Veterans March In Boston Rain

BOSTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—In a cat-

enaboya" shouts. "war threatens today," nearly a million persons today cheered 15,000 marching veterans soldiers of former times and their auxiliaries in the 40th parade of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Rain fell intermittently, but the crowd stayed, as the veterans walked briskly along the four-mile route occupied by more than a 100 bands.

The five-hour parade was marred by the death of one veteran, tentatively identified as Jack S. Lind-

Governor Baltonstall of Massachusetts, as honorary chief marshal, led the parade on horseback. Walking the entire route was Mayor LaGuardia of New York at the head of a delegation of nearly 1,000 New York policemen and firemen. . . . James Putnam of White Plains, N. ## AMERICA WAITS FOR WAR GEAR

Army's Chief of Staff Emphasizes Preparedness—Time Element

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 29 (AP)—General George C. Marshall, chief of staff of the United States, said today that while Congress has appropriated funds to provide better weapons of defense production has not had time to reach top speed.

In a brief address to Virginia Legionnaires he emphasized the importance of the time element between the date funds are designated for defense purposes and the time when munitions production can reach full flower.

He said the United States was using an army rifle "nearly 35 years old," the "antiquity" of which could be illustrated by comparing a modern automobile with a plowman model. However, he said the United States was rapidly moving into production of improved types of weapons and so far as these preparations were concerned, there was little more that could be done.

General Marshall said he was convinced that in any war, combat would revolve about the "man on the ground" who would get all the assistance of mechanized equipment, sea and air power. He spoke extemporaneously.

NEW LAW CALLED MINERS' BURDEN

D. A. Callahan Declares Wagner Act Administration Makes Trouble

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 29 (AP)—Donald A. Callahan, Wallace, Idaho, mine operator, delivered a speech before the western division of the American mining congress here today that administration of the Wagner act had increased personnel difficulties of U. S. employers.

Callahan, unsuccessful Republican candidate for United States senator in Idaho in 1938 and present state controller, said "with the objectives of this law, no one who desires a more harmonious relationship in industry can possibly quarrel" and added the "difficulty is that enforcement of the act upon their duties with a conception that the relation of employer and employee necessarily means conflict."

"Those who are engaged in the mining industry must meet conditions which do not exist in other business organizations," Callahan said.

"The mining industry is carried on under conditions of life that are different from most other industries. At the best, mining is a rough business, the expenditure of human effort more than almost any business in the world."

"There is little in the business of mining which gives to men a broad outlook upon the affairs of the world or the relations of human beings. Because the industry calls for a type of men physically strong, it is not to be expected that in the great rank and file of those who toil in the mines they would find those who have had opportunity to develop these faculties of mind and heart which make them more reasonable human beings."

"In the mining industry, more than in any other business in the world, management must deal with human nature in the raw."

Colored Films

Shown at Meet

Showing of a film, taken on colored motion picture film, of the trip from Twin Falls through Yellowstone national park, by Elmer Shaw at the meeting of the Magic Valley Camera club Monday evening, was greatly appreciated by members who were enthusiastic in their praise of Elmer Shaw. Also received with interest was a colored motion picture of Howard Wiseman, Jr.

The club extended a vote of thanks to M. P. Smith, who donated films of the Philippine Islands for this evening. The meeting was held in the club rooms under the Wiley drug company.

Yesterday Mr. Wiseman called attention to the membership of the club being offered by the manager of the Cavalcade of Thrills, in conjunction with the Twin Falls county fair, September 1-5. He said that each day for the best still picture of Franklin's stunts, and his for the best of movie film taken during his exhibition, are being offered by Franklin to club members or other camera enthusiasts.

Those wishing to obtain advance points for securing pictures of these stunts should present cameras at gate when they attend the exhibition, and receive passes admitting them to the arena, Wiseman said.

Nazarene Says War Is Bound to Come

"It is only a matter of time until the greatest war ever known will take place, and I don't see how America can stay out of it," Dr. O. E. Hardy of Nampa, Idaho, said today.

The Nazarene, a well-known educator, told attendees at the interdenominational camp meeting of the Church of the Nazarene last week at Nampa. He based his opinion on Bible prophecy and his observation of studying world affairs.

