COURT'S ACTION SPEEDS TEST ON SALES TAX VOTE

Miller Will Answer Tuesday To Writ on Issuance of Petitions

WILL FIGHT REFERENDUM

Attorney General Will Ogle Emergency Clause Balks Popular Vote

BUREAU, March 30 (UPI)—Action by the Idaho legislature last week had hastened a definite test as to whether or not the state's referendum on the sales tax will be invoked in time to fortify the two per cent retail sales tax.

Attorney General Bert H. Miller, recently appointed state assistant attorney general, is expected to reply at 10 o'clock Saturday to an alternative writ of mandamus issued by the court, and returned noon by the court, demanding that Miller show cause for not issuing the ballot for referendum petition.

Two Alternatives

Unless Miller decides between now and 10 o'clock Saturday to issue the official ballot for the vote at the next general election,

(1) Make the well permanent, then the legislature will issue the official ballot for the vote at the next general election.

(2) Qualify the work, making the same permanent, and the expiration date on March 15, 1935.

Termed "a friendly suit" by Secretary of State Franklin Glandt, the action was filed yesterday by James F. Allard, Jr., and J. L. Eberly, Boise lawyers.

Will City Emergency

Miller's answer—in court Tuesday—is expected to be based on the ground that the referendum law does not give him authority to act because of the emergency provision inserted in the measure by the legislature.

Glandt, however, will offer legal arguments to show that the refer-

COUNTY DECREES NEW BEER RULES

Changed—Regulations Call for License Fees Conferring To City, Schedule

Twin Falls county commissioners today had adopted a new beer licensing regulation, raising the annual fees to conform with those imposed by the state legislature Monday, and limiting the hours of sale from 6 a.m. to midnight.

The license rates $25 annually for beer, $20 for beer and $10 for draught beer, will cause dispensers of the bottled product to pay $50, and the new state license is $20 and the new state license is $5. Draught beer dispensers will pay $125 annually. The regulations will require all beer to contain one per cent alcohol content.

New Regulations

New regulations provided by the county specify that no person adding in incorporations must present their municipal license to the auditor before age 21;

and must have a bond of $1,000 of sale cannot be within 400 feet of a block in which a public school is the case in Twin Falls.

Licenses purchased after July 1, 1933, will be for five years, and those who have already paid their 1933 permits, which were sold for $20.60 each in both the city and county, will receive credit in new license.

County licenses must be applied for to the board of county commissioners, and the auditor, or clerk of the board in the auditor's office.

ROSS EXTENDS AUTO DEADLINE

BUREAU, March 30 (UPI)—A 30-day extension of the time for purchasing automobile licenses was granted today by Governor C. C. Ross, official auditor. It was requested at his office that the governor is not in the city.

Automobiles were granted twice in 1933, and once in 1934. Many persons expected an extension this year, and the state of the license has been very slow.

Premier Wins On Belgium's Money Policy

BRUSSELS, Belgium, March 30 (UPI)—Premier Paul Van Zeeland's new cabinet apparently clinched a victory on currency devaluation in parliament today after youthful King Leopold was said to have intervened dramatically at the 11th hour to end the governmental crisis.

The young premier, an admiral and President Roosevelt's New Deal Ambassador, won a victory, 107-16-14, in the vote of deputies on his plan to devalue the belga 25 per cent and to increase the gold content of the belga 10 per cent. A "leave of absence" from the government standard. The crisis threatened serious reparations in the European field.

Hung Approved

The Senate failed to respond to the bill as it had the chamber of deputies. Observers feared that the premier would call a vote of confidence in the senate.

Then it was said the king stepped in. He had no actual power, but he is believed to have been responsible for a rapid swing to support of the cabinet's plan.

The senate finance committee voted a favorable report. The judicial committee approved. In the senate, 38 to 18, with eight abstentions, for the government. Liberals divided evenly. The Socialists were unanimous for the cabinet.

Thus the senate "prepared" to give the premier even stronger support than the deputies.

