Unique Exhibit Heralds Jubilee

EXHIBITION with which Peter Goertzen, 359 Diamond street, has carved the historical figures on display in the Idaho Power company window is shown by this photograph of Mr. Goertzen with a portion of the exhibit. The presentation is being made in conjunction with the Magic City Jubilee and its historical Cavalcade here July 2, 3, 4, and represents 18 years work by the Twin Falls man. (News Photo and Engraving).

Display Represents 18 Years of Endeavor by Local Resident

Now on display in the Idaho Power company window an exhibit tells a story of progress in harmony with the Magic City jubilee. "18 years of statehood" theme and also speaks of years of exacting work by its creator, Peter Goertzen.

Mr. Goertzen, a resident of 359 Diamond street, Twin Falls, during the past 18 years has carved from wood a collection of characters that are a lifeline and amazingly accurate portrait of the past. The exhibit is being presented in conjunction with the Magic City jubilee and Cavalcade to be offered here July 2, 3, 4 and 5.

Following unveiling of the exhibit at noon yesterday a constant procession of pedestrians stopped to view its manifold features.

This first public showing of his painstaking labors finds the collection insured for $5,000. It is built around a wagon train, miniature early-day town, and other historical features. Even down to background details, it attains a perfection that never fails to amaze those viewing it for the first time.

Showing that there are comparisons in all circumstances, the collection may trace its origin to some extent to the fact that during the past 18 years he has carved, Mr. Goertzen has been winners of 20 contests.

Four Sets of Twins Give Program Highlight at Mountain View Tea

Four sets of twins provided an interesting highlight during the program presented by the Mountain View club at their annual guest day tea yesterday afternoon at the attractive country home of Mrs. Mallory Fisher, south of Twin Falls. Charter members and several former members were special guests among the sixty persons in attendance during the afternoon. The program was presented outside on the spacious lawns at the Fisher home, and in deference to the weather, tea was served inside on a roof porch. Mrs. W. McDowell was assistant hostess. Mrs. Claude Brown was guest speaker, and described in an interesting fashion her trip last year to Australia.

Members of the twins' sets were William and Willetta Warber, Phillis Lee and Paula Marie Pichler, De Ann and Sally Warber, and Phillip and Phyllis Burkhardt. The group sang "Play Me" and "The Woodpecker Song" accompanied by Mrs. Paul Pichler, mother of one set of the twins. Mrs. Pichler and Mrs. Robert Miller played two piano solo, "Glow With Me" and "In The Evening." Mrs. Warber played "Pompette." During the tea hour, background music was played by Miss McDowell, Miss Lois Williams and Miss Thelma Thietzen.

A buffet luncheon was served on a large covered table centered with an arrangement of blue delphinium and white hydrangeas in a crystal bowl on a mirrored base. Mrs. Elmer Black and Mrs. Robert Brown presided at the service. Tall baskets of summer blossoms were arranged on either side of the table, which was set with white china. The table was decorated with flowers of various summer blossoms in the Fisher flower garden.

Guests were introduced to program arrangements and introduced the members.

A brief business session was held during which plans for the annual summer picnic to be held July 21 at Mt. Baldy in the mountains near their families, were announced.

Hoffman Points to Galento's Tactics In Nova Fight

By SID FEEDER

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., June 26 (AP)—The odd possibility arose today that Jim Braddock, the man who won the world's heavyweight championship from Max Baer, might referee Maxie's tussle with Tony Galento in Jersey City next Tuesday night.

Jim's name came up as a candidate for the spot as third man in the ring, and Maxie's manager, A. C. Hoffman, however, pointed out that Braddock is a fight promoter, not a referee.

"I think that must suit him," Hoffman explained, "but he shouldn't referee."

"I don't care who referees the fight," Hoffman said, "but I want to see Galento win."

Braddock, who has been fighting with him, said that he was not interested in the fight, but that he was interested in the money.

Hoffman wanted the referee to have a few more qualifications, however. First, he must "call" as he sees it, when it comes to questionable tactics, the little gray-haired pugilist insisted.

"I want all four rules understood before we enter the ring," he stipulated. "If any violations go on and are not penalized, I'm going to take Galento out of the ring."

Galento won't get away with the same things he pulled the night he knocked out Max Baer in Philadelphia last fall. Anything went that night and Tony got away with everything but a loss.

According to the rules this time, or there'll be no fight."

A New, Serious Frank Kovacs Seeks Riggs' Crown

By SAM JACKSON

DEKERSLEY, Calif.—A junior tennis player who suggests Bill Tilden in appearance and suggests him even more in his tactics, 34-year-old Kovacs, after the big prize of American tennis—the national amateur championship to be decided at Forest Hills.

The name is Frank Kovacs and it's fairly familiar on the eastern coast already. But his braver is a quiet, steady, serious-looking man, and capable in his playing than the "teen-age youngster" who has been crowding about the center in previous seasons.

Kovacs apparently has given up the idea of becoming a Max Baer of the tennis courts. His crowning has given him some bad setbacks.

Professionally, he appears to have the recent state championships—extending himself virtually unanimously in saying that he'd be a worthy opponent for Bobby Riggs.

Riggs Hutton, who has been coaching Kovacs since the boy was 15, won't predict a victory for his protégé. That's no slip at Kovacs.
