

Czechs Submit to Hitler's New Demands

VETO BURIES PAY INCREASE FOR COUNTIES

Bottolzen Turns Down Bill That Would Have Permitted Twin Falls to Raise Salaries of Sheriff, Judge

BOISE, March 13.—(AP)—Governor C. A. Bottolzen left Idaho's executive offices today for a four-day holiday after disposing of nearly 35 legislative bills. In two days.

He vetoed six measures yesterday and today to hit to 27 the total of bills he turned down. It was the largest number of vetoes since 1922, when G. O. Moore was governor.

Laws in Storm

The governor left the capital by automobile in a snowstorm tonight to remain there for a day or two before going to Sun Valley. He planned to return Saturday.

A voter initiative measure which could have permitted nine counties—Ada, Canyon, Bonneville, Shoshone, Twin Falls, Kootenai, Ada, Canyon, Bonneville, and Shoshone—to increase their annual salaries from $2,000 to $3,000—the maximum annual salaries for sheriff, county attorney and probate judges to do the same in all the counties—the governor vetoed the bill, "I note in the list at least two counties had such difficulties with their finances, particularly in relation to the public assistance program, that special session of the legislature, to aid them," he said.

"Not Accurate Survey"

"I am not satisfied with the figures," he said. "It was not the result of an accurate survey of the whole county financial program," but "it is a piece of legislation that I do not like."

He directed a complete study of the situation and classification of the counties.

Classification of statutes dealing with beer taxes was completed with the signing of two bills and the voting of a third, the latest a bill to prohibit the sale of beer in all bars, requiring all provisions were contained in one of the other two bills which were signed.

Next year, the minimum age of persons to whom beer could be sold, required return to report beer bottles to the state, and a sign that could be used, preventing re-bottling in Idaho of beer shipped into the state in bulk and containing no label, will be required.

This appears to be a local law.

(Continued on Page 2, Column 4)

12 Killed in Wreck Caused By Stray Cow

CHATEAUROUX, France, March 13 (AP)—A stray cow wrecked a freight train early last night, causing the death of at least 12 persons and injuring 20. The engine, which was carrying a car which was being hitched to a siding to allow the express to pass, had run into the rear end of the train, which fell onto the main line just as the fast train approached.

The engine baggage and mail car were torn to pieces, and the express piled up.

The bodies of the 12 persons were recovered by rescue workers who continued to search for possibly additional victims. Twenty-four injured were in a serious condition.

MONTANA TOWN IN FLOOD PATH

Dam Breaks, Driving 200 From Homes; Two Deaths Reported

JORDAN, Mont., March 13 (AP)—Two hundred or more persons were forced to leave their homes last night when a dam across Big Dry Creek a mile west broke, and sent a wall of water rushing down a valley.

Bennie Tipton, newspaper editor, said all residents of the flooded area, which he estimated was one-third of the town, had enough warning to escape.

A section of the earthfill dam about 70 feet long gave way with a roar, and the water, which had rapidly overflowed the creek banks, spread over the low section of the town.

As a result of the flood, Tipton estimated would be reached later tonight.

He and his wife, still riding their bicycles, drove through the remnants of houses removing stocks from basements along Main street.

The basement of the Jordan Hotel, which had been converted into a hospital for the heating plant out of commission.

Tipton said at noon today:

(Continued on Page 2, Column 4)

SLIDE MENAGE CLOSES SCHOOL

Buckner, Idaho, Hit by One Avalanche, Takes Precautions

BURKE, Idaho, March 13 (AP)—This little north Idaho mining town, where the school year began a month ago, has now closed down because of the snow.

Sen. Frank Wheeler (D-Mont.) proposed that congress appoint special committees to study government operation of national forests to promote economy and efficiency.

He said the school would remain closed until the seasonal danger period is over. A doctor announced the school would be warned to leave their homes.

Snow was reported more than eight feet deep in the upper end of the valley, and the amount of wet snow increased alarm. Numerous homes have been in crumpled piles for many years.

A northern Idaho snow storm today cleared the 18-mile section from Wallace to Lookout Pass, leaving the highway clear, where the snow is 10 feet deep.

Both cat and dog are raising their beds in the tree without argument.

