COAST SCENERY VITAL TO FILMS

Talk of Studio Change Omit Important Consideration Of Outdoor Needs

BY LEO BARON
HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—Plicker executives, who talk of moving the industry back east, aren't discussing what they'd use for scenery.

Popular conception to the contrary, the great outdoors still are a necessary adjunct to successful motion picture making. In truth, the wide open spaces never have been so important since the advent of the talkies. And California offers the best variety of scenery by the country.

Leontine Shots Important

Associates of Louis B. Mayer, one of the leading apologetes in the "back east" threat, are authority for the statement that approximately one-third of today's production are filmed on location. Sixty per cent of the movies daily to such location spots as the Mojave desert, the Coachella valley, the Sierra Nevada forest, Verugop Woodland, Thelway, Laasy Meek, San Pedro, Long Beach, Lido Airfield, Catalina Island, Laurel Canyon, or Crater Camp, any of which can be reached from between 15 minutes and three hours from Hollywood.

The boys who sit around predicting the future of the film business forecast a demigod location voice. Heavy, cumbersome sound equipment only could be moved at tremendous cost, when at all. For a time, the boys were right. For a time, the boys were wrong. Acting because almost exclusively, a drawing room occupation.

Under Mrs. Shala, the skeptics were amazed when MGM sent a 22,000-pound sound truck into the African jungles to film "Trader Horn." It was the most herculean task of its kind ever attempted but the undertaking paid good returns. Pain, it seemed, still held a slab of sunshine and scenery with their film fare.

The pressing urgency was to lighten the weight of recording equipment. The hubbub of weight had to be overcome. Technicians set in work and today have accumulated most of the observations of hundreds of pounds of light equipment are thrown into a car, placed in a truck or even carried on an airplane, to make talking pictures in the far corners of the globe.

Stagnant trees in Brazilian forests are felled by being whirled in a furrow around the trunk, going faster and deeper until the tree falls. These insects destroy much valuable lumber each year.

HOSPITAL PLANS OPEN INSPECTION

Public Invited to See All Departments Sunday as National Event

If C. Jeppson, manager of the hospital, announces that every department of the hospital will be open to inspection by visitors Sunday between the hours of 10 and 11 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m. in observance of the annual national hospital day.

Miss Emily Pine, superintendent of St. Luke's hospital, Boise, who is chairman for national hospital day in Idaho, said in a letter to the management of the Twin Falls hospital: "I think all will agree that disease is a community responsibility and that our hospitals are, and will continue to be, an increasing source, the chief agency of the community in meeting this responsibility."

Short Wave Invention Kills Coddling Moths and All Other Pests

WENATCHEE, Wash. April 10.—Electric short wave rays may prove a solution to pest control in northwest apple orchards. It is the invention of E. W. Worden of Seattle, developed on a large scale.

The coddling moth, which lays eggs that develop into apple worms, is the greatest problem of the industry. Control requires numerous and expensive applications, leaving a residue declared dangerous by some health authorities, harmful by others.

Worden demonstrated a model of his device at Wenatchee, completed by one of the northwest's greatest fruit sections. A blackberry buzzed mysteriously, and worms in a glass tumbler between two squares of what looked like tinfoil curled up and died. The glass remained cold.

"With this apparatus built on a large scale and carried on trucks, I can kill every animate object in your orchard—coddling—moth—apple worms, fruit mites, Gophers and snakes, and it won't hurt the trees a particle." Worden told orchardists. He estimated equipment large enough for orchard use would cost $5,000.

ON IT AGAIN I HOPE THIS ISN'T A TRYING PAN...

EVENTUALLY WHY NOT NOW?

Residents of this section cannot be blamed for waxing enthusiastic over the possibilities of the Bruneau tract's reclamation.

They recognize the advantages which would accrue, they know of the prospects possible in a successful irrigated district, and they know that thousands of farm families in the United States are going to be looking for new homes.

In addition to this, it is manifest that there are millions of dollars in capital lying idle which could be used advantageously for the required construction work, and that thousands of acres feet of water from the several springs along the north canyon wall of Snake river is literally going to waste.

