SNOW, RAINS HIT PACIFIC SECTION; DEATHS TOTAL 14

Driving Storm Goes
Into Third Day
On Coast

AUTO ACCIDENTS FREQUENT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19 (UPI)—Heavy rains and snow fell today for the third straight day in the Pacific coast area in a driving storm which already had accounted for 14 lives in automobile accidents and drownings.

An unexpectedly heavy snowfall in the high Sierras trapped 70 motorists who had planned the completion of the Tahoe-Utah highway, according to reports received here. State highway snowplows whirled into the drifts separating the motorists from their destinations. The car carrying Gov. Frank Morrison broke through the blockade before winds made the drifts impassable. Skiff Overturns

Three men were drowned in San Francisco bay when the wind, which at times reached velocities of 45 miles an hour, overturned their small skiff at Bay Point. The victims were Joseph Duante, 40, San Leandro; C. G. Oliver, 30, San Leandro, and John Costa, 30, Oakland. Walter Duante, 14, clung to the overturned boat for 30 minutes and was saved by a passing motor launch.

ELGIN RUMS, 18, Loganport, Ind., and Ernest Bean, 25, Casper, Calif., were killed when a sedan and a truck carrying 20 CCC workers came into a head-on collision.

Victims of automobile accidents in the San Joaquin valley included Iva Furlong, 18; Lorraine Phillips, 18, and Paul Slaughter, 20, all killed near Fresno; Rollie Hazard, 22, Exeter, Calif., and C. A. Cooper, 65, Banger.

Benny Davis and Mario Rossi, both of South San Francisco, were killed in a triple automobile collision. Sixteen residents lost their lives in auto accidents in Bakerfield and San Jose.

The storm was general from Washington to southern California. It appeared heaviest in the San Francisco bay region, where one and one-half inches of rain fell yesterday, and in the Sierras, where a mile-a-minute wind piled up snowdrifts. Soda Springs reported 18 inches of snow on the ground, and Donner Summit 26 inches.

Storm warnings flew from San Francisco to Puget Sound. All airplane service east and north from San Francisco was suspended. Westbound planes halted at Reno, Nev., transferring passengers to trains at that point.

ADAM-EVE LIFE OF ISLAND PAIR ENDS IN DEATH

Starvation and Thirst Write
Finis to Eden Experiment
Of Man and Wife

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19 (UPI)—Starvation and thirst on a barren volcanic island off the coast of Ecuador have ended the Adam and Eve existence of a man and woman believed to be Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wiltmer, who sought happiness in an isolated Eden.

Discovery of two bodies on one of the most desolate islands of the Galapagos group was reported by radio by Capt. Manuel Rodriguez of San Diego, skipper of the time clipper Santo Amaro.

A bundle of baby's clothing lay near the victim but no third body was found.

From a newspaper clipping:

Capt. Alan Hancock, Los Angeles oil magnate and amateur scientist, said he was convinced the victims were the Wilmers, a German couple who found happiness and parenthood on Charles Island with other "exiles." Their child, a son, was born old when Hancock visited them last February while on a scientific expedition.

A graphic struggle against hunger and thirst was depicted in brief advice the time clipper radiated here.

Apparently, the two got out in a small skiff to visit another island when a violent storm dashed their frail craft against the beach of Marchena Island, one of the most isolated of the Galapagos group.

Without food or water, they sought shelter from the sun. Their wretched skiff was erected as a roof. They averted starvation.

A federal grand jury recommended to hear more than 100 witnesses, including one who has marketed millions of gallons of illicit liquor in adjacent states.

Gawky mountaineers complained to the grand jury that they were held in virtual slavery by the ring masters. Traditionally, these same mountaineers have spent their lifetimes hating the "revenuers" but in this case they seemed to be along with the government.

POPE, CLARK IN CITY FOR PARLEY

Senator and New Congressman Confer With Corn-Hog Committee

Sen. James P. Pope and Cong. D. Worth Clark were Twin Falls visitors this afternoon, meeting with the Twin Falls county corn-hog allotment committee at their local hotel.

