Roosevelt's Recommendations Viewed as Barometer to New Deal Trend

recommendations to the 75th congress a comparatively large appropriation of federal funds to provide decent living conditions for the lower strata of farm and city families.

The size of the appropriation and the extent to which federal funds will be permitted to compete with private funds in the more profitable types of building activity will be a measure of the Roosevelt change in twelve months from policies of last January.

Treat of Policy

If the federal appropriation is limited to urban development, with modern buildings costing for $3 a room or less and to improving certain rural dwellings, the competition between federal and private funds will be negligible. But if Mr. Roosevelt's new housing program for construction of apartments to rent at $10 or more a room or for construction of homes for any but the lowest wage classes, the advantages in and out of the administration of the use of private capital in reviving the construction industry will be sharply clamped.

It is contemplated that federal funds should be available for about replacement and small home construction at an interest rate of three per cent. Private capital could not compete on that interest basis.

Best-informed opinion is that both private and treasury funds can be used for construction purposes without either encroaching on the other's field, provided Mr. Roosevelt restricts federal housing loans to the lowest income strata of families.

URGENT STATE AID

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—President Roosevelt today dispatched letters to the governors of 44 states calling for state legislation to help speedy recovery through the housing program.

Mr. Roosevelt suggested to the executives amendments to existing state laws in order to make construction of all of the national housing act more effective. This section deals with mortgage guarantees and new construction.

The president wrote the governors recommending of housing administrator James A. Moffett.

Cites Limitations

Moffett pointed out that various state statutory limitations on loans and investment restrict ability to benefit fully from the national housing program.

He desires that the states amend their statutes so that banks, insurance companies, building and loan associations, trust companies, fiduciaries and all other investors under statutory restrictions be permitted legally to make insured mortgage loans and to invest in insured mortgages and in national mortgage association obligations provided by the housing act.

PLAN RITES FOR LOCAL RESIDENT

Funeral services for Mrs. Ada Elizabeth Tuggart Shettel, 53, who died last evening at the hospital, where she had been a patient since Sept. 11, will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Twin Falls Methodist church. Rev. C. L. Whit-

Methodist minister, assisted by Rev. William Hand Young, pastor of the Twin Falls Methodist church, will officiate. The Royal Neighbors lodge will furnish music, and lodge members will attend in a body.

Following the service W. M. Shettel, her husband, and Miss Maude Tuggart, a sister, will accompany the body to Mrs. Shettel's former home in Decatur, Ill., where she died.

Mrs. Shettel was active in church and lodge work during her 30 years of residence in Twin Falls. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church and of the Royal Neighbors lodge. She was born in Macoupin county, Illinois in 1879, the daughter of Capt. Tuggart and Mrs. Margaret Tuggart. On Sept. 22, 1905, she married W. M. Shettel. She resided in Huntington, Ill., until she came to Idaho in 1915.

Surviving are her husband; an adopted son, Earl Shettel, Twin Falls; two brothers, James Tuggart, Hicksville, Ohio, and John Tuggart, Warrensburg, Ill.; two sisters, Mrs. Alva Smith, Sherwood, Ohio, and Miss Maude Tuggart, Warrensburg, Mo. Mrs. Tuggart has been here for some time caring for her sister.

FRENCH LEADERS DEMAND INQUIRY

Debate Develops Into Bitter Denunciation of Private Munitions Making

position favorable to appropriation at the world disarmament conference.

Agrees to Control

"A committee has prepared a report on control of arm making for presentation to the January meeting of the steering committee of the disarmament commission," the aid "is expected to give the France unconditionally advanced in advance to any such convention."

"Unfortunately that is a matter for the future. Today we are concerned with the fact that Germany has received and France can depend only on herself. Therefore arm credits are necessary."

Col Insisted that an official inquiry into the profits of French arm makers was necessary.

"In time of war, there can no longer be a question of some giving blood while others make money," Plandin said. "Industries in wartime must not be allowed to make profits."