Coupled with all these facts is the one that the natural growth in the population of the United States is going to bring about the reclamation of such projects as the Bruneau eventually, anyway.

No one would wish to see the project undertaken without the surety of capital, water, fertility and feasibility otherwise. These are all questions which are being passed upon by engineers, financiers, economists and agriculturists.

Burmese natives, who practice wife-beating, are first to see their first talking pictures. A few Carnegie productions would help them round off their form.

BETTER YEAR AHEAD

Among the harbingers for a prosperous summer is the fact that unless all present indications fail the country is not going to have a repetition of last year's disastrous drought.

To be sure, the Kansas-Colorado sector, still plagued by dust storms, is suffering intensely from lack of moisture. But taking the farm belt as a whole, it seems clear that it is safe from another dry spell like that which caused so much misery last year.

As an example, consider the state of South Dakota. Last year South Dakota was one of the hardest-hit of the drouth states. A magazine writer even suggested that most of the state ought to be evacuated—and thereby got himself in every bad with South Dakolans.

But now the governor of the state has named a Thanksgiving day to celebrate the abundance of moisture that has fallen this spring. That part of the wheat belt, obviously, is due for a good year.

CALAMITY

Tragic death of Sen. Bronson Cutting of New Mexico is not only a loss to progressivism in this country, but the cause of it is a blow to aviation.

Traveling in a new plane, the fuel feed lines failed to work properly, and the ship was grounded, unsuccessfully, because of a lack of gasoline, while 80 gallons remained in the storage tanks unused.

That medical journal's announcement that intoxication may be caused by ordinary water will undoubtedly restore its one-time popularity as a beverage.

UNSATISFACTORY DECISION

These five-to-four decisions of the supreme court may settle grave questions of law, but they fall far short of satisfying the public mind.

Democrats Decide to Support Shorter Extension Despite Roosevelt Stand

(Continued from Page One) an earlier conclusion, but it does not appear that this probable "Republican" bill will be the subject of "specific" consideration and some members expressed a desire to hold out for a two-year extension.

Time Two Short "However," he said, a large majority took the view that this would be unwise to prolong debate now that it might encourage a "last action" before June 15.

Several members, he said, believed the intrasite prohibition might cause confusion, "but it was decided not to discuss an amendment modifying it, or striking it from the resolution."

"There is discussion," he said, "of amending the resolution by incorporating the six-hour day bill, but it was recognized that it is impracticable to determine the issue in that bill in connection with the resolution."

Robinson said he informed the Democrats that unless "rapid progress" was made, week-end recreation would be discontinued "in the early future" and daily sessions of the senate would be lengthened.

There was no discussion of the soldiers' bonus or other legislation.

Mullerke Says Canyon And Hagerman Areas Should Make Plans

J. R. Mullerke, horticultural inspector, announced today that the time for application for the calyx spray in the canyon and Hagerman districts is very near. The trees have reached full bloom and are started to shed the blossoms, he stated.

Mr. Mullerke's directions for spraying may be found on a card applied when the blossom petals are in the bud stage. This area approximately 280,000 acres are classified as irrigable land, most of which is of exceptional quality and has a water supply for irrigation. This embraces areas both to the east and to the west of the Bruneau river.

The purpose of the water canal follows down the Snake river canal at varying distances from the river until a point about midway between Blain and King Hill is reached. Then it bears south until a point south of Glens Ferry it is 11 miles from the river and maintains about this parallel westward for 35 miles where it connects northward to the river.

Bruneau Project Values Cited By Geodetic Expert

By HAY J. LYMAN Geodetic Engineer

The proposed Bruneau canal on the Twin Falls-Blaine tract covers an area of approximately 340,000 acres on the south side of the Snake river. Of this area approximately 280,000 acres are classified as irrigable land, most of which is of exceptional quality and has a water supply for irrigation. This embraces areas both to the east and to the west of the Bruneau river.

The purpose of the water canal follows down the Snake river canal at varying distances from the river until a point about midway between Blain and King Hill is reached. Then it bears south until a point south of Glens Ferry it is 11 miles from the river and maintains about this parallel westward for 35 miles where it connects northward to the river.

