ARGENTINE BEEF FOR IRONY DENIED

Legislators Oppose President's Deal in Action on Appropriation

WASHINGTON, May 11 (AP)—A record price for Argentine beef of $77.00 a cwt. reached the Senate today in hearing a committee of endorsement of an approved clause forbidding the purchase of Argentine canned beef.

By a 3-2 vote of the Senate, the appropriation committee voted to reject the beef prohibition which resulted from the controversy between President Roosevelt and Chilean legislators over an $8,000,000 order of the product.

Mr. Roosevelt described Argentina as a "land of the future" and American and naval officials urged the Senate committee to remove the restriction, which was placed before it. It approved the appropriation.

The Senate is expected to give prompt approval to the huge supply bill, which contains funds for two ship air squadrons, battleships, warships and auxiliaries and 500 fighting planes.

Other developments included:

The Army announced that 1,000 enlisted men would be given a year's training at seven selected military schools to meet some of the immediate needs for aviation mechanics in the expanding air corps. Similarly, pilots will be given primary flying experience at nine private schools.

It is expected that the Senate appropriations committee by naval officials showed construction of a new shipyard at San Francisco, including more than 16 months behind schedule. Work on more than 70 other ships was reported to be on schedule or ahead of schedule.

The Army estimated that 10,000 men would be needed to train, national guardsmen, reserve officers, members of the student reserve officers training corps, and an additional 10,000 men to be given intensive summer military training at 100 camps and stations with more than 100,000 men trained.

BOTTOLFSSEN EYES GOVERNOR'S TASK

Idaho Executive Declares Conduct of Affairs 'Exacting Job'

BOISE, May 17 - Being Idaho's chief executive "is an exacting job," Governor C. A. Bottolfsen said today he has found.

"I have long held the theory," Bottolfsen said, "that the office of governor is the property of the people, and that the man whom they choose to fill that office likewise belongs to the people."

"No day-mail comes across my desk but that contains requests and petitions for public appearances."

"I wish it were possible for me to fulfill each and every one of these requests but I cannot."

"The business of the state must come first, and the conducting of affairs for the people is my duty."

"It is in itself requires numerous public appearances on state occasions, and there is a heavy succession of conferences and board meetings."

"The result is that I am unable to be everywhere I would like to be. I would like to attend every school, every town, every city, every county on all occasions, wherever I am, I will be striving for the greatest possible benefits to Idaho and her citizens."

Nuptials Told of - RUPERT, May 17 - The marriage of Mrs. Masline Masters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Masters of Boise, to Grant Flattin of Pocatello, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Flattin of Idaho Falls, was announced at the O. M. Mitchell home Sunday night as a 50th dinner meeting of the teachers of Fremont and Junior high schools.

The marriage was performed in Dillon, Mont., July 2, 1928.

Mrs. Flattin is first grade teacher in the Pacific school.

Mrs. Flattin is engineer of inspection in the department of agriculture.

The couple will make their home in Pocatello.

so on. Many new-comers would start industries which would hire Americans as well as follow-refugees. Twenty-five such industries have been started in this country, one of which now employs 3,000 persons.

A right answer to the question from all sides, by the more thoroughly it is studied, the clearer it becomes that some generosity in this regard may benefit this country as much as the refugees.

Other Points of View

OF HUMAN INTEREST: Perhaps they convey no great lesson to humanity, but the following two stories are at least interesting and may provoke self-appraisal among some who read them.

They are the story of a woman who was clipped from the front page of the Kansas Tribune, which clipped them from the Astorian Globe which, in turn, probably clipped them from some other newspaper.

At this point, through no fault of his own, failed in business.

Dr. Watson called on him. "Everything has gone!" he moaned. "I have lost everything."

"No, thank God," said the man rather indignantly. "My wife and I are still here."

"Then your wife left you," suggested Dr. Watson. "My wife left me," said the man, "but she is still here."

"I see," said Dr. Watson, "then your children have turned their backs on you."

"My own children," said the man, "until this happened. They have been so brave and tender and sympathetic."

"Yes," added Willie's uncle. "You told me you had lost everything. You've lost nothing except a paltry bit of gold. Love, loyalty, comradeship—these are yours still. Cling up, and don't be an idiot."

And this one: "He observed, my son," counseled Willie's father, "that he was full of seeing, and you will become a successful man."

"Yes," added Willie's uncle. "Don't go through life like a blind man, my son. You are not blind, but you are not seeing. You are not seeing, but you are not seeing."

