GUARDSMEN HOLD TRAINING IN RAIN

Downpour Falls to Halt Work As Troopers Prepare for War Problem

CAMP MURRAY, Wash., June 14 (AP)—Rain meant little in the view of about 6,000 Oregon, Washington, Montana and Idaho national guardsmen today as they continued their conditioning work and tactical training for the overnight layover and divisional re-assignment Thursday.

Artillerymen were on the range, Washington infantrymen took part in field maneuvers, and Oregon and Washington infantry regiments snatched through close order drill as part of the program of the week's first notebook concentrated of the first division since the World War.

Guardsmen apparently did not mind the rain since it settled that and rain drill was intensive. However, low ceiling kept the 11th observation and photographic planes grounded.

Infantry Troops

Brig. Gen. Maurice Thompson, adjutant general of the Washington national guard, inspected his troops yesterday. Brig. Gen. Carl A. Pennington, training line officer of Washington troops, flew to Fort Worth for inspection of heavy artillery units in training there. An 11-man salute greeted the general at the fort where he received his first commission in 1908.

Washington units received instruction today in chemical warfare, while artillery units were given 70 millimeter ammunition to practice for field duty tomorrow.

The first regiment retreat parade and formal guard mount were scheduled late today.

WEATHER LISTED AS CRASH CAUSE

Accident Killing Son, Outing Blamed on Forecasts and TWA-Violations

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 14 (AP)—Officials of TWA were "amazed" today by the report of the accident by the bureau of air commerce which said the commercial department regulations were violated prior to the crash of the line's "Sly" plane near Miami.

Jack Frye, president of TWA, asserted the findings were contrary to the testimony given at hearings conducted here and at St. Louis.

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper today blamed bad weather, inaccurate weather forecasts, and improper clearance at Albuquerque for the airplane crash in which the line Sen. Bronson Cutting of New Mexico was killed.

Roper issued the statement in making public reports on the crash to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and by the accident investigation board.

The plane crashed May 29 near Miami.

"I am convinced," the report said, "that the accident was due chiefly to bad weather conditions. The two pilots made every possible effort to land the plane safely but were unable to do so because of fog and darkness."

Contributory Causes

"Contributory causes were undoubtedly inaccurate weather forecasts from both the U. S. weather bureau and the company meteorologists given the pilots at Albuquerque on May 29; improper clearance by TWA ground personnel from Albuquerque; error on the part of the pilot in proceeding after he had been effectively communicated with the ground; and failure of the ground personnel at Kansas City to expeditiously re-dispatch the plane to a field with adequate lighting might be reported."

Roper said reports submitted to him by investigators indicated that TWA violated five regulations of the bureau of air commerce.

Appropriate action charging violation of the five regulations will be filed, Roper said.

KILLER OF WIFE GETS 8-16 YEARS

Steinmetz, Accused in Double Slaying, Sentenced for Girl's Death

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP)—Joseph Leib Steinmetz, 22-year-old former divinity student, was sentenced today to from 8 to 16 years in Sing Sing prison for the slaying of his 17-year-old bride, Ruth Armstrong Steinmetz, of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Steinmetz and the Rev. J. J. Leonard were shot to death last November in the private room at the Knights of Columbus hotel.

Steinmetz, son of an orthodox Jewish rabbi, said in a statement after the double slaying that he found his wife for the priest in a compromising situation. He contended the shock temporarily unbalanced him and that he was in a daze when he fired, killing both.

The prosecution contended by attacking the accuracy of the alibi, that he had an intention that he was in full possession of his faculties when he shot his wife and her father on their honeymoon at the time they had come from Los Angeles where the former divinity student married the film star. They met at a drinking party which preceded the slayings.

MOVIE COMEDIAN EYES SUCCESSOR

Harold Lloyd Fishing Around For Protege to Groom for His Old Roles

(Copyright, 1935, United Press)
HOLLYWOOD, June 14 (AP)—Harold Lloyd, respected film comedian, was reportedly fishing for a successor today.

