BROOKLYN CLUES HINTED

Capture of Burns Viewed as Tie-up With Looting of Armored Car

CHICAGO, Dec. 17 (AP)—With one of the best-known Dillinger gangsters presumably furnishing tips, postal inspectors and police joined forces today in an effort to wipe out last remnants of the John Dillinger gang and solve a $427,000 Brooklyn, N. Y., robbery.

In the new federal building officers questioned Joseph Burns, Dillinger's aide and a woman believed to be his sister.

Reports Halted. Hitting squads packed police headquarters cells with the catch of a score of underworld "resorts" during the night, supposedly made on the strength of information obtained from Burns or the woman.

Chicago police captured Burns yesterday in a South Side flat. Two machine guns, three rifles, and several automatic pistols were within his reach, but he made no attempt to use them.

Brooklyn Hint. A problem worked on a magazine cover connected Burns, in police estimation, with the robbery in Brooklyn last night of an armored car from which bandits took $427,000 in cash. The scribbled sum indicated that $427,000 had been divided 13 ways.

Postal Inspector John McWhorter speculated that the figure represented a division of the Brooklyn loot plus assets of an outlaw gang from other robberies. No other crimes of recent years have produced such a sum, they said.

Captain Stone said Burns also was tentatively identified as one of three men who today robbed Jacob Kinstler, Brooklyn jewelry salesman, of $10,000 worth of jewels and cash. They professed to see a connection possibly between the armored car robbery and the holdup of Kinstler.

EASY MONEY GETS INCREASED VALUE. Increased spending power for "easy money," the scrip being given dollar for dollar with purchases made from Twin Falls merchants, has been voted by the directors of the Empire exposition.

Chicago's Banks Buy Bonds for Teachers. WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—The Reconstruction Finance Corp. today approved a $25,500,000 purchase of bonds to Chicago banks for the benefit of the city's school teachers.

The picture shows the shell of the hotel, with debris littering the bank of the Grand river, where a police boat is seen dragging for victims' bodies.

CANAL UNTIMELY, JAPAN DECLARES

Willing to Resume. The spokesman said that Japan is willing to resume naval conversations in the spring if America is agreeable to the proposal.

SANTA MONICA, Cal.—One of the most honest divorce rulings I ever heard was given the other day by some fellow, "the sista me fine, but I just can't afford her." WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (Special)—Senator Borah's campaign to beautify the G. O. P. is about in working out accordingly on the surface, but not so well underneath.

Imported Reason. There is another more important reason. The Washington Republican authorities know that a reorganization of the party must come, but they do not believe a firm base exists for it now.

The committee investigating munitions manufacturing has shown how the companies are both warring nations in conflict, and equally friendly nations in peace, and urge friendly relations to fight, he said. # INDUSTRY'S HUGE SURPLUS DROPS

Tax Survey Shows Depression Forced Out; Upward Now Apparent in U. S.

By RICHARD L. GRIBBLEY - WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—American industry's huge 1933 surplus of $55,000,000,000 was reduced a third to $30,000,000,000 in the first three depression years to the end of 1932. Figures compiled by the bureau of internal revenue showed today.

Losses in 1932 together with necessary tax dividend payments, forced industry as a whole to dig into a surplus that year to the extent of $3,000,000,000.

In an analysis of 451,884 corporation income tax returns, the bureau said surplus of all reporting corporations was reduced by $9,584,221,270 from $45,683,746,274 at the end of 1931 to $36,079,525,004 at the end of 1932.

Individuals in this period saw their aggregate incomes fall from $13,004,986,128 in 1931 to $11,408,746,678 in 1932, and suffered a further small decline in 1933. Corporations on the other hand, showed staggering deficits after payment of wages, dividends and taxes in 1930, 1931 and 1932, and, from preliminary returns for 1933, were able only to reduce their deficits by approximately a half.

During 1932 only 82,646 of the 451,884 reporting corporations showed income of any kind. A factor showed that 1,033 in 1933 were able only to reduce their deficits by approximately a half.

Gross income of all reporting corporations in 1932 comprising practically the entire business and financial structure, amounted to $81,837,987,788, while deductions amounted to $55,407,380,267, leaving a deficit of $26,430,607,521. Despite this loss, corporations paid a total income tax of $2,864,334,356; cash dividends of $3,885,000,731 and stock dividends of $143,076,315, leaving them in the red by more than $20,000,000.

In 1931, 450,704 reporting corporations had gross income of $108,050,652,250 and total deductions of $109,835,565,091, leaving them a deficit of $2,784,912,841. Federal income taxes in 1931 total $3,008,003,703; cash dividends $0,161,043,782 and stock dividends $182,530,417, leaving corporations in the red $7,034,000,000.

Preliminary figures for 1933 show an increase in the gross income of corporations as well as apparent halving of the 1933 deficit.

Assets of all reporting corporations at the end of 1933 the bureau's figures showed, fell to $291,042,992,861 from $301,497,929,090 at the end of 1931 and the peak of $355,777,910,066 at the end of 1929.

A comparison of the 1932 assets with those of 1931 showed corporations were atrophied, their "liquid" positions showing a largeness in surplus. In 1932 they increased their cash slightly and added to various investments. Capital assets, however, frozen, decreased sharply and notes receivable declined, showing that business men were paying off more of their bills.

