Three States in Vanguard of Radical Stand Displayed By Local Issues

EXPERIMENTS SUPPORTED

Inroads of Liberal Doctrines Revealed in Votes Given New Platforms

BY LYLE C. WILSON (Copyright, 1934, United Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (UPI)—The United States has moved left in a process of party realignment between radicals and conservatives.

Three States lead the radical progression. Minnesota, Louisiana and Wisconsin. In addition, notably California and Oregon, the radical movement has boosted or reversed in Tuesday's general election.

Radical Trend.

But the political center of gravity represented by the New Deal has shifted in this country, which until 1932 in the post-war period, was the most conservative of the major nations. The off-year election this week ratified the leftist trend indicated two years ago when millions of Americans voted clad in the radical banner of Herbert Hoover rather than for his opponent.

Wisconsin progressives advanced a program of planned economy. It involved redistribution of wealth, which in more temperate form is part of President Roosevelt's New Deal.

Wisconsin Plan.

The progressive redistribution would be by means of income and inheritance taxation and centralized government control of the banking system. The progressives proposed the ownership of utilities and of industries manufacturing necessities of life. They would give every man a job through public works expenditures.

Louisiana offers Sen. Huey P. Long, radical Democrat and anti-New Dealer, to make "every man a king." Long has been talking about secession from the union to permit Louisiana to recover from depression. He refers to adjacent Mississippi as "the back door of his own state." He looks beyond Mississippi to Arkansas for political domination.

"Secure the Wealth."

"Secure the wealth" is the slogan of Longism. Tuesday's election ratified some typical Long propositions in Louisiana designed to shift the burden of taxation from the little man to the big man, measured in terms of money. The $1 poll tax for voters was eliminated and home values at less than $2,000 were exempted from taxation. Long plans to submit the legislation to a special session to pass "some more poor people laws."

Minnesota approved a Socialist-Farmer-Labor third party platform which advocated: government ownership of banks; utility and insurance companies; an engineering factory; old age pensions; unemployment insurance; and a variety of propositions which could

Powerful Cheap Money, Yet

Bonus Groups Will Go To Washington

By EDWARD W. LEWIS (Copyright, 1934, United Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (UPI)—

Powerful inflation, and bonus strength in the next congress was revealed by United Press election charts today.

Coupled with pronounced left-wing tendencies of many new members, the bonus groups will outdo the old ones as certain to harass President Roosevelt in attempting to keep congress from meddling with the currency or paying off $2,000,000,000 to the veterans.

Democratic senators elected were two to one for the bonus which has inflation tied up with it. A total of 118 members of the next house are out and our inflationists. A total of 178 house members are aligned for the "greenback" payoff of.

House Strength.

Late returns today from congressional districts indicated the administration would retain its present house strength of 300 and possibly pass the 318 figure, the number of Democrats elected in 1932. Vacancies have occurred since. Senate two-thirds majority is gone.

These unprecedented off-year majorities will lack New Deal cohesion.

Also, movements, the United Provinces indicated would center around the house and currency inflation. It was considered doubtful, however, that either could be passed over a presidential veto.

The 80-hour work bill, inflation payoff of farm debts and more far-reaching social legislation that the administration may sponsor will tax house leadership strategy.

Idaho, Utah Vote Swamps Republicans

Borah Lone Hope of G.O.P. Future

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 8 (UPI)—Democratic party workers of Utah and Idaho today congratulated their candidates for victory.

Thus, laborites of both states revealed that they had rolled up a sweeping, lopsided victory—in keeping with the rest of the nation.

Borah Lone Hope.

Out of the debacle, as far as Republicans were concerned, emerged one lone figure to carry on the principles of the badly beaten party. He is Senator William E. Borah, R., Idaho, who did not face reelection.

Utah returned Rep. William H. King to Washington for another six-year term by an overwhelming majority. Two Democratic candidates for congress won reelection easily.

Gov. C. Ben Rom was elected for the third time. In doing so Idaho voters turned thumbs down on the political philosophy of Sen. Borah who had campaigned vigorously for the Republican party.

Significant For 1936.

Gov. Rom's election is especially significant in the respect that it has been confirmed by his return to the gubernatorial nomination after two years ago when millions of Americans voted clad in the radical banner of Herbert Hoover rather than for his opponent.

U. S. SEEKS NEW PROGRAM—BORAH

Veteran Senator Says Nation Wants Definite Policy to Oust Emergency Plans

CHICAGO, Nov. 8 (UPI)—Senate William E. Borah said today that the nation wants President Roosevelt to draft a new program "that is a definite one and not an emergency measure."

The veteran senator, en route to Washington, said Tuesday's election presaged a new era in politics.

"With the old parties have failed to deal with some of the major questions confronting us," he said. "I hope the President will now outline a program that is a definite one and not an emergency measure."

"Both parties for 30 years have promised to end monopolies and have failed to do so. The Republicans must realize, more than ever since this election, that they are not meeting the issues."

He found "radical policies" in the national emergency recovery program due to the existence of monopolies and combines.

"As long as monopolies raise off the increases of farm and other products there is no real recovery," he said.

Police Heads Indicted in Depot Massacre Probe

Two high Kansas City police officials and an ex-chief have fallen into the net of the federal grand jury investigating the 1933 Union station massacre and its political implications. Left to right, above, they are George Rayes, auto theft bureau head; Eugene C. Reppert, police chief at the time of the massacre; and Thomas J. Higgins, detective chief. All are charged with perjury in denying remarks that they had urged subordinates to "lay off" the massacre probe, or implying that their first loyalty lay with the "Boss" Pendergast machine instead of the city which employed them.

