CHRISTMAS PLANS MADE AT LUNCHEON

Plans for the holiday season occupied members of Twentieth Century club during the business meeting which followed the luncheon yesterday afternoon at the New Rogerson hotel. Members brought toys to be given to Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, school nurse, for distribution later this month. Plans were also made for the annual Christmas decoration contest sponsored by the club. A prize of one dollar and fifty cents will be awarded for the most beautiful indoor tree and a similar one for the most beautiful outdoor tree. The best ensemble will win a prize of two dollars. Club members will motor through the city Christmas eve to judge the displays, and they receive that motor from the street if they are to be judged.

Replacing the monthly fashion show, Mrs. J. W. Newman and Mrs. W. H. Burkholder exhibited a group of attractive Christmas gifts in furniture and furnishings.

To Support Chest
The group voted to support the Community Chest. Mrs. A. J. Peavey gave a talk in favor of the county library bill, and Mrs. R. A. Reynolds announced that the club will also distribute Christmas baskets this year.

Table decorations of red tapers in crystal holders surrounded by wreaths of amylax and fern carried out the Christmas theme. Mrs. J. Barker presented the program on drama, and Mrs. Frank Horvick was chairman of the decoration committee.

for This Type of Hose!

Dark Gunmetal—Off Black—Smoketone—And all of the popular Fall shades in Browns and Dark Tans. Three thread and 48-gauge fineness. Every pair stamped ringless—A wide butterfly lace welt—Lace picot top—Pure silk foot.

We Obtained This Unusual Value Through A Mistake!

The representative from this fine mill in Philadelphia sold us this hose as a very special proposition and guaranteed that it would be a ringless hose. The mill refused to honor the order. They claimed the salesman had made a mistake—that he should have sold us this same hose only in the non-ringless construction which they were closing out. We are old customers of this mill and large ones and we insisted that the mill fill this order at least by their salesman. The mill finally agreed to do this and you reap the benefit.

And Remember—When Giving Hose for Christmas! We will gladly exchange any pair after Christmas.

LIFE-BEGINS AT SIXTY

There is a growing sentiment in this country for old-age pensions, unemployment insurance and other social legislation. In this county there is an old-age pension plan already in effect.

It requires but a moment's consideration to realize that this much money, suddenly thrust into the laps of those who have not been used to such an income during any other part of their lives, would become a burden to them as the plan calls for the expenditure of the sum within a 30-day period.

It is true that a small number of persons over 60, now engaged in work, would be taken out of employment, thus leaving opportunity for younger persons, but imagine the amount of dependence which would be promoted by the younger relatives of aged parents.

The sincerity of those who favor the Townsend plan cannot be questioned, but the impossibility of financing such a scheme through the imposition of taxes totalling two billion dollars monthly at once becomes apparent.

Dr. Townsend is said to have pointed out that the annual turnover in American business amounts to one hundred billion dollars. He proposes a two per cent tax, which would raise two billion dollars.

Furthermore the annual turnover which the plan sets up as a base, includes the multiple handling of the same commodity, not just the final sales prices.

However, the Townsend, or any other plan, has this characteristic: It is focusing the attention of the American people on a national old-age pension program which seems destined of enactment at no remote date.

THE REAL DELINQUENT

Every so often some die-hard suggests that the trouble with our young people is that we have been too sparing with the rod. A sound thrashing every so often, we are told, would work wonders with some of those youngsters whom we find exceptionally hard to handle.

Maybe so. But Father E. J. Flanagan, head of a Boy's Home in Omaha, suggests that it is the fathers of delinquent children who need the licking.

Father Flanagan points out that parental neglect is responsible for juvenile delinquency in a tremendous proportion of cases. In such cases, obviously, it is the parent who needs correction far more than the child.

U. S. Secret Service has issued instructions on how to detect counterfeit bills of large denominations. Wouldn't it be better to tell us how to detect the good ones?

Uncle Sam has sent out his annual bills for payment of war debt installments. He might as well do so, or even Finland would forget to pay.

MARY RAYMOND 1934 NEA SERVICE INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY ANN HOLLEITER, pretty and 26, leaving that her college course has been made possible by money loaned by friends of her father, John Taylor, who is now in the hospital.

Tony was leaning across the table now, looking at Ann with that flattering light in his eyes. "I've never seen anyone so lovely before," he said.

SARAH made a thorough job of telling Ann about Tony. She began by saying: "I suspect Tony's having a foundation for one of his grand, campaigns and, because I like you, Ann, I'm going to warn you. It wouldn't do for you to go around with Tony. It simply wouldn't do."

