Great Britain Sees German-Soviet Pact As Blow to Peace

Nation Goes on Wartime Footing; Article Two of Agreement Balks Efforts To Aid Poland

LONDON, Aug. 24 (Thursday)—Already moving to place herself on a wartime footing, Great Britain viewed gloomily but grimly the German-Soviet non-aggression pact signed early today in Moscow.

Diplomatic quarters said the pact was a blow to remaining British hopes that the crisis precipitated by Germany's demands on Poland might be solved peacefully by a firm British-French stand.

In particular, it was said, article two, apparently preventing either of the signatories from supporting in any way third power engaged in war with the other was regarded as carrying unhappy implications for British-French determination to aid Poland if she goes to war over Germany's demands.

It had been some time since the British-French front might procure a "benevolent neutrality" from Russia in case of a European war.

Official circles received reports of the pact in the early morning. It was obvious, however, that the pact was a blow to peace.

Non-Aggression Agreement Binds Each Nation Not To Associate Itself With Any Other Grouping

MOSCOW, Aug. 24 (Thursday)—Germany and Soviet Russia early today signed a non-aggression pact binding each of them for ten years not to "associate itself with any other grouping of powers which directly or indirectly is aimed at the other party."

The pact also agreed to "constantly remain in consultation with each other in their common interests, to adjust differences by arbitration."

The non-aggression clauses bound each power to refrain from any act of force against the other and to refrain from supporting any third party which might engage in warlike acts against either of the signatories.

The pact did not include the usual escape clause providing for its termination in case one of the contracting parties attacked a third power.

POLITICS REACTS TO WAR THREAT

Roosevelt Holds Key to Situation With Power to Convene Congress

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (4)—A political storm is brewing in Europe has cast its shadow over the American political scene and has raised fresh uncertainties over major issues of the 1940 presidential campaign. It can hardly be doubted that an outbreak of war in Poland or elsewhere would re-write the whole pattern of the presidential campaign between now and the formal opening of the primary campaign next spring. This much is certain: Should President Roosevelt call congress into special session in an impending or actual outbreak of hostilities in Europe, he would interrupt the campaign of the major Republican and Democratic figures being boomed for party nominations next year. Even President Roosevelt's repeatedly deferred trans-continental trip might be abandoned. Even the travel plans of Security Commissioner Paul V. McNutt, of Indiana, could be influenced by the fact that congress was reassembled and standing by to deal with emergencies certain to arise out of a major conflict in Europe. Mr. Roosevelt, therefore, holds the key to the presidential campaign situation for the weeks or months just ahead. How long a special session might last none can forecast. It would depend upon progress of the conflict abroad.

PARIS, Aug. 23 (4)—Americans caught in Europe's crisis began to leave France today for safety in the United States. United States consular authorities at Nice told those asking advice to consider seriously leaving resort towns "near the Italian frontier." Most of the American tourists congregated along the French Riviera. The authorities emphasized that their "advice" should not be interpreted as an evacuation order. In other sections of France, American envoys told questioning Americans: "Your case has no urgent business, why stay?" This was the situation of the Americans seeking last-minute passage home. ### PANAMAS RATE AT RAMS SALE

Western Breeders Pay $57.205 for 1,500 Choice Animals

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 23 (4)—Sheep breeders of the west paid out a total of $57,205 for 1,500 head of choice animals at the 24th national ram sale which closed here today. Receipts were divided among three main breeds, Hampshire, $14,217; Suffolk, $22,826; Rambouillet, $20,162, while other breeds placed in one group brought $10,001. F. A. Truhey of Cedar City purchased what were believed to be the first Panama rams to go into southern Utah, buying a pen of seven consigned by the University of Idaho for $700, highest price of any pen in the two-day sale. King Brothers Company, of Laramie, Wyo., sold a Corriedale yearling to Howard Sheridan of Hoover, S. D. for $175, top figure for the breed. Auctioneers were Col. A. W. Thompson of Lincoln, Neb.; Dr. S. W. McClure of Dixie, Idaho, and Col. E. O. Walters of Picher, Idaho. Auctioneers explained use of the white line this way: "If the white line is in the lane of traffic on the side of the motorist, it is traveling, do not cross the center line in either words; if the white line is on your side—don't cross."