Both are to be a local law.

(Continued on Page 2, Column 4)

FLASHES of LIFE

By Associated Press

Kittens and Pups

LOMPOUC, N. C.—A cat gave birth to two kittens in a hollow oak on C. M. May's farm recently, and a puppy was born in a schoolhouse a snow-covered mountain.

Commenting on it, the chief executive said:

"This appears to be a local law."

(Continued on Page 2, Column 4)

Walking Skeletons

INDIANAPOLIS—A skeleton picked up a walking stick on a downtown street here.

Two placards of the United Cemetery Workers Union (CIO) put out a "Stranger in Town" slogan, pictures of "directors of the Green Hill Cemetery Association."

The union also has been picketing the city hall, demanding the removal of the mayor and the city manager.

The skeleton, costumed picnickers carried cards which said: "I can't eat my bonds in Crown Hill."

Presence of Mind

PHILIPSBURG, Kas.—The presence of mind of 7-year-old Lydia Anne Dennis, the daughter of her cousin, Mary Lynn Graves, 7, was shown in her ability to find her mother's coat when she was lost in a crowd of 1,000 people.

"Stand real still," Lydia Alice told her mother. She found the kitchen for part of which she made up before the fire was put out.

Governor Sleeps

CHEYENNE, Wyo.—Gov. Neil H. Shaffer, who filled in for the regular session of the legislature and adjourned didn't sleep well last night.

"Finally, I got out of bed a few times to take a look around the executive mansion. Now he sleeps fine."

Maybe It's Hard to Believe, But Here's What Fair Offers

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP)—

You'll be able to get a paraplane, eat your dinner to the tune of $100,000, go to a Swiss roulette, or even a human scalp—at the New York World's Fair.

You'll be able to measure the thickness of one's eyes, hair, or skin.

There will be a special place for the little old children in a restaurant where you can give your order in 12 languages. If you order 12,000 public telephones and 10,000 telephone booths, you'll be able to get a full meal.

Forces of the sun will appear in two places—in the Florida exhibit, and a mineral water exhibit.

There are a few of the attractions outlined today in the first edition of the official fair guidebook, which is only one of 18 books arising from a convention

TAX REVISION DELAY LOOMS, SAYS BARKLEY

Administration Leader Hints

No Reduction Possible in Revenue Measures Despite "Business Aid" Program

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 13 (AP)—Senator Barkley (D-Ky) indicated strongly today that the administration might not favor revision of business taxes at this time, a step which it had been understood would be the system of its business expansion program.

The congressional leader, who had talked with President Roosevelt earlier in the day, said it was generally agreed that no tax revision would be undertaken which would reduce existing revenue. Thus, he said, elimination of some existing business levies would have been followed by an increase in others.

Might Hinder Business

Two hundred or more persons were held in business more than established by the existing system, he said.

Whether the president held similar views, he told reporters that Mr. Roosevelt had not been available for conference tomorrow.

At meantime, a plea by Mr. Roosevelt "not to back up" on his general program, and above all, to stand firm against the proposed $150,000,000 WPA, was taken to the White House by five Democratic senators.

Sen. Lee Burdette, who acted as spokesman for the group, said they told the president they thought WPA "by all means" should have $100,000,000 more—to run it until June 1.

Accompanying him to the White House were Senators Billings of Alaska, Edwards of Wyoming, Mendes of New York and Senator Louis

McKellar of Tennessee.

The president asked congress to consider a bill to appropriate $100,000,000 for WPA—the amount slashed from his original $375,000,000 estimate of its needs.

Senate Message

He will appear before congress tomorrow, however, and has not indicated whether it will return.

Other developments included:

Secretary Morgenthau announced his intention to propose to congress to raise the $150,000,000 limit for the public debt in this session of congress.

He will appear before congress in less than a week.

Senate—A committee of 12,000 experts—selected draft recommendations for revision of federal securities laws which they had had in mind for a year.

Sen. Wheeler (D-Mont.) proposed that congress appoint special committees to study government operation of national forests.

He said the forest service would do no damage, but if the school would remain closed until the seasonal danger period is over. A doctor announced the school would be warned to leave their homes.

