RAILROAD WEEK This is Railroad week, when the transportation industry of the great western region is attempting to enlist public attention to its progress, benefit and importance.

It marks the second annual celebration by the western ranks of this special occasion had the success of the week last year promises to be excelled in 1936.

Three-quarters of a million workers are behind the movement to commemorate the progress in transportation. Of this number, it is pointed out that there are 15,000 firemen, 30,000 brakemen, 25,000 engineers, 23,000 conductors, 10,000 freight handlers, 20,000 station agents and telegraphers, 61,000 clerical employees, 4,500 executives, 4,000 engaged in research, 3,500 yard men, 100,000 employed in equipment and stores, $3,500 in maintenance of way, 20,000 in the Pullman company employ, and 305,000 in allied industries.

In Twin Falls the mayor has issued a proclamation calling upon the public to cooperate in acknowledging to the railway industries the obligations of the community. It is pointed out that this is more than a tribute to the railway lines themselves; it is also a deserving gesture to those who make the trains run.

Too often the transportation facilities of the country are accepted like the sun, the air and other natural benefits. It is not realized often enough that back of the whistle is the human being who operates the machine, that experting communities like this have dependents for years on the railroads; that railways are large factories and that their payrolls are important factors in making for consumption of agricultural products.

The best tribute that can be paid to the railroads is the desire of every community to be on one.

Such a week as this should result in the public knowing more about the railway industry to the mutual advantage of all concerned.

POOR TIME FOR POLITICAL RAMBLINGS If the rival politicians of this land are wise as well as they are supposed to be, they will call off all forensic fencing for a month or so and take in a few of the assorted exhibitions, fairs, and exhibits with which the native sons are beguiling the heat of the summer.

They will do that because such things, rather than political fights, seem to be what are chiefly interesting to the American people just now.

The politician who tries to save the nation when the American people are thinking about something else like this will be greeted with nothing but a large dose of public rebuke.

The exposition business is doing right well this summer. Texas has a big, double-barreled affair that apparently offers a great deal of entertainment for the money and seems to be drawing customers from everywhere. San Diego has another one, and Cleveland a third, and they are doing all right, too.

That these things should come to flower in the summer of 1936 is a neat little symptom which politicians and others could profitably examine.

They would seem to mean that the people of America have—for the moment, at least—given up their perennial worry about whether their country is going to pot.

This exposition business does not flourish when things are going down hill. People don't pick up and tremble off to look at automotive exhibits, fan dancers, Havaianas villages, and horticultural displays when they are worried about the state of the Union, the flatness of their pocket-books, or the amount of red ink on the ledgers down at the office.

And when they are not worrying about such things, they do not have a great deal of time for the politician who arises to beat his breast, thump the tub, and announce that he has come down from the mountains to save them from a fate worse than death.

Simile: Feeling like an eight-day clock on the ninth day of the family's vacation.

The Brooklyn girl who used her dad's home money for a Hollywood trip to see Clark Gable has returned home where, undoubtedly, she saw other stars.

The League of Nations seems to be worrying that Germany will take that title, "The Free City of Danzig," on literally.

A nativ person is one who thinks that actress' hair turned white overnight because of a horrible experience.

The Idaho potentate who offers $10,000 to anyone who will put him to sleep can get a valuable tip by writing to Mr. Joseph Louis, Detroit, Mich. Mr. Louis will recommend a Mr. Schmeling.

A Utah arbor, given his choice of death by hanging or shooting, has yet indicated no preference. If the authorities insist, though, he'll probably take the gentle death.

CHAPTER XXV "Hello," Natalie called brightly, as she stepped into the table of which Gail was sitting. "Having an early breakfast for a hot day, aren't you? What's the matter, aren't you?"

"I'm going to look at some apartments," Gail told her. "The real estate man I met yesterday told me I'd better decide on one case even though I don't have my commission until September."

A uniformed messenger entered the dining room and approached the head waiter.

"Look!" said Natalie. "There's a telegram for someone—why, he's coming over here—"

"The messenger was beside them," Natalie said. "He asked, as he handed the table."

"This is Miss Everett," Natalie told him. "Gail took the envelope, opened it and unfolded the sheet inside, she went on, 'It's another fortune for you, Gail!'"

"THE other girl read the telegram in a breath," she announced. "I don't have to fly to Arizona. A credit to my grandfather's will says that I own the ranch and Uncle Mack is now the owner of the Rancho Arroyo."

