AWYERS SLATE ALL-IDAHO MEET

State Bar Association to Sean Federal Court Rules

BOISE, July 19 (AP)—Discussion of the applicability of federal court rules in this state was the outstanding topic listed today on the all-Idaho program for the annual meeting of the state bar here July 27, 28 and 29.

E. H. Gasterlin of Boise, assistant United States district attorney, will outline the federal rules of practice and procedure and their applicability to the state bar here July 27, 28 and 29.

All of our speakers are from Idaho, said Sam S. Griffin of Boise, state bar secretary.

He has also to make our program just as interesting and informative for the Idaho attorney as we possibly can.

State Representative P. M. Blinn of Pocatello, minority leader in the 1935 legislature, will describe recent legislative matters of interest to the profession, and Rep. Hamer of Boise, who was assistant attorney general, will direct discussion.

Selection of a state bar commissioner to succeed J. L. Eberie of Boise, president, is slated.

Other considerations whose terms do not expire, are Walter H. Anderson of Pocatello and Abe Goff of Moscow.

Meeting in conjunction with the Idaho state bar will be the local bar section, headed by Chairman H. J. H. Treadwell, and the prosecuting attorneys' section, of which Donald Anderson of Caldwell is president.

The prosecution will meet July 27 with Attorney General W. W. Taylor scheduled to give the principal address.

Principal business for the local bar section of the convention July 28 will be consideration of resolutions proposed by the general meeting of the state bar.

SUICIDE TRAGEDY TO NUDIST CAMP

19-Year-Old Bride of Dances Band Leader Found Dead After Quarrel

LOS ANGELES, July 19 (AP)—A quarrel growing out of a week-end party at a nudist camp was blamed by police today for the suicide of a 19-year-old bride of a dances band leader and daughter of a dance band leader and daughter of a dance band leader.

Police Captain Dalton T. Patton told her husband Dalton T. Patton that she had committed suicide in the bedroom of their home yesterday afternoon.

She was found dead at the nudist camp for his association with Mr. Noel.

"We had gone last Saturday to the nudist camp near Roscoe," Capt. Patton stated. "The party continued that night, all day Sunday and Monday, and we came home about 6 o'clock this morning."

"We had been doing some drinking at the camp, and had made several trips back to the house during the party. Last night at about 6 p. m. Dawn said she was going home to feed the dogs and exercise them and that she would be right back. She didn't come back for four hours."

Noel told Capt. Patton that he learned two other men and a girl had joined his wife at her home. He said he was telephoning one of the men when he heard the sound of a shot in the bedroom, and he went to find his wife lying on the floor, bleeding from the temple, with a rifle hole in her forehead.

Noel called an ambulance and his wife was pronounced dead upon arrival at the Van Nuys emergency hospital.

She became Noel's fourth wife less than a year ago.

Ada Hope was fatally shot by her husband, Noel, on Sept. 14, 1934. Her death was pronounced a suicide.

POTATO MARKET HOLIDAY CLOSURE

Shippers Agree to Restrict Movement to Properly Matured Tubers

NAMPA, Idaho, July 19 (AP)—Marketing "holidays" on Idaho potatoes was announced today by shippers agreed to restrict movement for the next 10 days to properly matured tubers.

"It was the unanimous opinion of leading growers and shippers that the early loss due to immature potatoes being shipped has been definitely checked by the holiday," said a statement prepared by the group after a conference with E. N. Pettygrove of Boise, state agriculture commissioner.

"They feel that loss can be eliminated by shipping only potatoes that are dry and mature."

The growers agreed not to accept potatoes for shipment unless their fields in which they were grown had gone without irrigation for at least seven days prior to digging.

Withholding of irrigation water before harvest results in growth of a potato with a stronger skin, they explained.

The shippers also agreed to methods of refrigeration to be used in movement of potatoes.

The "holiday" was imposed last week in an effort to improve market conditions for Idaho potatoes and Pettygrove said the action was "very effective."

Only a scattered few cars of potatoes were shipped from Idaho and eastern Oregon during the first two days of this week, Pettygrove said, in contrast with the average of 25 a day prior to the "holiday."

"The shipping holiday to which the shippers agreed last week was entered into to allow the Idaho Tri-States to mature further, enabling them to reach their markets without loss," Pettygrove explained.

"Shipment of immature potatoes resulted in damage to the tubers before they reached the market."

CONSERVATION OF SOIL EMPHASIZED

New Features Added to 1940 Farm Program for 1940 Says Chairman

Increased emphasis on soil conservation will be a major feature of the 1940 AAA farm program, says Rexce, chairman of the Twin Falls county agricultural conservation association, announced Wednesday.

Next year's farm program will also provide a better opportunity for operators of small farms to participate, and the responsibility of administration will continue in the hands of committees composed of actual farm operators, he said.

