BUHL DAY DRAWS BIG ATTENDANCE TO CO-UNION FAIR

Crowd Yesterday Estimated at 17,000 Persons by Traffic Patrolmen

FILER GRANGE IS VICTOR

Kimberly 2nd in Competition For Community Exhibitors Of Produce

FILER, Sept. 10 (Special)—Buhl and west-end day at the county fair today was rolling up a huge attendance at the fairgrounds with the crowd estimated at slightly less than a year ago on the same occasion.

However, the indications pointed to an extra large attendance tonight, which will witness the second presentation of the 1936-37 rodeo commencing at 8 o'clock.

With the crowd estimated at 17,000, the weather continues to favor the fair, with conditions otherwise also ideal, attendance reports, and there is hope that concluding two days of the exposition will continue to see increasing crowds.

Their Visit Here Just Rumor

Gov. Eugene Talmadge, Democrat, to be in Boise, Sept. 10.

Although scores of Twin Falls residents heard, by way of the "gossiping telegraph," that the fabulously wealthy Maharajah of India and his maharajah (both shown above) expected to come through Twin Falls, the expectation became just a rumor when the wealthy Indian potentate and his wife headed for the east coast after their Hollywood visit. Traveling by private airplane, they went through Salt Lake City. One of the richest men in the world, the maharajah was especially interested in the movie colony, where he resorted that unique picture methods were improving in his own country.

NEW DEAL RIVAL MEETS CRUSHING GEORGIA DEFEAT

Gov. Eugene Talmadge Beaten Two to One in Race For Senate

HIS SLATE ALSO TRAILS

Governor, Congress Aspirants Behind Administration Supporters

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 10 (UP)—Gov. Eugene Talmadge, bitter foe of the New Deal, today conceded victory to Sen. Richard B. Russell, Jr., his opponent for the Democratic senatorial nomination in yesterday's primary.

By JOSEPH S. WATNEY
ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 10 (UP)—Gov. Eugene Talmadge and his political allies in the last legislative session of the Georgia General Assembly, the last of anti-New Deal sentiment in the south, sustained a crushing defeat today in the Democratic primary, incomplete results indicated today.

Talmadge, seeking the Democratic senatorial nomination, trailed the incumbent, Richard B. Russell, Jr., by a little more than two to one. His candidate for gubernatorial nomination, Charles D. Redwine, had one vote for each and no other votes for his opponent, Ed D. Rivers.

Sharply Down Issues
In both contests, the issues were sharply drawn on the New Deal, Talmadge and Redwine, and Russell and Rivers, supporting it in all.

Five Talmadge candidates for congress were all in close contests, and it seemed probable that most, if not all, would be defeated by pro-New Deal candidates. The Talmadge faction, however, was disappointed for re-election.

For senatorial nomination with Russell, Talmadge was defeated. The Talmadge faction, however, was disappointed for re-election.

NEW OFFENSIVES AGAINST REBELS

Insurgents, Winning Northeast Victories, Encounter Stiff Resistance Elsewhere

By LOUIS F. KEEBLE

The Spanish rebels were triumphant in the northeastern part of the country today, but new government offensives elsewhere kept the rebels from a complete victory.

While the loyalists prepared a "battalion of death" to storm the Alcazar in Toledo, where 3,000 rebels were besieged, the government forces were making advances in the northeast.

Loyalists also were active in the Alcazar region to the northeast and captured rebel positions at Elche and Huesca.

The fortunes of war might still turn either way, but the government forces were making advances in the northeast.

The city appeared likely to fall as the rebels were able to make a mass attack in the north and east.

There was a danger of a massacre when the city falls. It might be a massacre of the rebels, or of the loyalists, or of one another.

There are two factions within San Sebastian. The anarchists are trying to destroy the city and fire while the Basque nationalists are restraining them.

At Oviedo, west along the coast, the loyalists who are besieging the city are making advances in the northeast.

JAMBOREE MEET SET FOR TONIGHT

Preliminary Instructions Will Be Given For Big Event Next Summer

A Jamboree meeting will be held tonight at 7 p. m. at the Park hotel for all former Jamboree Scouts and Scoutmasters. The meeting will be held in the ballroom of the hotel, and will be given in response to the announcement that the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America had a National Scout Jamboree would be held in Washington, D. C. from June 30 to July 6, 1937. Preliminary instructions will be given in preparation for the Jamboree and a temporary organization will be effected. Notable and insignia of the 1935 Jamboree that was cancelled because of the influenza pandemic that developed near the nation's capital, will be given to the Scouts and Scoutmasters who were registered for the 1935 Jamboree.

Miss J. Powell, Twin Falls, has been appointed to serve as chairman of the Jamboree committee for the Snake River area council. All to Participate

Each of the six local councils participating in the Jamboree program in the United States, will be given the opportunity to send one or more troops as its official delegation.

The Jamboree will be financed by the Scouts and leaders themselves, each paying his registration to meet the cost of the 400-acre encampment, which will be a city in itself with its necessary facilities. The fee will also cover the food and other necessities of the participants while the Jamboree is in progress, it is stated.

