Your Garden

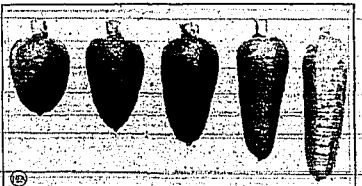

(This is the third of 12 articles on gardening by specialists of the New Jersey College of Agriculture and Experiment Station at Rutgers University.)

Extension Horticulturist, N. J. College of Agriculture and Experiment Station, Rutgers University

Shown above is a healthy tomato-ripe elementary requirement of the plant of good quality. Note that soil should be well supplied with nitrogen, which is a nutrient of the plant.

Plants like this are the result of careful attention to a number of principles. A good tomato plant, properly grown, will be resistant to wilt.

Carrot varieties, as is apparent, are not above, differ in shape and size. The shorter varieties should be grown in light soil, well-drained soil and factory. A 5-7 fertilizer is recommended for plants are amended.

Above are shown differing varieties of radishes, some that are round and others of the long type. Radishes are a popular crop in the garden, and they require only 24 to 28 days in which to mature. Be careful not to plant the crop too closely together, as a spindly plant will result from crowding in the row.

TEXAS PLANNING EROSION BATTLE

Extensive Campaign Will Try To Eliminate Damages to State's Soil

AUSTIN, Tex., (U. P.)—Efforts to save the face of Texas, comprising one-fourth of the area of the United States, are about to be undertaken by the Texas relief commission.

Under the direction of W. M. Burke, former "Uphur" county agent, an extensive terracing and re-planting program will be started.

The plan will be doublecropping will give aid and advice to non-client farmers and afford cash wages to rural rehabilitation workers on self-liquidating projects.

Terracing alone will not save the soil in Texas," Burke asserted. "We believe it good practice to take land with an eight to ten per cent slope out of cultivation and convert it into pasture or timber land."

Stress conservation.

Conservation in many phases will be practiced. Included are: Running terraces, outlets, gulch control and dams; planting legumes, grasses, trees and self-improving crop-water conservation in the form of wells, dams and ponds; building trench ditches and storage houses for crops and livestock; and reforestation.

Terrace squads of four men each will be organized to do sent to counties where farmers want as much as 4,000 acres terraced. Equipment will be furnished locally and farmers charged a minimum fee for the completed job. None of the cost will be borne by the relief department.

"Not more than one-tenth of the land in the state needing conservation work has received it," Burke asserted. "In most instances where this work has been carried on, it has been incompetently done."

While plans are being laid for soil conservation, Texas' other big farm movement, rural rehabilitation, goes steadily forward. Lease on 125,000 acres of land have been leased for 1935 where jobbing Texans may become self-supporting with the aid of state and federal relief funds.

"These people in the past have had capital labor and land, and have failed," said J. E. Stanford, rehabilitation director of Texas relief. "So they are going to get a fourth ingredient: farm management, and try to make our operation come out on the plus side financially."

In counties with more than 75 rehabilitated families, a farm manager will be furnished. Farm workers will be taught home supervision by 600 rural home supervisors already at work.

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETICS

Twin Falls will be host again this week to a basketball tournament, the season culminating here with the state finals for the boys' teams scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

There will be eight participating teams, seven of them coming from various sections of the state. The eighth will be the Bruins, host squad. The visiting delegations of young athletes will include those from Salmon City, Emmet, Idaho Falls, Kamsah, Burley, Wallace, and McCammon—a fair cross-section of the state.

Twin Falls is host to this and similar tournaments because of its high school gymnasium facilities, no small asset as will be demonstrated with the attendance here this week end, not only of the participating basketballers, but the horde of enthusiastic fans which will arrive from the territory within traveling distance.

The city and its institutions should be prepared to entertain the many visitors and to express a practical welcome. Such a tournament means more than many conventions heralded with unbridled fanfare. The games themselves will culminate a strenuous winter sport season which has contributed greatly to the improvement of interscholastic relations.

By urging attendance at the games, interest in the results and concern over the welfare of the many visitors, Twin Falls people will be doing their share in promoting a healthful sport, a return of the tournament to this city, more frequent visits from followers of the game and a reputation which will impress the youthful contestants and the other visitors for years to come.