NEW SUSPECTS HUNTED IN KIDNAP OF TUCSON CHILD

CALIFORNIA ASKS LIBERAL G. O. P.

Republicans Voice Demand for New Policies as Merriam Plurality Grows

By MORRIS TRACY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8 (UPI)—Out of the tumult of California's excited gubernatorial campaign there arose today a cry from Republican sources for the liberalization of the party and a call from Upton Sinclair for followers of his Epic plan to rally around more, that Epic may live forever.

Plurality Dies.

Idaho also eliminated its liquor prohibition clause from the state constitution, giving the legislature power to enact laws restricting or permitting the sale, manufacture and distribution of liquor.

Both Idaho and Utah now have similar liquor laws. Each state permits the sale of beer but the legislature may liberalize the laws if they so desire.

Significant For 1936.

San Francisco's excitement over the gubernatorial campaign under Governor Merriam, Republican, 102,803; Sinclair, Democrat, 780,770; Height, Commonwealth Progressive, 270,876; Merriam's plurality.

For Lieut. Governor George J. Hatfield, Rep., 1,022,803; Sheridan Downey, Dem., 847,300; Hatfield's plurality.

So, with Frank E. Merriam, Republican, finally elected and the result of Sinclair and his advanced economics driven back from the governor's chair, everywhere at that time he played no part in the kidnapping.

Although he was released, many of his handwriting were sent to Washington for comparison, and he wrote Robison a note on the day of the kidnapping, demanding $15,000 as the price of his daughter's release.

Two other notes were received by Robison before a posse, acting on instructions contained in an anonymous letter from Chicago 10 days after the kidnapping; round $1,000.

Robison refused to pay the debt contracted while she was his nurse.

After shooting the two women, Jacobi fled to his home. Police found him cold in a nightgown, wildly brandishing the pistol and shouting threats to shoot anyone who sought to seize him. He was disarmed by a ruse whereupon he was discovered he had swallowed a poison potion.

Jacobi died to his wife, Helen, for divorce in 1929 but the case was dropped. Mrs. Jacobi later sued Merriam for an alleged libel on the ransom note, but the forecast did not doubt

Parents Abandon Opposition

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8 (UPI)—

A paternal blessing today removed the final obstacle from the romance of 10-year-old

Mary Ellen McAdoo and her

Manhattan fiance, Rafael Lopez de Onate, who is twice her age.

Her father, Senator William G. McAdoo, in a brief statement said he withdrew his objections to his daughter marrying the motion picture actress. Previously he had threatened to sue his law partner, Col. William Neblett, to stop Mrs. McAdoo from leaving for Hollywood.

Neblett had demanded proof of Marie's virginity.

"In reply to inquiries, neither I nor Mrs. McAdoo, who gives me authority to speak for her, will interpose any objections to the marriage of our daughter, Billie, to Rafael Lopez de Onate," the senator's statement said. "She is 10 years of age and capable of choosing her own husband. The time is ripe for her to get mar-

Sheaf Vote Large.

California turned back the radical thrust by defeating Upton Sinclair, Democratic gubernatorial candidate. Sinclair sponsored a plan of production for use which involved butter and a tax program which frightened the state. But 800,000 Californians voted for Sinclair and Epke. Approximately 1,200,000 voters were cast.

Joe E. Zimmerman, without organization but on a radical platform polled almost 100,000 votes for governor in Oregon, losing to Charles H. Martin, New Dealer.

Joseph J. France, campaigning for senator in Maryland in a Republican on an advanced program of social insurance, forged well beyond 100,000 votes in that comparatively small state.

Massachusetts sent to the Senate Thomas H. Hart, a fighting peasant more than who may have the New Deal but who will be supported by more radical programs.

One-House Legislature.

Nebraska experimented cautiously by ratifying a state constitutional amendment for a unicameral legislative system. Ben George W. Norris, Republican New Dealer, won the primaries to the plan in an effort to make government more efficient and responsive.

Some 200,000 some of the economic changes proposed or effected by the enthralled American movement away from the age of innocence. Five more states voted, yet this week, West Virginia, Nebraska, Idaho, Wyoming and Florida. Dry Kansas remained dry. Most Massachusetts counties which voted on the question, decided to legalize parlay-hut-betting on horses and dogs. Since 1932 there has been a general relaxation of laws against slot machines and the trend apparently is continuing.

Florida embarked on a peculiar experiment in state agrarianism. It beckoned moving picture producers from Hollywood with a 15-year tax exemption for their studios.

Doctors Checking Records to

Shed Further Light on Prostrations.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) - Staff

physicians of hospitals here, who treated many heat victims last summer, are now checking over their records and seeking to throw more light on the subject. Medical literature, they say, does not have a great deal of information on heat prostration.

At General hospital, 62 cases were treated, of which 63 were heat strokes. The others were heat exhaustion. In the former it was found the temperature usually was far above normal. In heat exhaustion the temperature was a little above normal, but the body was cold and clammy.

More Men Affected.

More men were affected by the heat than women, but the mortality rate was higher for women.

Death resulted in 34 of the 62 cases, 22 of the deaths being among those suffering from heat stroke.

Other data showed that where the temperature reached 108 degrees death resulted in 63.4 per cent. Those who suffered from cyanosis (blue lips and fingernails) died in 80 per cent of cases. The death rate of those who had cold sweats was 5.5 per cent. All who had high temperatures fell ill, and 51.5 per cent of those whose pulse beat passed 140 beats a minute succumbed.