Because hundreds of troops will bring their own tents, the Jamboree will show the type of camping equipment used in all sections of the country.

President of Review

Among outstanding events of the meet will be the grand opening review, by the President of the United States, the Great Convention, and the National Grand Council.

Invitations have been sent to all foreign Scout associations to be represented. A resolution passed by congress, and approved by the President will make possible the entry of the visiting foreign Scouts under prescribed conditions.

STATE CHAIRMAN VIEWS CAMPAIGN

Ira J. Taylor, Democratic Head, Declares for Clean-Gut Election Drive

BOISE, Sept. 10 (Special).—Promising a clean-cut campaign based entirely on the accomplishments of the Democratic party's regime in Idaho for the past six years, Ira J. Taylor, state chairman, today released his first official statement of his plans for reelection of the party's ticket.

Confident that Idaho will remain in the Democratic realm, returning the entire ticket to office, Chairman Taylor declared prospects for another landslide victory were better than ever.

"Our campaign," he continued, "will center on a review of the party's accomplishments in both state and national fields. Every voter will have ample opportunity to study the record and we are confident their decision will be for continuation of the New Deal."

Freeze New Deal

Discussing business conditions in general, the chairman gave full credit to the New Deal administration for Idaho's phenomenal recovery. "Without exception," he asserted, "every business man in the state, whether he be merchant, farmer, stockman, can show on his books today a business volume 100 per cent greater than in 1932. Confidence has returned to Idaho and we believe the state's voters will vote this recognition by electing their ballots for the Democratic party again this fall."

Mr. Taylor, nominated by unanimous vote to take charge of the campaign, has been a resident of Idaho for 46 years—practically all his life—coming to Idaho with his parents when he was just six months old. He has served two terms in the state legislature, in 1918 and 1922, was mayor of Rigby for three terms and in January, 1931, was appointed warden of the state penitentiary, holding that post until his recent resignation to take over direction of the campaign.

Mr. Taylor's private business life has been devoted to the operation of his farm in Jefferson county and a mercantile establishment in Rigby. His family of two boys and one girl and Mrs. Taylor are living in Boise.

PUNCTURE WEED FOUND AT EDEN

Supervisor for Jerome County
Investigation of Infestation

JEROME, Sept. 10 (Special).—Jerome county's first case of the puncture weed, so called because of its injurious thorny burrs, has been brought here to the office of L. P. O'Connell, county weed supervisor, by a WPA worker on the weed project, Ray Crater, who found it in the Eden stockyard, 20 miles away.

Although the weed is not classed as "noxious," the sharp thorns from its burrs puncture auto tires, get into the hoofs of cattle, sheep, and hogs, making them unable to walk, according to O'Connell.

Will End Infestation
"Unless checked, this weed will do more damage than all noxious weeds in the country, declared O'Connell. "It would end the sheep industry in this county if allowed to infect the farms of this area."

Farmers who notice this weed anywhere or who see any weeds unknown to them should report their discovery to this office so we can prevent their spreading from the place where they are found.

"We take this opportunity to thank Crater for driving 20 miles to town to tell us of his finding."

Although the infestation, at Eden, is not great, it will, if allowed to spread, infect surrounding farms, according to the weed supervisor, who pointed out that one county in California is spending several millions in its efforts to eradicate this weed.

Idaho has only a few outbreaks of the weed, Minnesota county being most troubled by the infestation.

CONTRACT BRIDGE TEAMWORK SETS GAME

By William E. McConney
Rec'y: American Bridge League

"How did you defeat three no trump on that hand?" was the question one player asked the winner of a recent duplicate game in New York.

"Teamwork," was the answer and a true and complete answer it was. Both East and West had to co-operate to bring about the downfall of North's contract. East selected the correct opening lead and West co-operated in timing realizations that while he had the cards to defeat the contract, it could be easier in time, his partner had to provide him with the much-needed entry.

Today's Contract Problem
South is playing the hand at six no trump. On the second round of diamonds, West shows out, so declares himself the ten of spades. Can the contract be made?

DAKOTA EXPANDS TREE PLACEMENT

Shelterbelt Planting Receives Popular Reception from Agriculturists

FARGO, N. D. (Special).—Farm treelanding, a project which has resulted in the establishment of thousands of windbreaks in North Dakota in the past few years, will be expanded whenever possible, according to plans of Victor V. Freeman, in charge of the North Dakota Agricultural college extension service and the state forestry school.

Mr. Freeman, who succeeded D. D. Baldwin as head of the extension service forestry in July, declared that farmers have shown keen interest in improvement of their farms with trees in connection with the shelterbelt program, which is under local supervision of county agricultural agents.

Nominal Price
Under the tree-planting project a limited number of farms naturally are provided with shelterbelt trees furnished at a nominal price by the state nursery. Certain management and cultivation requirements are specified, thus insuring successful establishment of trees. Plantings then are used by the county agricultural agents to demonstrate to other interested farmers the best methods of tree culture.

In 1935 more than 400,000 trees were planted in much farm windbreaks, slightly more than 400,000 trees being thus improved.

