HOMESTEAD BAN ON PUBLIC LAND URGED AT MEET

Drastic Change Proposed At Parley on New Taylor Grazing Bill

TERMED VITAL MEASURE

Removal of Western Domains Called Essential Step to Range Control

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—Secretary of Interior Harold I. Ickes has approved tentatively plans to withdraw all unreserved public lands from further homestead development for a three month period as a means of speeding operation of the Taylor grazing act.

At a conference between Ickes, F. H. Carpenter, director of grazing, and other department officials an outline of procedure to administer the act was adopted tentatively today.

By RONALD G. VAN TINE WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—A little group of New Dealers sat down at a conference table today to discuss proposed drastic revisions in the century-old method of dealing with hardy pioneers who establish modest homesteads on the vast public domain.

The meeting, called by Secretary of Interior Harold I. Ickes primarily to speed operation of the new Taylor grazing act, will test the strength of some administration officials who are sponsoring a plan to withdraw unreserved public lands from further homestead development.

Will Ask Order Ickes will be asked to recommend issuance of an executive order by President Roosevelt removing more than 100,000,000 acres from the public domain in Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah and Wyoming.

Supporters of the proposal described it as "far-reaching," and said it would affect materially the activities of the interior department's general land office supervision of the 700,000,000-acre western public domain.

Major Factor Withdrawal was regarded by some as a major factor in success of the grazing law. One high official said the United States "is rapidly losing the northeast after bringing a first touch of winter to the southeast."

Weather forecasts indicate a cold, shifting wind on the Great Lakes and rain or snow and a decided drop in temperature in the eastern section of the central states today.

Rising temperatures were forecast tomorrow over the western portion of the storm area, centered last night in Springfield, Mo.

Portions of the Missouri valley section, most of the southwest and the central states were affected by the wave, which began moving southward Wednesday from Edmonton, Canada, where the mercury dipped to 2 degrees below zero.

Farmers Welcome Rain The storm brought an end to one of the mildest and longest Indian summers on record in the southwest as it moved over this section yesterday and headed into the northeast.

Farmers of Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri welcomed soaking rains which benefited crops, but warned they hoped to be relieved of the livestock raising sections of the southwest today.

Regular plane service from and into Kansas City was suspended last night.

Freedom Near for Accused Teacher

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP)—Unless the police succeed in unearthing more evidence against her, Mrs. Ruby Clark, former school teacher in whose trunk the bodies of three infants were found, will be released tomorrow.

Clark, who stored the trunk in a Brooklyn warehouse, insisted she knew nothing about the babies, and that the trunk contained nothing but her clothing. She put it into storage two years ago.

U. S. Fascism Is Negligible, Survey Shows

(Copyright, 1934, United Press) NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP)—The Fascist movement in the United States is at present negligible, a United Press survey revealed today.

In various parts of the country were found small groups advocating principles similar to the Fascism of Benito Mussolini and Adolf Hitler. Also there were several groups organized along Fascist lines whose published purpose is to "organize the government against Communism and protect the constitution."

Somewhat Charge

The survey was undertaken following the sensational charge of Major General Smedley D. Butler, (U. S. marines, retired) that he had been approached by Wall Street interests to lead an army of 500,000 men to Washington and replace President Roosevelt with a Fascist dictatorship.

In almost all the larger cities small groups of Fascists were found organized, but there were no signs of a movement to form even the nucleus of a movement as extensive as that charged by Butler.

Two Dying Off

Two Fascist movements that had shown promise of reaching large proportions, today gave every indication of dying. One was the Kluxi Shirts which seemed completely moribund following the conviction of its leader, Art E. Smith, on a charge of perjury.

The other was that of the Silver Shirts, backed by William Dudley Pelley who is awaiting trial on a charge of violating the Blue Sky law.

The only remaining Fascist movements that still give the appearance of fair health are the United Kluxers and the so-called Ku Klux Klan. The memberships of these organizations is not known, but is not large.

MRS. VANDERBILT TO APPEAL CASE

Plans Fight Against Verdict Giving Daughter's Onstody To Mrs. Whitney

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP)—Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt, divorced of her husband, announced today she would appeal from the decision of Supreme Court Justice John F. Carew awarding her daughter, Gloria, 10, to Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, the child's aunt.