RITCHIE DEFEATED.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (UPI) - Gov. Charles E. Ritchie bid for a record term as governor of an American state failed today when final returns showed his Republican opponent, Harry W. Nee, Battleground, won.

A school bus, operated by W. S. Parker for Union school district, was accidentally struck this morning by a tractor driven by Bob Miller, on the highway corner three miles west of Elvira Pointa.

Benoit Speaks.

Harry Benoit, Idaho national commander of the American Legion, who returned recently from the national convention in Miami, Fla., spoke on the convention and on Armistice day, at the Kiwanis club function at the Hotel Idaho.

Ritchie's defeat came after four terms as Maryland's governor. He had bid for a fifth term which would have given him 10 years in the office, a longer term than any American governor has ever served.

Ritchie's defeat was attributed generally to local issues and the accumulation of grievances during his long service.

The show, "Lucky Break," is an adaptation of the well-known American hit "Little Joe James," which ran for years in America and various parts of the world.

VIENNA (UPI) - The problem of minorities, created by the peace treaty, again is embittering relations between neighbors in Central and Balkan Europe.

BEET CONTRACT MEETS PLANNED

Four Gatherings Will Point Out Provisions of AAA Program

Announcement was made today that a series of four meetings will be held in this county commencing Monday, when the AAA allotment contract to beet growers will be explained.

"Most of the meetings will be held at Twin Falls Monday at 8 p.m. and the others will follow at the same hour on succeeding nights at Kimberly high school, Mountain View high school, and Orange Hill, Filer.

Provisions Listed

In explanation of the contract, a summary of its provisions has been supplied by the university extension department, as follows:

1. Those eligible to enter into the contract are to receive an advance payment of $1.40 on the entire 1934 production.

2. Final payment of 26 cents per ton on estimated or actual 1934 production; whichever is higher, to guarantee parity price for 1934 crop.

3. Refund on 1933 crop due from processing taxes already collected on sugar.

4. Deficiency payments in 1934 to cane growers are forced to abandon planted acreage because of drought, insects, or other sufficient reason.

5. Advance payment of not less than 50 cents per ton on estimated 1934 production.

6. Final payment on 1935 crop sufficient to give growers parity price.

7. Two crop payments and possibility of a deficiency payment in 1934 if the contract is extended to that year.

8. Sugar factory record will be used as the source of production data for producers, but each producer will have opportunity to make corrections or adjustments of the production credited to him if the factory records are not sufficiently accurate.

9. A grower to be eligible for the contract must have produced sugar beets in either or both of the last two years.

By Districts

10. The official announcement of the AAA states that acreage allotments will be to factory districts in units. Each producer's allotment will represent his pro rata share of the acreage allotted to his factory district. Most reductions from base acreage will not exceed 10 per cent.

11. Advance payments for 1934 will be based on actual 1934 planted acreage, and the producer's repayment will be over a period of not less than three years.

12. A grower may determine his base acreage on the average of his last two years, three years, four years, or five years production, whichever he chooses.

No Child Labor

13. A grower may not employ children under 14 years of age for work in the fields, and children 14 to 16 years of age cannot be employed after the time he has a right to receive a deficiency payment to the children of the grower.

14. Minimum wages for 1933 and 1934 may be prescribed by the secretary of agriculture, but such wages shall not be prescribed until opportunity has been given for hearings from all producers and laborers involved.

15. Full 1934 payment will not be made until the producer has indicated that he has met all bona fide claims for wages in connection with the 1934 beet crop.

Friends, relating the experience of local huntman, when he was left asleep in a car with on a recent phantom hunting expedition, and how, when he awoke, he found his car home, leaving his erstwhile companion in a lurch and faced with the necessity of either walking, hitch-hiking or hiring a car to bring them home from the north side, vowing they had learned a lesson. They had non-existent money, driving lighter and you behind the display window of a downtown business house, trying currently to catch flies for dinner.... The mouse ignored phrasery who stopped to look into the window, and kept industriously at his task for something over an hour.

Unofficial meeting yesterday morning that Frank J. Stephan had his ticket in this country with his 5,111 votes; also that Stephan carried his home city of Twin Falls, by a vote of 2,687 to 2,143 for Ross.... Stephan, in the county, carried Twin Falls precinct No. 1, 2, 3 and 7, Filer, Hansen, Rock Creek, Rowley and Thomas.

An unusual entry, pervading the city today, following the return of Tuesday and the aftermath, is the collector at night stating that he needs the good old days back turned, as he has many sales listed for every available day for a two-weeks' stretch.

ITALIAN GRANTED LITERARY AWARD

Pirandello, Noted Playwright And Novelist, Wins Nobel Prize for 1934.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 8 (UPI)—Pirandello, famous Italian dramatist and novelist, today was awarded the Nobel literary prize.

Selected from a host of American and European literary figures, Pirandello was given the famous award which last year went to Ilya Ehrenburg, Russian author, and which normally is worth about $47,000. The amount varies from year to year.

Pirandello was born at Siracusa, Sicily, in 1867, and was educated at Rome and the University of Bonn. His present home is in Rome.

His writings have been varied, including poetry, plays and prose.

He has known writing critics:

"A You Deserve Me," Six Characters in Search of an Author; "The Man with the Flower in His Mouth"; "The Mock Emperor"; "The Life I Gave You."