In other words, what is needed by Twin Falls residents is a demonstration of sincere cooperation, a thing which has been proved on numerous occasions—is readily forthcoming here.

Jimmy Walker, former mayor of New York, recently planned to run for the New York senate. He has enough on his hands running away from his creditors.

EDUCATIONAL COMICS

To the average child the comic section of the newspaper is described as "the funnies," but in reality the various cartoon capers of the comic characters that appear in the paper each night have another value for more important than mere amusement.

They are really educational. Through the activities of "Freckles and His Friends" or "example" children learn about dirigibles, radios, and practically all our modern scientific inventions.

Through "Alley Oop" they find out about prehistoric animals and the average child of four or five years, can rattle off words today that would have been tongue-twisters for the grade school pupils of a generation ago.

Then—the swashbuckling adventures of "Wash Tubbs and Easy," and the general information that is found in other comics all have their place in helping to educate modern youth.

There is little doubt that the child of today is better informed about the march of progress than the child of a generation ago, and the comics are in a large way responsible.

The trouble with most comics 20 years ago was that their sole aim was to entertain and "let a laugh." Today you will note that the comic artists are keeping abreast of the times by working the latest scientific devices, the most recent type of adventure, into their strips.

And the children love it. They don't know they are being educated, and this is the beautiful part of it all. To them it's just fun.

Some grown-ups with stricter views occasionally object to the slang which "creeps into" the comic pages, but after all there is nothing really criminal about slang, and there is no denying that the best slang of the season becomes permanent, and eventually becomes legitimate language.

And isn't a little slang better than the starchy dashes, and other hieroglyphics that were supposed to represent swear words 20 years ago?

You don't see so much of the latter any more, and on the whole it has to be admitted that our comics have climbed to a pretty high plane.

That Greek revolt lasted hardly long enough for us to learn how to pronounce some of those generals' names.

An old age pension bill in Nevada would raise the needed money by taxing bachelors $10 a year each. Nevada always did have a grudge against bachelors and good married men.

To Germany, in 1914, European peace jects were mere scraps of paper. To Europe they've been scraps on paper ever since.

HISTORY Of Twin Falls City & County

(As Gleaned from Files of The Times)

15 YEARS AGO

Damage variously estimated at from $1000 to $1500 was caused by the collapse of staging beneath the concrete floor at the new high school addition, which allowed the heavy burden to crash down to the floor below. Through pure good fortune the workmen on the building had just quit work for the day, so none of them was caught beneath the tons of cement as it dropped with terrific force. The accident took place Thursday afternoon, but did not become known until late yesterday.

27 YEARS AGO

Through the aid of the Idaho senators the planned irrigation and reclamation of the Twin Falls-Burley-Bruce land is assured. While the value of the irrigation schemes such as the Twin Falls north and south ditches, which were first proposed in 1908, is not certain, there was very little trouble experienced in obtaining the additional million acres.

Landreth Investment & Improving company is developing a thousand acres into five and ten acre tracts. The value of the land was estimated Wednesday March 25 at the $750,000. The company will be provided with means of reaching the land by means of a road, furnish free transportation to and from the farm to all who desire to purchase. A special train of Colorado will be here on the opening date.

March 14

Much activity may characterize the day. One may be apt to misdirect this activity by doing so, and be careful when occupied with the business of the day. The afternoon is much better than the morning. It brings one of the best influences for business in general. Start new things!

Absentee voters will be permitted to take part in the April 2 municipal election here. First ballots for this purpose will be issued Monday of next week, and the period will extend for two weeks, or until the night of March 30, when the registration period also closes.

TOURNAMENT TEAMS ARRIVE IN CITY FOR WORKOUTS TODAY

Plan Drills For Opening of Play

As basketball teams of the state descended on Twin Falls today, with last night as the first continent to reach the city for the Idaho state interscholastic basketball tournament opening tomorrow, at least five other out-of-the-district quarters were scheduled to reach here this morning and early this afternoon: Kamiah, Idaho Falls, Emmett, McCammon and Wallace were all due to arrive today.