Justice Carew's decision, handed down yesterday, created an immediate separation throughout the country and in London, Paris and other European capitals where all intelligent and well known Mrs. Vanderbilt as the girl's widow of Reginald Vanderbilt—Mrs. Whitney as the widow of Harry Payne Whitney, internationally famous apartment man and one of the richest men in the world.

Dismissed at Verdict Mrs. Vanderbilt was too shocked and dismayed to issue an immediate statement beyond announcing that she would appeal the decision to "the highest court if necessary."

Justice Carew's decision made little Gloria heiress to the $4,000,000 fortune left by her father, a ward of the state of New York, with a legal status similar to that of a foundling left on a door step. He named Mrs. Whitney as the child's custodian until she reaches majority.

Whitney, who lives with Mrs. Vanderbilt shows cause why the arrangement should be changed. He appealed that Mrs. Vanderbilt was to have the custody of her child until she reaches majority.

New Deal Switches To 'Middle' Course

Major Policies Point To Less Radical Trends

(Copyright, 1934, United Press) WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—Industrialists who are trying to decide whether President Roosevelt is leaning more or less toward a conservative trend.

The New Deal will be found generally following a middle course in which radical changes are offset by conservative trends.

Most pronounced of the left or radical movements is the drive against public utilities. Here are some developments on both sides which tend to counteract each other as far as general policy is concerned.

1. Maurice H. Reeser appointed reserve board governor. 2. New Deal election sweep. 3. Secretary Ickes' new PWA spending plans.

4. Lewis Douglas' resignation as budget director in protest against a continued unbalanced budget. 5. The health, old age, unemployment insurance plan announced last June.

6. Mr. Roosevelt's August speech in Wisconsin interpreted as indicating the northwest radical political movement.

7. Electrical power policies. 8. Appointment of Miss Josephine Roche as assistant secretary of treasury.

9. Support of federal relief administrator Harry L. Hopkins against bitter banking and business criticism in his report to the president.

10. Preparations for investigation of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.—this country's biggest business.

Against the foregoing typical instances of movement in one direction should be placed the following:

1. Withdrawal of Miss Cundiff, formerly mountaineer moonshiner. He was brought before under guard to testify before the federal grand jury investigating the liquor syndicate, which indirectly supported the moonshiner and of resorting to other violence to intimidate witnesses. Cundiff was expected to be before the jury most of the day.

STATE OVERHEAD LOW ON RELIEF, DIRECTOR SAYS

County's Administrative Cost Even Less Than General Idaho Average

PARLEY RAPS COMMITTEE

Resolutions Hit Advisory Unit, Ask Retention of Warner As Local Chief

Average cost of PWA administration in this state is 8.92 per cent, compared with a national average of 11.6 per cent, it was revealed today by P. C. Meredith, state administrator, who arrived last evening to attend a meeting of the Twin Falls county relief association. Cost of administration in the county approximates 5 per cent. It was stated by Raymond P. Graves, chairman of the committee, and secretary of the county association.

Meredith stated that Twin Falls county had been allocated $329,470 of relief money since April.

Relief Advisory Board Chairman Mel Johnson to attend the meeting, which was conducted in the city hall, and resulted in the adoption of resolutions directed against the relief advisory committee of the PWA, and protesting the announced dismissal of Bob H. Warner as county relief administrator.

The resolutions were offered by Chairman Johnson, after he had made explanations of their content. Both were directed to Gov. C. Ben Ross. In addition a resolution was adopted asking the PWA committee to advise the relief committee of the PWA, and protesting the announced dismissal of Bob H. Warner as county relief administrator.

Members of the county committee present included, besides Mayor Johnson, Neil Jensen, Murtagh, W. C. Higginbotham, Filer, Roy W. Giger, Conditford, Carl Edgewood, Tomberly, George H. Hart, Hild, Roy Ed. Hunt, W. W. Washburn, Murtagh, and Mr. Graves, secretary.

Request Asks Relief Director To Purchase 150 Cows as Market Help

HOISE, Nov. 22 (AP)—Gov. C. Ben Ross has championed the cause of the Idaho bean growers and today had county agents in Hoopline, federal relief director, to purchase from 150 to 300 capons of "Great Northern" beans at prices sufficient to compensate the growers for producing a short crop.

