Cotton Lingerie's Back in Fashion, But in New And Pleasing Creations

By MARIAN YOUNG

(INEA Service) NEW YORK—A lot of lingerie news has flowed across fashion pages since days when grandmothers wore miniskirt pantaloons with ruffles of lace.

There were years when ribbed cotton knit all-in-ones, under ruffling taffeta petticoats, were the height of luxury. Later, those horrible silk lewis that stretched out of shape with the first washing took the country by storm. Then came modern knits that hold their shape and well tailored taffeta crepe and crepe de chine creations.

This summer, we've turned back the pages. Cotton underwear is all the rage.

New and beautiful it is, too, certainly a far cry from grandmother's ill-fitting petticoats and post-scientific cotton corset covers. These new garments, designed to go under silk as well as cotton and linen summer dresses, are as carefully tailored as the finest satin lingerie.

Since they readily absorb moisture, they'll help to keep you cool and comfortable, too, even in the hottest weather. They're an astounding relief.

First Fringe and Crepe There are alphas, pants and all-in-ones of finest dimitz that feel fresh and crisp against your skin and are extremely easy to wash and iron. These come in handkerchief sizes, too, for often trimmed with fine pleating of self material or bands of exquisite cotton lace.

The nightgowns, so beautifully designed as your formal evening gowns and featuring novelty cut-outs, slit and flares, come in dimitz, deep coral, rose red, lime green and brown as well as light-shaded shades and the prints include dots, floral patterns and geometrics—are as interesting as the nightgowns. Cotton negligees to go over them are charming, too.

Slips, straight and bias, have built-up necklines that look prettily under sheer blouses. Incidentally, cotton slips will blouse tops and straight skirts to new heights. With short sleeves and daytime necklines, they take the place of separate blouses. Simply slip on over next cotton pantie and then get into your summer lingerie. The top of the slip is your blouse.

GETS NEW PLANE PARIS, Brazil, June 18 (AP)—The steamship Duquenois arrived from Europe today with a new plane for Ignacio Pombo, young Spanish pilot who crashed in Brazil on a romantic transatlantic flight to see his sweetheart in Mexico City.

The plane will be assembled here and Pombo plans to resume his flight to Mexico City June 24.

Entirely free of governmental jurisdiction, the bureau will be headed by a group of influential businessmen, including business men, bankers and newspaper editors throughout the country. When fully opened, it will have enough capital to finance any project.

Comte Fene de Chambrun, one of the leaders of the movement for the establishment of this bureau, explained that the object is to supply data on France to students and business men as well as to tourists.

"Our advantage," Comte de Chambrun declared, "is that we are Americans that France is a country the sum total of whose qualities exceeds the sum of all of others."

He said that the movement for the establishment of such an institution in New York was started several months ago and already has received the support necessary to make it a success. Marshall Field has agreed to act as president of the organization and has drawn up an impressive list of officers and directors.

Let's take it in connection, France," said the Comte de Chambrun, "has hampered American business by its tariff policy and its operation with those across the Atlantic, but find this impossible to attain through the usual means. Making the first step, Realizing this, a group of influential Frenchmen have formed an association for purpose of pushing this plan to completion."

COLLEEN MOORE SEEKS DIVORCE

Actress Files Suit on Charge Of Cruelty; Janet Gaynor Suffers Injury

(Copyright, 1935, United Press) HOLLYWOOD, June 18 (AP)—Colleen Moore's husband, treated her so badly he made her ill, the black haired actress charged today, so she took steps to get rid of him via the divorce route.

An hour after Miss Moore won a preliminary divorce hearing, she filed her complaint with an affidavit in superior court seeking a divorce from Albert H. Scott, New York broker who she married in Port Pierce, Mo., Feb. 15, 1927, a year after she divorced her first husband, John McCormick, studio executive.

Miss Moore accused her husband of being extremely cruel and unreasonably jealous and said he intentionally insulted her friends so often that she separated from him in January.

Miss Moore, 33 years old, is one of the screen's veteran actresses, having made her film debut at the age of 15.

With the advent of talking pictures she went into eclipse. Recently she made a nationwide tour with a doll house filled with objects of art and costing nearly half a million dollars. Proceeds from exhibition of the doll house will be turned over to charity.

Janet Gaynor, fragile-looking motion picture actress, was recognized today from a concussion of the brain.

She suffered the injury when she fell from a horse while riding in a field near her home in California. She was taken to the hospital and is expected to recover.

