COAST SHIPPING WORKERS STRIKE

Vessels Tied Up As 37,000 of Union Employees Quit to Enforce Demands

(Continued From Page One) That these questions were not subjects for negotiation but should be submitted for arbitration to a neutral third party.

May Spread Far This is the first time in the history of the Pacific Coast strike that it has spread to the Atlantic coast and Gulf of Mexico ports.

The International Longshoremen's association, which broke his leg when he fell from his bicycle yesterday at his home, today was discharged from county hospital.

Wanted P. H. Artisan Mr. Artisan said that he had delayed their strike call 24 hours from Wednesday midnight principally because they hoped President Franklin D. Roosevelt would intervene.

There were some reports from unofficial quarters that there is a possibility of a general strike in San Francisco which would shut the waterfront without concert with the union.

Apparently the strike was delayed not only the major strike shore steamship companies, but also the steam schooner and small freighters, which earlier had refused to join the strike.

"Does it mean a general maritime strike?" asked a reporter. "Yes, against all companies," he replied. "There are about 60,000 men in the industry."

"Nobody wins; everybody loses," said the union spokesman. "The general public, workers and the general public."

A "job defense" committee in New York already has given $100,000 to the union to help it fight the strike in that area.

Negotiations which culminated in the 1934 agreement, a 20 percent wage increase, and a 40-hour week, were rejected by the union.

The shipmen informed the commission they would agree to a 10 percent wage increase under existing agreements. The union said it was agreeable to this plan if the shipmen would agree to meet. The operators refused this because it would mean their downfall.

F. D. R. STARTS ON FINAL JAUNT

Roosevelt, Confident of Result, Takes to Road to Finish His Campaign

They are from the speech made at the Lincoln at the Bonnyfair in Baltimore in 1864. "The world has never had a good definition of the word liberty, and the American people have just now as much in want of one. We all declare for liberty; but all of us mean different things by the same thing. With some the word liberty means the right to eat the fat of the pig, and with others the right to own the land of the pig."

Sheep Wolf Disguise "The shepherd drives the wolf from the sheep's pasture for which the sheep thank the shepherd as his liberator, whereas the wolf announces him for the same act as the destroyer of liberty."

"Recently as it seems, the people have been told that they have a right to define liberty, and thank to them that, in what they have done, the wolf's dictionary has been repudiated."

"The Hon. Mr. Roosevelt continued, 'are Lincoln's words, they are today as true as they were in the days of Lincoln. We are the people of the city of Williams, Oregon, who are the people of the city of Williams, Oregon, who are the people of the city of Williams, Oregon.'

MRS. SIMPSON BUYS WARDROBE

Friend of King Edward Going to Paris for Costly New Winter Apparel

(Copyright, 1936, United Press) PARIS, Oct. 30 (U.P.)—Mrs. Wallis Simpson is expected in Paris next week not to seek company from gossip linking her name with King Edward, but to make possession of one of the biggest and costliest wardrobes any Paris fashion man has ever put out this season.

Many of the new clothes are almost extreme in their modern simplicity. Many of the gowns will have broad sleeves and necks will have frills or eccentric effects.

Week-day costumes are a brown wool with a straight short skirt worn with a fitted jacket of the same material and a blue Angora blouse which, tailored and fitted on the same lines as the skirt, matches her eyes.

An afternoon gown is of black crepe, made with a draped bodice and a plain flaring skirt. The only trimming on the gown is a wide belt, embroidered in green and white to match the embroidery on cuffs and sleeves.

Black for evening. For evening, Mrs. Simpson almost always wears black. In her new wardrobe is a black crepe classical evening gown worn with a short bolero jacket of the same material. The gown is made with low cut, delicate lace which the bolero is edged with a band of pearl embroidery and the hem of the skirt is edged with the same costly material.

This gown is what is known as a double duty dress, for it can serve as a cocktail or dinner dress when worn with a blouse that hides the cutaway bodice.

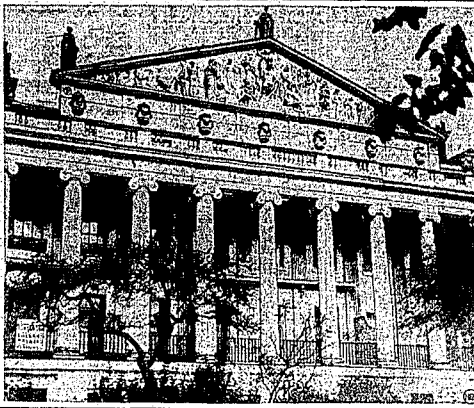

One touch of color in the winter wardrobe is a gay evening jacket of shantung, gaily striped with four or five different shades of red.