Sen. Pope, who is accompanied by Mrs. Pope, his son, George Allen Pope, and his secretary, Ralph Oldmire, is en route to Washington, where he will attend the resuming mutton hearings, Dec. 3. His party intended going on to Pocatello tonight. He was to address the National Recession Council in Salt Lake City, Dec. 2, but will be unable to on account of the Senate hearings.

Mr. Clark, accompanied by Mrs. Clark, and the newly-elected congressional representative will go to Pocatello tomorrow and will later go east, planning to return to Washington the forepart of next month. They are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hood.

Clark expressed appreciation to the voters of Twin Falls county and the south central Idaho district for the majorities given him in the election. He said he had recovered from the illness which struck him the last week of the campaign.

DUCE EYES NEW BALKAN ACCORD

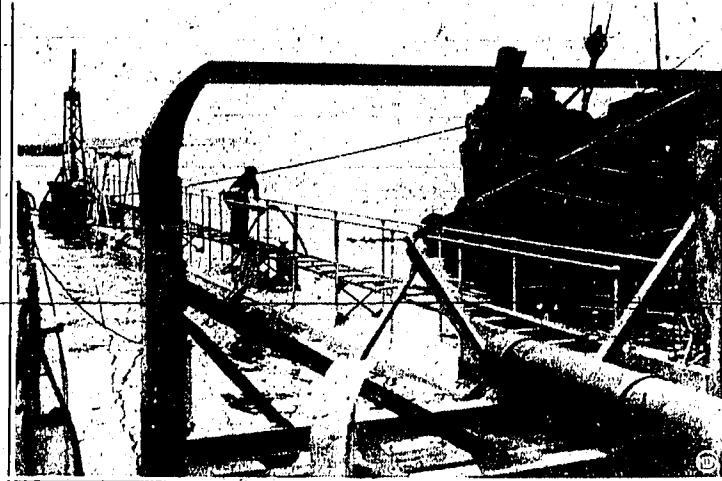

ROME, Nov. 19 (UPI)—Premier Benito Mussolini is expected to receive the Count De Chambrun, French ambassador, as soon as Dr. Kurt Schuschnigg, Austrian chancellor, leaves tomorrow and arranges for a conference with French Foreign Minister Pierre Laval.

De Chambrun, who arrived yesterday, was reported to have the outlines of an entendu between France and Italy, envoys being appointed by both countries to assess agreements with Austria and Hungary and France's agreements with the Little Entente.

HARRISONBURG, Va., Nov. 19 (UPI)—Mountaineers came down from the hills today to help United States treasury agents expose the nation's biggest moonshine whisky ring.

A federal grand jury recommended to hear more than 100 witnesses, including one who has marketed millions of gallons of illicit liquor in adjacent states.

Gawky mountaineers complained to the grand jury that they were held in virtual slavery by the ring masters. Traditionally, these same mountaineers have spent their lifetimes hating the "revenuers" but in this case they seemed to be along with the government.

The grand jury will report probably to the congressional investigating committee on moonshiners corruption if it was alleged.

If federal men can break up organized moonshining in this area, where "revenuers" and mountaineer sharpshooters have been mortal enemies since revolutionary war times, they feel it will be a warning that they can do the job anywhere.

DEATH SUMMONS WM. M'KINSTER

Aged Twin Falls Man Passes From Pneumonia After Car Accident

Frieds were mourning today for William McKinster, 78, who died at 8:30 a.m. yesterday at the hospital from pneumonia, resulting from injuries received in an automobile accident on Main avenue between Shoshone and Second streets south at 9 p.m. yesterday.

John A. Olson, 26, owner of the car, and Roy Hardwick, 25, both of Kimberly, were driving south about 10 p.m. when McKinster stopped in front of the car, they said. Olson and wife were another car coming down the street, blinded Olson, and McKinster was struck down.

The young man took him immediately to Twin Falls hospital, where he was treated for a broken left leg and back injuries.