Ann laughed. "What but he done that's so terrible! He might be a gangster, the way you're talking."

"If the idea appealed to him Tony would probably turn gangster," Sarah said, smiling. "But Tony's risks are of a different kind. Like falling for other men's wiles."

And here Sarah told Ann about Tony's lovable qualities, his work, his dead-end charm, his responsibility. No girl could ever be sure that Tony would keep a date. Anything might interfere—a call to join another party, a sudden decision to work, or just forgetfulness.

Sarah stopped talking for a moment and met Ann's cold, wise gaze. "You're not surprised?" she asked.

"Of course not. I knew all about Tony before he ever spoke to me."

"And here I've been worried to death. Pardon me, Ann, but you look such a kid."

"I'm not such a kid. I'm just not used to a new apartment and it really is too large for me."

"I've a red-head temperament myself. Well, anyway, we could try it. If it didn't work, there'd be no hard feeling."

It was agreed and Ann said she would telephone for a trunk to be sent to Sarah's apartment that afternoon.

"I guess it would be better for me to attend to it," Sarah said. "I can rely on the baggage-man here to take it to the house. Let's see if we can't work a miracle and get some good seats for 'The Top'."

SO Tony was a friend of Sarah's friend. Sarah hadn't said that, in fact, Sarah hadn't said anything good at all about Tony.

"I'll run out and pay my board bill, and then I may come back and do a little shopping."

DECEMBER 6 The early a. m. will bring an element of pleasure foremost in many people's minds, and it should be good. The later A. M. is rich and capricious. A new moon starts to work around midnight. Its careful rays dig out and whatever you may eat. The evening is notably fortunate for courtship, marriage or pleasure.

FRIDAY NIGHT DANCES WILL BE AT MEMORIAL HALL, Dec. 5 (Special) Beginning this Friday night, the dances that have been given at the Woodman hall will be given at Memorial Hall.

At the Olympic games of A. D. Nero proclaimed himself victor in music and returned to Rome with 1,800 prizes which he had collected from the judges.

one place about six. "Suppose we say the library. That's as good a place as any." Ann said, her bill and returned down town but the shopping was decided not to be done. She was walking along the street, feeling lost in the milling throngs of people, when she was hailed blithely. "Well, look who's here!" it was Tony Mickle.

"It was impossible to resist Tony's contagious smile and good humor. Ann found herself smiling back at him.

"I'm sorry, but I'd do it again if there were no other way of meeting you."

"I can't go to dinner with you tonight."

"I don't expect you've heard of the place but they serve good food."

PRESENTLY they arrived at a garish little place, collar-like, dump hotel. The floor was concrete and the menu card was soiled from being handled, but the red-checked tablecloth and napkins were clean.

"So you are going to Sarah's tonight," Tony said.

"I'll have to fold up to get in," Tony said.

PAUL MALLON'S NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS An Exclusive Evening Times Daily Report on the Fast-Moving Events in the Nation's Capital by an Expert Interpreter and Commentator (Copyright, 1934, by Paul Mallon)

WHICH IS IMPORTANT? WASHINGTON — It is customary for everyone to start viewing congress with alarm about this time of year. There seems to be less of it this year because of the popular impression that President Roosevelt dominates the situation.

Most of these decrees by the President and by congress are unimportant. Mr. Roosevelt's monthly pointed to Mr. Hoover. Some of the congressional acts merely gave Mr. Roosevelt authority to act.

PERMITS There are other more significant underlying factors in the present congressional situation. The truth is that this coming meeting of the newly elected legislature is not going to be a congressional session, at all, but rather a caucus of the new political Democratic party.

POWER Mr. Roosevelt's patronage club has been shorted considerably since the last session. Most of the good jobs already have been given away. Yet he retains more than the ordinary amount of small privileges and preferments to barter with.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD. By William Ferguson

The PAINTED LADY BUTTERFLY is the most widely distributed butterfly in the world. In 1879 great flocks of these frail creatures flew from Africa to Europe!

ASIA IS A LAND OF EXTREMES. MOUNT EVEREST, ITS HIGHEST PEAK, IS APPROXIMATELY 29,000 FEET ABOVE SEA LEVEL... AND THE DEAD SEA IS 1292 FEET BELOW SEA LEVEL!

The painted lady butterfly owes its world-wide distribution to the fact that it thrives on a plant which, itself, has been most successful in gaining a foothold throughout the world. This plant is the thistle, which sends its seeds on aerial journeys of a thousand miles or more in one flight.