Snow was reported more than eight feet deep in the upper end of the valley, and the amount of wet snow increased alarm.

Numerous homes have been in crumpled piles for many years.

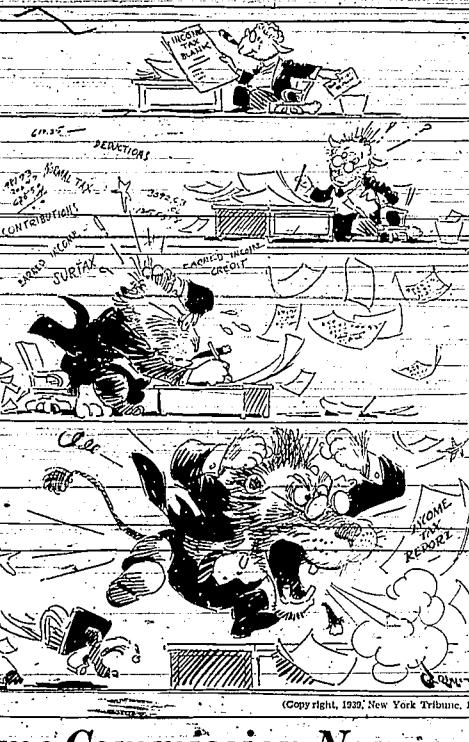

A northern Idaho snow storm today cleared the 18-mile section from Wallace to Lookout Pass, leaving the highway clear, where the snow is 10 feet deep.

Both cat and dog are raising their beds in the tree without argument.

Both are to be a local law.

(Continued on Page 2, Column 4)

The March Lion Makes Out His Income Tax Report

Nazi Troops Take Posts On Frontier

Slovakia's Clamor for Independence Brings Fuehrer's Demand for Call to Parliament

(By The Associated Press)

CZECHOSLOVAKIA, which lost one-fifth of her territory to Germany through the peace of Munich, submitted again last night to Adolf Hitler.

President Emil Hacha ordered the Slovak parliament to meet an extraordinary session today to consider independence for Slovakia when the German Fuehrer, whose troops were soon to march into the little Republic, stepped into the Czech-Slovak frontier quarrel and ordered the parliamentary session after a day of wild scenes in Bratislava, Slovakia's capital.

Dr. Hacha's capitulation to Hitler allayed, temporarily at least, the Nazi chieftain's reported plan for possible occupation of Czechoslovakia as a result of the frontier dispute in Slovakia's favor.

Even before the Prague government bowed to Hitler, Slovak demonstrators, led by Dr. Jozef Tiso, Slovaks' chief spokesman, marched on the central government in its bold move to smash the separatist movement.

Give-satisfactory guarantees to Germany, demand a call to parliament, declare their independence.

In the face of the critical situation here President Emil Hacha of Czechoslovakia, acting on orders of Adolf Hitler, issued a proclamation calling for an extraordinary session of the Slovak parliament tomorrow afternoon.

Dr. Jozef Tiso, whose Slovak cabinet was disposed Friday by the Fuehrer, in the name of the German government, virtually declared independence.

These manifestations were made during a day of anti-Czech demonstrations, including a bomb explosion in the center of Bratislava, which killed 100 persons by the blast.

Britain, France Afraid

—Britain and France, which had been instrumental in the dismantlement of Czechoslovakia, were shocked by the news that Hitler had accepted the demands of the Slovak rebels.

The Spanish war remained dormant while the British government, in formal terms, held the finishing touches to the peace of Madrid.

British officials and Arab delegations in London conferred formally while the British government put the finishing touches to the peace of Madrid.

The Spanish front was quiet, but the British forces which had wiped out all Chinese forces on the east bank of the Han river to join the British forces in the west bank advanced.

The British presumably will take advantage of the situation to make a new peace.

Representatives of the German government, who had called up on short notice to-day, several "troop" trains left Berlin for Bratislava, and Hitler's forces took the number one of course, seizing a number of automobiles.

The troops presumably will take advantage of the situation to make a new peace.

Germany's first anniversary of its union with Austria, the date of which was yesterday, was not disclosed.

Reports from various parts of the country indicated extensive troop movements.