Rev. Glen Griffith was in charge of the successful affair. The last Sunday, 2000 Nazarenes were in attendance. Nampa has become the mecca of Nazarenes of the north-west, approximately 1,000 living in that city.

Dr. Hardy was a visitor here Monday, enroute to his home in the south.

NAVAJOS SADLY HEAD HORSES INTO LAST ROUND-UP TO SAVE PASTURES

Navajos rounding up their prized horses in effort to fight drought.

SHIP ROCK, N. M., Aug. 29 (AP)—The worst drought in 15 years is driving the Navajos to get rid of some of their cherished horses.

That's a harder blow than you might suspect. The horse is the Navajo's grand piano, two-wheeled in his garage, a Liberty bond in his stables. A two-hour man rate, a three-horse man is a much bigger shot.

But, like his white brother, Hasten Navajo is finding that it can be an expensive proposition to keep in the house.

Grass is hard.

Directed by the U. S. Indian service and the oil conservation service, the Navajos have rounded up thousands of head of horses and cut their steep flocks to preserve what little range remains on the drought-stricken mesa.

In the 75 years since Kit Carson marched them to their present reservation, the Navajos have grown from about 10,000 to 45,000 people. To the head men and the Indian service, it has been up and back to find enough grass and water for the flocks on which the Navajos live.

A horse for 75 cents.

Over-grazing has turned over five grass lands into sun-scorched sand. This year's drought turned the desert into a total loss, and burned away much of the remaining grass. Water holes have dried up, entire people face a crisis.

The trails from the interior of the reservation in recent weeks have been dusty symbols of trouble, as the Navajos have driven their surplus horses to corrals and rail heads.

The best horses have been kept at home, the "crown ball" and wild head brought in. So sparse is grass and water, many of the horses died along the trails, although they were driven only six miles a day.

At the corrals, buyers picked them up as candidates for the glue works. Dogs, walked and some of them wild, more than 7,500 head already have gone at prices from 75 cents to $1.25. Interested have been hundreds of small burros—20 cents and you take them away.

Hundreds of the better stock have been bought and shipped to the south for plantation work.

other concessions from Poland. The second concerned German-British relations in general.

London was understood here to have held Berlin of British willingness to do all in her power to publicize possible direct negotiations between Poland and Germany, but declared that British would honor her guarantees to that for Poland.

If such negotiations were carried to a successful conclusion, Britain was said to have indicated she favored general armistices concerning colonial war materials, disarmament and other underlying problems which have aggravated the Polish-German quarrel.

However, little hope was held for the mediation offer, which would have Adolf Hitler's assent, and French officials said Europe's critical situation was "simply stationary."

IF WAR—WHAT?
There is no doubt that business has been affected, during the last year or two, by European uncertainty as to whether there would be another war. Such uncertainty still exists, and it is admitted to be one of the main causes why business does not make more rapid progress now. Apparently it is not so much the fear of war as the doubt whether war will come. Business men cannot plan ahead.

An interesting view as to effects if war should come is given by Dean John T. Madden, director of the Institute of International Finance of New York University. He says that a European war in which our country was not involved would not affect us very adversely. If at all, while it lasted. He points out the great resources of the British-French group of democracies and allies, and says they would have no lack of buying power. Even now, without borrowing, they could command the means of buying half as much again from us as they bought in the three years from 1914 to 1917.

Business in America would be at its worst in the early days of the war, he says, as we would have to shut down our production and recover again as we did in 1914. And if the United States actually entered the war, which many Americans today do not consider likely, presumably there would be something like a business boom, as there was before, in spite of war profit regulation.

This is merely a dispassionate effort to look ahead. No decent American, it is safe to say, wants to see another big war, no matter how much profit any of us might make out of it. We have learned that war profits, like war glory, are likely to be Dead Sea fruit.

NO SUPER-HIGHWAY SYSTEM
The Federal Bureau of Public Roads, after assembling all available facts, is reported as unimpressed by the propaganda for a gridiron of super-highways covering the country. Only a small part of our present highway traffic would use them, it reports. There would be little north-and-south traffic on them.