Lloyd admitted he was toying with the idea of finding a protégé whom he could groom to wear his own clothes and clown in the Lloyd manner, but said he was uncertain whether he was ready to turn in his spurs.

"I will not act," he said, "and I may continue to appear on the screen."

However, the comedian said he would like to find someone who could follow in his footsteps in a revival-in-kind of some of his most popular successes—"The Freshman," "Grandma's Boy" and "Old Soggy."

Lloyd is about ready to begin production of a new picture for Paramount—"The Milky Way" adapted from the stage play.

The work was reported, however over the home of Norma Shearer and Irving Thurnberg today.

Miss Shearer was hurried to Cedars of Lebanon hospital and her physician indicated that the child could be expected "some time today or tomorrow."

The Thurnbergs already have one child, a son, who will be five years old in August.

Silas Shearer and Thurnberg, a production executive, were married in 1927.

Nana Collier, 16-year-old actress today was given court approval to start her career in motion picture.

A superior court judge approved Miss Collier's contract with Famous Players-Lasker, calling for an salary of $25 to $200 a week for a period of three years.

The young actress, a dancer, was "discovered" recently by Tuttle.

Hollywood, as seen through the eyes of Charles Star, one-time bushy-brow movie star of the silent era, is revealed in a book, it was revealed today.

They said he plans to name his work "Flowers for the Living" and described it as a "philosophical and metaphysical of the Twentieth century phenomenon."

He spent four years writing about what Hollywood is all about and what Hollywood is all about as an actor. "It is a book, a success after it is published."

APPEALS FILED BY BUHL PAIR

An appeal to district court was filed today by two Buhl men, Anthony H. Hansen and Wilfred J. Hansen, who were sentenced by Judge Guy L. Kinney in probate court guilty by a six-man jury to charges of having disturbed the peace at an encounter in a Duni restaurant last week.

Pending their appeal their bonds were fixed at $500 each, and those being furnished they are at liberty, Edward Babcock, county attorney, has proceeded to detain those who were represented by W. L. Dunn, Twin Falls attorney.

Twin Falls

Seen Today

One rabid fight fan, who declares he lost at least $100 on a night's event because he did not bet on Braddock's lorry-bit of humanity on Main street, accompanied in a club-fighter, but face darkened and weather-beaten, his figure slumped from a long stay on his back, wearing a pair of men's heavy work shoes, commencing a mad dash for the door as he approached along the sidewalk, found withering—no one knew. And another night that was witnessed almost daily, it is not about five persons walking abreast down a busy street, in total disregard for the convenience of other pedestrians. . . . Beautiful flag-draped here daily on a state, but for one occasion it is always at half-mast. . . . Most young women, always be seen with their hair curling, keeping their hair up. . . . Those who have visited the several new houses being erected in the residential section, being free in their comments on the details, and that they would have or would not have if they were building such a home.

PARIS, June 14 (AP)—The International Boxing Union will not recognize James J. Braddock as heavyweight champion of the world.

Braddock, announced today. Braddock explained that "the union" withheld its recognition from Max Baer about six weeks before last night's fight because of Baer's persistent refusal to defend the title against Pierre Charles of Belgium, outstanding challenger. Consequently the union refuses to recognize Braddock—Baer's opponent—because Braddock wishes recognition from the union, he must win it by entering the elimination series to be conducted by the union."

FLAG DAY

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States and to the Republic for which it stands, One Nation, indivisible With liberty and justice for all.

This is the "Pledge to the Flag," in universal usage in the United States. Today, on Flag Day, it is good for all to remember it, to repeat it.

The reason June 14 is Flag day is because it was on that date in 1777 that the flag of 13 stripes and 13 stars was authorized. It was in June also that Betsy Ross in 1776 was presumed to have made a Stars and Stripes flag from a pencil sketch supplied by Washington.

