SOVIET DECREES RUTHLESS DEATH FOR ASSASSINS

Promulgation of Decree Is Ordered For Persons Implicated in Killing of Kirov

RED TERROR" RENEWED

Appeals Banned as Parliament Acts to Avenge Slaying of Communist Leader.

By JOSEPH H. BAIRD
(Copyright, 1934, United Press)

LONDON, Dec. 3 (UPI)—Ruthless extermination of enemies of the Soviet regime was proclaimed today because of the assassination of Sergei Mironovitch Kirov, one of the high leaders of Communist Russia.

A decree of the Tsik (parliament) was made public, ordering prompt execution of persons found implicated in the assassination.

"Red Terror" Renewed

The Tsik announced immediately after the assassination on Saturday and passed a resolution evoking the most important weapon of the dictatorship of the proletariat—the summary "red terror" under which many thousands of potential foes of the government were exterminated before their ranks could be recruited.

The resolution precluded the possibility of delaying executions by appeals from persons found guilty of terrible acts. The foreign office was instructed to carry out the sentence of the "highest measure of social protection" without delay, and the Tsik declared it could not accept clemency appeals for examination. The utmost speed was demanded of authorities conducting the investigation of the assassination and the possibility of a conspiracy.

Stalin Heads Probe.

Josif Stalin, ruler of Russia, was here in person to mourn his slain associate and to head the inquiry. He was under heavy guard.

Despite the widespread investigation, a report said, indicated that Kirov was killed by one of

GHOST CAMPAIGN REACHES $8,910

Total Pledges at Noon Almost Attain Three-fourths of Quota Goal

Total pledges received in the 1934-35 Community Chest campaign here today came within a few dollars of touching three-fourths of the $12,000 goal, when collections to noon were reported at $8,910.30.

It was known that several hundred dollars would be turned in this afternoon, one item promising to deliver a $200 check.

"At this rate," officials said, "the chest campaign will be completed this week."

All major collectors and committees, as well as contributors, were urged today to contribute in the effort to complete the close of the year's campaign.

Eleven new names were added to the 100 per cent list of contributors.

ASK PARDON FOR "MERCY" KILLER

LONDON, Dec. 3 (UPI)—The home secretary recommended by King George V to reprove today for Mrs. May Brownhill, 62, the secretary's action means the mother will certainly be reproved and perhaps pardoned.

LEEDS, England, Dec. 3 (UPI)—Members of parliament and British subjects urged the home secretary today to recommend a pardon for Mrs. May Brownhill, 62. She was sentenced to death Saturday for the "mercy" murder of her 60-year-old husband.

She had given the 100 grains of aspirin and turned the gas on in her room. Testimony was that Mrs. Brownhill needed a surgical operation and fearing she might die, decided not to leave her son alone.

The jury recommended mercy.

Employment Gains

NEW YORK, Dec. 3 (UPI)—The national industrial conference board today reported a general improvement in employment in October over September. The improvement, the board said, obtained both as to hours and earnings. Twenty-five manufacturers reported a 1.4 per cent increase in the number of workers employed and a 2 per cent increase in average hourly earnings.

Nye Says Quiz Will Produce Pact By Big Powers

(Editor's note: The Senate munitions investigating committee will be reorganized tomorrow. The following dispatches written by Sen. Gerald P. Nye, D., chairman, especially for the United Press, forecast what the public may expect as a result of the investigation.)

By SENATOR GERALD P. NYE
Chairman, Senate Munitions Inquiry

(Copyright, 1934, United Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (UPI)—Tomorrow we start hearings in the second phase of the Senate munitions investigations, with indications that our disclosures will have far-reaching effects and result in co-operation by the major powers to curb the vicious traffic in implements of war.

Evidence obtained by the inquiries committee during three weeks of hearings last September proved beyond question that those who trade in arms have little or no regard for world peace.

Cause Arms Races.

We will attempt to show before Congress convened that munitions makers are responsible in large measure for the failure of nations to negotiate successful agreements that would halt the mad race for greater armaments and naives that now threaten the security of men, women, and children throughout the world.

I feel confident Congress will not permit this investigation to die because of failure to appropriate additional funds for its continuation beyond Sept. 1. In my opinion it is essential that good can be learned in the munitions business.

Seek World Action.

Along with the rule of the $600,000,000 of new securities the treasury offered to refund in another transaction $60,000,000 of existing securities held by the public.