NO IS LUCHY BOSTON (U.P.)—Patrolman Patrick F. McGuinness, Officer 13 of the Boston police, says a 19-year-old man has been an object of good luck to him. He has been on duty for 24 years, which figures if reversed is 13. He spent many years of police service in Boston.

ALTRUISM, CALIF. (U.P.)—Harold Carroll bought a mule to carry his equipment on a deer hunting trip. While the mule was in the woods, a wild deer in search of game, bit coming again unexpectedly upon the animal, he mistook it for a deer and shot it.

Small Bells, Elephants, Keys And Gay Note to Millady's Winter Millinery

NEW YORK (U.P.)—The well-dressed girl may wear rings on her fingers this year, but the bells of the popular old millinery will be on her head.

And along with them will be elephants, keys and all the other amusing ornaments that now dangle around the wrists of feminine America. Growing gay with every passing week, the current millinery has hit upon the charm bracelet as a millinery decoration and the result is chic.

"Charm Hats" Introduced by a Paris designer, the charm hat has made its first appearance upon Fifth avenue. Designed for sports and tailored wear, the charm hats are being shown in felt in the school's new shades and the prospective wearer may select any of the ornaments which are strung upon gold and silver chains and fastened around the crown.

However, the new charm hats are not one of a variety of hats that are filled with audacious surprises. Another is the well-fitted cap of white or pastel with an arrangement of feathers so placed as to give the wearer the forehead. The wearer of one of these hats is supposed to match the feathers as closely as possible to her hair.

Reckless Affair Then there is the tiny peaked affair of felt with a quill shooting up into the air to sky-scrapers in height. Mrs. Ernest Simpson is said to have first sponsored the new hatman put on the market at a visit at Baltimore castle in Scotland.

Another hat that is being worn that tops off a full suit of colored coat. The shape is implied by the name and thrust through one side of the upturned brim is a small animal, reviving the quill.

The many Shakespearean plays on the screen and on Broadway are responsible for several of the newer and smarter models.

One of the most popular at the moment being the dainty cap for the dinner and evening wear.

MASTERS DEFIES GOP OPPONENTS

Democratic Candidate for State Secretary Issues Charges of Misrepresentation

GOODING, Oct. 29 (Special).—The redoubtable rivalry between U. S. and other nations in increasing food production is being waged on other lands instead of our own, said Mrs. E. Stevens, in a rally here last evening in the Mission theater.

She is candidate for secretary of state on the Democratic ticket and a former newspaper publisher at this end of Idaho.

"The Republican state central committee is misrepresenting the facts in this campaign and is misrepresenting the facts in their advertising campaign in an attempt to mislead the voters of Idaho," said Mrs. Stevens in a rally here last evening in the Mission theater.

She is attempting to buy the people of Idaho and the nation know the difference between 20¢ for potatoes and $1.40 today, $3.00 for sugar, $1.00 for Grims alfalfa and $2.00 for the U. S. average price.

"Here is one of their misleading statements in their advertising campaign. They quote a number of hogs exported in the first six months of 1936 as 60,000 head and then they quote right below that figure which is supposed to be the number imported as 60,000 but this figure is pounds of pork products and not head of hogs," she said.

They are misrepresenting the facts in their advertising. The total value of pork products exported for this same period was $16,107, 123 while during the same period the value of pork products imported was $4,708,339, or about 4 to 1 for exports over imports.

"Pork exports declined 82 per cent between 1929 and 1933 under the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill and 60 great nations boycotted trade with this nation. This nation produces vast amounts of raw products which must be marketed abroad. Therefore I charge that the cause of this depression is largely due to high tariff rates and the loss of our tariff market."

Experts Topped

"Our experts topped under the Hawley-Smoot tariff from five billion to 25 billions and 314,000,000 of American capital has gone to build factories in foreign countries thus depriving American laborers of jobs and giving the jobs to cheap foreign labor."

"But let us see what has been accomplished since President Roosevelt has negotiated these reciprocal treaties.

"Foreign trade in general has increased 48 per cent. Canada has lowered the tariffs on 707 items. Russia has agreed to buy American goods valued at $30,000,000. Our trade with Cuba rose 200 per cent in 1935. American exports to Belgium increased 60 per cent one year. The value of exports to Canada in June 1936 was $7,000,000 more than June 1935.

"Since America must find a market for its goods, our country of here raw products this nation must carry on trade or quite producing. Let's not turn our backs on our neighbor across the sea but let's buy and sell and be a good neighbor, because if you the U. S. producer, let's not turn our backs on the day of 1932. Let's not go back to the Smoot-Hawley diet after three and four years of starvation prosperity," said Masters in closing.