HITLER DELAYS MILITARY MOVE

Nazi Occupation of Czechoslovakia, Depends on Guarantees

BERLIN, March 13 (AP)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler ordered to the German foreign minister to postpone the Nazi invasion of Czechoslovakia until the German government received guarantees.

The Nazi invasion was to have been held yesterday morning, but Hitler delayed it until the German government received guarantees.

The information came from a confidential source which usually has proved to be right.

The Nazi invasion does not bring a complete victory for the Fuehrer, but it does bring a temporary respite.

Representatives of the Czechoslovak government, who had been invited to a meeting at the Reichstag, were given a short notice to leave.

The Nazis said that as a result of the meeting, Hitler had decided to postpone the Nazi invasion of Czechoslovakia.

The Nazis said that as a result of the meeting, Hitler had decided to postpone the Nazi invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Other states which had been invited to a meeting at the Reichstag, were given a short notice to leave.

The Nazis said that as a result of the meeting, Hitler had decided to postpone the Nazi invasion of Czechoslovakia.

The Nazis said that as a result of the meeting, Hitler had decided to postpone the Nazi invasion of Czechoslovakia.

The Nazis said that as a result of the meeting, Hitler had decided to postpone the Nazi invasion of Czechoslovakia.

The Nazis said that as a result of the meeting, Hitler had decided to postpone the Nazi invasion of Czechoslovakia.

The Nazis said that as a result of the meeting, Hitler had decided to postpone the Nazi invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Chairman George E. Booth Announces Selection; Fish Culturist To Be Appointed in Several Days

(By The Associated Press)

BOISE, March 13 (AP)—Dr. A. B. Hatch, 36-year-old professor of fish culture at the University of Idaho, was named director of the Idaho fish and game commission today.

He said the selection should be "entirely satisfactory to all concerned and to the person who was selected for the position which created the non-partisan commission."

Dr. Hatch was "well qualified" for the post, adding: "I most heartily endorse the appointment."

He served with the United States marines in China, and has been traveling extensively, spending two years studying wildlife problems in Sweden.

Besides Dr. Hatch, members of the commission are Byrd Hawley of Melba, secretary; Walter Flory of Boise, treasurer; and Herbert Schulz and Stanley Easton of Kellogg.

The commissioners said several days would elapse before a fish culturist could be appointed, because which called for creation of a non-partisan state fish and game commission.

The commission was formed by acting governor C. C. Corlett at December 1.

The delay in making a selection was caused by the fact that the commission had no funds.

At least ten deaths were reported. Many roads were closed. Planes were grounded. More than 60 Massacres were reported.

The storm occurred during the star anniversary of the blizzard that devastated the region on Jan. 22, 1888.

These examinations must be held by all present members of the commission, all of whom will be asked to resign. The director will be appointed with an unqualified letter of resignation for use.

Other states in the northern belt were also hit by snow, rain and sleet since Saturday, counted 22 dead, 1,000 injured, 400 missing.

Twenty-four hours ago, the snow had stopped and the temperature had risen to 40 degrees.

Clouds had come in from the northwest, and the temperature had dropped to 30 degrees.

Other states in the northern belt were also hit by snow, rain and sleet since Saturday, counted 22 dead, 1,000 injured, 400 missing.

Clouds had come in from the northwest, and the temperature had dropped to 30 degrees.

Other states in the northern belt were also hit by snow, rain and sleet since Saturday, counted 22 dead, 1,000 injured, 400 missing.

Clouds had come in from the northwest, and the temperature had dropped to 30 degrees.

Other states in the northern belt were also hit by snow, rain and sleet since Saturday, counted 22 dead, 1,000 injured, 400 missing.

Clouds had come in from the northwest, and the temperature had dropped to 30 degrees.

Other states in the northern belt were also hit by snow, rain and sleet since Saturday, counted 22 dead, 1,000 injured, 400 missing.

Clouds had come in from the northwest, and the temperature had dropped to 30 degrees.

Other states in the northern belt were also hit by snow, rain and sleet since Saturday, counted 22 dead, 1,000 injured, 400 missing.

Clouds had come in from the northwest, and the temperature had dropped to 30 degrees.

