Pact Gives Russia Firm Hold on North Baltic Sea

Soviet and Estonia Pledge Mutual Aid In Trade Agreement

Moscow Government Gains Right to Fortify Two Strategic Estonian Islands and One Port

By WITT HANCOCK
MOSCOW, Sept. 29 (Friday)—The Soviet government early today announced conclusion of a ten-year mutual assistance pact with Estonia giving Russia the right to fortify two strategic Estonian islands and an Estonian port in the north Baltic sea.

The pact provides for Russia to render Estonia "every assistance, including military, in the event of direct aggression or menace of aggression arising on the part of any great European power against the sea-frontiers" of Estonia.

RUSSIAN-BRITISH DEAL PROPOSED

Soviet Government Ready to Negotiate War Trade Agreement

The two agreements give Russia a firm military and economic hold over the north Baltic, particularly increasing her influence over the gulf of Riga, where Latvia's port is situated, the gulf of Finland, and the lower Baltic, particularly the gulf of Bothnia, which is vital to the commerce of Sweden and Finland.

The mutual assistance pact signed yesterday, after four days of negotiations, for which Estonian Foreign Minister Jaan Reinken was in Moscow, was in Moscow today.

German Warplanes Cross North Sea

British-Deny Nazi Claim of Successful Bombing Attack on Heavy Cruiser; Aim Declared Bad

LONDON, Sept. 29 (Friday)—German bombers flew over the North Sea yesterday for the third day in succession in bold thrusts at the British navy in an intensification of air-navy warfare.

The British press association said the raiders were beaten back each time, however, without damaging any ship of the navy.

The association said "a squadron of German bombers tried to reach the Scottish coast yesterday, but the attempt was defeated."

British fighting planes took off from a number of airbases when the approach of enemy planes was reported, the association said.

It added that the British planes "made contact with the enemy planes and succeeded in driving them off, no one getting through the defense."

The attempted attack on Thursday reported by the press association came in the wake of British denial of a report by the German high command that on Wednesday German planes had "successfully attacked" a British heavy cruiser off the Scottish coast.

The British acknowledged an attack on a British destroyer in that area which occurred on Wednesday.

Senate Committee Okehs New Neutrality Measure

Amendments Tighten Restrictions on Credits to Belligerent Nations; Historic Debate Impends

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 28—The administration's neutrality legislation passed the previously insurmountable barrier of the senate foreign relations committee today and reached the long-awaited stage at which it was ready for a momentous debate in the senate itself.

In a quiet three-hour session the committee decided, 16 to 7, to report the measure to the senate. This action committed the 12 to 11 vote of the committee.

The action followed a long and heated debate in the committee, which began on July 10, over the vehement protest of President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull.

The committee's action today, however, was not without significance. It was the first time since the bill's introduction that the committee has taken such a decisive action.

CHICAGO, Ill.—John Murphy was right in obeying the law, but he was wrong in obeying too quickly.

When a siren sounded, Murphy stopped his automobile so suddenly a police car rammed him in the rear.

LOS ANGELES—Pederstern grinned in amusement as 102-pound Gladys Grossman of New York punched Mitchell's face after he cited her for jaywalking.

Chickadee was told to save his story for the police judge. The hitchhiker was freed.

LABOR STUDIES WAR PROBLEMS

A.F.L. Leader Predicts Call for Draconic Laws Against Profiteering

CINCINNATI, Sept. 28 (AP)—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor voiced the opinion tonight that the AFL convention next week would call for "draconic" laws against war profiteering and support of the state embargo if it failed to act.

Neutrality and profiteering, he said, were among the major issues for the convention, and added that much consideration probably would be given the question of labor representation on emergency agencies.

He declared also that whatever the convention does with the so far futile AFL-CIO peace negotiations will have a far-reaching effect on the AFL's future administrative and organizational policies.

As a precaution against price increases at home induced by war abroad, he said he expected the delegates would insist on congressional action to enact drastic legislation to prevent profiteering by profiteers. Earlier Green threw his support to the efforts of the building trades union to perfect legislation for eliminating inter-union jurisdictional disputes and other limited work against John L. Lewis' invasion of the federation's stronghold—the building construction field.

Sitting in the convention, the building trades delegates wrestled with the final details of a plan to bar jurisdictional strikes stoppages on building jobs until arbiters had intervened to act on the dispute.

Green told the convention during a shouting attack on Lewis and the AFL that there would be no room for a rival organization on the construction field "if we settle our family problems."

He appealed to the union to perfect the machinery recently set up for arbitrating disputes without papers, and urged the application of the rule of force and might.

The convention earlier heard Walter Wendell of the PWA, building authority labor relations division call on the building trades to support passage by the PWA of a supplemental $200,000,000 appropriation to extend the operations of the new cost housing program.

Ray C. Kirkpatrick of the federal works agency told the convention that the PWA program would be a "practical" and "effective" means of preventing future depressions.