These features result from the national AAA conference in Washington, D. C. attended last week by D. R. Turner, Boise, and T. Henry Crozier, Lewiston, members of the Idaho state AAA committee, Rexce said.

"An important recommendation affecting soil conservation and helping operators of small farms to take part in the program, was that a minimum amount of $20 for each farm be established. Another conservation recommendation is to give each small farmer to earn up to $40 per farm for tree planting, in addition to the usual subsistence allowance for the farm."

Rexce said that state and local conservation committees will have responsibility for the field administration of crop insurance and crop loans. This is in line with the establishment of a policy of putting farmers in direct charge of their own program.

The national conference was held a month earlier this year than last. Rexce said, "The fact is that farmers in 1940 a better opportunity than ever before to know well in advance of the planting season what the program has to offer them."

Recommendations made at the conference grew out of recommendations made to the state AAA committee by county and community conservation and farmers at the state, Rexce said. They will be used for drafting specific provisions of the 1940 program.

In general, changes recommended are those which will simplify administration of the program or make it more effective from the standpoint of soil conservation, he said.

BROTHERS STAGE SCREEN STUNTS

Dick Metzger, or Talmadge, Says Simple Acts Result in Injuries

By VERN HAUGLUND
HOLLYWOOD, July 19.—Sometimes Dick Metzger, called "the smart member of the family" by "The New York Times," is not so smart.

Dick and four of his six brothers are movie stunt men. Charles and Albert live on a farm near Indio, N. Y.

Currently Dick has assumed his screen name of Richard Talmadge. He is associate director of "The Real Glory."

A few years ago Dick gave up stunting and became Talmadge, director of screen action. At always his four brothers are working with him, performing—with Billy Jones and George Sussman—all the "key" stunts.

Each is a specialist. Jones, says Talmadge, is the best water man in town. Suzanne is a high wire and trapeze man.

Brother Otto does high falls into water. Brother Tony is a rough and tumble expert.

Brother Victor is an automobile and automobile stunt, but in "The Real Glory," which takes place in 1900, he had no chance to specialize. Brother Leo lets people fall on him. He's always the man at the bottom of the pile.

The only man hurt in making "The Real Glory" was brother Otto, who sprained his ankle jumping 30 feet from the top of a palm tree to a wall where Gary Cooper was firing a spring gun. Otto was sitting on the ground when he fell through the scene and fell off the wall onto a mattress, where everyone knew he was hurt.

"It's seldom get hurt on the dangerous stunts," said Talmadge. "It's the simple ones that lay us low."

PROGRESS MARKS McNUITT'S BOOM

'Paul Can't Be Stopped Now,' Say Friends, But Foes Criticize Hoosier

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 19 (AP)—Back home in Indiana, the supporters of Paul V. McNutt believe his appointment as federal security administrator will be a big boost in his campaign to become the Democratic presidential nominee.

They see in the job an opportunity for the silver-haired former governor to demonstrate further what he can accomplish as an administrator and to be constantly in the limelight between now and the election.

"Paul can't be stopped now," said one of the McNutt-for-President strategists today.

But to his enemies—and he made plenty of them while he was governor—McNutt is the Federal "man on horseback" because of the dictatorial power he won and used as Indiana's chief executive.

Called "Hoosier Hitler," Norman Thomas once called him the "Hoosier Hitler." That was when McNutt sent troops to Terre Haute during a general strike.

McNutt said that under his oath of office he was sworn to protect the law and to keep for him to send troops to keep order.

Law school dean... National governor... high commissioner to the Philippines... And now about to become a key figure in the New Deal in Washington—these are high spots in the career of this native Hoosier, who'll be 60 years old Wednesday, July 19.

Now the question—one that has been asked often about him in the past—is, "Where next?"

"The White House," comes the answer to the booming cheer of his Frank M. McCallie, one-time Michigan football star, now Indiana's Democratic national committee chairman and manager of the currently active campaign to make McNutt the party's 1940 presidential choice.

What manner of man is this McNutt?

Charming, capable, a humanitarian and a born statesman, say his friends.

A political opportunist, a supreme egoist and ruthless, say his enemies who are convinced that he possesses a rare personal charm and ability as an executive.

In his 30 years as governor, 1913-21, McNutt's administration was the command of the Democratic party in Indiana. The first man in the state since power since the late Tom Taggart.

Largely through the sheer force of his own personality, he was able to recognize the state's government completely, reduce the number of departments from 165 to 40, and centralizing administrative control in the government.

Friends say his laws benefited the greatest number of people.

Still a Big Issue

One of these laws was a far-reaching gross income tax designed to lower property taxes. This law, which levies a 1 per cent tax on total income in excess of $1,000 of individuals, is still a big issue in Indiana politics, although it has survived all court tests.