THE QUINS INVITE YOU TO PLAY FOLLOW-THE-LEADER

They're a bit impatient—Cecile in front, at least—but with the aid of Dr. Daxos and their two nurses the Dionne quins soon will be off for a brisk round of follow-the-leader. Annette is last to fall in line, back of Emile. In the center is Marie, and in front of her Yvonne, who is using her right hand to advantage while clinging to Cecile's coat.

The quintuplets got off to a good start at follow-the-leader, with Cecile at the lead of the file, when suddenly one of them mixes the fifth member of the party. Where's Annette? Ah, there she is, taking her own time in the rear. So the four, Emile, Marie, Yvonne and Cecile, halt the procession for the tardy Annette.

"One, two, three, four, five little Indians" went the nursery rhyme. But one "little Indian," Annette, lagged behind, so now there are five. That is what happened to the Dionne quintuplets when they played follow-the-leader. So here we see, left to right, Emile, Marie, Yvonne and last Cecile, pulling army of the end of the train.

TEXANS RUN OUT 'RED' CANDIDATE

Port Arthur Arrests Communist Candidate for Governor; Other Charges Fly

PORT ARTHUR, Tex., Oct. 29 (AP)—Homer Brooks, youthful Communist candidate for governor, was arrested and run out of Port Arthur with two companions early today by H. F. Baker, chief of police.

The arrest was the highlight in a day of actively involving Communism in Texas.

At Austin two state representatives handed in a minority report on the recent legislative session of charges that Communism is being taught at the state university.

At Dallas a committee of "The Legion of Honor" was named to determine if Communism is being taught in the public schools.

George Rhoads, former relief worker, asserted some of the city teachers were Communists.

Arthur Dicker, business agent of the International Seaman's union, charged at Houston that Communism and other radicals are trying to gain control of waterfront unions through terrorist practices.

Brooks, according to Chief Baker, isn't even qualified to vote in Texas, much less run for office.

Good study habits, what they are and how they can be attained will be the subject discussed during the advisory period Monday, H. D. Hechter, principal, announced today. # POPULATION TOP SET ABOUT 1955

T. S. Total Will Level Off At About 143,000, Say Census Experts

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—The population of the United States will reach its "maximum" about 1955, it appeared today on the basis of the latest estimates by department of commerce census experts.

The population then will be approximately 143,000 and will level off there with births just about balancing deaths, census officials believe, pointing to the trend toward smaller families to substitute their children.

Peak Before 1950
Roughly, the country's peak population is expected to be reached during the decade between 1950 and 1955. Some during that period births and immigration are expected to reach an all-time high, after which a gradual decline may set in unless immigration laws are relaxed or birth control laws are more strictly enforced.

The census bureau, in a preliminary study, placed the population on July 1 at 128,420,000 persons, a gain of 2,800,000 over the same date in 1935.

Births Go Down
The continued decline of births will bring the population maximum about 10 years earlier than had been estimated previously, experts said.

Last year the peak was forecast between 1950-70. According to present calculations, the population should be 132,000,000 in 1940, and 140,000,000 by 1950 if trends do not change.

Between July 1, 1935, and July 1, 1931, the gain was 1,022,000. The increase in 1935 was 1,022,000 in 1933, 769,000 in 1934, 850,000 in 1935, 883,000 in 1936, 850,000 in 1937. Population increase in 1938 was 800,000 between 1937-38.

Most of the increase this year was attributable to the excess of births over deaths, since immigration amounted to the excess of births only 289,000.

Largest Increase
The largest increase during the year was in the south Atlantic group of states composed of Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, Columbia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. This group had total population of 37,072,000 July 1, a gain of 184,000.

The middle Atlantic states, comprising New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania had the second largest gain with total population of 27,350,000, an increase of 164,000.

Population by states—In the mountain area:

July 1, 1935	July 1, 1936
Montana	531,000
Idaho	419,000
Wyoming	1,022,000

4-H CLUB

District Club Agent

LIVESTOCK JUDGING TEAM

As a climax to six years of 4-H club work a team representing the Best "E" All Livestock Club of club boys in the district, will compete in the 4-H judging contest at the 1936 International Livestock Exposition in Portland, October 5-10. This team had placed high in the 4-H judging contest at the Twin Falls county fair in September. County Agent C. L. McLean, team coach, accompanied the boys to the exposition.

In competition with 654 boys from nearly 50 states, the boys in the contest tied for second points each, two of these boys being Doran and Dobby. Bill scored 608. Another Idaho club member was high individual with 740 points.