"Little boys are observing you on much faster than those who are not," Aunt Jane put in. "The young men are observing you on much faster than those who are not."

"Well, my son," said his father, "the way you been using your eyes?"

White thought. "Uncle Jim's got a bottle of whiskey hid behind his trunk," said Willie. "Aunt Jane got an extra set of keys to the house, and she's got a box of chips hid behind Emerson's door."

"The little sneak!" exclaimed the family with one voice.—Lewiston Tribune.

IT'S NO MYSTERY, MR. ROOSEVELT

President Roosevelt, now seemingly concerned over the fact "that much of the nation's money and savings has found its way to foreign lands," instead of productive enterprise.

The president is now pictured as being primarily interested in promoting the investment of private funds for private profit, and in the development of free, private enterprise.

All of which affords the average business man, the private investor and any others who have money they could put to use, an excellent opportunity to take the floor and get a word in for their checks.

Generally speaking, business as a whole, the smaller business men particularly, has contended all along that Mr. Roosevelt's ideas on governmental developments and expenditures cannot be successfully applied to private enterprise any more than an individual can afford to run the risks that large insurance companies welcome.

With all his experience in federal aid, federal grants, federal contracts, and his billion-dollar budgets and deficits, it will be difficult for Mr. Roosevelt to understand why individuals are hesitant to spend their money.

But nevertheless it's no mystery. It requires the thought of paying taxes, and the fear of the trouble. The average individual who could afford to make some sort of investment has the answer.

He'll tell you he's afraid to spend his money, mainly because he's working under the gun, and for kind, for under ordinary circumstances he'll invest his money, buy new equipment, erect a new building, or what have you. But now things are different. He's confronted with a new kind of tax, and he's afraid.

The problem of governmental interference. He doesn't know when he's going to be handicapped with new labor restrictions, he can only hope there will be no new wages-and-hours laws, and he's afraid.

LAWMAKERS GET BUSINESS VIEWS

General Electric Chairman Asks 'Helpful' Government Attitude

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—Owen D. Young, chairman of the board of the General Electric company, recommended to the monopoly committee today revision of the federal tax structure and a more aggressive government attitude toward business as the means of stimulating new capital investments.

Young cited the capital gains tax as a "wholly undesirable item in a program of national taxation." Conceding that it was aimed at the stock market speculator, he said market speculation was "only a flimsy in the national economy" while the tax "not only kills the moxie of speculation but also the goose that laid the golden egg as well."

Young told the committee, "works great jinxes on smaller concerns and especially new enterprises." Agreeing that modern conditions required certain government reforms and restrictions, Young suggested that these be used "with the greatest discrimination and restraint to preserve the freedom of free and competitive leadership."

ALASKA MAN AND DOG TEAM VISIT TWIN FALLS

EARL HAMMOND with a well-loaded kayak, an eskimo sledge, at a point about 20 miles from the spot where Will Rogers and Wiley S. Post lost their lives, Hammond will be in Twin Falls today, giving a demonstration of the Eskimo and Alaskan husky teams. At 4:30 one of his teams will pull a 1932 automobile down main avenue.

The unheralded appearance of a black-haired man on an Alaskan sledge behind a team of eight Siberian and Alaskan huskies caused no little excitement in Twin Falls for a few minutes one afternoon. The "bearded man" was Earl Hammond, and the dogs were part of two teams, each eight of the white Siberian huskies and black Alaskan huskies.

Enroute from New York to the San Francisco World's Fair, Hammond stopped in Twin Falls Monday to arrange an exhibition of his kennel proceeds. Two demonstrations sponsored by the Union Motor company will be given today.

Both men testified that their concerns almost never drew upon the money market to finance new equipment. Both men testified that their concerns almost never drew upon the money market to finance new equipment.

Mr. Hammond has selected a novel arrangement for allowing his animals to travel in comfort. One might call it a "rattler" trailer house behind a truck, both painted a bright silver. The dogs are housed in separate kennels in the "backyard" of the car and trailer, and the deer lives in the upper story of trailer.

When asked whether he had ever been in Twin Falls before, Mr. Hammond explained that he had lived in Alaska for the past six years, and had never before seen this part of the state.

The "treasures of the irrigated section" in southern Idaho has interested him the most. Hammond stated, further explaining that he had been in Salt Lake and Ogden about 10 years ago and knew that this section was irrigated.