"Why, Gail—what a shame! Can't you do something about it?" "Well," she said, "I'm not sure, something crooked—"

"Do, I guess it's all right," Gail said. "I'll see to it myself. I'll look for a job, too. It was sweet of you to let me see the ranch."

"Gail and went to one of the telephone booths at the far end of the dining room."

"Oh—going to take you—Natalie excitedly interjected."

"No, but Rosemary said he'd probably call me and might like me to lunch."

"For a few minutes they glanced at each other. Natalie said, 'Gail, 'Among the passengers sitting on the Santa Lucia for Buenos Aires are Don Luis Travers and his wife, the lovely Lucille Travers.'"

"Lucille married Gail—But who is this man?"

"I never heard of him before," Natalie said. "The newspaper, but I'll bet he has money. Lots of it, I suppose we won't hear he'll divorce her until he decides to do otherwise."

"THE lunch hour crowd had already dispersed, so when Gail called Dick Scarley in the lobby of a fashionable hotel."

"I've got everything arranged for you to go off—"

"I'll see to it myself," Gail said. "I'll call Rosemary this morning and tell her I'm coming. I'll be called to my grandfather's will that changes everything. The rest of it belongs to me, and it's my money."

"What! Dick exclaimed in amazement. 'But why—why are you going to get acquainted with your uncle? He's your only relative and some of these days the ranch will be yours again.'"

"No, Dick. I've got to get to Los Angeles by the special day. The booker has his head 'Well, I'll see to it myself. I'll look for a job, too. It was sweet of you to let me see the ranch.'"

"Gail and went to one of the telephone booths at the far end of the dining room."

DELAY WASHINGTON—The Republicans had plenty of inside troubles seeking a publicity agent to deal with the free-riding Democratic lobbyist, Mr. Charles Michelski.

Three outstanding men are understood to have turned down the job. One of the decliners are advertising agency men and the third is a publicist. The job would have required personal sacrifices for them.

Then, also, the master minds who are framing the Landon campaign are supposed to have differed sharply on the fundamental issue of whether they would have a controlling man or a new man. The choice of Mr. Kitchener for the campaign for the new cause from which Mr. Michelski also produced.

But the technical fault behind the situation now is that the Republicans have failed to move while the efficient Democratic campaign has been functioning full blast, playing up such things as strength, relief, and hope.

When one asked him to pose the other side of the coin.

"What! Me a fashion plate again?"

FARBIDGE

Mr. W. H. Hooper was called to Salt Lake City, Utah, last week by the serious illness of her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Nelson and family, Bellingham, Wash., will probably be invited to nurture their children in Utah.

Postmaster General Farley's leave of absence from the post office is only technical. Rubber stamps were prepared in the postoffice department several weeks ago carrying the signature of William W. Howes, acting postmaster general, which are marked the full extent of it.

Telephones are still running from local, capable Mr. Howes' secretary, Mrs. Howes, in New York and they will be operated. There is no possibility of a disagreement between the two about what should be done in the postoffice department.

The only practical difference in Farley's nature will make it that he will lose out $4,000 a day between now and election day. This is a big difference to him, his friends claim. They say that he wants to come back after election.

It is understood he looked around New York for lucrative private job which might help him to get away from his mansion, but he did not find anything suitable. He gets $15,000 a year as postmaster general and nothing as chairman of the national committee or the New York state committee. Personal expenses are heavy.

The League of Nations record will be unhappy to learn that Mr. Howes is not to have. That Mr. Miller is playing around with Poland to deal the League another blow.

Joe Furro is supposed to be working through the Mail press.

HOLLISTER

Miss Margaret Corak has gone to Denver and Colorado Springs, Colo., to visit relatives.

Miss Carper-Nygard has returned from a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Nygard and family at Shoshone.

"An airplane" is a coined word used to describe a picture taken from an airplane. It will displace the old term, "bird's-eye view."

As Glanced from Files of THE TIMES

15 YEARS AGO—Co-operation was the keynote of a meeting held yesterday in Buhl from a committee from the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce and the Twin Falls Chamber of Business.

The Twin Falls people will entertain 100 visitors at lunch on Sept. 9 and the Buhl people will entertain 100 visitors at lunch on Sept. 10.

AUSTRALIA, U.S. IN TRADE CLASH

Dropping of Preferred Position by United States Produces Tariff Battle

CANBERRA (U.P.)—The recent action of President Roosevelt in abolishing all advantages which Australia received under former trade treaties with the United States, has intensified the trade war between the two countries, according to government sources here.