Never before in the lives of the present generation at least, has the government of the United States seemed so close to the individual citizen. Too often in the past the Republic was something to take cognizance of only at Fourth of July celebrations and on other patriotic occasions.

Today the governments is a vital agency in the lives of most everyone, and for the same reason the banner of the Nation should carry more significance, mark the pathway to increased happiness and stand as a beacon light to a more glorious future.

After all, the flag is more than a sign, more than a decoration. It is the visual emblem of the nation, providing something concrete to respect, to salute, to cherish.

In the past it has led victorious armies into battle, and because of this the flag more often than not has carried with it a martial air. But the same high patriotism which it has marshaled in times of stress, can be commanded also in times of peace, and it is in that spirit that the citizens of the United States today surround the flag and pledge to it their devotion.

Evidently America hasn't a monopoly on careless movers. In France last week three cabinets were dropped.

THE FAIR NEEDS YOUR HELP With dates for the Twin Falls County Fair but two months away it behooves the residents of this county to make thorough preparations for the event.

A fair, to be successful, must have (1) exhibits, and (2) people. People will not come unless there are interesting exhibits, and the exhibits are of no avail unless they are seen.

This county's exposition is different than many fairs in that it is county-owned and county-operated. It is your fair—any deficits being made up by taxation, and any profits going to decrease the fair levy.

The added interest engendered by this particular county fair should result in a desire on the part of all growers to strive to produce meritorious examples of vegetables, grains, fruit, livestock and other commodities.

Friendly rivalry between communities and individuals in those communities should be encouraged, not alone for the general result, but many persons have found it highly profitable to capture numerous cash awards.

There will be unlimited opportunity for cooperation with the fair on the part of merchants, livestock associations, 4-H clubs, Future Farmer groups, women's clubs, civic and service clubs, chambers of commerce and municipalities.

Already the Twin Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce has given way for the fair, deciding to abandon its suggested Jubilee celebration, and the Twin Falls Senior Chamber of Commerce is not staging a Fourth-of-July celebration. The fair—with its announced racing program, rodeo, livestock shows, merchants' exhibits, midway, horticultural shows and other attractions will require preparation.

Now if individuals will plan exhibits of the quantity and quality of the past, a successful and profitable fair at Filer September 10-13 is assured.

The fair needs and deserves the help of everyone.

While the states defeated the government in the recent U. S. Supreme Court NRA decision, there are no hard feelings. The states are sportsman-like enough to continue receiving relief money as if nothing had happened.

U. S. INVENTORS FRAUD VICTIMS

Unscrupulous Cheats Prey On Patent Holders by Varied "Skin" Games

NEW YORK (U. S. Invention)—Inventors in the United States are defrauded of millions of dollars by unscrupulous persons who make a regular business of preying on those who receive patent grants from the United States patent office. On the other side of the picture, inventors and business organizations who purchase patents in good faith are frequently victimized by unscrupulous inventors.

Data on fraudulent practices which the inventor and the purchaser of an invention must guard against have been compiled by the Twentieth Century Foundation, founded by Henry J. Goldman, one of the nation's most successful inventors and chairman of the Board of Cigarette Safety Razor company.

Offers Advice

In cooperation with New York University, Stevens Institute of Technology and the International Correspondence Schools, the Foundation seeks to provide competent advice and guidance for inventors and business executives in all matters relating to patents and inventions.

One of the most frequent proposals made by swindlers to inventors is to offer to sell the inventor's patent on a 25 per cent commission basis. This contract is so drawn that the swindler can, at any time, do nothing and await results. When the inventor, after a long wait fails to obtain a buyer for his arrangement, and then succeeds in finding one by other means, he discovers that he is not obligated to pay the swindler a fourth of what he receives.

Another favorite scheme is for the swindler to tell the inventor that he has a buyer who will pay a large sum for the Canadian rights provided a patent is taken out in that country. The inventor agrees to attend to it, say $200.