The building cost for 14,000 miles of such roads would be nearly $3,000,000,000, and the estimated tolls for the six roads planned would be about $100,000,000 year less than the estimated cost of maintenance.

So bang goes another dream. Fortunately there are, generally speaking, enough good roads now, in about the right places, for Americans to get around without much trouble.

GARDEN WIRE
There is some humor left in Europe, even with all its hates and threats. At least among some sections of the German-Polish border.

Both countries have been fortifying their borders. The Germans use large quantities of barbed wire. This turns out to be a bopfection to the Polish peasants. Ordinarily they have no wire to fence in their farms and gardens. Now they have struck it rich.

Their favorite method of cutting the German frontier at night, cutting the wire and carrying it back home. There is a lively competition among the peasants to see who can get the most wire, and thousands of gardens never protected before from man or beast are now safeguarded by Nazi wire.

Maybe that is one of the things annoying Hitler. It is an insult. And besides, wire costs money and requires iron, which is scarce in Germany.

BACK TO DIGNITY
Fashion experts recently back from Paris have spread the word that "corsets are here again." Well, maybe not exactly here, but on the way. The style artists have spoken.

First announcements that the coming styles would be "beautiful but uncomfortable" are denied. They will be "very comfortable," a feminine spokesman insists, and women will be glad to wear them. "Of course," she adds, "you have to buy up to the neck and dignified when you wear a corset. But we had comfort for years, and now we are going back to dignity."

So there you have it. They're comfortable, but uncomfortable, and women will wear them because they're going to be dignified again. It kills them. That's probably all-right for those who can stand it. And if all the other things that used to be associated with corsets are coming back, now, there will be a boom in the clothing business.

WORTH LIVING FOR
Earl Baldwin, former prime minister of Great Britain, who is getting a warm welcome in his present visit to America, said something the other day that Americans might well paste in their hats or on their walls.

The British people hate war, he declared, and it has taken them a long time to realize that there are others who think differently. But now they are coming to realize that means has caused a hardening of mind of our people. We have come to realize that if the challenge comes, it is one that has to be taken up.

"A belief in democracy, and a willingness to work and live and die for it, is today the only salvation of the world."
"No democracy can live unless the mass of the people have it in their minds that democracy is worth living for as well as dying for. We have got to believe in democracy the same way the Nazis and the Fascists believe in their system."

This seems as true for Americans as it does for Britons.

ROOSEVELT FIXES BLAME IN CRISIS

President Links Senate Action with European War Alarms

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—In emphatic tones, President Roosevelt told news-journalists today that the senate's failure to enact his neutrality legislation at the last session of congress was a factor contributing to the gravity of the European crisis.

At the same time, he asserted that the purpose of holding and searching the German luxury liner, the Bremen, was to make certain she could not be equipped at sea for offensive war purposes. The United States, he said, would be liable to claims for damage inflicted if that happened. He added that the same treatment would be given the merchant ships of all the potential European belligerents.

Flood of reports
Dispatches on developments in the European situation poured across the desk of the president and other high officials during the day. In fact, Secretary Hull confessed to newsmen that they had become so voluminous he found it difficult to keep pace with them. Many officials expressed satisfaction that, at least, European diplomacy was keeping the dispute in the talking stage.

In the meantime, two big military nature was announced by this government, both having to do with the defense of the Panama canal. In some quarters it was expected that should war come supporters of one side might, conceivably seek to damage the canal to handicap the movements of the other side's merchant shipping. The purpose was to safeguard the big ditch from harm from any quarter. So, it was announced that military guards would be placed on board all vessels passing through the canal and that the canal zone would be increased by 272 officers and 1250 men. Troops will begin moving toward the Canal Zone September 2, it was said.

Roosevelt Policy
Mr. Roosevelt's neutrality legislation was intended to repeal the present embargo on the shipment of war supplies to belligerents, thus opening American markets to all nations involved in war, provided they paid cash and took title to their purchases before shipment.