Depends on Germany

The government, he added, favors international regulation of private munitions factories but "it depends on Germany, which in a few months has fabricated war material worth 400,000,000 francs."

Francis Petri, minister of the navy, speaking in the senate on the naval budget, said: "The Washington naval treaty has always been considered a temporary expedient by France. France has not associated herself with Japan, in order not to annoy Britain and to avoid discord."

Petri said French naval construction must be hurried, necessitating the spending of 1,200,000 francs ($70,000,000) a year, compared to 600,000,000 in 1933.

By RONALD G. VAN TINE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—The senate disarmament committee, seeking to discover the sources of gangsters' weapons, heard testimony today that it was "possible" for individuals to assemble sub-machine guns by acquiring necessary parts from different companies.

Chairman Gerald P. Nye, R., N. D., ordered the Winchester Repeating Arms company to prepare a list of sales to "individuals" other than government agents.

Edwin Pugsley, vice president, agreed with Investigator Robert Whorforth that there were "no restrictions" on sales of stocks and barrels which might be used in machine guns.

"You'll sell the barrels," Whorforth said. "Another company will sell the stocks. By using pitiful mechanisms, a mechanical weapon might be made which might often get into the wrong hands."

VARSITY DEBATE SQUAD SELECTED

Six Letter Men Win Places On First Squad; New System Begun

Six of the seven remaining letter men from last year's debate team earned a place on the first squad in the varsity tryouts held Monday night at the high school. This year's varsity will be Leonard Arlington, M. C. Bullinger, Ambrose Evans, Tracy Gipson, Milo Sawyer, and Bob Stephan.

A two squad system is being inaugurated this year, Loyal I. Perry, varsity debate coach, explained. "In order to extend debating opportunity to a greater number of students, I am using this double squad idea. The second squad will be directed by Gerald Wallace, junior high coach, and will participate in practice inter-scholastic debates along with the 'first team.' Members of this second team are Edward Bertle, Ed Bonnet, Merle Nelson, George Bullock, Bert Tolbert and Arthur H. Wilson, Jr.

Milo Sawyer won his position by an earlier tryout as he is willing in California at present. Last night seventeen applicants debated but the decision was not announced. The question for debate was: "Resolved: That the federal government should adopt a system of equalizing educational opportunities throughout the nation by annual grants to the several states." Judges were L. I. Jones, junior high coach, Gerald Wallace, second squad coach, and Mrs. Perry.

ST. LOUIS CARDS VOTED OUTSTANDING 1934 ATHLETIC TEAM

GOPHER GRIDMEN GET 2ND HONORS

Pennant and World Series Drive Wins Top Place For Red Birds

NEW YORK, Dec. 18 (AP)—St. Louis is riding on the shoulders of the World Champion Cardinals to prominence as the capital of athletic achievement in 1934. The Cardinals' victory in the National league race and the world series placed them out in front—ever ahead of Minnesota's football Gophers—in team accomplishments during the year, according to a United Press poll of sports editors.

First Place
By a vote of 168 to 78, the Cardinals were given first place, ahead of the Gophers and all, adding further honors to the team whose Dizzy Dean was selected an outstanding athlete in the poll. In placing the Cardinals, the editors stressed the manner in which the team won the pennant—in a courageous stretch drive which started Sept. 7, when they pulled by seven games, and ended on the last day of the season.

The Cardinals then entered a tough series with the implied Detroit Tigers and battled their way through seven games to leave no doubt of their baseball supremacy. Minnesota Second
Among those who voted for Minnesota, generally recognized as national football champion, were several who based their preference on the team because it virtually won one of the few clear-cut championships football has known. But the Cardinal rooters outnumbered Minnesota backers by 80 votes in a total of 250 cast.

Others voted Columbia's Tom Bowls victory over Stanford last New Year's day and Stanford's play this season into a third place with eight ballots each. In fourth place with six ballots each, were the Detroit Tigers for winning the American league pennant and the Chicago Bears for their string of victories in the National Professional Football league.