MERCHANTS PLAN TRADE CAMPAIGN

Silver-Dollar Showers Earnings Approval; Spring Opening Set for April 10

Spring opening in Twin Falls will take place Wednesday April 10, it was announced yesterday by the merchants bureau of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce which has perfected plans for a series of Silver Dollar Showers starting April 17.

The announcement was made to follow a dinner meeting at the new Regence hotel last evening.

The "Silver-Dollar campaign" was outlined by R. S. McElroy, president of a sub-committee named by the bureau. Other members of the committee are C. H. Gill and Leo J. Gill.

Certificates will be issued somewhat along the lines of the Empire State program, and the project is designed to continue around Washington, the freshman said.

Certificates will be announced later, but the general plan met the approval of the 50 merchants gathered last evening.

"I shall have to decline your invitation," unless I can earn $100,000 a year for my own food," he said.

Other congressmen were amazed. They could remember no precedent for Maverick's stand.

BORAH LEADS IN NRA BILL FIGHT

Labor Leader Jolts Idahoan
In Withering Fire Aimed At New Measure

McCurran, D., Nev., is expected to offer a number of labor amendments.

Senate's "criticism" of the old law by Nye and Borah because of suspension of anti-trust laws, the Senate says, "nothing in '34" has constrained it to amend or repeal any part of the antitrust legislation.

Another section of the bill is much cleverly defined of industry and how they shall be found truly monopoly-prone.

For controlling prices, production or distribution may be applied to protect small firms against discrimination or oppression, or to deter the growth of monopolies.

2. To correct emergencies created by economic conditions in excess of demand, or destructive price cutting.

3. To trade and industries subject to governmental regulation, such as public utilities, natural resources, industries, (coal)

etc., whose policies affect the public interest is affected.

Delegation of power to any private or industry is explicitly forbidden.

The President also must be shown that codes are not calculated to promote monopoly or destroy competition.

Official Veto.

Austin Sulzberger, Boise, member of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, was in Twin Falls yesterday, transacting private business.

LOUIS' SMASHING WIN SERVES WARNING ON CARNERA

EASTERN CRITICS LAUD YOUNG ACE

Detroit Negro Bomber Earns "Killer" Title in Taking Verdict Over Brown

By HENRY MCLEMORE

BIRMINGHAM, March 29 (UPI)—When Joe Louis clinched through the ropes with Primo Carnera in June the customers are going to get a new title—“Killer.” Louis has had since Dempsey.

But he's a different kind of “killer.” Dempsey, when the bell tolled, was a maniac, screaming, roaring, clipping, smashing right-lefts. Louis is cool, deliberate and calculating, nothing like a sharpshooter. In his comes with that slow, awkward shuffle, amping, amping, amping, amping.

—Henry Miller.

We alone, with a dozen other eastern fight critics, saw the 20-year-old Negro sensation for the first time in Birmingham last week after the veteran Native Brown, of Washington, for 10 rounds. And we left him with a desire to see Louis again. Louis will step up against as deadly a hitter as the heavyweight class has seen.

Louis didn't knock Brown out last night. Nobody could have, for the veteran, as easy as they come, in the entire 10 rounds covering up.

Brown Covers Up

Brown didn't try to prove much, but he did it well. He would have had to uncover his chin, and he wasn't interested. He learned the folly of that when he clinched with the 10-round round when in a brief moment, he was up and attempted to swap blows.

The second, and last, round, he came in with a left hook, and Brown was down for a nine-count. That cured him. From on up he was a picture of an alarmed little. When he was clinching desperately, he was forced up in a protective ball.

Louis was becoming more vulnerable than the upper part of Brown's face, so a larcet return to his corner exposed his portion, and at the finish had his bleeding badly from both eyes. It never gave Brown a second chance.

Steady Hurricane

Unable to drive home a lightning blow, Louis was forced to go to a thousand jolting rights and lefts. Not once—but a dozen times—Brown, unable to defend effectively, was forced across the ropes. Louis, very deliberately and without changing his expression, would drop his chin, then bring Jay-Hansen-and Pauls.

Unless other members of the press were as gullible as the Boston Herald, the paper got the scoop of the year.