Income Steady
Individual taxpayers received $8,136,716,732 in wages and salaries during 1932 and this income held fairly steady during 1933, the bureau reported.

Persons with net incomes under $5,000 were shown to derive 47 per cent of their income from salaries and wages; 10 per cent from business; nearly 5 per cent from dividends and nearly 7 per cent from interest.

Twenty persons had incomes in excess of $1,000,000 in 1932. They derived 93 per cent of their income from dividends; 1-1/2 per cent from wages and salaries; 5 per cent from interest. Practically none was from tax exempt securities. The number of million dollar incomes was increased to 46 in 1933.

A total of 567 persons were shown by bureau statistics to have received larger salaries in 1932 than the $75,000 paid the president of the United States.

Jean Harlow's Story

As Told to Leicester Wagner, United Press Staff Writer

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourth of six stories in the life of Jean Harlow, as told by Leicester Wagner, United Press staff correspondent at Hollywood.

Paul loved people and parties, the color and gaiety of crowded conversation. And he taught me to share his enjoyment of it. Paul was not always socially inclined. Often at the last minute he'd suggest that we forget about a theater party and spend a quiet evening before the fire. It was an evening such as these that I learned to know his fine intelligence, understanding, and brilliant imagination.

Premiere Arrives
Gradually the months passed and the night for the premiere of "Hell's Angels" arrived. I can't remember even seeing the picture. I had to go through the picture, a cold preparation for the picture, was really me. Even now I always look at the Jean Harlow in pictures as an entirely different person. I haven't even seen two or three of the pictures in which she played after "Hell's Angels." I still like those films and the girl in them so much that I can't bear to see her in a theater or even in a projection room to see them.

Disappointment
I was sure that my long period of waiting was over after the opening of "Hell's Angels," and that I would be permitted to work again. But I was doomed to disappointment. Mr. Hughes had no other pictures scheduled for production and he flatly refused to loan me to another studio. He refused to listen to my pleas. Instead, he sent me to make a personal appearance at the opening of the film in Seattle. My personal appearance was a success and the theater requested that I remain for the first two weeks of the run.

I had no sooner returned than I was informed by the studio that I had been scheduled to make a personal appearance tour with the picture, a trip which would last at least three months.

So Mother and I packed our trunks and said "good-bye" to Hollywood. That entire trip is a nightmare to me. When we were half way across the country I re-

BOYS LEADING IN FILMLAND BABIES

Son's Arrival to Chyna Row Increases Infant Colony Among Movie Folk

(Copyright, 1934, United Press) HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 17 (AP)—Potentially, there are more actors than actresses in Hollywood.

The work, making out his 1934 baby list today, figured that the boys he followed to the homes of film notables this year outnumbered the girls, something like two to one. The inventory read eight boys and four girls.

In actual addition to Clark Gable and Rex Bell, two murks are scored after the names of Bing Crosby and Dick Lee. Two murks mean babies. Both were boys.

Those of the film great who became parents during the year included Joan Bennett and Gene Markey, Dorothy Jordan and Merwin C. Cooper, Sally Blinn and Sam C. Green, Frances Deane and Harry Joe Brown, Frances Deane and Joe McCrean, Billie Dove and Robert Kenmore, Pat and Patricia O'Brien, Joan Blondell and George Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Darryl Zanuck, and Mr. and Mrs. Andy Devine.

There was one death, that of the O'Brien baby.

Romance again has entered the life of Harry Clay Mount, Jr., after a two-week interlude.

Still a bridegroom, Mount announced his engagement to Loretta Lynn, actress, even though he is not legally separated from Viola Loub.

Loretta and I are going to be married as soon as I get an annulment," said Mount, actor-son of a New York oil man. "I've been in love with Loretta for a long time."

The filed annulment proceedings began two weeks after he eloped with Loretta on Nov. 26. Since then, Miss Loub has expressed confidence they would be reconciled.

The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences today set Feb. 27 as the date of its annual awards for meritorious acting, directing, producing and seven other phases of motion picture making. Voting will start shortly after the first of the year and results will be announced at a gala banquet. The awards are conferred annually.

BRIDGE VICTORS

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (AP)—Mrs. Theodore Greenbaum and Richard W. Kahn, of New York, won the mixed-pair championship of the American Bridge League, defeating a field of more than 70 pairs.

The winners were Charles A. Goren and Mrs. R. C. Young, of Philadelphia, who trailed the winners' total of 1008 points by 32 points.

Hughes, then to the Chicago theater, then to the Kansas City theater where I was scheduled to appear the following Monday night.

I was packed and unpacked. Eight times we packed and unpacked our trunks—then finally we received word that I would not be needed for retakes, and we stayed in Chicago.

When we returned to Hollywood I certainly realized my wish as far as work was concerned. I made seven pictures in less than a year—and what pictures! I don't even like to think about them. In all of them I was the same detestable, unsympathetic girl. I determined to leave Hollywood.

When Mother, Marjorie and I got on a train one morning for New York, I felt that I was saying good-bye to Hollywood and motion pictures forever.

Next Miss Harlow tells of her marriage to Paul Horn.