The True Story of Spangler Arlington Brugh, Alias ROBERT TAYLOR, and His Movie Rise as Ladies' Biggest Thrill

Adulation rivaling that showered on Rudolph Valentino has come to Robert Taylor, No. 1 in glamour among Hollywood's male film stars. How fame has come to Taylor and what manner of man he is now is told in three fascinating stories by Paul Harrison, N.E.A. and Evening Times Hollywood correspondent. This is the first of the series.)

BY PAUL HARRISON
(N.E.A. Service)

HOLLYWOOD — Spangler Arlington Brugh, still pinches himself when he looks at one of his $2,500 weekly salary checks, with hysterical women cluster about him, dog his footsteps, deluge him with mad notes.

"He pinches himself again, does Spangler Arlington Brugh, when he stops to think that as Robert Taylor (spelled in glittering lights) he has suddenly become the most adulated movie idol since Rudolph Valentino, had the young matinee swooning in the aisles.

"There was that incident at the Dallas Exposition where the runner-up in a beauty contest was presented to this Robert Taylor. The girl grasped his hand, then fainted dead away!

Spangler Arlington Brugh just can't understand why people act like that. "For Brugh is a Nebraska boy who came to Hollywood with some hope, but no great determination to become an actor. Then the change in name and the jump to fame and fortune is beginning to be philosophical about the mounting of realistic fan mail, swarms of autograph hounds and adoring women.

"Louis B. Mayer, head of the studio and a veteran star maker, admits no surprise that in 18 months his protégé has smashed records in the Hollywood pentagon: Box office returns, fan mail receipts, all-round appeal, personal appearance drawing power, co-starring prominence.

"Mrs. Ruth Brugh, Taylor's mother, has been sending him a deluge of letters since he came back each week—finds nothing remarkable in the recognition finally being accorded her son.

"His friends who knew Taylor is sure of his name when he was sure

Hollywood means Glamorous Girls to most folks, but right now a More Male is giving the feminine element a run for the spotlight. Stripping late the foreground here, surrounded as always by ladies, is Robert Taylor, Hollywood's Big Moment of 1936, target of a million adoring eyes and sighs.

colony's way of amusing itself.

Hollywood can't bear to be taken casually.

Confused By Acclaim

A good many months ago Taylor was having quite a struggle to keep his balance in the face of his amazing fan acclaim. He explained that there were so many things young actors was obliged to live up to. He had to live and dress and play according to a set of rules.

He said, "I've tried to do what was expected of me. I've met the 'right people' and have been—

least once to all the 'right places."

Today, an established star, Taylor can do just about as he pleases. "That's a relief," he said,

"but, of course, there are still some restrictions—new ones I can't go to in public as I'd like to do—like driving down to an amusement pier and riding the roller-coaster."

He likes to drive his cars, play tennis with other motion picture people at the Beverly Hills Tennis

Club and dance. Hearty dancer, not just all around on the jammed postage-stamp floor of a smoky night club.

Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck

sometimes go to the Palomar, a burlesque ballroom in Los Angeles. Admire the pole as they enter, but pay them a more glorious tribute by leaving them alone during the remainder of the evening.

"They know that the stars have come there to enjoy themselves and not to be pestered for autographs.

Designed By Fans

On the streets, though, or in amusement parks, stores, and even restaurants, clamoring fans trail this every step. Taylor never gets angry, openly; he's apologetic about his having to decline more signatures and begs permission to be allowed to go on his way.

He never entertains at his house. He has few close friends, most of whom are his guests time to his mother and Al Stanwyck. He is in quite a little over the romance, but is making no bones on what will come of it.

After all, Taylor's name has been linked by gossip with a succession of screen beauties. He has appeared before the camera with an impressive number of stars—Virginia Bruce, Irene

Dunne, Miss Stanwyck, Jack

Raynor, Lonnie Young, Jean

Crawford and now, in "Camille," with Greta Garbo.

He hasn't much to say about his work with Miss Garbo. "It's just a job, that's all—making a picture. Tension? Why, no; what's the use of getting nervous?"

pairing a tire took a 6,000-mile

GOP IN ALASKA

Bourbon Candidates Are Two To One Ahead of Rivals In Territory

JUNEAU, Alaska, Sept. 10. (AP)—Democratic candidates in Alaska's general election held two-to-one leads over Republicans, returns from the territory's larger cities indicated today.

Anthony J. Dimond, strong New Deal supporter, forged far ahead of his Republican rival, Judge Lester Cove, in the contests for congressional delegate nominations. Dimond and Cove head their campaign principally on the issue of abolition of fur traps.

Two-to-One Lead

Twenty-three precincts of south-central Alaska gave Dimond 3,208 votes and Cove 1,379. Dimond also carried Fairbanks precincts and the Matanuska agricultural colony.

Democratic candidates also were far in the lead for attorney general, auditor, legislator and other posts.

Returns from outlying precincts, especially those far north in the Eskimo villages within the Arctic Circle, will not be complete for several weeks, it was estimated.