Mr. Roosevelt said that such a system would, it is conceded, be open to the advantage of Great Britain because the British fleet would control the seas. In that way, the plan was also intended to act as a deterrent upon any warlike action by Hitler or Mussolini.

When a reporter asked today whether he thought the senate's postponement of action on the legislation constituted a serious crisis, Mr. Roosevelt replied that a great many people felt that to be the case. He emphasized, as he has done before, that the postponement decision was reached and enforced by a solid Republican minority and a minority of the senate's Democratic membership.

Roosevelt Urges Prayer for Peace

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—President Roosevelt urged a world conference of Catholic students last night to "pray for peace," and have faith that despite all discouragements, councils of wisdom ultimately will prevail among nations.

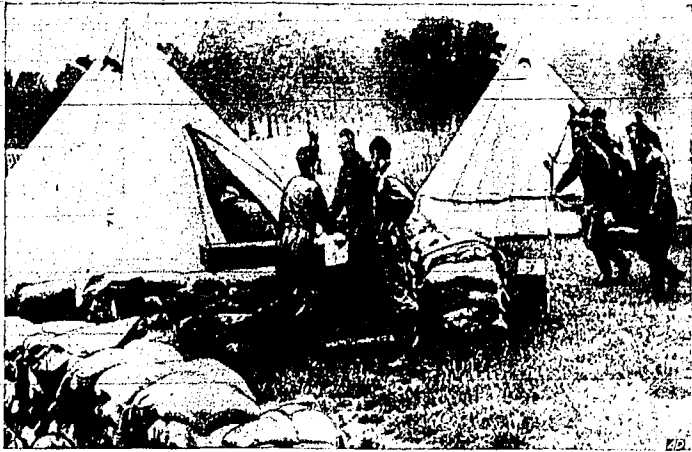

Welcoming the eighteenth annual Pax Romana congress here by letter, the president said it was heartening "in troublesome times like the present to know that the congress would be held."

"We must pray for peace," he wrote. "We must work for peace and we must think in terms of peace, and have faith that despite all discouragements, councils of wisdom ultimately will prevail among nations."

He said that every controversy will find its solution in the equipment of reason rather than in an appeal to arms.

Britain Loads Her Guns On Heels of Nazi-Soviet Pact

GREAT BRITAIN wasted no time in getting ready for war, and here a gun crew hurries to get ammunition to a dump in Hyde Park, London, as an air raid precaution measure was invoked full blast on the heels of the new Russian-German pact. Britishers watched the procedure with grimaces, but John Hall, Esq., voiced his confidence: "We're ready now—we weren't last September." Picture called from London to New York.

NEW INCREASE IN TRAFFIC DEATHS

National Safety Council
Records Break in Improvement

CHICAGO, Aug. 29 (AP)—A new increase in traffic deaths after a month jump finished the red light of warning to American motorists today.

The national safety council reported fatalities rose one per cent in July in the wake of a two per cent uptick in June. It stated the upward trend in those two months broke a record of sustained improvement which began in November, 1937, and confirmed the "fear that America's most successful traffic safety drive definitely has stalled."

During July the council counted 2,750 deaths on the streets and highways compared with 2,727 in July, 1938. During the first seven months of 1939 it recorded 10,250 fatalities, four per cent fewer than the 10,680 who died during a similar period last year.

Deaths in rural areas increased for the fourth successive month, offsetting gains that had been made in the cities.

"The safety leaders in the various urban groups, with death rates for the first seven months were listed thus:—

Group 1 (over 500,000 population) Boston 74; Milwaukee 62; Pittsburgh 58.
Group 2 (250,000-500,000) Providence, R. I. 47; Kansas City, Mo. 13; Rochester, N. Y. 9.
Group 3 (100,000-250,000) Bedford, Mass. 7; Duluth, Minn. 14; Des Moines, Ia. 25.

Leaders Chosen By Chiropactors

BOISE, Aug. 29 (AP)—Idaho chiropactors named a man from the panhandle to the presidency of their state association for the second successive year today.

Meeting in annual convention here they elected Dr. J. L. Harrison of Wallace as president, succeeding Dr. M. T. Higgins of Coeur d'Alene, who was named chairman of the association's board of directors.