Born in Indiana, Mr. McKinster was born Nov. 3, 1861, in Indiana. He came to Twin Falls about 1908, ran a livery stable in the town early days.

He was a member of the church since then. He received a pension when he was 17 years of age, lame him for life.

He is survived by a nephew, Ray McKinster, Kimberly, and a sister, Mrs. W. M. White, Helena, Mont., who is expected to arrive here to-day. Two other sisters live in the east.

The body rests at the Twin Falls mortuary, pending the arrival of Mrs. White.

BY FREDERICK A. STORM

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 19 (UPI)—President Roosevelt settled back in his little Georgia White House today awaiting reaction to a new creed of the New Deal possible community operation of power utilities.

His definite declaration of policy in a speech at Tupelo, Miss., was regarded by close administration friends as carrying a challenge to private industry rather than an early, direct action.

"It means," one of them said, "that the private companies either play ball in providing cheap power or else..."

The inference was that the government would see to it that law rates were made available.

In the Tupelo address Mr. Roosevelt also spoke strongly of an improved economic outlook which he said was reflected in the people and which he hoped to be entered Kentucky.

FAVES Reflect Change

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 19 (UPI)—Sen. Huey P. Long probably will never use the broad dictatorial powers given him by the Louisiana legislature.

The mere fact that I have these powers will make it unnecessary to use them," the Kingfish told the United Press.

In an impulsive mood, Long ambitiously continued, "I hope we won't have to use these powers, and that the political situation in Louisiana will straighten itself out."

"I believe the New Orleans public service and other utility corporations will voluntarily reduce their rates, now that they see I will reduce them if they don't."

Eliminates Politics

Municipal police and fire departments don't belong in politics, and now we have a civil service commission, that will rule them from the standpoint of merit, that has ruined the country's government," he continued.

Long's debt moratorium law, he said, was actually a scurvy two years ago or a lack of food two years ago—the contrast between that and better clothing and more food today—but it is something in people's faces, and I think you understand what I mean."

The senator regarded himself as the champion of the people. This has been proved, he claims, because "the people are always glad to give me additional power because we seldom use it."

He laughed heartily at the suggestion that he ordered the legislation in order to get political support.

"Why, there isn't any political opposition in Louisiana now, and I doubt if there will be in a lifetime."

Death Takes Dr. J. B. Konagy, Prominent Doctor, Civic Leader, Churchman

RUPERT, Nov. 19 (Special)—Funeral services were conducted at the First Methodist church here this afternoon for Dr. J. B. Konagy, 71, who succumbed at his family home Saturday to a six month's heart and stomach ailment.

Dr. Konagy was buried yesterday in the cemetery in the light of general experience."

From Tupelo the president moved into Alabama, carrying his fight for the TVA into Birmingham, the hub of the industrial south. There he took note of opposition to the project, saying:

"I am aware, of course, that a few of your citizens are having no stone unturned to stop and to delay this great national program."

He was born at Bellfontaine, O., in 1863, and was reared at "Garden City, Mo."

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Marceline Konagy, a son, Dr. W. H. Konagy, and three grandchildren.

Dr. Konagy was an active member of the Methodist church, and a veteran member of its choir.

He was also affiliated with the O. F. Hall and was active in community affairs. He served several terms as county physician, and also had served on the local school board. He was the pastor of a church near here.

With over 300,000 under the age of 25 years in the state and federal penitentiaries, and another 200,000 wandering the crowded lanes across our land without a home, hope or a job, we have a problem that must be solved and solved quickly—those who would property rights above human rights are furnishing the fuel to feed the fire of radical propaganda that leads to dictatorship. I pray that you may think of these things seriously and accept a part of the responsibility of this community by giving to the Community Chest."

DEC. 1 OPENING FOR EXPOSITION

Start of Merchandising Drive Will Combine With Yule Shopping Inaugural

Saturday, Dec. 1, is to be a banner merchandise day in Twin Falls, determined at a meeting of business men at the Rogerson Hotel that year. On that day Santa Claus will arrive officially, simultaneous with the opening of the toy departments in the several stores, and the Twin Falls Empire Exposition, to continue here during December, January and February; it will be ushered in with street parade, which will include a home-to-be-paraded near the center of the city and later to be remodeled and at the conclusion of the campaign given away.