Pay High for Rights

The agreement to obtain the patent in Canada is carried out, but then the inventor is told that the buyer has changed his mind, the role is off. The inventor has his Canadian patent, but he has paid two or three times as much for it as he would have if he had gone about it through a reputable patent attorney.

There are unscrupulous persons as well as unscrupulous inventors who prey upon inventors. Probably the most common type of fraud under this head is for the inventor to sell what seems to be a valuable patent to one manufacturer, and then proceed to sell to a competing manufacturer a patent for an improvement which makes the first patent practically worthless.

Salmon Plant Work Nears Completion

HAGERMAN, June 14 (Special)—Work at the lower Salmon plant, which has been continued for the past three months, will be completed in ten days, it is reported. Two new turbines have been installed and the machinery within a week. It is estimated that the turbines will increase the plant capacity 15,000 horse power.

The Idaho Power company is instituting a program of rural extension through the system, which is increasing the tendency to take care of the extra load.

Awning Stripes in Style

Taking her inspiration from the fabric in hand, Missin Martin fashions an exclusive model that makes stripes and smartness synonymous. Cool and inviting on a hot Summer day is this sleekness sporty frock that means two buttons apiece on its shoulders. Not merely decorations, either... they serve to button on the jaunty little cape when you'd a walking go! A lot of interest—and a lot of admiration—will be achieved by the clever manipulation of the colorful stripes. After you've made up a striped suit like the one pictured, you'll want to make a bright yellow shantung for tennis and a lovely Hise sport suit to lend variety to your wardrobe. The whole pattern is so simple to handle you can turn out a most expert looking job in very short order! Sizes 14 to 20, $2 to $4.

To get pattern No. H9425, send 15c to Idaho Evening Times Pattern Department.

ITALY LOOKS TO BEET GASOLINE

Fuel From Sugar Vegetables Expected to Replace 20 Per Cent of Total

By VIRGIL PENNEY

ROME (U. S. Invention)—Italy is counting on its sugar beet industry to produce a substitute for 20 per cent of gasoline now used in the country.

Present domestic consumption is approximately 600,000 metric tons of 100,000,000 gallons annually. About all of this must be imported since Italy produces only small quantities of sugar beets.

Parma, Abruzzi and Sicily and from concessions in Albania. Gasoline is obtained from Abruzzi and Sicily by distilling asphalt.

There is a possibility that petroleum supplies will be developed in the Italian colony of Eritrea. Indications of oil are prominent in and around Massawa.

War Factor

Production of even 20 per cent of the gasoline used will make Italy less dependent on outside supplies, especially in the event of war. Military circles are agreed generally, however, that it is unlikely that all sources of supply could be cut off unless shipping was bottled up.

The Beet and Sugar Guild has been experimenting with the distillation of alcohol from sugar beets. These studies have resulted in the Guild deciding to increase materially the sugar beet crop from its present total of 21,000 acres. An additional 110,000 acres are expected to be planted within the next three years.

Important Hint

The new provision of littering will play an important part in developing a substitute for gasoline in the form of alcohol. It is admirably suited to the culture of sugar beets. Much of the reclaimed Pontine marsh lands will be used for growing beets.

An average output of 22-23 and various hectoliters of fuel can be obtained from each hectare planted to beets. The Guild hopes to reach an output of 1,000,000 hectoliters of spirits in 1938.

VELVET USED IN PARISIAN STYLES

Serves as Summer Trimming For Gowns Made by Famed Heim Shop

By MARY FENTRESS

PARIS (U. S. Invention)—Lots and lots of velvet is used for trimming summer ensembles in the new Paris collection. Printed materials are used only with plain materials and this is often true. There are few velvet skirts, velvet hats, and velvet linings for jackets or trimming on shirts and corsets.

Heim says that the summer formal this year should be more "immaculate" than the "Normandie" of the elaborate Paris ensembles. It will start the end of the month, and other occasions which call for greater formality in dress.