The telegram, sent to Hopkins and to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, follows: "Investigation made by me disclosed Idaho bean surplus of beans. Your authority for us to purchase 150 cars Great Northern would in my judgment stimulate price materially. Market sluggish at this time. Your immediate attention to this would bring results."

Jugoslavia Raps Hungary For Aid in Assassination

Informers League That Complicity Raises Danger of War in Europe

QINBOVA, Nov. 22 (AP)—Jugoslavia today accused Hungary of "responsibility and complicity" in the assassination of King Alexander at Marseille.

Czechoslovakia and Roumania joined Jugoslavia in a letter to the League of Nations council, asserting that a grave situation disclosed by the assassination of the Jugoslavian monarch was capable of disturbing the peace of the world.

The Jugoslavian letter invoked the league covenant to denounce the alleged responsibility of Hungary in harboring the assassin and declaring that this "brings no greater danger to peace and good international relations."

The Jugoslavian letter placed the controversy arising from the assassination squarely before the league council, arguing that Hungary's alleged complicity raises danger of war.

Investigation of the assassinations of Alexander and Ferdinand of Serbia and France led to equalational closures by French, Italian and other police.

The letter said the Marseille crime not only raised problems of political expediency, but also the question of "training of the territory of a foreign state of professional assassins."

F. D. R. Tells Mayors Congress Will Pass Jobless, Aged Help

Predicts Action On Proposals For Social Security Program

Warning for U. S. Voiced By Grangers

Recounts Substantial Results in U. S. Recovery

(Copyright, 1934, United Press) CHICAGO, Nov. 22 (AP)—Warning of "substantial results" in the national recovery program, President Roosevelt today told the American Conference of Mayors that "it is through teamwork of all governmental units that victory may be attained."

The president's message, presiding over the meeting, further related that the unemployed and aged, was brought to the national executive by Mayor F. H. LaGuardia of New York.

Predicts Action "It is undoubtedly true," the president said, "that the coming session of congress will give further attention to proposals involving unemployment relief, unemployment insurance, public works, old age pensions and housing, all of which vitally affect the city governments."

"I cannot say what final action congress will take with reference to these subjects, but I assure you the federal government is anxious to work effectively and co-operatively on all of these common problems."

Issue Warning Following the president's message Mayor F. T. Stone, Mayor of New Orleans issued a warning that city face financial disaster unless they change outmoded relations of state and city taxation.

At the same time, Mayor LaGuardia, in a keynote address to the conference, outlined a plan of action to deal with the problems confronting city executives.

"I have changed," he said, "my mind upon municipalities have changed, but the anxieties of financial dependence have not been lifted with time and the increasing demands of our municipalities."

Costs Imposed "Costs of government are multiplied without consent of the municipalities. Legislatures fix salaries to be paid and regulate many of the important functions of city government, thereby depriving those who know the problem best from meeting the situation in the most practical way."

Demands for unemployment relief, he said, have brought a new alignment of city governments.

The president's message, touching on the same subject, pointed out that "it is through teamwork of all governmental units that victory may be attained."

During the past year I have conferred, from time to time with the official committees of the conference in an attempt to appraise and consider problems which mutually confront our several levels of government," the president wrote.

POLITICAL PACTS LOOM IN LONDON

Pacific Questions Take Stage As Means of Resolving Naval Sessions

By FREDERICK KITH LONDON, Nov. 22 (AP)—Pacific politics, once taboo as calculated to complicate the technical nature of the conference here, have entered it now as a possible means of saving the conference from failure, it was reported authoritatively today.

Without an approach to agreement on strictly naval matters, talks seemed entering their last stage.

Two political questions, however, were expected to come to the fore at the Great Britain and Japan negotiating sessions, which were expected to begin today.

It was the third day of the conference, which was held in the city hall headquarters of the navy department, but had been spread northward over the island and the third day of the conference.

The Chinese embassy was expected to have announced that it had been decided to leave or to stay in London.

Great Britain and Japan were expected to have announced that they had agreed to a naval pact.