He explained that he had an uncle in Boise whom he hasn't seen for 7 years, and that that was the reason he happened there, come through Twin Falls.

SENATE BLOCKS FLORIDA CANAL

Bill to Authorize Completion of Project Defeated, 45-36

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—Concluding three days of heated debate, the senate today killed legislation authorizing resumption of work on the $200,000,000 canal from the Atlantic to the Gulf of Mexico. The vote was 45 to 36.

Senator Donald of Idaho voted against the bill and Senator Clark, Idaho Democrat, was paired for the bill with Senator Byrd of Virginia, who opposed it.

The legislation would have re-elected one of the post-war's most frequently criticized projects, started in 1905 but abandoned the following year when congress refused to appropriate funds. That work was financed by $5,400,000 or relief money.

President Roosevelt urged early in the present session that construction be resumed.

Opponents had denounced the project as unsound and wasteful, while supporters said it would aid shipping, business and agriculture, and bolster the national defense.

The bill rejected today merely sought authorization for the project's completion and asked no appropriation. It was introduced by Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex.) of the senate military affairs committee.

Before voting down the measure, the senate adopted an amendment to levy tolls against transiting ships as a means of making the project self-supporting.

A bill amendment also had been proposed to name it the "Duncan Fletcher Florida canal" in honor of the late senator from Florida, for years the project's leading advocate.

Graduates Hear Attorney General

HOMEDALE, Idaho, May 17 (AP)—High school graduates in this western Idaho community were told by Attorney General W. W. Taylor tonight that "the most substantial freedom we have is the freedom to decide what ideal shall control our lives."

"Well for him who paunch to consider the direction he is taking; well for him who lives his eye upon some safe landmark to guide his footsteps."

"Although we all cherish noble ideals in youth, and each hope to achieve some lofty aim before surrendering to the grim center, too often we are like the poet in the story; we have grand and noble dreams but they are only dreams; and though we may hear in the echoes of heavenly music, they fade and die because we let the

MEDICOS FROWN ON HEALTH BILL

Wagner Measure Declared Wrong Way to Distribute State Aid

ST. LOUIS, May 17 (AP)—The house of delegates of the American Medical association today, without dissenting vote of its 174 members, opposed the Wagner health bill now before the U. S. senate, holding it to be the wrong way to distribute state aid to indigent sick.

In a resolution adopted without discussion from the floor, the delegates held the Wagner bill fails to make use of existing facilities for the sick poor and that it will increase federal control of spending for the sick.

The doctors proposed starting with existing facilities, expanding them and permitting states to ask the aid and federal aid as needed.

The resolution was in general agreement with the American Medical association's statement of principles, which is that tax money be used to help care for the indigent sick.

The official summary of today's resolution included three statements: "The bill does not safeguard in any way the continued existence of the private practitioners who always have brought to the people the benefits of scientific research and treatment."

It proposed to make federal aid to indigent care the rule rather than the exception.

"It does not recognize the need for suitable food, sanitary housing and the improvement of other environmental conditions necessary to the continuous prevention of disease."

BUDGET BUILDING PLAN $25 PER MONTH

Ask yourself this question: "Can I afford to pay rent when the same money will BUILD a home of my own?"

Boise Payette's Budget Building Plan makes it surprisingly easy to convert this "rent money" into your own home.

Of course, you must own or be able to buy the lot on which you intend to build. In many cases, this will be sufficient equity for an F.H.A. loan, although the amount of the loan obtainable may vary under different conditions and locations.

Then, under Budget Building (on the F.H.A. plan) your monthly $25 payment takes care of EVERYTHING... interest, estimated taxes, insurance, and reduction of the principal... Meet Mr. and Mrs. Brugh

When Arlington Brugh and Ruby Fay obtained a marriage license, nobody knew when they would be wedded. It was known that the same two, as Robert Taylor and Barbara Stanwick of the films "Lone To-Banquet" and "The Sign of the Cross" were married in a "midnight ceremony" that became news. They were shot after their return to Hollywood where they announced the wedding. The marriage license was obtained under their real names.

IDAHO IN GRIP OF DRY SPELL

Crop and Weather Experts, Forest Officials see Drought Threat

BOISE, May 17 (AP)—Federal crop and weather experts, grain men and forest officials "naked" today in widely varying reports — drought conditions they said have affected much of the state.