Groups of workers today were collecting merchants to join the organization, which will issue "easy-money" during the campaign, and a committee reported that a suitable house was being purchased for remodeling purposes.

Workers have been engaged full time building for one additional headquarters, and another committee is now making arrangements for booths there, it was revealed.

MIDGET OFFERS PRISON WARDEN GIANT PROBLEM

JOLIET, Ill., Nov. 19 (UPI)—Robert Thiesta, 26-year-old midget, gave state prison officials a gigantic problem today.

Thiesta, 4 ft. 7 in. tall, could not fit into his cell because the prison bars fitted him like a tent. He couldn't eat in the same mess hall because he couldn't get his chin above the table.

Warden Frank D. Whipple said that after a high chum had been built by the prison carpenter and some pint-size clothing made, Thiesta will try out for the prison football team as cheer leader.

Beet Contracts Are Expected at Burley

BURLEY, Nov. 19 (Special) County Agent W. W. Palmer announced this week that sugar beet contract-holders are expected to receive the latter part of this week, and that organization will be completed as soon as possible for the carrying out of a beet benefit payment program.

Farmers have been presented records of the sugar factory giving the acreage and production of beets for the past five years. If records are available, contracts after approved by them, they may still have to go to the sugar beet farmer, who will make necessary corrections.

County Agent Palmer has announced the following educational meetings: Oakley, Nov. 19 at 1:30 p.m. at the fourth ward church; Deale, Nov. 20 at 1:30 p.m. at the D. S. church, and Burley on Nov. 21 at 1:30 p.m. at the D. S. Stake house. All growers are urged to attend these meetings and all details of the proposed contracts will be explained.

Stanford Rules as Only Major Coast Eleven Undefeated; Bears Show Power

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10 (UPI)—St. Mary's college ended Santa Clara's undefeated march through Pacific coast football teams yesterday by 7-0 victory on a rain-swept gridiron.

A blocked fielder in the third period provided the only end. Polk Dugan, St. Mary's left end, fell on the loose ball behind the Santa Clara goal line for a touchdown. Kollogg, the Santa's fullback, place-kicked the extra point.

Santa Clara twice reached the Santa's four-yard line and threatened at other times, but their attack, dependent on speed and deception, was handicapped by the muddy field. The steady rain sent half of the 40,000 spectators home before the game ended.

BY JAMES A. SULLIVAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10 (UPI)—The shifting tides of football fortunes left only Stanford uniformly undefeated among major Pacific coast football teams today and brought University of California forward as a serious challenger to Stanford's unbroken march in their "big game" next Saturday.

There were other surprising developments over the weekend and just past but California's display of high-gained scoring ability against a capable Idaho team forced the others into the background.

The manner in which the Gold-on-Blue went to town for a 45-13 win overshadowed, because of the significance, the 7-0 victory St. Mary's scored to end Santa Clara from the ranks of unbeaten teams; the return of U. S. C. to power; the 10-0 win by 34-0 over University of Oregon; and the 7-7 tie between Montana and Oregon State that ended Montana's string of defeats in conference play.

California looked better in winning from a strong Idaho team than Stanford did in putting up a 40-0 victory over the very weak Olympic club Saturday.

The Cardinals took their poison out of the mothballs against the Olympics and used two long drives to score, completing four in seven tosses.

Stanford's sole challenger, on recent standing, had to come to the rescue Saturday. Washington State, unbroken in four conference games, meets a University of Washington team that only the Cardinals have been able to stop.

U. C. La-A's hopes of soaring its second conference win Saturday rose with Oregon State's poor showing against Montana. The Staters found themselves tied at 7-7 at the end of a rainy afternoon. Both teams had passes to know that the Southern California team association raised

THOSE BAERS ARE BUDDIES

When MAX Baer was training for his championship fight with Primo Carnera, his brother, Buddy, was a big help in his training. Now that Buddy has started his fight career, Max is returning the favor. Here is Buddy getting a rubdown from his champion brother after one of the youth's recent knockout victories on the west coast. The younger Baer is 6 feet 6 1/2 inches tall, weighs 210, and has a reach two inches longer than Carnera's.

