FORCEFUL BONUS VETO PROMISED

President Will Oppose Patman Bill in Strongest Terms, Secretary Says

were renewed as delivery of the inflationary Patman bill to the White House was again delayed.

The proposal to give the president three ways of paying the bonus was revived. The plan favored by Sen. Bennett C. Clark, D. Mo., would permit payment:

1. By bond issue.
2. By issuance of currency.
3. By taking part of all of the $250,000,000 out of the $4,000,000,000 work-relief fund.

To F. D. R. Friday

Patman forces now plan tentatively to send the bill passed last week by the senate and passed by the house to the president tomorrow.

A group of veteran leaders objecting to the strategy met in the office of Sen. Elmer Thomas, D. Ohio, and generally favored a plan which would give President Roosevelt opportunity to study the measure over the weekend.

Thomas would not discuss the possibility of a compromise bill from others it was learned such a proposal had been revived. Clark claimed the compromise bill would win at least six more votes than the Patman bill, the senate vote on which is three short of the two-thirds necessary to override a veto.

DENVER TO VOTE ON RECEIPTS TAX

City's Electorate Will Ballot May 21 on Levy for All Transactions

DENVER, May 16 (AP)—A gross receipts tax for the purpose of paying old-age pensions, will be voted on at the Denver city election May 21.

The tax, if voted favorably, would amount to a two per cent assessment upon gross receipts paid or payable from every sale and transaction, from every public and professional service of every kind and nature.

Insufficient funds for the payment of old age pension claims has created the necessity for enactment of a revenue equal to meet the demand.

$48,000 Deficit

The April deficit was $48,000. The deficit placed the city deficit at $50,000.

City Auditor William H. McNichols said "Denver's old-age pensions are becoming a hand-to-mouth proposition" and "no other choice presented itself."

"Either the pensions must be reduced, or more adequate and certain funds must be provided," McNichols said.

HUGE TELESCOPE HALF-WAY READY

Job of: Cooling, Perfecting Giant Glass Progressing Satisfactorily

CORNING, N. Y., May 10 (AP)—The half-way mark in perfecting a gigantic 200-inch telescope for the man's greatest effort to solve the mysteries of the universe has been reached without mishap, the United Press was informed.

The temperature of molten glass, slowly cooling in specially constructed annealing ovens, has been reduced to 735 degrees Fahrenheit from a high of 2,015 degrees Fahrenheit, Dr. George V. McCauley, physicist in charge of the casting of the mirror at the Corning Glass Works, disclosed.

All is well "All is well at this point and we expect it to continue," Dr. McCauley said. The telescope in being made for California Institute of Technology and will be set up on Mount Wilson.

After the casting of the glass December 1931, the temperature was reduced with comparative speed to 842 degrees, Dr. McCauley revealed. It was then raised to 925 degrees and kept there until Jan. 21. Since then, the temperature of the largest single piece of glass in the world had been lowered 14 degrees daily to prevent "defects" in cooling.

The intricate and varied precautions taken by scientists and engineers in charge of the cooling of the mirror to prevent a faulty product were related by Dr. C. Hoeltzler, director of research and development for the glass company.

Control Room "The entire regulation of the present instrument which is perhaps the most important phase of the construction, is directed from a control room 200 feet from the annealing oven," Dr. Hoeltzler explained.

"Ten automatic temperature controllers, electrically operated, keep the use at the proper temperature. Inside the annealer, in a squad of electrical 'detectors' called 'thermo-couples' are stretched about the oven. Each of these ingenious devices monitor every change of the day and night temperature. It reports constantly to the master electrical controller.

"In the control room, each day, men in charge of the work changes the signals on each of the ten controllers. He does not check all at once, but in 15-minute intervals. When any particular thermo-couple inside the annealer signals to the controller, the slightest variation from the temperature which has been set, is shown in this room automatically adjusted.

Astronomers believe the telescope will disclose unimaginable and almost unbelievable truths of the outer universe to the human eye.

LUPE'S TANTRUM DELAYS AIRLINER

And Fiery Actress Bangs Her Johnson on Button, Kicks Two Policemen

(Copyright, 1933, United Press) HOLLYWOOD, May 10 (UP)—Lupe Veloz was scheduled for a personal appearance in Philadelphia today but the good burghers probably won't be favored with the same routine she went through before she pulled freight in the film colony last night.