MACDONALD MAY MAKE U. S. TRIP

Good Will Mission for Former Premier Hinted and Denied At London

By FREDERICK KUH (Copyright, 1935, United Press)
LONDON, June 18 (UP)—Responsible American quarters have been unofficially told that the government intends to send former Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald on a good will mission to Washington.

No official intimation has been received that Mr. MacDonald might visit the United States, and authoritative British quarters described reports of a possible visit as a fiction.

It seemed possible in view of conflicting statements that some British leader, probably MacDonald, might visit Washington if the kick were encouraged.

Cooperation Help
Reports in usually well-informed newspaper circles first mentioned the idea, and said that members of the cabinet are going to meet in line with their policy of seeking close American cooperation in view of pending war problems.

It was understood in American quarters here that if the suggestion for a visit by MacDonald were made officially, he would be named as a special envoy to the United States to inquire into alleged American aid to the Japanese.

It was also understood that the cabinet would effect in concrete form the desire of the cabinet for a similar collaboration.

Not Qualified
It was pointed out for instance, that MacDonald might be doubted to be qualified to discuss American collaboration.

Moreover, American officials are convinced that the prevailing easy money by entering an agreement before the parliamentary election would be expected around October.

Conversations about the trip had been going on for some time, but somewhat doubtful until except on the present diplomatic basis, as a matter of government, it would be ready to actively oppose Japan's advance in China.

Finally, an useful purpose was seen in American quarters in connection with a visit by MacDonald to the United States to inquire into alleged American aid to the Japanese.

It was also understood that the cabinet would effect in concrete form the desire of the cabinet for a similar collaboration.

FATE OF ECCLES BILL UNCERTAIN

New Deal Leaders Determine To Abandon Bank Measure Unless Pressed

By H. O. THOMPSON (Copyright, 1935, United Press)
WASHINGTON, June 18 (UP)—Administration leaders agreed privately today that there was likelihood of abandonment of the Eccles bill unless strong White House pressure is exerted on Congress.

The bill, which would bolster Federal reserve control over the nation's banking system, has encountered difficulties which were said to have been aggravated by a lukewarm attitude toward the measure.

Agree on Sidetracking
New Deal leaders, seeing a possible chance to speed adjustment of the banking bill, have reached a virtual agreement calling for its abandonment unless the White House instructions to prolong the session until it can be passed.

Opponents of the bill, however, legislation has not given up hope but admit the difficulties they are facing.

The Eccles bill has been ill-starred from the beginning. The nomination of Margaret B. Eccles as governor of the Federal reserve bank up by Sen. Carter Glass, D. Va., delayed action.

Class—Chairman of the Senate appropriations committee and chairman of a special banking subcommittee, had control over both the nomination and the bank reform bill. He did not begin consideration of either until he had completed his long-drawn-out controversy with the administration over its work-related program.

The Virginia conservative, voting bitter antagonism to some of the bank bill's features, had protracted sub-committee hearings and now is engaged with his subcommittee in a leisurely review of the testimony.

Another Two Weeks
At the speed Glass is proceeding it probably will be another fortnight before he passes the measure along to the full banking committee, which in turn must consider it and report it to the Senate before that body can act.

Another complication is the expiring date, July 1, of the temporary Federal deposit insurance legislation. This will be succeeded on that date by the permanent Federal deposit insurance legislation unless title 1 of the banking bill is enacted separately from the rest of the measure, as advocated by Glass.

Can You Tell Stars By Real Names?

HOLLYWOOD, (UP)—Billings in Hollywood—and not many would be surprised as they may be—has a good name for himself. Louise (1) and John (2) are going places. He is in line with their policy of seeking close American cooperation in view of pending war problems.

Formula Helps Perfect Plane
Professor's Method Will Mean Greater Safety in Future U. S. Aircraft

CINCINNATI, O. (UP)—Dr. Harold W. Siberer, associate professor of mathematics in the college of engineering and commerce at the University of Cincinnati, has by research evolved a formula which will allow manufacturers to take another step toward the design and construction of the "perfect airplane."

For years airplane manufacturers have guessed at the exact part of the structure would undergo in making maneuvers. Text-books and the department of commerce literature have either ignored or been indefinite when the point was brought up.

Professor Siberer has evolved a mathematical computation which considers all the forces and stresses as they actually exist.