While Australia's original action in imposing an importing license system and reducing the quota of articles that could be imported from the United States was instituted to reduce Australia's unfavorable trade balance with the United States, a certain amount of bitterness, it is declared, now has been injected into the fight by America's latest step.

Japan Will Gain

According to official sources, Japan probably will gain as a result.

Despite the fact that under the new importing license system, the rules of duty on rayon have been relaxed slightly, the tariff that orders will be diverted to Japan rather than to the United States.

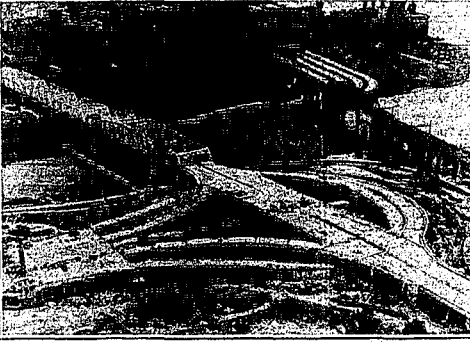

There will be no restrictions of any kind imposed on Japanese rayon, as Japan is a good customer of Australia. It is added that rayon was placed on the license list for the 40th purpose of shutting out the American product, as the United States does not purchase sufficient Australian products, it is argued here.

Australia Limited

As regards the importation of automobile units from the United States and Canada, the number has been limited to 25,000 annually, of which 25,000 will come from the United States and 23,000 from Canada. The principles on which the licensing system is to be operated against poor countries, it is said, are that units will be restricted to 100 per cent of the number admitted for the year ending April 30, 1939.

An auxiliary byproduct of the license system has limited the number to 75 per cent of the quantity formerly imported. This will affect American importations especially.

FATHER KNICKERBOCKER GETS HUGE BRIDGE

Completion of the most gigantic highway project yet undertaken, the construction of the $60,000,000 T-3 through bridge in New York City with its arcades and one-half miles of steel approaches and connecting highways, attracted for the dedication the assistance of President Knickerbocker and Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes. Always seen at a bird's-eye view of the magnificent ramp on Manhattan island, by which traffic is shuttled to Manhattan (lower left), Bronx (upper left) and Queens (lower right).

BUSINESS CENSUS REPORTS COMING

First Results of Survey Will Be Made Public Late in August

PHILADELPHIA (U.P.)—Publication of a preliminary report on the federal census of American business late next month is expected to reveal the trend of prosperity during the past two years.

Fred A. Gosnell, chief statistician in charge of the survey, said first reports probably would contain complete figures for Arkansas and several other states which virtually have been completed.

A staff of 19,000 WPA workers, taken from relief rolls have been engaged in the field work since Jan. 1, compiling information from the corner grocer, the great industrialist, the neighborhood barber and the wealthy manufacturer.

In the national headquarters here, 4,500 workers, specially trained in preliminary courses by census bureau experts, are checking, indexing and tabulating the returns on every business in the nation from the smallest merchant to the largest corporation.

A census of retail trade in 1929 showed sales totaling $40,000,000,000. By 1932, the figure had dropped to $25,000,000,000. Gosnell declared to make any fair pre-

BILL PASSED FOR MIGRATORY BIRDS

Sanctioned by Mexico Puts Law Into Force; Object Is Conservation

WASHINGTON, (U.P.)—A bill passed by congress during the last session and approved by President Roosevelt on June 29 will now enforce and extend federal authority over migratory birds.

The new law is designed to make effective in this country a convention between the United States and Mexico for protection of migratory birds and animals. Mexico is set to follow, and it will take effect upon proclamation of the exchange of ratifications.

Federal authority over migratory birds heretofore had depended on the migratory bird treaty with Great Britain. The new treaty reinforces this authority by providing for a dual basis for the federal regulations concerning ducks, geese, and other migratory birds.

PARKING METERS ADOPTED WIDELY

Novel Device Accepted in 50 Cities; Spreads Rapidly to Hawaii and Iraq.

OKLAHOMA CITY (U.P.)—Parking meters definitely have passed from the experimental to the success stage.

The first meters in the United States were installed here on a tentative basis last July. In a year they have proved so eminently successful that their use has spread around the world.

The little device, invented by an Oklahoma City man, Carl G. Mace, is rolling revenue into the city treasury at the rate of $4,000 a month.