He urged that the nation be kept in a condition of "economic preparedness" by advance planning of the public works program which would be kept ready for instant use to cope with industrial declines.

Prison Penalty Of Fatal Brawl
BOISE, Sept. 28 (AP)—Odel Vail, 22-year-old Garland, N. M., youth convicted of second degree murder for fatally slaying a woman, was sentenced today to 10 years in the state penitentiary for a 10-year term.

District Judge Charles F. Koehn passed sentence at Murphy in Oregon county seat today.

The court, following a jury recommendation of 10 years, levied the minimum penalty for second-degree murder.

Vail, employed as a pea picker at the time of the killing, June 3, at Walters Ferry, was charged with inflicting knife wounds fatal to Elmer Chilton, 23, of Chilton, Mo.

Chilton, enrolled at Oremas CCC camp, died July 15.

SAN FRANCISCO'S FAIR NEAR CLOSE

Exposition Given Credit for Stimulation of Business

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28 (AP)—The Golden Gate International exposition will run a second year, because of lack of financing, Leland W. Cutler, president of the fair announced today.

He explained that to reopen the fair next year would require $1,500,000 in "new" money by Oct. 1 for preopening expenses and he felt this sum could not be obtained.

"Indisputable facts and figures of record prove conclusively that the exposition has been a success not only in point of interest and beauty, but in a stimulation of business that has benefited San Francisco, California and the western states directly, and the whole nation indirectly," Cutler said.

Cutler said it was not possible to determine accurately the vast amounts poured into the fair as a result of the exposition, but conservative estimates give 100 million dollars as the amount of new money that has been brought into the bay region.

1,000 Teachers at Pocatello Meeting
POCATELLO, Sept. 28 (AP)—Education officers for the ensuing year will be the major item on Friday's program for more than 1,000 teachers attending the annual convention of the Fifth District Eastern Idaho Teachers' association.

Section meetings will follow the election at 9 a. m. and general business sessions will be held at 1:30 p. m., said R. W. Weston, Aberdeen, president.

Highlight of the opening day was discussion of "On what basis should we evaluate education," by Helen Hoffman, chief of the division of elementary education in California.

In turning the "relationship between teachers and children" program for an ideal classroom, Miss Hoffman pointed out that the program must be adapted to fit each individual child.

In the evening, she led a forum discussion on "A Modern School in a Democratic Society."

LEGION ACCLAIMS NEW COMMANDER

R. J. Kelly of Detroit Gives Pledge to Keep U. S. Out of War

CHICAGO, Sept. 28 (AP)—Raymond J. Kelly, 46-year-old Detroit attorney, was elected national commander of the American Legion today and pledged himself to keep the United States out of war.

A lieutenant of artillery in the World War, Kelly was unanimously acclaimed in the closing session of the legion's 21st annual convention.

So obvious was the sentiment for Kelly among the delegates that the names of but two others of the six expected candidates were placed before the convention, Miss Waverly, Toledo, Ohio, and Lynn Stambaugh, Fresno, Cal., withdrew in behalf of the favorite.

Common Chorus
Even before a successor to Stephen P. Chablis of Seattle had been officially announced, enthusiastic legionnaires rallied upon the stage to cheer Kelly's election.

Amidst wild cheering and arm waving, Kelly stood with Chadwick Chablis of Seattle, the new commander of the legion.

The values of more than 1,000,000 American World War veterans are united in a common chorus that America must maintain a "real neutrality," he said, adding "that under no conditions shall we be permitted to take sides behind the scenes."

The legion, he declared, would insist on its American program with veterans' demand for a national defense industry in that of no other world power.

Other Officers
Other officers named as the legion terminated its sessions in late afternoon were:

Vice Commanders: Leo Ray, Orem, Ark.; Charles C. Kelly, Little Rock, Ark.; Matthew Murphy, Chicago, Ill.; James P. Riegels, Chicago, Ill.; H. E. Fennell, Chicago, Ill.

Remember my Dad once told me to always have something to sell a calf, goat, hog, lamb, chicken or just anything—because then I will need some machinery repairs, tire, or the Mousie needs a new hat or the kids a new pair of shoes, I wouldn't always have to be running to the bank for a few dollars loan. Course that was before the government started its loaning business! Guess my Dad must have been thinking about "interest" or something.

WELL... I DON'T KNOW

Remember my Dad once told me to always have something to sell a calf, goat, hog, lamb, chicken or just anything—because then I will need some machinery repairs, tire, or the Mousie needs a new hat or the kids a new pair of shoes, I wouldn't always have to be running to the bank for a few dollars loan. Course that was before the government started its loaning business! Guess my Dad must have been thinking about "interest" or something.

Suit Renewed for Penitentiary Fund

BOISE, Sept. 28 (AP)—State Auditor Calvin E. Wright filed in district court today an amended complaint in his suit to collect for the state $2,600 allegedly due from former prison warden Ira J. Taylor and Taylor's chief clerk, Tony C. Pugh. The original complaint was filed March 11, asserting the amount was due from Taylor, Pugh and their blemished 10-movers allegedly collected by Taylor and Pugh from sale of prison farm products but not turned over to the state treasurer. Wright also seeks 25 percent of the amount as penalty, and seeks interest from March 23, 1937.