Tests have been conducted on a full-sized model plane by the aeronautical engineering department and his calculations were within five per cent of the test findings.

YOUNG DEFENDS HOLDING FIRMS

General Electric Head Favors Stopping Abuses Instead Of Total Abolition

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 18 (Special)—I see no more reason for abolishing the holding company merely because abuses have crept into its operation than I do for abolishing the automobile because of the disasters which come from reckless drivers," Owen D. Young, vice-president and chairman of the board of the General Electric company, stated in a letter which he wrote to Senator B. K. Wheeler of Montana. "The important thing is to restrict and correct the abuses and not abolish a useful instrument," said Mr. Young.

"It is an conviction that the holding company is a useful instrument through which to group utility operating companies which by their nature, must be owned by a holding company. In this way the cost of power can be reduced, service can be given to communities which could not otherwise obtain it and the safety of investments can be increased through the diversity factor over which it would be in any one of the individual operating companies."

Real Reason
Young, in his letter, quoted testimony he gave recently before a subcommittee of the senate in which he stated that there is a real reason for having holding companies.

"There is a great advantage not only from the standpoint of connecting different units with transmission, but there is a great advantage in the technical side in uniting those different operating companies and there is also some justification for the public utility field through a holding company; whereas, in the manufacturing business you are able to get it by one straight operating company."

WORDIEST TEXAS LAW SUIT ENDED

Longest Case Ever Recorded In State Finally Comes To Finish

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—A ruling for the plaintiffs by the supreme court of Texas recently ended the longest case ever tried in state courts.

The case — Palmisto Lumber company vs. J. P. Gibbs — required 24 weeks in court and resulted in 4,500 typewritten pages of verbal testimony.

A district court's opinion in favor of the lumber company was upheld by the supreme court.

More than a week was required to read the "briefs" in the case, the plaintiff submitting 1,070 pages and the defendant 1,341. A. C. Foster, plaintiff's witness gave testimony for 31 days.

Exhibit filled 601 bound pages for the plaintiff and 937 for the defendant. There were approximately 1,000 sheets of loose evidence.

The Palmisto Lumber company entered into a contract with Gibbs in 1907 to borrow $100,000 to purchase and divide a tract of timber. The contract provided that the company would pay such expense and interest, carrying charges and taxes. The company defaulted in 1927, ten years after contract, and asked for division of profits, but was told interest had continued to accrue.

The firm's suit asked for an accounting and $1,100,000.

RARE OPERATION SAVES CANADIAN
REGINA, Sask. (UP)—One of the most unusual stories of Saskatchewan surgery has just trickled out of the province. It is the story of the first major surgical operation ever performed in a leisurely review of Saskatchewan.

A trader, J. E. Burnout, was seriously ill with a strangulated hernia. An immediate operation was imperative, but the spring break-up blocked any effort to take the patient out to civilization and a hospital.

Admirable Conditions
So Dr. F. E. Lavigne, superintendent of the Regina General Hospital, aided by Rev. Sister Gauger and Nurse Anne Flaplin, performed the operation under conditions that would spell a city surgeon.

Sanitation was by crudest methods. The operation was performed at night and the only light available was from two kerosene lamps.

The operation was a success and Burnout quickly rallied, and within eight days was out of danger.

80,000 PACK POWHIGKEEPSIE FOR U. S. CREW CLASSIC TODAY

BEARS FAVORITE AS START NEARS

Washington Ranked as Second Choice With Navy, Chief Hope of East

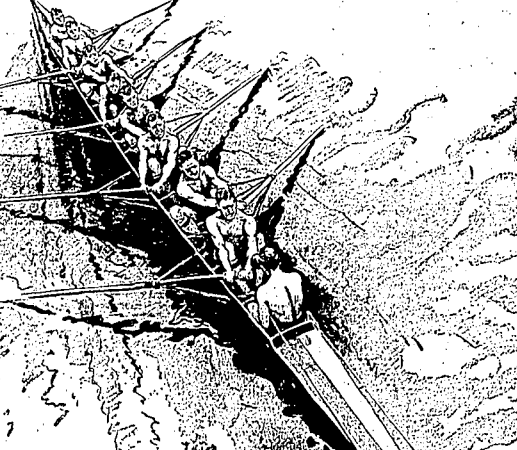

By STUART CAMERON
United Press Staff Editor
POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 18 (AP)—California's Golden Bears ruled even-money favorites today as the 80,000 pack of sports enthusiasts crowded into the Hudson river city to witness the annual Poughkeepsie regatta.