Hancock, Scientists Complete Preparations to Probe Strange Mystery

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22 (AP)—Capt. G. Allan Hancock, Los Angeles "explorer" and "patron" of science, completed final preparations today for a voyage to probe the mysterious deaths of two castaways on lonely Mitchellene island off the coast of Ecuador.

COLD MOVES TO NORTHWEST AREA

Storm Brings First Touch of Winter to Southwest, Thin Sweeps On

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 22 (AP)—No relief was in sight today from a cold wave that moved from the northeast after bringing a first touch of winter to the southeast.

Rising temperatures were forecast tomorrow over the western portion of the storm area, centered last night in Springfield, Mo.

Poorhouse Pair Digs for Oil And Finds 30-Barrel Gusher

MARIETTA, O., Nov. 22 (AP)—Enforced idleness, rather than poverty, often in the tragic election of residence in a poorhouse, according to J. W. Yerlan, 61, and John Hupp, 60, who were interviewed about their amazing success which came when they drilled in the poorhouse yard for oil and struck a 30-barrel-a-day gusher.

The whole thing runs like a dream, said Yerlan. "But the real point in the story is not that our Paymor Oil company now has a paying well, but that Mr. Hupp and I like to drill oil wells and we have drilled one."

Yerlan and Hupp had been prosperous oil drillers who worked from Ohio to Oklahoma. That times came, they finally drifted off to the Washington county home, penniless, but not so much concerned over that as over the termination of a work they enjoyed.

L. A. Hill, home superintendent, recently heard with skepticism their plan to drill for oil on the grounds. Thomas Maxon, a local oil man, lamed them drilling tools, however, and Hill advanced them enough money to go to work.

RUSSIA SENDING GOLD INTO U. S.

Ships Ore Residue to Tacoma For Refining; Will Buy American Goods

(Copyright, 1941, United Press) NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP)—Soviet Russia is sending supplies of gold bearing ore to Tacoma, Wash., to be refined by a private U. S. company for the purchase of American goods, the United Press learned today.

Until recently the residue has been marketed abroad, but due to the inefficiency of smelters there the sale has not been immediately profitable. Last year's sales amounted to only about $10,000,000. How much more than that will be realized in the United States through the more efficient refining methods employed in Tacoma is not known.

The gold-bearing ore is being sent out of Russia by the Industrial Exports corporation and the American transactions are in the hands of the Amtorg Corp.

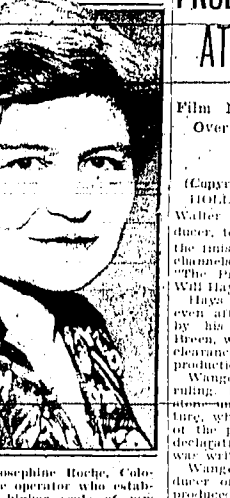

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Scott entertained the football boys, and faculty members at a banquet held Saturday night at the Orange Lantern at Kimberly. A. E. PRODUCER BALKS AT HAYS DECREE

Film Maker Promises Battle Over Banning 'President Vanishes'

(Copyright, 1941, United Press) HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 22 (AP)—Walter Wanger, independent producer, today promised a "fight to the finish" clear through exhibitor channels for his political film, "The President Vanishes," which Will Hays rejected as "dangerous."

Hays banned the film's showing even after it had been approved by his chief censor, Joseph E. Brown, who is in charge of issuing clearance seals to all Hollywood productions.

Wanger refused to accept Hays' ruling. He said he would leave no stone unturned to release the picture, which depicts the "kidnaping" of the president on the eve of a declaration of war. The picture was written anonymously.

UNIVERSITY FOOTBALL

Alumni of the University of Idaho are to be commended for the promised steps they are taking to secure a varsity football game for Twin Falls next season.

This section is sport-conscious and a consistent supporter of athletics of most every form and fashion. Lincoln field offers an ideal gridiron and south central Idaho is populated with large numbers of Idaho graduates who would insure an enthusiastic reception for the Vandals.

As has been pointed out by sponsors of the plan to bring a college football game to Twin Falls, such games in the past have been held both at Pocatello and at Boise. There is no legitimate reason why Twin Falls should not be host next season to such a game, if the proper influence is brought.

There would be no question about attendance, and because this city is centrally located between Boise and Pocatello, and between Moscow and a possible contending college in Utah, it is logical that the Magic City should be honored by the appearance here of university elevens.