Other states in the northern belt were also hit by snow, rain and sleet since Saturday, counted 22 dead, 1,000 injured, 400 missing.

Clouds had come in from the northwest, and the temperature had dropped to 30 degrees.

Other states in the northern belt were also hit by snow, rain and sleet since Saturday, counted 22 dead, 1,000 injured, 400 missing.

Clouds had come in from the northwest, and the temperature had dropped to 30 degrees.

Other states in the northern belt were also hit by snow, rain and sleet since Saturday, counted 22 dead, 1,000 injured, 400 missing.

Clouds had come in from the northwest, and the temperature had dropped to 30 degrees.

Other states in the northern belt were also hit by snow, rain and sleet since Saturday, counted 22 dead, 1,000 injured, 400 missing.

Clouds had come in from the northwest, and the temperature had dropped to 30 degrees.

Other states in the northern belt were also hit by snow, rain and sleet since Saturday, counted 22 dead, 1,000 injured, 400 missing.

Clouds had come in from the northwest, and the temperature had dropped to 30 degrees.

Other states in the northern belt were also hit by snow, rain and sleet since Saturday, counted 22 dead, 1,000 injured, 400 missing.

Clouds had come in from the northwest, and the temperature had dropped to 30 degrees.

Other states in the northern belt were also hit by snow, rain and sleet since Saturday, counted 22 dead, 1,000 injured, 400 missing.

Clouds had come in from the northwest, and the temperature had dropped to 30 degrees.

Other states in the northern belt were also hit by snow, rain and sleet since Saturday, counted 22 dead, 1,000 injured, 400 missing.

Clouds had come in from the northwest, and the temperature had dropped to 30 degrees.

Other states in the northern belt were also hit by snow, rain and sleet since Saturday, counted 22 dead, 1,000 injured, 400 missing.

Clouds had come in from the northwest, and the temperature had dropped to 30 degrees.

Other states in the northern belt were also hit by snow, rain and sleet since Saturday, counted 22 dead, 1,000 injured, 400 missing.

Clouds had come in from the northwest, and the temperature had dropped to 30 degrees.

Other states in the northern belt were also hit by snow, rain and sleet since Saturday, counted 22 dead, 1,000 injured, 400 missing.

Clouds had come in from the northwest, and the temperature had dropped to 30 degrees.

Other states in the northern belt were also hit by snow, rain and sleet since Saturday, counted 22 dead, 1,000 injured, 400 missing.

Clouds had come in from the northwest, and the temperature had dropped to 30 degrees.

Other states in the northern belt were also hit by snow, rain and sleet since Saturday, counted 22 dead, 1,000 injured, 400 missing.

Clouds had come in from the northwest, and the temperature had dropped to 30 degrees.

Other states in the northern belt were also hit by snow, rain and sleet since Saturday, counted 22 dead, 1,000 injured, 400 missing.

Clouds had come in from the northwest, and the temperature had dropped to 30 degrees.

Other states in the northern belt were also hit by snow, rain and sleet since Saturday, counted 22 dead, 1,000 injured, 400 missing.

Clouds had come in from the northwest, and the temperature had dropped to 30 degrees.

Other states in the northern belt were also hit by snow, rain and sleet since Saturday, counted 22 dead, 1,000 injured, 400 missing.

Clouds had come in from the northwest, and the temperature had dropped to 30 degrees.

Other states in the northern belt were also hit by snow, rain and sleet since Saturday, counted 22 dead, 1,000 injured, 400 missing.

Clouds had come in from the northwest, and the temperature had dropped to 30 degrees.

ROOSEVELT OKEHS LABOR PROPOSAL

President—Reported—Behind Controversial Amendment to Defense Bill

WASHINGTON. March 13.—(UPI)—The Roosevelt administration, today, in its backlog, in principle, a controversial labor amendment to the $385,000,000 national defense bill, has led to a dispute within the administration over whether to include trying to reconcile the two chambers' differences on the legislation.

FDR Backs Barkley

Informed legislators that at White House conference today Senator Barkley, Democrat, expressed the view that the fundamental provisions of the amendment should be retained. The president was said to be in agreement.