It cost Johnny Westmuller, Lupe's "Tarzan" husband, $480 and a swollen lip a Transcontinental Airways plane lost 22 minutes, and the actress blew a good deal of steam before she got through with an impromptu act at Grand Central air terminal.

Lupe arrived at the airport four minutes after the plane was scheduled to leave, but the pilots did her a favor and waited.

Stormy Arrival She stormed into the waiting room with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Blaine, her traveling companion.

"Goodbye Johnnie," she shouted, slapping him a kiss and dashing for the stairs. This she discovered her tickets, costing $480, were missing.

"My ticket—she is robbed," she shrieked and ran to a policeman and ran to the rescue.

"I need some more tickets," said Lupe, wringing her hands.

The ticket agent dished out the tickets and asked for $180.

"I'm insured," she screamed. "I am insured," she screamed.

ROOSEVELT BANS SPUD TARIFF CUT

Pope Secures Assurance That Reciprocal Treaties Won't Hurt Potatoes

By RALPH W. OLIMSTED WASHINGTON (Special)—During the past session of congress a constant flood of rumors that the administration was expecting to reduce tariff rates on potatoes have reached Washington. The rumors were of course, entirely out of harmony with the administration's program. None the less, they persisted. Growing tired of continually rebutting groundless fears, Senator Pope took himself to the White House for a statement from the President, and there won a valuable supervision all reciprocal tariff agreements are negotiated and executed. Substantiating pertinent statements to the contrary by G. O. Yarbrough, the President gave Senator Pope the assurance that the tariff on potatoes would not be reduced in any reciprocal tariff treaty.

That was not the only bit of cheer that the President gave to the Pacific northwest. He decided, on the senator's request, to order the Pacific northwest regional planning conference to make a survey of the resources and facilities of said area with view to conducting a next congress. Senator Pope's bill to create a Columbia Valley Authority, patterned after Senator Norris' famed TVA.

THEY GOT THERE
It is beginning to appear that if the Idaho congressional delegation can't get what it wants one way, it will do so another. Early in the session the Congressional delegation introduced a bill to authorize construction of new roads and the repair of old roads in mining camps. The house committee, to which Congressman Weller's bill was referred, recommended to the committee a bill to authorize construction of new roads, the need for roads was still very much in evidence. One of the Senator Pope had his mining bill, which now seems likely to pass, recommended to committee for amendment. Among others was an amendment providing for construction and repair of roads to mining camps wherever necessary.

PATENT'S INVENTION
A gentleman from Weiler, Idaho, named Z. Sharp, an inventor by choice, has been in Washington for several days negotiating for a patent on one of his inventions which, if our guess is correct, will revolutionize the motor car industry. Some say Mr. Sharp's activities are certainly a fine tribute to the self-reliance of Americans we have heard no much about. When he felt the pinch of depression, instead of being discouraged, his fate, he went to work to produce something of sufficient value to bring for him the burden of life to himself. Our opinion is that he has done just that and stands a good chance of becoming one of Idaho's very few millionaires.

SAVANT TELLS COSMIC CYCLE'S ORIGIN IN EVERYDAY LANGUAGE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Billions of Mother Star in an explosion caused by the penetration of an ice-covered star into the white hot Mother Star, and assumed gravitational paths around the sun and around each other.

Simple Words
That is a very simple statement of the theory, for Dr. Krumker shows that Hoerbiger was not concerned along with how this world came into being, but also with what brought it to its present physical condition. Hoerbiger accounts, to his own satisfaction and in a very plain manner, for example, for the final period, the creation of minerals, the creation of mountains, and all at various stages of the earth's history.

Not Scientific 'Tome
The book, "The Cosmic Cycle" (Doubleday Company, Philadelphia), makes no pretense of being a scientific tome. On the contrary, Dr. Krumker, of Pittsburgh, who has devoted most of his life to cosmic studies—taken pains to keep his story free of heavy, scientific verbiage. It is not his theory that he is explaining. It is the theory, known as Glacial Cosmogony—or how the universe was born from ice, which Hannu Hoerbiger, Viennese mechanical engineer and amateur astronomer, formulated about 30 years ago.