RUSSELL LANE

The following officers were elected at a recent meeting of the Russell Lane Grange: president, Herbert E. Roberts; vice-president, E. D. Hill; secretary, Mrs. Frank Baker; treasurer, Mrs. J. S. Paul; reporter, Mrs. George Evans; chaplain, Mrs. J. H. Day; steward, Mrs. George Evans; gatekeeper, August Bremer; assistant steward, George Evans; fully assistant steward, Mrs. E. D. Hill; clerk, Mrs. J. S. Paul; librarian, Mrs. Anna Ingram; piano, Mrs. Milton Walker.

The new officers will be installed on the evening of Dec. 19 at a joint meeting of the Grange, 1934, and Russell Lane Granges at the Idaho state schoolhouse.

Mrs. Charles Vinard was hostess last week to 26 members of the Russell Lane Harmony club for the first meeting of the year 1934. Mrs. Vinard was installed during the afternoon by Mrs. E. D. Roberts, Mrs. C. D. Smith and Mrs. Margaret Smith of Twin Falls. Mrs. Vinard was elected as president of the club for 1934 and Mrs. Pat Day as secretary-treasurer. The members all expressed their appreciation of the splendid work and operation of the outgoing officers. Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Hazel Paul, ladies of laughter greeted the answers to roll call, which was an humorous affair. A Christmas family game was won by Mrs. C. D. Smith. Mrs. P. C. Montgomery, Mrs. Phyllis Combs, Mrs. P. A. Foster, Mrs. Claude Woodward, Mrs. Harry Shannon and Mrs. John Durr. The white elephant drawing and a Christmas gift exchange completed the program.

The first meeting of the new year will be held at the home of Mrs. James White, with Mrs. Donald White presiding, on the second Wednesday in January. At this meeting the members are asked to bring for roll call answers to the question, "What is your idea of the most practical way to augment the student loan funds?" It is the purpose of the club members to increase the amount of the fund, to have $100 available as soon after the first of the year as possible.

Rehearsals are now in progress for the annual program to be presented by the pupils of the Russell Lane school at Christmas time. The program will, as usual, be followed by a distribution of presents, by Santa Claus, from a beautifully lighted and decorated tree.

RAIL SYMPATHY STRIKE LOOMING

Answer to Compromise Will Determine Walkout by Three Roads

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 17 (AP)—Possibility of a "sympathy strike" of trainmen of three western railroads hangs largely today on answer the Pacific Electric Railway was to give to a compromise proposal advanced by union leaders.

Officials of the interurban line were scheduled to reply to an offer of the Trainmen's and Signalmen's unions to reduce their basic wage demands from 75 to 62 1/2 cents an hour.

Minimum P. E. wage scale now is 40 cents plus a 5 per cent overtime that will be restored Jan. 1.

Should the railway reject the compromise offer a strike appeared inevitable.

D. A. Mackenzie, international vice president of the trainmen's union, announced today that members of the Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and Santa Fe lines intend to join him tomorrow and discuss the possibility of calling a "sympathy strike." Mackenzie said he was "virtually certain" a strike would be "violated" should a walkout occur on the P. E. line.

Inside Story Reveals New Lindy Case Data

(Editor's note: Through an amazing combination of circumstances, an elderly educator in the Bronx found himself within a week of the Lindbergh kidnaping, the annual center of the negotiations which he and Colonel Lindbergh believed, were destined to bring about a return of the child. The beginning of this action and the frustration of their hopes are told in the following dispatch, fourth in the current series by Harry H. Whipple of the United Press.)

By SIDNEY P. WHIPPLE (Copyright, 1934, United Press.)
"I would gladly give $1,000 my life's savings to see the kidnaped Lindbergh child restored to his mother's arms," Dr. John C. Condon told a reporter for the Bronx Home News.

There was nothing unusual about Dr. Condon's offer to act as an intermediary. Many other, and perhaps more earnest, persons had announced publicly their willingness to go-between, among them Dr. C. R. Hadden, president of Princeton university, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia, and men of similar rank.

Offer Printed
Dr. Condon's offer was printed, as a news story, in the Bronx Home News of Sunday, March 4, 1934. It was the first time he was in possession of the child. Condon was well beloved in the Bronx. He had an acquaintance of thousands. He had lectured at Fordham for years, and was known to the young people of that town as a benevolent, kindly old gentleman who made a life practice of "doing good."

On the night of March 8, the good doctor rushed, trembling, into the restaurant of his friend, Max Rosenblum, on the Grand Concourse, after taking him aside, showed him what was the first of a long series of ransom notes. The note, stamped with the characteristic red and blue rings, with the pin-holes forming a duplicate of the triangle discovered on the original note left in the baby's crib, "accepted" Condon's offer to act as an intermediary, and advised him to get in touch at once with Colonel Lindbergh to obtain official sanction for his actions.

Call Lindy
From Rosenblum's restaurant, Dr. Condon attempted to telephone to Colonel Lindbergh. But when the connection was put through, he was too overcome by emotion to talk, and so it was his friend, Rosenblum, who told the colonel what the note contained.
"Get a fast car and come to Hopewell at once," the colonel directed.
Through the night, Condon, Lindbergh, Rosenblum and the colonel's advisers discussed the note. That it was genuine from the kidnaper there was little doubt. Colonel Lindbergh ordered packages of ransom money, totaling $50,000, prepared, and gave Dr. Condon full authority to act.

