and Cuccinello, will be utility men.

STANFORD, Calif., Nov. 1 (UPI)—After a short practice today the Stanford university squad will entrain for Los Angeles where on Saturday the Cardinals meet U. C. L. A. The conference co-champions expect a hard battle.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1 (UPI)—The Washington State football team, undefeated in conference competition, will arrive today for Friday's game against the hard-hitting Cards. If they have met, St. Mary's of Moraga, Belllingham, made the Cards' 10 to 8 victory over the Cougars.

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 1 (UPI)—After searching for a spark to light his Golden Bear into motion, Coach Bill Ingram of University of California today tried Dick Moyer, former Rambler back, in the various quarterback posts. Meanwhile down at Santa Clara university, the football team that did play the Bears yesterday put the finishing touches on its record attack, or what it depends on this third straight win over California.

OREGON, Ore., Nov. 1 (UPI)—In just a few hours numerous changes today in the Oregon State football team, which will meet undefeated and nationally ranked Washington State Saturday. State's coaches want to guarantee the Cougars coming to center and the Cougars to get back to the Cougars.

LAYDEN GLOOMY OVER PITTS FRAY

He Grieves So Possessively
That Notre Dame Probably
Expecta to Win

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY

CHICAGO, Nov. 1 (UPI)—Get ready, Pittsburgh, with your toughened linemen and your fasted, hard-slitting backs! Notre Dame's final hurdle in the adopted Castleford's strong, but uncoordinated, offense, victory for the Huskies, will assure the ninth, now crown, since 1916. He only menacing competitor, has already fallen before the Haman Jugger.

Spectacular Clash
The north side Class A feature should provide plenty of thrills, with both Glenn Ferry and Shonie Parry, and their respective backs, and nose guards in it's heart.

Few gave a serious thought to Notre Dame's chances against Pitt until Layden, Irish coach, broke down and confessed today under heavy pressure that his team didn't have a chance. Notre Dame's plot to ambush Pitt, unaware, something like old Chief Slitting Bull did General Custer and his warriors at Little Big Horn in 1876—exudes from every dolorful word of Layden's pre-battle statement.

Here's Sad Tale
Just listen, Pitt players, Layden speaking:

"Our agents tell us that Notre Dame is not ready for Pitt in any department of play. Pitt has a typically fast, big line, supplemented by as fine a lot of backs as any team in the country can boast."

"The lack of experience of the Notre Dame players will place them at a disadvantage, for most of Pitt's men are seniors. We have only three seniors, while Pitt has eight right and George Molinovich at left halfback."

Should Win Easily
As a result of our inexperience, Pitt should be able to score easily and often with its intricate offense by fooling our green players. Because of the stress on fundamentals, Notre Dame is not equipped with fancy scoring plays."

If what Elmes says is true Pitt should win by anywhere from 40 to 50 points in Saturday's battle at Pittsburgh. Layden knows that his nosey dealer on Sunday morning is a football coach's measurement of last Thursday.

Don't be surprised to see a Sunday football score reading: "Notre Dame 12, Pittsburgh, 7," or some such thing.

Kipke Hopfert
Layden made all the Big Ten coaches look like a lot of amateurs with his masterpiece, but there's one conference coach with an important word. It comes from Ray Kipke of Michigan, who says:

"I don't think that Michigan will beat Minnesota. That would be foolish. But we're going to give them a ball game all day long. My town's still coming up—maybe it will arrive Saturday."

Bernie Bierman of Minnesota is more cheerful than usual with his remark, "we'll have to be at the top of our form to beat Michigan." Clark Shaughnessy, Chicago, and Nels Kizer, Purdue, expect the worst in the battle between their teams.

Kalem's Linguistics
Oscar Kalem, You say "dumb" if we can beat Indiana because of injuries and the fact that Indiana has had two weeks to get ready for us."

"If our key men can play 80 minutes," says Bo McMillen, Ia., "we'll give a good account of ourselves."