Work out Today

The teams will shake out the travel kinks in workouts at Twin Falls today, tomorrow when they get the lay of the floor in preparation for opening of the tourney at 10:30 p. m. tomorrow when Salmon City squares off against McCammon. All officials will be in place here in the four gyms scheduled to complete the first round.

Afflux of tournament crowds will start Thursday morning, and basketball fans are expected to begin the influx here to water the yearling blood.

Double Battles

Although the tournament is a single elimination basis, running of consolation rounds for the initial brackets will provide double battles at every stage.

Officials will give spectators an opportunity to watch every team in action at the gymnasium.

Tickets may be secured at various downtown locations or at the gate, according to Sam Smith, tourney manager. Afternoon and evening sessions begin tomorrow and for Friday with an evening program slated for Saturday. The Saturday night games will open with the consolation final, followed at 9 p. m. by the clash of the remaining two undefeated teams for the 1935 high school championship.

Victor-and-runner-up awards are to be presented Saturday night, together with consolation trophies. Players and coaches on the night of the Twin Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce Friday morning on a light-sewing trip to the city and vicinity. More than 20 cars are planned in the motorcade, and will bring back the trophies.

Small but Fast

Salmon City, which arrived last night with a group of players will present probably one of the strongest teams in the tournament. Coach W. D. Leubert, former Williamsport athlete, has developed a team having a great deal of effort to overcome the squad's lack of height. Evidence of his success is seen in the fact that the team won 18 and lost only three games throughout a strenuous campaign. It was the underdog through the central district tournament.

Coach V. J. Jones Twin Falls Bruins, definitely flattered with the chances assigned to his team on the floor open to today's arrivals, announced an eight-man tournament squad last night, consisting of Marvin Bates, Leo Lincoln, Art Turner, Bill Schifman, Regie Williams, Jim Walle, Bob Brown and Howard Williams.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 13 (AP)—Within the past two years I have introduced several new sports to the American public, including auto-racing, motorcycle-racing, night-time-tennis, and football-car-driver-riding.

But I have introduced a new sport discovery in a game which I think will sweep the country after the manner of wildfire. It is technically called "trying-to-keep-a-rumble-seat-car from driving through a country-side, with which they are highly unfamiliar on my mind."

Knowing such a long name will be a bit clumsy to handle, I have decided to speak of the new sport simply as "hell."

British Sport Writers

I discovered the game last night when the Major League Fuller and Frank Timley, a pair of London journalists, invited me to ride with them on Daytona Beach to Greenville, Fla., to take the Atlanta University students on hands across the sea.

"You just just right up and go to sleep," said Mr. Fuller as I climbed in the rumble seat. "You have on your seat belt, Greenville, and the road is quite straight, we'll make it jolly well quick."

"Quit," answered Mr. Timley. "You drive, and I'll keep a watch on you."

"Did you see that?" he finally asked.

"Frightfully sorry, you know," I said. "I was just thinking you possibly let me how far it is to Vapour."

"What's that?" asked the stranger in amazement.

"Vapour," I said. "Vapour is a gas which is produced by the burning of fuel."

"What's that?" he asked.

"It's a gas which is produced by the burning of fuel," I said.

"What's that?" he asked.

"It's a gas which is produced by the burning of fuel," I said.

BABE AND PILOT WORK TOGETHER

McKechnie Dones He Assorted Bambo In Pilot's Prospective Manager of Club

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 13 (AP)—Manager Bill McKechnie of the Braves and Babe Ruth were re-established today as pals, working for the common good of each other and the team.

McKechnie was ready to prove it by any doubling by denying that he had the old home-run slugger under his wing.

"I have said nothing of the kind to anyone," McKechnie declared in a statement today. "I am a manager and report nothing that I have said to anyone. The Babe was hired to act as vice president, assistant manager and player, but not as a prospective pilot."

Plan laid out

The plan, well known by the camp since the Babe's appointment as manager, learning the finer points of managing from McKechnie in preparation for stepping in next season.

McKechnie then will be elevated to a new position of general manager, with his duties divided between the playing, field, and front office.

An vice president and assistant manager, McKechnie declared in a statement today. "The Babe has enough authority to do as he pleases, but he is not interfering with McKechnie."