The gross income tax enabled McNutt to null the state out of debt and leave an $11,000,000 surplus in the treasury, an achievement rated by his biographers as his greatest, while governor.

Tall and handsome—he's six feet two—McNutt is a striking figure. He's an immaculate dresser and youthful in appearance despite his prematurely white hair. He has piercing gray eyes.

He likes to make speeches, fly, play golf and poker. He's known as the "flying governor" because he traveled, whenever possible, by airplane.

As an orator he's silver-tongued and dynamic. Once he broke a tooth because he was too vigorous in speech.

Here's an excerpt from a McNutt Armistice day speech:

"On this day we shall prove that to save themselves from the disorders of this age men need not surrender their birthright for a mess of pottage. Communist or Nazi policy, that it is a political necessity, a way of life congenial to our people under the form of government which had its beginning in 1776."

Police Close 'Slave Market'; Arrest Five
Police in Hackensack, N. J., closed the "slave market" in a nearby amusement park and arrested five persons, advance publicity on the place said on the auction block, offering themselves in matrimony. Among those arrested was Elizabeth Carlin (wearing name card, above), of Chicago, who was first on the "auction block."

400 AT CASSIA COUNTY PICNIC

Annual 4-H Club Meeting Outstanding Event in Past Years

BURLEY, July 19.—Approximately 400 4-H club members and 100 parents and leaders enjoyed the 4-H county club picnic held in Hardscrabble park Thursday. Mr. Palmer, county agent, stated that the picnic was one of the outstanding events held in the county the past few years and was indicative of a general interest in the various 4-H club projects.

Most of the morning program consisted of games and making arrangements for the afternoon event which followed the noon lunch. Cassia county bankers supplied refreshments and cooperated materially in the holding of the program, as well as several Burley merchants varying prices for winners in the various games.

J. W. Harper, district extension agent, represented Dean E. J. Tidings, who was not able to attend, and Max Margaret Hill, district home demonstration agent, represented the home economics department of the university.

Speakers at the program, in addition to Mr. Barber and Mrs. Hill, were B. F. Maloney, who was chairman of the day; E. A. Otley of Elba, vice-chancellor; Oscar Welch, representing the Burley Chamber of Commerce; John A. Elton, representing the Tait River Chamber of Commerce; George J. McGinnis, chairman of the Idaho Agricultural Bankers' Association, and Mr. Palmer.

Four-H club members representing all 4-H communities in Cassia county in which 4-H club work exists, were represented by a stunt at the program. Stunts were presented by Steve Ferry, Felix, Hattie View, DeLoe, Alton, Raff, Elmer, Edna and Almo.

Final enrollment for club work in the county this year include 31 clubs and 325 permanent members. It is hoped that 100 per cent completion will be secured from these clubs.

Club members are now actively preparing for the fair. It is planned that much of the club work will be held in the county during the regular judging of open classes. Due to a high enrollment, particularly in girls' clothing work, judging in this manner will alleviate the rush of the regular judging work.

REDUCE AT EASE BEFORE CAMERAS

Group of Italians Kept Busy 'Shooting' Premier Mussolini

ROME, July 19.—Correspondence of the Associated Press from Rome says that Premier Mussolini has become almost a full-time job for a small group of Italians handy with cameras.

They are Italy's press photographers, armed with green identification cards, they are at liberty to snap it does any time they see him. They do not photograph him at his desk in the Palazzo Venezia or inside his Roman villa because they are not allowed inside except on special occasions.

But once he ventures out he is fair game.

It does it at complete ease under the gaze of candid cameras. They may catch him with his white shirt, pitching hay, or with a napkin tucked in his collar, rolling spaghetti on his fork in the good old Italian manner. It's all the same.

There is only one "no." The camera men can not photograph him on his knees.

"Beckers" all have been looked up carefully before they take their little green cards, the photographers are considered politically "safe" meaning no potential assassin are in the group.

Mussolini is sure of himself sufficiently not to worry about the outcome of their pictures. What is more, his sense of the dramatic makes him catch the camera men. Photographers say that on the whole he probably likes having his picture made. But they are sure the years of facing the lenses have robbed him of any thrill.

The photographers describe Viktor Vitovitch Emanuel as a different type. It is not that he minds being photographed—they believe—but he has a passion for orderly procedure.

Like Mussolini, the king had one table.

In the sovereign's case it is an article one. He is not afraid of ascending stairs because he habitually looks at his feet as he goes down. The resulting pictures show only the top of his head.

Crime and disaster pictures are definitely out in Italy. They are not considered "positive" subjects and are barred strictly to the holders of the green cards.

SUGARMAN HITS DEAL WITH CUBA

Island One of Poorest Reciprocal Markets, Benning Declares

SALT LAKE CITY, July 19.—If a Reciprocity bill passed by the United States Dept. of Commerce...

commenting on an agriculture department statement concerning Cuba's share in the island's sugar market, declared today that "the island is one of the poorest reciprocal markets for American goods."

