WANT 100 ORDERS TWO MONSTER BATTLESHIPS

New Armada, Including Two 45,000-Ton Dreadnaughts And 22 Other Vessels, To Cost $350,000,000

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, June 2 — The navy, making a tremendous spurt in the world race for sea power, placed orders today for two 45,000-ton battleships and 22 other vessels.

Assistant Secretary Charles Edison indicated that a major part of this action, approved since the World war, was to speed restoration of the five to three ratio of superiority over Japan in tonnage.

Without waiting for funds to be available July 1, the start of a new fiscal year, the navy ordered work started on 19 of the 23 ships for which congress provided in the 1938-39 appropriation bill.

Involved contract procedure normally followed was shortened by receiving bids in advance. Edison requested that a month or more would be clipped from the time required to complete the bids.

Dividing the work between government and commercial shipyards, the navy awarded the two battleships and 18 other vessels to private yards and let contracts for 13 craft to the Philadelphia yard.

The new navy yard and the other Philadelphia yard, Edison said, will be built with a cost of nine 16-inch guns, the same as the six 35,000-ton battleships.

U. S. RESERVE BOARD PLANS BUSINESS

Little Firms With Loans Disclosed Before Senate Subcommittee on Banking

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, June 2 — A new plan for helping the business world in distress was announced, in part, today amid intensified discussions of ways and means of stimulating industrial expansion.

Before a senate subcommittee on banking, Ernest G. Draper, a member of the reserve board, said that the board had disclosed that a request would be made for legislation giving the reserve bank much greater latitude in interest rates of the "small business" fund.

For Federal Financing, Draper told the committee that the proposal for loans to little business would be through a reserve board, headed by Chairman Marriner S. Eccles of the reserve board, when he appears before the subcommittee tomorrow.

Under a change in the law, he said, the reserve system could extend "additional credit facilities to small business on a much more liberal and flexible basis" than is possible under the present law.

The assets and liabilities resulting from these operations would be guaranteed, through a corporation organized as an integral part of the reserve system.

Through this corporation, he continued, the reserve system could finance for small business, either through cooperation with existing banks and other financial institutions.

Navy Faces Problem in Raising Submarine

THE military problem confronting the navy in raising the submarine Squid is presented in this artist's conception of the task. First the craft will be raised from the ocean bottom by pontoons, floating on the surface, then turned around and hoisted for shallow water until it grounds. The operation will be repeated until the sub is in water less than 100 feet deep. There the task of removing dead and raising the craft will begin.

Rescue Efforts Continue After Divers Report Faint Tappings on Hull; Four Make Escape

(By The Associated Press) BIRKENHEAD, England, June 3 (Saturday) — Despite abandonment of hope by builders of the submarine Thetis, the admiralty announced today that divers reported faint tappings on the hull of the vessel in which 90 men are entrapped.

The tappings were heard at 2 a. m. (6 p. m. M. S. T. Friday) the admiralty said. As a consequence of these faint signs of life, the admiralty directed a vast array of rescue ships to push forward their operations throughout the night in attempts to raise the stern of the craft "when slack water provides the next opportunity."

The builders of the vessel had given up for dead the men aboard Thetis. It had been estimated that at the expiration of 36 hours under the stern of the vessel, the full reserves were reported being—the air supply would be exhausted. Low tide was not expected until 6 a. m. and this would be more than four hours beyond the 36-hour deadline.

The admiralty announcement said: "The admiralty stated that divers reported at 2 a. m. that they heard faint tappings in the submarine. Salvage operations are proceeding and a further attempt will be made to raise the stern when slack water provides the next opportunity."

Mass Suicide Threat Relieved by Rumors of Other Possible Havens in Western World

(By The Associated Press) HAVANA, Cuba, June 2 — A desperate boatload of 907 German and Polish refugees sailed out of Havana harbor today, heartened somewhat by a shipboard rumor that they might yet find new homes in the western world after being denied entry into Cuba.

Hamburg, Germany, their starting point, was the destination of the German liner St. Louis, whose departure marked another unsuccessful attempt by German Jews to settle in this hemisphere.