"In his eagerness to play the greater part of the season, he's working as hard as a mule. He is more confident now than ever. He can carry a plane, although he has not outflown yet, or at first base, where he played in spring games."

Jumpers Due to Hit Seven Feet, Says Champion

LOS ANGELES, March 13 (AP)—It may be next week. It may be next month. It may be next year. Or it may be next day someone's going to make a new world record in high jumping at 7 feet, 2 inches.

That's what Cornelius Johnson, the world's highest jumper, says. Johnson is holder of the National high jumping record, which he set in 1934 at 6 feet 7 inches.

"I expect to jump 6 feet, 11 inches in the Olympic tryouts or in the Olympic games," Johnson says. "But that will be about my limit. I'm not tall enough to jump much higher."

Johnson stands 6 feet, 3 1/2 inches and if he carries out his hopes of clearing the bar at 6 feet, 11 inches, it will be a new world record.

Johnson's best mark is 6 feet, 7 inches, set last July in the national championships when he tied with Walter Smith of Fresno, Calif., who holds the world record of 6 feet 8 1/2 inches.

Lewis, Okla., in a wrestling match at the Madison Square Garden, New York, today.

Wagner, 235, 175, 145, 115, and Lester, 230, 170, 140, 110, were the winners.

Backstroke Expert Hopes for Records Despite Night Club

CHICAGO, March 13 (AP)—Eleanor Holm, Jarrett, women's champion backstroke swimmer, said today that she expects to set a few new records in the National A. A. U. swimming meet next month in spite of the fact that her training routine will consist mostly of singing torch songs in a night club.

The attractive Mrs. Jarrett, who backs more backstroke records than you can count on your fingers, paused long enough to explain last night how she plans to keep up her swimming records while appearing as a vocalist with her husband's dance orchestra.

"I shall have plenty of time to swim, and besides, it never takes me more than a week to get in tip top condition," she said.

"I sleep from about 2 o'clock in the morning until noon. That leaves me all afternoon to swim, rehearse new songs, and look after Arthur," Arthur is her husband.

Eleanor doesn't intend to go the way of other sport champions who have tried to keep their championships with night club appearances only to find afterward that they are not champions but were hot clubbers.

"I find out that singing has taken something away from my swimming," she said.

OKLAHOMA COACH LAUDS CLEAN-UP

Long John Jacobs Says West Coast Prexies Will Help College Sports

NORMAN, Okla., March 13 (AP)—Long John Jacobs, University of Oklahoma track coach, who a few weeks ago led like nothing else in California coach on the road, today came out of his groove and said west-coast college head-men an important step toward purification of college sports.

Jacobs got abre at the west when it appeared Orville Matthews, track star at Chikasha, Okla., signed with the University of California at Los Angeles and enrolled at Leland Stanford university rather than at his own state track school, though in California that he had been played a dirty trick.

No Financial Offers

Yesterday, however, the president of Leland Stanford University, University of Southern California issued a statement in which they said their schools would not make financial offers to prospective athletes. They said that no athlete's expenses would be paid by the schools, and that no money would be offered to prospective athletes. Hoffman Sets 30-Day Deadline On Choice; Maxine Ready To Open Training

TITLE FIGHT FOR BAER DEMANDED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 13 (AP)—Heavyweight champion Max Baer and his manager, Ansel Hoffman, cancelled recreation today for a proposed trip to Chicago and announced they would remain here possibly until arrangements were completed for a title defense fight in June.

"I'm getting too close to a title fight to worry about exhibitions now," Hoffman said. "Max will have to start training soon and will begin road work this week."

Hoffman wrote the Madison Square Garden corporation demanding that it name an opponent for Baer within 30 days. "If no arrangements for a June fight can be made, he believed, after the Primo Carnes-Ray Impellerator and Art Lasky-Jimmy Fraddock battles this week and next.

Baer and his manager have no desire to meet Armstrong in a title bout until the German has "knocked over" a strong contender and proven himself to be a drawing card. They had under consideration, however, an offer to fight Maxine in Germany for a $250,000 guarantee.

Hotel Guest List

California—The hotel guest list like the guest list of Grand hotel if they mean it. The cast already formed to a great extent, and the middle west is cleaning up.