Barkley, the author of the amendment, made known, however, that he was willing to modify it, if some changes were made. He said he would like to see the Senate accept the conference that the bill be applied only to firms which, within two years past, had been found by the National Recovery Administration to have violated the Wagner act or other labor statute.

The two conferees agreed on committee recommendations received from Secretary Hull a letter saying that so far as the state departments know, no firm applying to the conference that the bill be applied only to firms which, within two years past, had been found by the N.R.A. to have violated the Wagner act or other labor statute.

The question had arisen that the United States might have to wait until after the election of Governor Wallace to take action. At the suggestion of Senator Johnson (D-Calif.) Senator Walsh (D-Mass.), chairman of the Senate's armed forces committee, telephoned the White House to inquire whether the department had any information on the question.

The committee, today, continued its hearings on the $385,000,000 bill, of which the Guan proposal is a part, but confined its discussion to specific legislative improvements in the United States.

VETERAN MASON CALLED BY DEATH

Lodge to Conduct Services for Orlando C. Taylor, 90 Years Old

Final rites for Orlando C. Taylor, a Twin Falls resident for 20 years, will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the home of the White mortuary. He will be buried at the cemetery of Taylor having been a member of the A. F. & A. M. for 65 years. He is survived by his wife, Anna Louise and his life membership. Mr. Taylor was born at Ottumwa, Iowa, January 25, 1849.

Mrs. Anna Louise, Mrs. A. G. Wiltz, Salem, Oregon, and a niece, Mrs. Ross Kennedy, Spokane, were present.

Board Meetings Give Way for Turney-Finale

Two August board of trustees of the independent school district and the Twin Falls city fair board gave way yesterday to a sports event.

Heiner M. Davis, superintendent of schools, said that the regular meeting of the school board will be held tonight at his office, being postponed from Monday night.

Turney, interested greatly that 2,000 racing fans in the community watching the Twin Falls harness race last night, had been staged last night.

Heiner M. Davis, chairman of the fair board, said he had planned to have the fair held last night, but will be held tonight instead at the Fair Fair grounds.

There are a number of sports fans on the fair board. Tom Parks, the manager, and his wife, Mrs. Parks, and their son, Tom Jr., were present.

We probably could have gathered and held a meeting at the basketball game," Parks said. "A quorum attended."

Kimberly Child Called by Death

Funeral services for Kenneth Eugene Dotson, two-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dotson of Kimberly, will be held at 1 p.m. today at his home, 1115 Main Street, Kimberly. Burial will be in Sunnyside park.

Besides the parents, one brother, Mrs. Dotson, Mrs. Dotson's mother, Mrs. D. H. Dotson of Helzberg, and Dr. Drake, maternal grandfather, also from Hansen, survive.

The Morning After Taking Carter's Little Liver-Pills

Named for New State Offices

BYRON DEPUEBACH, left, former state treasurer, was Sunday appointed by Governor Bollingbroke to be state tax commissioner. DAN CALLAHAN of Wallace, former state senator and Republican candidate last year for United States senator, was appointed Idaho comptroller. Both are new jobs created by the legislative session just ended.

GOVERNOR FILLS TWO NEW POSTS

CALLAHAN NAMED COMPTROLLER. DePuebach Tax Commissioner

BURLEY, March 13.—Fifty business leaders of the state attended a meeting of the Idaho Merchants Association Friday evening in the Odd-Fellows hall.

The purpose of the organization is a proposed state chamber, including also a showing of automobile by Burley dealers. "A coming of age," said the chairman.

The show will take place during the spring, the date to be announced.

It was decided not to repeat the "lucky money" contest at the present time, but indications were favorable to another, the members agreeing.

After the meeting, the officers adjourned to the Hotel DePuebach.

Effected by the Donald Callahan, Wallace attorney and former Republican state senator, will be called the state tax controller at a salary of $4,000 annually.

The chief executive coupled the announcement of Callahan's appointment with the naming of James E. DePuebach, Boise certified public accountant, as state tax commissioner. His yearly salary will be $3,000.

POLITICAL RECORDS.

Callahan gained the Republican nomination for state tax controller, but was defeated in the general election by Senator D. Worth Clark.