Hopeful Marshall Meets Londos for 22nd Time

By HENRY McLEMORE

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (UPI)—Putting the sport shot here and there.

This department's annual award for perseverance has been forwarded to Everett Marshall, who wreathes Jim London for the world's heavyweight championship in Madison Square Garden tonight. . . . Marshall has met London 22—count them—times before, and lost 22 times. . . . If you have been wondering why California took pleasure in moving from the shade of the night it might interest you to know that the Southern California team association raised more than $5,000 to send 37 players to all parts of the country "not known. . . . Whiteman" of Texas on the other hand has received but $500 from his home club in Texas for traveling expenses to point 10 years.

They Last Cash.

Princeton students sent so much money to Saturday's game with Yale that Princeton merchants will have their team Christmas bonuses in year.

When Larry Kelley of Yale caught that touchdown pass against the Tigers, he marked the first time Princeton had been scored on with Harry Le Van in the safety position. . . . Mike Frankovich, U. C. L. A. quarterback, a Serbian by birth, speaks five languages and has won 100 games in 100 starts.

Pop Warner says Dave Shulander, ace back of the Temple team, is a greater player than Ernie Nevers at his best. . . . Dave is only a sophomore. . . . Paul Deary doesn't like being called Daffy. . . . He only tolerates the nickname because Dizzy has sold him on the idea that it is fine publicity. . . . Joe Kopchak, star guard of the professional Chicago Bears, is a full-blooded Indian and doubles as the team trainer.

Max Is Overweight.

Maxie Kline is in the running overweight. . . . Maxie by the way, says that to earn a return bout with him, Primo Carnera must first let his "little" 220-pound brother, Buddy, . . .

Winston Guest was defeated in his race for a state senator's job. Indoor polo suffered a big loss. . . . Had he been elected, Winston would have stayed and rode throughout the winter, but defeated him to Langdon for the Senate. . . . Harry Miller, Georgia coach, was interested in something to outfit the lady fans.

Dixie Quiet.

In the south there will be no firing, among the leaders. . . . With Alabama and L. S. U. idling, Tulane meets Little Seawane, leaving the headlines to such southeastern conference clubs as Florida-Gaines Tech, and Georgia-Auburn while Mississippi plays Centenary outside the circuit. George-town traveled to College Park to meet Maryland in a game that will not be broken, any more. Washington and Lee, lone leaders in the Southern conference, doesn't play until Thanksgiving, and the conference will be quiet.

On the Pacific coast, Stanford, led for the lead with Washington State, plays California. Washington State meets Washington and UCLA leading Oregon State.

It's a lead in the southwest will be at stake in a game with Texas Christian.

Hunters Warned

DEADWOOD, S. D. (UPI)—With the big game hunting season approaching, general warning is now issued to those in the Black Hills that because of numerous deer kills, traps must be extremely careful this year. As no fires occurred during the early upland hunting seasons, Supervisor

Theodore Kreuger of the Black Hills

National Forest decided not to close the area for the big game season.

TEACHERS ELECT MEET DELEGATES

County Group Picks Member To Attend State Parley; Pupils Demonstrate

Demonstrations of first and second-grade work and classroom delegations to represent Twin Falls County Teachers' Association at the Idaho Education association meeting in Boise the end of this month occupied teachers who met Saturday afternoon in the high school building.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Palmeray, Syphax and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cox, Rogeron, will be the delegates. Misses F. K. Reinhard, county representative of schools, who is a member of the state association's teacher's salary committee, will be an ex-officio delegation member.

Pupils Demonstrate

Miss Flora Branzell, candidate by the pupil of her third grade, gave a demonstration of first grade phonetic work, and Mrs. Jessie Gordon of second grade phonetic. Miss Gordon's pupils were unable to attend a number of them having a cold.

