BOTTOLESEN DELAYS SPAN BILL SIGNING

Governor Studies Appointments to Commission Before Placing Signature On Bridge Purchase Act

(By The Associated Press)
BOISE, March 3.—Governor G. A. Bottolesen delayed yesterday until he is ready to name the commission the bill creates—signing of the legislative measure that would permit purchase by the state of the Jerome-Twin Falls toll bridge.

Both house and senate approved the bill that provided for issuance of $500,000 in tax anticipation notes to commissioners who, the commissioners of public works could "buy the span" constructed 10 years ago.

Advising the commissioners would be a five-man commission of which the governor would be chairman.

Other members would be appointed other than those of the same political affiliation. Commission members would receive no remuneration for their services.

The bill provides that a three-man commission immediately after it has signed "the measure," Governmental Affairs Committee.

"I want to check into the matter before I make the appointments and so I will not sign the bill for a few days."

Under terms of the bill, a $1-million per gallon license that would be levied on all motor vehicles would be used to retire the notes at the rate of $60,000 a year.

The bill was referred to a general committee and did not refer to the Twin Falls-Jerome bridge. The latter bridge, however, is the only one in Idaho that would be affected.

At the time the bill was introduced, a private bill, the Twin Falls-Jerome bridge was the highest motor toll bridge in the country.

Numerous previous efforts have been made to effect its purchase by the state but all have resulted in failure.

Governor Bottolesen put his signature on a score of bills today, most of them routine appropriation meas-

Mute Veteran Regains Speech

EXCERPT: SPRINGS, Mo.—M. J. Chandler, 40, the world's first ever to speak without voice, has recovered his speech power. He can talk again.

He is the only man in the 40-year forest in 1818 with a field injury. The shock rendered him mute.

He came to this U. S. Veterans' hospital here recently for a routine physical examination. He avoided the microphone with what he described as a "peculiar feeling in my head."

"Then something seemed to snap," he said. He quoted himself as saying, "I felt like I could talk again."

He talked without slurring words, doctors said.

ROOSEVELT TOPS CONGRESS EVENT

Possible Appeasement Address Sighted in Pres. ident's Talk

BY KIRK L. SIMONSEN

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—

President Roosevelt's address to the American Legion in connection with the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the first session of congress will provide an opportunity and forum rare in the history of the nation for national policy declarations.

He is to appear before a joint session of congress by specific request of the American Legion.

The bill provides that a three-man commission immediately after it has been signed "the measure," Governmental Affairs Committee.

GOVERNMENT AT MADRID FIGHTS BACK

Spain Loyalists Embarrass
Britain and France by Stiffening Resistance to Recognized Franco Forces

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LONDON, March 3.—The Madrid government now faces the task of the recognition of Britain and France, embarrassing these two countries by apparently stiffening its resistance to the nationalists and thwarting the two democracies' attempts to bring an end to the Spanish civil war.

The Republicans were stubbornly holding onto their last redoubt and also to the one-fourth of the country still in their hands, where Britain and French leaders expected to be able to act on their recognition to the nationalists last Monday, that they were soon to Madrid's defeat.

Britain and France are anxious to have the war end as quickly as possible in the new Spain's economic life, in which Italy and Germany, as well as the nationalists, already are entrenched.

But there was no quick immediate capitulation. The situation hung fire, with a moment of defiance hurled by a famous leader on each side.

Dolores Ibarruri, woman Communist leader, told the Madrid government she would not let the government win the war at Burgos, the nationalist capital.

Publio Lopez, prime minister of the former front-line man premier declared "entry of our troops into Madrid is near." Chief of the nationalists, General Franco, appealed to the nation to contribute supplies for "the starving people" in the territories under Madrid rule.

Because of the extraordinary occasion—and because there has been no word of what Mr. Roosevelt intends to say—there is a desire to know what the president will include not only in his address to the Congress and the military high command of the 100th anniversary of the first session of congress but also in his speech to the American Legion.

Ordinarily, there are always addresses to the American Legion or to special addresses known to be in preparation.

President Roosevelt has been invited to speak at the annual meeting of the American Legion in St. Paul, Minn., on June 10.

That raises a possibility that, while nominally addressed to the American people, Mr. Roosevelt's remarks may be directed to the foreign press office, east in London, England.

That is done, it is believed, to take advantage in a fashion to get world attention to go some further than merely renewing America's stand against the Spanish nationalists.

General Abraham Lincoln later set down a "government of the people, by the people, and for the people."