The rest of the votes went to the New York football Giants, Yale for its win over Princeton, New Institute of Texas, Babson, New York College of the Pacific, because of excellence of their football.

STANFORD SEES ALABAMA PLAYS

Indians Survey Dixie Eleven's Style, Then Start Drills On Offensive Work

PALO ALTO, Calif., Dec. 18 (AP)—Stanford's football team looked over Alabama's plays today and found them about as familiar as an old shoe.

But the familiarity, Coach Tiny Thornhill warned, should not be a contempt. The Stanford team has gone against the same Notre Dame style of play three times this fall. Santa Clara, which uses it, tied the big "red" team in Washington, and UCLA, which plays a somewhat similar style, were both beaten.

Thornhill did not give the plays to the reserve squad, however, but stressed offensive play for the coming Rose Bowl game. Several neat passing plays were handed out, including laterals, which he hopes can be mixed up judiciously with the power game.

Word from Pasadena indicated one of the biggest advance sales in years for the New Year's game. Public sale of tickets opened today with 50,000 already sold via the mail order route. The bowl will seat about 85,000.

RAIN HAMPERS CRIMSON TIDE
TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Dec. 18 (AP)—Bad weather for a second consecutive day hampered the Alabama Crimson Tide as it neared the end of home practice for the Rose Bowl contest against Stanford.

A drizzling rain was accompanied by low temperature, adding to the bad-odored hazard.

Most of yesterday's practice was confined to the gymnasium, although some of the passers and punters—Dixie Howell, Joe Riley, Riley Smith and Charley Stapp—braved the rain drenched field for a short workout.

Coach Frank Thomas was expected to designate his squad of 33 for the Rose Bowl today within 48 hours.

Paul Lee Kayoes Mirabel in Sixth
CHICAGO, Dec. 18 (AP)—Paul Lee, 124, Indianapolis, stopped Frank Mirabel, 123, Argo, Ill. (6); Eddie Stegall, 150, Chicago, drew with Neftali Braggman, 152, Chicago (1); Johnny Wamba, 150, Argo, outpointed Jimmy Richards, 151, Chicago (4); Rury Sternbenz, 200, knocked out Nelson Berger, 188, Chicago (1).

CLASH IN MAIN EVENT TONIGHT

JACK BURKE KID CANNON

Bowling Banter

—by— FRED STONE

Jack McDougall was back in his old stride after a bad week last week. Jack started with an open frame, but a double and the rest of the frames filled gave him high angle game, 101, 101 and 108 gave him the high total for his team. That's the old form, Jack.

Ray Frick, bowling his first tournament, got off to a bad start, but his second game was better and he was high man for his team last game. Not bad for a starter, Ray.

Art Boone's teammates bowled his first two games for him, and said Art: "Why didn't you bowl the last one, too?"

George Buhler had a bad time all through the first game, but the rest of the frames were a little better and he was high man for his team last game. Not bad for a starter, Ray.

Herb Snyder and his side winder ball gathered up a double in the first game, but three straight pins were on the dodge too much in the last two.

Jack Ford tried his hand at back-end and he didn't do half bad. Jack snookered over a double in the second game, then picked up a nice split in the next frame—but that was about all he got that game. His last one was O. K.

Ted Emerick was about the busiest man on the alley. Ted had three splits the first game, picking up two of them. Again in the second game he got a split, which he picked up; then to wind up that second game he got splits in the 9th and 10th frames. ... He picked the one in the 10th. In the last game out he went, with three strikes in a row. Said Ted: "That ought to be enough for one night."

Tony Leonard's teammates bowled for him the first game; Tony's second wasn't so good, but his double in that last game came in very handy, according to Tony.

N. O. Johnson demonstrated how not to bowl in the second game—six open frames don't make much of a score. His first game was all right and that double he got in the last one didn't hurt any.

Gill Fugo, at anchor for Mutuals, is a most trusted for a bowler to make any difference where a good bowler bowls. He has a new way of winding up each game, going out with a split every time. His double in the second game helped to get high total for both teams. No errors in three games isn't so bad, Gill.