A series of further ransom notes, in reply to advertisements published in various newspapers, including the Bronx Home News, came to Dr. Condon, who had used the initials, J. E. C., to invent a signature for himself and thus

MISSIONARY AND FAMILY ESCAPE

Former Oregon Pastor Evades Chinese Bandits in Dash For Safety

CHANGHAI, Dec. 17 (AP)—Flooding from Chinese red bandits who had executed publicly two American missionaries, the Rev. Bruce A. Lightfoot and his family reached Shanghai and safety today.

In the former Bund, Ore., pastor's party were his wife and his three children. They had been isolated for a time in the mission station at Tientsin while the bandit army was terrorizing that section of northern Anhwei province.

Fourteen-year-old in the bandit area also were fleeing toward the larger cities while a government force of 10,000 soldiers pursued the bandits who killed the Rev. and Mrs. John C. Hinn, missionaries at Tientsin.

The Stanns were executed soon after their capture and a Chinese who begged for mercy toward the bandits was killed. The Stanns' baby daughter, kidnaped by the bandits, later was found abandoned in a deserted home several miles from the scene of the execution. She was unharmed.

Natural Musician

NEBLESHORO, Mo. (AP)—Although he never took a music lesson in his life, Prof. Herbert B. Dandemeyer, 72, can play 17 different musical instruments. When a boy of 15 his father tried to discourage his musical career by throwing his first violin into the stove.

While Col. Lindbergh sat in the automobile, Condon walked down Whittemore avenue. From across the cemetery fence came a voice: "Over here, Lindbergh, come over here!" Col. Lindbergh heard the voice and started well in receipt.

Demands Receipt
Jafie demanded a receipt from the kidnaper for the $50,000 he was carrying. The extortor said it would take him 10 minutes or more to get one, indicating he would have to "see someone else." So Jafie waited.

He was rewarded, nearly half an hour later, by receiving a note which pretended to tell the whereabouts of the baby. "The baby is on bond (sic) Nelly," the note declared, directing Lindbergh to go to Gay Head, in Vineyard Sound, where the boat would be found.

There are two women there. They are innocent," the note concluded.
The kidnaper sped away in the darkness with his $50,000. Colonel Lindbergh embarked on a two-day aerial tour of Long Island Sound. Coast guard ships saw his great plane zooming above them. Natives at Vineyard Haven saw him step ashore from his plane and heard him make inquiries as to the boat "Nelly."

There was no such boat. Colonel Lindbergh had paid his $50,000 for nothing!

Indian Dies As Old Cure Fails

MAITA, Mont., Dec. 17 (AP)—Dan Blooming Bear slept the "long sleep" of death today because he held to the ways of his forefathers.

Born "somewhere" in northern Montana 70 years ago, Dan, a full-blooded Gros Ventre, served time as an Indian scout for U. S. army officers, killed seven with regularity, hunted wolves, horse thieves, fought off savagery on a frontier expedition—and escaped virtually unscathed.

But a few days ago what he termed "this old life" took its toll. Sleeping Bear was stricken with pneumonia. Younger Indian men, educated like Dan, in white men's schools, wanted to call in "paid-face medicine men."

His eyes, then nearly blind, burred with scorn. Sleeping Bear would cure himself as his father and his father's father had done.

He prepared an air tight sweat lodge, entered it, trickled water over red-hot stones, and sat the smoking steams, prayed that his body might be purged of its evil spirits.

From the steaming lodge, the 70-year-old warrior, one of the last of his stern men among the Gros Ventres, raced to the river, broke his leg covering and plunged in.

"I feel much better," Dan told his friends as he dripped blood to his lodge. He was tired, though. He would rest, and when he awoke the Great Spirit would have driven away the devil within him.

Sleeping Bear did not awaken at the next dawn. His friends lifted a tripod that peered within. Sleeping Bear was dead.

HEART AILMENT KILLS MAN, 74

Death of Wilson H. Eckles Laid to Natural Causes By Sheriff, Coroner

Wilson H. Eckles, 74, found dead in bed at his room, 309 Second avenue west, came to his death from natural causes, it had been determined today by Sheriff E. F. Prater and Coroner F. A. Dwight, called to the place at 2 p. m. Sunday by a neighbor, Joe Noland.

It is believed that heart failure was the cause of the unexpected passing of the aged man who has made his home here for a number of years. He is known to have been receiving doctor's care for several months.

The body is at the Twin Falls mortuary, and a sister, Mrs. A. C. Hall, Washington, Penn., has been communicated with.

Eckles occupied a room adjoining one in which lives Mike Ruble. Early Sunday morning Ruble is said to have gone to Eckles' room, and thinking he was asleep, did not disturb him. In the afternoon Noland visited Eckles' room, and finding him in bed, investigated. Discovering that Eckles was dead he summoned the sheriff, who in turn called the coroner.

Mr. Eckles was a member of the Cripple Creek, Colo., Elks lodge. He came here from there 20 years ago. It was indicated today that the local Elks lodge would have charge of burial services, which was left in the hands of Harry Bennett, attorney for Eckles, in word received today from Mrs. Scott.