Date Seed Produces Remarkable Fruit

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—A date seed, carelessly tossed to the ground by P. A. Chopin, president of the New Orleans Horticultural society, has produced a miracle.

"From that seed has sprung a mighty date palm tree which bears 300 pounds of delicious, sweet dates each year. This is the only known seedless date palm in the world," Chopin says.

Experiments continue, and the palm has proved him that it is impossible to graft or propagate this date in any way save through "juckers" that grow from the root.

If the "jucker" transplanting is successful, the entire date industry may be revolutionized, Chopin claims.

SALVATION ARMY GIVES POTATOES

Noedy Twin Falls Families Get 100 Sacks Donated By Grower

One hundred sacks of potato were distributed to needy Twin Falls families during the past week, according to a report issued by Adjutant H. T. Black, Salvation Army commander. The sacks, which were donated in charge of a local grower who wished to remain unknown, were turned over to the Salvation Army last week with the request to place them where they would be most needed.

"We have supplied many needs to families over this area," said Black today, "but this is the first time we have ever had such a large and welcome distribution to make. It was worth while to do all this work just to see the smile of the families receiving the gift, and hear their heartfelt thanks."

While the Salvation Army is not a charity organization, it is charitable in intent, according to Black, and has a two-fold purpose: religion with a charitable and charity with a religious aspect.

The Twin Falls corps of the Army is a participating unit of the Community Chest.

Memorial Carving

KEYSTONE, S. D. (UPI)—Sixteen drillers are at work on the Jefferson head of the Mt. Rushmore Memorial and will continue indefinitely, Gutzon Borglum, sculptor, said.

All movements are made to move the head in the portion of the memorial under construction after winter sets in, Borglum said. The head will be in the Hailey cemetery under the direction of the Harris funeral parlor.

Death, which came at his home yesterday, followed a lingering illness. Mr. Allen was born in Mantowee, Wis., Sept. 4, 1859. He came to Hailey with a brother, Sam Allen, the town's earliest citizen. The two brothers developed the town, and named it after the death of his brother. Mr. Allen has been the sole owner of the property. He recently leased it to a niece, Mrs. Sadie Mahony, Hailey. He was a charter member of Hailey Eagle Lodge. No immediate relatives survive.

GOTHAM HUNTING 'PLANK' ROBBERS

Pair Walks Across Board at Fourth Story to Hold Up Westerners

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (UPI) — Police today arrested two men who held up a plank 70 stories above the streets, burst the hotel suite of a California millionaire and his wife, and departed in a limousine.

The burglars invaded the hotel suite of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Earle around midnight, held up the couple as they returned from the theater, locked them in a closet and then ransacked the apartment.

The man, after overing clothes, carried away their loot in two bundles, one of which was a private suitcase before Earle had broken a panel in the closet door and freed himself and his wife.

Loss $2,000

The Earles, whose home is in Los Angeles, estimated their loss in jewels and other belongings at about $2,000, police said.

The Earles had arrived at their hotel apartment about midnight. As they entered the door the two men rose from chairs and threw pistol into their faces.

"Get in the closet," said the robbers, holding clothes. "We are gontion to hurt you unless you make trouble."

After remaining in the stuffy closet for half an hour, Earle broke a panel in the door and unlocked it. The men already had left the hotel, going to the street by the service elevator.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8 (UPI) — Yarmouth's famous runic stone, whose mysterious inscriptions have baffled some of Canada's greatest Runology scholars, is at last giving up its secret to a Washington school teacher.

The stone, found at the head of Yarmouth Harbor, is now on exhibition in the public library here. Photographs and other data on the stone were forwarded to Professor Stanwood, county superintendent of schools in Benton county, Wash., who, after studying them, has advised authorities here that the runes were made by Norwegians more than nine centuries ago.

K PURCHASE POOLS
SAVE FOR CITIES

European Towns, Some U. S. Communities Find Big Economy Possible

CHICAGO, Oct. 8 — Huge savings in the purchase of supplies could be effected by American cities if they were to take a lesson from European cities with their highly developed methods of co-operative purchasing.

Paul V. Butera, executive director of the American Municipal Association and the United States Conference of Mayors, reported today to the association after a conference study of municipal programs abroad.

Pool Purchasing

Amazing advancement in pool purchasing has been made in countries all over Europe, especially in Britain, Belgium and Germany, he reported.

"In these three countries," Butera said, "the cities have banded together to operate their own insurance companies. As a result, insurance rates have decreased tremendously."

Cities in Holland and Belgium operate their own co-operative insurance companies secured at low rates, he said.

Gains Momentum

The co-operative purchasing movement in this country has attained momentum in Michigan, Wisconsin, Virginia, and New York. State leagues of municipalities are responsible for the action.

The Michigan State League has contracted for tire home for a large number of its city members. In Wisconsin, similar plans have started. In New York and Virginia, the state leagues have undertaken a purchasing information service which provides for all cities.

SCOTTSLVILLE, Neb., Oct. 8 — Although Nebraska's sugar beet crop will be somewhat lower this year than the bumper production of 1933, the sugar content of the crop is running higher.

Tests by S. B. Nuckles, federal expert here, show a content of 14.4 per cent in the beets, an average content of 11.9 per cent last year.

A higher profit from the higher content in the beets, he says.

WOMAN'S RECIPE RECEIVES AWARD

Mrs. D. M. Powell Is Granted Certificate for Apple Pie

Mrs. D. M. Powell, 1402 Ridgeway road, Twin Falls, has been awarded a certificate of recipe achievement by Betty Lou Bowen and Gladys L. for her recipe for apple pie. This certificate is given by the magazine only for recipes which pass the kitchen test for dependability, excellence of taste and family usefulness.

