CCC Youth Dies In Battle With Foothills Blaze

400 Men Fight Wind-Whipped Flames Sweeping Through Region North of Boise

(By The Associated Press)

BOISE, July 19.—A 19-year-old civilian conservation corps enrollee was dead of burns and several square miles of brush and timber land lay blackened late tonight as upwards of 400 men battled uncontrolled flame and smoke in foothills north of Boise.

The fire has jumped the road near Healy Toll gate and is sweeping toward the Horseshoe Bend road, a Boise national forest ranger said. A strong wind that fanned the blaze earlier in the day had died down.

Joseph J. Galluzzo, 19, of Reading, Ohio, (118 Walnut St.) was trapped on a hillside when the wind changed and caught him before he could escape with 17 companions.

Others Injured

Elton Colson, CCC foreman in charge of the crew, was thrown from a horse and injured by the forest service, the graining service and the bureau of reclamation, injured to hurt the flames, which tonight fanned around a ridge and spread northeast and northward.

Approximately 350 men, rushed in from the forest service, the graining service and the bureau of reclamation, labored to halt the flames, which tonight fanned around a ridge and spread northeast and northward.

Roosevelt Maps Campaign; Farley Quits as Chairman

President, Bidding for Third Term, Expects to Remain Close to Washington

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 19.—James A. Farley, who managed President Roosevelt's 1932 and 1936 campaigns, arranged to leave national politics behind today and turn the direction of Mr. Roosevelt's third effort to win the presidency over to another.

Meanwhile it became clear that the president would conduct a "portfolio campaign." There are two of them at the White House. Instead of the usual porch, pressing foreign and domestic problems, it was said, would keep him in Washington and prohibit any extensive campaigning.

The question whether Secretary Henry A. Wallace, Mr. Roosevelt's running mate, would undertake a speaking schedule of traveling and speaking in the president's stead was left to a conference between the two nominees next Thursday in Washington.

Convention Wind-up

With Farley presiding, the Democratic national committee accepted the convention's last piece of business. It reluctantly accepted Farley's decision to continue as its chairman for only a month longer. The emboldened New Yorker was asked to resign, but he refused to do so.

Fuehrer Links Threat, More Than 150 Reich, British Planes in Two Battles

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, July 19.—Adolf Hitler, the conqueror of France and the controller of a continent, tonight offered Great Britain a last chance to withdraw from the conflict or see destruction of her world empire and terror for millions.

He spoke for an hour and thirty-five minutes before the Reichstag, to offer "a final appeal" this time the last — to Germany.

In this respect his appeal was similar to that of "Hitler's" appeal to the British to come to their senses and leave the direction of the war to the British, he said. It was senseless to prolong. But he made it plain that if the British refused, he would not be bound by the conditions of the Munich pact.

Two Young Idaho Convicts Escape

Warden Meredith Organizes Search for Pair of Missing Prisoners

BOISE, July 19.—Two young Idaho convicts, Lloyd Butler and Marion Montague, escaped from their quarters outside the Idaho state prison today, bringing to five the number who have gained freedom since July 2.

Both were trustees, working the kitchen of the guards' quarters. Montague, whose application for amnesty was pending until October by a meeting of the pardon board this month, was serving 3 to 10 years for grand larceny in New York state.

Details of the escape and Butler's record were not immediately available.

Last June 22, Ray Kammerer and Robert E. Leifer fled by cutting into an irrigation canal while working outside the walls in the prison.

Two days later Danny Williams, serving a life term for killing a twin, Paul, policeman, escaped by cutting himself in a barrel of oil from the log farm a mile away. He was captured in a Boise alley 30 hours later.

Willkie Tells Campaign Aims

Shall Make No Pretense of Noble Motives, Says Nominee

COLORADO SPRINGS, July 19.—Wendell Willkie, who flew back to his ranch here today after leaving a group of stockmen at Denver that he was running for president, said "because I have some deep-seated convictions I want to go to the American people."

Willkie looked through a Denver stockyard and then visited a nearby stock processing plant and a set farm.

In his talk at the Denver stockyard, Willkie stood on a truck piled with the legs of hogs.

"I shall make no pretense of noble motives," the nominee asserted, "and I shall not tell you of my unselfish motives in seeking to be president of the United States."

"I frankly sought the opportunity to run for president on the Republican ticket because I have some deep-seated convictions I want to go to the American people and which, if I am elected, I want to carry into execution."

Hitler Expects 'Isles' Defiance

Hour of 'Great Assault' on Britain Only Question Left by Speech

BY KIRK L. SIMPSON

Scornful British rejection of Hitler's surrender-or-death demand has encouraged Germany to doubt the answer.

Hitler foretold it himself in an attack on the British in a speech last night. "The people left behind in London" might be of a different mind.

That Hitler's speech, when he will let loose his German thunderbolts on England.

That can be expected soon, but it seems probable that the "great assault" will be deferred at least long enough to permit Germany to complete its preparations for the British public and of the neutral world to the British ultimatum.

WORK CENTERS ON BRIDGE APPROACH

Repairs 'Start to Remove Washboard' Effect; Survey Soon

With work already underway to remove the "washboard" effect on the south side of the Twin Falls-Jerome inter-city bridge approach, a preliminary investigation on future rebuilding of the entire section from the bridge to Twin Falls will start soon, according to District Engineer C. A. Kelly.

Receiving immediate attention is the quarter-mile section on the south side of the bridge which has become "washboarded." To remove this menace, the "washboard" on the bridge approach will be reconstructed.

Following completion of activities on the south side, similar work will start on the north side, which contains several rough spots, although the bumpy effect is not so prevalent. The rebuilding of U. S. 30 from the bridge to Twin Falls has been advocated by Twin Falls city groups and the approaching survey will determine what work is needed in removing the uneven and narrow conditions.

To facilitate handling crowds traveling to and from the Twin Falls county fair September 10 to 12, the Piler highway will be widened in the section from U. S. 30 to the county fairground entrance in Piler.

PLANS MOVE FOR JUNCTION SAFETY

Highway Bureau Engineer Surveys U. S. 30-93 Crossing

In conformity with an earlier announcement by Lieutenant A. J. Perkins of the state police that immediate plans are being made to remove the dangerous crossing of U. S. 30 and U. S. 93 highways west of Twin Falls, Robert M. Lehman, planning and painting superintendent for the Idaho bureau of highways, was here yesterday to survey the crossing.

By a combination of signals and painted warnings on the highway, motorists approaching the intersection of U. S. 30 and U. S. 93 will be warned a quarter of a mile away that the dangerous crossing is near.

First warning will be a sign, "Slow Ahead," at the top of the hill on U. S. 93 a fourth of a mile from U. S. 30. Other signals will include a junction sign, a route marker, and a large stop sign at the crossing.

A "U. S. 30" bracket and all other signs centered in the middle of the intersection will be placed on both highways for a quarter of a mile in three directions.

Plans will soon be implemented. Warnings have also been painted on the pavement.