Football fans will watch with interest the results of the alumni efforts to bring a game here next year.

GERMAN EQUALITY

Gen. Jan Smuts of South Africa has long been one of the most respected men in the British empire. Now he comes forward with a suggestion that might well win new respect for him, to wit: that the nations try to insure peace by acting as if they wanted peace, instead of stalking about with bludgeons in their hands.

General Smuts refers to the German problem. What he says is worth quoting:

"There is only one way to remove the inferiority complex that is obsessing and poisoning the mind and the very soul of Germany; namely, recognize her complete equality with her fellows.

"Do so freely, frankly, and without reserve. A resolute and determined effort may yet save the situation, bring Germany back to the disarmament conference and the League of Nations, and thus probably lead to a substantial step forward toward agreed disarmament."

General Smuts likes Hitlerism no better than the next man. But he has the good sense to see that Hitlerism, like the present tendency toward war, is in large part a direct product of the repressions and inequalities of the post-war treaties.

It speaks volumes about the stupid way in which international politics have been conducted to find this simple idea, that trouble can be lessened by removing its cause, coming as such a surprise.

There would be some risks attached to this program, of course. To give Germany full equality with other nations would mean to permit her to arm right up to the teeth, if she chose. A nation like France can hardly be blamed for looking on such a plan with grave anxiety.

But the point to remember is that there are risks attached to the existing policy, too. When every magazine, and almost every issue of your daily paper, carries new rumblings of the war that everybody fears, we can hardly boast that world peace is out of danger.

Furthermore, it might be argued that preservation of peace is something that it is worth taking risks to get. Too many peace policies are purely negative. Here is one that offers a straight forward, definite program.

Risky? Undoubtedly. But isn't peace worth a few perils?

ROYALTY PUTS ON A SHOW

The chief function of royalty in this modern world is aptly illustrated by the wealth of stories that are getting in the papers these days about the prospective marriage of Princess Marina of Greece and Prince George of England.

The latest news is that Marina has been buying her trousseau. We are getting full details on the afternoon frocks, morning ensembles, evening gowns, jeweled accessories, and what-not; and a lot of readers are finding something glamorous and exciting in this account of a princess and her wedding wardrobe.

And this, after all, is what royalty is for—to put on a good show. Certainly it seems to have no other function these days.

It is simply an exhibit. It is most successful when it makes its exhibit glittering, colorful, and full of the old-time, story-book romance.

The Hindu rope trick remains unsolved, and the world still has something to look forward to.

London is making almost as elaborate preparations for the wedding of Prince George and Princess Marina as New York would for the arrival of a popular movie queen.

"Just how we found out about you," he said, "doesn't matter. What we are primarily interested in is the reason for your falsehood to this point."

"Need you ask?" she inquired. "Naturally I didn't want to get mixed up in a crime. They rather suspected I was a female bandit who had been holding up service stations. After that they got the idea of my connection with the Idaho Times and had been driving a car while intoxicated. You can imagine how awed a position I'd have been in to have had my picture on the front pages of the newspapers of the woman who was holding up service stations and had been robbing service stations and who had been picked up while driving with a man who was intoxicated."

checked a large check at the hotel where he was staying. The check was drawn upon the bank in River View where Mr. Cathy keeps his account. The check was signed, apparently, with the signature of Frank B. Cathy. It was a check for $100,000, an excellent forgery—a forgery which had been long rehearsed.

"This impersonation was no criminal matter, no false variety of a common trick. It was a thing which had long been planned in the Idaho Times, and which had been carefully thought out. We know of that check which was cashed. We do not know what else was done. There may have been other checks cashed. There may have been other forgeries prepared. It is even possible that this man had, on previous occasions, represented himself as being Frank B. Cathy and saved the needs of crime which have yet to make themselves manifest. Therefore, young woman, you have justly placed yourself beyond the pale of the law."

NAVAL GATHERING IS VITAL—BORAH

Failure of Conference Would Affect Millions, Idaho's Senator Says

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—Failure of the London naval conference "will imperil the peace, contentment and even the lives of millions of people," Sen. William B. Borah, R., Idaho, said today.

"The view was presented in a statement by the senator in connection with the report of the committee on the part of the law now you understand what it is, do you not?"