The recipe is:

2 cups of sweetened apple sauce; 2 tablespoons of flour; 2 eggs, whites beaten stiff; 4 tablespoons of sugar; 1 previously baked pastry shell.

Place the apple sauce (containing apples) in a piepan and heat to sealing. Add the egg whites and sugar until the top is clear, stirring occasionally. Additional sugar may be added if the filling becomes sweetish. Place in the baked pastry shell and top with a meringue made of the beaten egg whites and the remaining flour.

Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees) until delicately browned and serve warm.

Magician Friend of Famous Figure Will Play Lead Role in Film

By ALEXANDER RAHIN

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — The life of Harry Houdini, the wizard of Houdinism who had been called one of the most fascinating and dashing figures in theatrical history, is to be the basis of a picture by one of the major studios.

Fred Keating, the stage-and-movie magician who turned actor, is tentatively slated for the leading role. Keating was a friend of the Master of Magic as well as one of his leading rivals in their profession.

Another friend of the late Houdini, Jo Swerling, is writing the story for the film.

Das Equipment

Much of the equipment used by Houdini in performing his amazing feats is now owned by Keating who will use most of it in the picture.

Keating now is working on his new tricks and intends to expand his act with many stunts. His dash and beat tricks died with him.

Although he possessed an enviable reputation as a magician, Keating forewore the hoodoo, packed up his magic wand and took a header into drama. He appeared in many successful Broadway shows. Among them: "Forecasting All Others," in which he played opposite Tabubil Bankhead, and with Hope Williams in "All Good Americans."

After a review of Tesla Coloma signed him to a long term contract and gave him a "feature" roll in "The Captain Hates the Sea."

—SUES ON OLD ORDINANCE

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 8 — On grounds the train was exceeding eight times per hour speed, the ordinance limit in 1908 for all vehicles, a suit for $20,000 has been brought against a railroad by the administrator of the estate of Frank Kaufmann, a farmer, killed three years ago by a train. The old ordinance limits him at the highest pro-

FRICK SLATED FOR PREXY AS NATIONAL LEAGUE HEADS MEET

DOE TO RECEIVE HEYDLER'S POST

Youthful, Dynamic Ex-Sorbo
And Radio Man Favored
As President

By JACK CUDY
NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (UPI)—Ford C. Frick of New York, publicity director of the National League and former baseball writer and radio sports commentator, probably will be elected league president today.

Dart-charged, dynamic Frick would be the youngest man ever to become a major league presy. He will be 41 next month.

His youth, ability, relations with press and radio and his current connection with the circuit are expected to win a majority vote of the eight National club owners in today's executive meeting.

He would succeed venerable John A. Heydler, who announced his resignation Friday because of poor health, following revelations that he had private detectives watching certain teams in the closing stages of the pennant race to ferret out any possible scandal. Heydler's resignation will become effective Dec. 11.

Heydler, in retiring from the combined offices of president and secretary-treasurer, but he is expected to be named lifetime honorary president and adviser in appreciation of his 10 years' service as league head. This honorary appointment also would be a nice gesture on the part of club owners to show the baseball world that there was no connection between Heydler's retirement and the detective revelations although they coincided closely.

It is understood that the owners plan to split up the position combination and give the secretary-treasurer post to Harvey Hirschfeld of New York, Heydler's chief Heydler's private secretary for many years.

Numerous other candidates have been mentioned for the presidency, but best informed baseball sources claim Frick has the inside track.

A "big name" successor is unlikely because that would necessitate a "big name" salary.

Proposed that Heydler reconsider his resignation, take one-year leave of absence and return to his post at the end of that time, have been rejected as failing health, or what's to shift the responsibilities to younger shoulders.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Mon., Nov. 8 (Special).—The University of Idaho freshman Boise junior college game at Boise Saturday will be homecoming for many players on the university squad. None of the men are from Boise, but a large percentage of them call southern Idaho their home.

Stellar players on Coach Otto Anderson's freshman aggregation who will be performing once again in their native clime include Louis Rich, halfback from Piley, Rich, second to Conner, Abshier, is one of the most agile backs he has ever sent out on a gridiron. "He is at the bottom of almost every play shot at our team," said Anderson recently.

Twin Falls Aspirants

Two Twin Falls men will be in the starting lineup. They are Lester Abshier, end, and Woody Pearce, guard. Abshier is not only a good wingman, but is the squad's most colorful passer. He tossed the ball at the rate of 100 yards per quarter, as Bob McCullum of Idaho Valley, Yale, Pearce is the smallest linemen on the freshman team. He weighs only 145 pounds, but Anderson declares he makes up in fight what he lacks in bulk.

Mervin Prince, hard-charging fullback, comes from Wendell; Stanko Pavko, halfback, is from Gooding.

Jaro Maupin, star quarterback of the freshman team, however, comes from a more remote state—Mississippi. His home state is California. Maupin is the first real triple-threat quarterback to show up at the university since "way back when."

BEARS BANK ON HIM

Here is a closeup of Leigh Williams, fleet triple-threat back of the University of California, upon whose shoulders rests a great deal of the Bear's burden in the game with Southern California in Los Angeles on Nov. 10.