The new securities together with $745,033,824 cash now in the treasury, will give the government $1,445,033,824 cash to finance the 1935 budget.

Sale of the new securities together with $745,033,824 cash now in the treasury, will give the government $1,445,033,824 cash to finance the 1935 budget.

Philip Klemmer, son of a federal judge, pleaded not guilty and was ordered held without bail when he was arraigned today on a murder charge brought against him in the slaying of John Gorrell.

The 19-year-old son of Judge Franklin E. Klemmer of the northern federal district of Oklahoma surrendered to authorities Saturday. He addled Gorrell in self defense.

Youth Notchand.

Well-groomed, nonchalance, a hint of defiance in his attitude, Klemmer was brought into the court of common pleas Judge John B. Woodward by two deputy sheriffs.

His attorney, Flint, Mo., answered the formal questions and entered the anticipated plea of not guilty.

Judge Woodward set the preliminary hearing for Dec. 17. He ordered Klemmer held without bail pending that hearing.

FBI Offer Legislation.

I intend personally to offer legislation to permit joint criminal investigation of the arms business. In my opinion that is the only effective way to end corruptive methods now employed by a majority in the industry.

We have had testimony that bribery, in the form of special commissions paid to high officials of foreign governments, was practiced widely by American arms salesmen in their search for markets.

U.S. OFFERS NEW BONDS TO RAISE RECOVERY FUNDS

Treasury Seeks Nearly $1 billion To Carry Government Over Until March

By RICHARD L. GRISWOLD
WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (UPI)—

Nearly $1 billion dollars in new money was sought by the federal government today to meet the expected heavy costs of the recovery program in the first three months of the year.

Although budget experts are studying means to cut government costs, the treasury figured it needed at least a billion dollars of new money to run until March, to obtain which cash could be borrowed.

"The new funds are to be received through an offering to the public of $450,000,000 of 3½ per cent 15 to 18 year bonds and $450,000,000 of 1½ per cent 18 month notes."

HULL ADDS OKIE TO COOPERATION

Advances Cautious Support Move for U. S. British Mutual Action

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (UPI)—
Secretary of State Cordell Hull today added his cautious support to the growing movement in London for closer cooperation between the United States and Great Britain for the solution of diplomatic and economic world problems.

Hull avoided any expression which would enable Japanese statesmen to read into his remarks an indication of the solidifying alliance between the United States and Britain. Japan is a matter extending beyond the three powers.
He urged instead at his press conference that the three countries work together for an arriving solution.

Refers to Interview

He referred specifically, however, to an interview granted by United States Ambassador Robert
W. Birmingham to a London newspaper urging the development of mutual cooperation between the United States and Great Britain. Hull said Birmingham's interview was designed to combat the spirit of extreme isolation and nationalism that had well nigh wrecked the world stability and, at the same time, to emphasize the importance of practical international co-operation.

November Expenditures Show Increase Over Outlay Last Year

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (UPI)—
Heavy recovery costs sent government expenditures up to $636, 607.12 last month from $406,429,
221 in November a year ago, the Treasury reported today.

The increase was for the November expenditures of which nearly two-thirds were for emergency purposes, however, were slightly up and reflected disbursements of $568,452,071.

Receipts Boost

Part of off-setting the November expenditures were receipts of $240,407,397, leaving a deficit of $302,600,533. In November, 1933, the government spent $410,429,221
and received in income $293,861, 276, leaving a deficit of

CAMPAIGN NEEDS COOPERATION

With the approach of wintry weather and the arrival of December which is the Christmas month it becomes increasingly important that the needs of the more unfortunate in the community be cared for.

Few there are perhaps, who speculate on what would be the situation were it not for the relief work and other federal assistance being provided all those not engaged in private employment. Without this help such communities as Twin Falls would be called upon not only for a huge contribution of charity funds, but in addition the tax burden for indigent relief would be overwhelming.

The Community Chest, by general agreement, constitutes the only organization to which the public is called upon to contribute for a year, and in addition to providing money for the operation of the Associated Charities, Salvation Army, Anti-Tuberculosis health camp, Children's Home finding society and American Red Cross, also finances locally the Parent-Teacher welfare group, Boy Scouts, Girl Reserves and Camp Fire Girls' organizations. About 40 per cent of the total of $12,000 to be collected goes to the Associated Charities, the budget reveals.