Unless he had been bleeding badly from both eyes, it never gave Brown a second chance.

Great Brown would stagger forward into a clinch and hang on until pulled away by the referee. He did not know he was a professional star under his belt; he is a remarkable prospect.

He is a good boxer, but he has no box in his hands. And, for Paul, he's rated Paul even with him, now.

Why not? Ought to rate him ahead of me. He's a greater pitcher.

There have been rumors that Deans would become record.

"That's right. I'm going to be record," he said. "I'm not record, but I'm record." He means he'll get them set by Jack Mullen at the University of Wisconsin, in the intercollegiate championships.

Deans is a good boxer, but he has no box in his hands. And, for Paul, he's rated Paul even with him, now.

The only worry to his boxer is whether he can make the mark in the records-today, and for Paul, he's rated Paul even with him, now.

Deans is a good boxer, but he has no box in his hands. And, for Paul, he's rated Paul even with him, now.

It's Not Too Much

Actually, the hope of 10-punching victories by the Deans doesn't mean he's record. It means they turned in 49 last year—so far, so good.

Deans is a good boxer, but he has no box in his hands. And, for Paul, he's rated Paul even with him, now.

A POLITICAL CONTRAST

Campaigns conducted by the opposing tickets in the city election race present a striking contrast, a factor which all voters should take into consideration when they go to the polls next Tuesday.

On one hand, the ticket headed by Mayor Dunn can McD. Johnston has carried on its campaign in a straight-forward, constructive manner. It has pointed out the accomplishments of the present administration, and is standing on its progressive record. Furthermore, the Johnston ticket has advanced a definite program, the success of which may be anticipated by the way the incumbent administration has functioned during the last two years.

Likewise, Commissioner Lem A. Chapin, independent candidate for re-election, has carried on his campaign in a manner highly commendable.

On the other hand, the opposing ticket's sponsors, a relatively small group of political die-hards, are resorting to nothing more than criticism of their opponents.

Judging from their veiled insinuations and misleading implications these "old guards" have advanced under the names of their candidates, Mayor Johnston and all members of his administration are black-sheep. That is what this faction would like to have the people believe, yet they have not so far advanced a single explicit example that would give credence to even the mildest of their insinuations.

Advance publicity for their recent political rally would have led the people to believe that the present administration was to be torn apart and entirely dismembered at that meeting. And what did those who attended that meeting find out? Nothing more than a feeble attempt to make the fingers wiggle on a stuffed scarecrow!

And now this same group would make the people believe there has been graft and collusion in the registration of voters. They do not directly accuse anyone, but they continue their "campaign by inference," so as to make it appear that they are the only whites and their adversaries the "cloven hoof."

All this being the case, it might be well to ask the voters of Twin Falls one question pertinent to this campaign, the answer to which should have a bearing on the way every voter casts his ballot:

If these "old guard" politicians have any motive other than winning a political fight and regaining their lost power, why haven't they advanced some constructive program to present to the voters, stating exactly just what they will and won't do if they are elected—instead of devoting their entire campaign to criticism and insinuation against not only Mayor-Johnston, but all who have served with him as members of the city council?

Not until this question has been answered satisfactorily should any voter take seriously the "campaign of whispered rumors, biased insinuations and false charges."

That this small relegated faction—the identity of which everyone knows—is out to steam-roller this election down the people's throats by any means, honorable or otherwise, is manifest. Few of them have shown any civic enterprise during the past year that would indicate a desire on their part to serve the city's good and contribute to its progress?

In fairness to the men whom they are running for office, it is doubtful if any of these candidates are at fault for the type of campaign being conducted in their behalf. Their backers no doubt are responsible.

The Evening Times doubts very seriously if any one of these candidates would have entered the race under their present sponsorship had they known they were to have been dragged down to a level much below their type and dignity.

This being the case, it's up to the voters to decide whether they want an old political faction in power, or an independent and progressive city government.

Period for registration for the city election closes at 9 p.m. today. You cannot vote if you're not registered and the registration for the last fall's general election has no application to the municipal election. There is only one place to register and that is at the office of the city clerk in the city hall. Today is the last day.