TITULAR BATTLE SLATED TONIGHT

Kid Cannon, Jack Burke Mix In Main Event on Legion Ring Card Here

A ring "natural" that should see a whirlwind of slugging with an intermountain title hanging in the balance, tops the American Legion's holiday fight card tonight at Legion Memorial hall.

The slugfest matches Kid Cannon, Richfield, and Twin Falls, against Jack Burke, an ex-prize fighter from Ogden, Utah, Cannon, former holder of the Idaho and intermountain welterweight titles, is picking his intermountain crown in his first title bout since winning it from Burke on a decision at Postville.

Furious Fight
In a pair of furious battles held previously in Twin Falls while Burke possessed the championship, the same duo fought two of the best fights seen here in several years. Tonight's action, with Burke's added reputation over the Postville decision thrown in, is booked as a knockout fight by the wise money.

Setting aside from the city this afternoon held approximately even. The match is listed for 10 rounds.

Stellar South-Whip
The semi-wildcat tonight also looms as a stellar act—action, Jimmy Wahl, bigger and harder hitting than ever, tackles Bud Pittman, fast youth from Rigby and a prize favorite around eastern Idaho. This pair will mix in a six rounder that should pass the main event for customer interest.

One of the preliminary four-rounders will see Jack McLaughlin, against Jimmy Burdick, according to Bill Child, Legion matchmaker. One other four-rounder is listed as a certain rubber, with the principals to be announced at ring-side tonight.

As a special added attraction, Child has signed Lemmy and Tunney Dhabolt, globe-trotting youngsters, in a boxing and wrestling exhibition. Both are experts despite their youth, and both have appeared as an exhibition team in scores of U. S. and Canadian cities.

The opening event on the card today is slated for 8:30 p. m.

DUTRA FAVORITE IN NASSAU MEET

Golfing Notables Start Play In $5,000 British Colonial Open Tourney

NASSAU, B. W. I., Dec. 18 (AP)—A field of golfing notables, headed by Olin Dutra, American open champion, started play today in the $5,000 British Colonial open.

Dutra, recent winner of the $12,500 Miami Biltmore open, was among outstanding favorites. In a foursome yesterday, he teamed with Gov. Beale Clifford of the Bahamas and shot a 68, two under par.

Governor Clifford will be among the amateur-participants playing for a cup he has donated.

HAMAS SIGNS TO FIGHT SCHMELING
NEW YORK, Dec. 18 (AP)—Charles Harvey, manager of Steve Hamas, heavyweight contender, has enlisted acceptance of terms for a bout between Hamas and Max Schmeling in Hamburg, Germany, March 10. Hamas' and of the purse will be $25,000, guaranteed by Walter Rothhaupt, Hamburg promoter.

Harvey signed for the bout last night over the 12 round route.

Hamas, former all-around athletic star at Penn State, has moved up to number 1 among contenders in recent months. In his last start he took a blowy caution over Art Lasky.

In their previous meeting, Hamas punched Schmeling full of holes, handing him one of the worst beatings of his career.

Boys, Girls Garner Victories In Opening Court Frays Of Season

ITHACA, Dec. 18 (Special)—In the season's curtain raiser here last night, Buhl high school's cage aggregations annexed a double victory over the invading Glenns Ferry crew.

The Buhl Indians defeated the Ferry boys by 26 to 21, and the Buhl girls defeated Ferry baskets, 22 to 14.

Coach Staveley's lasses, showing accurate floor work and good court-season shooting, held a margin throughout against Coach Glen Warner's girls, running up 12 points in the first half and 10 in the second.

In the same game, Coach Floyd Latta's Indians displayed speed and fast breaking team play in keeping ahead of Orville Hall's capable Class B outfit. Buhl led by seven points at the half, as lengthened its lead to a winning margin in the fourth period.