White Lines for Highway Cautions

BOISE, Aug. 23 (4)—The state department of law enforcement issued a new explanation today of the realigning system used to mark dangerous spots on Idaho highways. The department of public works several weeks ago began the task of re-painting the center stripe on the highways, and at the same time substituted use of white safety stripes for the former double yellow line on curves. Law Enforcement Commissioner Henry M. Sawyer explained use of the white line this way: "If the white line is in the lane of traffic on the side of the motorist, it is traveling, do not cross the center line in either words; if the white line is on your side—don't cross."

MOTOR PATROLS GUARD FORESTS

Smoke Blankets Western Idaho Woodlands; Fire Lines-Reduced

BOISE, Aug. 23 (4)—Motorized patrolmen aided lookouts atop tall mountain peaks in a careful watch for new fires in smoke-blanketed western Idaho forests today. A heavy pall that settled over the Boise, Payette and Idaho national forests reduced visibility from "nothing to a mile," forest officials said. There was little breeze and the smoke hung close to the ground, extending into lowland regions. Strictest closing orders affecting the Boise, Payette and Idaho forests prohibited all recreational activities and permitted through travel only on business. Payette forest officials released men from the firelines of the Johnson creek fire near Landmark and revived this mountain of the burned over area from the original 1,000 to 400 to 600 acres.

TWIN FALLS NEWS

Amount is in consumers' durable goods. Automobiles, stoves, washing machines. These things wear out in time, but a family buying one expects more than a year's use out of it.

There's a school of thought which wants to absolutely insist that the seasonal lull in sales is due to a general failure to take into account a family's accumulated wealth in objects of home usefulness. If the car is still going good after being paid for, the family that year may buy a new one. The same may be said for the refrigerator before the day of the new car dawns. All these things help the family. They are labor-saving, time-saving or money-saving or all three. They set the housewife free for other activities, thus increasing her labor income.

Wherefore, some, at least, of that billion gain, gets turned into actual increase in national wealth.

Other Points of View

THOSE INFORMAL AMERICANS

In spite of much propaganda to the effect that Americans are less well-to-do than their English cousins believe in their hearts the English suspect that the average American is a lot better off than the average American of the Atlantic. Every one in a while, the public relations factories of the United States are flooded with a flood of letters from Americans who are indignant at the way the English are being misled.

One gentleman from the east side of the Atlantic to stock London observers is young Joseph Nangle, special master and traveling commissioner of the circuit court in the state of New York. He has written a letter to the effect that he has been in the United States for some time and that he has seen a great deal of the country. He has seen a great deal of the country and he has seen a great deal of the country.

From one on the average British tourist in the United States, the English suspect that the average American is a lot better off than the average American of the Atlantic. Every one in a while, the public relations factories of the United States are flooded with a flood of letters from Americans who are indignant at the way the English are being misled.

British surprise at Mr. Nangle's message finds no echo in the United States. We merely wonder a little why the English should be surprised at the fact that the average American is a lot better off than the average American of the Atlantic.

News Behind the News

WASHINGTON (By Alan Hirsch) (Repeating for Ray Tucker)

Whether a ship purchased in the U. S. crashes in South America, the news is the same. The ship is a commercial vessel, German propaganda agencies in South America have been studious in fostering this idea.

More often, according to aviation critics the crack-up results from faulty flying. The Latines are daring, frequently skilled pilots, but they're inadequately trained. The U. S. aviation industry figures it can better its situation by training the men slated to fly the ship.

There has been no announcement of this proposal. There probably is none. This column reported some months ago that it was on the file and that the navy takes care of its own planes. The fundamental idea is to build an air transport network that will cover the two Americas, U. S. international air lines will be, as they are now, the main arteries. They'll need feeder lines, within the southern hemisphere, the U. S. wants these under the control of the United States.

The help is to be partially from the U. S. government. The U. S. government is to help the international air lines which will carry freight and passenger service. The U. S. government is to help the international air lines which will carry freight and passenger service.

BRIDGES DEFENSE TELLS OF 'DEAL'

Alleged Move to Obtain Evidence Described at Hearing

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23 (UP)—Testimony concerning an alleged "deal" for evidence against Harry Bridges was given at the deposition hearing of the well-known labor leader today by Garfield A. King, barrister and solicitor of Vancouver, B. C.

Another defense witness, A. C. Bundy, former Communist and acquaintance of John Lesh, principal government witness, said he once overheard Detective William Brown of the Portland, Ore., police to "name his price" if he would link Bridges with the Communist party.

The defense, seeking to arrive "improper inducements" were of "efforts to tempt Bridges to Australia," obtained testimony from King that he had been approached by a representative of P. Donahoe, Seattle immigration commissioner.