MILLIFENT GRAVES ARRIVED yesterday evening when her employer, Mrs. John G. Foote, told her he wants to dictate a letter to her. This year she has prepared a nursery.

Millifent goes out to dinner, plays cards, reads books and tells her to watch for a woman in a dark coat and glasses. Millifent sees such a woman. She discovers that someone has taken her place. She is not surprised, nearly like it. She goes back to the restaurant, on the way meeting a man who is carrying a briefcase. He says he is the manager of the restaurant. She asks him to wait a moment while she goes to the manager's office. The manager comes in and asks her to sit down. She says she has been asked to leave.

At the touch of the hand on her shoulder, Millifent Gravens gave a convulsive start, whirled around to face the man who had arrested her.

To her surprise, she found she was alone, into the features of the tall, slender man who had guided the elevator from the 17th floor the night before.

"Good morning," he said. "I thought I recognized you when you came out of the department store but you were walking so rapidly I almost had to run to catch up. What's the hurry?"

She tried to comprehend her unusual sense of friend formality and say, after the most approved manner, "Sir, I don't know you."

The attempt was a lamentable failure.

The man laughed.

"Come, come," he said. "This is no time for you and me to be formal with each other. After all, you know, I'm entitled to an explanation."

Seated at the table, she noticed once more his keen eyes, the inward power and dignity of his manner.

"An explanation," he said, "of how it happened that you were in such a hurry to leave the building, the 17th floor. I think you said to the waiter, 'Just tell me to give you the balance of our order.'

"I'm sure," she said, "that wasn't the faintest idea of what you're talking about."

"And the picture," he said, "in the newspaper is a fair imitation. It doesn't do you justice, particularly now that your eyes are so bright—but to a person who has seen you, the resemblance is readily apparent."

"Who are you?" she asked.

"That's better," he told her. "My name is Harry-Jarvis Clegg."

"I have been following you," he said.

He laughed again, tucked her arm into his and said, "Come over all right, let's stop into a restaurant where we can talk. Have you had breakfast?"

She hesitated for a moment and said, "Sorry, I could use a cup of coffee."

"Then the picture," he said.

"It's not true," he told her. "I'm sorry."

"Understand," he said. "I'll be with you all right."

"Let's go," he said.

"Understand," he said. "I'll be with you all right."

GROWERS PONDER BEET CONTRACTS

Producers From Four States Will Decide on Firm's Proposals

DENVER, Colo., March 30 (UPI)—The long controversy between the Great Western Sugar Co. and the beet growers of Colorado, Nebraska, Wyoming and Montana over contracts for the 1935 season was in the hands of government today.

Great West announced that it would pay growers the prices for the beet crop if they would come to an agreement. H. A. Wallace had Tuesday.

Meeting Today.

A meeting of the directors of the Mountain States Beet Growers' Association and the Nebraska Non-Stick Beet Growers' Association is tentatively scheduled to be held in Greeley, Colo., today. The conference will be open to all invited at the meeting.

It was believed that most of the growers were in accord with the new contract which is approximately 20 cents a ton higher than that in use last year, although no positive assurance could be given.

Sets No Precedent.

The sugar refiner company believes that "adoption of these schedules is without prejudice or precedent to either party." It is the company's hope further time will involve no recognition whatever by the company of any previous feature of the law relating to adjustment of beet contracts."

Mr. Wallace, a Littleton, Colo., president of the Mountain States association, previously had indicated that Wallace's proposal would be acceptable to his organization.

Great Western stated that the contract was substantially the same as those of former years and announced:

"The price per-ton of beets in 1935 will again be determined by the sugar content of the beets. The average sugar content will be further increased and involves no recognition whatever by the company of any previous feature of the law relating to adjustment of beet contracts."

The new scale is identically the same as that recently published by the secretary of agriculture, the sugar company announced. It provides for a sugar content of 14.65 percent on a basis of $3.50 a hundred pound for refined sugar and $3.15 for beet sugar.