"You understand if you tell me how now you are making yourself an accessory after the fact and that in just as serious a thought you had committed the crime yourself."

"Yes," she said, "if you say so." "I do say so," he said. "I am a lawyer and I know. Here, I will give you one of my cards."

He pulled a card case from his pocket, fished out a card, whipped the envelope out of it and presented it to her, holding it in front of her face.

"Take it," he said.

His booming voice filled the room. He was not shouting. It was rather as though ordinary conversation had been interrupted by a dynamic speaker that would fill every nook and corner of the room.

"The girl took the card with a quivering hand. She stared at it intently for several moments."

"What is the card?" she asked. (To Be Continued)

IDAHO AFFECTED BY LIQUOR DRIVE

Campaign Against Violators in Dry States Reaches Into Intermountain Area

RAID LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 22 (AP)—The treasury department's intention to "crack down" on liquor law violators in dry states, according to a copyright article from the Washington Post, is being carried out in Idaho and Utah as well as in other dry states.

Up to Saloons The Idaho prohibition amendment, which was passed by the legislature in 1915, was written of the books by voters at the last general election. But they merely tossed the problem of liquor control to the coming legislature.

In Utah a similar situation exists. The Utah prohibition amendment and the same time legalized the sale of beer. But the problem of control of an unorganized liquor traffic through the system of state stores has been left to the legislature. It is the first opportunity to devise a system of legal sale.

Illegal Competition Montana's monopoly on sale of liquor through its system of state stores has been injured by illegal competition from saloons, according to observers.

The federal government has an illegal liquor traffic through excessive liquor taxes in Montana, it is believed to have had the "right" in Montana several months ago. It was reported that Lewis Powell, collector of internal revenue for the Montana territory, had collected large fees from saloon operators.

This record of collections containing the name and address of the payer, a violator of the state law, was offered to state authorities for their information in efforts to enforce Montana law.

It is expected the same system will be used in other dry states.

RED CROSS AIDS IDAHO CHILDREN

Protection of Youngsters Is One of Society's Chief Services Today

BOISE (Special) — One of the primary ideals of the American Red Cross is that all children have a life-height of equality and for the protection of this birthright a widespread public health program, home hygiene and junior Red Cross program is carried out in Idaho schools, pointed out leaders of Idaho's 15th annual Roll Call for 22,000 members now in progress.

A school year several thousand Idaho school and pre-school children who might not otherwise have had proper attention were inspected by Red Cross nurses. A large number of defects were discovered and corrective measures taken so that the children so afflicted would not be handicapped in their life-time.

Services to Stagnate

Red Cross volunteers have an ideal slogan, "Come to serve," and in no field of the organization's varied activities has this spirit been more manifest than in the work carried on among children, in nursing, home hygiene, first aid, life saving and junior Red Cross, says the statement.

With public approval of this work increased on every hand, and with Idaho's 22,000 members, it is not yet 22,000, there are being made by chapters throughout the state to largely extend the work for the coming year provided the roll call is successful and the necessary manpower and funds are procured, said Clyde Baird, field representative, New Ireland has been chosen in Junior Red Cross, home hygiene, nursing, first aid and life saving service.

Leaders of various organizations throughout Idaho have urged support of the roll call.

Rosa Glava Pralao

Governor Ross said "The record of the American Red Cross in Idaho during the past 12 months is one of unselfish service. Hundreds of our citizens have derived direct benefits from its efforts. I am, personally and as Governor of Idaho, that every one respond when called to support this great organization."

L. F. Parsons, secretary of the State Chamber of Commerce urged all member organizations to assist with the campaign.

Mr. E. T. Harton, president Idaho Federated Women's clubs said, "It is my earnest desire that club women everywhere do a definite part in helping with this annual campaign."

C. A. Bottelmann, department commander of the Idaho Department, American Legion, urged all posts to assist with the campaign.

Mussolini Develops Perfect Example of Regimentation in "Corporative State"

BY THOMAS B. MORGAN

ROME (AP) — Twelve years of Fascism have fixed the fact that Benito Mussolini, dictator of Italy, has established the perfect regimentation of the productive forces of the country in his conception of the "Corporative State."