We expect to announce our new 1935 cars, and have them in dealers' showrooms where you may see and examine them; on Saturday, December 29th, The cars are coming off the line now and distribution will soon commence.
I have never been very much in favor of the custom of yearly models. Good motor cars do not become obsolete simply because the calendar turns a leaf. Our former custom was to put improvements on our cars as soon as we developed and tested them, so that there was continuous refinement and progress. The custom of introducing new models annually is justified when they are really new, and not merely equipped with new talking points for the purposes of salesmanship.
Last year's Ford V-8 was a good car, the best we had built up to that time. We don't say to a customer with a last year's car that his car is out of date. If it is giving him service, and if he is not in the market for a new car, there is no reason for him to feel that he is behind the procession. He still drives the fundamentally latest thing in cars. The new car has all the qualities and advantages of last year's car, with something added.
The improvements we offer are not experimental in any sense; they were thoroughly tried out under every conceivable circumstance before we finally adopted them. That, in fact, is our job all the year round—refining, improving, making new balance of qualities, always adhering closely to our principle of continuous growth in the basic purpose of the Ford car.
The 1935 V-8 engine is practically the same engine we built in 1934, because we have not learned how to build a better one. It has, however, some refinements; amongst which are the copper-lead connecting rod bearings, and the new type of crankcase ventilation.
Most of the improvements concern the riding qualities of the car. There is now more comfort both in driving the car and riding in it—and it was always a very comfortable car to drive. This year we have paid particular attention to the comfort of the back seat rider. The rear seat is now forward of the rear axle, so that all passengers ride between the axles. With the new flexible springs, this gives what has been aptly described as "a front seat ride for the back seat passengers." Besides, it has permitted changes in the design of the body which have resulted in those lines of beauty so much in favor with automobile owners today.
We have always had three fundamentals—Durability, Economy of operation and maintenance, and Comfort. Safety, of course, is taken for granted. The durability is just what it always was; no one needs to be told at this late day that Fords are built to last. The economy is even greater than before—an 8-cylinder engine with the economy of a four. As to comfort, however, there has been a very considerable advance, as I think you will agree when you have tried the car out.
We built more than 20,000,000 cars previous to the V-8. We have built 1,300,000 V-8 cars. The V-8, we believe, is the proper engine for the low-price car field, which is our field.
This 1935 car will be on display December 29th, with all details ready for your information. It is entirely probable that some of our prices will be lower than in 1934. We want them lower because we expect to build a million cars and better next year, and the price must be right. If the price is right, people will buy; men will go back to work; a thousand related businesses will feel the new impulse. At least, we are trying to make 1935 a busier, happier and more hopeful year.
Henry Ford

LOUISIANA COACH QUILTS AFTER TILT WITH SEN. HUEY LONG

JONES IRKED BY 'KINGFISH' ANTICS

Reigns After Team Defeats Oregon; Campus Thrown Into Uproar

HAZON ROBERTS, L.S. Dec. 17 (AP)—Reignation of Lawrence A. Jones, head football coach, after a tilt with Senator Huey P. Long left the Louisiana State university campus in an uproar as students returned to classes today.

Jones left today on a week's fishing trip after giving Dr. James W. Smith, president of the university, his resignation after Saturday's game with Oregon university which L. S. U. won 14-13. The senator invaded the L. S. U. dressing room between halves Saturday night and proposed an adjournment of the game. Jones refused. Long flew into a violent rage and left the players' quarters.

Neither Long nor Dr. Smith would discuss the matter today, but students talked it freely. It was understood Dr. Smith proposed an adjournment of the game and one report said Jones might resign today if a way would not be found to keep Huey away from the team.

Evidence that Huey's football antics irked Jones came several weeks ago when Long, uninvited, burst into a meeting on the campus and had Abe Mickel, star halfback, elected to the state senate. Jones confined Mickel to his quarters and refused to let him attend the senate session.

Campus Poplar
Popularity of Jones on the campus and his value to the athletic department left Dr. Smith in a difficult position in the senate.

MOSCOW, Idaho, Dec. 17 (AP)—The resignation of Leo Calland, head football coach and director of athletics at University of Idaho, was in the hands of President M. G. Nevils today and will be presented to the board of regents at Boise Tuesday, Nevils said.

Babcock, following a trial which had consumed most of the day.

The plaintiffs, who were represented by Harry Benoit, W. L. Hays and J. L. Houlgin, charged the accident was caused by an error of the defendant company who is alleged to have altered the car's chassis, so that the Leighton, operating the machine, which Porter and Hendrickson were riding, was off the highway. Leighton was injured and is suing for $1,045 in federal court. Attorney for the defendant company is J. H. Roman.

Child's Interest Should Rule Selection of Toys

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Many considerations rule toy buying, but one and a child's interests are extremely important factors.

For the infant who sits mostly on the floor, rattles, soft light balls, blocks (well strung), bath toys, simple dolls (stuffed with soft and pull together in one piece), little bells (scissors safely attached), small puppets can hit together, soft animal toys. Toys that make noise stretch and reach and pull and kick. Nothing small enough to get into his mouth.

Toys of strength and skill for small boys and girls: balls, jumping ropes, wheelbarrows and wagons to load up and pull about; kiddie cars, skates, sleds, hobby-horses, jumpers. Looking forward to summer—sand boxes, swings, saws, shovels, apron-balls, kites in variety.