DePuebach, a former legislator who unsuccessfully sought the Idaho gubernatorial in 1922, being defeated by Ben Ross. In 1926 he was a member of the state tax commission and candidate for U.S. senator.

"I believe he has had the best record with the public in budget matters and taxation problems," DePuebach, too, has had a lot of experience in tax matters and in budget work.

During legislative debate on the bills transferring functions now performed by the state auditor, Calvin E. Wright, a Democrat, introduced a motion to re-secure control of the state tax commission from the Republicans.

Supporters of the measure denied claim, declaring changes had been made in the law to make it more efficient.

And that more efficient operation would save the state many dollars.

Also surviving are his following wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

The funeral will be held at the home of Mrs. John Abbott.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl, Charles, and John, all of Twin Falls, and Mrs. Edith Bright, of Boise.

The body rests at White Mortuary pending interment.

Also surviving are his wife, Anna Louise, and three sons, Clardina, Art Werner, Filer; V. L. Werner, Hersey; Werner, Alpine; Mrs. Jim Werner, and Mrs. Fred Mundt, both of Deschutes; Mrs. Clara Wegener and three sons, Carl,

TWIN FALLS NEWS

Issued every morning except Monday by the Twin Falls News Publishing Co., Inc., Twin Falls, Twin Falls County, Idaho, established 1901.

Daily edition entered as second class mail matter, April 1, 1901, at Twin Falls, Idaho, under the act of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
CARRIED PAYABLE IN ADVANCE

By the week	$1.50
By the month	$12.00
By six months	$52.00
By the year	$104.00

YEARLY PAYMENT BY MAIL

Within Idaho and Elko County, Nevada:

Year, payable in advance $1.50

Half-yearly payment $1.00

Three months, payable in advance $1.00

One month, payable in advance .50

Outside State of Idaho:

Year, payable in advance $1.50

Half-yearly payment $1.00

Three months, payable in advance .50

One month, payable in advance .25

PERIODICALS PUBLISHED

The Associated Press is regularly entitled to the use of all news dispatches creditable to the news published herein. All rights of publication of special dispatches herein reserved to the Twin Falls News.

Member Audit Bureau of Circulation

NATIONAL ADVERTISING CO., INC.

Little Tower, 220 Bush Street, San Francisco, Calif.

The News assumes no financial responsibility for errors or omissions in advertising copy.

Correction of that part of the advertisement in which the error occurs will be published without charge.

All notices required by law or by order of court of competent jurisdiction to be published must be filed in the Wednesday issue of this paper pursuant to Section 154, 1932 Session Laws of Idaho.

NOT TOO MANY PEOPLE YET—

The world's population has quadrupled in the last 300 years. Our little dot in the universe, it is estimated, is now inhabited by more than 2,000,000,000 people. There was a time when we were told that if the population ever approached such a figure there wouldn't be enough food to go around. The earth couldn't support them.

What is our main trouble today? Unemployment, combined with a theoretical surplus of food and useful goods. That surplus does not represent excess of production beyond the needs of the two billion people, but excess of production beyond our ability to distribute profitably. If everybody had all he needed and wanted, the surplus goods and the surplus labor, in all probability, would vanish.

We have learned to produce more food to the acre and more goods per worker than ever before. We can even grow food without soil, by use of chemical nourishment. We produce goods almost without workers, by the use of machinery. There ought to be enough for all. With the distribution problem solved, the civilized world, at least, should enjoy a more satisfactory balance between population and the things people need.

NEW PICKETING TECHNIQUE

When business men take to picketing, they can show labor a few things. An interesting example is seen in Baltimore. The picketers ride instead of walking and use money instead of placards, banners, and so on. And they don't argue or fight or use any violence whatever. They just do their stuff and drive on.

The picketing station was directed against a filling station which refused to join in a program of stabilized prices. The picketers had a stabilization of eight auto-gas stations. The other stations had to join them. Those bought one gallon of gas presented a twenty-dollar bill in payment and had their water and oil checked and their tires inflated. It took the fellow on the job about two hours to take care of that bit of business.

The customers seem to have been quite courteous about it, not rubbing it in, but expecting service and getting it. But the recalcitrant competitor "doubtless" got the point.