In a field of 20 contestants from several states, Doran Butler was the best showmanship contestant with an Aberdeen Angus calf. In the presence of the judge, McLean, it is his ambition for the showmanship contest, being allowed to place as high as the prize.

Each contestant was permitted one helper to hold the animal while it was being fitted, or to carry equipment to and from the ring, but all actual work on the animal was done by the contestant.

Butler's Angus steer placed second in the senior Angus class, the animal which placed first later placed as Grand Champion 4-H steer.

An interesting phase of the Dixie club's record is that Butler and Burkhardt have acted as the club's leaders during the past two years, as well as carry projects themselves.

BEAVERS OFFER LESSON TO CCC

Nature's Dam Builders Show Man Just How to Go About It

BISMARCK, N. D., (AP)—It is recommended for several families of beavers to instruct a company of CCC boys in the art of dam building and maintenance.

This announcement didn't come from the beavers, either. It came from A. D. McKinnon, chief of CCC water conservancy district. McKinnon, who has directed construction of more dams than any other man in North Dakota, believes the "great engineers of nature" are the best dam maintainers in the world.

Quality Example
Qualifying his statement, McKinnon mentioned an instance east of Bismarck where a group of CCC workers started building a dam on Apple Creek. Beavers already had built a dam at the best site, and a hole was chopped in the structure to let the water out. When the boys returned to their quarters the next morning the whole was tight and the water was as high as ever.

Another hole was chopped and the same thing occurred again. Then one night a storm started to stand guard to scare nature's dam builders away. No beavers were seen but the next morning the beaverdam CCC boys found that a new dam was well on its way to complete before the original one.

Both dams had to be replaced before the beavers would give up the competition.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By William E. McKenny

"ASKED" TO GRAND SLAM!

(This is the ninth of a series of articles dealing with changes in the Contract System, as announced in "Fly Collett's" in the book, "The Book of Bidding and Play.")

By WM. E. MCKENNEY
Secretary, American Bridge League

When a partner has shown an ace in response to the first asking bid, the asker no longer is concerned with aces. He may then want to find out about isolated kings and even queens.

The general rule for responses is to bid no trump if you hold the card partner asks for, but to return to the agreed trump suit if you lack that card.

Solution to Previous Contract Problem

♥ 874	♥ 1074	♥ 10	♥ 9

South then knew that a slam was unobtainable, but wanted to try for a grand slam. He therefore bid five hearts—asking for both royal control of the suit.

North would have to respond with five no trumps with any singleton, the foundation being of the king and queen, since any of these holdings would permit him to win the second and third rounds of hearts.

When North bid five no trump, South had the satisfaction of bidding a duplicate grand slam in spite of the fact that two kings and three queens were held by the opponents.

When the hand was played in a recent duplicate tournament, 12 pairs did not get beyond four spades, two pairs got to a small slam with four trumping, and one pair used the "asking bids" to get to a grand slam for a cold "top."

In today's hand, South's four heart bid asked for the king of singleton heart. With a singleton heart, North naturally responded four no trump.

ARMY IN HAWAII WILL BE TESTED

Extensive Competition Blasted For Nov. 8-14 With Over 20,000 Taking Part

HONOLULU (AP)—The most extensive military competition ever staged on an American soil will take place here from Nov. 8 to 14, according to announcement of Maj. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, commanding the Hawaiian department of the United States Army.

The competition are not maneuvers but merely a test of the strength and competency of the troops now stationed in Hawaii.

20,000 Take Part
More than 20,000 officers and men will participate in approximately 80 events, furnishing competitive tests of all phases of training for all arms and branches of the military service. Entries in the various events will range from a single to a battalion. Each soldier must be entered in at least one event.

The program will be the most elaborate event ever ordered for an American Army in peace time. Gen. Drum announced.

No athletic events are scheduled. The entire program is military. Events will consist of infantry, field artillery and coast artillery units, combat range firing, marches, scouting, patrolling, close order drills and field training schedules in the handling of each bit of equipment, whether it be a rifle or a tank.

The program will mark the end of a year of extremely hard training units at Schofield barracks have undergone. This post, the largest in the United States, exercises to get an example for every division in other parts of the nation.

"Such a competition is most valuable in building esprit de corps," points out Gen. Drum.

His military events will be our Army's greatest peace time competitive meet.

Signs at Ranch Provide Potent Campaign Data

Three signs posted in front of the ranch placed southwest of here are credited with being among the most potent campaign signs yet reduced to print.

The print is the lettering which the present owner of the ranch, Moses Finch and W. A. Gravel, 10-acre ranch, four miles north of Carey, has placed upon the board, revealing in eloquent terms the contrast which the owner reacts to for his produce under the Hoover and Roosevelt administrations.

