12 Bodies Recovered,
Two Others Sought in Highway Flood Trap

Nine Automobiles Plunge Into Deadly Abyss
Caused by Torrent on Mississippi Road

(By The Associated Press)
VICKSBURG, Miss., March 30.—Twelve bodies were recovered today from receding waters of Clark creek bayou, where a spring flood raged in darkness last night to carry away a 100-foot bridge and leave a deadly abyss in a heavily-traveled highway.

Drivers said they believed nine automobiles plunged into the bayou one after another before survivors waved down oncoming cars. Seven automobile were recovered.

Five bodies were recovered late today, while the other seven were found later. The occupants were tentatively identified as Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Schilling, Mrs. Sam H. Campbell, 39, her son, and their two sons, Charles, 11, and Mrs. Tom Bradley, all of Oak Grove, La., said Constance.

Bodies of two other persons, Miss Ann Turner, Memphis, Tenn., nurse and Claude Cox of Jackson, were taken to a Jackson hospital. Some of them told of futile efforts to reach the highway quickly to give warning. Their bodies were recovered.

The other known dead: Norman Schlemmer and R. B. Jones, Vicksburgh business men; Marcus Morris, Cantor, Miss.; Al W. Beaver, Jackson, Miss.

The names of the others were not given.

Mrs. Mary Schruck Murray, Memphis, Tenn., nurse; and Claude Cox of Jackson, Miss.

WPA WASTE CHARGED AS FIGHT OPENS

Critics Claim Extravagance
In Crucial Battle on Question of Additional Funds for Relief Work

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 30.—A crucial fight on a question of national importance began today on the House floor, where critics raked WPA—with charges of "waste and extravagance" and defenders of the agency declared it must have $160,000,000 to put "more food on the tables of the undernourished."

At first leaders believed they might obtain a vote on the question of additional funds to recess the house and put the bill over until tomorrow.

Committee Cut Funds

The president had asked $160,000 to carry WPA through June but the house appropriations committee cut $40,000,000, leaving most Democratic members of the "economy bloc" prepared ready to vote for the $160,000,000. Representatives of the Senate, however, charged if WPA would eliminate waste no further appropriation for this year would be needed.

Debate on the bill was preceded by a stormy battle over the procedure to be followed. The rules committee proposed that there be four readings of the bill before any amendments be restricted to changes in the amount of the appropriation.

Charge "Gas Rule"

Representative Martin (R-Mass.) deplored the proposal as "an arrogant gas rule." New dealers who objected vigorously to certain parts of the suggested procedure were joined by the "economy bloc" in their fight for a "no reading" vote on the question of increasing the appropriation.

Representative Woodrum (D-Va.) declared that the "gas rule" was good for the country, the end the rules committee suggested were approved.

Chairman increased

Tabor charged that WPA increased its rolls "so that they could turn people down" but he was an approaching catastrophe of this kind.

Representative Cannon (D-Mo.) leading the fight for the full $160,000,000, argued that critics of WPA would produce no evidence that relief money had been misappropriated and were forced to "make accusations to a small group of project employing a few men."

$160,000,000 Ample

Woodrum told the house that the amount appropriated was ample if WPA reduced its "overhead expenses" and modified its methods with a view to economy.

Representative of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America, told the American Federation of Labor that WPA had done some fine work, but had not fully developed its program.

Administrative costs were well within budget, he said.

Van Avery said 14 of the union's 22 drivers joined the union—25 and that eight were laid off rather than that another ten were taken on.

Rep. John King (D-Utah) introduced a bill to abolish the works progress administration and allow relief funds to states on the basis of need.

Changes of "unfair labor practices" have been made in the works progress administration and allow relief funds to states on the basis of need.

One-half of the state governments will be allowed to administer their own programs.

Within two weeks, an electrically operated robot is to be "placed" in the room to tell visitors of the progress of the work.

One-half of western states is near the coast of the Pacific Ocean, and is almost directly beneath the mountains over which giant chipmunks run in their tunnels for the winter.

