CHILDREN SAFE AFTER PIRATES RELEASE CRAFT

British and U. S. Youngsters Reach Hong Kong as End of Adventure
RESCUED BY AVIATORS

Chinese Bandits Flee at Sight of British Planes on Long Hunt

HONG KONG, Feb. 2 (AP)—Four children, two American and two British, were rescued by British aviators after a three-day adventure in which they were the mercy of Chinese pirates, reached Hong Kong today.

The pirates released the Hong Kong youngsters in Hainan, but not before the aviators had searched for the missing ship.

Most of the children, members of missionary families, carried cartridges and pieces of clothing, souvenirs of their exciting experience. Four children of Arnold Heyman, mission worker, and Evelyn Bannan, daughter of a Canadian missionary, regarded the adventure as a comparatively easy one in comparison with the period during which bandits in inland China had held them prisoners.

The Hongkongers were on route to Chungking when they were seized by the pirates. They were released after a three-day hunt. The children were rescued by British aviators.

Second Engineer Kenneth MacDonald of the "Hainan" stated from his cabin at the first sound of fighting. "I didn't know what was going on," he said.

"Outnumbered," the passengers were taken to a school where they were held. The children were rescued by British aviators.

COURT RESUMES TRIALS MONDAY

Auto Contract Hearing First on Jury Docket Before Judge Barclay

District court will resume Monday, following a recess today and adjournment out of court on Tuesday brought by Sauter, Wegner and company against Rayburn, in which the plaintiff sought judgment for brokerage fees, and the defendant claimed damages in a cross-complaint.

On the docket for trial before Judge Adam H. Barclay and a jury Monday is an action by the Reynolds Motor company against Charles J. Rayburn, in a case involving an automobile contract. Chapman & Chapman are attorneys for the plaintiffs, and Roberts is represented by Rayburn.

Four Other Cases

Paul Miller, charged with assault, is scheduled to be tried before Judge Barclay next week. Two cases were heard in court this week, in the first, Thayer vs. Bailey was a judgment for $1,000 in a suit involving a contract for non-delivery of contracted potatoes. Chapman & Chapman were attorneys for Bailey.

The second action, brought by the Texas company against W. Gillette, seeking recovery of $505 claimed to be due the company by its former agent, the jury, in a 11 to one verdict last night, found for the plaintiff against the company. The verdict was reached at 9:45 p. m. Gillette was awarded the plaintiff's corporation. Nothing was paid of Gillette in his asserted claim against the company. He was represented by the law firm of Laybourn & Rayburn.

Huey Long Dictatorship Sets American Precedent

"Kingfish" Huey Long, whose dictatorship over Louisiana has now reached a point unprecedented in American history, is pondering a constitutional convention to alter the state's fundamental law for his own convenience.

By RALPH H. TURNER

NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 31 (AP)—Huey Long has imposed upon the state of Louisiana the most complete one-man dictatorship ever established over a state community in American history.

That fact, obvious enough upon entering the state, is not generally realized by those who have seen the outcome of the current Louisiana year aimed at Huey's overthrow.

The rough and tumble law who first covered this state as an unqualified salesman of land has covered it since with a reign of single-handed dictatorship that knows no precedent in the United States.

Through Control

He controls the executive and legislative branches of government, the judiciary, the police, the fire department, the city, but it is almost sufficient.

In the national guard he has an armed, uniformed force of 10,000 men. He can, and does, call it into action as he wishes. So far as he has obeyed its command. And so far it has been sufficient to overcome any band of southern minile men.

Seen Today

Two young women, who got the mistaken impression that the "time" was also the "time" of the day, and almost mistaking the bus for which they had arrived, were seen today.

Subscriber, "wondering why it was that one day the week there was nothing in the paper about Huey Long."

School boy, taking the father to tell him "what a ground-hog is."

Two pages on calendar, showing that this is Candian day, tomorrow is the anniversary of the birth of Woodrow Wilson in 1874, and Monday is the birthday anniversary of Col. Charles Lindbergh, whose mail date was Feb. 4, 1902.

Denies Whisky Men Subsidizing Paper

AKRON, O., Feb. 2 (Special)—The publisher of the Buchtelite, a subsidized publication of the whisky and cigarette interests, the Rev. George W. Knepper, Akron minister, charged before the Akron Ministerial association.

H. E. Simmons, president of the university, emphatically denied the charges. If legitimate advertising is the subsidy, he said, we have carried a cigarette advertisement in the Buchtelite for a long time. I do not think it should make any statement about the whisky interests. We have never carried a whisky advertisement. It is the privilege of ministers to say anything they please, but they must own the facts, Simmons said.