Afternoon Gown

An afternoon or cocktail gown shown by this house has a drape of black velvet which is worn with a blouse of black organza printed in white dots, the size of peas. The blouse has short, puffed sleeves and a circular peplum below the belt of black velvet. Naturally, a hat of black velvet completes the ensemble.

The tulle is still considered very smart. Heim shows one in a natural colored linen, embroidered in brown silk, which is worn over a brown velvet skirt. A "big" bow of linen, lined in velvet, is placed at the corset front and the tulle skirt is much fuller than the velvet one below. Or brown velvet is the little cap, modeled after the peasant bonnet of the French provinces. It is worn off the face, much like a baby's bonnet and is held on the head by a small chin strap.

TODAY'S FASHION TIP

Print used much velvet as trimming for summer clothes. There is more formality to clothes this season.

RIVER RESTORES LAND TO CHURCH

Capricious Missouri Gives Back Acreage "Stolen" Quarter Century Ago

LANGDON, Mo. (U. S. Invention)—The capricious Missouri river had dropped a little contribution of 40-acre tract of land into the collection box of St. Peter's Lutheran church here.

Twenty-five years ago the church and community burial ground occupied one corner. But because of higher ground for the pastor.

Cemetery Moved

A change in the course of the river, however, resulted in destruction of the acreage. Bodies were exhumed from the cemetery for burial in higher ground. The church was moved.

A few months ago the river changed its mood and began rebuilding the ground. Now, officers of the church say, the 40 acre tract has been restored completely. Federal channel development projects under construction near here will control the river's course in the future, preventing recurrence of the destructive mood.

SHAKESPEARE IS NEW SOVIET HIT

Faithful Productions Arouse Enthusiasm After Initial Poor Adaptations

MOSCOW (U.P.)—Shakespeare now "rules the boards" in Russia. He has become one of the most popular dramatists in the country within the past few years.

"Shakespeare's tempestuous rivalry through the Soviet Union is now one Soviet writer describes his present vogue.

The story of this movement can be judged from the amount of Shakespearean drama now being shown in various cities throughout the country.

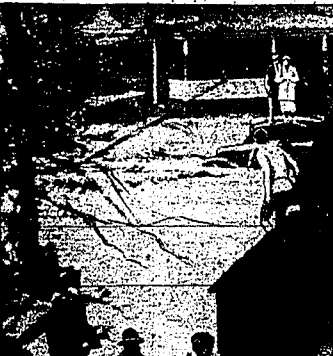

In Moscow the Kamerny theater is showing "Anthony and Cleopatra," the Theater of the Revolution is producing "Hamlet and Othello," and by its production of "King Lear" the Moscow Jewish theater has won both the prizes of critics and first place among the producers of the famous play.

PICTURES TELL FLOOD TRAGEDY

Facing approaching death calmly this man and woman stood atop their stalled auto in flood-swollen Fountain creek at Colorado Springs, as hundreds grouped at points of safety back from the torrent watched in horror, praying for a miraculous rescue. Pinned on the bars roof across from the couple a swimmer weighed his chance of helping into the roiling stream to attempt a rescue.

The flood crept higher, but no plea came from Helen Carver and Orville Neil. They dropped to their knees for steeper positions as the auto was turned end for end by the swift, mounting current. The swimmer on the left had seen the futility of a rescue plunge. Debris and rising water forced spectators from the foreground. A few moments later the two victims were swept to their death.

JOE BROWN DOES OWN STUNT WORK

Large-Mouthed Movie Comedy Star Refuses 'Donkeys' For Tough Jobs

By NORMAN B. DEUEL

HOLLYWOOD (U.P.)—Joe E. Brown, who learned to take his hard knocks with the rest of the crowd back in his circus days, can still take them for the films.

If there are any more hazardous jobs, Brown will take them himself if the stunt is within his ability. Only for some feat of acrobatics which requires special training will he permit a double to be used.

Sometimes this insistence on taking his own "risky brings knock and wreathed back.