Mismanagement Blamed for Financial Woes of Suspended Line

SALMON CITY, Idaho, June 2 (AP)—C. E. Bruce, chief transportation officer for the Idaho public utilities commission, testified before an interstate commerce commission hearing that mismanagement and prohibitive freight rates were responsible for the closure of the Pocatello and Salmon railroads' financial condition.

The railroad has petitioned that the 2.5-mile line from Ararat, Mont., to Salmon City, be abandoned.

Director R. E. Harper of the Idaho commission testified at the hearing and concluded that the line should be operated as profitably as possible by shutting expenses.

Agricultural and industrial groups presented figures showing what they termed were prohibitive freight rates.

Bruce said the public had not taken advantage of the line because of the services offered and lack of facilities.

He said officials, en route to Washington from the hearing, were expected to announce their decision from the capital.

DWORSHAK TELLS PENSIONS STAND

Idaho Congressman Explains Vote Against 'Unfair' Procedure

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Representative Henry Dworshak, Republican of Idaho, told interviewers after he voted against the Federal old age pension bill that he regarded the bill as "unfair and unconstitutional."

He asserted that his vote against the bill was "not a vote in opposition to old age pensions, but a protest against the unfair procedure of handling the bill which foredoomed it to defeat."

He said he would vote for a "workable security for the aged" but added this would probably require a constitutional amendment.

Dworshak said he was particularly annoyed by the procedure adopted by the house in handling the legislation Wednesday and Thursday.

The bill was presented to us under a closed rule commonly known as the gag rule, which prevented any amendments and also limited debate to four hours," he explained.

"I have always had an open mind on the Townsend plan, and as a graduate of the law school, I was appointed when the ways and means committee chose to be noncommittal in reporting the bill. Here we have a committee that had spent months in studying the plan and hearing expert testimony, yet to have the bill taken from giving us the benefit of those hearings."

ALBERTA HAILS ROYAL VISITORS

Britain's King and Queen Given Tumultuous Ovation

EDMONTON, Alberta, June 2 (AP)—King George VI and Queen Elizabeth came back to the province and the crowds today from the mountains where they had one of the happiest days of their lives.

The royal visitors arrived in Edmonton late in the afternoon after a six-hour ride aboard their royal train from Jasper national park, re-ferred and rested from their 25-hour stop.

In contrast to the quiet they had just left, the king and queen were greeted with a tremendous ovation in this bustling gateway to the vast Canadian northlands.

Only six hours were allotted on the schedule for the Edmonton visit, but civic and provincial authorities of the Alberta capital crowded something like 20,000 people to the city.

For 24 hours at Jasper they lived as any couple might live spending most of the time out of doors on easy mountain climbs, clambering over a glacier, camera hunting and wading in the river at their own leisure.

At the conclusion of their ride through the city before a crowd of 68,000, the king and queen proceeded to the provincial capital for ceremonial addresses, then mother drive and back to town for an official dinner before leaving late tonight for Saskatoon.

From here on there will be no pause for the royal visitors such as that they enjoyed last night as Jasper, for their progress through Canada and their three-day visit to the United States will command all their time.

PREVENTION OF LIBEL ABUSE

The Georgia Legislature has recently enacted a libel law which should interest newspapers all over the country. The new law protects publishers from unjust libel action. It requires first that no one may bring suit for libel until he has given written notice to the publisher that he intends to do so. The notice must state clearly what the alleged libel was and give the true facts of the case.

VACATION AS A "RIGHT"

The wage-worker's vacation with pay, now making rapid progress in America is farther advanced in England than it is here. Special progress has been made in the last couple of years, since the British Parliament established a law to promote the voluntary spread of this practice by agreement between employers and trade unions.

FOREIGN SITUATION

Withrop W. Aldrich, prominent New York banker, has returned from a tour of Europe. He considers war now unlikely in Europe. That is because the people don't want it, because the democracies have taken a firm stand against the autocrats, and because the democracies themselves have grown stronger.

stand against the autocrats, and because the democracies themselves have grown stronger. That is fine, from the American viewpoint. But most Americans may not agree fully with Mr. Aldrich's additional comment on the situation in Italy. He suggests that the United States should now help them solve their economic problems by making trade agreements with them. The "have" countries, he thinks, should lower their trade barriers first. "By the way," he says, "I am opposed by promoting their prosperity."