KIMBERLY, Feb. 2 (Special)—New Deal club No. 1 met Tuesday evening at the club room under the old bank building in Kimberly. A business meeting was held and new members initiated. The next meeting will be Tuesday, Feb. 4, at 8 p. m. at the Methodist church basement. Officers announce that the public is invited.

OUTS DOG SLACKER

EXCERPTION SPRING, Mo.—Even a mother dog knows that relief is not given to families that use an able-bodied man who refuses to work. Brownie, a female mongrel, calls for her dinner each day from a local farmer. She steadfastly refuses to permit Schlitz, a strapping pup, to accompany her on the trip, apparently fearing she will be eliminated from the "relief."

RIGHT MAN RAPS WEALTH-GETTING

Leader of Endicott-Johnson Company Spends Money to Help Others

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP)—The desire of rich men and those who hope to be rich to accumulate far beyond their needs and thus add to the suffering of the poor and working classes was denounced today by George F. Johnson, of Binghamton.

Johnson is chairman of the board of directors of the Endicott-Johnson Corporation, one of the largest mass manufacturers in the United States.

Johnson said that the right to pile up money while thousands of people are suffering from lack of the necessities of life is the head of the wealthy concern.

"Any man who does rich, dies degraded," he philosophized.

World War Income

Johnson's remarks were made at a dinner given by the Endicott-Johnson Corporation, one of the largest mass manufacturers in the United States.

Johnson said that the right to pile up money while thousands of people are suffering from lack of the necessities of life is the head of the wealthy concern.

"Any man who does rich, dies degraded," he philosophized.

World War Income

Johnson's remarks were made at a dinner given by the Endicott-Johnson Corporation, one of the largest mass manufacturers in the United States.

He has a constabulary, a bureau of criminal identification and a personal bodyguard which serve other purposes of enforcement through his own civil service law. He may appoint his own policemen and firemen. Through another law, the deputy sheriffs are of his own creation.

Holds Tax Power

He exercises the supreme power of state taxation and thus may regulate business.

So the "Kingfish," a self-assured (the hardly fitting to the grime) of administration in Louisiana, has achieved all the conventional formula of dictatorship—the world over, with two exceptions. He has not private, and he has not been able to assume control of the press. For the latter goal, he has ambitions. He issued last Saturday under his declaration of martial law, a censorship order that would have fitted wartime conditions. It was largely disregarded.

In modern dictator fashion, the Louisiana czar, would inevitably turn to the radio. He does not yet control the air, but he has bought a radio station in New Orleans. It was purchased in the name of Louisiana State University, as Huey also controls the tax-supported state educational system.

His ownership of the radio station for the university's owner (who has not yet been confirmed by the federal communications commission).

With all that luxuriantly still remains to know those who which Long has not gathered into his one-man government. So he is considering now the summoning of a constitutional convention. It is reported he would scrap the present constitution and build a new one that would overcome what few obstacles remain in his path of personal control. The new might be altered, the ownership of municipal government, would be extended to him.

That is the system, new to American history, that has emerged from itself over two and one half million people.

"It can't last," they tell you down here. But no one can tell you who will end it—or how.

ASPHALT SOLVES RIVER PROBLEM

New Type "Mats" Expected to Observe Mississippi Past Overflow of Banks

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—More than nine-tenths of the asphalt used in the United States is manufactured in this country, according to a report from the Federal Bureau of Mines statistics show.

Formerly, the United States was dependent upon the natural pitch lakes in Trinidad and Venezuela for its supply of the material, but with recent developments in artificial retreating the imports of this product have been reduced to less than 10 per cent of the total use.

Asphalt is used as a blinder, preservative and waterproofing material. Seventy-five per cent of the American streets and highways are of a higher grade than unretreated macadam, are of asphalt or their binding material is asphalt.

Waterproof mats, impregnated with asphalt, are now being used along the banks of the Mississippi river. United States army engineers believe they have "tamed" the century old problem of rivering the banks to keep the stream in its channel by the use of these "asphalt river beds."

Refineries in the United States recover the crude black oils from the fields of Mexico and California and by a distillation process produce a finished asphalt cement in varying degrees of hardness.

It is possible for chinch bugs in all states, to live for 12 hours under water.

Huge House Keeps Captain's Memory

NEW LONDON, Wis., Feb. 2 (AP)—A 40-room house standing on a hill here keeps alive the story of Capt. Enos Drummond who built the mansion in 1840, but was murdered before he carried out his plan of importing 40 slaves in order to live like a plantation gentleman.

Although the northwest ordinance prohibited slavery in Wisconsin, Drummond was said to have planned a secret system of slavery. "Legends" depict him as one of the roughest and toughest men Wisconsin ever has known. He was killed just after the house was completed.

World war tanks went into action in pairs, known as "male and female." The former carried light field guns and left their mates bearing machine guns, into the encounter.