There is doubt in Washington, however, if his address will not also be more direct and forceful.

At the time the bill was introduced, a private bill, the Twin Falls-Jerome bridge was the highest motor toll bridge in the country.

Numerous previous efforts have been made to effect its purchase by the state but all have resulted in failure.

Huge Grant For Defense Unopposed

Senate Hears Nye's Warning Against Building Military Machine for Service of Foreigners

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Record-breaking, $499,857,936 appropriation bill for the army got house approval today amid warnings in the Senate that congressional future to keep close tabs on American foreign policy might draw the nation into war.

The huge supply measure, largest since 1929 and carrying the first funds for a proposed $300,000,000 expansion of the air corps, rolled through the house without a record vote or a single amendment.

Representative Snyder (D-N.Y.) called for a vote on all the fees declared the amendments offered constitutional expression of American policy.

Senate action, however, is not yet certain. The peace of the western hemisphere, he said.

He urged the Senate to postpone the measure.

The measure carries a provision for the operation of the army as distinct from a measure passed by the Senate two weeks ago authorizing the president to increase the size of the army, including the air corps. The latter measure carries funds, in addition to the purchase of tanks, for the purchase of aircraft. In view of the different types, today's bill would provide for reinforcement of ground forces, mechanized, semi-mechanized, anti-aircraft, anti-submarine, artillery and mobile anti-aircraft guns.

Shortly before acting on the measure, the house heard Rep. Carl D. Meece, frequent critic of army policies, declare that if recent reports of Germany's intention to add power to their present million-ton naval attacks abroad were "true on the job" and should be "eliminated in the service."

THEFT SUSPECT FACES PENALTY

Jury Finds Tom Troy Guilty
After Hearing His Own Defense

Tom Troy, 55-year-old sheepherder, didn't do so well when he undertook to present his own defense with the benefit of only one witness, himself, in the courtroom. The police on a petit larceny charge of theft of a pair of shoes valued at $75 from a store.

It took a six-man jury only about 10 minutes to find him guilty after he had told his own story—discrediting his alibi that he had accidentally stolen shoes and after a department store manager and G. C. Carpenter, the attorney, overruled the defense's objection.

Judge C. A. Bulley said he will pronounce sentence next Monday.

The local attorney expects when he comes to trial that he will

PUTTING FRILLS ON "THE TRUTH"

Although it may not be generally known, the detective stories and thrillers have been helping to play a big part in the Olson murder case, to which "THIS" was written in Twin Falls some months ago.

But related as these stories are, they lack neither imagination nor sensation. Some of them stray so far from the truth that persons familiar with all the details have had their eyes opened so far as these blood and thunder-magazines are concerned.

Yesterday's Twin Falls News carried an account of a conversation between Police Commissioner Frank J. Murphy and Night Editor, both of whom are as well informed as anyone about the case in question.

Police officials and newspapermen have one thing in common—Because of their regard for facts and truthful information, they have little respect for the average "fictional" or "detective" magazine. But the fact that these publications enjoy tremendous circulation raises the question as to whether the circulation itself still persists for entertainment, or, in the last analysis, for information that cannot be found elsewhere.

The Night Editor, however, suggests that "Truth is stranger than fiction."

In view of what Twin Falls has learned, through its opportunity to compare such stories with the actual facts, the thought might be added: Perhaps so, but that is the case, why is it necessary to distort the truth?

If these magazines are to be judged generally by the way in which several of them described the Olson murder case, then there is good reason to doubt whether they are motivated in the least by any desire to be truthful.

It seems to be a case of using the truth when it's convenient and abusing the truth when it's insufficiently sensational to make bloodthirsty reading.

RIGHTS AND WRONGS.

Shigoro Takahashi, a Tokyo newspaper publisher, in a letter to the American publisher, Roy W. Howard, makes an interesting argument for conquest:

"Japan is only trying to establish her right of national existence appropriate to the real potentiality of our race."

What does he mean by this? You could argue all day over it.

But lasting peace requires a flexible regulation in the matter of territorial distribution. And until some international law-enforcing body, such as the League of Nations, can satisfactorily redistribute the earth's surface so as to harmonize the growth and expansion of various races, there will always be some nation ultimately resorting to arms to establish its rights.

Well, what's wrong with this picture? You could argue all day over it.

But the international law of nations is natural right to expand into another nation's territory? If so, what becomes of the other nation's rights? And if ownership is not respected, what happens to all property among nations? Our so-called "international law" already pretty much shot to pieces, seems to dissolve altogether, and we get back to the simple plan that they should take who have the power, and they should keep who can."