Dick Hanley, Northwestern, says, "I do not see much chance for Northwestern to beat Wisconsin." Doc Spears, Wisconsin, won't say, "Oh, yes, Bob Zuppke and what he thinks about Illinois' chances against Army. "I almost got the job every time I think of Jack Buckler and those fast Army backs," said Zuppke. "Please don't remind me of them."

ROSS SIGNS TO DEFEND TITLE

CHICAGO, Nov. 1 (UPI)—Sam Ross, co-manager of Barney Ross, told the United Press today that he had signed Ross to defend his lightweight title in Chicago under the direction of Promoter Joe Foy. The match probably will be staged in the Chicago stadium in January, with "Toey" Canezian, former champion, as the challenger.

Man Mountain Dean

Pete Abe Kaplan, PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 1 (UPI)—Pete Abe Kaplan, formerly of New York, defeated Al Wimberly, Newark, N. J., Paul Bowes, Portland, and Eddie Long, Los Angeles, in the first round of the national amateur championship, as the challenger.

CLASS 'B' GAMES TAKE SPOTLIGHT

Titular Laurel: Depending On
Two Titles; Flier Squad
Goes to Burley

With only one Big Ten conference game listed on Friday's night central Idaho football schedule, the two top-ranking Class B games will steal much of the workload spotlight.

The two are the Okanagan Ferry invasion of Shoshone and the Castleford trek to Hailey.

Flier to Burley

Flier's Wildcats, suspecting another defeat but hoping for a long shot, upset over an old rival journey to Burley to meet the Bobcats in the Big Ten clash. Bobcat Indians step off at Big Ten ranks to do battle against Coalinga high school's Senators in Clovis, Calif.

On Friday, Clovis A rams to Kimberly and match Wendell against the powerful Hornets of Oakley.

The Bruins of Twin Falls have an open date this week.

Titles at Stake

Outcome of the two leading Class B games will virtually decide the championships in both north and south side conferences, and will give almost a certain indication as to the two teams which will meet in the inter-conference games for the general Class B title.

In the south side scrap, Flier's unbeaten aggregation, backed by its final hurdle in the adopted Castleford's strong, but uncoordinated offense, victory for the Huskies, will assure the ninth, now crown, since 1916. He only menacing competitor, has already fallen before the Haman Jugger.

Spectacular Clash

The north side Class A feature should provide plenty of thrills, with both Glenn Ferry and Shonie Parry, and their respective backs, and nose guards in it's heart.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

The migration of birds to a southern country is due mostly to the problem of securing food, and not to the cold. Several species of birds survive the cold winters of our temperate climate, but all of these birds are especially well fitted for securing food under trying conditions.

LOCAL COUPLE
TAKE MARRIAGE VOWS

A simple ceremony at the Catholic parsonage yesterday morning united in marriage Miss Evelyn Mrs. James' daughter of McLean and Mr. & Mrs. E. Bauer, twin brother and Ralph Amsendrup, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Amsendrup, Minotaur. Father Lionel Blouet read the ceremony. Miss Lillian Nelson and Ray Amsendrup attended the bride and bridegroom. Only immediate members of the family attended.

The bride's gown was an afternoon frock of navy blue crepe faille, trimmed with white baffette. With it she wore a corsage of yellow roses and lilies.

Dinner Follows

Immediately following the ceremony, 30 guests attended a wedding dinner at the country home of the bride's parents. A large white wedding bell was hung above the table and it pink and white streamers extended to place cards and candy baskets also in pink and white. At three-tiered wedding cake, which the bride served, centered the table which was lighted with taper candles of pink, white and yellow chevrons.

"Mr." and "Mrs." Amsendrup left Saturday afternoon for a wedding trip to Chicago and other points in the middle west. On their return they will make their home on a farm near Murtaugh. The bride is a graduate of Twin Falls High School in the class of 1933 and the school of the class of 1931. Mrs. Amsendrup were a daughter of brown with matching accessories and a going-away costume.