The pupils' teacher should be pointed to 1/4 inch delicious and rubbed with a mixture of salt, pepper and lemon juice. Then radish, bread crumbs, milk and meat should be mixed and bound upon the pieces of meat. They should be rolled and encased with string or toothpicks. These should be fried and browned in fat. Water should then be added to the dish-covered and simmers 20 minutes or until tender. The recipe states that baked meat will not produce the best results if substituted for the Bege product.

Here's Unusual Recipe to Use Local Product

A novel means of using a local product in making inexpensive pork cuts an attractive dish has been discovered, according to word received here. The dish is called pork birds and is made with the aid of Friedland Bege milk made at the factory in Hunt.

The recipe is as follows: pork shoulder or neck rolled around a drawing made of radish, bread crumbs, lemon juice and the milk. Here's the recipe: 2 pounds pork streak (from shoulder or neck); 1/4 teaspoon salt; 1/4 teaspoon pepper; 2 teaspoons lemon juice; 1/4 cup radish, boiled; 2 cups dry bread crumbs; 1/2 cup Friedland Bege evaporated milk; 2 tablespoons hot fat; 1 cup water.

The pork shoulder should be pointed to 1/4 inch delicious and rubbed with a mixture of salt, pepper and lemon juice. Then radish, bread crumbs, milk and meat should be mixed and bound upon the pieces of meat. They should be rolled and encased with string or toothpicks. These should be fried and browned in fat.

Water should then be added to the dish-covered and simmers 20 minutes or until tender. The recipe states that baked meat will not produce the best results if substituted for the Bege product.

VERSATILE FILM DIRECTOR PASSES

Willard Mack, Noted Figure
On Screen and Stage,
Succumbs

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 19 (UPI)—Willard Mack, 64, actor, author and film director, died today at his Beverly Hills home here after a sudden heart attack.

He had been in good health until a few days ago when he suffered a slight illness; the condition, however, was not alarming until just last night.

Early today, he collapsed from the heart ailment and died with his third wife, the former Beatrice Hayford, beside him.

Versatile Figure

Mack was one of the most versatile figures in the theatrical world.

During his career on the stage, he wrote 36 plays, 20 of which appeared on Broadway. For 12 years he was costarred under the banner of the late David Belasco, once with Helen Hayes, one of his most outstanding stage mates.

He had a 76-week run in "At the Time of Belasco's death, he was working with the great producer preparing a stage version of Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities."

Mack made his debut in motion pictures in 1915. The late Tom Mix starred him in "Alida."

First Talkie Thriller

An off-screen director, he directed the first talkie, "The Madonna, the Value of the City."

From then on, the screen occupied most of his time but he always found more to return to Broadway with a briefcase full of scripts. One of his latest New York openings was "We All Mean Something," which was produced by Arthur Hopkins.

He was a nuttish idol and a boorish man in his earlier days. He was married four times. His third wife was Maude Leone. Marjorie Rambeau was his second. Pauline Breckinridge was his third and after their divorce, he married Beatrice Hayford, writer.

Mack was born in Morristown, Ontario, in 1873. His real name was Charles W. McLaughlin. He was educated at Georgetown university, Washington, D. C.

SALVATION ARMY AWARDED PLAQUE

Twin Falls corps of the Salvation Army through its Corps of Cadets Brigade recently were honored for receiving a plaque given in the headquarters in Portland for the most efficient and strongest group of cadets in the Oregon-Idaho division.

Credits were given for all corps activities and the group of Twin Falls was awarded the prize with a percentage of 77 out of a possible 100.

Official announcement of the winning brigade was given in the pages of the Young Soldiers, the original of the young people's work in the corps. On the front page of the paper carried a picture of the plaque with Adj. Mt. and Mrs. H. T. Stuck and the winning group of cadets.

ERA WORK GOES ON EXHIBIT HERE

Varied Displays Reveal Scope Of Activities Undertaken By Relief Group

The varied work done by Twin Falls' various ERA units during the past year is demonstrated in a display shown in the window of the Post Office.