Veteran river men, although expecting anything but a sure race, tell you that the Bears are the crew to beat in the four-mile varsity event. "Scotty" (Scott) in the minds of the experts and of the towns, is the favorite to win. Another west coast entry, Washington, and the chief favorite of the east, Navy's drab blue crew.

Others seem inferior. The winner, according to all but the most avidly partisan, will come from this outstanding trio. Cornell and Syracuse are strictly on form and off the record of the time trials, but Syracuse finishing as good as third, while Columbia, even in the minds of the racing pundits, is relegated to seventh and last place.

It will be near-twilight when some 80,000 spectators echo the yell starting the varsity test. This event is scheduled to start at 7 p. m. (EDT), but the Poughkeepsie regatta is in full swing.

MATSON BEAUTY SALON OPENING

Spacious New Establishment Located on Trullinger's Mezzanine Floor

Opening today in the balcony of the Trullinger pharmacy, now located in the former Booth building, Main avenue south, in the Graves Matson beauty salon.

Nine attractive booths, fitted with brown and gold draperies, have been installed in the commodious, cool balcony and the proprietor announces that the latest and most modern facilities are being provided. Assistants include Miss Edna Darland and Mrs. Hattie Heasley. The latter will join the organization June 24.

Over the weekend the drug store men installed new linoleum in the main floor, the material having been delayed in shipment from New Jersey and was not obtainable at the time the store occupied its new quarters. There are 3,600 pounds of the floor covering, and it required 500 pounds of cement to be laid. Cost of this improvement to the Trullinger store is said to be $500.

H. & M. GETTING LARGE FOUNTAIN

Workmen Put Finishing Touch On New 28-Foot Equipment At Cigar Store

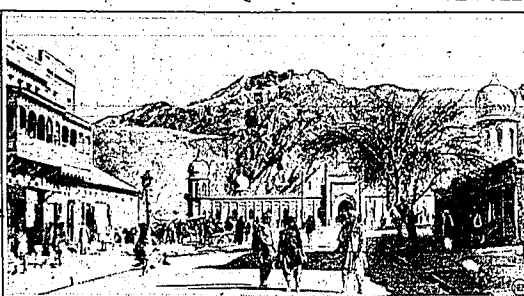

Workmen today are putting the finishing touches on the installation of a new 28-foot L-shaped fountain and lunch stand in the H. and M. cigar store, Main avenue east, in readiness for putting the convenience into use Thursday. It is stated by Frank Stapley, manager.

The new fountain is already being used at the cigar store. It is of a Moser-Hartman manufacture, and is cooled by a Universal plant. The entire equipment was made especially for the local store and is being installed under the direction of Fred Condit.

Hot lunches and sandwiches will be new features of the fountain service, and it is stated by Stapley that beer, both bottled and draught, will be added to the line.

Hundreds of dead and injured were taken from ruins of the native quarter of Quetta, and life loss was great in the fertile and beautiful district surrounding the city of 17,000. Towns as far as 40 miles south were reported mazed, with many casualties.

Golden Rule Offers New Air Conditioning Comfort

Patrons of the C. C. Anderson Golden Rule store in Twin Falls are experiencing a new shopping comfort as a result of the company installing a modern air conditioning system which is now in operation.

A complete change of fresh air is circulated throughout the building every four minutes, reducing the store temperature by 15 to 20 degrees and controlling the humidity automatically. For the past month workmen have been busy installing the plant under the direction of Walter Robley, local representative of the T. Sturtevant company of Boston, manufacturers of the equipment.

"Washes" Air Mr. Robley explained that the plant works on the air washing principle, the air being drawn through a cascade of cold water and circulated throughout the building. During the winter months fresh air from the outside passes through a steam coil to bring it to store temperature and then through a spun glass filter to remove all dust, before going through the washer, where moisture is added to bring the humidity up to approximately 50 percent in the store.

"Humidity in the building is controlled by a humidistat and a thermostat which controls the amount of water in the cooling spray. The system of automatic control was worked out by the General Electric company and the Minneapolis Honeywell company. At the same time, C. H. Gillis, store manager, announced several other improvements including a modern and greatly enlarged rest room downstairs, an enlarged ready-to-wear department upstairs, the addition of an infant's wear department on the balcony, and an enlarged appliance department in the basement, which includes washing machines, electric refrigerators and vacuum cleaners.