GRIDIRON HEROES

DAVIS has turned out some great grid-iron heroes in modern football, but it is doubtful if any of them did as much toward putting the gridiron football on the map as did Alvin "Doc" McMillin, present leader of the University of California.

It was in 1921 that Doc led a scrappy, praying band of volunteers from Little Orange, California, to the gridiron to ward off the gridiron football from the hands of the little but skilled Centre and would probably be the greatest point in the gridiron's history. It was the gridiron football that Doc McMillin had played with his team in the year 1900, and it was the gridiron football that he had played with in the University of California from 1905 to 1910.

GOODING HEARS DEMO SPEAKERS

Mayor Clark and Others Talk To Voters on Issues of Political Campaign

GOODING, Oct. 30 (Special)—Barzila Clark lashed at a Boise political publication issued yesterday, saying that all its publisher knows "is that such monopolists tell him at a knife and fork club, at Gooding, that the meeting was attended by nearly 400 persons. "I believe in freedom," he announced, "but not in Communism, monopoly or dictatorship." Concerning the sales tax, which he said the Republicans were trying to make a burning issue, Clark declared the tax was passed to pay the old tax and in reply to the opposing plan to pay the balance from the state treasury. In that case, "how much the old debt depends on how much the young drink."

Names Issue
Harry C. Parsons, state auditor, said that the real issue of the campaign is not the sales tax as the Republicans state but the conservation of natural resources of the state. The phosphate beds in Idaho would support the schools for 150 years, he estimated.

Charles Gossett, candidate for lieutenant governor, introduced Democratic candidates introduced were Proutie Judge W. B. Chubbuck, state treasurer, and J. M. Coedige, tax collector; J. H. Chubbuck, W. J. Barker, F. F. Gorman, county commissioners; Eugene H. Brown, state auditor, and William C. Hagerman, state senator.

Mr. Nelson, born Feb. 14, 1860, at Goshan, Utah, came to Burley from Emmett in 1912 and was active in farming. His wife, Mrs. Mary Ann Nelson, died four years ago.

Four sons, Edward Nelson and Jesse R. Nelson, both of Burley; J. Leo Nelson, Silverton, Utah; and Gordon P. Nelson, Halley, survive him and his three daughters, Mrs. Mary Duncan, Logan; Mrs. Jane Lake, Coeur d'Alene; and Mrs. Miranda Allen, Arvon. They and two brothers, James A. Nelson, Blain, Idaho, and Warren T. Nelson, Emmett.

The body rests at the Payne mortuary.

ONE ISSUE AND ONE ANSWER—RECOVERY IS HERE!

Governor Ross and the other members of the state administration have agreed with a one and half million dollars in surplus to be given over to the next administration.

In the county, officials working in union form, have been called forward to better conditions. And this holds true for the Democratic members of the state legislature, as well as the Democratic members of the congressional delegation. James P. Pope, and Representative D. Worth Clark and Compton L. White, state can give further support to the national administration by electing Governor Ross as Democratic United States senator.

Continued improvement in the state of conditions which the people are entitled to enjoy in this county, state and nation, are possible with the placing in office of all the candidates of that party which has proved its ability to advance the common good to the benefit of all.

So, above the din of radio broadcasts and oratory to the contrary, the party which is the source of speech, poeas, bluffs, ridicule, polls, and sneers of all kinds, is the party which has proved its ability to advance the common good to the benefit of all.

BLACK FAVORITE IN WINTER WEAR
Paris Clothing House Assists Smartest Outlets Select Dark Color

By MARY FENTRESS
PARIS (U.S.)—Recently installed in more spacious and luxurious quarters on the Avenue Madison, says that his smartest clients are selecting black more than any other shade for new winter clothes.

Black is being worn particularly for street wear but is seen at night as well, and is usually cheered up by touches of some very bright color.

The most popular choices in the new Paris collection include a street suit of black broadcloth with a large collar of silver fox. Another suit of black wool, which is being worn by the popular aristocrat and is worn over a bright red vest, is proving very popular.

Black for Daytime
This color's three most popular day dresses also are black. One is black marcelle crepe trimmed with ascotian piping and fastens on a row of bright green buttons. Another is a black wool that is decorated in black and white with a row of brilliant red and bright blue. Still another in black wool is trimmed with a row of bright red, at the elbows and at the neck, with a necktie in yellow, red and green.

One of the outstanding tailors' bright suits is made of black of black lisle and velvet with a long black fur collar and a black fur trim. More formal is a classical evening gown of soft black velvet that is made with a low-cut decollete and long, flowing skirt.