Richard C. Ross, federal crop statistician, said many of the state's early lamb "will not reach slaughter weights and condition" unless there are general rains. He said abnormally dry weather during April "changed markedly" the favorable condition of ranges at the end of March.

Unfavorable range conditions, he said, are general throughout the northwest and predicted that market movements from Idaho, Washington and Oregon would be hit unless the feed situation should change by heavy marketing of unfinished lambs.

H. O. Carter, United States weather bureau meteorologist here, noted that temperatures for the past week averaged above normal at

RECKLESS DRIVE LAW RULED OUT

Orofino Judge Terms Old Idaho Statute Void

OROFINO, Idaho, May 17 (AP)—An Idaho statute under which motorists have been prosecuted for many years was termed void in an opinion on file in district court here today.

Judge A. L. Morgan dismissed a reckless driving charge against Mrs. Irene Olson Petrie who had appealed from a justice court conviction.

He said the statute was void because it failed to designate specifically what constitutes the offense.

"When the legislature attempted to say that any conduct of a citizen shall constitute a crime it must first define the acts constituting the crime that the citizen may know that he is committing a crime when he does those specific acts," Judge Morgan held.

"In other words, this statute should specify just what acts shall constitute reckless driving. Had the statute stated that any person who drives past a stop sign, without

Musical Program For Jerome Club

JEROME, May 17—A charming spring music festival, carried out in the Spanish theme, was attended by more than 50 members and guests of the Jerome Civic club Tuesday afternoon at the annual tea given in observance of National Music week.

Covering a tea table was a ray colored cloth centered with a bouquet of yellow and red tulips and apricot. Spanish pottery was used, further emphasizing the motif. Presiding at the table were Mrs. Harvey Hurlbeaus and Mrs. William Peters.

Madrigal numbers were by both local and out-of-town artists, being presented by chairman, Mrs. Eugene Whitman.

"Heaven Land," a solo, was sung by Mrs. Walter Heitz, Jerome, accompanied by Mrs. Emmet Connor. Mrs. Malcolm Stuart, Jerome, played two piano selections, "Spanish Dance" and "Tambourin," also accompanied by Mrs. Connor at the piano. Mrs. Marc Hoyer, of Twin Falls, played two piano selections, "Evening in Granada" and "Regalade," followed by a group of three duet numbers on the guitar and accordion played by Mrs. F. Packard and Mrs. Edith Schroeder Jackson, both of Twin Falls. Numbers were "Oh Ya Ya," "Orchids in the Moonlight" and "La Cucaracha." Mrs. Packard and Mrs. Jackson were accompanied by effective Spanish costumes. As the concluding numbers, Mrs. Jackson played "La Spizola," and "Dark Eyes."

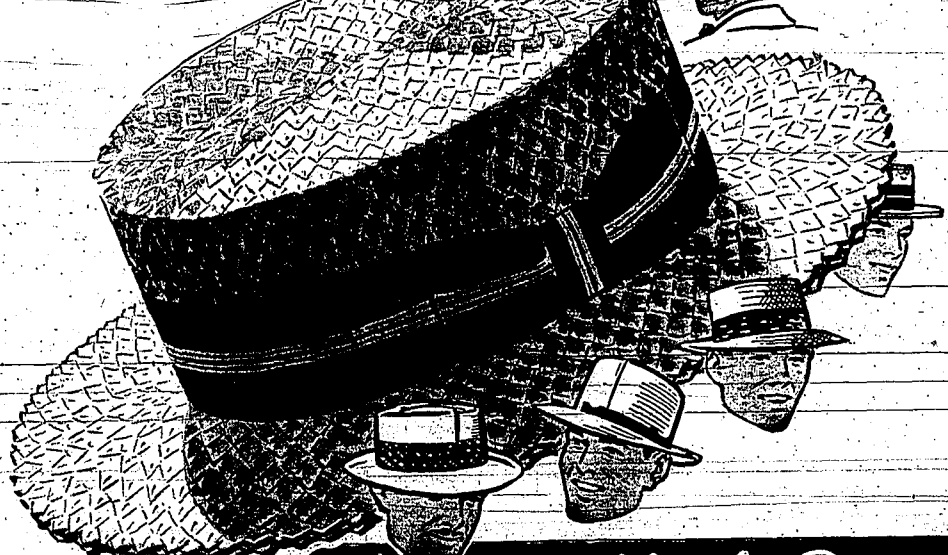

Drink Cost Licenses Of 22 Idaho Motorists