Prolonging the solicitation period unduly works an extra hardship upon those who are giving their time and service to the drive. Therefore it behoves all those who have not yet had the privilege of participating with Community Chest contributions, should do so without delay.

The $1,000 a month outlay which the Chest requires for successful operation is small enough compared with the benefits it brings. Inevitably the $12,000 goal will be reached. It is just a matter of whether the sum will all have been pledged within the course of the next few days, or whether another week or two must be given over to the task.

A quick wind-up of the campaign would be welcomed, and can be accomplished with whole-hearted cooperation right now.

KALEIDOSCOPE

We seem to be living in a topsy-turvy world. In big things and in little things, surprises are the order of the day. To try to summarize the current news is to get a queer feeling that someone somewhere is having fun with us by turning everything upside down.

Thus we find a Du Pont calling for federal pruning of munitions profits in wartime, an Ogden Mills endorsing unemployment insurance, and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce backing the New Deal; simultaneously, a Clevelander stabs another man to death in an argument over the proper way to slice bologna sausage, and a Colorado high school boy shuns nine university co-eds to see how good a boxer he is.

America's secretary of state is proposed for the Nobel Peace Prize, Uncle Sam having labored mightily, one supposes, for the peace of the world. On the same day that this is announced, the U. S. War Department unveils a brand-new armored tank, which carries three machine guns and is capable of traveling 60 miles an hour across open country.

Professional baseball players travel to Japan and stir Japanese enthusiasm for things American to a new high; simultaneously, American farmers in the southwest seek to oust a colony of Japanese truck gardeners, and thereby help bring Japanese public opinion on notch nearer the stage at which it would agree to a war.

A New York woman announces that she will endow selected poets to the tune of $5,000 a year. Walter S. Gifford welcomes a proposed U. S. investigation of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, the Daughters of the Confederacy meet in New York City and a model citizen of Herkimer, N. Y., who voted in every election for 14 years, discovers that he is not a citizen after all and prepares to take out naturalization papers.

A Spokane husband accuses his wife of communicating with his rival by using the Morse code in her snores, and a New Yorker hammers his wife to death with their framed marriage certificate.

Smedley Butler says someone invited him to march on Washington with 500,000 men, and U. S. customs men detain a quart bottle of gin shipped from the Philippines, declaring that while gin from the Philippines is duty free, there is a tax on the bottle that contains it.

And so it goes. Try to reduce these news dispatches to some orderly significance and you will go daft. Reading the papers is almost like looking into the business end of a kaleidoscope, those days.

United States has been increasing its sales of scrap iron to Japan, which is good enough so long as it remains iron.

A Toledo jury convicted a gangster in connection with four murders, but recommends mercy. As though the gangster understood that word.

Lovable

CHAPTER 3-A

AN old maid gone bravely about meeting the demands of the domestic atmosphere front her home, making it a gay and gallant place. Shining surfaces were restored. Bowls and vases of flowers were placed about the rooms where the "maiden" would be held.

"Old Molly," who had served two generations of Hollisters, had come to "help." In a crisp white apron, with a cap on her head and white on her kindly gray hair, Molly waited near the front door.

The announcement that "Miss Ann" Hollister would conduct a sale of her family possessions from 2 until 6 had brought a gasp of amazement from Greenfield's elite and virtual retirement for the time of all. Ann's relatives,

"If you dare to denounce my poor brother's home I'll wash my hands of you," Aunt Hattie told Ann. "Your father—my boy—he was a fool, but he had no family pride."

"But would have borrowed all that money for anyone but me," Ann retorted. "I owe it to him to take up those notes and I shall."

"You won't be so highhanded when you haven't a nickel and no place to go," her aunt said drily.

Ann's bravery had been unmoved. She was feeling sick now and frightened. Old Mrs. Sykes, with her盲fold eyes, who always arrived first when there were bargains to be had, would make straight for the beautiful secretary intact with abomyn and tortoise shell.

Alone Carron who had married rich old Mr. Williamson would motor in from her new home in the country and buy recklessly and gaudily. Ann couldn't bear to think of things that had been loaned to her mother and father being carelessly handled by Alice. Yet even more frightening was the fear that Alice might not come; that those who could afford to buy might not attend the sale.