Construction habits

Creative toys or those that encourage construction: blocks, hammer-and-nail sets, erector and builder sets, beginners' tool chests, modeling clay of various colors, easy cut-out patterns for doll clothes, colored papers to fold into strips in a kindergarten or cut into simple designs.

Imaginative play—Play-stories, doll houses, dolls and their clothes and furnishings, housekeeping sets, costume sets (fremm, cowboys, etc.). Anything that makes the small world around us the more. Sometimes called dramatic toys.

Artistic development: Drawing, painting or crayon books, modeling wax or clay with accompanying designs, simple weaving looms, easy sewing sets, very simple musical toys. The latter can be more than mere noise-makers. A horn with three notes in good. A drummer should, in time, rate a little instruction in a very audience. Mouth-organs or harmonica affairs. Like horns, they should not be passed around.

Mechanical Value

Of mechanical value: electric train, scales, magnifying glasses, model power plants, many chemistry sets, and anything of like nature. Chemistry sets or engine run by fuel other than electricity should be only in the hands of the thoroughly competent and older child.

And, by the way, tell the youngsters to keep their hands dry when playing with electric-run toys. Usually the current is too weak to do much damage, but it is just as

KIBITZER

CHICAGO, Dec. 17 (AP)—The kibitzer game is one of the most popular for students was just about over between Max Adelman and Frank Coleman when Harry Hommes sat himself down behind Coleman.

"Kibitzing," warned Adelman, "is a bad habit."

"Oh, sure not," Hommes said. "Three hundred," said Coleman.

"Three-fifty," said Adelman.

Adelman shook his head as he walked to pass. Hommes tapped him on a shoulder. Dick Adelman looked 60 queens, "you big chump."

He poked Kibitzer.

Adelman looked again, bid again and won. Adelman rose, poked Hommes roughly, all over the room and then called police. He charged Kibitzer Hommes with creating a disturbance.

Judge Justin McCarthy heard Hommes with evident interest.

"I fine you," he told Hommes, "$2 and $3 costs. You should've known better."

The judge and Adelman grinned as Hommes plodded off to jail, unable to pay. The judge patted Adelman on the back.

"An old pinhead player, myself," he said.

A sing-watch, filled with diamonds and worth $10,000, is probably the smallest time piece in existence. It is no larger than a person's eye.

WOMAN CATCHES TURKEY ROBBERS

Farm Housewife Nabs Thief, Then Chases Two More Into Captivity

KINGSVILLE, O. (AP)—A turkey thief suffered two unforeseen indignities at Harold Robinson's turkey farm near here. First, he was captured by a woman; secondly, he had the unpleasant experience of his captor's husband sitting on his head while his wife chased his two fleeing companions.

Four hundred and fifty gobbles had been eating themselves into delectable Christmas and New Year cornucopia at the Robinson home this fall.

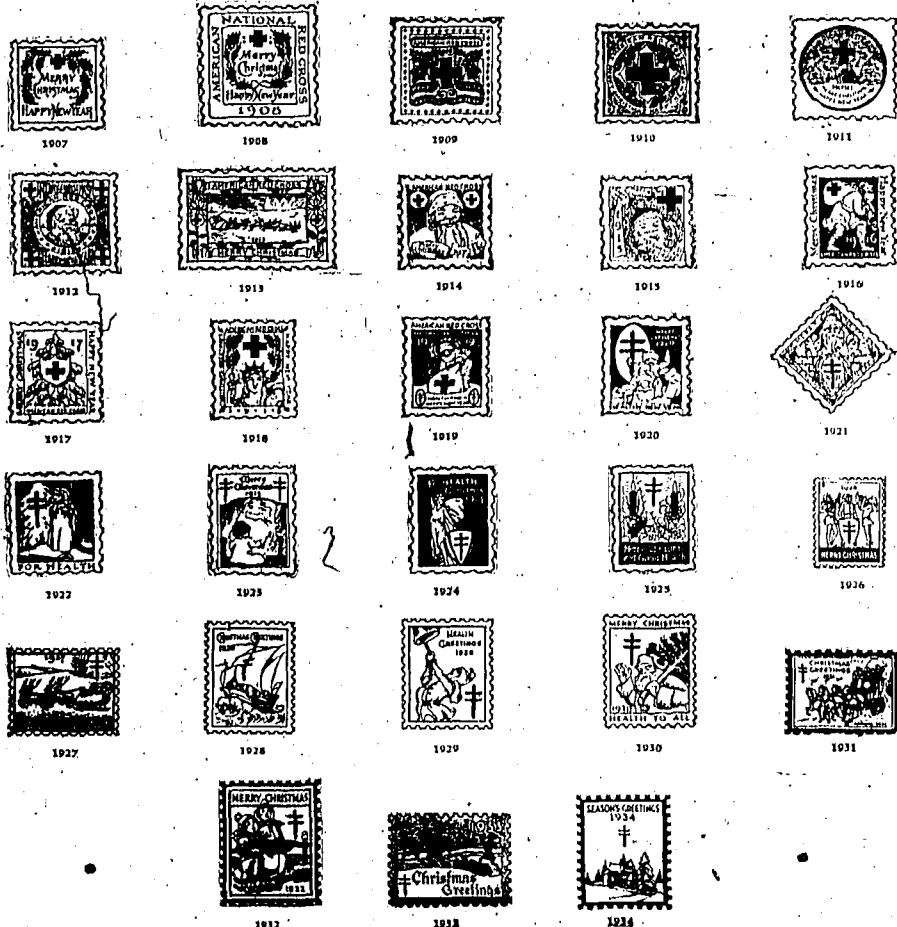

Strange sounds roused the Robinsons one night. The fowls seemed to be stampeding. The next morning they found missing two turkeys, valued at about $12.