He was laid up for a week during production of his latest picture, "Alidie," because he engaged in a rough and tumble knock-down-and-out fight with a trio of wildpayers. He came out of that fracas with a severely cracked knuckle.

Warner Brothers wanted to have expert stunt men double for him some months ago while filming a particularly dangerous scene in "Six Day One Week," but Brown refused. He climbed aboard a bicycle, whirled around the saucer, and while circling followed the action planned through the railing into a group of seats. He was bruised and battered, but continued with the picture.

Lion Tamer

Before that, Brown was making a picture called "Circus Clown." The script required him to carry a cage of lions, and a double was suggested. "I'll do myself," the comedian answered.

The lions were not ancient nor scoldish. They had long, sharp claws and their teeth were perfect. They got in a few clawings and a nip or two before Brown finished the sequence.

Brown knew himself in good physical condition to permit the acrobatics required in some of his pictures. Sports and exercises keep his body youthful, and he can still burn a baseball from center field to the plate, or hit the dirt with the best of them.

SILENT PICTURE OF FLEEING GARBO

"Nix!" That was Greta Garbo's classic farewell to America as she sailed from New York for a vacation in Sweden. Going to great lengths to avoid newspaper and the public, she tumbled to the ship from Newark, N. J. An alert cameraman caught her peering at New York out of a last window, however.

SAVANNAH SAYS TRIP TO PLANETS NEEDED TO VERIFY LIFE HINTS

ANN ARBOR, Mich., (U.P.)—Modern science is still far from determining if there is life, as we know it, on the 1,000,000,000,000,000 (quintillion) stellar systems known to man. In the opinion of Dr. Heber D. Curtis, observatory director at the University of Michigan, only an expedition to the solar planets would determine if there is life beyond the earth, according to Dr. Curtis, who predicted that within the next two centuries man would develop a rocketship powered by an atom bomb (A.T.M.), which will make a round trip to the moon.

Even the 200-inch telescope now being constructed for a California observatory will not definitely determine whether there is life in the glowing globes of the firmament, Dr. Curtis said. "A 2,000-inch telescope could one be made would enable us to make out any signs of a creative nature on the surface of a neighbor planet."

However, Dr. Curtis granted that no astronomer is able to peer there is no extra-terrestrial life.

Rose Party Held by Jerome Civic Club

Luncheon was served by the Methodist Ladies Aid society at the home of Mrs. A. Spear. Annual reports will be heard and other important business transacted.

RIVERSIDE

A large attendance was reported at the Y. M. C. and school children's picnic held on the Lutheran church grounds, Sunday afternoon. The band played several numbers. The school children sang many songs and presented several interesting dialogues and recitations. There were four contests for the school children. Many contests for grown-ups were also features of the day's program.

Kurt Westendor returned home Saturday evening from Portland, Ore., where he was among the graduating class at the Concord Seminary.

NEW FABRIC PUT INTO PRODUCTION

Textile Company Finds Method For Combining Fibers of Varied Material

FALL RIVER, Mass., (U.P.)—New fabrics are now being produced by a radically novel technique developed secretly by the United Cotton Textile company.

They demonstrate the benefits of combining fibers of different filaments, in variations of paper, textile and rubber processes apparently all invented by the company.

Details of the process have not been made public but Arthur D. Little, Inc., industrial chemists state in a bulletin:

"It is one fiber, usually, but wool, rayon, cotton, hemp, jute, etc., any of the vegetable, animal or metallic fibers could be employed. We would hazard that the machinery principles have been combined with those of rubber and new machinery and a new technique involved."

SHOSHONE

Suplt. J. F. Willmore and family went to Nampa, Tuesday, to be gone until July.

Mrs. Venetta Albert, Shoshone, accountant, was awarded the contract for auditing the books of the Shoshone school district in a meeting held Monday evening.

Mrs. D. Shiny Smith, stenographer, was elected member of the Episcopal Guild at a 6 o'clock breakfast at the Shoshone school house, Tuesday.