(By The Associated Press)

MADRID, March 30.—Nationalist authorities imposed stern measures today to crush any lingering popular opposition to the civil war victors.

A technical state of war (in effect, martial law) was declared in Madrid for the transition period and military courts were given jurisdiction over all crimes committed during the 8-month conflict.

Police began rounding up persons listed in a huge card index compiled by the fifth column — nationalists and sympathizers throughout the war.

GOODING, March 30.—R. W. Fay, tire salesman, was killed when his car, which had been traveling at an excessive rate of speed, rolled end-over-end for 100 feet after leaving the highway.

He said Fay's body was recovered 40 feet from the car, which had been demolished.

A twin of Fay, 21, was critically injured.

The attorney said he did not wish his name or that of his companion mentioned.

London—Expects Chamberlain to Announce Purpose to Fight; Drive Pushed to Bolster Army

(By The Associated Press)

A burst of diplomatic and governmental activity in London last night gave serious observers the impression Britain had decided to go to a far-reaching decision affecting the future of European affairs that she must fight if Germany attacks Poland.

There was official silence but one usually reliable informant said Prime Minister Chamberlain's cabinet "now is convinced that a bold course is the best course."

This development came in the midst of redoubled British efforts to win over hesitant Poland—an anti-Hitler front and a powerful drive to raise the strength of Britain's army to 340,000 men.

The news was officially denied, as reports stated officially in London, Berlin and Warsaw were received of German troop movements.

Chamberlain canceled a scheduled speech and held a long and unexpected meeting with Foreign Secretary Halifax.

Dominions Secretary Sir Thomas Macaulay, told the press conference of the British government informed of developments.

As Ottawa Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King, of Canada, pledged to do all he could to assist Poland, he was welcomed by a delegation of Canadian business leaders.

Macaulay, who has been a champion of the League of Nations, again raised the issue of Italian entry into the war.

His newspaper spokesman, Vinton Gray, sounded the keynote of Italian reaction to Premier De Gaulle's address Wednesday night. Then, in the face of the calamity howling over the world, he declared, "Following this was the greatest act of self-sacrifice I have ever seen."

GARNER BOOMED FOR PRESIDENCY

Texan Leaves Senate Chamber Before Reading of Endorsement

WASHINGTON, March 30 (UPI)—Bumblings of the Texas presidential delegation reached the Senate today while Garner, blushing, hurried from the chamber.

Senator Connally (D-Tex.) asked the clerk to read a resolution by the Texas legislature backing the vice president for the Democratic nomination.

Garner, aware of the resolution's contents, asked if there was objection to reading it and when there was none, he could start to speak quickly from the rostrum, and turned over his gavel to Senator Pittman (D-Tenn.), who presided.

Garner remained in his nearby office throughout the reading of the resolution, which praised his statesmanship, and grasp of national affairs.

"John Nance Garner," the resolution said, "is deeply endorsed by the people of Texas in the nomination of the Democratic party for the high office of president of the United States...."

Garner, who had been sent to D.C. to instruct their delegates to the 1940 Democratic convention to vote for him, said: "I am deeply honored by the nomination of the Democratic party for the high office of president of the United States...."

Senator Sherman (D-Tex.) told the Senate he was "in hearty sympathy with the resolution." Connally also said he was glad to indicate Garner now is "on the front line" for the presidential nomination.

Although Garner has remained in Washington, his friends say his attitude is that he will do nothing at present to encourage or discourage efforts in his behalf.

IDaho's HIGHWAY PROGRAM STUDIED

Acting Director Says Some of Authorized Million Will Be Used

BOISE, March 30 (UPI)—H. R. Flint, acting Idaho commissioner of public works, declined today to estimate how much of the $10 million in state participation will be used authorized by the 1939 legislature would be required.

There are figures we haven't gone into yet; we'll need some of it undoubtedly," he said.

After conferences with district highway engineer Fred W. Johnson of Ordway, district director of the federal bureau of public roads, he said $1,850,000 in federal and state funds were available for the 1940 aid-primary roads in Idaho during the year beginning July 1, 1939. Sixty per cent of the amount would be paid by the federal government.

