SUSPECT HELD IN TWIN FALLS ROBBERY CASE

Police Department, Sheriff's Office Cooperate in Arrest at Payette; Officers to Return with Man

Because a young Twin Falls citizen declined to take the license number of a man he suspected might have designs on stealing his boat last Sunday, officers were able to pin another apparently unrelated robbery and achieve the arrest yesterday of a suspect in the Pettifjohn grocery store robbery.

Chief of Police Howard W. Gillette announced yesterday that on the request of his department and cooperating Twin Falls sheriff, officers of the Sheriff's Office arrested a suspect in the robbery, was arrested at Payette yesterday noon.

Sheriff Art C. Parker and Les S. Mackenzie, Twin Falls lieutenant, will leave at 7 a. m. today for Payette to return the suspect for questioning in the armed robbery at the store at 8:46 p. m. Sunday. The man was taken to the Payette jail.

Sunday afternoon Louis A. Adamson, resident on Locust street two blocks from Harmon park, was fishing on Harmon park. A stranger, claiming he had information on stopping the boat, approached Adamson's house. He spoke with a foreign agent, Adamson noted.

The young man volunteered to help the stranger check the engine trouble and in a few minutes had the motor running. During this time the stranger asked numerous questions of Adamson.

Proved of his boat and thinking the stranger might have intentions of making a sale of it, Adamson wrote down the license number of the vehicle. The later information Chief Gillette of the license number and the name of the man might return the boat to its owner.

That night Pettifjohn's store was held up and robbed. Twin Falls police bulletin Twin Falls police found that a bullet striking to the same description as the one in the Pettifjohn's had used identical factory in robbing a Boise store.

On August 12 a man of the same description, talking with a foreign agent, had robbed a store at Weatport. Adamson had talked to had a Idaho auto license on Canyon county, not far from where the previous robberies were staged. He had the same foreign accent and description of the man who had robbed Boise, Weiser and Twin Falls stores.

Requested Check-Up Chief Gillette immediately requested a check-up of ownership of boats in the Twin Falls area. Meyers found Gillette said that the boat was registered to Caldwell citizen held in high regard but that he had sold it to a man who, officers said, had a police record.

Agreed with Gillette that the latter man, Fred Kemt, was a good suspect. The man was taken to Payette where Sheriff Harry H. Muir of Payette county made the arrest.

Red Cross Marks 75th Anniversary

NEW YORK, Aug. 22 (AP)—The International Red Cross, born of war and formed in a city of peace under a treaty that never has been abrogated, celebrated its 75th anniversary today in world-wide observance with enthusiasm.

On Aug. 22, 1864, 30 men at a Geneva council adopted the Red Cross International covenant recognizing the neutrality of those who know no party in caring for the wounded on the world's battlefields.

Now, after three-quarters of a century's service at almost every place of death and disaster up to the present, the Red Cross membership under the 1926 Geneva convention embraces 61 countries and forty million men, women and children.

Only through traffic on main highways will be permitted, they said. The order was necessary because of the extremely poor visibility that has resulted from smoke rolling down on the forest lands.

The young man volunteered to help the stranger check the engine trouble and in a few minutes had the motor running. During this time the stranger asked numerous questions of Adamson.

Government in Business. Respective of what one may think of public utilities, a development has just taken place in the state of Tennessee, which is worthy of public attention.

Government in Business. In a Wall street office, while 200 representatives of the TVA and the 34 cities, towns, and electrical co-operatives of Tennessee looked on, David E. Lillenthal, TVA director, passed over to Howard Wilkie, secretary of the Commonwealth and Southern, a check for $45,000,000.

Government in Business. Maybe Mr. Lillenthal is right, but on the other hand it is possible that he's a little over-optimistic.

Government in Business. The TVA was created May 18, 1933. For six years the twin struggles have been going on — the struggle against nature in building the great dams across the Tennessee river system.

Government in Business. But all this is the government's side of the story. The other side of the picture also is interesting.

Government in Business. Everyone familiar with the controversy knows the sale climaxed a six-year fight between individuals Wilkie and the government. He fought the competition of TVA with every known device.

Government in Business. "We had to sell our electric properties and turn over a sole control to the Tennessee Valley authority and other government agencies," said Wilkie, because we could not stay in business and compete with virtually tax-free and heavily subsidized plants.

Government in Business. Wilkie, whose stubborn defense of his corporation against what is to him "unfair and unjust government competition" was based on moral support by business in general, and won praise even from among his opponents.

Government in Business. In this instance the government's prey was a big business, and for that reason average individuals may be little concerned.

was netting him an income of approximately $100,000 a year. After a year the courts, Pippie has been forced to sell his 750-acre business property to the government's Alaska rural rehabilitation corporation because he refused to market his produce through the government's Alutian co-operative for the reason that he believed that his produce superior to those produced generally by the colony.