King said the representative, a Mr. Sharer, told him Bonham "possibly" would use his influence to free Bridges. King said he had been interviewed by the Secretary of Labor, Frances Perkins in connection with the Bridges matter.

OFFICE OF FSA MOVED TO BUHL

Action Effective September 15; Rent-Free Space Provided

Because Buhl was able to provide rent-free office space to the Twin Falls county Farm Security Administration unit, that organization will be moved to the west end city, effective September 15, it was announced yesterday.

The government has an out of the FSA budget that in order to operate local offices, cities, or other agencies, must provide office space.

FSA unit here has leased $323,900 to 268 families.

The county offered to pay $20 monthly of the rent until January 1, but could provide no office space in the courthouse. City of Twin Falls "lured" by kindly committee budgets this year, was unable to make a financial contribution. All room in the city hall is taken.

Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce went on record favoring action to keep the offices in Twin Falls but did not appropriate money to aid in renting offices.

The offer is located in the 100 block of Third street south at the present time.

REVISED OLD-AGE BILL EXPLAINED

Social Security Board Tells Effects of Amendments to Statute

(Editor's note: Congress recently amended the social security law in several important respects. The general social security board, which administers the act, has prepared a series of questions and answers to help the public understand the revised statute. One of the questions is published here. Others will appear later.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (AP)—In general, what are the effects of the amendments to the old-age insurance provisions of the social security act?

They expand the system for the payment of retirement benefits to individual workers into an insurance system for the protection of both the worker and his family. They provide for the earlier payment of benefits for the payment of liberal benefits to those near the retirement age—65; for extension of support for dependent children to 18 years of age; and for monthly benefits to survivors. They also hold the tax rate where it is 14 1/2 percent.

When does the payment of monthly benefits under the old-age insurance plan begin?

Benefits are payable beginning January 1, 1940. They are payable for the beginning of each month thereafter in 1940.

To whom will monthly benefits be paid?

The amendments have broadened the plan to take into consideration the security of the family unit. In addition to the benefits paid to the retired worker, the law now provides monthly supplementary benefits for his wife, if she is 65, and for dependent children under 18 years of age. It also provides monthly survivors' benefits for aged widows, dependent widows, widows who are dependent in their care, and for dependent parents of workers who die.

How many men have been brought under the old-age insurance program by the amendments? Approximately 1,100,000.

What are the principal types of occupations brought under the program by the amendments?

The principal new inclusions are national-league professional players of building-and-trade associations, employees of state banks which are members of the Federal Reserve system, employees in maritime service on American vessels, and workers over the age of 65.

Are the nearly 28,000,000 workers now covered by state unemployment insurance laws being brought under the old-age insurance program? Almost all of them, although some are not employed, except by the old-age insurance provisions of the law.

Why is there a discrepancy in the numbers covered by the job-insurance plan and those covered by the old-age and survivors' insurance plan?

The principal reason is that the latter is applicable to the employees of every employer of even one person, while the federal unemployment insurance provisions apply only to those employees of persons or business establishments employing the eight or more (under some state laws this number is lower). Furthermore, in old-age insurance, coverage is continuing once an employee is reestablished for a worker, it stands on the record until he retires or dies, whereas under unemployment insurance the worker goes in and out of the system, depending on his current employment.

NATION'S BUYING SHOWS INCREASE

Gain in Sales of Men's Clothing Points to Better Times

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 23.—Increasing buying and better quality buying by wage earners and families in the lower income brackets are helping to boost sales of home furnishings and some lines of luxury goods well above last year's levels, according to a quarterly study of "surplus income" purchases by Northwestern National Life Insurance Company.

The study, covering eight key lines of goods at 236 department stores, also shows that sales of men's clothing, bell-weather of both depression and recovery, were over 10 percent higher in the second quarter of 1939, compared with the same period last year.

Plus show the greatest margin of gain, with an increase of 24 1/2 percent over the second quarter of 1938. Jewelry sales are up 14 1/2 percent; electric household appliances 9 1/2 percent; home furniture 8 1/2 percent. Sporting goods departments in the department stores covered by the study show a slight gain, but a greater comparative improvement over last year for the second quarter than for the first three months, and the trend continued in July, the report states. Floraria trade, too, shows a modest improvement over last year.

Attendance at motion pictures, stage shows and other amusements registers gains ranging from 10 to 14 per cent, compared with this time last year, the study finds.