Letters Given JEROME GRIDMEN

High School's Squad Accorded 1934 Honors During Play Intermission

JEROME, Dec. 18 (Special)—Featured by good acting and appropriate stage settings, the senior class play, "Ship, Tiger," was presented in the Jerome high school auditorium Friday evening before a packed house.

The cast of the play was made up of Irene Stanley, Ralph Burges, Kathie Wilson, Pao Overfield, Joan Overfield, Robert Rube, Elbert Larson, Delbert Burkholder, Helen Lee, Max Barkman, Wilbur Box, Wirt Frazier, Alan Bruckner, Donald Owsen and Warren Kaye. Charles L. Harrison, Elbert Larson and Wilbur Box were managers; Harold Jenkins and Jewell Kicketon, promoters.

BIFF JONES OUT, 'KINGFISH' HINTS

L. S. U. Students Fear Coach Permanently Ousted After Latest Statement

BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 18 (AP)—Louisiana State university students believed today that they had parted permanently with their football coach, Capt. Lawrence (Biff) Jones.

Their belief was based on a statement of Sen. Huey P. Long who contended L. S. U. along with almost everything else in the state. The Kingfish's statement was not specific, but it was significant.

There's going to be a big movement in a certain department of L. S. U., Long said. He indicated that what he wanted was a coach who would win all games.

Long went to the locker room Saturday to make a pep talk to the L. S. U. team between halves of the Oregon game. Jones wouldn't permit him. Words were exchanged. Jones gave his verbal resignation to university officials who then asked him to reconsider. Jones is on a fishing trip.

NATIONAL PUBLICITY

Twin Falls is due for some national publicity as the result of the present campaign under way by the Better Housing and Home Modernization committees.

Announcement in yesterday's Evening Times that the government is to print a million copies of a pamphlet outlining the organization of the campaign here, the co-operation lent the program by the local civic organizations, and especially by the Twin Falls Empire Exposition with its display of building and home accessories, will bring merited publicity to the Magic City and its forces.

The full result of the campaign is not available and will not be for some time to come, for much building activity possibly will be delayed until spring, but it is enough to say that since August first more than $80,000 in building permits have been applied for by residents within the incorporate limits.

Building carried on outside the city limits, in neighboring towns and all over south central Idaho is not counted, for the reason that while it might be stimulated by the local project, other towns are also uniting in the program and are credited with achieving results commensurate with those here.

It is a fact that the improvement of one home, results in neighbors taking similar action. The installation of a furnace, an automatic coal feeder or electrical refrigeration results in others doing likewise, proving that a campaign such as that inaugurated here and being fostered by the merchants co-operating in the exposition is limitless in its possibilities.

The bringing in of a house to be remodeled and later given away is yet to be capitalized upon. The results of this phase of the program are not yet determinable for the reason that the house still remains in its original state. Later on, it will be the incentive for innumerable improvements in actual homes.

And now that the program here is to be used as a model for other cities in the United States, the effect of the modernization program in Twin Falls actually will be nation-wide, something in which all local people can take pardonable pride and, what is more, can share in the achievement.

Congratulations, then, are due those back of the program, and they should have added encouragement to press forward with their plans, so that the results locally will be as worthy of national recognition as the method of presentation adopted by Twin Falls.

LIFE'S GRIM HUMOR

In a recent novel, "Lightship," there is a character who spends his spare time collecting newspaper clippings to prove that the human race is, after all, pretty courageous and upright.

It would be infinitely less edifying, but much easier and funnier, to collect clippings showing that life is full of a rather grim and illogical humor, with human contradictions and perversities enough to make one wonder if the world be not mildly insane at times.

A rather casual glance at recent newspapers, for instance, shows a jumble of items like the following:

Huoy Long denies that he tried to censor a student paper at Louisiana State University, and four more students are expelled for saying he did. A Seattle man confesses to a murder he committed 21 years ago, on the ground that he would like to become an American citizen and wants to get the crime off his conscience. Yugoslavia announces that it expects to get justice from Hungary through the League of Nations, and expels 27,000 Hungarians just to make sure.