If these California men can suppress the Hollywood idea that everything first-rate in the country ought to be transferred to the coast, we will have better conditions throughout the country.

Chicago Promoters Seek Ambers Bout

CHICAGO, March 13 (AP)—Promoters Nate Lewis and Jim Muller announced today that they are trying to arrange a fight between Ambers and Tony Canzoneri, New York lightweight, and Chuck Woods of Detroit.

Canzoneri is rated close to Chicago as a contender for the world title of Barney Hone, the lightweight leader.

Muller said he will match Ambers with the Canzoneri-Victor fight April 12 if Ambers signs.

Miller's ace include Nell McKechnie, Vern Acland, Walt Blumert, Holly Jones and Ace Miller. Stone's Minnie include Gene Fungo, Louis Pugmire, Rex Davis, Jeff Simmons and Fred Stone.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

STRUTHIOMIMUS ALTUS... AN ANIMAL THAT LIVED ON EARTH MILLIONS OF YEARS AGO, ALTHOUGH GREATLY RESEMBLING AN OSTRICH, IT WAS A TRUE REPTILE!

A SQUARE YARD OF LEAF SURFACE... PRODUCE ONLY ONE OUNCE OF SUGAR IN A DAY.

BILLIARD BALLS ARE MADE FROM THE TUSKS OF ELEPHANTS... THE IVORY BEING SUPERIOR TO THAT OF THE MALES.

One square yard of leaf surface takes about two gallons of carbon dioxide from the air in a single day and throws off approximately 2 1/2 cubic feet of oxygen. A second's meditation on the subject is sufficient to make one realize the importance of plant life to human existence.

A Frank Statement and a Personal Pledge From R. H. TALLMAN

Idaho District Manager of the Amalgamated Sugar Co.

I want to give all beet growers my personal guarantee that absolutely nothing but U. S. No. 1 CURLEY TOP RESISTANT SEED will be issued this year. It is the only seed we have in our factory-warehouse. There is nothing else that could be issued.

THIS SEED

Is the last word in resistant seed. It is from the latest increase of the 1934 crop grown at Las Cruces, New Mexico. The seed will be delivered to the growers in the original bags as received by us from Las Cruces.

IT TOOK TEN YEARS

To develop this seed and at an estimated cost of $250,000.00. This is good proof of our faith in Idaho's beet industry and our intentions of staying here if humanly possible. I consider this resistant seed far superior to the seed of last year. It is a full year further ahead in strength and development.

LAST YEAR

This same strain produced 9 1/2 tons per acre on our experimental field at John Thomas' place in Castleford, one of the worst hopper infected districts we could find. It produced 9 tons to the acre on the Ralph Faulkner place near Gooding. Now it is one year older, stronger, and better.

THIS IS THE FIRST YEAR

In our history that we have had enough of this seed to supply all of our growers. No other seed can be obtained from our factory.

I BELIEVE

That the use of the new seed together with timely planting and proper care, on the best available land, should be a great factor in securing a crop.

I HAVE THE GREATEST CONFIDENCE

In the beet growers of this section. I want them to have an equal confidence in us. It is the only way this industry can be made successful. For that reason I don't want to influence one single man to plant beets this year if he feels that his obligation to himself and his family does not justify the risk as he sees it.

ON THE OTHER HAND

I do know that the sugar beet industry for Idaho is facing a crisis right now. If, because of lack of signed acreage, we lose our present allotment, we probably will never get it back. I appeal to the man who believes in the Idaho beet industry and who, at the same time, can back-up this belief with acres of beets.

PIONEERS

In any line of endeavor suffer many discouragements. For years the growers and the Amalgamated Sugar Company have been pioneering sugar beets in Idaho. With the development of a fine resistant seed, success seems near. It would mean one more permanently established industry for Twin Falls minus the ups and downs of the pioneering years. It would seem a great pity to lose it now.

Signed,
R. H. TALLMAN

We have read the above statement and heartily agree with the facts presented and in the interest of the Sugar Beet Industry for Idaho we are glad to endorse it.

Signed,

J. N. DAYLEY President Twin Falls and Jerome County Beet Growers Association