IDAHOAN ACCUSES WPA OF SABOTAGE

Clark Charges Noxious Weed Control Program 'Deliberately Wrecked'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—Senator D. Worth Clark (D-Idaho) charged in a press statement tonight that Idaho's noxious weed control program "has been systematically and deliberately wrecked and sabotaged by a comparatively small group of works project administration officials in Boise and in the field."

He telegraphed a copy of the statement to the Idaho association of county commissioners, auditors and clerks, now in convention in Boise, and scheduled to discuss the noxious weed problem tomorrow.

"During the last seven months Idaho's splendid four-year-old statewide program for the control and eradication of noxious weeds on the farms of our state has been systematically and deliberately wrecked and sabotaged by a comparatively small group of WPA administration officials in Boise and a few in the field," Clark declared.

Worth said that "four years ago we succeeded in obtaining for Idaho more than $1,000,000 of federal WPA funds to commence a noxious weed eradication program."

"This was the only WPA program of any direct benefit to the farmers. It was extremely successful and for over a year Idaho was the only state in the union to receive federal funds for this purpose and expert staff and trained personnel were developed and many millions of dollars were added to the value of Idaho farm lands."

"This of course would have been impossible without the fullest cooperation from the various counties of the state which we always received."

Clark said that "last spring, however, a WPA official in Boise declared that this program was not to their liking and they set out to wreck it."

Clark said that "this they almost did and it was necessary for me personally to request the intervention of the president of the United States. He did intervene and we thought the program saved."

However, Clark said, "this same political clique formulated a new policy and procedure again to destroy it. The trained agricultural personnel is being broken up and these drastic measures can be taken the work of four years for all of us will have been in vain. These drastic measures I propose to take in order to help save this program for the farmers of Idaho."

Motorist Accused Of Manslaughter

BOISE, Sept. 28 (AP)—Homer E. Smith, 22, Thornton, today awaited trial in district court after having been bound over on a charge of involuntary manslaughter in connection with a traffic fatality here last April 1.

The motorcycle riders died of injuries in the crash.

The complaint charges him only with the death of Boulter, who was killed instantly.

Attorneys Named In Murder Trial

PARK AT HELL'S CANYON FAVORED

Group Returns From Expedition Through Snake River Gorge

BOISE, Sept. 28 (AP)—Impressed with its possibilities as a national park, representatives of private and public interests returned today from Hell's canyon, mile-deep gorge through which the Snake river flows along the Oregon-Idaho border.

J. D. Wood, consultant for the state planning board, said the region inspected, extending roughly 20 miles long and 10 miles wide, abounds in rugged scenery but is at present largely inaccessible.

"We visited Black and Emerald lakes in the Seven Devils district, Kinney Point and Horse Mountain Lookout," Wood said. "At one point we could look down more than a mile into the canyon."

He said the area, if made into a national park, probably would include the Seven Devils on Idaho side, where peaks rise to more than 10,000 feet, and the 10,000-foot Wall-to-wall ridge on the Oregon side.

Wood said the inspection tour was unique in that it was participated in by all interested agencies to determine whether the area should be made a national park, a popular area or left as it is.

He said the trip was composed of 27 experts led by Clyde Roah of Nevada.

Each representative will present his views on the disposition of the area in a report to the state planning board.

Representing the planning board were Otto Hoebe, chairman, of Idaho and Wood.

C. J. Olsen of Oden, assistant regional forester, F. V. Horton of Portland, Myer Weir of Moscow, and John B. Hatcher of Washington, D. C., represented the forest service.

Arthur Campbell, state mining inspector, A. W. Fahrenwald, University of Idaho geologist, and James O. Best of Boise, district regional geologist, also made the trip.

Representing the national park service were C. A. Davidson, Volney Lewis and E. L. Sumner, all of San Francisco.

H. B. Soulen of Weiler represented the Idaho woolgrowers association and J. A. Barker of Weiler the cattle and horse-growers association.

High Court Rules In Fraud Dispute

BOISE, Sept. 28 (AP)—In one of four opinions handed down today, the Idaho supreme court affirmed the conviction of Jess H. Hays of Boise on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses on a contract for the sale of wool.

The opinion was written by Justice Raymond Olney and concurred in by all members of the bench except Justice Alfred Bugge, who did not participate.

Duffy appealed on the grounds the evidence was not sufficient to sustain a conviction by a jury in the district court.

In an opinion written by Justice Hays, an Idaho industrial accident board, order awarding workmen's compensation to W. A. Cook, an employee of Hays, was affirmed.

The court, in another opinion, which was written by Justice Edwin M. Holden, affirmed an industrial accident board order awarding compensation to Emmett B. Hancock, an employee of the Troy-Parsons Company, Inc. of Fossil.