Dr. C. S. Greene of Rexburg was elected vice president, Dr. H. R. Walmsley of Nampa, secretary, and Dr. M. D. Anthony, Dolan, treasurer.

The convention will conclude tomorrow after another round of technical lectures by Dr. A. Hadden of Portland, Ore.; Dr. Homer Beatty of Denver, Dr. E. H. Minna of Seattle and Dr. Henry West of Monticello, clinicians for the convention.

The annual banquet was held tonight with an informal program following.

Dr. Higgins said sentiment was developing for the expanding of the Idaho association convention to include chiropactors from Montana, Oregon and Utah. He indicated definite action probably would be taken tomorrow.

ITALY URGED TO MOVE FOR PEACE

British Seek to Enlist Mussolini's Persuasive Powers

ROME, Aug. 29 (AP)—A British effort to influence Adolf Hitler further toward a peaceful settlement of the European crisis through the good offices of Premier Mussolini was reported in diplomatic circles tonight.

Sir Percy Loraine, British ambassador, had a half hour talk with Italian foreign minister, Count Galeazzo Ciano, this afternoon. Neither the British nor the Italians could say what was discussed, but both indicated that Mussolini was acting as an active go-between.

It was believed that Sir Percy had suggested that the Italian premier, since he openly shares a desire to avert war, use his powers of persuasion to Hitler to provide London with an acceptable reply to the British government's proposals.

While Hitler's reply was being drafted, according to all indications, with the moderating advice of Dr. Duce, Italian preparations for possible war went ahead.

The first appeal for Italians to move out of hot cities appeared as an air raid precaution and to facilitate food distribution in the event of a conflict.

Food control, without rationing such as that in Germany, was being set up in Italy.

gun in Libya, the Italian territory in north Africa which adjoins French-controlled Tunisia. Libya probably would be the scene of fighting in time of war.

Electric signs were extinguished in Rome tonight, and some stores were latched with dim blue lamp-wire already had appeared in the streets, and in public conveyances as a defense against air-attack.

It was the first complete blackout since the crisis began.

"The moment's perilous," the prophets and much less optimism," wrote Virginia Gayda, leading editor of the Post-Journal, who usually is well informed on government policy.

Tonight was the last day restaurants were allowed to serve more than one meat or fish dish to each customer.

There were vague rumors that a gigantic national mass meeting, like that which preceded Italy's advance into Ethiopia, would be called when the verdict of war or peace was known.

Leaders Throughout Country Respond to Request for Suggestions

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—John W. Hanes, acting secretary of the treasury, said last night hundreds of business men already had replied to his recent request for suggestions on revisions of the federal tax laws.

In an address prepared for the Washington Evening Star's radio forum, Hanes recalled he had accepted the invitations to about 1,800 business leaders throughout the country, and said:

"The response to this request for collaboration, in the 10 days since it was first voiced, has been a heartening demonstration of a democratic action."

"From organizational spokesmen whom I have addressed personally and from individual taxpayers we have read of our efforts in the past there has come a flood of communications pleading a more active role. Without exception, they come with good will and constructive intent."

And our oil business good land o' livin', people line up for the Arkansas Motor Oil and grease jobs until it like a government postoffice.

Now they're beginning to

We sell our Arkansas Motor Oil

We're scattering these tires out just like a Kansas farmer sowing millet on a windy day. I didn't say anything about Claud Farr being a windy. I can't even talk as fast as Harry Musgrave, but I did enjoy hearing what Harry said the other night on the radio about going to church, and I enjoyed that beautiful song "God Bless America."

DAYLIGHT THIEF LOSES FREEDOM

William Edwards Remains
Out of Jail Only
Few Hours

William Edwards' freedom lasted six hours and 40 minutes yesterday. At 9 a. m. he was released from the Twin Falls county jail after serving 30 days on a petty larceny conviction. Sheriff Art C. Parker said.

At 3:40 p. m. yesterday afternoon Chief of Police Howard B. Gifford had Edwards back in a county jail booked on second degree burglary charges.