At a point in the main canal about 11 miles southeast of Hession a canal line has been surveyed northward to the Snake river. This line has been found feasible to siphon the water across to the north side. This, however, is considered feasible only when sufficient water has been produced, and this procedure is under way at present time.

This north side canal, the surveyors would cover approximately 135,000 acres of irrigable lands, both to and including all of the bench lands immediately north and east of the Boise river. Most of this irrigable area is within 25 miles of the city of Boise. The extension of this "water" system will depend on necessary surveys now underway to determine costs and exact areas of irrigable lands. The only unusual construction on the entire system is the siphon across Snake river.

In addition to these areas under gravity flow from the Jerome Dam, the Snake river basin shows some 500,000 acres of additional reclaimable lands adjoining. Some 200,000 acres of this in the South Bruneau, and another 300,000 on the north side between Glens Ferry and Boise. The proper coordination of the water resources of Snake river and its tributaries would provide ample water for all this area, as well as for the 1,000,000 acres Government measurements of Snake river for many years past show a runoff exceeding six million acre feet annually.

Office engineers and clerks	35
Stenographers and filing	50
Office managers	10

Total	4000

This classification involves both direct and indirect activities, it is not conceivable that a project of this type could be carried out independently of many other undertakings such as roadways, railroads, fencing, public construction, townsite planning, building, and the like, all of which would create at least again as much labor output within a three-year period. Indirect purchases direct and indirect would amount to several times labor expenditures.

Millions Involved I have estimated there would be 4,000 men employed for 700 days to construct the canal system for the first 300,000 acre unit of the Bruneau. At an average wage of $1.10 this would amount to $11,700,000. There are no figures available as yet as to the cost of materials and equipment for this system, but it is not likely to be less than this amount for the modern construction contemplated. Indirect expenditures in connection with the settling of the land would undoubtedly bring the total output to less than $50,000,000, and for all direct and indirect cost work would amount to $100,000,000.

KIMBERLY, May 10 (Special)—Annual class play of the graduating class of the Kimberly high school will be given tonight in the high school auditorium. It is "The Doctor's Chair," directed by Miss Thelma Melgard. It will inaugurate commencement week activities.

Unaccredited services will be held Sunday night, with Rev. Gordon L. Hyren of the Christian church delivering the sermon to the graduates. Rev. T. D. Barth, of the Methodist church, will give the scripture.

Classes will end this Friday, and commencement day is Friday of next week. Examinations will be conducted in the afternoon on Monday and Tuesday, and senior class day will be Wednesday. Final meeting of the high school student body will be Wednesday morning when awards will be made, and the afternoon will be given over to parties.

POTATO SHIPPING TOTAL DECLINES

Reduced Output Horrids Close of Season's Activities In Spuds

IDAHO FALLS, May 10 (Special)—Reduced shipment of Idaho potatoes has featured the potato situation the past three weeks and hereto the end of the Idaho potato season, according to Thomas. Market reports of the U. S. department of agriculture disclose an average shipment of 35 cars per week for the first week of May, compared to approximately twice that average number the last two weeks in April. Shipments prior to the last week in April had averaged 150 to around 200 cars daily. Total shipments this season, including Monday, were 25,400 cars, which includes 619 car lots for relief.

More Last Year Total shipments for last season were 30,068, and 25,530 cars the year before. It is variously estimated by dealers here that approximately 1,000 cars are in storage, and it is believed the end of the month will see the end of the Idaho potato deal.

Prices in this section continued to be around a dollar for loaded cars of U. S. No. 1 is early in the week. Little or no wire inquiry was reported by most dealers, indicating a very quiet market. The Chicago market on Tuesday was $1.60 to $1.75 for U. S. No. 1 on a dull market.

BUSINESS TREND— SHOWS UPTURN

Construction Industry Moves Ahead—Throughout Nation; Survey Reveals

By RICHARD L. GRIDLEY
WASHINGTON, May 10.—(Special)—Clearing business signs with the advent of spring-like weather in many sections of the country were reported today by government officials.

With retail trade holding well above last year's level, officials were cheered by indications of substantial improvement in the heavier industries. Most economists are agreed that no lasting recovery can be attained until the heavy industries share in the upswing.