Veteran Aided Dying Lincoln

McKEESPORT, Pa. (AP)—At 70 there isn't much left in life for Jacob Solek but memories. The memories, though, are rich, especially his vivid recollection of the night he helped carry Abraham Lincoln, mortally wounded, from Ford's theater.

War department records verify the act. Solek, with other members of Thompson's battery, C. Independent, Pennsylvania, light artillery, straddled into the theater while the show was progressing.

Next to President

They took seats, he recalls, in the balcony adjoining the presidential box. The show ended his party momentarily, but hearing a woman's scream the troopers leaped to Lincoln's side.

"We four fellows carried him to the stairway, then two others fell in and helped us," Solek recalls. "We had the President on the street about five minutes before somebody found a place to put him. Down a long, dark corridor to a bedroom. We had scarcely stretched him out when a military guard was set up around him and we were ordered out." Solek had been stationed near the White House and knew the commander-in-chief as a friend.

VERDICT REVIVES GOLD ARGUMENT

Bondholders Must Be Paid on Demand in Foreign Money, Court Decees

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18 (AP)—The San Francisco district federal court today published a decision which might revive the gold clause controversy in the United States supreme court.

Judge Walter J. Lindley, Illinois jurist assigned temporarily here, ruled that owners of certain types of bonds must be paid, on demand, in the gold currency of foreign countries even though bond holders are American citizens.

Wide Effect The ruling, if sustained, would mean approximately $50,000,000 worth of bonds held by United States citizens, it was said. The Southern Pacific, defendant in the suit brought by Miss Anne McCaskey, San Francisco, would have to pay an additional $200,000 annually in interest on its bonds, according to court testimony. Mrs. McCaskey, an employe of a San Francisco law firm, brought the suit to collect $33,977 in North Carolina gold for a $20 coupon from a Southern Pacific bond which gave the holder an option of payment in the gold of any country on the gold standard.

Paul V. Shoup, company attorney, argued that the supreme court, in its gold clause decision, ruled that no United States citizen can collect gold in foreign currency.

Lindley, in sustaining the plaintiff, said that the gold clause decision had no bearing whatever on foreign currencies and that Congress may in the United States supreme court can legislate for a foreign country.

Shoup indicated that the decision would be appealed to higher courts.

Gyp Groups Active Warns State Head

BOISE, June 18 (AP)—"It is surprising about the number of gyp foreign benefit associations in the state," W. H. Parker, director of insurance, said upon the return of a trip in southwestern Idaho.

These gyp associations are out-of-state unlicensed firms, Parker said. Trikes ran across several such cases on his trip. His trip was primarily made to check on agents, brokers and adjusters to see if they had their licenses. Claims were also settled.

INHABITANTS

In areas of high altitude, water boils at lower temperatures than at altitudes where the atmospheric pressure is great. Boiling soup, therefore, is hotter at low levels, and it also cooks more slowly at low altitudes.

ROOSEVELT ASKS NRA DATA STUDY

Tells New Chief to Undertake Impartial Quiz on Effect of Code Ending

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—President Roosevelt today asked NRA Chairman James K. O'Neill to set up an impartial board to study effects of code abolition in preparation for any possible "propaganda from private sources" designed to "promote a special interest."

The President suggested collection of information from field sources throughout the country and assembled at headquarters.

It should be emphasized, the President said in a letter to O'Neill, "that the purpose of this work is the gathering and publication of reliable information and to counteract any propaganda from private sources which may be designed to promote a special interest."

The President asked that the efforts of the NRA agency be directed to compiling "accurate information" on changes occurring in labor standards and "fair trade practice" provisions.

He suggested that the board might be composed of an impartial chairman, a labor representative, one for industry, one designated by the labor department and another by the commerce department.

"In line with our recent discussion," the President wrote, "I am requesting you to set up in the division of business cooperation a section devoted to accumulating, checking and reporting accurate information concerning the extent to which changes occur in the maintenance of labor standards or fair practice provisions of codes of fair competition, following the abolition of such codes.

It is of primary importance that this work should be done very carefully and under the supervision of an impartial committee.

The Construction League of the United States representing 200,000 construction employers and 4,000,000 workers in normal times, condemned the "welfare formula" instead of recovery-stimulating policies and declared that a program for making jobs "should not be substituted for but made supplementary to a program for public works creating permanent values."