In a statement to which Benning referred, the federal department accepted it would not be to the interest of American farmers or of American consumers to reduce Cuba's share in the American sugar market, adding that "Cuba has long been one of the most important foreign markets for American goods."

Benning in a press statement declared: "Cuba is a minor portion of the American market for sugar."

any nation with which we have substantial trade dealings."

He also stated that the west have advocated an increase in the domestic quota and a decrease in the import quota.

During the four-year period from 1934 to 1937, under the reciprocal trade agreement, the United States taxpayer gave to Cuban concessionaires totaling $178,000,000 in Cuban tariff reductions, according to Benning.

He also stated that the United States has given to Cuba more than $200,000,000 in concessions from Cuba, or a net loss to the American taxpayer of more than $178,000,000 of the concessions to Cuba was on sugar alone, said Benning.

"The $177,000,000 which American taxpayers gave to Cuba in reduced tariff rates on sugar alone would not only have produced a larger and more profitable market for the United States if spent in the best growing districts, but would have created greater employment in American business conditions than given us by Cuba."

It is also pertinent that this $177,000,000 net concession to Cuba represents more than the gross value of all sugar produced in the entire continental United States.

IDAHO'S CROPS SCORE ADVANCE

Weather Conditions Favorable; Corn, Beans, Beets in Good Condition

BOISE, July 19.—Much of Idaho was without rain during the past week but weather generally was favorable for crop growth.

J. O. Carter, United States weather bureau meteorologist, said that all crops were making "good advance toward maturity."

"Corn, beans and beets are mostly in good condition," he noted.

"Wheat and unripened potatoes are in good condition. Fruit are generally good. Apples, early and late, and peaches are on the grapes."

"Grapes are headed quite generally, but many are still in flower. It is making good progress. Fruit crop of alfalfa made fairly good advance and will soon be ready for cutting."

GROUP TOLD OF RESERVOIR PLAN

Southern Idaho, Inc., at Elba Meeting Seans Development

JEROME, July 19—The members of Southern Idaho, Inc. in an excursion to Aldon and Elba Monday viewed points of interest and adjourned in Elba, where a chicken dinner was served at the clock in the afternoon. Later a business session was conducted with President Al Reading of Wendell presiding.

In the absence of Henry W. Hurlbut of Jerome, chairman of Southern Idaho, Inc. Snake River committee, George H. Day of Oakley, reported on the meeting held recently in Idaho Falls relative to the South fork reservoir. Mr. Day said that the cost of the south fork reservoir proposal was cut from eleven million dollars to four million, and he further commented that the government officials reacted favorably toward the project.

It was Day's opinion that the proposal of the Utah Power and Light company to purchase the peary development rights should be refused and that the people should own and operate the plants and power which would be developed. He reiterated the need for more storage facilities.

Mr. Harris of Bailey reported concerning the committee's recommendation to the state Chamber of Commerce in regard to having the state organization more effectively aid local chambers-of-commerce and civic clubs.

To this end a resolution was submitted recommending that the president and secretary of the state Chamber of Commerce conduct its official business in accordance with the by-laws of the organization; that elections be held in accordance therewith; and that if present by-laws do not provide for periodical meetings of the board of directors and that it provide for retention to chambers of commerce and associations of civic clubs, that the by-laws be amended to provide that at least a quorum of directors meet periodically, if such meetings should be prohibitive due to areas other than all members of the board of directors shall express their views on important questions to the operations; maintenance, policy and activities of the state Chamber by referendum; and that the secretary and the president of the state organization be guided by the results of the referendum. The resolution further recommended that the state Chamber, through necessary submittal questions of importance to the state Chamber of Commerce to the state of Idaho, or to the nation by referendum; to the associations of civic clubs and to the various chambers of Commerce and memberships of the state Chamber; and that the presidents of the four associations of the state of Idaho be nominated for the office of director of the state Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Enes submitted the Malheur-Elmo-Albon road project for incorporation in the Southern Idaho road program.

Mr. Day extended an invitation which was later accepted by the group to hold the meeting of August at Oakley, August 21.

Jerome Baptists Hear Dr. Bowler

Still later he was chosen as the executive secretary of promotional work at the Northern Baptist convention, which includes 39 states. This work Dr. Bowler held until he resigned this June.

At the assembly grounds, Dr. Bowler spoke of his trip around the world which he made last year in the interest of Baptist missionary work. He gave many interesting stories and illustrations of the beliefs and practices of various religions that he contacted and told of the impact of Christianity upon these nations.

Among those who attended from Jerome were Mrs. Alta Moore, Alice Shivers, Mrs. J. H. Wells, L. W. Laird and Rev. and Mrs. Earl Kaurin.