Mrs. Angie Durfee, county superintendent of schools, left Saturday for Moscow, where she will attend the two weeks session of summer school for county superintendents.

MOVIE PLAYERS USE ICE WATER IN COLD SPELL

By NORMAN B. DEUEL

HOLLYWOOD (U.P.)—In Hollywood they drink ice water in cold weather rather than hot coffee or chocolate.

It is not a costly Hollywood custom, but a necessity on certain sets, for without the use of ice water it would not be possible to film "warm weather" scenes when the temperature takes a drop in the film city.

The reason is simple. When the air is cold, one's breath is marked by vapor, looking to the camera like thin smoke.

Out of Place

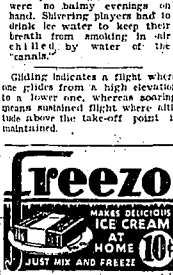

Streaming sweat obviously is out of place in "warm weather" scenes, and the players refuse to let water on their faces—would they may be. The chilled water reduces the temperature of the mouth and the breath does not condense into vapor.

An example was the filming of "Broadway Melodrama." The stars, when the camera makes use of a beautiful Venice setting with colorful buildings and gondolas, are lit in the moonlight as Dick Powell and Joan Blondell make love.

The script described the scene as taking place in "rainy evening" and there were no rainy evenings on hand. Shivers were had to drink ice water to keep their breath from smothering in air chilled by water on their "canals."

Gliding indicates a flight where the plane from a high elevation is gliding in a warm atmosphere. The plane is gliding above the take-off point in a "rainy" evening.

FUROR THREATENS OVER AMAZING BRADDOCK VICTORY

Confusing Angles of Baer's Loss Puzzle Gotham Commission

Board Will "Consider" Fight at Meeting; Maxie Announces Retirement But It Isn't Taken Seriously

BY STUART CAMERON
NEW YORK, June 14 (UP)—The greatest furor of modern boxing threatened to break today around James Jay Braddock's amazing victory over Max Baer in their world heavyweight championship fight last night.

BOARD CHAIRMAN REFUTES RUMORS OF FIGHT PROBE

Better Man' Won Bout, Says New York Chief; Baer's Hands Bruised

NEW YORK, June 14 (UP)—While the new heavyweight champion, James J. Braddock, today layed low to a flock of reporters and cameramen at his hotel today, and Ex-Champ Maxie Baer—stunned and bleeding—was being taken to the hospital, the board chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, John P. Phelan, "considered" the fight.

Not "Killing" Baer, Braddock was a 7-to-1 shot. He was said to be unusually light wearing and in the "killing" of Baer.

To make the ring just a little more interesting, a little more look-into-the-seriousness of the rumour was the fight itself.

Veteran followers of heavy-weight boxing were unanimous in hailing the Braddock-Baer go the history.

Baer, who was credited with killing one man in a fight and who had more than his share of furious, fiery, annihilated careers, never opened up.

He was merely hiding his time, he said, and he was in a dire conclusion, but Baer never opened up.

But the least amazing angle was Baer's hands. The writer said at Baer's corner, "As Max went into the fight, he was in the round he turned, held out his hands, and they were down at his knees."

He held up his left. "It's gone, too. Both broken. Both are in a bad shape after an 'I'll show you.'"

But the hands were not broken. Baer's victory saved both.

For once the heavyweight championship change had a decision without the usual argument among sports writers over the verdict.

Baer surprised the writers who crowded into his dressing room, announcing his retirement.

That was the last thing he expected to hear. Baer—indeed, he was the dough he had from his managers—and that under no circumstances would he be a million dollars richer in 10 years he was a toppler, will quit.

Braddock's position is curious. He is champion of the world. Had the fight been close, he might be hailed as the all-time miracle man of boxing. As it is, it's a miracle that he's champion.

Here's Comment BY N. Y. Scriber
NEW YORK, June 14 (UP)—Sports writers comment on the decision in the Braddock-Baer fight.