Wholesalers report that orders for fall delivery expanded earlier than was this summer. Mail order houses and chain stores catered mainly to the lower income trade, but a sharp expansion in purchases by this class, together with a tendency to "trade-up" to buy better grades of merchandise. Buying by the lower income group shows a greater improvement over last year than does that of the upper income trade, the survey finds.

A recent study by the insurance company found wages per U. S. worker substantially higher than a year ago, while living costs have fallen to 1938 levels. The resulting surplus of buying power is obtaining, and is to be used for home returning, and to obtain a few luxuries, the current report observes.

IDAHO STUDENTS RIDE TO SCHOOL

Statewide Survey Shows 30 Per Cent Carried in Motor Buses

BOISE, Aug. 23 (AP)—Approximately 30 per cent of Idaho's 121,456 public school students rode to school during the 1938-1939 school year, a survey prepared under supervision of the state department of education showed today.

Buses used to transport them varied in size from one to more than five years and made 190,000 miles of travel 12,738 miles daily.

The state department of education cooperated with the work projects administration in the survey.

Questionnaires were sent to all school districts in the state but answers were received from approximately half of them.

Indicative Figures

School reports showed that altogether there were 11,600 students enrolled. Districts registering 600 students replied to the questionnaire.

The survey showed 32.84 per cent of the 29,653 high school students and 23.90 per cent of the 45,726 elementary school students registered in the schools were transported by bus.

"We feel that percentage would be maintained throughout the school year in the state if a complete survey were made," said C. E. Roberts, assistant superintendent of public instruction.

Average cost of operating the 429 buses was 17 cents per mile, the survey showed. That cost varied from 27 cents in Clark county to 10 cents in Owyhee county.

Transportation cost $419,264, 10.72 per cent of the school's expenditures for current year.

The survey showed that of the 429 buses used, 142 were owned by the districts, 271 were operated under contract and in 10 instances a combination ownership was involved.

Twin Falls Leads

Towns of less than five miles each were made up of children in 102 buses; from 5 to 10 miles daily in 1,837; from 10 to 15 miles in 812; from 15 to 20 miles in 254; from 20 to 25 miles in 14; and more than 25 miles in 14.

Eighty-five buses had seating capacity of less than 25 students; 36 had capacity of 25 to 33 students; 69, of 33 to 40; 88, of 40 to 45; and 20, of 45 to 50.

The buses traveled over 2,226 miles of surfaced highways, 23 miles of travel highways, and 1,573 miles of unsurfaced highway.

TRACTOR KILLS PLAYERS' AUTHOR

Sidney Coe Howard Victim of Accident at Summer Estate

TYRINOHAM, Miss., Aug. 23 (AP)—Crushed under the wheels of a tractor, the father of the author of "Swing Time," died today in his summer estate.

The 46-year-old writer had left the tractor for a moment to get into the motor, and it started up so suddenly he could not scramble out of its path.

Howard was continuing as was a dealer of literature to the stage and screen, as well as creator of original plays. His first play, "Swing Time," produced in 1921 and starring Gene Dennis, earned, of Cleveland.

A year later he married Miss Zerk, and in 1923 serious play "They Knew What They Wanted" won the Pulitzer prize. Critics at that time called the play as a dedication American playwrights had outgrown a "self-conscious" stage.

The play, he said, neither airy nor highbrow.

His first wife died in 1930, and in 1931 he married the daughter of Walter Damrich, New York conductor and music educator.

One of Howard's most recent successes was "The Ghost of Yankee Doodle"—a play he wrote for Ethel Barrymore.

The rather thin, high-shouldered playwright was engaged in recent years in screen adaptations but was liked recently as saying "I don't like Hollywood, you become part of a manufacturing process."

SHOT FATAL TO BOLIVIAN CHIEF

Youthful Dictator Dies of Assersted Self-Inflicted Wound

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Aug. 23 (AP)—President German Busch, youthful Bolivian dictator whose heavy hand won him the title "Condor of the Andes," died today, soon after Propaganda Minister Mario Flores said the president had shot himself in the chest.

Flores stated President Busch had been "mentally" depressed because of "intense work during the past 30 days."

General Carlos Quintanilla, chief of staff of the Bolivian army and veteran of the Chaco war, assumed the provisional presidency by "universal" election of generals and members of the cabinet." Three days of national mourning was decreed.

The shooting, first officially described as accidental, occurred at the Busch residence where several friends were present. At the instance of Mrs. Busch, an operation was performed but the president failed to rally.

The 37-year-old Busch had often declared to opponents that he would "lose any office dead." He became president at the age of 31 when he led the army in a bloodless coup.

