COURT PONDERS NEW CODE TEST

U. S. Supreme Bench Asked
To Take Jurisdiction in Lumber Fight

Constitutional Test

Attorneys for the lumber industry asked the court to entertain an appeal of the government from a ruling of Federal Judge William T. Clegg of Birmingham, Ala., that the lumber code and the entire NIRA, so far as it affects industrial control, is unconstitutional.

It was considered virtually certain the court would accept jurisdiction in the case. The court apparently will not rule on its merits, but leave it to litigation involving emergency legislation.

The lumber case grew out of the indictment of Wm. E. Bryan, president of the Alabama timbermen, on six counts charging violation of the code by permitting an employee to work more than maximum.

AMBERS SEEKS FULLER BOUT AS ROSS IS SUSPENDED

Boxing Moguls Inform Barney

Against No. 1

NEW YORK, Jan. 16 (UPI)—The lightest world's lightweight champion bout probably will be fought Saturday night at the Forum and Lou Ambers or Sammy Fuller.

Montgomery Rose stands suspended for 10 days and 20 odd minutes for having failed to defend his 125-pound title "within a reasonable time." The ban was slapped on by the New York State commission which demands that the boxer "comply with the commission's No. 1 challenger, Ambers, or Hartimer, N. Y."

Ambers, the most meritorious and least timid of challengers, has filed notice that he wants to box Fuller—the working left-hand man of the Forum—either in the top of the contender line by the Illinois commission—or the champion. He has no preference.

An Ambers-Fuller bout will take place next month if terms can be arranged with Fuller, and the winner will then fall into one of the two major centers of professional New York and Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 16 (UPI)—A fight Jan. 31 between Tony Cianzoni and Leo Rodak, a hot and cold affair that for weeks has been hovering between a certain technical draw and two challenging for Horney-Ross' lightweight title had agreed on the weight.

The bout will be at 133½ pounds, splitting the difference between the 132 demanded by Rodak, and the 134½ set by Cianzoni. Rodak has no consecutive victories on his record. Cianzoni was the world champion until Rodak defeated him. The winner probably will get a summer match with Ross.

"I'll manage," the Babe said. "But I'll not be a good player-manager job. I'll jump at it. Reports that I might be manager of the Yankees one more year are just guesses and might have been unranked because of insufficient competition."

RESULTS IN THE SAAR

It is difficult to imagine the situation which confronted the people of the Saar in Europe, who have voted in an overwhelming majority for reincorporation with Germany following a period of 15 years as provided by the League of Nations in 1920.

The area has the unique position of being neither annexed territory, independent state or under mandate.

It is said of the country that it has occupied a twofold role between France and Germany with most of its 220,000 population German-speaking and of German descent.

Imagine, if you will, a country about the size of Rhode Island, and with the population averaging over 10,000 persons per square mile, making it the densest in Europe, and twice as densely populated as Rhode Island, which excels any other state in the United States in that regard. That is the Saar.

The Saar overcomes in the value of its resources what it lacks in size, for its coal mines are among the most valuable in Europe, and its mills and factories are among the largest, dealing in steel, iron, coke, glass, chemicals and pottery.

Results of the plebiscite Sunday could have been predicted by the informed for the Nazi government of Germany has showered the natives with propaganda, made sinister threats to those who indicated opposition to Germans repossessing the country, and otherwise influenced the sentiment.

This much is true, however: The vote of the Saar in desiring amalgamation with the Fatherland should tend to provide a temporary peaceful state in Europe, just as submission on any occasion is the better way of avoiding a fight. In the end, though, the winning of the Saar may come to be an expensive acquisition for it proves that territory may be acquired by a nation by methods easier than that involved in waging a war.

PENALTY ON SIZE

One of the sorry tendencies of pre-depression days was the effort of large companies to become larger, to merge with allied interests and with competitors, to grow and spread until, as the Insull Empire did to threaten stockholders and the public generally, with overwhelming disaster.

Very little, if anything, has yet been done to avert such a calamity. Only the lack of funds for depression itself, has succeeded in slowing up this process.