RULES FOR MINORITIES

The Nazi incident in Chicago the other evening seemed like a faint echo of the big show in New York which made the nation sit up and take notice. The principal speaker again was Fritz Kuhn, national director of the German-American Bund. But instead of an audience of 20,000, with scores of thousands milling around outside, he addressed only 500 people. Half of them were women and some of them uniformed.

That was taken by the police, as in New York, to avoid violence, and entrants were admitted. The meeting was comparatively mild. Perhaps this meeting, rather than the blustery New York celebration, will set the pattern for such gatherings from now on.

It is generally accepted now by the American public that citizens with Nazi or Fascist or Communist convictions have a constitutional right to public speech and assembly, like other minorities. But it is realized more clearly than at first, that they must avoid certain practices as un-American, dangerous, or undesirable.

Public opinion now demands, and the law should demand, that these be no "private armies," no irresponsible troops in uniform, policing public gatherings instead of local police or National Guardsmen.

There is also a strong public feeling against uniforms modeled on those of foreign countries. Also against the challenging display of foreign flags at public meetings. And there is insistence that if speakers are permitted by American tolerance to preach alien doctrines, they shall refrain from insinuating our own Constitution, government and states-

COLLEGE ON TOUR

The "non-curricular" activities of American college nowadays take in a good deal of territory. A striking example is the annual tour of Stephens College, Columbia, Mo. This year one-third of the students, 520 girls, in one big travel party, have been touring the eastern states—and how!

They travel in two special trains composed of 18 Pullmans and diners. A hundred taxis, 12 cars, 12 busses, 12 motor coaches, 12 sight-seeing trips. They do little more than chartering 14 big buses and a whole teakwood ship. They occupy three or four floors of a big hotel. When they go into dining room, theater, the world moves aside to make room for them.

And do they have a lot of trouble and confusion, as you might expect? Apparently not. President James Madison Wood explains: "People wonder how in the world we keep track of 500 girls," he says. "It is as simple as falling off a log. If you have imagination enough to make arrangements for every contingency, there isn't any problem."

To tell the truth, there seem to have been some erratic-like baggage in the first few days, but nothing surprising. Where there are 1,500 separate places to go, everywhere and distribute accurately in the given time, before their arrival—but even that little trouble has probably been corrected.

President Wood seems to deserve another degree—Doctor of Touring.

PEACE AND OLYMPIC GAMES

London would like to have the Olympic Games in 1944. British Olympic officials are reported already engaged in seeking the right person and making the right moves to get the International Olympic Committee to accept their invitation. The Lord Mayor says they can guarantee expenses—which is a big argument—in London's favor.

Somehow, the 1944 Olympic Games look unimportant and uncertain at this distance in time. It is more thrilling right now to speculate on whether world conditions will be such that the 1940 Olympics can run off successfully and safely in Helsingfors.

It is interesting, nevertheless, and heartening to have the British showing such keen interest in something besides bomb-proof shelters and gas masks.

Other Points of View

THE GERMAN PEOPLE

Are the German people really behind Hitler and his cause? That is the question that is answered in part by Edwin Müller's remarkable article, which calls attention to spontaneous demonstrations of dissent and dissatisfaction within Germany. It is not the Hitlerites who do not prevent an audience from listening to a motion picture of Dr. Goebbels' lavish estate near Berlin, nor do they prevent an audience from listening to foreign correspondents. That is the German people who are doing this.

Mr. Müller's observations are borne out by others here, Germany, who have been led to believe that Hitler is idolized by his people, are astonished to find that the same people, who are apparently the most fanatical, are the most critical.

England, writing in the New Statesman and Nation, says: "The plausibility of the Hitlerites' claims that the German people are fanatically behind him is contradicted by the fact that they have numerous additions to their ranks."

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war, they will be condemned as fascists, and the German communists as traitors.

What under other circumstances would be a trivial concern, especially world-wide, is it that a Jewish friend we are not such barbarians?"

Even the German communists, who are openly and uncompromisingly anti-Nazi, are united behind their leader. But there remains the companion myth, likewise carefully fostered by Hitler, that the German people are the most fanatical crowd in the world. It is no wonder the Hitlerites fear that if they lose the war,