Quintanilla, regarded as less uncompromising than Busch, left the cabinet membership unchanged, and issued a message declaring he would follow the policies of the dead dictator.

Last April Busch assumed a "policy of power" and became dictator of his predominantly Indian-populated country of 3,000,000.

Guided by the national revenue and autogovernment, Busch has increased social life by sweeping measures giving control over all foreign exchange to the state, nationalizing the central bank, cancelling Standard Oil company concessions in Bolivia, and making oil services state property.

Busch was born of a German-Bolivian mother and a Bolivian father.

Career at End

GERMAN BUSCH, youthful Bolivian dictator, ends his career today.

LITHUANIA READY TO FIGHT ENEMY

Small Country Determined to Defend Itself Against Invader

KAUNAS, Lithuania, Aug. 23 (AP)—Lithuanian newspapers reported today the clear-eyed young Lithuanian leader could hold them for a week or 10 days.

His opinion is not expert. It is only what he himself thinks, in a discussion of what this little nation of 2,500,000 persons could do to defend itself invader by a large power.

"The Lithuanians do not eliminate Russia or even Poland when they think of aggression, but Germany is first on the list."

"You see," says the young Lithuanian, and his eyes narrow down as he looks across the Baltic sea, "I don't appreciate your advantage in being a citizen of a large country."

He sees the United States as a large and powerful nation, with the blessing of geographical location, with thousands of miles of water to separate it from Europe and the Orient. He compares it, in his mind, with Lithuania, yielded between Germany and Russia, and which already has been forced to yield to the demands of larger countries.

"But Lithuania will resist," he is asked today. "Of course." He surprises upon the question is answered. "Why not?"

Little Security

It makes you think of the slim measure of security enjoyed by some of the small countries of Europe today. Countries which must be able to defend their neutrality as best they can—or take sides in a struggle.

It makes you think of an attack by a large country—with modern equipment, with modern machinery, with modern armor, with modern artillery, with the whole, ripping, smashing destruction possible to a large army.

And you think of a small country defending, with big courage and firm resolve, with modern equipment of its own, but pitted against a reserve strength, in men and money, and munitions, which it cannot match.

These are the realities of Europe, and square in the middle of such realities you have Lithuania, where goes on army and armaments, where passes work all day, and then practice with their rifles at night where the hope is for peace but where life is very much a question mark.

Look at a map. Where would Germany and Russia meet if they were to go to war and fight each other? There's a good chance that one front would be in Lithuania. Lithuania is the only country into other soil than their own.

What would happen if Germany and Russia—Germany—were to have a chance, it's agreed, that either country might try flanking movements which might cut into Lithuania.

Against this situation, Lithuania holds precious her neutrality and a hope that this neutrality will be respected. And also it is prepared to defend that neutrality against any country that tries to violate it.

At a recent nation after the World War, after a long history of foreign control and domination, Lithuania has found, and then the loss to Germany through a German that count not be ignored, of Memel.

Holiday Brings Traffic Warning

BOISE, Aug. 23 (AP)—Approach of the last summer holiday—Labor day, 10 days hence brought today an appeal to motorists to use care on public highways.

"Labor day offers a last chance for another mad dash to the hills for a brief vacation trip and the hundreds of motorists who avail themselves of the opportunity should remember that death is very close as long as they drive in the center of the highway," said a statement from the department of law enforcement.

The speeding motorist is stubborn—but so are facts, and the facts all point toward the grave danger of operating too fast for conditions.

The bureau also urged motorists to be certain brakes on their automobiles were in good condition.

Squawks, Disputes Follow Ambers-Armstrong Battle

Vanquished Scrapper Ends Career as Lightweight

BY EDDIE BRIEZY
NEW YORK, Aug. 23 (AP)—Amid squawks and confusion which followed the Lou Ambers-Henry Armstrong title scrap, came these developments today:

1. Eddie Mead, manager of Armstrong, said he would demand the New York state boxing commission reverse the unanimous verdict awarding the championship to Ambers.

2. Mead threatened to sue Armstrong's attorney, who abandoned his career as a lightweight because of weight trouble to concentrate on the defense of his client, Mead.

3. Mead threatened he would sue Armstrong to the point in New York.

4. With Mead's bluffs going in one ear and out the other, Pioneer Mike Jacobs went biliously ahead with plans to stage an Ambers-Ambers rematch title bout in Madison Square Garden November 1.

Meanwhile, in the pub, pool rooms and cigar stores along Broadway the fight faithful fought the battle over who was the winner. Armstrong then Ambers, entering the winner, according to the point of view.