The 5-wing department is represented by a number of neat gingham and print children's dresses, some children's underthings, several comforters and wool, uncarded and carded, for the filling of the comforters, several hooded coats in several colors.

Monthly old-fashioned sing-a-long Thursday evening in the parlors of the Christian church with about 50 members and friends of the church in attendance. Following the covered-dish luncheon no program was given under the direction of the Lahey Aid with Mrs. J. E. Myers in charge. Numbers were violin solo, Florida Williams piano solo, Jean Gouraud piano solo, Shirlene Gouraud voice solo, Marcelline Gouraud accompanied by her mother, Mrs. A.

Gouraud and company sang with Mrs. Ronald MacLean as accompanied.

Annual conference of the Burley I. D. S. State will be held Sunday, Nov. 18, at the tabernacle in Burley. Sessions begin at 8:45 a.m. with classes for members of the Aurora and Melchizedek priesthood. Public sessions will be held at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. Details from Mr. Lyle Myrick, to attend the meeting will be a joint Mutual meeting with Adam Nelson, superintendent of the Young Men's Mutual, in charge.

William Tracy and Wallace Tracy appeared before Probate Judge Henry W. Tucker Wednesday night on charge of assault and battery preferred against them by John Witbeck. They pleaded not guilty and Dec. 3 at 10 a. m. was the time set for trial.

Four One-Act Plays Staged at Hansen

HANSEN, Nov. 19 (Special).—Hansen high school presented four one-act plays Friday evening at the school auditorium. Those taking part in "The Tale of a Shirt" were Elma Oliver, Leo Tripple, Ross Troutney, Ruth Bennett and Galen Hall.

The "Pumpkin" cast included L. G. Voss, Fred Scott, Lael Hayes, Janet McMaster.

In "Ambition" characters were June Graves, Noah Oliver, Renie Steinmetz, Lucile Ruthin, Alene Sheekey.

In "Elmer," the characters were Louis Hall, Freda Drake, Margaret Duran, Helen Munich, Dorothy Miller, Jeanne Muus, Irene Scott, Joe Frocklich, Ray Jennings.

The director was Lou Hawke, assisted by Elma Oliver and June Graves. Hansen was business manager. Noah Oliver and Dorothy Miller, property, Russ Templey and Jeanne Muus; stage, Bob Howell and Clifford Nielsen.

The audience voted for the play to what they thought were conducted the best. "Elmer" won first, "Ambition," second. "The Tale of a Shirt," third and "The Pumpkin" was fourth. The winning play will enter the decaturian contest.

LA FOLLETTE KIN TRIES FOR FILMS

Girl Cousin of Famed Family Enters Contest for Role In Movie

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 19 (UPI)—Mabel La Follette, daughter of the Wisconsin La Follettes, has no intention of following her famous kinmen into politics. At least not unless she doesn't attain her present function.

She was located today among a list of candidates in a film beauty contest, winners of which will receive parts in "The Great Ziegfeld," a picture to go into production next month.

Mabel La Follette came here from Mineola, N. Y., where she acted with a stock company. She admits her enthusiasm for acting, but rather reluctantly adds that if she falls short of her goal she will abide by her father's wishes and take up a political career.

The 22-year-old actress is a cousin of Sen. Robert and Gov. Phillip La Follette and the daughter of Warren E. La Follette, uncle of the famous "Red" of the Senate.

La Follette was educated in the Sunday schools in Wisconsin and at the home of Mrs. M. P. Kenway. Plans were made for the Christmas program and a committee chosen to take charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Zimmerman were brought to the kitchen to be canned on a large scale and to the dining room to help in the preparation of dinner.

The men's department is not neglected for a test pie of split wood that would warm any housewife's heart divides the cooking and canning displays.

Officials emphasize that the ERA and the Associated Charities work together for the relief of the country's needy. The ERA furnishes money only for the labor while the Associated Charities is called upon to bear expenses incident to that labor.