Huey Long May Holler L. S. U. Into Rose Bowl

By STUART CAMERON

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (UPI)—While the effects out and pre-conditioned Western conference gather toward regulations prohibiting their teams from participating in post-season games, Huey Long may be the last man standing, and quite possibly will scatter Louisiana State university right into California's annual New Year's day Rose Bowl clash.

About the only thing the Louisiana kingfish hasn't claimed is the halo of possibility. He got into the halo of possibility this New Year's day. None in mind it's a money proposition out there and considering the Minnesota and Princeton situations, along with the others, Louisiana would be a happy choice from a standpoint of gate receipts, and never mind the football. They can play some of that too.

Louisiana State has a big line up for its football battles, and a fleet, virile Syria named Abe McLean, who does everything and swallows the football, and might do that too if it became a necessity.

Under Cliff Jones the team has played through a schedule minus defeats to date. Twice the alone may mar the record.

But Louisiana should get the nod, that tie wouldn't matter. The match would be the main attraction.

The only thing the eastern team in the big battle at Pasadena, and neither Stanford nor Washington is particularly hot in southern California.

The only tie that one is that the Pasadena Rose Bowlers are confronted by that task of digging up an opponent for the west that will pack them in. Huey and his antics seem to be made in order for the occasion.

Tigers, Gophers Out

Princeton, it might be pointed out again for the benefit of those who take their football hit and miss, already has decided not to participate in the post-season games, etc. If anything, it would be thwarted by a Big Ten regulation.

Syracuse and Michigan State, also among the candidates, will go about the business of eliminating one or the other this weekend when they meet. Alabama and Tulane have been recent visitors to the coast and probably would not be invited even if they should finish the season top.

Dash and Color

They want new dash and color and fire on the coast this time, and Huey is southern agent for that stuff.

If the Louisiana players themselves can't measure up—considering that they've been tied twice—their mascot makes up the deficit, from his very huge store.

HOCKEY SEASON GETS UNDERWAY

By United Press

Getting away to the parlor starts in history, the National Hockey league opens its new season tonight with the St. Louis Blues, replacing the Ottawa Senators on the nine-club circuit with many offshoots plus and minus. The Blues will be forced to play in an even tougher one next Saturday.

Taking Berg out of the game meant that for the first time this year the blocking halfback did not play 60 minutes of ball. The iron man of the Idaho squad has been doing a brilliant job in the backfield.

PITT'S MENTOR SEES DEADLOCK

Sutherland Says Nebraska
Will Hold Panthers to Georeous Tie

By JOHN SUTHERLAND

Head Coach, University of Pittsburgh
(Copyright, 1934, NEA Service,

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 8—Big teams swing into the home stretch in races for sectional, intersectional, traditional, and national honors on Nov. 10.

There isn't a section of the country that fails to advance at least two outstanding and exciting contests, the most attention following a hard game with Notre Dame-Pittsburgh plus Nebraska at Lincoln. I have taken four good football teams to Lincoln and we have returned with one victory. Three games have resulted in a scoreless tie.

Expecta Tie

Dana Bible had a good Company crew, one that has come into rapid development early season, try to Minnesota. Nebraska plays football that is hard to beat before a home crowd. I am looking forward to another game like it. If we can hold the Panthers

Two of the best teams in the country meet when Tulane tackles

Colgate in New York. I am pleased Colgate after a scoring spree.

Notre Dame and Navy meet on a neutral field in Cleveland, and the Irish should continue on the victorious way, averaging half a dozen points.

Another southern array comes north when Georgia meets Yale, and the quest will be successful. Harry Mohr's Bulldogs should be too much for Ducky Ponti's Bulldogs, although it will be close.

Rams Beware

Jimmy Crowley's Princeton team, after three tough games in a row, will have to be set to withstand the attack of Trusty Talmage's West Virginia Mountaineers. Princeton should win, but any slip is likely to mean defeat.

Every Western Conference outfit will be engaged in championship games. Herbie Blenman's Minnesota Gophers, favorite for the title, have Indiana on their hands, and while they should win, any laxness is liable to prove fatal.

The closest battle of the day on this front would take place when Ohio State meets Chicago this New Year's day. Both will be in the thick of it.

I have an idea that Frank Schmidt's Buckeyes have lost the one game that they will lose this year, and will have a little too much on the ball for the Maroons.

Town figures to lose to Purdue; buring one of the biggest upsets of the day. Michigan and Wisconsin will battle along until Michigan wins, and Illinois will hand him a hard time.

Dodges Beware

The kingfish must, it might be said, combine all the qualities of a champion—dash and dash, Army style—and the navy grit and the road—and bide his time more color.

It happens this year that Stanford or Washington is likely to be the Pacific coast choice.

To appear against the eastern team in the big battle at Pasadena, and neither Stanford nor Washington is particularly hot in southern California.

The only tie that one is that the Pasadena Rose Bowlers are confronted by that task of digging up an opponent for the west that will pack them in. Huey and his antics seem to be made in order for the occasion.

SERVANT OF INDUSTRY

Although the question whether recovery should precede reform is still unsettled, there is one field in which majority opinion unquestionably wants to see reform take precedence. That field is the stock market.

The measures passed by the last Congress have not been in effect very long, but it is not too early to glance at the situation and see whether anything more needs to be done.

John T. Flynn recently wrote an extremely penetrating analysis of the whole stock market situation. In his final article, looking to the future, he suggested certain steps that might be taken to prevent Wall Street from regaining its old dominance over our economic life.

To begin with, he asserts that our whole financial system needs recasting. He would have a national banking system, a complete divorce between savings and lending institutions, further restrictions on the activities of brokers, a revision of our corporation laws to require federal charters for all firms engaged in interstate commerce, and abolition of all holding companies.