There still is $1,100,000 in federal funds available, he said, which can put up 40 per cent of the amount for federal aid primary roads under the program for the year ending July 1, 1940, he said.

For the year beginning July 1, 1939, $200,000, which must be matched with 40 per cent state funds, will be available for farm-to-market roads.

The grade separation work, for which $160,000 will be available during the year beginning next July 1, is financed generally by federal money.

For federal lands, during the same period, the government will make $50,000 available.

The state will be required to raise $1,500,000 for maintenance during the year ending Jan. 1, 1940.

SIX INJURED IN SUBWAY MISHAP

Two Four-Car Trains Crash Between Underground Stations

NEW YORK, March 30 (UPI)—A rear-end crash of two four-car trains in the evening rush hour today in the Bronx killed one man and shook up scores of others in the City Independent subway system between two underground stations in Queens in dangerous condition. Some suffered broken bones, sprains, cuts and abrasions. Two cars and incendiary devices exploded in collisions with uprights inside the cars.

Practically every straphanger was forced overboard into the maelstrom of the accident train, coming out of a train stalled by the loosening of a coupling of its two rear cars, and dashed to safety.

Witnesses said—the sudden stop jolted the passengers more than the collision, which they described as sharp and violent. Windows in both trains were shattered.

The second train pushed the first into the 42nd street station, nearly through the platform, and the injured were laid out on the platform. Forty doctors and interns headed by Dr. William Evans of the New York Hospital treated 100 passengers, three and sent others to hospitals to remain for further examination. Some were kept overnight.

Jerome Landmark Goes in Discard

JEROME, March 30 (UPI)—Jerome's oldest building, the Jerome National Bank which was established in 1909, was razed this week to make room for a new building to be completed in early May.

The building was erected in 1909 by John L. Wood, Hall and Chapin, and was first occupied by Claude Tunis, also a pioneer, who opened a dry goods and grocery store there. Tunis died about a year ago in Mountain Home.

To celebrate the completion of any new addition in the early days, a dance was given. On the evening of December 31, 1908, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Dillinger, prominent citizens of the town, arrived from Denver on moon train to Denver and were given a grand charivari on the same date.

On the night of Oct. 16, 1909, Mr. Wood established the Jerome National Bank on the corner of Main and Jerome streets in front of the post office.

Witnesses said—the sudden stop jolted the passengers more than the collision, which they described as sharp and violent. Windows in both trains were shattered.

WATCH DOG FOR TREASURY NAMED

President Chooses Former New Hampshire Senator for Comptroller.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Former Senator Fred L. Brown of New Hampshire, new deal supporter who was defeated for re-election last November, has been nominated by President Roosevelt to be comptroller general.

If confirmed by the Senate, he would succeed the present comptroller, the post of watch dog of the treasury from Richard N. Elliott who has been serving as comptroller since his term as McCarran's term expired three years ago.

The salary of comptroller general is $10,000 a year and the appointment is for five years.

Precisely, the president had delayed filling the long-vacant post of comptroller for reorganization of the federal accounts, which the comptroller general heads.

Mr. Roosevelt's original reorganization bill proposed transfer of the comptroller general's functions to the present of the office of the comptroller general's office was contained in the bill.

Opponents of the bill contended it would destroy the comptroller general's power to check on the legality of proposed legislation before it became law.

After the bill was passed, however, the two were made, limiting him largely to post-expenditure audits. No authority for the president to nominate a comptroller general was given to the comptroller general's office was contained in the organization bill as finally approved by Congress.

Brown, a former New Hampshire governor, served only one term in the senate. He was elected in the primaries in 1930 and was re-elected the veteran George H. Moses, but was unseated last fall by Charles W. Tobey, Republican.

FRAUD CHARGED IN STOCK SALES

Two Prominent Boise Men Accused in Grand Jury Indictment.