Many nations got their present territory by violence. But that process can't go on forever. In a crowded world of steel, airships, tanks and machine guns, the human race would destroy itself.

Mr. Takahashi hints at a peaceful solution. We should have an international arbitrator, perhaps, to make a fair distribution of international wealth. But which of us wealthy nations would surrender anything without a fight?

The basic trouble may be not sin but folly. Individuals and nations are "demented with the mania of owning things" and of wanting things they don't need.

RADIOS AND PHONOGRAPH.

Among the musical instruments in which there has been a revival of interest on the part of the public is the phonograph. It is not surprising that the piano and violin and other orchestral instruments should be studied again. There is a good deal of satisfaction in being able to perform at all creditably on any of these. It was probably inevitable from the first that not foreseen that the more music people hear on the radio the more some of them were going to want to learn to make the same kind of music.

It is different with the phonograph. That calls for passive listening just as the radio does. But the phonograph has this great advantage: It does not interrupt itself to pester for digestion or dental beauty or anything else. Also its programs can be arranged by the individual listener to fit his own mood.

A curious thing about many so-called "new ideas" in the field of politics and economics is that they have already been tried and sometimes discarded by other countries. The radio, for instance, was first provided for a pretty rigid forty-four-week unit after French had already partly worked their way out of a forty-four-week unit that done considerable damage to agriculture. The radio, however, did not affect agriculture in France, but it did affect agriculture in Germany, which now announces that no minimum price for wheat is to grow in the prairie provinces will be fixed for the coming crop year. The government will buy up all surplus wheat at a price of 40 francs a bushel and will let the Donington treasury too much, but it does not offer a real solution and that the government's idea of a very strict radio control did not just at the moment that Churchill had his maximum prices, but it did not just at the moment that Churchill had his maximum prices. They are beginning to do for crop control what the radio did for agriculture.

Breakfast Food.

"You'll have to see my secretary for an appointment."

"I did, but she's booked up for two weeks."

Instead of turning a radio dial back and forth in a vain search for his favorite music, he can take what he wants from his shelf of records and give himself the very concert he longs for.

It must be for some such reason that phonograph sales rose from $2,000,000 in 1937 to $35,000,000 in 1938; and are still going strong in 1939. In justice to radio, it should be said that most of these are combined radio-phonograph instruments. Your savvy listener isn't discarding his radio by any means. He is merely enlarging his choice of entertainment. Neither alone completely fills the need.

CHEWING FOR THE OLD FOLKS.

Alb. Illinois' legislator proposes to finance that state's old age pensions by a tax on chewing gum. He has introduced a bill calling for a tax of 20 per cent of the retail selling price of each package of gum. That seems a little steep, but wouldn't cost much at all time.

This country's annual chewing gum bill is huge. Enough chewing gum was sold in the United States in 1937 to bring across the counters a total of $56,721,740. We spent more than that on chewing gum in 1937, but seem to have to have been exceeded by 1938.

Although Illinois probably chews its full share of the gross tonnage, the tax would fall far short of the funds needed for old age pensions. Still, it suggests possibilities, and the few Americans who not only don't chew gum but shudder at the sight of others chewing it would certainly get a big satisfaction out of such a tax.

Other Points of View.

AN OLD, OLD STORY.

Some optimistic souls may view the graft conviction of Tammany Leader James J. Hines as New York as a new era of honesty in government.

But those who have followed the rise and fall of Tammany will find themselves compelled to have a very reverent attitude toward the community. It has a tendency when crushed to worth again. Tammany has met defeat in politics and in business, but it always comes back. Courtroom reformers such as Justice Attorney Thomas E. Dewey and win glorious victories. Then there pass away.

Political officials and newspapermen have one thing in common—Because of their regard for facts and truthful information, they have little respect for the average "fictional" or "detective" magazine. But the fact that these publications enjoy tremendous circulation raises the question as to whether the circulation itself still persists for entertainment, or, in the last analysis, for information that cannot be found elsewhere.

The Night Editor, however, suggests

that "Truth is stranger than fiction."

In the last analysis, the Tammany tiger has not changed its stripes—much; the principle of protective coloration has only modified the animalistic side somewhat.