60 Other Cities

At least 60 other cities have installed the meters or are planning to do so. Hardly a day goes by that queries do not come to the city hall regarding them. They have come from such faraway places as Iraq, Hawaii and South Africa.

City officials accord the immediate guardians of parking spaces an unqualified cheer. Not only are they popular with the city fathers, but also with merchants and street citizens who pay.

The Oklahoma City company marketing the meters no longer has a monopoly. Three other concerns are in the field.

Harold Yeaman, Buhl, candidate for United States representative on the Democratic ticket, was the principal speaker Tuesday night at the regular meeting of the Mountain Rock Grange, which held at the Community center. Mr. Yeaman spoke on the advantages of the New Deal. The main part of the program was furnished by the Misses Evelyn and Lillian Hill, who sang several vocal duets, with Miss Alma Dean accompanying them at the piano.

At the business meeting, Mrs. Ben O'Harrow acted as secretary. In the absence of the regular secretary, Mrs. Sam Gamble, Ben O'Harrow, Grange master presided. The group will meet again Aug. 4.

Miss Gladys Hill is recovering at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hill, after an appendicitis operation which she underwent recently.

Mrs. Alfred Herron and Miss Alma Hill are recuperating at their homes from injuries received recently near Le Grande, Ore., when the car in which they were riding, overturned. Bel Hill, driver of the car, was also injured, and is recovering. Gordon Hill, the other occupant of the car was uninjured.

Miss Verla Belle Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hill, underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis at the local hospital Tuesday.

PARKING "LIMIT" COLLEGE STATUE BEING REPAIRED

George Washington's Memorial Wood Looks Like Marble Because of Paint

LEXINGTON, Va. (U.P.)—The old wooden statue of George Washington that has looked down for 100 years on the students of Washington and Lee university has been removed from its pedestal.

The statue, about 8 feet high, has been painted so often that it looks as if it were made of marble. The university history department, however, says it is made of local wood.

After the statue is cleaned and strengthened, it soon back on its pedestal atop the Washington college building cupola.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches only to discover that the real cause of their trouble was the level of their kidneys.

The kidneys are one of Nature's great filters. They filter out the waste out of the blood. If they don't pass it into a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your kidneys may be in trouble.

Many have trouble with frequent bladder passages with scanty amount which often stings and burns, the 10 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backaches, pain, loss of pen and energy, getting up many a night, puffing, puffing, the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait for serious trouble, ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, which have been used extensively for over 40 years by millions of people. They give happy relief and will help flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get Doan's Pills.

'AUTOMAT' BAIT

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (U.P.)—Fishermen too lazy to dig their own bait need only go to the "automat" at Vernon P. Douyard's rubber shop, drop in a coin, turn a crank, and a can of worms will pop out.

Douyard, who constructed the automatic machine, used to dig the worms himself. But as flourishing business that he had to hire 20 children to collect the bait.

Temping cold dishes—created by the chef of the famous Hotel Shorcham in Washington, D. C.

The appetizing array of cold cuts shown below is a feature of the July menu in the fashionable Louis XVI Dining Saloon of Washington's Hotel Shorcham.

Here Camels and good food go together. As Robert, watchful maître d'hôtel, observes: "Camels are the outstanding favorite at the Shorcham."

MOST VALUABLE PLAYER in the National League last season—Galby Hartsell, "Camels as many Camels Like," he says. "A Camel with meals and after each my digestion right!"

ON THE GO. Bill Ferguson, star salesman (right), says: "Camels give me an extra sense of well-being!"

MISS UVA KIMMEY, dating girl parachute jumper. Miss Kimmey says: "I'm a Camel smoker. I like to smoke Camels at mealtime. They make food taste better and encourage digestion in a pleasant way. Camels don't burn my nerves."

Camels add zest to eating—they set you right. No wonder smokers say:

"For Digestion's Sake... Smoke Camels!"

MEALTIME often finds us in a state of rash and tension. The excitement and nervousness slow down the flow of digestive fluids. Remember, then, to pause for a Camel. When you smoke Camels at mealtime, the flow of digestive fluids is helped back to normal. Alkalinity is increased. You experience the well-being that follows a good meal.

Camels are gentle, one-smoke-at-a-time never get on your nerves. Enjoy them often for their cheery "Hi!"... for their unopposed ease for digestion's sake. Camels set you right!