"Yo looks tired, honey," Molly said, her dark face softened by sympathy. "I don't blame yo for feelin' bad. All them pretty things goin' to folks they don't belong to."

"Please, Molly," Ann said falterily. "Sympathy was the one thing she could not endure. She turned toward the window, away from Molly's discomfited gaze.

"Want time for 'em to be comin'. Look like some of 'em would be here before. Leastways, Mrs. Sykes arter he."

"Yes," said Ann from the window. "Thanx, breathlessly. 'Somebody is comin'! Molly, be ready to open the door—"

"Miz Sykes?"

"No. It's a man—a young man—I've never seen him before."

SECOND APPLE CROP
Mrs. G. L. Kloun Kimberly, received a surprise when she remembered that she had not gathered her apples from the winter banana tree in her front yard. Along with some regular-sized apples that were the first crop she found a number of "half pint" size fruit that are a second crop for this year.

Mrs. Kloun says she believes the second blossoms of the second crop appeared in July. One of the second crop apples is of fairly good size, but the others are too small to be anything but a curiosity. A few of them are on display at the office of the Evening News.

Ann Hollister

THE strange young man's gray

roadster had been roaring through small southern towns—and aimlessly alighting with their old homes showing through the trees—for the last two hours.

At this rate he would reach Atlanta by nightfall. He planned to remain there overnight, with friends, and then drove off immidiately after breakfast for the east.

A short distance down the road

he had picked up a null—and here he was, standing, just by hand, at the door of one of those splendid old homes. This one showed signs of decay, but still it was splendid.

He knocked and heard the sound of stirring within. The door was flung open. An old colored woman loomed before him, at most as though she were a ghost from the glamorous past. She shouted out for her bat.

The young man emitted, but kept the bat.

"Never mind, Auntie, I'll only be here for a minute."

He had heard that hospital in small southern towns was close to the old regime type. But did they always receive strangers so cordially? He was inside now. A quick survey revealed the gayly decked tablet.

A girl was coming toward him.

A slender girl with brown hair. She wore an afternoon frock of brown and he noted that her eyes were brown with golden glints in them.

Her straight little nose was inclined to tilt upward. Just the suggestion of a tilt.

"I'm afraid I'm here under false colors," the young man was saying in a voice Ann found very pleasing. "You are expecting me?"

The girl hesitated. After a moment she answered slowly, "Yes."

"My car has a flat. A tire blow out about at your gate—luckily for me. May I use your telephone to call a garage?"

"Of course. It's in the hall, call Parker's garage. They'll come promptly—that is, more promptly than anybody else. With me you're as judiciously under-pleased. Tell the cook the tea and eaten were great. Thanks. It was the best party I ever attended.

He called the number and gave directions briefly. The pretty girl led the way back into the living room. "If you care to I'll be glad to you to wait here while the stranger balanced his car. I'm taking this vase, which you were as judiciously under-pleased. Tell the cook the tea and

eaten were great. Thanks. It was the best party I ever attended.

He was up and went to the door.

"It was outrageous!" He had almost made her a present of $35.

And there was no way to return it.

"P. K." meant nothing to Ann.

All it would ever mean would be the memory of a tall young man with light brown hair, gray eyes and a quizzed smile.

While Herman Schumacher was carefully putting the finishing touches on a stack of cement blocks in front of the Pike block Monday afternoon an intoxicated man made frantic tracks to the two sections of old cement and staggered on. Just as the tract began to wobble, the man, Schumacher told him, "I'll charge you five dollars for that job." The stranger balanced himself carefully and put one hand in his pocket and said, "He won't charge you nothin' for what I did."

"It's an informal affair. Quite. Her voice was very low.

They were sitting opposite each other. The young man who had suddenly crossed her threshold was rather unusual. Handsome, and his manners were attractive. A few minutes more and he would be gone, but just now his interest was strangely heartening. He went into the dining room, opened the door and spoke to the servant.

"Tom, Molly."

DURING Ann's absence, the young man made a discovery. First his eyes had rested against an old candleabra on the mantel.

A meat card against it read, "Fair, $25."

Looking around, he noticed white cards affixed to other articles. Within reach of his hand, on a low table, was a small blue vase.

The card read "$15."

The tea party was progressing when the doorbell rang.

Ann said, "Excuse me a moment, please. Some of my guests have arrived."

"I think I heard that service car, too."

"Please finish your tea and cake."