The next night, Mr. and Mrs. Robinson went to the brooder house, planning to spend the night. About midnight they were awakened again by the stampeding of turkeys. Mrs. Robinson picked up the shotgun and stepped outside. One man was stealing a big turkey hen.

She leveled the gun at him and ordered him to halt. He did, in fact. Mrs. Robinson turned over the man to her husband, then ran to her automobile with the gun and pursued the man's two companions in the case. A North King'sfield near here, she lost the trail, but meanwhile had picked up Marshal Eugene Harlock.

Harlock's deputies intercepted the fleeing robbers. The man in the case, A. North King'sfield, had had to sit on his prisoner's head to hold him until help came.

FRANCE'S COPS HOLD ART SHOW

Patrolmen Place Spare Time Achievements on Display at Paris Salon

PARIS, (AP)—What happens when the artistic urge hits a French cop is to be seen here today at the first salon of the Paris Police Art association.

As though weary of criminals and drunks, practically all of the patrons of the law, who are exhibiting at the Salle Louis Lepine on the Ile de la Cite, where the exhibition is being held, have chosen imaginative and ethereal subjects for portrayal on canvas, or in clay.

One of the outstanding exhibits is that of Patrolman Robert Le Sueur, of the 10th Arrondissement police station, who has created on canvas a new fairyland of oil-like creations. His favorite colors are candy pink and pale blues.

Another patrolman, Maurice Lottin, has won acclaim from critics with his illuminated Romantic poetry and painted porcelain show, still-life sketches, drawing for the most part with flowers and fruits in repose, by Policeman Edouard Tholozan, also have received high praise.

All the exhibits, however, are not confined to traffic cops and patrolmen, but include a large number of collections by police commissioners.

They were married three years before she discovered the alleged deceptions, she charged.

False Age, Name Produce Divorce

SACRAMENTO, Cal. (AP)—Clipping nine years from his age, changing his name and bearing of ancestral stock caused Gerald A. Foster to be made a defendant in divorce proceedings.

They were married three years before she discovered the alleged deceptions, she charged.

DUST NEW HELP IN CRIMINOLOGY

CHICAGO (AP)—Common dust in a new crime-detecting instrument now in use at the Northwestern university scientific criminology laboratory.

M. E. O'Neill, prominent dust specialist, was recently added to the laboratory staff, bringing unique methods of solving crimes by analysis of dust found under a suspect's fingernails, in his pockets or in the cuffs of his trousers.

By swabbing dust under a suspect's nails, O'Neill says, he can determine the exact occupation of the suspect and what he has been doing with his hands many days previous to the examination. Such analysis is of major importance in crimes of violence, where hands have been used, he contends.

He found the specific gravity of gold and silver and was able to tell how much of each the crown contained.

BIG AIR TRIBUTE HONORS WRIGHTS

Vast Demonstration Recalls First Successful Flight Ever Recorded

By WILLIAM H. LANDER
WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—American aviation, now planned to expand its sphere of action across the Pacific and Atlantic oceans, today staged a mighty demonstration in honor of the pioneer flight of Orville Wright.

Thousands of planes of every size, shape and type were scheduled to take to the air and fly over their respective communities in the United States at exactly 10:30 a. m.—the same minutes on the same day in which, 31 years ago, Orville Wright took off on the first successful sustained free flight of a heavier-than-air machine ever recorded.

Plans have been made for army, navy, marine corps planes as well as those of the coast guard, commercial and private airplanes to participate in the monster demonstration.

As far as is known, no similar demonstration ever has been staged on such a scale before anywhere in the world.

While the whole nation will thus be rendering honor to Orville and his brother Wilbur, who are credited with being the first successful pilots of heavier-than-air machines, the plane which was used on the small dunes of Kitty Hawk, N. C., in the original historic flight, still remains at the Science Museum, Kensington, London.

Disappointed because of the fact that they had to go to Europe to obtain the necessary encouragement to continue their work after the original flight, and because the National Museum in Washington honors Samuel Langley as the pioneer in mechanical flying, have kept their original machine away from the United States. Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, some time ago was appointed chairman of a committee to attempt to negotiate the return of the Wright machine to the United States, but so far has not succeeded.

Bicycle Repair Men
The Wright brothers—Wilbur (born 1867, died 1912), and Orville (born 1871), were bicycle repair men who became interested in flying by reading of the experiments of the German glider Otto Lilienthal, who died in an accident in 1896.

They began designing their first successful machine in October, 1902, and a year later took it to an isolated spot on the seashore in North Carolina for their final tests. The machine was a four-cylinder motor, 12 horsepower, and flew with pilot aboard weighed 750 pounds. With Orville at the controls it made four sustained flights on Dec. 17, 1903, the longest of which lasted 26 minutes, during which a speed of 30 miles per hour was attained.

