IDAHO WOOL CLIP REPORTED LOWER

Fleece Average Rises But Fewer Sheep Sheared This Year

BOISE, Aug. 6.—This year Idaho's shepherds sheared 15,454,000 pounds of wool compared with 16,200,000 pounds last year and the 1939-40 average of 16,000,000. The estimate was released today by Richard C. Ross, federal agricultural statistician. "Fleeces were heavier this year, averaging 2.5 pounds," Ross commented. "The 1939-40 average is 2.33 pounds per fleece while the average for 1938-39 was 2.25 pounds. The number of sheep shorn was about four per cent smaller than last year's estimate of 1,200,000 head. Nationally, a 3.86 per cent pound wool clip was indicated—the highest U. S. production on record. It is 11,000,000 pounds, or 1.1 per cent, above 1939 and 4 per cent above the 10-year average. The clip was from 4,414,600 head—about 1,000 more than last year, with an average weight per fleece of 8.05 pounds compared with 7.95 in 1939.

"The Slugging Lord" in the Dock

John Wilbur, who had been sentenced to 11 months in the Walling, Fla., contains bells ranking in weight from 12 pounds to 12 tons.

THE SPIRIT OF

by JOHN CLINTON

You can't get success in advance. Take Wilbur. An American who works in the Union Oil station at Fort & Evans in San Francisco.

As Wilbur was coming home about 11 p. m., he saw a man at his station he heard the fire department sirens in a hall just around the corner.

He started running in the sea where it was. He stopped when he saw the man. It was the plant of one of his own customers!

Employers were trying to save 4 weeks from the burning building. But, unfortunately with the equipment, they were getting nowhere. Fireman demanded they withdraw.

Then Wilbur, who had been giving these same trucks monthly by Slip-Wear Lubrication, went to "blame" smoke into the burning building. Firemen had to pour a stream of water on him but he got over by the time. He got 2 of the trucks out. Employers helped with the last 2.

Well, Antoinette was a mess when the smoke cleared away, but the trucks were all saved.

Now the moral to this tale isn't that Union Oil offers auxiliary fire service. It's simply that the kind of men who work in Union Oil good neighbors—willing to help in any situation whether it involves their business or not.

And today, when interest in news of the world is at such a high pitch, the newspaper is naturally a more logical, more economical, more profitable place for your advertising than ever before.