For the next five minutes Ann was busy; cornered by old Mrs. Sykes, trying to tell her "no" to "My dear. I couldn't believe my eyes when I read that announcement. I said 'Thank you, Mrs. Hollister' coming to this."

Ann's eyes were wide with wonder.

"I think they do not know what they are talking about in fairly well proved by a little survey recently conducted by New Dealers."

If you dig into it, you will find that about half of the city families (not just people, but families) have no automobiles and no furnaces; 10 per cent no electric lights; 18 per cent no private water closets; and 24 per cent no bathtubs or showers.

The veterans will have no heating stoves; 31 per cent no mechanical refrigerators; and 40 per cent no radios.

These figures show conclusively that our modern standard of living is not even thoroughly modernized, that a vast potential market exists and can be invaded whenever the purchasers get enough money.

These figures are not the only ones.

PASTOR SPEAKS AT ELKS' MEET

Rev. Clark Givens Address on "Three-way Look" at Memorial Rites.

At Twin Falls Lodge H. P. O. Elks' memorial service for "Absent Friends," conducted in the lodge hall yesterday afternoon, an address by Rev. G. L. Clark, pastor of Twin Falls First Presbyterian church, featured "The Paragon which also included solo solos by A. E. French, piano solo by Mrs. Nellie Outram, and a vocal solo by Paul Daly.

Speaking upon the subject "The Three-Way Look," Rev. Mr. Clark brought to his hearers the thought that upon such an occasion "we should look back to around today and back again."

"We gather up the things incident to the initiation, baptism, tendencies and character of our departed loved ones," said the speaker, "and we note how they related themselves to their day and to their community. We look around today and discover certain influences, certain systems, certain tendencies among which we take either to become true builders or wreakers of good."

Cities Heritage

Continuing, the speaker pointed out the third look. "With the past putting something in our hands, a happy memory record, we begin to see how we should use it or misuse it, knowing that if we do wrong, we shall reap in kind."

The memorial ritual was conducted by the lodge officers under the leadership of "Exalted" Rider John C. Rummel, mounted by Harry A. Hall, leading knight; W. McRoberts, loyal knight; Richard Johnson, lecturing knight and Ray Matheny, W. L. DeLoach as secretary and the names of departed brothers and H. M. Holley as chaplain invoked divine blessing. The service concluded with the congregation singing "Auld Lang Syne."

Famed Radio Priest Declares
Share the Work' Means
Spreading Poverty

DETROIT. Dec. 3 (UPI).—A "share-the-profit" movement, not a "share-the-work" plan, of vital interest to the nation's workers, the Rev. Fr. Charles E. Coughlin said Sunday in his weekly radio talk.

"Share-the-work can't in the Stanhope twin to share-poverty," he declared. "This is the point that the gentleman from the United States Chamber of Commerce totally overlooks."

Membership in the new National Union for Social Justice, which will fight for a just, decent wage, has surpassed all expectations, the priest maintained.

Denies Bigotry

It has been reported that one of the union has been characterized as a Catholic organization whose sole purpose is to dig a tunnel from St. Louis to Washington for the Pope," he said. "There are too many thousands of protestants who know that not once to my knowledge have I ever unfurled the green flag of bigotry and jealousy."

Continuing his plea for a fair return on labor's efforts, the priest said the N. U. S. J. would support these principles:

VIOLENCE FLARES AT STRIKE PLANT

Police Break Up Trouble at Kayneen Factory as Pickets
Break Into Riot

BUCKHORN. Dec. 3 (UPI).—Violence with reports of women employees of the Kayneen company breaking above the shouting orders of police and county deputies developed today when workers sought to enter the strike-troubled Kayneen plant.

More than 100 strike sympathizers from Cleveland joined a small group of picketers who have sought for four weeks to induce workers in the boy's clothing factory to join them as a strike.

As women employees entered the factory grounds the picket line broke through squadrons of officers. One woman was choked and clothing of others was torn before police and deputies restored order.

Vacuum Between Murder and Suicide Theories in Death
Of Insurance Man

BELLEVUE. Dec. 3 (UPI).—Vacuating between theories of suicide and murder with a $150,000 confidence game in the background, authorities admitted themselves baffled today by the fatal shooting of Harry H. Hill, former president of the Abraham Lincoln life insurance company.