Hoerbiger's Cosmogony is based, simply stated, on the theory that the solar system including the sun itself, sprang from a giant star of such tremendous size that, for comparison, our sun appears only as a dot beside a three-inch-in-diameter circle, which represents the Mother Star. The solar system was thrown from the

LIFE INSURANCE SHOWS UPTREND

Business Last Year Revealed Definite Gain, National Group Asserts

With $58,600,000,000 of life insurance in force at the end of 1934, that year marked a definite uptrend in the total volume of new life insurance written, according to estimates of the National Association of the United States Insurers made public today by the Southern Idaho Life Underwriters' Association.

Increases for 1934 over 1933 totaling 10 per cent in ordinary life were written by the companies handling 90 per cent of this type of business, and the underwriters anticipate that the total for all forms of new life coverage written in 1935 may exceed the previous year by an even greater amount.

First Place 1929
The association points out, said A. O. Moulton, president, that this is the first year since 1929 that has shown an increase in volume of ordinary life insurance business as compared with the previous year. Every section of the United States showed definite increases in the last year. It is noted, these sections increasing ranging from five per cent to as high as 21 per cent.

The total of new life-insured business written in 1934 by all companies, including all forms of policies, is approximately $14,000,000,000, the association says. This would represent an increase of more than a billion and a quarter dollar over 1933.

EDUCATOR URGES MARRIAGE STUDY

Declares Preparation Should Be Fully as Thorough as In Other Lines

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Proper preparation for marriage and family life is urged by the Rev. Thomas F. Reilly, S. J., head of the social science department of Marquette university.

"Why is it," he asks, "that athletes, business men, doctors, lawyers, nurses and teachers submit to a long course of training and study to develop knowledge and skill and stamina so essential to success, and yet it is blandly assumed that a man and a woman can succeed in the difficult profession of marriage and parenthood just because they are of different sex?"

"Most marriages are really happy," Father Reilly believes,

"because most persons learn how to make compromises with difficulties. Preparation for matrimony and family life is necessary because marriage is the most important natural institution on earth."

Education for marriage should not have an exaggerated emphasis on physiological sex-education, he said. Objectives in education for wedded life outlined by Father Reilly are: correct ideas, habits and attitudes relative to marriage; a judicious choice of a life partner; and correct health knowledge and health habits.

SH! SPY—OR SOMETHING—GETS INSIDE JIM McLARNIN'S LAIR

By HENRY McLENNON
(Copyright 1935, United News)
SWAN LAKE, N. Y., May 16 (AP)—Explosive news it's up to the tip of the tongue of Jimmy McLarnin yesterday when a trap-drummer named Benny, who works in the hotel at Barney Ross headquarters, was caught watching the well-known champion's workouts.

Had it not been for the marshall detective work of McLarnin's press agent, "Doc" Morris, the spy undoubtedly would have escaped with his information. When he searched his person received a package of golf tees, a bottle of eyewash, a tin of soap and a pair of "State of Capri" and several hand-drawn notes on McLarnin's condition.

But forgotten by McLarnin, Morris, who has a photographic eye, spotted the spy just as Jimmy snatched off for work-out with a spring partner. It was quarters work on Morris' part for Benny had no means to conceal his identity.

He was wanted in a canny way. Benny had a pair of white knicker pants and had written himself in an inconspicuous spot on the inside of one of the knicker pants.

Once Morris spotted the intruder he was not to be troubled like a bloodhound, toward the room in the rear of the gymnasium where the photographer was hiding.

Pickett and Thomas limited the Angels to 9 hits, while the Indians were leading on Mack, Kimball and Gable for 14 safeties. The Indians' victory evened the series at one game each and temporarily halted the southerners' quest of the Oakland Aces' "Inauguration" berth.

SEATTLE BREAKS ANGELS' STREAK

Checks Los Angeles After 11 Victories in Succession; Oaks Win Another

By United Press
Seattle, Indiana, battling for more insurance against a sudden drop into the cellar, checked the Los Angeles Angels' 13-game winning streak with a 7-to-6 win over the Scraps at Wrigley field, Los Angeles, yesterday.

Pickett and Thomas limited the Angels to 9 hits, while the Indians were leading on Mack, Kimball and Gable for 14 safeties. The Indians' victory evened the series at one game each and temporarily halted the southerners' quest of the Oakland Aces' "Inauguration" berth.