Building Activities Gain
Building and construction is the last lagged industry reported to government officials to have moved ahead. A report of the department of commerce revealed the "upturn in building has been gaining force for a number of weeks."

"The improved status in the construction field," the department said, "is based on a wide range of operations running the gamut from minor house repair jobs maintained by the federal housing administration to major engineering projects."

"See New Impetus
New impetus to building and further aid to employment was predicted as the new $4,800,000, 600-works-relief program gets fully under way.

Widened public works are expected to take up slack in building operations through the summer months, and continue the present upswing.

"The evidence of the revival of building, the department of commerce summarized, conditions are

Buffalo—$25,000 county road and bridge improvement program announced.

Rochester—Building permits for remodeling projects since first year 32 per cent ahead of 1934 period.

Haltimore—April building permits 34 per cent ahead of 1934.

MAY 2nd BULLETIN OF NATIONAL SAFETY COUNCIL

"Unless something is done in the immediate future... the nation seems to be heading toward a significant loss of life exceeding that of last year, which was a record... There has been a death in an automobile accident every 19 minutes around the clock in the first three months of the year."

BEAR was that of the crew of the foundered whaling ship, Napoleon, in 1860. Information of the Napoleon's plight scribbled in Eskimo on a piece of board, was passed from village to village, until finally reached the Bear.

The coast guard brought the first tender to Alaska from Berlin in the nineties, and under its watchful eye the Fribourg landed seal herd has increased by more than 10 times in the past 25 years.

One cutter will make two hasty trips to Point Barrow this summer, carrying supplies to government employes at that remote station. Two will follow the Bering on a piece of board, to protect them from poachers, the others will patrol villages and aid fishermen and shipping, if needed.

A survey conducted in 86 cities with a total population of 37,000,000 showed that Trenton, N. J., had the highest mortality rate. The rate here was 32.1 average for the 85 cities was 10.6.

COAST GUARD IS BOON TO ALASKA

Varied Work Proves Important Role Held by Uncle Sam's Vigilant Crews

JUNEAU (Special)—"Semper Paratus" is Always Ready, motto of the United States coast guard, is most effectively carried out in the Alaska division of the service.

Each of the five coast guard boats cruising in and out of rocky fjords, or through ice-choked narrow, post office, police court, battalion and hospital, all in one.

LINCOLN MADE SURVEY
The story of Alaska is associated closely with the coast guard, for in 1807, when Secretary of State William H. Crawford bought the vast territory, it was the old cutter Lincoln that was sent to survey the new possession.

Many thrilling rescues in the far north are part of coast guard history. In 1884 the old cutter Bear saved the lives of Gen. Greeley and his men—the same general, now D. I., who was rewarded this spring by congress for his Arctic explorations.

AUSTRIANS PLAN LOW-PRICE AUTO

Government Subsidy Looming As Best Way to Increase Car Proportion

VIENNA (Special)—Austria, a country with only one auto for every 200 persons, soon may have a popularized "people's car" available.

The government is said to be launching a project to produce an auto costing from $500 to $1,000 under the lowest priced car now selling here.

The government, it is said, is anxious to increase the number of cars in Austria, but high production costs in the local industry and huge taxes on foreign cars have made it practically impossible for the average man to own one.

"The Steyr-Werke, a government subsidized factory, offers to sell a so-called popular model for $1,000, but there were not many buyers. The model went begging because of the initial high cost and the additional high taxes.

For several months the government has been under pressure to let down the bars to cheap foreign cars, or to produce a low priced Austrian car. The government apparently has decided to try the latter alternative.

Foreign cars are extraordinarily expensive in Austria, but even despite this there is a greater demand than can be filled by the very limited import quota.

"Because American firms are not allowed to sell more than 25 cars yearly in Austria, a popular low priced American car sells for about $3,000 in Vienna. The same car costs about $500 in the United States."

Representatives of American firms have tried to get the government to consent to the production of American cars in Austria, or else grant a more liberal import quota. The government, however, has refused.

The new Austrian car which the government has in mind probably will be exempted from the ordinary tax, and tax on gas increased. Automobile experts say Austria is a rich market if it could be opened to low priced cars. It has the lowest car registration of any important country in Europe.