Second, he would have all such restrictions that deal directly with stock exchange activities written solidly into laws which the securities exchange commission would be directed to enforce. Under the present law the commission makes its own regulations on these subjects.

This, says Mr. Flynn, puts the commission under direct pressure from Wall Street to adopt a "liberal" attitude, and may eventually result in nullification of the people's will.

In discussing any such measures, it is important to keep clearly in mind the underlying purposes of this or any other financial reform program.

The things we have learned since October of 1929 prove pretty clearly that our financial machinery got badly out of gear in the last decade. The machinery of finance, credit, and exchange exists to make possible the functioning of a large and complex industrial society. It became perverted. It grew to be an end in itself.

It got so that it was more important, and more lucrative, to perform sleight-of-hand tricks with this financial mechanism than it was to produce the goods and services which the nation needed.

All that the reform program seeks to do is to restore a proper balance. Finance must become industry's servant again, and not its master. Continuance or modification of the reform program should be judged on that basis.

Although there is much work and expense involved in gathering and compiling election returns, the effort is well justified by the satisfaction and convenience which is afforded a large number of persons on election night. To give the results of the vote in this county and district within two or three hours, required the cooperation of large numbers of persons outside the regular newspaper staff, including precinct committeemen, election officials, phone operators, messengers and others, to whom thanks and appreciation are due.

PRESIDENTIAL YEARNING

The hidden ambitions of successful men are interesting things, when we can find out about them. Many an industrial leader secretly wishes he had become a prospector or a musician; many a general would be a locomotive engineer or an Arctic explorer if he followed the dictates of his own heart.

But the most surprising of all these suppressed desires is the one recently attributed to the late President Coolidge.

Arthur Hopkins, theatrical producer, says that Mr. Coolidge always wanted to be an actor. Mr. Hopkins says that he and John Barrymore learned this, some years ago, while guests of President Coolidge at a White House luncheon.

The president, he says, not only wanted to be an actor, but was convinced that he would have been a pretty good one.

Few men ever win more success than Mr. Coolidge found in his chosen field of politics. It is strange indeed to learn that beneath it all there lurked a hidden yen for the glamour of footlights and grease paint.

Defeat of Sinclair in California brought quite as many sighs of relief from Democrats as from Republicans.

Just another way of reminding you—the post office department says it will make deliveries on Christmas.

Don't laugh at Hitler. Huey Long is grooming himself for the presidency.

Mordean had been investigating the affairs of DANIEL DUGAN, the millionaire and his wife, following the arrest of an impostor claiming to be Dugan and attempting to kidnap him.

The day following Mordean's death, CATHY, alias of polygamist, was arrested. He had visited the office of ALICE ELDERTON, who had reported to police that she had received a telegram from ESTHER ORWELL.

Griff goes to see Alice and remembers her former story. When Griff asks her if she is still a virgin, she denies this but changes her former story. When Griff tries to find out more details he shadow the girl.

CHAPTER XXII

SUNDAY GRUFF returned to his own car and drove at once to the different hotel. He got in touch with the bell captain on the night shift and gave him $5 bill by way of introduction.

"I want to find out," he said, "about a man by the name of Cathay who was registered here on Monday night in Room 664."

"There's been two or three people making about him," the bell boy said.

"Showed you photographs?"

"Yes."

"The photographs they showed you wasn't the photographs of the man who was here?"

"No."

"Can you remember what he looked like?"

"He was rather a big fellow and I took his name and his eyes. I can't remember enough about him to describe him but I could tell him if I saw him again."

"He was picked several times during the evening?"

"Yes."

"Can you tell me about the calls he received? You picked him during the evening here in the lobby?"

"He must have been 15 or 20 times."

"Were the calls telephone calls, or was it someone who was here in the hotel and wanted to talk with him?"

"Someone here in the hotel—a little guy with gray hair and blue eyes. I remember him well. He was mad as a wet cat about something. He had an appointment with this guy, Cathay, that Cathay hadn't kept. He was some kind of an inventor, I think, and there was some kind of a deal on that Cathay was to close."

Griff's eyes were thoughtful. "I wonder if we can find out who that man was?" he said.

"I think so," the bell captain told him. "I think the man had a room here in the hotel, at least for the night, and I think he waited over. It seems to me I saw him checking out about the time I came on duty Tuesday night."

"Let's go see if we can find out," "Okay," the bell boy said. "You wait here, chief, and I'll go探 around a little bit. I think maybe I can find out. I tell you what I think I can do. I think I can conclude that the man had a room here in the hotel, at least for the night, and I think he waited over. It seems to me I saw him checking out about the time I came on duty Tuesday night."

tinct one of the boys who took a pint of whisky off to his room. "Remember, up to his room, remember, he asked me for an okay on him."

The bell boy grimed confidentially. "Oh, course," he said. "That's just between you and me, right?"

"Well?"

The bell captain departed and was back within ten minutes.

"I've put him located for you," he said. "His name is Harry Fancher and he lives at 3692 Kenwood avenue, Milvale. At any rate, that's the address he gave on the register."

Sidney Griff looked at his watch.

"A night drive," he said, "would bring me into Milvale just about daylight."

The bell boy regarded him curiously.

"It would," he said, "be a long way to go if the man had given a phonny address. Lots of them do, you know."

Sidney Griff nodded thoughtfully.