Batters Drop Thriller
The Portland Beavers, meanwhile, did not fare as well in a night game at Sacramento. They dropped an 11-inning thriller to the Holywood Stars, 10 to 9. The Stars played errorless ball while Portland was booting five plays.

In a night game at Portland, the Oaks won 10 to 6 for San Francisco. In a night game at Sacramento, the Oaks won 10 to 6 for San Francisco.

IDAHOAN BOOSTS MONETARY PLAN

White Supports Goldborough Amendment to Maintain Price Levels

By H. L. H. W. OMBERTON
WASHINGTON (Special)—Idaho's Congressman Clifton D. White, a silver advocate, has expressed his devotion to a considerable portion of his time these days to the Goldborough amendment to the Administration's banking bill of 1935. His explanation of the amendment is as follows:

The Goldborough amendment would legislate a policy for the issuance of money in circulation through open market operations. It is to maintain a price level that would be determined by the average price of basic commodities. If the average of all commodities falls below the 1926 level, then it is mandatory on the federal reserve board to expand the currency. If it tends to go above the 1926 level, then it would be mandatory on the federal reserve board to contract the currency.

The amendment, the congressman feels, would stabilize prices, prevent devastating fluctuations in returns to farmers.

Senator Pope, Congressman White and Congressman Clifton D. White were busy for a week last week with their efforts to "pull the wool" from the public's eyes. The public works administration has not yet been organized, but a special representative is being selected to accept Idaho's application for approximately $200,000 annual water conservation projects. These will be the first projects to be considered by the new setup.

J. Leo Hood, Pocatello, is named to work progress administration for Idaho.

Big Projects
On big projects the situation is more unsettled. Information has reached Washington that "Johnny County" and "Catanilly Point" sites on the South Fork of the Snake river in Idaho, are to be sold, approximately 2,200,000 acre feet of water. The feasibility of the project is being studied, but it is understood that the bureau of reclamation will not act until the reservoir is completed when engineering approval arrives from Denver. A supplemental project to supply for the lake valley is of tremendous importance. Two separate projects have been discussed. First, reservoir facilities at Twin Fall Springs. Second, the Center Valley development, which will divert a million acre feet of water from the Payette river to the lake valley.

The bureau of reclamation views the Twin-Springs proposal with a "suspicious eye." The project, which is known as "somebody's folly," has become a double-edged sword. The Garden valley development, however, appears more feasible as over a million acre feet of water flow unappropriated down the river each year. It is a large project carrying permanent improvement for southwestern Idaho. It is favored by the bureau of reclamation. The Black canyon development is being pushed toward final approval.

Route Highway
In northern Idaho Senator Pope is coping with the completion of the Lewis-Clark highway, running from Missoula, Mont., to Portland, Ore. With the exception of 50 miles through the upper Clearwater canyon the road is practically all completed. There 10 miles would probably cost about two to three million dollars. The greater portion of which would be spent for labor. Officials of the bureau of public roads have not committed themselves officially, but are favorably inclined. If completed, it would be one of the most beautiful highways in the world.

P. S. Anyone who wants a "minus meal" may obtain one by writing to Senator Pope and asking for it.

Dr. Boyenger, Foot Specialist, Over C. C. Anderson, Ph. 333-J.—Adv.

Are you serving a MINUS MEAL?

Many wives, unknowingly, serve "minus meals." The food is good and well cooked. But it has little or no "bulk"—needed to promote regular habits.

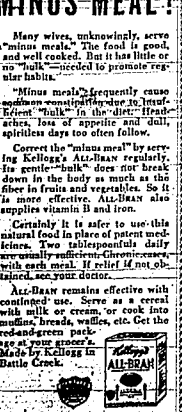

"Minus meals" frequently cause indigestion, constipation, flatulence, acidness, loss of appetite and dull, spiritless days too often follow.

Correct the "minus meal" by serving Kaffee's All-Bran regularly. Its gentle "bulk" does not break down in the body as much as fiber in fruits and vegetables. So it is more effective. All-Bran also supplies vitamins in abundance.

Certainly it is safer to use this natural food in place of patent medicines. Two tablespoonfuls daily with each meal. If relief is not obtained, see your doctor.

All-Bran makes effective with confining use. Serve as a cereal with milk or cream, or cook into molasses breads, waffles, etc. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer.

Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