No, Hacking
Unable to get backing for their invention in this country, the Wrights went to Europe, and staged a demonstration before the Kings of England, Spain, Italy and high authorities in Le Mans and Paris, France, (1908). On Dec. 12, 1908, they established a new record of one hour and 15 minutes in the air.

Meanwhile, the machine which Langley had invented in demonstration of the practicality of mechanical flight, and which had crashed into the Potomac river on May 6, 1900, was given a place of honor in the Smithsonian Museum as the pioneer heavier-than-air ship.

Leading the far west in turkey production, Oregon this year raised 10,000 turkeys for the holiday market. The total selling price was estimated at approximately $2,000,000.

Exceeded in 1932
This figure was exceeded in 1932, when 200,000 birds were sold, a record number. Growers found that they had produced more than the price and demand warranted, and reduced their crop. They have benefited by a price three to four cents more this year.

This year's crop of turkeys in Oregon about equaled that of last year, reduced from the 1932 level. Washington, California, Nevada and Utah had slight increases, the Oregon State college extension division has reported. Idaho had a 21 per cent increase, and Colorado 10 per cent. New Mexico had the greatest decrease in production, 25 per cent. To the eastward, Texas, largest turkey producing state in the Union, had a reduction of about 20 per cent this year.

Coast Crop Heavy
On the whole, the Pacific coast crop was heavy. Favored by excellent weather throughout the hatching and growing seasons this year, growers on the Pacific slope found themselves with an abundance of birds. All the more reason for a large number of holdovers for the Christmas market.

Possible increase in price and a greater opportunity to fatten younger and smaller birds were other reasons for keeping birds over for the later sales.

MURDERER GETS SPEEDY HANGING

Wheel of Austrian Justice Move Swiftly Against Father's Killer

VIENNA (AP)—With all the speed it could summon, justice has disposed of handsome Alois Gutsch, 21.

Three hours after a special lightning court had sentenced Alois to death for the murder of his father, he was hanged.

Even then, the proceedings might have been quicker, but Alois kept talking, and the Austrian law requires that the condemned man shall be conscious when the noose tightens.

Killed Father
Gutsch killed his father during a quarrel in which his father forbade him to continue a love affair with a married woman. Gutsch used a crowbar, which, it was established, he premeditatedly hid in his home.

When he had killed his father, he hid the body in a loft, and invited his woman-friend to spend the evening at his home. The next day he told his neighbors that his father had gone abroad. Eventually, when the odor became noticeable, he sewed the body in a potato sack and buried it.

Maurice Cappa Gives Report On Poland-China Stock at Grange Meeting

Maurice Cappa, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Cappa, last week gave to the Twin Falls Grange a report on his purchased Poland-China swine project carried on under regulations of the Future Farmers of America, of which he is a member.

After completing one semester in junior high agriculture, Maurice enrolled in South-Hughes agricultural in Twin Falls high school, and started his project with a registered Poland-China gilt named Quince, Wagoner of P. F. A. No. A-210810. This gilt farrowed eight pigs March 27, 1934.

In his own words, Cappa says: "I exhibited these pigs and the pig at the Twin Falls county P. F. A. fair and won $100."

"Then I took them to the Eastern Idaho District Fair and won $48. They placed first and second in nearly every class."

"I am keeping the sow and two gilts to raise pigs for next year. I have kept an accurate record of all my feed, labor, interest, trip to fairs and other expenses; my total expense to this date is $300. My total receipts, including prize won at fairs and closing inventory is $178.50. This leaves me a net profit up to date of $88.50."

Maurice was elected and initiated to the Grandland degree of the Twin Falls P. F. A. in October, and since that time was elected third vice president of the local chapter.

He has acted as presiding officer of meetings held during the freshman agricultural class.

Maurice recently purchased a very good breeding boar from Bremer front at Jerome.

He has the two boars on hand which won first and second at the eastern Idaho fair, and is offering them for sale, or he will trade them for grain.

FEMININE RIVER PILOT HONORED

Mrs. Mary Greene Recounts Events in Career on Mississippi

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Of many river "outstanding daughters," Mrs. Mary B. Greene, 66, only active woman licensed river pilot in the country, told delegates to the Mississippi Valley Conference some of her many experiences during her 30 years on the river.

Mrs. Greene has held a pilot's license for 33 years, and except for a time out on land to educate her two sons, she has been on the river since her marriage to the late Capt. Gordon Christopher Greene in 1880.

She now lives on the steamer "Tom Greene," one of her three boats. When it is not out on a trip, it remains tied up at the Cincinnati wharf.

Lived on Packet
Her husband took her to live on a river packet that plied between Pittsburgh and Parkersburg, Mrs. Greene told the delegates.

"Everywhere he went," she said, "I went too, so I soon decided to get a license. When he bought his second boat, he put me in charge and at the height of industry we had nine steamers," she said proudly.

Since then, however, bus and train competition has taken much of their business, and the company works with them instead of against them now. Principal runs now are between Cincinnati, Louisville, Ky., and Huntington, W. Va. Mrs. Greene did not think it any more unusual for her to take up steamboating to help her husband than it was for other women to help their mates in a restaurant, or otherwise.