Legal Entities

The fundamental principle underlying all Fascist legislation is that capital and labor are recognized as legal entities and that their respective organizations are a part of the structure of the state. This is contrary to the usual concept and especially in Anglo-Saxon countries, where the organizations of both capital and labor are treated legally as private bodies. Even the NRA does not go so far as the Fascist scheme, in Italy, federation of a labor union, or of a federation of industrialists, have virtually the character of government offices. They function under the supervision of the Ministry of Corporations.

The Rules

Mussolini's organization of the Corporative State prescribes:

First—Mussolini and his employees must belong to separate organizations within the framework of the Ministry of Corporations.

Second—Strikes are illegal. Disputes between capital and labor must be settled before the Courts of Labor Magistrate, especially constituted to hear labor cases.

Third—The fundamental law for labor is contained in the "Labor Charter" promulgated by Mussolini. It prescribes the general principles under which labor must be treated, namely given minimum wage; old age pensions, vacation, sick and accident insurance and compensation.

Regulated Production

Fourth—Each concern of whatever character must register with the Ministry of Corporations where production is regulated by the condition of markets.

Fifth—No concern can be formed without demonstrating to the proper officials of the ministry that there is need for its formation and that its product will find a market.

Sixth—All labor must belong to the Labor Magistrate, which has charge collectively with the Employer's organization for wages, hours and other conditions of labor. The scale adopted in any particular instance, of the scale, which must be paid and an employer is liable to punishment if he violates any part of the scale. These scales or codes have compulsory legal effect.

Insurance

Seven—Insurance for sick or accident benefits, death, unemployment must be paid one-half by the employer, one-half by the workmen.

Eighth—Industrial and agricultural concerns are supervised as to their efficiency. Their financial standing is watched by the officials of the Ministry of Corporations. The ministry has the right to appoint an official to attend all meetings of the board of directors. Loans through the Industrial Reconstruction Institute are granted only after careful government investigation.

Nine—The financial structure of the country is to be anchored indefinitely to the gold standard. Inflation is prohibited. The word "inflation" is taboo for Italian newspapers.

Million Jobless

Ten—Extensive schemes of public improvements always are in operation to take care of unemployment, which through the world depression has been kept down to a million.

Other provisions of the Fascist concept include the regimentation of youth into the Party. Semi-Military organizations. Priority of the military spirit in being inculcated throughout the entire population, which has been stated to be in relation with the general trend in the international situation.

CHIEF STRESSES SCOUT SERVICES

Council Executive Lists Varied Benefits Derived From Program

BY AMBY FREDERICK
Snake River Area Council Executive

One and a quarter million boys and men, during 1933 raised their right hands in the Scout sign to do their best at all times to do their duty to: 1. God and their country; and to obey the Scout laws; 2. To help other people at all times; 3. To keep themselves physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight.

Well over a 1,000 of these boys and men met this week at the Snake River Area Council. Each day they are being guided by the principles and ideals of the Scout oath and law.

Definite Services

We have not only evidence of the intangible values derived from this character-building influence, but also many examples of definite services to God, country and others that are most satisfactorily valuable to the community.

A certificate of heroism in being awarded this week to a Scout who saved another person's life through skill in life saving.

In 1933, 14,400 merit badges for Life Saving were awarded to Scouts throughout the country. Just recently, in the Snake River Area council, a Scout saved a life.

Budgets Awarded

In 1933, 25,047 first aid merit badges were awarded to Scouts who stand ready to use their knowledge and skill at all times.

This is the type of work the Community Chest is helping to forward. It might be someone dear to you who will receive the services of some Boy Scout. Help him train some Scouts to help others.

FRANCE DEMANDS QUOTA ON WHEAT

World Conference Upset by Request from Netherlands Non-Export Nation

INDIAPEST, Hungary, Nov. 22 (AP) — France, bitterly a non-exporting nation, demanded consideration at the international wheat conference today by demanding an export quota greater than that of the United States.

Jean Chavard of France demanded that France be given a share of the world market with a 1935 export quota on the ground that her surplus stock must be sold abroad.

He was understood to have asked a quota of 20,000,000 bushels, which is more than the United States is making.

His statement increased the difficulties of dividing quotas among the producing nations already made difficult by forecasts of increased average in Europe.