But now Senator Wheeler of Montana promises that he may say something to business millions of dollars in lessening and spreading the costs of industry among businesses of the same type and prevent a single crash of immense proportions.

Senator Wheeler's bill, if passed, would put a graduated tax on corporations; the larger the capitalization, the higher the tax. With such a penalty on bigness, probably business will find some workable means at which its operations will be both safe and profitable.

THE RED AND THE BLACK

Oddly enough, it is the party which is in power by the greatest majorities in recent years that shows a deficit in the party finances.

Official statements filed with the House of Representatives show the Democratic party to have a surplus of $184,761.60 entering the new year, but the Democratic party's cash-on-hand, $291,282, is only about $8,000 in cash on hand to pay.

Thanks to recent contributions of $20,000 from members of the Mellon family and $5,000 from John D. Rockefeller, the G. O. P. starts 1935 from financial scratch, while the Democrats must look forward to a heavy deficit as they approach the 1936 campaign. They owe more than $60,000 to John Raskob alone.

These figures are interesting because they show clearly what everybody knew anyway: that when it comes to supporting the actual machinery of parties, both lean heavily on rich men who can make large contributions to party funds.

Figures like these will no doubt be in wonderland where the base of support of both parties might not well be broadened.

GUSTOM PREVAILS

Naming of Dr. H. J. Stowe, Kimberly, as county coroner, succeeding the late Dr. F. A. Dwight, who had been re-elected to the post, comes on the policy put into effect here five years ago, of having a physician serve in that capacity.

In three successive elections it has been the will of the people of this county that a doctor should be coroner, and experience has demonstrated the wisdom of this action. This is the way to say that any of the morticians who were taking the opportunity to do so did not have efficient public services, felt it their duty to continue the custom of having a doctor coroner, and in this decision they probably have no firmer supporters than the morticians themselves.

A new comet has been observed from south of the equator, so that can't be any of our new streamlined trains.

There's many a time Dr. Condon yearned for a classroom of students as interested in what he had to say as the courtroom of litigants in Plemington.

The Russian who died of an infectious disease at the age of 123 might have lived to a decent age in a country where modern health methods prevailed.

That questionnaire the government has sent to the farmers is so big that the victims are wondering why the government didn't plow under some of the questions.

'Uncle Joe' Byrns, House's Speaker, Kindly Solon Who Aids Associates

By RODNEY DUTCHER
(Copyright, 1934, NFA Service, Inc.)

WASHINGTON — "Don't call me 'master,' call me 'Joe' or 'Uncle Joe!'"

That's the speaker of the House, Rep. Joseph Wellington Byrns of Tennessee. If you like, you may also call him "good ole Joe Byrns." There's nothing kindly about him who was a famous speaker. But he was famous for being hard-boiled and iron-handed. Uncle Joe will never be forgotten for his kindness.

Except for the seniority precedent — which takes members of the House — Byrns is a kind man.

He is the speaker of the House, Rep. Joseph Wellington Byrns of Tennessee. If you like, you may also call him "good ole Joe Byrns." There's nothing kindly about him who was a famous speaker. But he was famous for being hard-boiled and iron-handed. Uncle Joe will never be forgotten for his kindness.

Joe helps a friend.

For instance —

On Tuesday, Congressman Marlin Stenseth, Democrat of Minnesota, was given a bill — a resolution — which would have prohibited the sale of beer in Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, Jan. 16, 1939. The program following consisted of accounts of some of the events of the year.

Stenseth, a former legislator, was presented with a resolution

by Rep. Bert Snell, always a controversialist, called "the amazing Snell."

This was a measure to develop the Everglades into a nice, pretty park. The up-and-coming Congressman defended it with such vim and vigor that Wilcox

had to back down.

Wilcox would have been out of luck if he hadn't been for "Uncle

Joe," who was majority leader.

Snell is a political dynamo.

Many who were fed up over a debt to him — especially the new members —

Too Strong —

A movement started in administration ranks to keep Byrns

from becoming chairman of the House.

It seemed that "Uncle Joe" was an old man, rather feeble in leadership, and not very New Dealish.

But Rayburn was quite New Dealish, too, and he was outgoing and popular.