It is not so much what has happened to the Commonwealth and Southern in Tennessee or the less publicized incidents in Alaska, as what will eventually result if the government pursues its policy of crushing private enterprise.

Other Points of View. UP UPON THE WPA. Undoubtedly some of those enrolled in the WPA would rather earn an above than push one, but that is true of some workers in private industry as well.

Other Points of View. The average person working for the WPA stays on the company or factory job until he is laid off. This period would be much shorter except for the fact that many of those on work relief are too old to obtain hands for the work.

Other Points of View. When 7500 men swam into the Boston yard to work on the new shipyard, they were given a 100 percent bonus for the first year.

B.P.W. Club Plans Year's Work In Line With National Program

A baked ham and roasting ears picnic supper, served on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Helen Dietz at Hansen, preceded a program of varied interest at the meeting Monday evening of the Twin Falls Business and Professional Women's club. Social highlights of the national convention of B. P. W. clubs at Kansas City last month, told by Miss M. Zetta McCoy, president of the Idaho Federation of B. P. W. clubs, and presentation of the tentative year's program by Mrs. Frankie Alworth, local program chairman, occupied the attention of members and guests.

An attractive linen luncheon net was presented to Miss Doris Parsons, member of the club who will be married to William Beale Johnson next month at Pocatello. Miss Jessie Fraser made the presentation.

Acceptance of the program as suggested by the program coordination committee was voted by the club. Committee members are Mrs. Alworth, Mrs. Grace Parsons, Miss Marie Anderson, Mrs. Fannie McCoy, Miss Mary Ann Heber, Mrs. Arney, Mrs. Cora Stevens, Miss Lora Roberts, Mrs. Flora Anderson, Mrs. Ella George, Mrs. Margaret Peck and Mrs. Roy Smith.

Miss B. Marie Anderson, club president, recommended that the project of aiding junior high and high school girls, as suggested more than a year ago by the club planning board, be given impetus this year. Such support would include the contribution of clothing and possibly a revolving fund for the purchase of school books. Miss Roy Wheeler was appointed to take charge of the preliminary details of this project.

Five dollars was appropriated for red liver oil to be distributed by the county health unit names to underprivileged children.

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 22 (AP)—Spurred by a showing of some of the week's best Suffolk Hampshire sheep, buyers paid $17,223 for 207 head of fleeces in the opening day of the 24th national ram sale here today.

R. C. Rich of Burley, Idaho, president of the National Wool Growers association, declared he was "extremely gratified by the ready response of the movement, who are alert to the improvement of their flock."

The price in today's sale was paid by James Ludlow of Maladon, Idaho, who bid $750 for a Suffolk head owned by Suffolkable Meadows at Hagerston, Ont.

Turner and Kelley of Burley, Idaho, paid the record best price of the day, $700, for another Suffolk, purchased by the same broker.

Ludlow bought the first Suffolk to be sold at the ram sale here, 20 years ago. Both the animal he purchased and that bought by the Burley firm were imported from England by the Canadian firm.

Ludlow and Brooke, of which Ludlow is a true member, set the best price for a Suffolk here, $235 for a head of yearling rams. The University of Idaho at Moscow sold a 3-year pen to Dr. S. W. McCullar at $115, $100 for a pair.

The two best Hampshire shreds brought only $250 each at the morning sale.

Robert Blacklock of Piler, Idaho, sold five Hampshire yearlings to Dr. P. Sturrock of Liver, Utah, for $270, to lead the breed in that division.

JOHANSEN'S SHOES for FALL

Sports or flight line ties . . . knobby toes or step-ins . . . the college girl's inevitable choice will be Johansen's. They're styled for smart away-at-school wear and they'll be equally at home in class room, on campus or casual afternoons. There's a style for every collegiate event—and we insist each is a distinct leader.

WENDY

A newcomer on western camps—smart black alligator with suede trim. Note the knobby toe with the medium keg heel. A swagger style that has plenty of quality to make good its boast of smartness.

TAILORETTE

Destined to be one of the leaders—no matter where you go to school. It's a black alligator pump with a perfo toe to set off the modern lines. The pyramid heel is as important as the square toe effect.

DITMAR

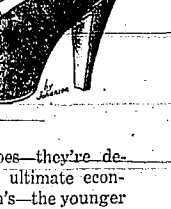

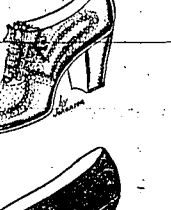

Ditmar doubles in duty for the college miss with an offering of either tan antique with a full leather heel or black alligator and calf with a suede trim. A popular tie for campus wear.

PAULA, II

Smart because it's black—smart because it's patent with a suede trim. That's Paula, II—with new streamlines and a perky bow. Paula, II, will rate high in the college girl's wardrobe.

—These are typically "college girl" shoes they've designed for smartness, practicality and ultimate economy. Ask to see our full line of Johansen's—the younger lady's favorite.