State At-Lawyer Alfred H. Greening said he was convinced Hill committed suicide because of fear he might be involved in investigation of a purported plot by a Chicago group to seize and wreck the insurance company's treasury. He said, however, that the murder investigation would continue.

Found In Auto

Hill was found shot to death Saturday night in his automobile. A bullet from a .32 caliber revolver had entered downward through his right temple. There were no personal marks although experts said the wound indicated the gun with which it was inflicted was held close to the body.

The bullet had been fired into the car, which stood at the roadside with its motor running when it was discovered by a deputy sheriff. One smashed the windshield, three pierced the left hand door of the car and one the rear window. A .32 caliber revolver with one shell fired at the time of the killing was found beside Hill's body. Sheriff William J. Nutting said he learned Hill was seen riding with another man late Saturday afternoon.

TONG MAN KILLS ASSOCIATE, SELF

SAN FRANCISCO. Police expect No 'War' Outbreak Over Double Death

SAN FRANCISCO. Dec. 3 (UPI).—The stockholders of the Farmers' bank, situated in San Jose, Calif., over the weekend voted to buy off their depositors and close the bank immediately. They expect to accomplish this by Dec. 15 of this year.

The bank was not in financial distress, but the depression and changed business conditions made it apparent that it could not be operated longer.

Every depositor will withdraw his profit.

The remaining assets of the bank will be disposed of and distributed among the stockholders.

Started in 1907.

The bank was started in 1907 and has been carefully managed during the 27 years of its existence. The founders of the bank were W. B. Pierce, Frank Martin, ex-Governor Alexander, Captain Yates of Buena, J. E. Robert, Frank Swallow, W. A. Fowler and prominent farmer of Buena, J. E. Robert, who was a member of the bank's organization until two years ago, when he died. The present officers of the bank are Frank Martin, president; O. L. Robert, vice-president, and Winston Roberts, secretary.

Lee Ching's body, with three bullet holes in the torso, lay at the foot of the beautiful altar of the headquarters of Wong, who was found on an ornate Chinese couch.

LOS ANGELES. Dec. 3 (UPI).—A slight earth shock, apparently in character, was felt in the Wilshire district of Los Angeles early today. The disturbance was not perceptible in downtown Los Angeles, Santa Monica, Long Beach or other nearby urban centers. Police said there was no damage.

LIQUOR AGENTS HOLD TO POSTS

Eight Idaho Operators Will Stick Pending Action by Congress

BELLEVUE. Dec. 3 (UPI).—Idaho liquor agents are to remain on the job at least until congress does something about the present situation, Ed Paris, chief agent, said. Paris received word from R. C. Lyon, district head at Seattle, that the eight Idaho men were to remain on the job in spite of a previous notice that they were all to be dismissed from the service on Dec. 1.

All the men in the Idaho unit failed in an examination given by the head office. More than 1,000 agents throughout the country failed to pass the exam.

Without Pay

Upon the condition that the men were to work without pay until congress had made some definite arrangements, all eight said they were willing to stay and to do the best that they could in upholding their duty.

Paris said that it was fairly certain that in the long run the men would be kept on the force. It is also probable that back wages will be paid.

Members of the staff attended the funeral of Elmer McGinnies Saturday afternoon. McGinnies died while at work Wednesday. Death was due to a heart attack.

Court Jurors Told To Appear Dec. 12

District court jurors, who originally had been notified to appear for prospective service today, will not be wanted until Wednesday, Dec. 12, they have been informed by the court. On that date damage actions, brought by J. W. Porter and Guy C. Hendrickson against the Gallagher Finance company of Seattle, will be tried on the docket.

V-8 Leadership Is Based on Engine Facts and Records

SOME things about an automobile are more or less a matter of opinion. But when it comes to the engine, you are dealing with the hard facts of power and its application. Either you have V-8 power or you don't have it.

You should know that experience and the records of performance are definitely in favor of the V-8 type engine. You need not depend on words—the record speaks for itself. It is something you can see as you "Watch The Fords Go By." Something you will realize even more fully when you drive the Ford V-8 yourself.

It isn't the difference between green or black or between velour and broad-cloth upholstery, but a far-reaching difference in basic engine design. Only the V-8 can give you V-8 speed, power and performance. It costs more to produce, but Ford has made it possible to use this engine in a low-price car. Only the Ford gives you a V-8 engine unless you pay $2500 or more!