Lily Pons returns to New York to find that her pet jaguar has completely forgotten her. Brooklyn digs up a 7-year-old boy who is smarter than Einstein and the federal government starts bombing ducks in Skagit county, Washington, to protect the cabbage crop.

A jobless New York theater usher admits setting 10 fires in the last two months just for the fun of watching the fire trucks go by, and a strapping Amazonian lady furnishes Boston with food for conversation by roaming darkened streets, seizing lone men, kissing them and running away.

The Soviet government puts on a nation-wide campaign to get factory workers to wash their hands and clean their fingernails; meanwhile, Uncle Sam hires 50 relief workers in Washington to keep the starlings awake, the idea being that the birds will eventually grow tired of it all and fly away.

A resident of Evansville, Ind., is assessed an amusement tax of one dollar and costs, the grounds being that he got drunk and amused himself by coating his wife with tar and tossing lighted matches at her. The Poly County Poksum Club of Arkansas turns down a motion to invite Huey Long to its annual dinner, on the ground that the noble "possum might be contaminated. A chimpanzee in the St. Louis zoo gets much more from boxing with a fellow chimpanzee and has a better vacation.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIV
PETER driving brought Peter and Ann to the city of the little Florida house on the afternoon of the third day. For hours Peter's powerful car had been cutting its way along a road leading through a tangle of tropical growth. A forest so thick with shadows that it seemed late afternoon although the sun was at high.

"The kitchen floor was covered with hollyhock in large gray and black blocks, copying an old flagged stone flooring. The room had rough oak walls and ceiling, and a pair of swan curtains at the windows.

"Upstairs the survey led from Ann's bedroom to Peter's. The furniture in her room was painted cream and decorated in rosette. Soft gray shades covered the lights. There were walls and ceiling, and a pair of swan curtains at the windows.

"The family trooped to the porch this evening. Sam and his wife, a younger girl and her husband, a little girl about three, and a boy Ann judged that the boy, who had bright dark eyes, was around 10.

"The house was clean and free from cobwebs. Ann wondered. And then, as they came outside Peter sprang his surprise. "See that house? You can just see the red chimney through the trees. A family lives there."

PAUL MALLON'S NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

(Copyright, 1934, by Paul Mallon)

BOWLING
WASHINGTON - The current White House promotion campaign, to take the profits out of war is being scored by all politicians as another ten strike for President Roosevelt.

REALITIES
The phrase, "take the profits out of war," is conceived to be one of the best slogans of this advertising age. Like many slogans, it is not exactly accurate.

PURPOSES
The main facts seem to be that Mr. Roosevelt got into this war profiteer game rather hurriedly four days before he made his announcement. Last Sunday, Bernard Baruch and General Johnson were slipped into the White House as a courtesy for a luncheon conference on the subject.

THE normal profit, therefore, would be 7 per cent. In war, then, a firm could earn 7 per cent normal profit and 5 per cent excess profit, or a total of 12 per cent, without considering the numerous "capital" expenditures for war purposes by existing or new industries.

old Ann. "A little patch at the back. We're going to have lots of vegetables."
While Ann was chatting with her Peter was talking with Sam, man-fashion, about blights and sprays and smudge pots. He was glad they had done so well with the oranges last year. What were the prospects this season?

Presently Ann and Peter were on their way back to the bungalow, the lighted windows of the house glowing cheerfully in the dark now.

Lena, Sam's wife, had volunteered to do the cooking for the young couple. Sam had stocked the pantry with provisions and would go to market every other day for vegetables.

"And so, Mrs. Kendall," Peter said, "we begin housekeeping."
After she had gone to her room, Peter whistled. Peter whistling! The whistling stopped abruptly, as though he had realized how light-hearted he sounded.

LYING awake, Ann looked through the grill. Watched a silvery moon moving across the sky, touching the leaves with strange enchantment. She thought of Tony. Was it possible that only a week ago she and Tony had been dancing on the roof? And it had only been a few weeks ago that Tony had caught her in his arms, saying, "You're my girl."