CLEVELAND JOBS HAVE NO TAKERS

CLEVELAND (Special)—More than 300 unutilized domestic jobs are on file at Cleveland State City employment bureau in city hall here, awaiting "takers."

And the harder it became to find experienced men, the higher the wages, according to the bureau.

"Experienced girls for machine shops are not available," said Mrs. Mabel Oliver, in charge of domestic employment. "We can't find the young people of the community who would otherwise be unable to complete their education. An employment was made to the community handout center to help in the purchase of equipment."

OIL, GAS PERMIT EXTENSION GIVEN

Prospectors Granted to Aug. 1 By Ruling from Secretary of Interior

BLAINE, May 10 (Special) — According to an announcement received by Ida H. Maloney, registrar of the United States land office, the secretary of the interior has announced that he had approved an order automatically extending until August 1, 1935, all oil and gas prospecting permits issued under the mineral leasing act of Feb. 25, 1920, and which would have expired on or before May 1, 1935, or between May 1, 1935 and Aug. 1, 1935.

The secretary announced that his action was taken in order to preserve outstanding equities of permittees whose permits would have expired before the date of pending consideration of bills H. R. 3330 and S. 1772 now in congress contemplating amendment.

Urges Amendment

In a letter to the committee on public lands of the house of representatives, the secretary suggested an amendment to the proposed bills amending the leasing act, which would preserve existing equities of permittees by granting an automatic extension until Dec. 31, 1935, of outstanding permits which have expired or will expire and vesting discretionary authority in the interior to grant an additional extension of one year, but not beyond Dec. 31, 1937.

The secretary pointed out that suggested amendment leaves the secretary of the interior the power to extend the term of permits which have not heretofore been considered for extension. The secretary stated that the reason for suggesting this amendment to bills H. R. 3330 and S. 1772 is to protect substantial outstanding equities of permittees by extending a reasonable period of time for the transition between the present leasing system and the new leasing system proposed by these bills.

LONE PAPA IS FAR-BACK ALSO-RAN IN DIAPER RACE

In a cloud of diaper powder with safety pins clicking a merry refrain, ten mothers and a father staged a whirlwind diaper-changing contest as part of the program of the Better Home exposition in Chicago. When the last flap had been folded, using the regulation "triangle" and "four-pin" systems, Mrs. Joseph Pizarzik, fourth from the left, was the winner, with record time of 29 seconds. The lone hapless father, Herbert Beck, was an also-ran, with his time of 39 seconds.

Wind Starts Carrying Pollens of Hay Fever

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN, Editor, Journal of American Medical Association, and National Health Magazine.
This is the time of year when the pollens begin to be blown about by the wind and when those who are sensitive to them begin to suffer with the sneezing, coughing and congestion that are characteristic of hay fever.

Long before we knew that the pollen were responsible, there came a certain season and we considered the extra sneezing one's residents to an area in which the pollens were not prevalent.

For example, it has been pointed out that Daniel Webster suffered from ragweed hay fever for 29 years and did not have the symptoms in 1829 when he spent the summer in Scotland.

It is known that the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher had hay fever and obtained relief when he went to the Catskill mountains. As long ago as 1875 Judge Gary mentioned the fact that he used to get relief from his hay fever in northern Michigan.

However, we people have traveled about and as intercommunal travel has grown, certain areas which used to have a fine reputation for being free from hay fever have lost their distinction with the invasion of ragweed coming in the wake of civilization.

A study has been made of the distribution of ragweed throughout the United States over a period of a good many years, and a system has been set up for finding out where it is.

ALLEY TRASH IRKS COUNCIL

Retire in the Twin Falls alleys is a problem which is causing much concern to the city fathers. At this week's session of the council it was agreed that some examples would have to be made soon against those who continue to pile alleys with debris.
"The garbage collector says that many of the alleys in the outlying districts just to shame them in the original townsite," said one of the commissioners. "Lacking an annual clean-up campaign here this year it was brought out that householder are required to transport accumulations of trash at their own expense, but that this cannot be longer delayed without some precautions being made."