Jack Milley, Daily News—The fight was a real war. Baer fought a 10-cent fight, and the Jersey Jockey, holder of the title, was a monkey out of his mind.

Richard Winner, Herald Tribune—It is hard to believe that the new champion is the best the pugilistic profession has ever known.

James P. Dawson, Times—One of the worst heavy-weight fights in the history of the ring.

NEW CHAMPION BRADDOCK PLODS WAY TO VICTORY

Stubborn, Courageous Irishman Fought With Background of Hardships

BY JOE ALEX MORRIS
NEW YORK, June 14 (UP)—The new champion, James Jay Braddock, plodded his way to victory.

He blundered into his first fight as a kid and won a lot of bull-corn contests. Found the same kind of a score of times. He courted Miss May—five months—and she finally gave him a wedding ring.

He plodded in the footsteps of his brothers as a fighter. He fought 82 bouts from 1923 to 1932 and suffered the depression, but without ever losing his nerve.

Plooding still, he picked Max Baer. Contradictory Pair Never did the two more contradictory men get into a championship fight.

Baer, champion, quick-silver, trim and, sometimes, viciously fierce.

Braddock, underdog, stolid, stubborn, and unemployable.

The new champion was a messenger boy, printer's devil, window cleaner and unemployed for three children.

Stamman born of labor, plus determination drawn from hardships, stamped his big muscular body in the ring.

Under the arc lights, walter still, by contrast, when he stood before an unbroken, smiling champion.

Achieves Dream Goal Braddock's first fight he had dreamed of for years. So many times he had dreamed of it.

He put his neck of scrubby hair back toward his shoulder, looked up under lusty eyes.

German Promoter Changes Bid For Schmeling Clash To New Champion

AMSTERDAM, June 14 (UP)—Walter Rothberg, German promoter, announced today that he had called heavyweight champion James J. Braddock a guarantee of $100,000 to fight ex-champion Max Schmeling at Amsterdam.

Rothberg, who had been planning to come to the United States to negotiate for a Maxie Baer-Bradrock fight, shifted his offer to Braddock as soon as the latter appeared in the ring.

Braddock offered Baer a guarantee of $100,000. Rothberg said that if Braddock accepted the offer to defend his title in August, he will give a chance to meet Schmeling.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

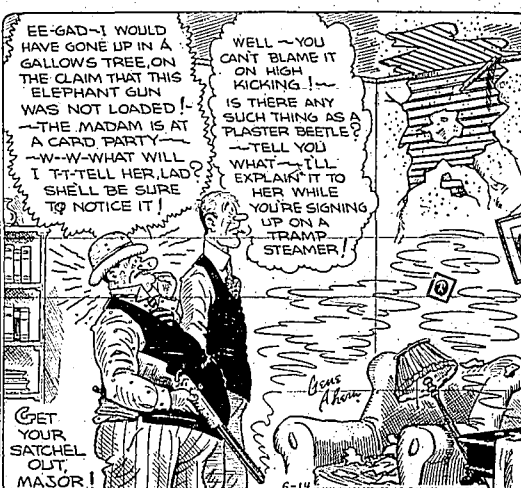

ONE PAIR OF MEADOW MICE COULD HAVE 275 BILLION DESCENDANTS WITHIN 12 WEEKS IF EVERY DESCENDANT LIVED AND BREED NORMALLY OVER THAT PERIOD!

THIS IS APPROXIMATELY 6000 MEADOW MICE FOR EVERY SQUARE MILE OF LAND SURFACE ON THE ENTIRE EARTH.

ALL ACIDS IN FRUITS DO NOT REMAIN AS ACIDS IN THE BODY. CITRUS FRUITS CHANGE TO AN ALKALINE.

The meadow mouse population, if given a second period of 10 years, with each pair duplicating the record of the original pair, would amount to about four hundred billion mice for every square yard of land surface.