The result was that when Tammany was born, it had the best chance of becoming the new era of honesty in government. But those who have followed the rise and fall of Tammany will find themselves compelled to have a very reverent attitude toward the community. It has a tendency when crushed to worth again. FOUR SURVIVORS TANGLE IN CLASS B MEET

Glenns Ferrymen Try for Second Win Over Paul

Semi-Final Game May Send Tournament Into Extra Day; Albion Meets Hagerman Quintet

SHOSHONE, March 3 — Glenns Ferry siege guns mowed down their end-blanket opposition on two fronts Friday to come up as undefeated contenders in the Russell Club's loop finale.

The Ferrymen, coached by Ken Barrett wound up the day's play with an important 26-to-19 victory over the brilliant Paul team to enter the Saturday semi-final series as the ranking favorite to retain their third successive south central district title.

With four teams left in the race, drawing for Saturday play was the opening ceremony at 10 a. m. Following the Paul-Glenns semi-final, Albion would have to determine the Saturday night final.

Friday scores were: Glenns Ferry 26, Paul 19; Hagerman 22, Russell Club 19; Glenns Ferry 22, Albion 21.

Paul 26, Murtaugh 18; Hagerman 22, Shoshone 21.

Drawings opened the possibility that the round would continue over Saturday night. If that were true, then the Ferrymen would still have only one defeat and would automatically, under touring rules, be declared the champion.

Glenns Ferry had to justify the betting odds of 4-1.

Glenns Ferry had won four out of five.

Glenns Ferry had won the first game of the semi-final, but had lost the second to the Hagerman team at 8:30 p. m. Saturday night.

Natie Mann Scores Fifth Straight Comeback Victory

FIELD OF 18 NAMED FOR SANTA ANITA'S BIG RACE

Kayak II and Cravat
Favored at Odds
Of 4 to 1

By ROBERT MYERS
LOS ANGELES—March 4 (P)—

Eighteen candidates were named today for the richest turf-extravaganza-in America—the fifth running of the $10,000 added Santa Anita handicap tomorrow.

A crowd of 80,000 or more, mostly from the Los Angeles area, is expected to turn out for the $10,000-added race.

Two-year-old geldings, 3-year-olds, 4-year-olds and 5-year-olds will compete.

Kayak II, 4 years old, is the choice of most bettors, but

Cravat, 3, is the second choice.

Both horses are owned by

Glenns Ferry, who has been the leading money winner of the year.

STOCKS PUSH TO NEW HIGH MARKS

Brokers Attribute Come-back to More Optimistic Business Outlook

New YORK STOCKS

(IDB, The Associated Press)

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

NEW YORK. March 3 (AP)—Stocks—firms, industrials, lead bonds—up to 8½ points. U. S. government bonds—up to 1½ points. Foreign exchange—upward; sterling up 1½ points; Canadian dollar, 10¢; Canadian franc, 10¢; Swiss franc, 10¢; German mark, 10¢; French franc, 10¢; Italian lira, 10¢; Spanish peseta, 10¢; Belgian franc, 10¢; Portuguese escudo, 10¢; New York, 10¢.

BY FREDERICK GARDNER
NEW YORK. March 3 (AP)—Stocks in today's market pushed up as much as 3 or more points, many up for the first year.

The market has accomplished a little speedier pace, with transfers for the five hours totaling 1,616,700 shares, against 509,500 on the same period last year. The volume was 1,100,000.

Associated Press average of 60 stocks up 8½ points at 322, the best day's advance since Friday.

Brokers attributed the come-back to a more optimistic outlook for a spring business upswing and to the further lessening of political apprehension.

Current business news was fairly comforting. Many companies with sales up to 10% reported some earnings from 1927, at the same time reported a brisk recovery in the latter part of the year which was to be expected.

Posting new 1928-29 tops were U. S. Rubber, preferred; General

Electric, telephone; Southern California, telephone; Harvester,

Dexter, Caterpillar Tractor, J. C. Penney, Philip Morris, United, and American Can.

In the foreign field, the leaders also were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Montrose, Standard Oil, Ford, Westinghouse, Anaconda, Westinghouse, Alcoa, General Electric, DuPont, Santa Fe, Great Northern, and Western Pacific.

General Electric drew support when directors voted a boost in the dividends from 20¢-cents a share in the previous three quarters to 25 cents.

A jump in this week's market can be attributed to the fact that the public, while still somewhat somber, seem as traffic figures brightened and hopes were still held out for continued improvement.

If it goes on, bonds may be briskly following yesterday's assault on government spending by Senator George W. Norris, chairman of the Senate finance committee. Committee were steady. Fractions to mere than a point higher in the curb electric and end-use, local, long-haul, feeders, telephone, telephone, light and power, "A" circle and American Cyanamid "B".