For every free holder who thought the decision was just, you could find another who swore just as vehemently that little Henry was the victor of the most flagrant cases of grand larceny ever perpetrated on a "suspecting" New York fight public.

A large congregation of sea-coast observers—light managers and newspaper men who know the angles—thought Armstrong won even if he did lose 20 or 30 low punches. Ambers' support came chiefly from the man-in-the-street to whom a punch around the middle is a belt or anything thereabout.

Just the same it was the consensus "knocking" Henry, the only man in ring history to hold three major titles at the same time, is no longer the old Armstrong. The one is gone from the punch which landed an impressive striking of knees 20 or 30 years ago. His handier, say weakness caused by making weight brought this about. Others hold the Los Angeles dynamo has hit the tobernighit.

Prospects Favor League Expansion

Herb Sanders Reports Cities Eager to Enter Pioneer Circuit

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 23 (AP)—Herb Sanders, former manager of the Lewiston Indians baseball club, said today that prospects for expanding the Pioneer baseball league to include eight cities in 1940 appeared favorable.

Sanders, one of the leaders in organizing the present six-club league, declared that Idaho Falls, Idaho, Butte, Mont., and Pocatello, Utah, had given indications they would ask for franchises at the next meeting of the league directors.

Lawton, the former Indian pilot said, was expected to re-enter the western inter-club circuit next year, making way for one of the new Pioneer league franchises.

Eliminate Long Jump

He pointed out that the long jump of approximately 700 miles from Salt Lake to Lewiston would be eliminated, making for a more compact organization.

In addition to the proposed new cities, the remainder of the league would be composed of its present members, Salt Lake City, Ogden, Pocatello, Twin Falls and Boise.

Sanders said he had discussed the baseball situation with chambers of commerce and other interests, "and all appeared eager to come in next year."

"There has a park that can seat 6,000 persons and spectators here are willing to agree they will prepare to construct a new grandstand and erect lighting facilities.

"There is definitely interested, and I was told by one representative that almost $8,000 has already been raised to finance an entry."

—Jack Halliwell of Pocatello, Pioneer league president, said recently that several major and class AA baseball clubs are attempting to make connections with Pioneer league teams to operate as farms.

Sanders said he would go to Pocatello for a meeting with Halliwell, and also to Idaho Falls before returning to Butte.

He said that league directors might call a meeting to discuss plans about a week after the close of the present schedule, September 17.

Leading Issues Tumble 1 to 4 Points; Price of Wheat Soars

Markets At A Glance

New York, Aug. 23. — The Associated Press reports that the stock market today opened on a sharp up-bow, heavily influenced by news of the outbreak of hostilities in Europe. The market opened with a gain of 1 1/2 points with the S. & W. bond yield at 2 1/2 percent. The market opened with a gain of 1 1/2 points with the S. & W. bond yield at 2 1/2 percent.

By FREDERICK GARNER

NEW YORK, Aug. 23 (AP)—Traders, signified by the gain of 1 1/2 points in the final hour today and leading issues dropped by 1 to 4 points in the London market, were nervous, but there was a gradual downward from the quiet opening. The market opened with a gain of 1 1/2 points with the S. & W. bond yield at 2 1/2 percent.

The break was the widest since the previous crash of April 8. The Associated Press average of 50 representative stocks was down 1 1/2 points. It was obvious from the beginning of the session that the professional had reached the bottom of yesterday that the proposed Russia-German non-aggression treaty should be a reaction.

The "war commodity" wheat was based at 110 cents a bushel, the lowest in 5 1/2 years.

Paul Reynaud Ranks Second Only to Premier Daladier

By CHARLES POLIZ

PARIS—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Finance Minister Paul Reynaud, a tough little mountaineer with a hard business head, announced he has estimated 24,827,000 francs from about 3600,000,000 from French taxpayers in the first six months of 1939.

By CHARLES POLIZ

Reynaud, however, has turned the office of finance minister from the post of cabinet, set into a job that has made him second only to Premier Edouard Daladier himself in popularity.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 23 (AP)—A funny man's life isn't all fun. Listen to a moment to the plaint of Bob Benchley.

"That should be no disgrace," he said, "for the Japanese are a supercilious people."

By CHARLES POLIZ

Reynaud's father went to Mexico to make his fortune and did so. He returned rich to France and settled down in Boretolette where Paul Reynaud learned what France's premier Marshal Hubert Lyautey called "hard headed mountaineer thinking."