Chief Gifford gave this account of the arrest:

Edwards was walking in the alley behind the Twin Falls Feed and Ice company on Fifth avenue south about 7 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Nothing a cash drawer, he went into the building and rifled it of $25 and a coupon book belonging to a customer of the firm.

He attempted to escape down the alley but Parley A. Pullmer, an employee in the plant, chased him and made the capture.

Gifford was called to the scene and arrested Edwards, returning him to the county jail.

Everett M. Sweeley, Twin Falls county prosecuting attorney, probably will file the charges against Pullmer today, Gifford said.

OAKLEY BEAUTY CONTEST READY

Score of Entries Expected for Event at "Bath
Tub Rock"

Bathing beauty contest at "bath tub rock" in the city of Rock near Oakley will be held this afternoon, with a score of entries from a dozen communities expected to be entered, according to word received from Charles Brown, Oakley, who is in charge of arrangements.

Mayor Joe Koehler, who will leave at 10 a. m. today for Oakley, said last evening he would stay overnight at the Cassia city.

Oakley will be photographed at "bath tub rock" in the future, both still and motion, to be submitted to Hollywood film companies in conjunction with other shots of the chain of six independence lakes and the "Park" semi-primitive area between the city of Rock and the lakes.

The film companies will study the pictures with a view of filming a motion picture in the section.

The mayor said last evening that "persons interested in driving Oakley for the event are urged to meet at the Roxy theater at 10 a. m. Wednesday and form a caravan."

He said he would "have room for two or three persons" who could not furnish transportation for all bathing beauties, or other persons who planned to "ride the event" as previously but erroneously announced.

M. H. Bibbins of Gooding will assist Mr. Koehler in taking pictures. Speakers at a public meeting tonight at the Oakley Valley high school building will be Mr. Koehler and Dan J. Cavanaugh, both of Twin Falls, and probably J. R. McCorkle, Boise, manager of the Associated General Contractors of America, Idaho branch.

Storm Turns Back
Good-Will Flight

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Aug. 29 (AP) — After turning back on a Non-Stop-Whitcomb hop, the Japanese around-the-world flight plane, Nippon, landed here at 1:30 p. m. (1:30 p. m. mountain time) today.

The plane had flown eastward as far as Tanana crossing after circling Fairbanks about two hours earlier, but turned back because of unfavorable flying conditions.

The fliers prepared to spend the night here. Under a change of plans, the flight leaders said the takeoff tomorrow, weather permitting, would be for Prince George, B. C.

The Nippon, with a crew of five and three passengers, is on a good-will flight around the world under sponsorship of two of Japan's largest newspapers. The pilot is Sumitoki Nakan, the "Lindbergh" of Japan who last year set a Berlin-Tokyo record.

The twin-engine plane took off from Nome at 7:11 a. m. (1:21 a. m. PST) on the flight which ended here.

DEMOCRATS PLAN FOR STATE MEET

Twin Falls County Club
Names Filer Man to Head Committee

Tom Alworth of Piler was named chairman of ticket and representation committee of the Twin Falls county Young Democratic club at a meeting held at the private courtyards last evening.

Mr. Alworth's committee work will be in relation to the Idaho state convention of Young Democratic clubs at Sun Valley September 2, 3 and 4.

Thomas M. Robertson, Jr., president of the Twin Falls county organization, presided at the meeting.

The session was a local rally preceding the state convention.

Robertson said the Sun Valley gathering on Labor day weekend will be in the nature of a rally, uniting party spirit for next year's election contest.

Mrs. Virginia Lawrence Mooney of Coeur d'Alene, former resident now visiting here, was named chairman of the transportation committee for the Sun Valley rally.

Of Twin Falls county Young Democrats attending last night's meeting, 10 stated that they would go to the state assembly, said Mr. Robertson.

"There are no official delegates and any Young Democrat in Twin Falls county is eligible to attend," the president stated.

Local organization took no action on a resolution passed recently by the Ada County Young Democrats, in which the western Idaho organization went on record against a straw vote at Sun Valley to establish the trend on Democratic gubernatorial possibilities for 1940.

Program for the Sun Valley convention has not yet been announced.