Other Points of View

FROM THE DEPTHS OF THE SEA

There is grief for the 20 men left dead within the sunken submarine, the Squalus. Yet 33 came out of that craft alive, and in their rescue the navy (and the world) has shown that a rescue is possible, but now, thanks to Monaghan's diving bell, it has been achieved.

It would be better if man did not employ his inventive genius to create the tank, the sub, the airplane, the automobile, the radio, the telephone, the television, the motion picture, the airplane, the automobile, the radio, the telephone, the television, the motion picture, the airplane, the automobile, the radio, the telephone, the television, the motion picture.

THE SQUALUS

It is with mingled feelings of gratitude and regret that the country turns its gaze toward the scene of the Squalus disaster. The tragedy of the Squalus must be greatly tempered by the fact that the men naturally feel for the victims and their kin.

The Squalus disaster and the inspiring rescue effort which followed it, has been a most dramatic and instructive episode in the history of the United States. It has shown the world that a rescue is possible, but now, thanks to Monaghan's diving bell, it has been achieved.

WASHINGTON. The Jackson-for-president movement has been revived by friends of the handsome selector general who regard him as the ablest of the Rooseveltians and the most likely man to satisfy both New Deal and Old Deal Democrats.

Although he insists that the Democrats cannot win unless they embrace a liberal philosophy, he has cut loose from the Roosevelt-Cohen line.

NEW YORK WHIRLIGIG. By James McMillin. WIFEED. Exceptionally informed New York sources say the following: Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg's statement that it is okay with him to have the Republican Party nominate him for the presidency next year.

The Michigan senator has been privately aiming at the White House for several years. He has offered the Republican Party presidential nomination in 1926, but turned it down because he wanted a crushing G. O. P. victory.

Birth of Calf to Idaho Cow 'Steals Show' at World Fair

NEW YORK — It's an everyday occurrence to the folk back home; but the birth of a calf to the purebred Idaho Jersey cow at the New York World fair has "stolen the show," stopping the crowds and making front page headlines in metropolitan newspapers.

So many fair-goers wanted to pet the quality little heifer that the fair's nurse had to be called in the night to a milk farm in New Jersey and furnished with a quart of milk.

The calf is a daughter of the Jersey breed in the Dairy World of tomorrow at the fair because of her exceptional conformation and high production. She produced 60 pounds of butterfat in a year.

The sire of the calf is Marletti 36037, owned by the Ada County Dairymen's association, a community cattle breeding organization in the establishment of which Mr. Myers took an active part. Because of the excellence of the breeding behind the calf, which has been named "660," Marletti, Mr. Myers has decided to have her returned to the home herd after she has finished her performance at the fair.

P. S. The mother is doing nicely, thank you!

TONY GALENTO READY TO DEFY COMMISSION

Challenger Asks Ring Bosses to Transfer Fight

New Jersey Scrapper and Manager May Throw Session Into Uproar With Demand for Philadelphia Site

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP) — While victorious Lou Nova and his badly damaged victim, Maxie Baer, licked their wounds from last night's savage engagement at Yankee stadium, promoter Tony Galento today for another blistering encounter at high noon tomorrow when Champion Joe Louis and rebound Tony Galento meet to sign the papers for their title bout June 28.

There is a strong possibility the session will end in a wild uproar, with Galento defying the New York state boxing commission and demanding the scrap be transferred to Philadelphia. All the principals will be present today for the Brigadier General Jim J. Phelan, retired, call the meeting to order. Joe Jacobs, Tony's manager, is asking before the commission to demand that he be given a manager's license in the state so he can work in Galento's corner against Louis. The commission reportedly has refused to give the license to Joe. This time he says there will be no title-Louis scrap in this city. Tony is backing his pilot right to the hilt.

The commission has a list of 16,738 paying customers that watched Nova cut Nova up and force his retirement in the city last night. It will be quite all right with Philadelphia Mike Jacobs to take the fight out of town.

The Galento camp has wanted to have the fight in Philadelphia since it was a great favorite there. Louis has held out for New York, but the fact that Nova and Baer each received only $22,517 for last night's engagement might have impressed the commission. Meanwhile, there was no further word from Ray Carlin, Nova's manager, who is expected to be in Philadelphia today. He is expected to make a statement that he would ask for a continuance until next summer. He is expected to make a statement that he would ask for a continuance until next summer.