He handed the boy another $5 bill and put through a call for the police headquarters at Milvale. Within 10 minutes he had them on the line.

"You have a city directory there, as well as a register of voters?" he asked.

"Yes," replied Griff.

"What is it you want?" asked Griff.

"Why, I think you can get it?"

The bell boy, unperceived, made shuffling sounds as he crossed to a writing desk. He opened the desk and turned to the shorthand girl.

"Hold the line," said the boy, with a weary lack of curiosity, engrossed by a life that made crime a mere matter of daily routine.

After a moment the voice came over the wire.

"You there," said Harry Fancher.

"Frank B. Cathay—Investment—608 First National Bank Building, RiverView."

There followed a date line, with the name of the city and state. The letter, which was addressed to Harry Fancher, read:

FLIES ASSIST IN HEREDITY STUDY

Tiny Insects Yield Valuable Secrets to Laboratory Researchers

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — To most people a fly is nothing but a pest, without the slightest redeeming quality to justify its existence, but to some scientists the little fellow is quite an aid in carrying out research investigations.

In the genetic laboratories of the University of Southern California, Prof. Catherine Jagger is studying the hereditary traits of thousands of flies. She found that the ordinary household variety, but boasting the formidable name, Drosophila pseudo obscura, in an effort to add to the world's knowledge of heredity.

It is the short life span of the fly that makes him valuable to science. Having offspring every 25 days, in a year's time approximately 13 generations may be studied.

Human, animal, and plant life, all are governed by basically similar laws of heredity, and the findings of studies of the fly may be applied to human heredity, problems of heredity, and agriculture.

Such discoverers as Macomphill (protein bleeding) and color-blindness are definitely sex-linked and hereditary in nature, and the answer to many human ailments perhaps lie in our modern genetic laboratory.

In addition to the research studies being carried on by Professor Jagger, U. S. C. work also is being done along similar lines with the same species of fly at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland; California Institute of Technology, and Columbia University.

As Australian Fliers Landed After Epic Flight

"It was an uneventful trip. A tailwind lifted us along, and Taylor's navigation was perfect, as usual," declared Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, Australian aviator, after he and his navigator, Capt. P. G. Taylor, landed at Oakland, Calif., airport Sunday, completing the 2,400-mile trans-Pacific hop from Honolulu in 14 hours 59 minutes. Taylor (center) and Kingsford-Smith (right) are shown on the wing of their plane "Lady Southern Cross" after they landed. Smith hopped from Oakland in 1928 for Australia, via Hawaii and Siva. He made the same route in the return trip just finished.

OLD FOLKS JOIN UNUSUAL SCHOOL

Students in Strangest Class Range from 70 to 100 Years of Age

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — America's strongest class, composed of students from 70 to 100 years of age, has been organized here with 400 members.

Dr. W. A. McKeever, former University of Kansas professor, psychologist, author and platform lecturer, conceived the idea of forming a study group of "Matured," to "give them some interest in life."

"Too many people, when they grow old just sit around waiting for the inevitable or looking at the classic," Dr. McKeever said in explaining his new class.

Varied Classes

McKeever, first professor of child welfare in the United States, said that besides studying literature, home Bible work, fine arts, health, courage and diet and health, "courses" the group also has "achievement courses" including needle art, visiting the sick and invalid, and other similar work.

The name "Matured" was chosen to signify that the students are "growing old ready to get busy in life which society has been denying to them."

Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, "Queen of the Matured," is 100. She is the senior member of the class. Junior students are in the "seventies," seniors in the "eighties," and post graduates in the "nineties." Senior students are 100 or more.

No fees or tuition is charged. Dr. McKeever predicts the movement will grow to national scope. More than 20 years ago, while teaching at the Kansas State College, Manhattan, he began a similar class which numbered over 400.

Dr. McKeever, a medical psychologist, has written numerous books, has a newspaper column, author, university professor, publicist, and lecturer.

In 1920, he offered a $2,500 prize for the city showing the greatest development in child welfare work. Shawnee, Okla., was awarded the prize by three outstanding authorities in this line of work.

Just prior to organizing his "Matured" class, Dr. McKeever was responsible for a move among Oklahoma City parents to form a women's auxiliary.

He has been visiting his sister, Winona Gilmore, at Barber, returned with them.

MODERN SYSTEM ROBS FARM LAND

Intensive Methods Break Down Alkalinity, Bring Acidity, Nebraskan Claims

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — Present day intensive farming is breaking down alkalinity of the soil and developing acidity thus robbing the plants of their mineral elements needed for proper growth and health of the human body, according to Dr. H. M. Harvey, Gothicburg, Neb.

"One-to-the-intensive-farming practice," Harvey said, "we are breaking down the alkalinity of the soil and bringing about a state of acidity. In nutritional diseases the natural alkalinity of the body is broken down and we find the person on an acid base, because of malnutrition, brought about through the food supply grown-in defective soils."

Look the Name Harvey explained that although products of intensively farmed soil might be appearance to the name as any other, they would lack necessary chemical elements for health.

Harvey advocated rotation of grain crops with others to restore alkalinity to the soil, thus enabling it to retain its protein necessary to human health.

For the east, Nebraska anticipated big dividends from its $7,300,000 Sutherland project and its Loup River development. The Sutherland project is on the Platte river, both works of which originate in Colorado.

Construction of the Boulder dam, to the southwest of Colorado, is proceeding far ahead of schedule. It will store millions of acre feet of water for use of the Southwest, the major portion of the water coming from the snow banks of this state's vast mountainous area.