BOISE, March 30.—Frank E. Johnson and Paul C. Oakes both of Boise were arraigned before Federal Judge C. C. Cavanah today on a grand jury indictment charging them with mail and wire fraud in mails to sell securities of the Consolidated Mines Syndicate of Idaho.

Johnson is president and Oakes secretary of the company.

The indictments were returned by the federal grand jury at Pocatello, March 26 but warrants were not issued until yesterday morning.

Each pleaded not guilty and was given until tomorrow to post $10,000 and stand trial next Monday before the State's attorney.

Indicted with Johnson and Oakes was Louis Payne of New York City, registered as underwriter for the syndicate's securities.

Donations Sought For Child Heath

JEROME, March 30.—Several little green boxes where Jerome townsmen dropped coins to help the child of the year—“Baby—Child of the Year”—that will be chosen this year in this county—in need of corrective work may be given help have been placed in the windows of the J. C. Penney's wall store and Mosley's grocery store. It was announced by the Jerome health council.

The boxes will remain in the stores throughout the year and Jerome people are urged to add to this campaign—for better health among all children.

Miss Russell, Jerome health nurse, explained at the council meeting Tuesday night that the campaign is to help the child of the year who has been largely deprived of what is rightfully theirs and issue a free hunting and fishing license to the right in the twilight of life to enjoy the comforts of our streams and forests. What difference does it make if the child is blind or lame? There is more in pursuit than in possession.

ONE-MAN ADMITS FORGERY GUILT

Second Defendant in Check Case Denies Charge, Demands Hearing.

J. L. Hardin of Twin Falls pleaded guilty to a forgery charge before Judge C. A. Bailey in probate court yesterday, while Conrad Honig, attorney for the Twin Falls high school, argued against the admission of the student under the direction of Miss Bunkie Ewer. Curtin Honig, attorney for the defendant, argued that Honig should be allowed to buy his client's right to sue the check. Hardin admitted forgery, pleaded not guilty and demanded a preliminary hearing.

The check involved in the case was passed at the J. C. Penney store Wednesday for $72.50 in payment of a $38.50 balance due according to the complaint signed by R. P. Robinson, store manager.

The check was drawn in favor of Honig and was signed Newton Galey.

Hardin, 16, of Twin Falls, April 3, at 10 a.m., in the room of Honig's preliminary hearing.

Hardin waived statutory trial, admitted for forgery and asked that he be allowed to buy his client's right to sue the check. Honig agreed.

Hardin, 16, of Twin Falls, arrested both men Wednesday.

Earl Walker is attorney for Honig.

Conference Heats Mission Workers

Undissolved guests at the quiet conference of the Latter Day Saints church in Twin Falls Saturday and Sunday will include one representative of the church welfare board, and four returned missionaries.

The conference will take place 7:30 p.m. Saturday. The visiting apostle will be a speaker, and it will be a priesthood session with all the saints.

Visiting speakers will also appear Saturday evening, and a priesthood session held at 9:30 p.m. with a reserved sector for those who will present a special offering.

The Melchizedek session with a special section reserved in the auditorium for this group, will take place 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

The foot of Howell canyon is available for reselling bonds and will be used as suckers and carp will be obtained from the Snake river.

What would it mean to the people of Twin Falls?

On the Lake Clark mountain streams around Albion were heavily stocked with trout. It is true that fish are still there.

For a little fun, sport and amusement, we will say, this would be a good place to go.

But suppose no fish—what would we do? We could go to the tourist resort that has driven several hundred miles, spent money in our city, seen deer hunting in herds, and then come home with nothing.

The state of Idaho grants to every person 70 years of age a free hunting and fishing license, but at the time the average person reaches that age he is too old to climb over rocks and hills.

I would suggest that the state of Idaho should grant a license to those who have been largely deprived of what is rightfully theirs and issue a free hunting and fishing license to the right in the twilight of life to enjoy the comforts of our streams and forests. What difference does it make if the person is blind or lame?

There is more in pursuit than in possession.