"You're my girl," she said, "I buried her face against his pillow as though she could shut out the memory of Tony's dark, eager face and his lips against hers."

HISTORY Of Twin Falls City & County

An Gleaned from Files of The Times

15 Years Ago

DEC. 18 The Pler Commercial club was permanently organized at an enthusiastic meeting held in the city hall Monday evening with the election of J. M. Hurdie, president; J. M. Hurdie, secretary; and A. O. Midland, treasurer. These, together with George Leonard and H. K. Dillingham, constitute the board of directors.

Miss Helen Roberts, Twin Falls, a freshman at the University of Idaho, has been elected chairman of the Twin Falls co-operative committee to act with the women of the university in their campaign for a special session of the Idaho legislature to ratify the recent marriage amendment. Miss Roberts is a prominent student at the university and has taken an important part in campus activities.

27 Years Ago

Lythian Dramatic club presents its initial performance in the east, "Beaucaire, I Love You." Tonight's audience has been large, and the indications point to a large crowd. The following are taking part in the play: Mrs. Stella Robinson, Miss Kate McManis, Miss Edith Snodgrass, Mrs. Charles Mull, Charles Mill, Charles Macaulay, L. M. Lucy, Charles Cole, J. W. Voorhees, Charles Burrows, J. A. Watson, Morgan Hoop. The play will be presented in four acts with the scenes taking place in a country tavern in old Virginia.

Don McKay and a daughter, Lavinia, arrived in the city last Friday and will make their home with McKay's daughter, Mrs. L. H. Perrine.

ACTRESSES FACE NEW INDICTMENT

Civil Suit Proves Boomerang As playwright, Omerogus "Shakedown"

(Copyright, 1934, United Press) HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 18 (U.P.) - Indictment of a $200,000 breach of promise suit entangled Vilma Alkony and Sara Eszter more deeply today with their indictment on charges of "conspiracy to move and maintain a false civil action."

Charges against the Hungarian actresses were contained in two two-hills voted by the county grand jury to supplement a previous indictment based on the same charge.

The allegations stated on the breach of promise suit Miss Alkony filed several months ago against Great Vada, Hungarian playwright now in Hollywood. The suit, later withdrawn, accused Vada of inducing Miss Alkony to come to Hollywood with him and then jilting her.

Vada, denying the charges, told the grand jury that film notations were set up periodically as targets for "shakedown" litigation. "The new grand jury action fixes bail at $10,000 each. Neither of the actresses has been located since the original indictment was returned but it was understood that attorneys would surrender them on the date of arraignment."

Romance died when Frank J. Murphy, III, ex-actor, writer, quit calling his wife "Stooge." It was his pet name for her and when it was dropped from their daily talk it signified an end of marital happiness, Verne Hillie, a friend, said.

KNULL

Knoll Minton society met at the home of Mrs. Jeff Anderson Thursday, with Mrs. L. Holloway as assistant hostess. Mrs. William Hine, Miss Lucie Corbering and Mrs. C. Kevan presented a Christmas program.

Knoll Home Betterment club met recently at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Kull, Curry. Mrs. Guy Kull was assistant hostess. The afternoon was spent in singing Christmas carols and games, and a gift exchange was conducted. Ray Froehmann, carrying out a color scheme of red and green, wore gloves to 27 members and two guests.

Mount View school children will present a program Thursday at 8 p. m. The Knoll Baptist church Christmas program will be given at 11 a. m. Sunday.

Actress, declared in filing suit for divorce. To make matters worse, Miss Hillie complained, she started calling his dog "Stooge."

The matter of selecting a name for their baby son remained for disposal today for Clara Bow and Rex Bell. The field apparently was narrowed to Bow Helden or Rex Bow Helden. Helden is the father's family name which she shortened for film work.

The former screen "I" girl preferred just Bow Helden; Bell liked the idea of leading off with Rex. Schwinn made bicycles at a big discount (with no trade-in) for cash. Gloystein Cycles, 338 Main Ave. So.-adv.