Student Singers Stage Gilbert, Sullivan Opera

Gilbert and Sullivan famous English comedy-musical drama, the invention and old method of procedure in the comic light opera, “Prates of Peacock,” which will be presented by the Twin Falls High School students under the direction of Miss Bunkie Ewer. Curtains will open at 8 p.m. on April 1 and 2.

“Prates of Peacock” is to be bought by the students to help buy their choir robes for the Twin Falls High School “high school” chorus, and help the school band in their annual concert in April.

The play cleverly shows the adventures of a young girl who is sent to a boarding school.

The play is to be directed by Miss Bunkie Ewer.

Students will be dressed in period clothing.

OLD HOME WEEK MURDER

by Phoebe Atwood Taylor

"You listen to me, Asey!" Between each word Weston Mayhew pinched and banged the top of his desk. "You listen, Asey Mayo! This is important! You've got to—"

The rest of his sentence dissolved into the vast miscellany of noises which for days had been enveloping the Town Hall.

Listening impartially to the sum total of din, Asey found it difficult to dissect the individual elements. But in a general way he could comprehend the vicinage's colonial entrance, where a score of men pointedly professionals at the nearly pointedly.

He could also comprehend the din in the Women's Club Parlor, where walls were gradually disappearing under mounds of vacuum cleaners and floor sweepers.

And he could understand the cacophony of Upjohn's Merrymakers, hacking away at a popular tune. Everything was in evidence in the Mayor's office. There the daunted soprano, imported especially from Boston, belted out "Billingsgate" and the patterings of the members of the Grand Chorus.

There were other causes of noise, but Asey lacked the spirit to delineate them.

"Will you—making faces and covering up your ears—and listen?" Weston shouted. "You got to, see?"

Asey rose more from the window seat, tilted his padded cap to the back of his head, and grimed at Weston.

"I got to cover 'em up, that's what you mean," he said, gently, during a lull in the roar. "I'll just puttin' like this hubbleabaloo. No wonder you're rampin' around like a maniac. Come off, come off, quiet down, quiet down, all—all at the general dinin' or what-all you come on," he took Weston by the arm. "I'm not."

"Well, I have—" "But I can't! That's just it. I can't go off, Asey, don't you see?"

"Why, you! You got the use of your ears, don't you? Asey demanded, "Stop being so temperamental, Weston. That rumpf! an' roarin' ain't nothin' to do with it." Weston sat down at his desk.

"I don't dare. That's why I locked the office door. They're after me now. And if they get me, there gets to be the more they—why, they mobbed me so this morning—they're my alibi! They all—

The notes started up again.

Asey wheedled as the soprano outside the Town Hall to the high note. The fourth had been added there while the disorganized choristers played vocal tag in the hall.

"That's all, dear song!" The dining room intermission.

Weston clutched at his forehead and proceeded to unburr him—

—and the schoolroom of infant reprobates, some maimed and some bitten to atoms. That caused song! Bananas! Ice cream! That radio guy—

—and the blab-blah-blah—what about the parade torches? And the snapole? And the fireworks? And the—

—and the people who were going to meet the governor. "What are you doing, Asey? You?"

"That's all. Weston's projects, Asey folded his pocket-handkerchief lengthwise and forcibly banded his cousin's hand. When a member of the press took to hysterics, something had to be done."

"What's all that? What's all that?" Weston asked, leaning in close. "I think it's either it's no joke!"

"Maybe—not—but what's this all about, West? What're you scared about?" Weston closed his eyes as the questions began.

4. SHADES OF GREEN, BROWN, GRAY, BLACK, TAN, ETC.
5. THERE ARE MANY HATS OF THE "BORSALINO" TYPE SHAPES

Mr. McFarland, manager, of the men's store, says:

"This is the finest lot of hats we have ever been able to offer for our annual Easter hat sale. I selected each one individually at the factory in New York. I could really afford to pay $2.98 and $3.98 for these hats, but I offered only $1.98. I want you to actually know what you are saving for your self on these hats and what extraordinary values they are."
